News Of Slaton Men In Service

Leon Buxkemper, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Buxkemper, writes from Alaska that they have been issued their winter clothing. It's getting cold enough there now for sheets of ice to form on the water over night. They have also been issued new $80.00 sleeping bags. Leon reports that their entire outfit is valued at $1,000.00. That doesn't include any light weight expensive items like jewelry, ties, pins. How would you like to carry that much equipment? The picture Leon sent shows that he is gaining weight. He now weighs 170 pounds.

Metropolitan Traffic

Traffic congestion climbs continually in 12 metropolitan areas of the U. S. Reason, says the Bureau of the Census, is that one-quarter of the nation's population now lives in metropolitan areas of Chicago, Los Angeles, Philadelphia, Detroit, Boston, San Francisco, Pittsburgh, St. Louis, Cleveland, Washington, and Baltimore.

Eyeglass Difference

Persons who have had the crystalline lens of the eye removed, because of cataract can see by light of wavelengths shorter than those which normal eyes can detect. Violet light, with waves about 1/70,000th of an inch in length, are the shortest most of us can see, though the retina—the sensitive "film" of the eye—is able to respond to shorter waves in the near ultraviolet region. These, however, are stopped by the crystalline lens. When the lens is removed these waves can reach the retina and the sensation produced is that of deep blue light.

Improve Working Conditions

To an office which looks crowded, planned painting can bring a sense of spaciousness. Light colors, which make the most of the natural light that falls upon them, and velvety, flat finishes that reflect light evenly, without glare can actually increase efficiency.

Packaged Chimneys

In its campaign for up-to-date building codes, the National Association of Home Builders has advised local communities that many changes in structural requirements in new homes can be made without sacrificing either quality or safety. For example, says the NAHB, even though Fire Underwriters' Laboratories' tests show that approved packaged chimneys are as safe or safer than masonry chimneys, many antiquated codes still read "chimneys shall be of masonry."

Artificial Members

Amputees are advised by National Patent Council that inventors are constantly at work trying to improve artificial members. Gilbert M. Motis, Burbank, Calif., recently was awarded a patent for an artificial arm with 199 parts that can turn and swing in a movement "combining the motions of supination, flexion, and abduction."

Arteriosclerosis (hardening of the arteries) occurs much more frequently in men than in women, and affects men six to ten years earlier.

Red Sea Is Red

The Red Sea owes its name to marine organisms of a reddish color which tint its surface water.

Slaton People Worth Knowing

Mrs. Jack Dickson, who was Jean Holt before she married, was born in Slaton, and has lived here all her life with the exception of four years at Tech.

She was educated in Slaton and Lubbock, graduating from Slaton High School as Valedictorian of her class. She took a B. A. in sociology from Texas Tech in 1949.

When she chose her major field in college her plans were to do welfare work. However, she married Jack Dickson two weeks after commencement and gave up plans for going to a welfare organization in a large city.

For two and a half years she has been working for Dr. Glen Payne. Working with a doctor is as near as she could come to welfare work in a town the size of Slaton and she has enjoyed the work very much. She worked for Santa Fe for a short time before entering college.

Jean met her husband at school. They went thru school together and went together for eight years before their marriage in 1949. Jack is assistant manager of Pioneer Airlines in Lubbock.

Mrs. Dickson is a member of the Athenian Study Club and belongs to a weekly Bridge Club. In the line of hobbies she likes to play the piano and sew. She makes her own clothes.

Memory highlights of her life are their honeymoon trip to Canada and the flying she and her husband have done, such as their trip by plane to San Francisco a year ago.

This happy, busy, and very lovely young woman will start a new career next week, as a teacher of the fifth grade in the Slaton School System. She has again chosen a line of work in which she can be of service to her community.

Aid Drying

Many paints contain vegetable or animal oils which harden into elastic films by absorbing oxygen from the air. This process is speeded by the action of "driers," which are salts of such metals as lead, manganese and cobalt.

Rev. Frank Beauchamp, Littlefield Methodist pastor and a former pastor of hers, and the four local ministers, Rev. Travis, L. Darby, Methodist; Rev. Charles C. Montandon, Nazarene; Robert Gey, C. A. Kennedy, Baptist, conducted the funeral rites.

Burial was in Abernathy Cemetery, under direction of McDonald Funeral home of Lubbock.

(Jack) Parish of Ralls and Charles Parish of Delores, Colo.; two sisters, Mrs. Dessie Adams of Lubbock and Mrs. E. P. Earhart of Santa Barbara, Calif.; 13 grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

Mattie Lee Parish was born July 18, 1877 in Robertson Co., Texas. She was married to Irvin P. Shipman Oct. 24, 1897, in Montague Co. The Shipmans moved to Lubbock Co. from Wise Co. in 1915. They resided in Lubbock Co. in 1909 and 1910.

An apple tree located at the new home of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Holt, is in full bloom this week and the neighbors and the Hols seem a bit worried. In a world of flying saucers, atomic bombs, French bathing suits, television and canasta, the apple tree may know what it is doing.

Here's why Fordomatic puts them all in the past!

For the past year, automotive writers, engineers and owners have been raving about a new kind of automatic driving . . . and here's why you get it only in Ford Cars:

All the power you need when you need it!

Some automatics have this

The automatic drive some cars offer you is a torque converter which multiplies torque without the use of gears. Its advantage is a smooth flow of power. Its disadvantage is a smaller range of torque multiplication which requires more power from the engine and an unconomical axle ratio which increases costs.

Some automatics have this

Other cars offer an automatic drive that uses automatic gears (as illustrated in simplified form at right) instead of a torque converter. The advantage here is more "go," more control and greater economy. The disadvantage is that this system is not as smooth, nor as jerk-free as a torque converter.

It gives you instant "GO"!

It practically drives itself!

But Fordomatic has both

Yes, Fordomatic has a torque converter plus automatic gears. It brings you only the advantages of both drives.

Unlike cars with only a torque converter (which start and cruise all in one drive gear), Fordomatic starts fast and smooth in Intermediate Gear then shifts itself into Drive Gear.

A Story For Men Only . . . Wild Turkey Costs $186 To Bag

Men: don't show this to your wives but it cost Texas hunters an average of $186 to bag one turkey or deer last year.

According to averages made up by Henry C. Hahn, Jr., of the state Game and Fish Commission the average hunter stalking deer or turkey spent a total of $271.97 last season. The average bag was about one and a half turkey or deer and that brought the cost of one to $186.

Supplies and equipment took an average of $107 and was the biggest chunk taken out of the hunter's pocket. Transportation ran in to money also, said the report, since the average traveled about 500 miles to hunt.

The study by the commission was made by Hahn with the aid of 14 biologists and six game wardens.

Surprisingly enough, and contrary to many old stories, one of the lowest items in cost to hunters was, as the report put it, "refreshments." Twelve dollars was the average spent for this item.

Hahn said the lowest expenditure reported was $2—the price of the old hunting license.

But one hunter spent a total of $3,618, according to the report. The Commission failed to mention what that zealous hunter got for his money.

JIM TURNER, Tech halfback from Olney, is slated to do some ball-carrying when the Raiders tangle with pass-happy TCU at Lubbock Saturday. Turner scored two TD's in the Raiders opener against West Texas. Saturday's game will be homecoming game for Tech after two starts—and two losses—away.

Tigers Scalp Indians, 7-0

The Slaton Tigers bounced back from a series of defeats to stop Morton here last Friday night, 7-0 for the Tigers first win of the season.

A home-town crowd cheered the Slaton gridsters on to victory in a game which, despite the score, was predominated throughout by the Tigers.

Speedy Bob Lambert scored the Tiger touchdown after the driving Tigers had pushed down into scoring position. R. A. Thompson kicked the extra point. Coach Toney Poulos' revamped line-up proved successful as the Tigers showed spirit and determination in downing the visitors.

Morton couldn't get started against the heavier Slaton team. The Indians offense was stalled repeatedly by a charging Tiger line. Jerry Lemon, who also intercepted a pass in the waning minutes of the game, was a stand-out in the Tiger line.

Little Jerry Reynolds, who was the man-under in the Tiger "T" provided offensive spark for the Slaton eleven, chipping off short gains whenever the Tiger's needed them.

The game marked the last game for the Tigers, who open district play here Friday against the Spur Bulldogs.

Ralls Has Big Lead In 6-AA Season Play

Post and Ralls were the first district 6-AA teams to open district play as the surprising Ralls Jackrabbits squeezed by Post 21-20 last week. Slaton won last week and Spur dropped a decision to Floydada 24-13 in other games.

RALLS BEATS POST

The favored Post Antelopes got a surprise at Ralls last week when the Jackrabbits jumped off to the district lead by whipping them 21-20 in a real thriller.

FLOYDADA TOPS SPUR

Floydada, which has taken the measure of several district 6-AA teams this season, added another slap to its collection last week, topping the Spur Bulldogs, 24-13.

The Tahoka Bulldogs, the other 6-AA member, were idle last week in preparation for their district opener with the Post Antelopes this Friday night.

Co-Op Parking Lots
In Miami, parking meters are installed on parking lots on a co-operative plan. The city leases a plot of ground from the owner, paves it, installs meters, and operates it as a parking lot. The rental paid by the city to the owner is 35 percent of the meter revenue, and the city absorbs the property tax.

NEW HOME GIRLS DEFEAT WILSON IN BASKETBALL

Girl's basketball was in the air at Wilson Monday night when the New Home girls invaded the Wilson domain and scored two victories.

The New Home junior high girls team beat Wilson's junior high team, 13-3, and the senior high New Home girls trounced Wilson's seniors, 47-13. The two games were practice games.

Families Getting Smaller

Families are getting smaller. The size of households has declined from 3.2 persons in 1940 to 3.0 persons in 1950.

The number of one-person and two-person households increased by 55 and 45 percent, respectively. The number of households of five or more persons declined relatively.

Changes Made In Deer Hunting Law

Local hunters who are planning on a black-tail deer hunt this fall are advised of several changes in the game law for hunting deer west of the Pecos river in an announcement by County Clerk Louie F. Moore.

The season has been shortened by two days—now is only five days instead of a week and there is a different opening date. Black-tail deer season, west of the Pecos, opens November 20 and closes November 25 this year.

Moore also announced a change in the hunting fee law. Instead of a big game license and a general hunting license being issued as in previous years, only one license will be issued for hunting. The cost for this General Hunting License is $2.15, according to Moore.

WILSON LOSES TO TAHOKA LAST WEEK

The Wilson Mustangs dropped their second game in a row last Friday when the Tahoka B-team tromped them 35-6 at Wilson. Thomas Autry once again scored Wilson's only touchdown which came in the third quarter.

Autry made the TD on an eighty yard scamper with a kickoff return.

It's Not True

Claims of a record-breaking winter for 1950-51 are highly exaggerated. All the records for long, hard winters are still held by the years during the four glacial periods before about 30,000 B.C. Then "winter" lasted for centuries and the earth was covered with mountains and rivers of ice. All living things died and all land was barren of vegetation. Even continents and oceans appeared and disappeared.

New Liquid Type Defoliant Proves Effective In Test

Tests made in this area show new advances in the effort to develop a defoliant which can be used effectively on the Plains. The tests made on Norbert Kit-ten's cotton west of Slaton, show De-leaf No. 2 with an added chemical, a new discovery, definitely good results.

Liquid spray defoliant was applied by King and Moore Aerial Dust and Spray Service to four one-acre plots of cotton thru the cooperation of the Lubbock Experiment Station, the chemicals being supplied by O. K. Tex Chemical Co. The Experiment Station was interested only in the results and does not endorse any product. Of the four tests made the one using De-leaf No. 2 with the added chemical proved effective. Several farmers have seen the result and have asked for the defoliant. Mr. Jim Moore called the factory and told them what had been found and they sent out a shipment of De-leaf No. 2, which King and Moore are authorized to sell for aerial or ground spraying equipment. Mr. Moore says type of soil, as well as weather conditions makes a difference in the effectiveness of a defoliant. He says De-leaf No. 2, which is effective here, might not work in another section where soil types differ.

According to Mr. Moore dust has been the best defoliant for use here until this new discovery was made, but only if weather conditions were ideal, which meant very heavy dew. He cites an example from last year when he started defoliation dusting under ideal conditions on Oct. 6 and had no more dew until Oct. 18 for completion of the job. Dust is impractical here due to those circumstances, he says.

First Bale To Be Made Into Drapes

What happened to Slaton's first bale of cotton? According to a story in the Lubbock Avalanche it will stay in Lubbock as souvenir drapes for Bob Womble's place of business.

The cotton, raised by Carter Caldwell, was also the first bale in Lubbock County and was sold at a Lubbock Jaycees sponsored auction on Sept. 8, to Bob Womble for $3.70 per pound, making it the world's highest priced bale of cotton. With this bid and premiums from merchants the value of the bale was raised to $3,534.80.

The cotton will be woven into drapes by Tech students in the textile department under the supervision of L. E. Parsons, department head. Parsons says the cotton is high grade but short staple, seven-eighths of an inch, and therefore will have to be woven into more coarse fabric.

Texas Tech has the only college textile department west of the Mississippi and is one of three schools in Texas connected with the Cotton Research congress on a research basis. The work will be part of regular laboratory work required of students.

Audrey Shouse, director of Public Information at Tech reports that the bale of cotton was donated to the textile department by Mr. Womble, and all except the few yards required for the drapes will be made into towels and wash rags for charitable institutions in the country.

In areas where boll weevils and pink bollworms are found, cotton farmers are urged to destroy completely all cotton stalks as far ahead of the first frost as is possible. Early stalk destruction is not only the cheapest but one of the best control measures for reducing next year's population of these destructive cotton insects.

Lena Schmidt To Be In Run-Off At Tech

New class officers were named Wednesday in student elections at Texas Tech. Run-offs, when necessary, will be held Oct. 10. There will be a run-off between Marion Holton of Ennesa and Lena Schmidt of Slaton for secretary of the Sophomore class.

Save The Harvest

Storing foods properly to retain maximum food value as well as preventing spoilage can save dollars in the family grocery budget. Louise Mason, foods and nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, recommends storing foods in cool, dark, dry places. Even though food is canned or dried heat, light and moisture destroy vitamins. The specialist recommends a ventilated pantry where foods can be arranged conveniently with air circulating among the containers. High kitchen cabinets are poor storage areas, she says, because hot air rises toward the ceiling. Cardboard boxes are inadequate, too, because no air can circulate in them.

Plans for a ventilated pantry may be obtained by writing to local county Extension agents or to the Agricultural Extension Service, College Station, Texas.

Keeping weevils and other insects out of dried vegetables can be a problem. Miss Mason says that beans or peas can be protected from insects by heating them in an oven set at 150 degrees for 30 minutes. Cool and store the beans or peas in air tight containers. These will not be useable for food, she points out, because the heat will have killed the germ.

Southernmost Town
Ushuaia, capital of Argentina's Tierra del Fuego territory, ranks as the southernmost town in the world. It has a bustling suburb, Empresa Borsari, which sprang up almost overnight in 1948. In that year several hundred Italian colists were settled in the new community to further the Argentine projects of making Ushuaia into a naval base and tourist port.

The Flying Squirrel
The flying squirrel does not actually fly. It has a membrane or skin between the front and hind legs, with the aid of which it can glide through the air for considerable distances.

SOME PUNKINS — A lot of heads may be better than one in certain instances but in this case the one that takes the cake—and makes the pie with the other heads—is the one at the top, which, incidentally, belongs to Adeline Hernandez of Chicago. The pumpkins are supposed to suggest autumn.

TECH TEAM COMPETES IN DAIRY PRODUCTS JUDGING

A Texas Tech dairy products judging team will compete in two out-of-state contests in October. Dr. J. J. Willingham, head of the Dairy Manufacturing Department, has announced.

The team will leave Oct. 14 for Lexington, Ky., for the Southern Dairy Products Judging Contest on Oct. 19. Then the team will go to Detroit, Mich., for the Collegiate Students International Dairy Products Judging Contest Oct. 22.

Farm Life And Methods In This Area Have Changed Through The Years

Like the old gray mare, farming in this area "ain't what it used to be." Times have changed and with them farm life and methods. General farming is on the way out in favor of specialization. In the good old days every farmer raised everything. He milked up to a dozen cows, raised some beef cattle and raised his own pigs. He kept a big flock of chickens and sold broilers and fryers as well as eggs.

Now farmers are finding that they can realize much more profit by putting cotton or other money crops in the acreage required to raise feed to support a large herd of milk cows and also can save work. Those who still raise beef cattle are for the most part specializing in that field and raising only beef cattle. Most farmers now keep only enough cows to provide fresh milk, cream, and butter for their own use, and some are going farther than that. A number of farmers have sold all their cows and are buying milk and butter. Many farmers in this area still raise enough produce to last the year round but little canning is being done. Most of the food is processed for quick freezing and stored in home deep freeze units or put in the locker plant.

And things have changed on the farm in other ways. The old threshing crew is on the way out. The men of the area used to get together to make up threshing crews and go from one farm to another to thresh the grain. The women cooked big dinners that actually made the table boards groan, and the little children considered it a picnic. Now most of the grain is harvested directly from the fields with privately owned combines.

The old time butchering days, when neighbors gathered to help each other kill hogs, make sausage, render lard, and ready hams, shoulders and sides of bacon for curing or smoking, are almost obsolete too. Now most of the farmers here take their hogs and beef animals to a slaughtering house, and many of them have the curing and smoking of the meat done for them.

Raymond Henzler still owns fine horse and mule teams, but farming operations in this area are now carried on almost entirely by tractor. The advent of irrigation in the vicinity has changed methods and crops to some extent. Most farm homes now have electricity, butane gas, and telephones. The old time play-parties, hay rides, and barn dances that once held top place in entertainment are giving way to commercial amusements. Electricity makes the use of electric blankets possible on the farm and wool blankets are also gaining in popularity so that quilting parties are also becoming a thing of the past.

Mr. H. M. Cade, who is only milking one cow at present, has been having his slaughtering done in recent years, and harvests his grain with his own combine, points out some of the dangers of specialization in farming operations. He points out that if a man puts his entire farm into one money crop, such as cotton, and cotton fails for that year, he is out in the cold. Grain often makes when cotton doesn't. He suggests that it might be well for a farmer to spread his operations to include some livestock, such as cattle and pigs and possibly some sheep. He still raises his own pigs, having 3 sows with pigs at present. He has 125 out of his 160 acres in cotton and the rest in feed. He says life on the farm has changed but he believes specialization can be carried too far.

Winter is just around the corner and now is the time to winterize the farmstead. Maintenance and repair jobs should be done while the weather is favorable.

Every year tragedy strikes in thousands of Texas homes, and sturdy little bodies, once busy at school or play, are broken and crippled. Polio is often the cause, but other neuromuscular diseases leave wasted limbs and heartbreak in their wake, and accidents also take their toll among our future citizens. In 1937 the GONZALES WARM SPRINGS FOUNDATION FOR CRIPPLED CHILDREN was established as a treatment center for these handicapped children of Texas. It is a non-profit, charitable hospital chartered by the state, but depending upon generous Texans for support.

Texans have been most generous in their support of this state-wide treatment center, but additional facilities are vitally needed. A building program to care for more handicapped children has already begun. Funds must be provided to insure continued operation of the hospital on a scale expanded to meet present and future needs. Fatty fish, such as salmon or shad, are best for baking, broiling and planking because their fat content will keep them from drying out during the cooking procedure.

Gloria DeHaven Is Own Mother-In Film

In M-G-M's big Technicolor musical, "Three Little Words," now at the Caprock Drive-In Theatre, Mrs. Carter De Haven, who with her husband formed one of the top stage and screen teams two decades ago, is portrayed by her own daughter—Gloria De Haven!

Gloria sings the popular Bert Kalmar-Harry Ruby song, "Who's Sorry Now," just as her mother did before her in New York's Palace Theatre. The role also reunites her with Red Skelton with whom she starred in "The Yellow Cab Man."

Fred Astaire portrays Kalmar and Skelton enacts Ruby in the melody-studded story based on the lives and colorful careers of the two songwriters.

Parks Added

Newton B. Drury, director of the National Park Service, reported that three new areas were brought into the national park system during the 1950 fiscal year: Effigy Mounds National Monument, Iowa; DeSoto Memorial, Fla.; and the parkway connecting Washington, D.C., and Suitland, Md.

Cattle Steal Star's Spotlight

A group of resolute if inexperienced motion picture performers took the limelight away from such well-known Hollywood stars as Burt Lancaster, Robert Walker, Jeanne Dru and Sally Forrest during filming of M-G-M's big Technicolor Western, "Vengeance Valley."

Numbering in the thousands and prowling around the countryside on all fours, the unbilled performers were cattle, huge herds of prize beef on the hoof, rounded up by a crew of Colorado's best cowhands to meet the demands of the "Vengeance Valley" screen play. Thanks to the skill of the cowhands, the cattle gave the utmost of "cooperation." Their performances were so letter-perfect that it enabled Director Richard Thorpe's location company to trim five days off its expected schedule.

F. F. A. Installs Officers For Year

The Vocational Agriculture classes of Slaton High are getting off to a fine start this year. The first meeting was held September 11th. The following officers were elected: President, Grady Smith; Vice President, Glen Wilson; Reporter, Donald Bownds; Treasurer, Leon Pinkert; Secretary, Vernon King; 2nd Vice President, Bobby Jones; Historian, Wesley Reed; 3rd Vice President, Danny Holt; Sentinel, L. C. Strube; Parliamentarian, Billy Butler; Conductors, Carson White and Harold Steffens.

The second meeting was held on October 2nd for the purpose of installing officers, and appointing committees for the coming year. Mr. Strickland took Billy Butler and Grady Smith to a district meeting Wednesday evening October 3rd at 4:30. The purpose of the meeting was to set up a program of work for the year and to elect officers.

Saturday, September 29, Noel Wilson, Johnny Hogue, Wesley Reed, Stanley White, and Estes Jackson went to Plainview to buy feeder lambs to show in the stock shows during the coming year. The last part of last week other boys went to Sweetwater to buy different kinds of lambs.

In the last part of January of the first part of February they will go to the Fort Worth Fat Stock Show if enough boys want to go. Around March 10th of next year this chapter will again hold the Lubbock County Fat Stock Show. During the last of March the boys will enter their prize animals in the South Plains Fat Stock Show in Lubbock. —The Tigers Cage.

West Texas Roundup

Joel S. Quinones, Mexican consul at Amarillo, and Roy O. Bronander and Fred O. Presley, U. S. Department of Labor representatives, were in Levelland Thursday inquiring about alleged discriminatory practices which have placed Hockley county on the Mexican government's labor "blacklist".

The three conferred with Pat Mann, manager of the Levelland Chamber of Commerce, and Mayor L. G. West, among others. As a result of their visit here, a petition designed to eliminate discrimination against Latin Americans was being circulated among certain types of business firms.

Mr. Quinones was optimistic about the county's chances of being removed from the "blacklist", but warned that time is short if the braceros are to be available when needed. He said as soon as the petition being circulated here reached his Amarillo office with the required signatures it would be sent directly to Mexican labor officials in Mexico City.

Information given the county health nurse by local physicians indicate that the much-publicized Devil's Grippe apparently has spread to this area.

The disease is said to be similar to what a score or more years ago was known as lagrippe. It differs from influenza in that it is less of a respiratory ailment and more of a general body disorder.

Numerous virus infections also were reported.

Beginning Oct. 2, a class of 35 Littlefield residents will begin receiving instructions on conversational Spanish with the instructor to come from Texas Tech.

Classes will be held two nights a week, three hours to a session, for the first four weeks, and one night each week for the next 11 weeks. Instructions will be given at the high school.

The course will cost each of the students $10. Classes will begin at 7 p.m. Tuesday and Thursday for the first four weeks, and will be dismissed at 10 a.m.

Armor Protection

California red scale, the most serious insect pest of California citrus, produces a shell-like armor over its body which partially protects it from insecticides, complicating the problem of control.

Chick Chats

Presented By Dr. Salsbury's Laboratories

TRY A BROOD OF FALL CHICKS

In the past, practically all pullets were hatched at one time of the year—in the spring. Now, under modern conditions, many poultrymen find it profitable to hatch pullets during other seasons. By doing this, raisers find they can maintain a steadier rate of egg production, with one flock taking over the egg-laying chores when the other drops off.

The first consideration under this plan is the time of year the pullets will mature and begin to lay. A brood of fall chicks will be ready for production in five or six months. Started now, these chicks would be laying eggs by February or March. In this way, poultrymen get in on some of the higher egg prices which usually prevail during winter months.

Greater Efficiency

Chicks hatched at this time increase the efficiency of your business by making it possible to replace birds that die or are culled during the year. In addition, less brooding equipment is needed and more efficient use is made of it. Other advantages are: Egg production is more uniform through the year; there is better yearly distribution of labor; livability is more likely to be better in the fall (more chicks are usually lost when they are hatched in hot weather); and more chicks are produced from the same breeders.

Disadvantages

To make fall-hatching pay, you should also keep in mind some of its disadvantages. For one thing, the cost of growing pullets will probably be somewhat higher, since they require a longer period of artificial heat in brooding. Also, pasture cannot be utilized fully. And, although it isn't always the case, it may be difficult to maintain production through the following fall and winter.

But in view of the many advantages to be derived from a fall brood of chicks, it can easily be to your benefit to raise a flock of fall pullets. With proper attention to chick management, sanitation, and medication, you—like many other raisers—can make fall-hatched chicks earn extra profits for you next year.

Facilities being completed this week at Brady Mills will permit a large number of boys from the Brady Chapter of Future Farmers of America to take part in the annual commercial feeding program carried on by the Chamber of Commerce in Brady. Many of the FFA students in Brady High School have been unable to take part in the program previously, due to the fact that they live in town where it is not possible for them to have pens for feeding lambs or calves. A large barn with stalls for animals of 19 boys has been constructed on the grounds of Brady Mills for the use of members of the local FFA chapter. Funds for the purchase of materials for the construction of these barns have been contributed by local merchants. The barns were constructed by members of the FFA chapter. —The Brady Standard

by
A.M.J.

I was being very conservative until my wife said, "do you know what eggs are per dozen now? Just seventy five cents!" Those eggs should have tasted mighty good, but I could not enjoy them. Every time I worked my jaw I estimated I was missing up five cents.

Slaton should be one of the best places in West Texas to teach young folks how to drive. If they can get by here they are soon able to stop a car on one wheel and dodge anything from a jack-rabbit to an atom bomb.

With the itinerant workers driving on every side of the streets, except the right side, the business section is a snarl of traffic that takes a major decision every few seconds. One learning to drive in Slaton may not know all the rules, but he, or she, will be able to meet most any emergency.

There are many problems that come up at our house. We have a food mixer and the bowl is supposed to turn, the little book says to turn a screw on the bottom of the stand to make it turn fast or slow, and I've worn out a good screw driver trying to get it to work, but it is as stationary as the statue of liberty. We took it to the outfit that sold it to us and the man said it was not supposed to turn and that when it is in use some one is to stand and push it around by his, or her, own horse power. It is a messy job and the instruction book says the bowl should turn and my wife has a mighty low opinion of me because I cannot make it do its stuff but she was very nice to the man who sold it to us and can't do any better than I can.

It never rains but it pours. For the last month we have been sitting at home until about nine o'clock waiting for the time to drag along but all of a sudden things start happening, and my wife and I were invited out to the Firemen's banquet Thursday night, the Rotary Club had its annual Rotary Ann night at that time, and we have some company coming to visit us. My wife is as high as a kite, I am going to have to take a bath every day and we are going to miss a lot of good eating somewhere, but next week I'll be back trying to find something to do with my time in the evenings, and no where to go but to bed.

It's been a long time since I have made any predictions on the weather, but it has been such a long time since we have had a rain that I feel that it is my duty to do something about it, especially as I have a big, new dusty rain gauge that has never been wet except for a few smudges of mud in the bottom when a little dusty mist fell.

Since Bill Ball went into the armed services and left me to bear the brunt of the weather predicting I have been going slow, but the time has come for a rain and I'm predicting a real rainy spell for the middle of the week. My

Strip Film Attachment

An attachment for 16 mm. projectors that enables strip film to be shown without loss of light or the danger of overheating the film has been introduced. The attachment, called "Unoscope," fits the lens opening of most 16 mm. silent projectors. Then, instead of projecting the film over the regular film track, the strip is wound on the Unoscope by a hand-operated feed knob. Separate shots can be held indefinitely.

Nearing Millionth

The fast pace towards the millionth traffic death since 1900 was speeded up last year by increases in fatalities in 43 states and the District of Columbia—the largest number to report an upward trend since 1946—while only five states held street and highway deaths below their 1949 tolls, a survey by the Association of Casualty and Surety Companies disclosed today.

What About Automobiles?

One more household suggestion: In times of emergency don't park the family automobile on the street. Leave the way clear for emergency traffic. Keep the windows rolled up to prevent possible contamination of the interior by underwater or ground bursts and don't worry whether or not it will rum. Radio-activity won't interfere with operation of its fuel or ignition system.

Invitations Sent To High Schools

Invitations are being sent to 160 high schools in Region I, Texas Interscholastic League, to send students to the second annual Student Activities Conference at Tech Saturday, Oct. 20.

Dr. P. Merville Larson, director of the conference, said between 600 and 700 high school students and teachers attended the conference last year, and about 1,000 was expected this year.

The confedence will offer instruction in two major fields, speech and journalism. Sessions in the field of speech will include dramatics, debate, student government, radio, speech correction, declamation and interpretation, extemporaneous speaking and oratory. Journalism sessions will include advertising, photography, yearbooks, editorial page, features, news, makeup and typography, and student newspapers.

The students and teachers will assemble for a general meeting at 9 a.m. in the Agriculture Auditorium, then be divided into conference groups at 9:55 a.m.

Students and teachers participating in the conference will be invited to a dress rehearsal of the play, "My Heart's In The Highlands," at 7 p.m.

Yours Truly—

The children had all been photographed in a group and the teacher was trying to persuade them each to buy a copy of the picture to preserve their memories of the dear, old fourth grade.

"Just think how nice it will be when you've grown up," she said. "You can take down your picture and say, 'there's Rose, she's married,' or 'there's Billy, he's a fighter pilot!'"

A small voice piped up from the back of the room: "We can also say, 'there's a teacher—she's dead!'"

The Hired Hand—

The annual debate as to whether we will have a late or early frost and a hard, mild, dry or wet winter is upon us.

As is true in most cases, the majority of the "natural" signs seem to point to an early frost, and a hard, dry winter.

We have been told that the careless weeds are making seed like they know a freeze is just around the corner. From another source we hear that the shucks are tighter around the ears of corn. Some fellow reported that squirrels are storing nuts like mad.

With our ear to the ground we heard that red ants are digging their nests shallow, without any provision for lower drainage chambers, in preparation for a dry winter.

If the law of average amounts to anything we should have a mild, damp winter.

Hodge Podge—

We have just read a comforting little treatise entitled "A Bomb Would Kill All Persons Unprotected in One-Half Mile."

It is an odd thing that we keep hearing all the things that the atom bomb will do. The articles we suppose, are written with the intent to be comforting. However, everytime we hear about what the bomb will do, we apply it to ourselves rather than to some vague and unnamed enemy.

The point of the whole business is this. We are being educated for war. It is assumed that peace from now on will be a pause that refreshes and sends us on—to another conflict.

Unfortunately, the day seems to have passed when a man could be born, go to school, get married, have children, be a grandfather, and go peacefully to his reward. Now, he can look forward to sacrifice, violence and a flaming death.

Did you know the first potato chip was an accident?

Since the popular chip is one of the best sellers every day in the week at all Post's food stores, this bit of history might interest you readers.

An Indian cook known as Aunt Kate was busy in the kitchen of a popular resort called "Moon's Place on Lake Saratoga, N. Y., in 1853. She was, like most cooks, doing two or three things at one time. She was heating a kettle of fat to make some doughnuts and while the fat was heating she put in her time peeling and slicing potatoes.

By mistake a slice fell into the fat. By the time she was able to swim it out, the slice was crisp and brown.

At that moment George Crum came by, happened to put the brown morsel in his mouth, and ate it. He said it was good and told Aunt Kate to make some more. She did.

—The Post Dispatch

Levelling Off—

The History Research Department of the "Book House" for Children has selected the Duchess of Windsor as "one of the ten most fascinating women of all times."

Others named in an evaluation made to determine the outstanding "femme fatales" down through the ages were nearly all women who helped to make history or to break it.

These women include Salome, Cleopatra, Helen of Troy, Marie Antoinette, Catharine the Great of Russia, George Sand, Mata Hari, Zenobia, and Theodora, a musical comedy star who ascended to the throne of the Byzantine Empire through her marriage to the great emperor, Justinian.

"Also runs" in the balloting were Mary (Garden) Sappho, the Greek poetess, and Lady Wu, the harem girl who became Empress of Ancient China.

They all sound interesting, and we've just decided their use in this column is timely since National Business and Professional Women's Week is just ending. We don't know how "professional" these "most fascinating" women were, but most of them meant "business" when they set out to make or break history.

We have always considered pennies as something to be given the kids, pitched in an empty fruit jar, or used to pay that extra one or two cents tax on a package of cigarettes—but undoubtedly something to get out of your pocket just as soon as possible. Now we are informed by the treasury department that because of the copper shortage, there is developing an actual scarcity of pennies.

As lowly as the penny is these days, have you ever stopped to think what an important part it plays in the lives of everyone. Without pennies, cigarettes would go to a quarter per pack; that new hat would be $10.00 instead of $9.98. We could go on listing item after item and there would be no end. On one sale, a penny or two don't amount to much. But after awhile pennies can pile up rather fast. We even read once about a man paying for a new car with pennies he had saved.

—And think of all the penny-anti games that would be ruined.

Our Bank Says "Help Yourself"

People around here need lots of small change these days — what with candy, gum, cigarette and soft drink machines . . . pay phones . . . and those penny sales taxes.

Used to put a strain on our bank. Changing money took up a lot of time. Then the Chief Teller Happy Wilson, read about another bank using a "help yourself" change system. The directors decided to see if it would work here.

They set out some big shallow bowls full of nickels, dimes and pennies with a sign saying "MAKE YOUR OWN CHANGE." Works fine, too. At the end of the day the totals are never more than a couple of cents under—or over—the right amount.

From where I sit, folks everywhere are pretty much alike, although they may seem different. Farmers and city folks, Republicans and Democrats, those who enjoy a glass of beer occasionally and those who prefer something else—we all usually try to live up to the trust others have in us.

How About Some Whoopee? . . .

There are many things that are the best in the world right here on the South Plains, but recreation facilities are not among them.

Buffalo Lakes offers good fishing and there is ample room for water sports, but it is the only place within more than a hundred miles, and it cannot do the job alone.

The people of today need recreation more than they have ever needed before, and those who neglect the call to enjoy life as they go along will suffer in nervous disorders and other maladies in the future. It seems that people who live in a part of the country as rich in money and in progressive spirit would have several spots where good fishing and other outdoor activities can be enjoyed.

Many parts of the country, where places for recreation have been scarce, have made resorts of all kinds out of unlikely places. If there ever was a place where it looked as God had forgotten it, then Arizona is it, but there are artificial pools in many places on the desert, people from all over the nation go to Arizona to spend thousands of dollars at dude ranches and resorts, but out here on the South Plains, where there are still a lot of folks who know what a real ranch is, there is not a dude ranch to be found. Some day, if atom bombs do not get us, the South Plains will be as wild with dude ranches as it was fifty years ago with the real article.

Big Question In His Judgment . . .

The complete exoneration of Philip C. Jessup by the loyalty review board is reassuring, if . . . Let's stop there for a moment.

The board is not authorized to pass on two questions that are of high importance in a member of this country's delegation to the United Nations, the post for which Mr. Jessup is up for confirmation:

(1) The board can not investigate or express an opinion on whether at any time in his official career a person upon whose present loyalty it is passing may have been questionable.

(2) The board considers only the question of actual loyalty, not of susceptibility to deception by the disloyal.

The review board has placed itself firmly on record that it can see no possible reason to doubt Dr. Jessup's loyalty.

You can believe that. You can also believe that, regardless of the fact the board has no authority to determine it, Dr. Jessup has always been loyal.

So, put aside the question of any possibility of disloyalty. There is still the far-from-reassuring fact that Dr. Jessup is questionable from the standpoint of his ability to judge the loyalty, integrity and purposes of those with whom he consorts.

There would be every reason to regard the man as an admirable choice for the delegation to the United Nations as one of the Americans most experienced both with the United Nations and with other aspects of our diplomacy that dove-tail into it.

Philip Jessup has been connected with State Department activities in one way or another for more than a quarter of a century. He has been solicitor for the Department of State, legal adviser to an important embassy, a delegate to and secretary general of various conferences engaged in planning the groundwork for the construction of the present foreign policy to which this country is committed. So it is as no novice that he would go to the United Nations.

But it was as no novice either that he served as a director of the Institute of Pacific Relations, 1938-1942. He was a trained and experienced lawyer and a trained and experienced diplomat in 1938.

The institute was and is a sound idea. No one questions that. But the period embraced is included in that in which the disillusioned Alfred Kohlberg concludes and some admitted American Communists have testified, the institute was infiltrated by Soviet agents and used to forward Russian interests in the Far East.

So, the question is not whether Philip Jessup is disloyal, but whether he has the capacity to serve in an important post where it is necessary to know the character of the men and women with whom he deals for us. The safety of the nation depends upon that.

Dr. Jessup is to be congratulated. Are we? — The Dallas News.

With Moral Dimmers On . . .

One hundred, seventy-five years ago, America declared for independence. Today, she's hollering for security. In 1861 the colored brethren were "disenjoying" a high degree of security; what they wanted was liberty.

In 1775, Patrick Henry was demanding, "Give me liberty or give me death." Now our Socialistic Statesmen are crying, "Sit still and we'll bring it to you from Pabulum to wheel chairs. The government owes you a living, with TV thrown in."

The politicians know you can't have freedom and security at the same time. The ox has security. The tiger has freedom. Turn the ox loose and he starves. Cage the tiger and he lives only to break for freedom.

Give man security and all progress ceases. Freedom to achieve at the risk of failure is the challenge of America, and meeting it has made America great. Security is for the very young and the very old, the insane, the criminal, and the incompetent. Yet Americans fawn at the feet of politicians who offer "security." Stalin is giving his citizens security, such as it is. So have a hundred other tyrants of history.

A few of those politicians may be honest in desire to aid all mankind. Some of his friends say Harry Truman is "honest according to his lights." Maybe so, but he's sure been driving a long way with his dimmers on. —The Kingsville Record.

We Are Buying Much Civilization . . .

Many years ago, the late Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes said that he found pleasure in paying his taxes. "With this I buy civilization," he observed. We live in a very different kind of age today. Less and less of our tax money goes to buy these goods and services which make for true civilization. More and more of it goes to buy the implements of war, old and new, which, if ever unleashed in their full fury, may very well destroy civilization itself.

In the world of the present, this is an unavoidable tragedy. But that tragedy is needlessly compounded by the ever-increasing spending of the people's money for purposes and projects which have no bearing on the national defense and security, which are unnecessary and avoidable, which weaken our institutions and undermine our liberties, and which, finally, tend to destroy our savings by creating more inflation and cheaper dollars.

Quotes . . .

One big-wig producer at a Hollywood party was approached by a woman who wanted to compliment the man on his charming wife. "And I couldn't help but notice," she gushed, "what beautiful hands she has." "Yes," nodded the producer, pleased. "In fact, I'm thinking of having a bust made of them." —Charlotte Goldsborough.

"The shortest distance between home and a divorce court is usually an outside curve."—Wally Wanger.

A customer walked into a tailor shop and got into a conversation with the tailor about hunting trips. Said the tailor, "Once I was hunting lions in Africa and discovered a lion standing 20 feet away. I didn't have a gun. The lion kept coming closer and closer until he was only five feet away." "What happened?" asked the customer. "He leaped at me and killed me." "What do you mean, he killed you?" said the man. "You're sitting here very much alive." Replied the tailor, stitching away at his machine, "You call this living?" —The Roundup, El Paso, Texas.

A grave digger, absorbed in his thoughts, dug a grave so deep he couldn't get out.

Came nightfall and the evening chill, his predicament became more and more uncomfortable. He shouted for help and at last attracted the attention of a nightwatchman who had been keeping vigil with a bottle.

"Get me out of here," he shouted. "I'm cold."

The inebriated watchman looked into the grave and finally distinguished the form of the uncomfortable grave digger. "No wonder you're cold," he said. "You haven't got a dirt on you." —Helene Miller.
