Tigers Fall To Crosbyton Chiefs, 31-8

Slaton's Tigers, plagued by first-half fumble troubles, fell to Crosbyton by 31-8 Friday night in a game played on the Chiefs home field.

The Tigers bounded back in the second half to outscore their opponents by 8-6, but had allowed two wide a gap in the opening quarters.

Taking more of their share of the bad breaks, the Tigers lost control of the ball by fumbles on three promising drives in the first half. On two of these fumbles Crosbyton went on to score before giving up possession of the ball.

On the opening kickoff the Chiefs took the ball and then on the second play from scrimmage went for the first TD. They rostered three more in the first two periods to put the score at 24-0 at halftime.

Then in the third quarter the Tigers hit paydirt for the first time when Steve Ball carried for two yards to cap a sustained drive. Webber Teffertiller then carried for the two bonus points.

The Chiefs scored once more in the second half, putting the final tally at 31-8.

In yards rushing the Tigers were behind by 121 to 302. In passing Slaton rostered 25 while the Chiefs gathered none through the air. Slaton completed one of five while the Chiefs had three unsuccessful attempts.

Ball led the gain department with 70 yards in 13 carries. Teffertiller carried 10 times for 44, and Bownds carried 10 times for 18.

This Friday night the Tigers go on the road again, playing Lockney in a game beginning at 8 p. m.

Tigers To Meet Tough Lockney In Road Game Friday Night

Slaton's Tigers, with no let-up in a bruising pre-district schedule, go against Lockney in another road game Friday night, scheduled to begin at 8 p.m.

Lockney, having rested the past week with an open date, will bring a 2-1-1 record into the game with Slaton. They opened the season with a 14-14 tie with Hale Center, and then defeated Dimmit by 12-8.

Perhaps the most indicative game in regard to the strength of Lockney was their thin loss to powerful Tulla by 18-14.

Then they returned to defeat Ralls by 14-12.

The Tigers of Coach M. W. Kerr now have a 2-3 mark for the season. Their wins came over Frenship and Idalou, while losing to Canyon, Rotan and Crosbyton.

Leading the offensive attack of Lockney will be quarterback Johnny Belt and fullback Terry Mosely. The two have shared the bulk of the scoring.

Leading defensively for the Tigers will be halfbacks Webber Teffertiller and Steve Ball and fullback Kelly Bownds.

"BLUE MONDAYS" BOW TO MODERN ELECTRIC LAUNDRY

An old-fashioned American custom, "wash Monday," is being done away with.

Research and home economics experts, after checking with laundry equipment dealers throughout the country, have concluded that owners of automatic washers and dryers wash clothes on any day of the week that fits their schedules. Monday is no more wash day than Thursday or Tuesday.

CLOTHES FOR WEEK

Women used to wash on Monday in order to have clean clothes for the entire week. The ease of washing with automatic laundry equipment now assures them plenty of clean clothes at any time. Within an hour or two after they start washing, clothes will be clean and dry and ready to wear again.

The home economists say that some women now wash clothes while frying the breakfast bacon, some run the automatic while vacuuming the living room carpet, and others do their washing while eating dinner in the evening. No matter when the washing is being done, the homemaker can tend to other duties at the same time. In effect she is doing two things at once.

USE OTHER DAYS

Some women have set aside other days as wash day. Friday marketing can be done while the clothes are washing at home in many cases.

One woman runs her automatic washer and dryer while entertaining her Wednesday afternoon bridge club. In between hands she retires to the kitchen to change loads, and when the ladies leave she has completed the family wash, and all the while playing bridge!

WASHERWOMAN HAS IT EASIER

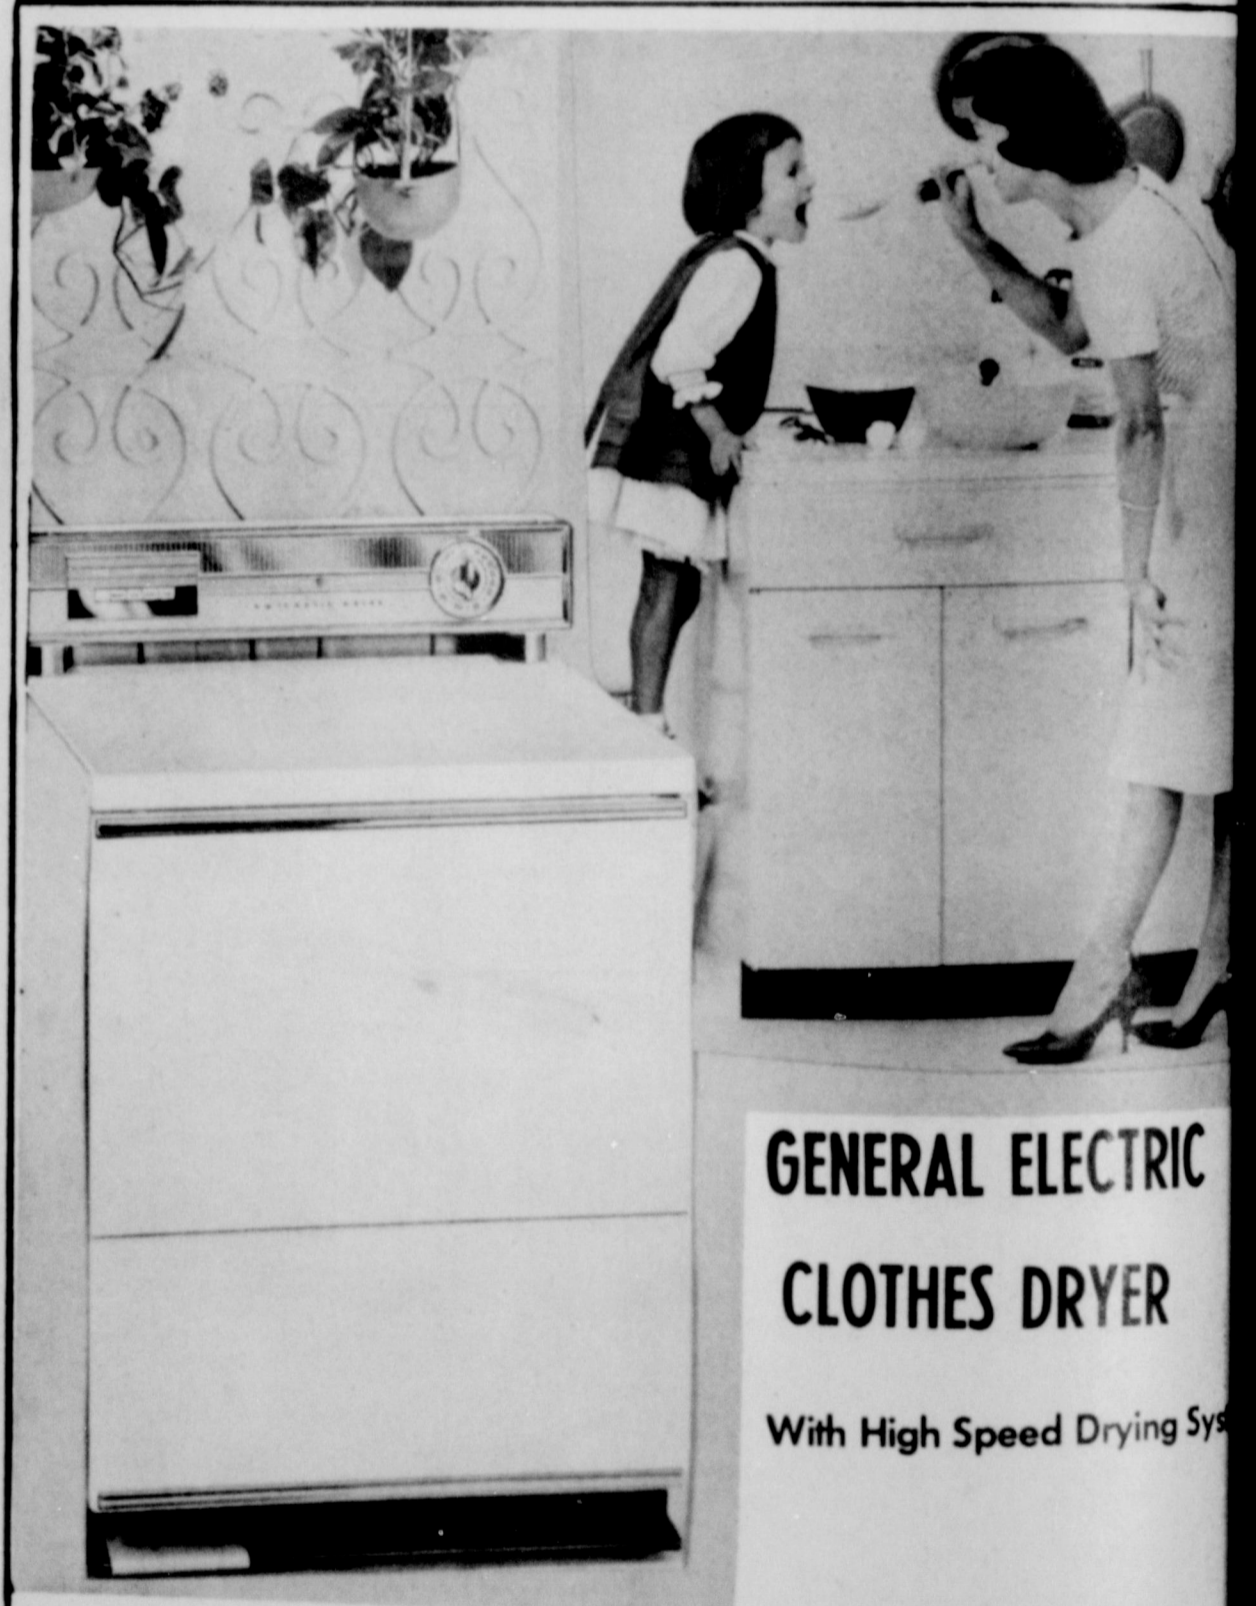

Unlike the washerwoman of old who labored from dawn to dusk over a scrub board, several tubs, clothesline and a set of flat irons; the washerwoman of today can be off to luncheon, bridge or the races by early afternoon with the week's wash completely finished with the aid of an automatic washer, electric dryer and automatic ironer.

Not only can the wash be done, but while the first loads are running in the automatic washer and dryer, the housewife can finish the breakfast dishes and do the housework. After the first load has finished drying, she is ready to begin ironing. Clothes that need to be ironed should not be completely dried, so the dryer does not need to run as long for these articles.

IN FEW HOURS
Actually, all three machines can be operating at the same time. Clothes can be washed, dried and ironed in a chair while the ironer. Not all clothes need to be ironed, and those that are folded to be put away in the wardrobe, the housewife can all her time at the ironer. The exception of the few items necessary to change er and dryer loads.

The entire operation accomplished in just a few hours with automatic home laundry equipment. Not only efficient, beautiful as well, the machines are compactly designed, the matching styled automatic washer and dryer enhance kitchen or laundry room which they are placed. Installation is simple, and the coat white enamel finish provides full protection to exterior of the appliance.

GENERAL ELECTRIC CLOTHES DRYER

With High Speed Drying System

Install flush to wall -- Room air enters the dryer from the front and is then warmed, entering the clothes basket from the back. Fast-moving currents of properly warmed air flow through the tumbling clothes, drying them quickly and naturally.

Air laden with moisture and lint is carried through the trap depositing lint and then is exhausted at the rear. There is no overdrying or underdrying because G-E's highly sensitive thermostat is located in the clothes where it accurately measures and reacts to the type of fabrics, size and moisture content of the load.

Helpful Hints for Handling Hardboard

Hardboard can be sawed, nailed, stapled or secured with adhesives. It is always best to follow the directions provided by the manufacturer, but here are some general helpful hints for handling hardboard:
 In hand-sawing, slow strokes at a shallow angle and a soft touch produce smooth edges.
 Make the cut on the down stroke disengaging teeth on the upswing.
 Remove any saw marks with a plane, file or sandpaper as you would with natural wood.
 When using a hand or table saw, cut with the exposed side up. With a portable power saw, put the exposed side down so the teeth hit that side first. Don't crowd the saw, or rough edges will result.

Water Project Approved

HIGHLIGHTS AND SIDELIGHTS From The State Capitol

Final legal decision bulldozed from the biggest state water project in Texas history. To pave the way for breaking ceremonies near the site of Toledo Reservoir on the Sabine

Board of Water Development and the Attorney General's office worked in order to approve the project from engineering and legal standpoints. The Texas and Louisiana are partners in the Toledo Dam to be constructed near Houston, Texas. It may cost as much as $60,000,000, estimate, back in 1957 $40,000,000.

General aid was sought. Texas put up $15,000,000. Texas is lending $15,000,000. It will be borrowed from investors.

the Latest report shows a hike in the fund-shortage of $20,500,000 in a period of 11 days. With the mailing of first installment on this year's state aid to the school districts, the new total deficit is $76,811,173 according to State Treasurer Jesse James.

First sales tax payments from retailers are due October 31.

STEPPED - UP CHECK ON UNEMPLOYMENT CLAIMS-- Texas Employment Commission is hiring additional investigators to look into unemployment compensation claims to ascertain that only those entitled to it receive it.

Commissioner J. J. Pickle, Employers' representative on the three-member commission, reports that eight or nine new probes are being hired by authorization of U. S. Department of Labor to study claims.

New investigators will be assigned to the larger employment district offices throughout Texas.

Commissioner J. E. Lyles, Employees' representative, said "too many people are receiving benefits from this program through misrepresentation, honest or otherwise."

DRIVER TRAINING--FEWER ACCIDENTS--Governor Daniel reports "major progress in reducing involvement in fatal accidents through the steady expansion of driver education classes in Texas public schools."

Driver education students are having 21 per cent fewer accidents.

Since 1957 a total of 265,028 students, in the 15 to 24 age bracket, have completed driver education courses, an increase of 80,091 or 43.2 per cent, over the preceding four-year period.

STATE JOB CLASSIFICATION LEGAL--Atty. Gen. Will Wilson has ruled that the new state job classification program is constitutional.

Question was submitted by State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert.

Opinion held that the graduated pay schedule for state employees is legal because the Legislature has authority to use this method of classifying workers. New system provides for pay raises on the basis of seniority.

CARLA'S AFTERMATH -- "Carla the Hurricane" has long since left Texas, but her mark remains.

Governor Daniel modified his remarks about insurance adjusters by saying that most companies were paying claims fairly.

But a Chicago insurance executive came to Texas and blasted both Governor Daniel and Sen. Ralph Yarborough for remarks about fine print in insurance policies.

Speaker James Turman sent his general investigating committee probing along the Gulf Coast, intent on recommending a new windstorm insurance law and one governing the handling of claims.

Texas public trusts and foundations have contributed $255,000 to aid hurricane victims, and fund-raising appeals under the Red Cross are under way across Texas.

As usual, warm-hearted Texans are chipping in to help those hit hardest by Carla.

GOVERNOR - FOR - A - DAY-- Many senators get to be governor - for - a - day.

While Governor Daniel was attending the Southern Governor Conference, of which he is chairman, Reagan was acting governor for a full week.

He even issued some clemencies.

Reagan made the most news however, by publicly disagreeing with Daniel. He said he saw no need for another special session of the Legislature.

Proclamations issued by Reagan included one designating "Port of Corpus Christi Day" and a series of three praising Del Mar College, Texas College of Arts and Industries, and the University of Corpus Christi.

American agriculture is an expanding industry in every important respect except one -- the number of people required to run our farms -- points out Dean Earl Butts of Purdue University's School of Agriculture.

"Our agricultural plant each year uses more capital, more science and technology, more managerial capacity, more purchased production inputs, more specialized marketing facilities, and more research than the year before.

"Although a smaller share of our total population is engaged directly in farming, the agricultural industry is broad and basic. Of 68 million persons employed in America in 1960, about 26 million worked somewhere in agriculture--8 million worked on farms.

J.L. Kemper Dies Tuesday

J. L. (Dusty) Kemper, western division manager for General Telephone, died Tuesday at 10:55 a. m. in St. Mary's Hospital at Rochester, Minn., following a long illness.

Mr. Kemper was born 42 years ago in Cass County New Mexico. He was graduated from Eastern New Mexico State University and started to work for the telephone company as a lineman in 1939.

He was lineman and cable splicer until World War II when he entered the Sea Bees.

Returning to the telephone company after his discharge, Mr. Kemper worked as a lineman on a construction crew in 1945 and 1946 until he was named foreman in 1946. He was named construction supervisor in 1949.

Mr. Kemper served as General Telephone's northern division plant superintendent from 1949 to 1953 when he was named to his present post and was stationed at Brownfield.

ABUNDANT LIFE

by ORAL ROBERTS

A famous man once purchased an old abandoned farmhouse that was situated on the slope of a mountain in a sparsely settled area. The man and his wife wanted seclusion from the world, and this place offered it -- no "nosey" neighbors to pry, no noisy traffic, no neighborhood children to trample the flower garden! They truly wanted to be alone.

But after the man and his wife had repaired the house and had become settled, they both admitted reluctantly that things were too quiet. They were bored.

"Let's take a walk down into the valley and see what's down there," said the man. So he and his wife started exploring their neighborhood.

When they got down into the valley, they came, quite suddenly, upon a tiny house situated on a slight rise on the side of a ravine.

"Hello," they called. No answer. "Anybody home? Yo-hoo!" they cried and pounded on the door.

They were met by a little old lady, hobbling with a cane. "Glory be!" the old lady said, "and welcome to my little home. Be yours the window with the light across the valley?"

The man and his wife admitted that it was their light the old woman had seen. "Your light sure has meant much to me," the old woman said. "It's been so lonely out here."

Then she asked them: "Are you going to stay on your side of the valley and keep your light burnin' brightly?"

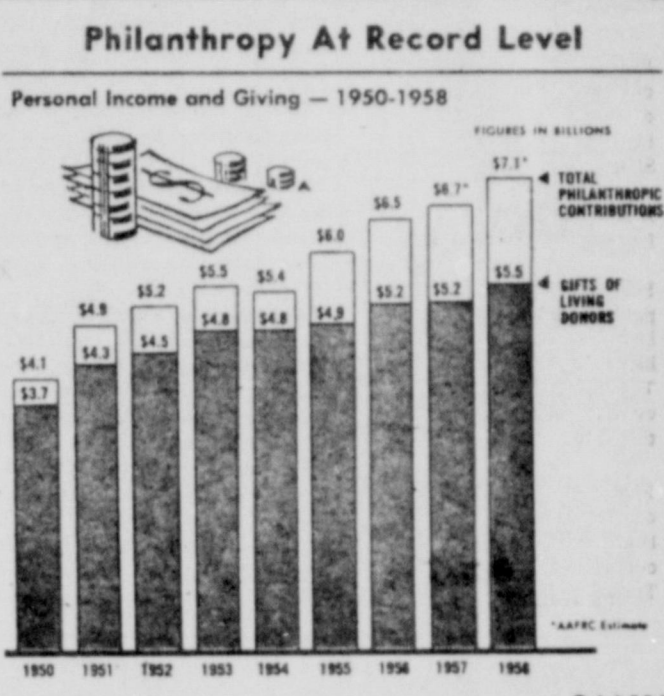

The man and his wife then realized that the old lady was depending on their light. Just to know that someone else was near -- even though on the far side of the valley -- gave the old woman comfort.

"We'll keep our light burning every night, just for you, Dear, and you're welcome to visit us any time," the man's wife said. Then they went home and opened the curtains wider so their light would shine brighter across the valley.

Are you letting your light shine?

There are many who desperately need and want the light that shines from the window of your Christian experience.

Sometimes people tell us how they have been blessed through our own individual testimony or influence. Sometimes they do not. We may be assured, however, that somewhere someone American philanthropy advanced to new levels of financial support in 1958, despite some economic recession. Total philanthropy in the United States in 1958 may be conservatively estimated at $7.1 billion, according to the American Association of Fund Raising Councils. This represents an increase of $3 billion over the 1950 philanthropy, and $400 million over the 1957 total philanthropy.

Farm Facts

According to Francis E. Clark, U. S. Department of Agriculture microbiologist, earthworms are to be considered an indication of good soil fertility rather than its cause.

Sharp differences of opinion exist, he says, concerning the relationship of earthworms to soil fertility. Some people insist that earthworms almost singlehandedly are responsible for good fertility. Clark notes in the USDA's Yearbook of Agriculture that such a viewpoint has little basis in fact. He says organic residues ejected by earthworms are poorer in nutrients than the original residues ingested.

The beneficial effects of earthworms on plant growth are largely those associated with improved aeration and improved tilth. They are important in mixing surface organic residues with the underlying soil.

Earthworms in an acre can bring 20 tons of soil a year to the surface. Their burrowing activity is most intense in the top 6 inches, although some tunnels extend to depths of 6 feet.

Earthworms flourish best in well drained soils that contain abundant organic matter and a continuous supply of available calcium. They may number millions per acre.

Earthworms indicate soil fertility but don't cause it.

Cactus Jack's Indians Thrive On Adversity

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — If adversity breeds success as the old adage claims, then the United Press International's Couch of the Week should never lose a game this year.

His name is Jack Curtice and his Stanford Indian grid squad has scored stunning upsets over Tulane and Oregon State in their first two games of 1961.

Cactus Jack, who watched his team lose all 10 starts last year, is beaming broadly these days. His latest triumph was a 34-0 rout over an Oregon State club that was favored by two touchdowns.

Curtice has been around the coaching game for well over a quarter of a century — always with success until he came to Stanford. There the high entrance exams and the scholastic requirements have been throwing him for a loss.

"But I never lost faith during the losing streak," he says. "These were wonderful boys. Now I have a team that averages about 19 yards to the man. And I love every one of them."

Has he done anything differently than he did when the club couldn't win for losing?

"Well, none of these boys has broken legs, to start with," he cracked. "But honestly, I have done something different."

"I used to have certain assistants who were specialists on defense, others who worked only on offense."

"But now every man on my staff works full time on both offense and defense. It's harder work and longer hours for them. But on the other hand it also prepares them for head coaching jobs."

"We used to have the offensive coaches complain that the defensive team didn't do its part, or vice versa. But no more. Every one of my coaches now must know every play on defense and every play the quarterback calls on the offense."

Members of the beverage industry of Lubbock County surpassed their goal in contributing to the Lubbock United Fund, Inc., last Friday. Exceeding the campaign quota by $60.00, members of the Lubbock County Beverage Association and the Lubbock County Beer Distributors presented County Judge Bill Davis with $3,960 in contributions. Shown making the presentation to Judge Davis is M. B. Tudor of Slaton, president of the Lubbock County Beverage Association, made up of retailers. Also pictured is Bob Melcher, second from right, president of the Lubbock County Beer Distributors, and Hubert Olson, left, director of the Lubbock County Beverage Association.

Have you asked your neighbor lately he thinks the Administration's doing? The chances are that he—like millions of loyal Americans—will talk about what the government is doing about the foreign situation.

Well, we don't like the frigid war any more the next fellow. But the sad fact is that while moaning about Moscow, the administration hammering together a 10-program domestic fare-state plan that would annihilate our American liberties.

Each of these programs includes a increase centralism—the central government control of the vital elements of our economy. Here's what the 10 programs would do:

1. Control factory location.
2. Control local intrastate business.
3. Control local systems.
4. Control production and distribution of power.
5. Control city development.
6. Control the employment market.
7. Control hospital and ultimately medicine.
8. Control the market place.

Do Residents In Slaton Live Under Free Enterprise?

Since the use of electricity became a scientific possibility a battle has been going on. In essence, the issue is whether government or private enterprise should own this country's power.

Battle has been fought on the local, state and federal level. In late years, however, the emphasis has been on plans and proposals to put the federal government into the electric power business on an ever-expanding scale and the tempo of the controversy has been accelerated.

Appearance of the new revolutionary source of electricity, atomic power, indeed, one of the bitterest controversies in this year's session of Congress concerned a proposal for a huge federal atomic power project at the Hanford, Washington, plutonium plant.

Argument pursued by the advocates of government, centralized, power is that only government has the resources needed to meet this country's soaring power demands--and that, to keep us ahead of the Soviet Union's economic advance, in which increased power production is a major goal. This argument was met and contradicted head-on by industry spokesmen at a just-held Conference on 1970 Transmission Plans which met in New York City.

Supplied facts and forecasts which compellingly indicate the industry is capable of meeting any need, that it is looking far into the future, and that our power needs will remain secure.

One of the speakers was Philip A. Fieger, who is president of the Edison Electric Institute and the Duquesne Light Company. He began with a brief historical review, in which he pointed out that since World War I, use of electricity in this country has been growing at the average rate of 8.6 per cent a year, which is about 2-1/2 times the rate of growth

The Sounding Board

First, a few comments on castor oil and the government, which seem a likely pair of subjects to combine, from Marvin Tomme's column, "Snapped Shots" in the Ralls Banner:

The government puts out thousands of press releases, but one catching my eye announced plans to sell some 155,676,000 pounds of surplus castor oil. The mention of the word alone is enough to chill the hardest of men. I, and I'm sure a lot of you, can't even read the word without gagging just a little. As far as I'm concerned there has always been too much castor oil in the world. The government has been buying and stockpiling the oil for defense use, and it is used in production of lubricants for jets, and making certain types of nylon. Of course, children of today don't have the slightest idea what castor oil is used for other than maybe something like this. But I can remember when castor oil was given for medicine, for punishment, and sometimes I even thought for the enjoyment of adults. It has ruined the taste of more things for me than anything I know. I can still taste it when I drink orange juice, eat sugar or syrup. It was given in all of these and many more. I can remember being told, "If it makes you sick to take it, you need it." I have never thought the Medical Association would endorse a prescription such as that. Today's children have nothing more severe to endure than a shot of penicillin for their aches and pains. And to think the little beggars have the nerve to complain about that! You know, I wonder if those were the good old days?

Sudden thought: You might as well fall flat on your face as lean too far backward.

Autumn, crisp weather, football and new television programs have returned once again. I finally took time to look at the idiot box for a few minutes to view the new (?) discoveries, programs and plots. I have news for you people. The faces may be different but the plots are the same ones you saw last year. The Indian's warpaint may be in color this year and it may be on Sunday night instead of Thursday, but it's the same Calvary and the same old, worn out wagons that keep breaking down. Private detectives are chasing different criminals for the same old crimes, just in later model cars and in different places. Have fun, kiddies.

You can't always judge a man by the company he keeps. It might be his wife's folks.

I realize the threat of Communism to the United States is great, I realize the threat to our very existence is great, but I also know that as long as the American people can maintain their sense of humor there is more than just a slim chance we will remain at the top of the world supremacy. American people can still sit around coffee shops, or wherever they may gather, and they can joke with each other, about each other and discuss their own embarrassing moments and laugh at them. It is well known that our past presidents have had a way of getting from under the pressures of their problems. Lincoln, Roosevelt and Eisenhower were witty, liked practical jokes and funny stories. Kennedy is the same. The average man on the street is no different. He can be joking, yet immediately turn to the serious side of local or national problems, and as was found in WWII, can stand up to the opposition of his rights and freedoms. So, if the coffee drinkers seem to be doing nothing but having a good time, fine. They like it and they will do whatever is in their power to keep that right to these sessions and their sense of humor. Be concerned, but don't worry yourself to death, the American people love their freedom, they joke about it and they will defend it when the time comes.

And then from "News and Views, and what have you," by Bob Craig:

Accident statistics are just so many cold figures on paper, meaningful only if they relate closely to you and to your loved ones. Few people, to be sure, will be overly concerned that accidents last year claimed 93,000 lives and disabled 100 times that number. Or that 4,000,000 in-home accidents in 1960 resulted in 27,500 deaths.

But put accident figures on a more personal basis and suddenly they acquire new meaning:

Are you between one and thirty-six years of age? Accidents were the leading cause of death in this age group last year. Among males, the figures extend to thirty-seven years.

Did you have a fall last year? You're lucky to be reading this. More than two-fifths of accidental deaths in 1960 were caused by falls at home. Only motor vehicle fatalities outranked deaths from falls.

Is there a youngster in your household between the ages of five and fourteen? Last year in-home accidents killed 6,800 children in this age group, an increase of four per cent over 1959, the National Safety Council reports.

For any responsible adult parent, these figures provide much food for sober thought. Home accidents are on the rise, resulting in a terrible waste of human life and a fantastic number of disabling injuries. Why? What can you or anyone do to halt this alarming trend?

For the twelfth consecutive year, a national Emergency Don't Wait Week has been proclaimed. This year it is October 8-15. Sponsored by Johnson & Johnson and the nation's pharmacists with the cooperation of the Boy Scouts, the Red Cross and other service organizations, the purpose of EDWW is to alert American families to the accident hazards that exist in and around the home, and to educate them in the proper safety measures to take to "accident-proof" their homes.

We know--from statistics--that carelessness is the major cause of home accidents. A little forethought can prevent untold injuries, save many lives. And making your home a safer place is no great undertaking.

It means marking all medicines and poisons clearly and putting them out of children's reach; keeping toys out of driveways and off stairs and doorways; covering electrical outlets with tape if there are crawling tots at home; turning handles of utensils inward toward the stove, so prying hands can't get at them; protecting floors with non-skid wax and using only sturdy ladders and stepstools for climbing and reaching chores; keeping the medicine chest well-stocked at all times with first aid basics and having a reputable first aid manual handy.

Emergencies do happen... but emergencies don't wait. Today--right now--take the few simple measures to safeguard your home and your family. Don't become this year's vital statistics.

IS THERE A FAITH ?

Is there a faith for these days? Is there a vital communion with God? May I have a conviction of life eternal? The word of God alone has the final answer to these questions. Perhaps we can find help in Psalms chapter 16. Adversity cuts some people's faith to the ground. Not so the Psalmist. His confession of faith is given in the midst of a growing apostasy. In verse four he laments that some are choosing another God. He confesses that he utterly abandons himself to God and His keeping. In these days we need such a confession, such a faith, such courage. If the Psalmist had such an experience, so can we.

The Psalmist had a vital communion with God which encourages us to have a like experience. He points out that God is the portion of his inheritance. This figure is drawn from the apportionment of land in Canaan among the twelve tribes, but the Levites had no land. They had God as their portion. While this did not absolve the other tribes from putting God first, it did set the Levites apart. Someone has said, "Whatever else a man has, if he has not Jehovah for his portion, some part of himself will stand stiffly out, dissenting and unsatisfied, and hinder him from saying 'My inheritance is fair to me.'" His communion with God brings him counsel. His communion with God causes him to place the Lord always before him. True love always has an intense desire for the presence of its object. Since God is present at my right hand, then I am at his left, as the Psalmist points out. Thus God is close to my working hand and gives me strength. Let us determine to have a vital experience of communion with God in these days.

In verses 9-11 the Psalmist tells about his conviction of immortality. While this scripture is a prophecy of Christ, it also points out that if we have had communion with God here in this life, surely there is a life forever near to God. "Thou wilt reveal the path to life, to the full joy of thy presence, to the bliss of being close to thee for ever."

Santa Fe Crop Report

Texas: Likely the biggest news in Texas agriculture during September was hurricane Carla which hit the Texas Coastal area on September 10, causing hundreds of millions of dollars damage and among other things destroying or severely damaging over half of the Texas and Louisiana rice crop, and an estimated 65 thousand bales of cotton. On the other hand, the rains which accompanied this storm benefited winter wheat, and other fall planted crops. In most cases sorghums and corn had already been harvested prior to the heavy rains which accompanied the more severe portion of the storm, but nearly two-thirds of the cotton in affected areas was still in the field. Picking of cotton and combining of sorghums is underway in the earlier fields on the High Plains with excellent yields in prospect. Picking of cantaloupes is nearing completion in High Plains counties and digging of carrots continues, with supplies expected to be available through December. Cutting of the High Plains lettuce crop is expected to get underway late in September and continue until early November. Digging of about 2,000 acres of sugar beets is scheduled to start soon, with good yields in prospect.

New Mexico: With soil moisture conditions generally favorable, the New Mexico 1962 winter wheat crop is nearly all planted and up to a good stand. Picking of cotton continues with generally good yields, except where crops were damaged by hail or heavy rains. Record per acre yields of grain sorghums are indicated this year, although acreage was reduced last spring due to the participation in the Feed Grain Program. Digging of potatoes got underway late in

Proper Ration Essential In Calf Feeding

Drylot feeding of calves weighing from 250 to 400 pounds requires a much better understanding of feeding principles than does the feeding of heavier ones. It takes a better ration to achieve the desired results in the lighter animals because they do not have their mother's milk to balance their diet.

In the first place, their stomachs will not hold as much as those of heavier calves so the small amount of feed they do consume must contain enough nutrients to satisfy their needs, explains U. D. Thompson, extension animal husbandman. Due to their small size, they have a small storage capacity for even those nutrients which they can hold in reserve in their bodies.

As an example of this storage capacity, consider vitamin A. If cattle have an adequate supply of this vitamin, they store the excess in their body fat and livers. As long as they have access to green grazing they get their vitamin A. When no green grazing is available, they use their stored supply to satisfy their needs. Here is where a calf's needs are taken care of by milk. When this calf is weaned and placed on drylot, he must be supplied these nutrients in his ration. In 250-400 pound calves vitamin A deficiency can develop within 45 to 60 days unless the ration takes care of his needs.

Either leafy green alfalfa hay, alfalfa leaf meal or pellets are good sources of vitamin A, says Thompson. Calves nearly always do better on rations which contain alfalfa than on those which do not, he continues. Also, commercial synthetic vitamin A preparations are now available for mixing in rations. These may be used if good alfalfa is unavailable or expensive.

Calves do not have the ability to utilize large quantities of roughage. Their digestive system requires feeds high in food values. Shelled corn, sorghum grain, oats, barley and high protein feeds like cottonseed meal are full of some of the nutrients required by calves. A small amount of roughage is essential, but their diet should consist mainly of these high protein feeds. A 300 pound calf on drylot, when on full feed, will need about 6 pounds of concentrates and 3 pounds of roughage daily, says Thompson.

For more detailed information on feeding young calves, contact your local county agent and ask for a copy of "Vitamins For Beef Cattle" and "Rations for Fattening Cattle."

Price Advances In Lubbock Market

Weekly Cotton Market Review

The hurricane completely stopped cotton harvesting. Crop losses will be heavy. Spot cotton prices continued to edge upward. Domestic mill buying was small in volume. Foreign interest slackened.

Prices for Middling 1" cotton advanced in Houston and Lubbock markets but held steady at Dallas and Galveston. Some of the discounts narrowed in the Dallas market. Harvest was brought to a complete standstill by the hurricane that passed through the area this week. Trading in the spot market was beginning to pick up before harvest was interrupted. Producers continued to offer cotton on hand fairly freely when prices were well above loan levels. Buyer interest was strongest for the lower White and Light Spotted grades in staples shorter than 1" and most of these qualities entered trade channels. Reports indicated that in some country markets a good percent of the cotton in the hands of the producers moved this week on a hog round basis, consisting mostly of the qualities in best demand. Physical price cotton was quoted from 32.50 to 32.75 cents. Some of the Middling and higher grades were entering the loan. Producers were holding a fair volume for this time of the ginnings. Short interests were the most active buyers. Buying for stock was small in volume for this time of the season. Through September 5 to Commodity Credit Corporation had received 75,268 bales of the Texas crop into the loan. Repayments to the same date totaled 10,198 bales.

Inquiries from domestic mills were not numerous. Some mills, however, were expressing more interest than in past week. Prices continued to limit purchases, consisting mostly of medium White and higher Light Spotted grades for later delivery.

Foreign interest remained about unchanged from last week. Inquiries were not numerous and some sources reported a slight slackening. The demand remained best for the medium grades and shorter staples. Foreign purchases this week were barely moderate in volume.

Cotton harvesting was making good progress until the hurricane moved into Texas during the past weekend. Producers rushed field operations to get as much of the open cotton harvested before the storm moved inland as many machines worked day and night. It is too early to estimate the extent of the damage but losses run high in the Upper Coastal region and in southern Texas. Rains up to 12 inches were reported in many places causing some flooding of lands. Fields began to dry as skies cleared Wednesday and limited field operations were begun in the Abilene Thursday. Several gins in path of the hurricane were destroyed and many were damaged. Reports indicated the compress received no damage from sea waves since some cotton was wet by rains.

Weights And Measures Announced

A New York statistician recently estimated that inaccurate grocery scales are costing citizens of that city more than $4,000 per day.

Grocery scales alone! Not to mention gasoline pumps, drug-gest measures, large commercial scales and the many other weighing and measuring devices on which our daily trade depends.

Who loses when scales are inaccurate? It may be the seller or the buyer, depending upon the maladjusted scale. But somebody loses. And it amounts into the millions each year throughout the United States.

The Texas Department of Agriculture is charged with the responsibility of keeping many of our weights and measures devices accurate. The round tag on gasoline pumps across the state means a department inspector has been there to make sure you get a full gallon of gas on each purchase--no more, no less. The grocery scale at the supermarket checking counter, the meat scale in the rear where prepackaged meats are made up, the truck scales where agricultural and other transit products are weighed--all these are regularly checked by the department field men.

The expense of such a program can be enormous, considering the scope of activity in a state the size of Texas. Money to maintain the inspection program is always at a premium.

This year, the Texas Legislature has levied a fee system in order to make the program more nearly self-supporting.

Does Brucellosis Control Affect Moving ?

After cattle are purchased and before removal from livestock markets, it shall be the joint responsibility of the purchaser and the livestock market operator to have all cattle, subject to brucellosis tests or vaccinations, tested or vaccinated.

1. All cattle - except steers, spayed heifers, calves under 8 months of age and official brucellosis vaccinates under 30 months of age - leaving this market to premises in any county in which Type II Brucellosis Work is being conducted or has been completed, will have to comply with the following:

Cattle originating in a Modified Certified Brucellosis County or Certified Brucellosis Free Herds and accompanied by a health certificate, when kept separate and apart from other cattle in clean pens used for that purpose ONLY, can move without further tests.

Cattle from other than Modified Certified Counties accompanied by official health certificate showing negative to brucellosis test within 30 days, kept separate and apart from other cattle in clean pens used for that purpose ONLY, can be moved directly to owners premises, under quarantine, retested in not less than 30 nor more than 60 days, and, if negative, released.

Cattle that don't comply must be negative to a brucellosis test before leaving the livestock market. They can then be moved to owners premises, under quarantine, retested at his expense in not less than 30 nor more than 60 days, and, if negative, released.

2. In the event laboratory facilities are not available in the town where the livestock market is located, the livestock market will be required to furnish space and install necessary brucellosis testing equipment required under regulations of the Texas Animal Health Commission.

3. The veterinarian, before conducting and certifying to results of brucellosis tests at the livestock market, shall be specifically approved to conduct such tests.

We don't want "yes men" around here. Everybody agree?

Address By Knights Of Columbus To Be Broadcast

Tony Steffens, Grand Knight of Slaton Council No. 2571, Knights of Columbus, has announced that a Columbus Day address by Supreme Knight Luke E. Hart, head of the million-member fraternal benefit society of Catholic men, will be broadcast from 12:30 to 12:45 October 12, over station KUKO.

Mr. Hart, who has been a member of the Supreme Board of Directors of the organization since 1918 and has held the office of Supreme Knight since 1953, initiated many of the society's major projects.

He was a leading figure in the inauguration, in 1948, of a program, still in operation, by which advertisements of Catholic doctrine and practise are placed in newspapers and periodicals of large general circulation. He was the prime mover, too, in the project which has resulted in the microfilming of 11 million pages of priceless Vatican Library manuscripts. The film library is now located at St. Louis University and is available to all scholars. It was also under his leadership that the Knights of Columbus erected the Campanile, known as the KNIGHTS' TOWER, at the National Shrine of the Immaculate Conception in Washington, D.C.

The theme of Mr. Hart's Columbus Day address is "The Spirit of Christopher Columbus--1961." It will be heard over radio stations in all the countries where the Knights have councils -- the United States, Canada, Mexico, Puerto Rico, and the Philippines.

Motorists May Now Get Stickers For Next Year

Motorists can now have their vehicles safety inspected for the 1962 Inspection Sticker.

Captain Alan Johnson of the Motor Vehicle Inspection Service, Texas Department of Public Safety, said today that over 5,000 inspection stations have started inspecting more than 4 1/2 million vehicles coming under the provisions of the Motor Vehicle Inspection Act. All such vehicles must display the new safety sticker by April 16, 1962.

Johnson said, "We feel that the vehicle inspection program in Texas has proved a deterrent to vehicle accidents on our streets and highways." He urged all motorists to get their vehicles inspected before the bad weather of winter begins, when it is so essential to have vehicles in safe operating condition.

"It takes just a few minutes to have a vehicle safety checked," Johnson stated, "yet those few minutes this spent today could mean the saving of someone's life tomorrow."

Johnson noted that the percent of accidents in which vehicle defects were causative factors has been cut approximately in half since the program was started in Texas.

THE SLATON SLATONITE

THE Peripatetic VIEW

By G.C.C.

Last week I ran across an interesting and baffling item. While reading a nationally syndicated advice-to-the-lovelorn column, I noted a line on the bottom which read: -- Order your book today entitled, "Your Marriage, Love or Sex?" Not I realize I'm only a country editor, with little formal education on such matters, but this title made me feel a little uncomfortable. Even embarrassed me somewhat because I found it almost impossible to understand how a choice existed.

Seems to me kinda like a man trying to walk forwards and backwards at the same time.

For instance when I went home the other day my wife had tended to our two young children all day to the exclusion of herself. I found her in the bathroom ringing out diapers with her hair stringing and first off she lambasted me about the abominable ring I left in the bathtub the night before which she hadn't had time to sand paper off yet. Now looking at this sight and getting reprimanded audaciously, I still managed a note of tenderness in my voice while I leaned over to kiss her on the cheek. Now, brother, this is what I call bringing forth the love in your soul.

But then a few hours later when the children are in bed asleep and she's clean and fresh and smelling with all manner of allurements and dressed in a soft little flimsy blue affair then that's something different. I wouldn't want to categorize the feeling too close but it sure wasn't the same way I felt a little earlier.

Of course this is not a one-sided matter. Last Saturday afternoon when Arkansas was about half way through with getting bombed by Mississippi there I was all piled up watching the TV set. When wife reminded me of the chores I had promised I was something less gracious than a perfect gentleman. And she let me finish watching the thing. I think for the most part she's pretty happy with me, but I doubt if any psychiatrist could have found much of a sex motive about the third quarter of that game.

In fact maybe our marriage is like the ranch woman who cooked for her husband, three boys and four ranch hands all her life. One day a persons said they didn't know how she kept from having a nervous break-down and she replied: "Well, I've thought about it but every time I get ready to have a break-down it's time to fix another meal."

So long as we don't know whether our marriage is this or that, then it hasn't hurt too much. If we ever find out then my wife might really get mad.

But for right now anyhow, there's just too much more to worry about.

Dog Show To Be Held In Coliseum On October 5th

The 13th All-Breed Dog Show and the ninth Obedience Trials sponsored by the Heart of the Plains Kennel Club will be held Oct. 5 in the Municipal Coliseum on Texas Tech Campus. Show hours are from 8 a.m. until 10 p.m. Four hundred dogs are expected to be entered for the event.

Judges and their assignments are: Edward D. McQuown, Xenia, Ohio, all sporting breeds, all hound breeds, all toy breeds, miscellaneous classes, and variety groups 1, 2, and 5; Haskell Schuffman, New Castle, Ind., all working breeds, all terrier breeds, all non-sporting breeds, variety groups 3, 4, and 6, and Best Dog in Show.

Harvey B. Richards, Houston, will judge all obedience trial classes including Novice A and B, Open A and B, and Utility. Richards, a Houston attorney, was the trainer of the Lubbock K-9 Corps. He conducts a private obedience school as a hobby. He has judged at a number of obedience trials throughout the United States and also trained the Houston K-9 Corps. McQuown has judged at most of the shows in the United States and Canada and like Richards has trained German Shepherds for police and guard work. He also breeds standard-bred horses and in 1943 won three heats of the Ohio Pacing Derby establishing a new record that still stands. McQuown retired from Bell Telephone Co. in 1954 after being with the company for 47 years. His present hobbies are farming, purebred dog judging and writing for dog publications.

Schuffman has had judging assignments at shows from coast to coast, Canada, Brazil and Uruguay. He judged at Westminster in 1956, 1957, 1958, 1959 and 1961. He has been in the sport of dogs for 30 years, many of them spent as a professional handler. Schuffman's regular business is retail furniture and his hobbies include pure bred dogs, photography and target pistol shooting.

A demonstration of the Lubbock K-9 Corps will be given prior to the group and final judging of best dog in show. The demonstration of the four highly trained German Shepherds will include various routine commands, climbing walls, obedience trials and attacking a heavily padded man at signals from the officers. Richards will direct this part of the show. Officers and their dogs that will participate are Patrolmen Robert Weed, Ray Carter, Raymond Long, Don Addington and Sgt. A. R. Mason. The K-9 Corps has been on duty in Lubbock since the dogs graduated from obedience training on July 8.

Prizes for the show will include: Best in Show, a 30-inch trophy presented by Kay Finch and Ch. Crown Crest Mr. Universe; Sporting Group, trophy offered by Henry Bolton; Hound Group, trophy offered by Mr. and Mrs. Joe King; Terrier Group, trophy offered by Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Clements; Toy Group, trophy offered by Mr. and Mrs. Kirven Griffin; Non-Sporting Group, trophy offered by Mr. and Mrs. Nig Clark; Working Group, trophy offered by Garden & Pet Center. Numerous other trophies will be presented for breed prizes.

Obedience Prizes will be: Highest Scoring Dog in Trial, trophy offered by Furrs Super Markets; Novice A, trophy offered by Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Coon; Novice B, trophy offered by Miss Pat Cowart; Open A, trophy offered by Mr. and Mrs. Luther Edmonson; Open B, trophy offered by a friend; Utility, trophy offered by Mr. and Mrs. Nig Clark; Highest Scoring Local Dog, trophy offered by Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Albanus. The Lubbock German Shepherd Dog Club will present a trophy for the highest qualifying scoring German Shepherd in the Obedience trial.

A licensed handler will be selected to judge Junior Showmanship Competition. These classes will be in three groups, Novice A for boys and girls age 8 and under 12 years; Novice B for boys and girls age 12 and under 16 years; and Open for all boys and girls who have won at least one first prize in Children's Handling Classes. All dogs entered and shown in Junior showmanship must be entered in one of the regular breed classes. Quality of the dog is not considered in this event and judging is based solely on the ability of the child to handle and show the dog.

A hospitality hour from 7 p.m. to 8 p.m. followed by a buffet dinner at 8 p.m. will be given on Wednesday, Oct. 4 in the Pioneer Hotel Coachman Room honoring the judges and superintendent. Reservations must be made to the club secretary, Mrs. Pat Hastings, 3029 57th St.

our City Government
by J. J. Maxey, City Secretary

early days of our city there was no central place to business and in 1921 there was considerable going the city putting in a new water and sewer system, jail, laying sidewalks and passing ordinances right there was no auditorium large enough to accommodate gatherings nor was there any central building to look like a city. Along with all of their other duties commission, composed of mayor R. J. Murray, members J. S. Edwards, Sr., Dr. Paul Owens, H. C. W. E. Olive, had to provide an adequate city hall. In 1922 a bond issue of $25,000.00 for the construction of a city hall was passed by a majority vote of the city after these bonds were voted and sold the city was asked for construction bids. The low bid of $20,000.00 was accepted for the construction of the city hall. Total bids of $1,615,888 were accepted for the wiring, plumbing and heating. Construction was completed in August of 1922 and completed several years later. When this building was completed it did indeed look like a city. It was adequate for the city of Slaton. In fact it was complete with stage, dressing rooms for putting on shows and plays of all kinds. The auditorium was used for many public occasions until a school was built in 1924. This building had even a auditorium and was more modern in every way than the high school with its auditorium eliminated. The city hall for all large public gatherings with the exception of golden glove boxing and fun nights. Many remember that Slaton had many good boxers at that time and in the late thirties. Fellows like Loyd Bates boys and many others that carried Slaton's honor.

Plans for the construction of the city hall were voted in 1921 and to bear six per cent interest. On 1962 the last payment of $1,000,000 principal and interest and bank charges will be made. When this has been paid the Citizens of Slaton will have paid back the $25,000.00 plus some $35,250.00 in interest making a total of $60,250.00 plus maintenance and insurance for the building for forty years.

The cost spread over forty years the cost has been high. In my opinion the city commission in 1921 did in that they provided a building that suited the city at that time.

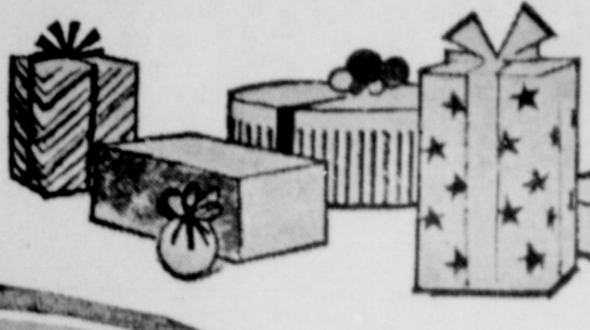

When I said that this is a profile of a landmark. The city hall building that stands in the middle of Slaton has many memories for the people of our community the proud progressiveness of the early and middle years. It saw the crash of the late twenties and early thirties and the stagnation of the late thirties and the slow progress of the early forties. It has been witness to the steady progress of our city during the late forties and the fifties and what the sixties will bring no one can say.

It is a mistake to think of our city hall as an abandoned court house. You wish to take it will still defend those who wish to build to fill a need that the community had at that time.

Record 2-1-1

Kelly Bownds, Slaton's hard-driving fullback, was named this week as the "Player of the Week," following Friday night's game with Crosbyton.

Bownds furnished a major portion of the Tigers' offense, and was also cited as being outstanding defensively.

Receiving a shoulder injury early in the season, Bownds has still seen nearly 100% action in all of Slaton's games, and has been a stand-out principally on power plays.

Statistically, Bownds has carried the ball 36 times, gaining 152 yards for a per-carry average of 4.16 yards. His single passing attempt for the year netted a completion for 34 yards.

Barring any recurrence of injury, Bownds should rank as one of the leading ground gaining fullbacks in the district this year.

CALLED THE ARMY'S TORTURE CHAMBERS, the three automotive test areas at Aberdeen Proving Grounds, Md, evaluate everything that moves on tracks or wheels for the Army, and often for its sister services. The unique Ordnance Corps activity has only one goal—to insure that the combat equipment of the American soldier is the best in the world.

Above, the amphibious capabilities of a new aluminum armored personnel carrier are tested in the "bathtub" of the Aberdeen Proving Ground.

Left, a medium tank scales a 40-inch wall on another test course at the home of Army Ordnance Corps.

Notes From Slaton's

Dallas, Texas and the State Fair of Texas will be the destination of four members of the Slaton Chapter of Future Farmers of America.

Jim Lowry, Larry Delaney, Walter Fersch, and Alan Reasoner will be the Future Farmers attending the Pan-American Expedition.

Four duroc barrows will be shown by the boys at the Fair. This will be the first occurrence of any members of the Slaton Chapter showing at the Dallas Expedition.

Don Tankersley and Berhl Robertson, F.F.A. Instructors, were accompanied by Jim Lowry, John Mangum, Bobby Harlan, Keith White, Ponnie Henry, Jody Rhoads, Ray Rushing, Jackie Cooper, and Wade Carter to the District FFA meeting at Ralls, Texas, September 20.

The meeting was held to elect officers for the District level. After the meeting the teachers had a meeting on Civil Defense.

The educational exhibit built at the Fair by the Slaton Chapter placed ninth.

It's Great to Be NEEDED

IN a community like this of ours, you don't have to be a genius, or the right man's son-in-law, to be useful and respected. Here there is room and opportunity for the fulfillment of man's true destiny—service to his fellowman—in contrast to the case in great population centers, where it is the role of many of modestly endowed folks to live out their lives in obscurity.

★ Here there is more satisfaction in living, a broader opportunity for the development of latent genius in leadership. Consequently, from smaller communities like ours have come virtually all of our country's great men.
