FINISH LAYING MAINS, INITIAL TEST IS MADE

Slaton gas lines have been laid and the first test was made Tuesday night when the fuel was turned into the mains for the first time. Construction companies began piping the city for natural gas Sept. 1, and have completed the task. The West Texas Gas Co. is now practically ready to begin serving consumers who have meters connected up.

J. L. Ryan, of Amarillo, superintendent of all city plants of the West Texas Gas Company in this section, stated this week that other tests would be made this week to determine if there are any faulty connections, and that actual gas service would be available by the latter part of the week or early next week for those who have completed their meter connections. Mr. Ryan was in Slaton attending to business matters for the company when he made this statement.

Slaton now has and will probably soon be using in large volume a new kind of fuel which, according to predictions made, will prove of much value in developing industries here and in furnishing a convenient and desirable fuel for domestic uses.

Chamber of Commerce News Notes

Reported by L. A. WILSON, Secretary.

On account of the rush of the Fall season which is now about to break upon us, the directors of the Chamber have decided to postpone other luncheon meetings until after the annual banquet. The banquet has been set for the evening, Jan. 10. This is a change in the custom of recent years when the annual meeting has usually been held in November, but the month of January is believed a better time for the event, hence the change. After the annual banquet is over, the monthly luncheons plan will likely be taken up again and those members who have not as yet attended will be given an opportunity then.

Eight members of the present board of fifteen directors of the Chamber of Commerce will retire from their offices this year, seven remaining to serve another year. Eight will be elected to replace the ones whose terms expire. The retiring members will be eligible for re-election if desired by the membership. A part of them may be retained as other new members selected, or eight entirely new members may be elected. This will take place at the annual banquet. Each year an election of directors to serve terms of two years is held. Eight are elected one year and seven the next thus always having seven or eight members of the board who have had at least one year's experience in their places and who are familiar with the plans and operations of the body as a whole. It is an excellent and very successful arrangement and has proved highly satisfactory.

Cotton picking around Slaton will be in progress generally by Oct. 15, or thereabout, if weather remains favorable, according to the farmers. Next week will see a big gain in the amount of cotton ginned in Slaton, weather permitting. The recent warm days have caused cotton to open rapidly and many farmers are asking for pickers now. The Chamber of Commerce is trying to aid in securing pickers, and farmers needing help are invited to call at the Chamber of Commerce office and make their needs known. If we can assist, it will be done gladly and without charge.

The distribution system for natural gas in Slaton has been completed by the construction companies and the first test was made Tuesday night. Actual gas service for those whose meters are connected up will be a reality by early next week, according to official statement by the gas company. The move for natural gas was

Issue Call for Cotton Pickers In This Section

According to L. A. Wilson, secretary of the Slaton Chamber of Commerce, farmers are urging assistance in getting pickers and they estimate that 2,000 pickers are needed here within the next few days. Appeals have been sent out by the Chamber of Commerce for pickers to help relieve the situation.

Harley Sadler Playing to Good Crowds

Harley Sadler and his own company, playing here this week under auspices of the Slaton Volunteer Fire Department, are enjoying splendid attendance, according to those who are regularly attending the performances at this popular tent theatre.

Tonight, Thursday, will be feature night, Mr. Sadler states, when "I Want the Moon," a sensational comedy-drama, will be presented.

"The Shiek," in which is presented gorgeous and elaborate costumes, and comedy galore, will be played Friday night, Mr. Sadler states, while "The Code of the West," another new and novel play is scheduled for Saturday matinee.

As is the custom of the Sadler company, two plays will be presented Saturday night, according to the management. The first, "The Shoplifters," is a feature which has made big hits this season wherever shown, and the second, "Who's Your Bootlegger," promises to be entertaining, and well worth the time and money spent.

Return From Trip To Legion Meeting

Mr. and Mrs. V. P. Williams returned home last Friday night from Paris, France, where they attended the American Legion Convention recently held there. They left Slaton the last of August, sailing Sept. 1, from Galveston on the steamship Chicago, and arriving in France 15 days later. They returned via New York on the steamship Savoy, eight days being required for this voyage. From New York they proceeded here by rail.

The couple report a very enjoyable trip from beginning to end. But, they add that they are indeed glad to be back at home. Mr. Williams is a locomotive engineer on the Slaton division of the Santa Fe, while Mrs. Williams is chief operator for the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company here.

Jno. T. Lokey and J. C. Smith returned Wednesday morning from sections around Dallas, where they secured cotton pickers.

Our Demonstration will be Saturday and Monday, Oct. 15 and 17.—Elrod Furniture.

definitely started in Slaton last March when A. J. McMahan and his associates, together with several Eastern capitalists, visited here as guests of the Chamber of Commerce and were shown over the city and told of the possibilities in this section. McMahan was the promoter of the line, and it is now here, having been built by the West Texas Gas Company, a subsidiary of the Prairie Oil and Gas Company, of Independence, Kans. The Slaton Chamber of Commerce is glad to have had a definite part in helping secure gas service for Slaton and this section of the Plains.

The gas supply which is being piped here is found in the Panhandle gas field, about 150 miles north of Slaton, and is said to be sufficiently strong to guarantee satisfactory fuel supply for a large area. The gas line now serves more than a score of towns, and is yet to be extended, it is stated by the company. Post will be reached with a line from here, and Lamesa has been promised the service by next year. There may be a number of other towns which will be added to the group served by this line before the West Texas company completes their program.

MAYOR APPEALS FOR CLEAN-UP

This week, Oct. 9 to 15, has been designated as Fire Prevention Week in this state. Accordingly, appeals have gone out everywhere that people remove all fire hazards, such as weeds, trash, oily rags, broken pieces of furniture or other rubbish, from their premises as a measure of preventing fire damage.

In Slaton there are many back alleys which need cleaning-up. It is to be urged, therefore, that in compliance with the requests which are being issued all citizens of Slaton will see to it that dangers of this character be removed and destroyed.

Last week our attention was called to the fact that there are now two cases of infantile paralysis in Slaton. Well-informed physicians say this disease is encouraged by unsanitary conditions in back alleys and around home premises. If you would be cautious against fire and also against your child or your neighbor's child having this dreaded disease called "infantile paralysis," you should by all means make haste to clean-up your rubbish and remove weeds and all other unsanitary and unsightly conditions from your surroundings.

This appeal is broadcasted to the people of Slaton in the hope that it may cause people to not only save their property from fire dangers, but their children from deadly disease. Let's make Slaton clean, attractive and sanitary.

S. F. King, Mayor, City of Slaton, Texas.

Aichlmayr has First Bale for Posey Gin

J. S. Aichlmayr, farmer living one mile south of Posey, has the distinction of furnishing the Posey gin with its first bale of cotton for the season. The Slatonite was informed this week. The bale, which weighed 505 pounds, was ginned Oct. 4, it was stated.

The Posey gin, owned by R. H. and Fred B. Tudor, of Slaton, was rebuilt early this Fall, following a destructive fire last winter. Up to Tuesday noon, this week, the gin had turned out 18 bales this season, it was stated.

TIGERS PLAY TO TIE WITH POST

Because of a heavy rain last Friday, the Slaton-Post grid (the scheduled here for that afternoon) was postponed until Monday afternoon, with the scene of action shifting to the home ground of the Antelopes.

Loyally supporting the Tigers in their attempt at victory over the boys from below the "caprock," Dr. W. E. Payne began a movement which culminated in securing a special train to carry the Slaton delegation to Post Monday afternoon. Aided by the Chamber of Commerce, the Rotary Club and the Athletic Association of the public schools, a sufficient money guarantee was raised to get the train, and then began the task of filling every available seat of the special.

When Engineer Ed Lott placed his hand on the throttle of the special's engine at 1:30 p. m. Monday, 283 buoyant fans, players and members of the Slaton Band, directed by Ernest Pogue, were perched in their places, off to see the game.

The game was called promptly at 4 p. m., following a parade of the Slaton delegation through the business section of Post and on to the football field. Within the first seven minutes of play, the Antelopes crossed the Tiger line for a touchdown after sweeping down the field with a brilliant offensive opening.

Before the first quarter closed, the Tigers crossed the Antelope line, scoring a touchdown and kicking the extra point as their opponents had done, thus tying the score at 7 and 7.

In the third quarter, the Post lads got across again, but failed to kick, the score standing at 13 to 7 against the Tigers. It was during this period that a thunderstorm was brewing and which at the opening of the last quarter began pouring out a veritable flood of rain upon those who could not find shelter, and this was a majority of the people attending, including players and band members, women and girls, not to mention the dozens of mere males who were so thoroughly soaked by the deluge that it is doubtful if a dry thread was left on many of them.

When the clouds had rolled by, play was resumed while the rain-soaked spectators viewed the two teams finish the battle, playing on a water-covered, very muddy field.

Again the determined Mitchell-men went over the Antelope line, but failed

Pecos Man Buys Brannon Hardware And Locates Here

The A. L. Brannon Hardware, one of the oldest established business firms here, and owned by A. L. Brannon, who has been prominent in Slaton business circles since the founding of the town, was sold this week to A. G. Taggart, of Pecos, Texas, who is soon to be in active charge of the business, according to announcements made public early this week.

Mr. Taggart is an experienced hardware man, it is stated, and invested in Slaton believing in the future possibilities of this section. He is here this week assisting in the invoicing of the hardware stock, and he and Mrs. Taggart expect to be permanently located here within a few days, and will make Slaton their permanent home.

In retiring from the hardware business here, Mr. Brannon has made no announcement as to his plans for the future, other than to state that he has no intentions of moving from Slaton any time in the near future. He will be actively connected with the hardware store for some time yet, it is stated.

to kick goal, and left the score 13 to 13 when the final whistle blew.

The Slaton special train arrived home bearing its damp, and in many cases faded, cargo between seven and eight o'clock. Schools of the city had been dismissed for Monday afternoon to allow students to attend the game. Classes will be conducted Saturday morning to make up for that loss of time, it has been announced by school officials.

In the Post conflict, the Antelopes did some good work in passing, and probably were slightly heavier than the Tiger eleven, but Mitchell's charges broke through their line time and time again for good gains. The Tiger spirit was irresistible, their determination was too dogged for failure. The Post crew simply could not stop them until, on two occasions when the Tigers were seriously threatening touchdowns, the Antelopes managed to prevent their scoring.

It was a royal battle, fans declared, but in the same breath they exclaimed that the Tigers have the Post boys out-classed in football.

Our Demonstration will be Saturday and Monday, Oct. 15 and 17.—Elrod Furniture.

PLAN CHAMBER OF COMMERCE ANNUAL MEET

At a regular meeting of the board of directors of the Slaton Chamber of Commerce Tuesday evening, the date was set for holding that organization's annual banquet and get-together meeting. In recent years it has been the custom to have the banquet in the Fall, usually in November. However, the directorate believes January is a better month for beginning a new year and reviewing the accomplishments of the year closing, it is announced, and hence the time for the meeting will be Tuesday evening, January 10.

Besides preparing for an expected large attendance, a well arranged program will be planned, setting forth the aims for 1928 and reviewing the work done in 1927. Eight directors will be elected at that time to replace those whose terms expire. Seven of the board of fifteen directors will retain their places for another year.

During the almost three months yet to elapse before the annual meeting, gradual planning for the occasion will be in progress and a most profitable gathering is looked for by Chamber of Commerce officials.

Tenth Street Paving Begins This Week

Excavation for the paving of the west side of South Tenth St., in front of the resident properties of Dr. S. H. Adams and J. S. Edwards, a distance of 110 feet, was begun this week by Contractor M. H. Edwards.

Contractor Edwards states the work of paving this strip which was left unpaved during the recent paving program here, will be rushed to completion as fast as weather conditions will permit.

Rev. A. E. Arnfield, of Lamesa, pastor of the Presbyterian church of that city, was here Tuesday visiting in the home of W. H. Weaver, and with other friends.

After All, What Is the Big Idea?

When the final analysis is made, what is the "big idea" in building a community?

The answer is—making life bring the largest returns to you and your family and to your fellow-citizens and their families. That's it in a "nutshell."

But, friends, this task of building a community has been found a tediously slow and uncertain process without the help of a good newspaper.

We learn in mathematics that "things equal to the same thing are equal to each other." The above facts, therefore, show that the largest returns for the lives of yourself and your family and your fellow-citizens and their families can be secured largely through the service rendered by the home newspaper in BUILDING THE COMMUNITY.

Where do you have your job printing done? Are you helping yourself and your family and your neighbors' families to enjoy the best in life? Are you aiding your home newspaper in its task of helping YOU build Slaton and the territory surrounding Slaton?

You can do these things by patronizing our job printing department where service, quality and right prices are unobtainable. If you already have The Slatonite habit, we are glad and appreciate it. If you haven't, we want to show you how well you'll like us after we get acquainted.

Davis Gin Begins Season's Run; Round Bale Feature has Been Added

Among the additions and improvements made during the summer months at the M. G. Davis Gin Company's plant here, was the installation of a new round bale press, which, necessarily, called for the enlargement of the already large and commodious building. E. R. Legg, manager and one of the owners of the gin, states he has already turned out several round bales during the past two weeks, and that the new press is operating very successfully. Many farmers will doubtless take advantage of this feature of the Davis Gin, and have their cotton put up in the round bales, and sell it at the plant.

One hundred and fifty square feet of new and additional cleaning machinery was installed in the Davis plant this summer, Mr. Legg states, in addition to that which was already in use.

To assure ample power for these additional machines, the 100 horse power engine formerly used at the plant, has been replaced with a new 180 horse power Anderson diesel engine.

The Davis gin, now equipped to turn out either round or square bales, and which has 5 modern 80-saw stands, is reputed to be one of West Texas' most modern gins. It occupies more square feet of ground, it is believed, than any other gin in this entire section.

Farmers bringing their cotton to this plant are assured of a good turnout, with prompt and courteous service.

Attention, Mr. Farmer---

This is to announce that we are ready and prepared to gin your cotton better than ever before, since we have installed six new additional cleaners, which represent 150 square feet of cleaning surface added to what we already had.

Five of these cleaners were especially built to remove shale and pin trash after the burrs are extracted, and before it reaches the saws, which makes a wonderful improvement in the grade. We have already ginned a number of bales on this new machinery, and it has proven a great success.

We have also added a 180 horsepower Anderson engine to pull the new machinery.

We are now prepared to give you a market at any time for your cotton, since we have installed an Anderson, Clayton & Co., Round Bale, in addition to the square bale. Ginning and wrapping will be the same price on round or square bale. Sell your cotton where you can get the most money.

The late failure of the Peace Conference at Geneva shows that it is no easy task for this old world to agree on peace, present or future.

There are some farmers in this section who take five months to raise a cotton crop and seven months to harvest it and then eventually plow some of it under to make the succeeding crop, and then complain that farming is unprofitable.

No matter for what purpose a number of people organize, as soon as they begin to wax strong in numbers they issue a string of "Thou Shalt Not's" for the rest of the world. If they are strong enough they enforce their decrees until they attain the force of custom and become standards of conduct. That's where we get our social conventions.

Government is, of course, at this stage a very necessary institution, but somehow the fellow who depends upon himself is the one who gets there, rather than the fellow who depends on the government.

If after a careful inventory you are not satisfied with yourself, it is further safe to draw the conclusion that the portion of the world with which you come in contact isn't satisfied with you, either.

When a guy has gained a certain popularity he can disgorge almost any sort of bunk and it will pass for sound sense, when the same rot coming from another would be recognized instantly as rank silliness.

If we wanted to be notorious we think we would choose to be Mayor of Chicago, but if we wanted to acquire vast riches we would write a popular song.

The test of being correctly dressed nowadays is for a lady to feel immodest in her clothes when she knows she isn't that way by nature.

Failure of the Geneva conference reminds us that the nations are pretty much like porcupines and pole cats. They believe in preparedness in the event emergency arises.

EXCHANGE SHOTS

TOO MUCH OIL.

The world's production of petroleum, after remaining practically stationary for four years, will show a big increase this year. Experts estimate that a billion and a quarter barrels will be taken from the earth during 1927, against 773,000,000 barrels in 1926.

A sharp increase in production in this country is the reason. Eighty-thousands will treat folks the same after the election as he did during the campaign? No, probably not. Some things are too much to ask.

As we reflect how thousands upon thousands paid $40 for a seat at a prizefight we are consoled that this country is in no immediate danger of having a short crop of suchers.

President Coolidge of the U. S. and President Calles of Mexico have had a pleasant chat over a telephone that runs from Washington to Mexico City, and amicable relations are said to have been promoted as a result. But if those relations are to continue it would be well to keep Secretary Kellogg off the wire at this end.

It seems to us if we were the manager of a baseball club that was playing against the team that has Babe Ruth on it, we would lay some plans in advance to retrieve the ball and break up the home run habit.

A New York court gave a man a life term in the penitentiary the other day because he stole twenty cents, when makes us wonder what the sentence would have been if he had stolen the New York Central Railroad. Probably in that event the people of the Empire State would have taken the defendant in hand and sentenced him to the United States Senate.

Every now and then judges and courts need to be reminded that justice consists as much in freeing the innocent as in punishing the guilty. And, after all, should a court ever have any other motive except the protection of the innocent? They should not, but they do have other motives, nevertheless. In just lots and lots of instances running a court has no connection whatever, in actual practice, with dispensing justice. It is just a business run by the officers of the court solely in their own selfish and financial interest as a means of gaining, by means fair or foul, a livelihood for themselves. He is an extraordinary man, indeed, who, as a judge on the bench, can give a fellow mortal a square deal when he knows that the opposite course would put dollars in his own pocket. A system of laws that permits such a thing is vicious and barbaric. Texas has such a system! It tempts many a good man, and temptation, especially in times of financial stress, is very hard to resist—even by good men.

five percent of the world's oil is produced on the American continent, and new fields have brought about the bad condition of overproduction, resulting in waste.

Thus far the oil industry has not found an equitable plan for curtailment of production. There are fears of violating the Sherman anti-trust laws and state laws of the same nature. A quarter of a century ago the steel industry faced the same conditions of overproduction, resulting in price-cutting, secret rebates and the like, but steel eventually got organized and now is remarkably stable.

A great industrial combine may be the way out, just as the steel industry found that the solution. We are losing some of our old antipathy to huge mergers of such a nature. The efficiency resulting from centralization of administration is one of the reasons.

The industry must make up its mind to control itself. Otherwise, there is but one way to be followed, control by government. The plan that will sober up the oil industry depends on the caliber of its leaders. The situation offers an opportunity for men to become great. -Athlete Reporter-News.

The steel industry settled itself by combining. The oil industry will probably do the same thing. The agricultural industry has profited in like manner in certain sections of the United States, such as California where the fruit growers have been well-organized for several years. The cotton farmers of the South will likely never see much improvement in their conditions until they also get together. When they do that we won't hear so much about "what's the matter with the farmer?" He will be all right, then.

June Simpson and family, of Plainview, were here early this week, visiting with his sister, Mrs. A. R. Keys, and family.

SOMEBODY SAID

SOMEBODY SAID we may not know exactly what sort of weather is best for us, after all. But, most of us are ready to advance our conditions about it. Dry weather for the cotton just now is apparently what we need. It would be hard to convince a farmer of the contrary.

SOMEBODY SAID Slaton, as well as Dallas, San Antonio and Fort Worth, has been growing a lot since the last Federal census. These cities have probably done almost as well as Slaton has. They haven't grown in as large proportion, though.

SOMEBODY SAID baseball had the country's attention through the spring and summer, football now has it through the fall and then the coal dealer will have it most of the winter.

SOMEBODY SAID the Yanks and the Spudders were not willing to take any chances on winning the World series and the Dixie series. Each team went right in and took four straight games each to cinch the pennants.

SOMEBODY SAID cotton pickers will be needed through all of this country for quite a while now. And, by the way, let's pick the cotton this year, and not "aled" it, if it can be avoided.

I am informed by the School Board that they are out of funds to carry on the school and that delinquent taxes must be paid. These are nuggets, left in the crucible, after hundreds of ideas that looked good have been burned away. The Proving Ground contributes others. Dealers contribute. The public contributes. Every department contributes. Through the whole organization runs a spirit of inquiry and of rigid insistence on proof.
OUT OF such thinking come the new models announced from time to time by Chevrolet, Pontiac, Oldsmobile, Oakland, Buick, LaSalle, Cadillac—all with Fisher Bodies. And by Frigidaire. Each new model is a tested step forward. Nothing goes into it as a result of habit or guess or pride of opinion.
Nothing counts but hard-won facts, gathered and used with an open mind.

NEW HOME NEWS.

Oct. 10, 1927.

(Written and composed by 8 grade English Class as a proof of the regular work in composition and journalism.—J. B. Zimmerman, Tech.)

Wiener Wurst Roast.

Next Friday night, Oct. 14, 1927, at 7:30, we are going to have a wiener roast. You can buy raw weiners and all the marshmallows you wish to roast. The ladies will serve coffee, chocolate and pies. Our school girls will sell home-made candy or ice cream. Everyone is invited to come out and have a romping time.

The New Home Community is planning to organize a Parent-Teacher Association Oct. 14, 1927. All patrons and friends of the school should join this organization to help work and boost for our school.

Community Orchestra.

If you play a musical instrument of any kind, you are requested to meet at the New Home High School auditorium Friday night to help organize a community orchestra. Be sure to bring your musical instrument and music.

Men's Quartet.

All men who sing are requested to be present at New Home High to organize a men's quartet. We are especially in need of tenor singers.

Clean Up Day.

Last Friday was Clean Up Day. We washed windows, desks and transoms, and polished stoves and pipes. Monday we were surprised to find some of our old desks and the auditorium seats revarnished. Our teachers' desks and chairs are all dressed up with a new coat of varnish.

Examinations.

We are having tests this week to determine our standing for the first six weeks' work.

Devotional.

On Saturday and Sunday, Bro. Bost will fill his regular appointments. All are invited to come. Our attendance at Sunday School last Sunday was small, and we trust the parents will come and bring all the children next Sunday. Our new literature for the quarter arrived last Sunday.

B. Y. P. U. was well attended. The Merry Maidens Glee Club accompanied by Miss Addie Jane Hancock, sang for us. Vera Smith, Irene McWhorter, Maurine Fulton and Alice Terry discussed the life of St. Paul. Miss Beulah Hancock was leader. After the program we had community singing. We are planning a great program for next Sunday night. If you are not present you will regret it.

Local Items.

We hear that Miss Fressie Patterson, who has been ill, is somewhat improved today. Mr. and Mrs. Miller, of Snyder, visited Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Gryder Sunday. Miss Lois Lawler, of Lubbock, visited homefolks during the week end. We are having too much rain. Profs. Bishop and Faubion were visitors at New Home Saturday. They were advertising their lyceum course.

JOE STOKES.

Joe Stokes was surprised by a large rain last Friday. The marshmallow roast was postponed on account of the rain. Sorry to report that Mrs. Gaies has been on the sick list. Hope she will soon recover. Sorry to report that Mrs. Earnest Jennings has been sick for the last three weeks, but is some better at this time. Mrs. Gales, Miss Choate and Miss Diehlmann spent the week end at J. H. Collenbeck's home in Tahoka. Miss Willie Mae McClure spent Sunday in Lubbock. Miss Hautence Smith spent Sunday with Miss Ruth McCullough. Misses Mattie, Nettie and Hilda Hancock spent Saturday night with their sister, Mrs. Mart Murray, of Slaton. Mr. and Mrs. Burson, Mr. and Mrs. Black, Mr. and Mrs. Coffman and Miss Grace Cade, from Ropes, were visitors of Miss Mattie Belle Choate Sunday afternoon. Brother McCandless, from Lubbock, delivered a very impressive sermon to us Sunday afternoon. Everyone who attended enjoyed it. Hope he will come again. There will be church at the school building Sunday afternoon. Come and

GROUND SQUIRRELS CHASE BABY WOLVES TO THEIR HIDING PLACES

In one of the most exciting games of the season, the Ground Squirrels of Supt. A. L. Faubion chased the Slaton Baby Wolves to their hiding places on Wilson's gridiron Wednesday to the music of 12-0.

The Baby Wolves played a good game, but the end runs of Ferrell Crooks and the plowing through the line of Werner Mueller were too much for them. Slaton was forced to the defensive in the last quarter and before the game ended their only aim was stop "Stop Crooks and Mueller".

This was the inflammatory game for almost all the Ground Squirrels and Supt. Faubion smiled and answered, "The Prairie Dogs should watch them for pointers," when asked about what he thought of the future of his Squirrels.—Wilson Pointer.

be with us. You will surely like to hear Brother Thompson preach.

There will be singing at Joe Stokes' Sunday night. There will be a few special numbers by school children.

Hope to see many communities represented. Reporter.

DANCING DAUGHTER, SAKA-PHONE SON; CLARA BOW IS AT IA AGAIN—PALACE

Where are we headed for? Is marriage an institution bound for destruction? Is civilization about to crash on the rocks?

Not exactly an unusual set of questions but one which is receiving new impetus from the motion picture screen. Frank Lloyd's latest Paramount production, "Children of Divorce," arriving at the Palace, Slaton, attacks the problem from a unique angle—that of the second generation.

Startling figures appear almost daily in newspapers. One learns that hundreds of marriages performed in this country fail to bring happiness or contentment. What happens?

Both parties go straight to the divorce courts, thresh out their problems in public and dismantle their homes. If there are no children, things aren't so bad as they might be but if there are—what is to become of them? This "six months with father and six months with mother" may sound logical but is it? Think, Reader, how you'd feel if after having become accustomed to the ways of one set of individuals, you were suddenly called to cut off all ties, deep exery, and journey to your other parent. How many children subject to such treatment can, possibly young manhood or womanhood, as they should? It takes a mighty strong individual to combat circumstances such as these and most children simply haven't the character or strength to buck up against them. The outcome is usually an unrestrained boy or girl. All law has been lost or forgotten and these children of divorce become jazz orphans, so the story goes.

It isn't hard to get a divorce. But if parents sanely thought of the future they wouldn't rush to Reno quite as fast as they do. Nineteen twenty-four (the latest figures available) found 1,178,212 couples taking the matrimonial vow in this country and 170,952 asking the courts to cut their wedding chains, according to advance press sheets on "Children of Divorce."

"Children of Divorce" throws a new light on the subject. It doesn't pretend to act as a moral lesson, but merely suggests the evil effects of that insidious monster which now begins to cast a dimming shadow over the march of progress. Clara Bow and Esther Ralston are starred. Owen Johnson wrote the novel.

Tudor Brothers, Oldest Ginners Here, Ready for Coming Cotton Crop

The plant of the Slaton Gin Company, located on the highway just south of the compress, is ready for a big season's run with both round and square bale equipment, says R. H. Tudor, manager of the plant. The gin is owned by R. H. and Fred B. Tudor, ginnermen of many years' experience, and who have been ginning Slaton farmers' cotton for the past 13 or 14 years.

Mr. Tudor says that neither time, energy nor money was spared this summer in getting the gin ready for the run. The 580-saw stands were given a complete overhauling; new cleaning machinery, including a Hancock burr extractor, has been installed; and farmers patronizing the Slaton Gin plant are assured of a good turnout. Mr. Tudor states he will be cotton that he puts into round bales, but he wants farmers to have it baled in the shape that suits them best, and that will bring them the most for their crop.

R. H. and Fred Tudor also own and operate the gin at Posey, located on the highway about six miles north of Slaton. Fred Tudor is manager of this plant. The owners state that they invite the patronage of farmers of the thriving section, adding that the more patronage they get the better they will be able to serve their trade.

Long Troubled by Constipation

"Black-Draught has been a family medicine with us for fifteen years," says Mr. F. M. Huntley, of Neosho, Mo. "I read about it first in the Ladies Birthday Almanac and what I read there sounded so convincing I made up my mind to try Black-Draught, as I had been troubled with constipation for a long time.

"I found Black-Draught to be the ideal medicine for this trouble. It gave me quick relief. Frequently I had had headaches and pains, due to toxic poison. By taking a course of Black-Draught I gave my system a thorough cleansing, and I have had little or no trouble since then.

Attends Wedding Anniversary of Parents

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Thomas and daughter, Bonnie Lee, made a trip to Canadian, Texas, last week, where they attended the celebration of the fiftieth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Simpson, parents of Mrs. Thomas.

Following is an account of the celebration, which was published in a recent issue of the Dallas News:

"Canadian, Texas, Oct. 6.—At the home of Alex Simpson here, was celebrated the golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. George Allen Simpson, pioneer residents of Canadian. They were married at Fort Elliott on Oct. 4, 1877, the ceremony being performed by Adjutant General Taylor.

"At that time Mr. Simpson was a buffalo hunter and Indian scout. He was born in Boone County, Missouri, Feb. 28, 1852, and came to Texas in 1867 and settled near Fort Elliott in 1875, before the fort was built.

Mrs. Simpson was Sylvania Wood, born in Carroll County, Arkansas, June 30, 1860. Her parents moved to the Panhandle in 1875. They have lived in Canadian and in Hemphill County for nearly all of the time since their marriage.

"A large number of relatives and friends were present at the celebration. The Rev. C. E. Fike, pastor of the Methodist church, and W. D. Fisher made talks. They have reared a large family. Their children are: Alex and Isaac Simpson of Canadian; Mrs. Milton Thomas of Canadian; Mrs. Rachel Newberry and Miss Emma Simpson of Las Cruces, N. M.; Mrs. Nellie Adams of Amarillo and Mrs. Georgia Moore of Gem City."

English University May Include Tech in Tour

Cambridge University is to meet Texas Tech in debate—that is, if a date can be arranged. The English Debating team arrived in America yesterday. Their tour is to take them to many points in the United States, including a meet with Simmons University at Abilene.

The Public Speaking Department and the Debating Society is making every effort to arrange the international meet. Although definite word has not been received as yet from the English speakers, their agents in New York have wired the local club that November 19th is open.

Despite the expense that bringing the Cambridge team here will entail, the Debating Club is very optimistic as to their ability, in meeting this responsibility.

MODERN COLLEGE CAMPUS SLANG DEFENDED BY STUDENT OF MASTERS

In reading Shakespeare or Dickens, or any of their contemporaries we find slang used profusely. Yet, in English classes, profs seem to wonder why the students persist in using slang to express what, to them, can't be expressed in any other words. Wonder why it is they preach Shakespeare to us and then throw up their hands in despair when we use some of his language.

"Where have you been all my life?" is to be heard from some young Campus Shiek in speaking to his (or someone else's) sheba. And indeed it is a very effective—or—a—question. It sounds much better to a Collegiate ear than "Oh, how do you do?" or "So glad to meet you"—or some such conventional statement.

No doubt some of the Ancient Nobility would turn over in their graves if they heard a modern young person say, "You're cracked," when the meaning is only that one doesn't know what one is talking about. Or "Oh! be your age." Causes one to wonder how this old world would be run if everyone did act his or her age. But, that is literally speaking.

To hear one of the eds say, "We had a hot time last night. That baby certainly does know how to pour it on." Translated into "King's English," "We were entertained most lavishly last evening. Our host did everything to make the party a success." Now, the translation is rather slow for the present generation. The twentieth century can't stop for all those "tongue twisters"—one must say what expresses thoughts spontaneously.

"Get tight," isn't a new way of saying "get drunk". Not at all! It is to be found in several of Dicken's books, and no doubt some other author used it before him.

Father is often spoken of as "the old man," while among the eds one's roomie is known as "the old lady."

Co-eds, when they are greatly surprised or angered, can be heard to say, "How do you like those apples?" Strange as it may seem the blithe, some co-ed has not offered the fruit, first made famous by Mother Eve.

"Great Heck," is merely an exclamation—nothing at all profane about it. "Aw balogna," pronounced "balonee" has its place in the group, while "Bushwa" "rates" more "sippy" than either of the two former expressions.

Class time draws near, so, "I'll be seeing you later."—The Torador (Texas Tech).

TEXTILE SCHOOL MAY HAVE GRADUATES THIS YEAR

Featured as the moulder of an industrial revolution on the South Plains, the Tech school of textile engineering may send out graduates at the close of the coming session should the students pass all requirements. Prof. E. W. Camp, head of the department, stated last week, as he busied himself in aiding a large number of freshmen to register. There are four students who have a chance to finish the textile work during the coming year, Mr. [Name] and their graduation will be upon them work in the other schools.—The Torador (Texas Tech).

Cooking Chats with 6 Famous Cooks

AN ATTRACTIVE KITCHEN INSPIRES THE COOK!

(Editor's Note: This is one of an unusual series of cooking articles by six famous cooks, running exclusively in this paper.)

What fascinating places some kitchens are! Bright and attractive, they literally inspire their owners to better cooking deeds.

MISS ROSA MICHAELIS

Gray Kitchens

Gray kitchens are very popular these days. In fact, they are sure to take the place of the white ones. That's because they are always as light as white, but they are more durable and easier to keep clean. White shows every speck and stain. Gray, on the other hand, is more forgiving. It hides dirt and grime. An eye painted a glossy gray which can be quickly washed with a damp cloth. It is as easy to keep clean as the white ones. And a neat, modern, black and gray kitchen, covers the best.

A Rest Corner

Stove, table, high work stool and cabinet are grouped for easy work. To have steps. And in one part of the kitchen is the housewife's rest corner—a folding chair and table with reading matter. Many a "rest minute" can be snatched while meals are cooking. Truly, such a kitchen is a happy place in which to work. And isn't it true that the housewife's happiness is reflected in better meals? In such a kitchen as the one just described, the work is so much easier that the housewife is often inspired to make new dishes—a change from the old—of meat and potatoes.

Miss Rosa Michaelis, New Orleans cooking expert, today gives several delightful recipes of the "inspirational" type.

Vanilla Water Pudding

- 1 cup sugar
- 4 eggs
- 1 cup milk
- 1/2 teaspoon flour
- 1/2 teaspoon butter
- 1 banana
- 1/2 teaspoon vanilla extract

Make a custard of all the ingredients but the vanilla. In a double boiler. Line bottom of baking dish with wafer. Add a layer of sliced bananas. Pour half the custard over them. Add bananas and rest of custard. Beat egg whites stiff and place on top. Put in oven and brown.

You will find many advantages in the latest development in all stove equipment. One of the best has the rest on a single burner when desired. It also has a perforated top through which the stove warms up through the holes and keeps warm any food which is placed there.

Cocunut Dainties

- These are nice to serve at parties.
- 2 whites of eggs
- 1/2 cup corn syrup

Practice House Factor in Home Ec. Development

Learn to do by doing—this phrase made famous by the girls of C. I. A.—is embodied in the spirit of the school of Home Economics. Home making is not taught wholly in theory but by experience. To this end a $20,000 ideal home or Practice House is being erected on the Campus for the use of Home Economics students.

The Home will be equipped and furnished similar to the average American home. Of course, all modern fixtures and conveniences will be installed and made practical use of. Miss McCreery, head of the Foods Department, will have direct charge of and direct the various activities of the Home. All Senior Home Economics students and all students majoring in Teacher Training will be required to take the course in this Home.

Briefly, the plan is this: The students will live in the House for one term, doing all the work and at the same time they will live the regular, active, normal college life. Six students will occupy the Home at one time. They will operate the Home on the budget system, which will be somewhat less than the regular board and rooming bill.

According to Dean Weeks, the dominant aim and purposes, (which are four-fold) are: 1. Ability to assume responsibilities; 2. Co-operation; 3.
