Ruby Milton was honored with a Coffee in the home of Helen Witt. Ruby is about to move to Houston after spending most of her life in Groom.

Lucille Case, Max and Helen Wade bid Ruby a bittersweet farewell as they reminisce of days goneby.

Barney Davis and Irma Blackwell enjoy some delicious refreshments and some great conversation at the Coffee.

Tigers End Season With Disappointing Loss

The 1994 Groom basketball season is now over with a disappointing loss to Nazareth. The Swifts pounded Groom's every lead, winning with a final score of 80-59.

Coach Jay Lamb was however very proud of the boys effort. "They are a tough group of athletes. We did our best...But it just wasn't to be this year."

For seniors Wes Hall and Bronte Britten, there won't be a next year but they can hold their heads up high knowing they came a long way.

District, County Elections Heat Up

County and District elections are heating up as three candidates are vying for the Carson County Treasurer's position, and two candidates are battling it out over the District Attorney's job.

Linda Orr, Jeannie Cunningham, and Lee Tice all of Panhandle have been working hard to gain votes.

Orr, who currently works in the County Attorney's office is employed as a legal secretary. She also served as Municipal Judge for the City of Panhandle from 1981-1990. She cites a working knowledge of county policies and procedures as well as more than 30 years business experience as her qualification.

Jeannie Cunningham is also familiar with county government, working for the county for the last eight years, two of those being the County Judge's secretary.

Lee Tice works in the Carson County Sheriff's office. She stated that her primary concern would be to perform the duties of Treasurer in a manner that would benefit the residents of Carson County. Tice has a background in accounting and practical experience that would enable her to fulfill her duties if elected treasurer.

James Shelton, of Clarendon, is running for the 100th Judicial District Attorney. He was appointed by the governor after David McCoy, then D.A., was appointed to the District Judge's slot due to longtime Judge John T. Forbis' retirement.

Shelton has lived in the area most of his life and has a part time private practice in Clarendon. Having a vested interest in making the 100th district a safe place to live he believes that fair, effective and judicial prosecution of criminals

Groom Youth Houston Bound

Several Groom FFA and 4-H youth are in Houston this week for the Cadillac of all stock shows, the Houston Livestock Show & Rodeo. This event will culminate a year's work for most of these exhibitors.

Chy Phillips and Melody Burton are participating in their final year as Seniors.

"I love the thrill of the competition and the camaraderie between all the people," said Chy Phillips. "I would advise any kid that loves animals to get involved. It teaches responsibility. An animal has no one to depend on but you."

"A lot of people say that you can't make money in this, and that may be true,"

he added, "but then you don't make money at basketball or football but the lessons you learn from those activities have a value greater than money. It's the same with livestock shows. We are part of a team. If someone doesn't pull their weight we all suffer."

Melody has had a unique year. Last spring she had the good fortune to be entered in the Houston Calf Scramble and was successful in catching one.

"There has been a lot of paper work involved," she said. "Monthly reports, two themes and a scrapbook took up a lot of time. Plus our stall had to have a

AS 100TH JUDICIAL DISTRICT ATTORNEY

REASONS TO SUPPORT OUR CURRENT DISTRICT ATTORNEY:

- In September of 1993, our Governor carefully considered several applicants (including Randall Sims) for appointment as our District Attorney. She chose the best and most qualified of those applicants. She chose JIM SHELTON!
- Jim has over 9 years experience handling cases in the District Court of every county in the 100th Judicial District
- Jim was born and raised in Childress
- Jim has continuously maintained his residence in our district since returning here in 1984
- Jim is competent, qualified and experienced in prosecution
- Jim has already developed an excellent working relationship with the law enforcement officials of our district
- Jim is above reproach in his honesty, morality and integrity
- Jim is highly respected by the other attorneys in our District (currently holding the office of President of the 100th Judicial District Bar Association)
- Jim is highly respected by attorneys outside our district (having served on the District 13 Grievance Committee)

Jim and Cindy Shelton with children, Taylor (9), Lindsey (11) and Lauren (1 1/2)

"When I was appointed as your District Attorney, I began the job with a thorough knowledge of the law, over 9 years of courtroom experience in the 100th Judicial District, a steadfast belief in God, pride in my family name, and my integrity. It is unfortunate that political advertisements are often misleading and too often do not reveal the whole truth. In these last days leading up to the March 8th primary, I would urge you to talk to your local law enforcement and court officials to see who they would rather have prosecuting criminals in your county. There is no job worth compromising my integrity, family name, or values, I would appreciate your vote for continued effective prosecution in the 100th Judicial District."

Grants Available For Housing

Government at all levels recognizes that neighborhoods are the basis of life in our country. When a neighborhood deteriorates, many things happen both physically and socially. When the homes look shabby, a neighborhood seems more attractive to crime and criminals. An area in decline is like a spreading cancer. As homes become shabby looking and in need of maintenance, the residents lose their desire to keep up the neighborhood. Streets become receptacles for trash, schools lower their standards and very quickly the selling price of homes in the area drops sharply. This accelerates the cycle of degeneration.

In order to keep and maintain the nation's housing and neighborhoods, government at all levels have programs to give homeowners money (that does not have to be repaid) for repairs or to lend them money at below market levels or at no interest. In many areas utility companies will either do energy conservation work free or at low cost and in other places will lend homeowners money at no interest to pay the contractor of their choice for the necessary work. In addition there are tax incentives to promote efficient energy use.

These programs are not restricted to low-income people, slum areas or urban neighborhoods. Owners of single or multi-family dwellings are eligible. While the grants do not have to be repaid, most of the loans offer low or no-interest, long terms and low payments.

Some of the other home improvements covered under these programs are: attic and wall insulation, new windows, outerwall siding, security doors, and locks, window guards, sidewalks and masonry work, bathrooms and kitchens, electrical and plumbing, new roofs, gutters, and downspouts.

Consumer Education Research Center, a national non-profit consumer group formed in 1969, has just published the 208 large-page, 1994 edition of Consumers Guide to Home Repair Grants and Subsidized Loans ($16.95 plus $3 p&h from CERC GRANTS, 350 Scotland Road, Orange, NJ 07050 or 800-872-0121) which lists over 7,000 sources of loan and grant programs offered by Federal, state and local government, utility companies and others; typical programs offered and the how to qualify. Form letters for inquiries to these loan and grant sources are included as well as detailed instructions on determining your debt-to-income ratio for eligibility.

Robert L. Berko, executive director of CERC, tell us, "Some programs have no income ceiling and others allow income of as much as $50,000 per year or more. There are even programs for which tenants are eligible and many allow loans to poor credit risks. In many areas, people with disabilities can receive grants to pay for needed repairs such as access ramps and widening of doorways."

Since it is important that the work be done properly, the book includes a section describing the rough cost of the cost of many jobs as well as advice on picking a contractor, negotiating a contract, and insuring that the work is done properly and for a fair price. And to help you communicate with your contractor, lawyer and lender, the book includes a dictionary of terms used by these professionals.

Carson Unit Makes Pace
"American Cancer Society volunteers in Carson unit have reached their goal in public education for PACE," said Peggy Dennis, unit President.

PACE, or Priority Activities in Cancer Education, is a plan that spells out a basic Society public education program for a particular size unit. PACE helps units make the best use of volunteer power and other resources for cancer education. By concentrating on PACE objectives, units can reach the people who need help most and deliver information effectively. The program focuses on themes where prevention or early detection and treatment saves the most lives.

In order to reach PACE status, community volunteers must reach 40 percent of the youth population and 10 percent of the adult population with American Cancer Society life-saving information. Messages about different types of cancer are delivered through educational programs in organizations, businesses, health service sites and other locations.

"This is a large undertaking, but one that volunteers in Carson feel is important and necessary to the health and welfare of our community," Peggy Dennis said.

KEEP JAMES SHELTON DISTRICT ATTORNEY

•My opponent tells you that he wants to be a full-time prosecutor, but:

1. In an interview published in the Amarillo Globe News on Thursday, December 9, 1993, he was quoted as follows:

"I'm going to prosecute first. If I have some spare time, I might look at possibly doing some private practice on the side."
2. He fails to tell you that a full-time prosecutor acting under the Professional Prosecutor's Act makes in excess of $85,000.00 a year.
3. The 100th Judicial District, like most rural districts, has never had a full-time prosecutor. The district has received excellent representation in the past with many fine District Attorneys, including David McCoy and John Forbis.
4. He has not held a job or worked a single day since January 1, 1994! Prior to then he worked regular hours as an assistant district attorney in Potter County.

•My opponent tells you that he is the most qualified candidate to be District Attorney for the 100th Judicial District, but:

1. He did not even live in this district prior to January 1, 1994. The law requires that a candidate must reside continuously in the district for six (6) months before the filing deadline of January 3, 1994.
2. He has never handled a case of any type in the courts of the 100th Judicial District.
3. After several months of interviews, background checks and reference checks, Governor Ann Richards appointed me, James Shelton, as District Attorney for the 100th Judicial District, even though my opponent was also a candidate for the office.

Spring Flowers Bloom At Square House Museum

"I paint flowers because they call my name," says Amarillo artist Adrienne Burruss. And they must call her loud and clear, because her exhibit at the Square House Museum in Panhandle is a riot of colors, textures, and media. The 28 paintings of flowers includes acrylics, pastels, and watercolors, with a gouache and a silkscreen for even more variety of presentation. Almost every painting is of a different flower, making for a striking "garden" growing in the Square House this spring.

Adrienne Burruss, a 40-year resident of Amarillo, started taking painting workshops "while in search of herself." These workshops were taught by some of the most notable artists in the area. After raising five children, she then enrolled in West Texas A&M University in pursuit of a degree in fine arts. Her paintings have been exhibited in area galleries, banks, shops, and restaurants; and Travelers Insurance gave her a one woman show in Dallas. She has won honors and ribbons in several juried shows, as well as receiving many honorable mentions.

Adrienne is awed by the beauty of the world and shares this with us through her art. Landscapes, still lives, and people become subjects of her paintings. Often the subject matter of her paintings are the flowers growing in her own cutting garden, the theme of this current exhibit.

"Spring Flowers" can be seen in the Opal Weatherly Purvines gallery in the Square House Annex from Saturday, March 1 through Sunday, May 1. The Museum opens at 8:30 a.m. Monday-Friday, 9:00 a.m. on Saturday, and 1:00 p.m. on Sunday; it closes at 5:30 p.m. every day. Admission is always free.

The public is invited to a reception for Adrienne Burruss in the gallery on Sunday, March 20 from 3:00-4:30.

MARK YOUR Calendar to attend the opening of the Second Annual Youth Art Month Show on Sunday, March 6 from 3:00-5:00 pm. Meet talented artists from the junior and senior high schools of Panhandle, White Deer, Groom, and Claude. The show and reception are in M.K. Brown Auditorium of the Hazlewood Arts and Education Building. Refreshments will be provided by the PTAs of the participating schools. The show will be up through Friday, April 1 and can be seen on weekdays from 9:00-5:00 and on weekends from 1:00-5:00.

Randell Sims, of Wellington, is also seeking election for the District Attorney position. He has nine years of trial and prosecution experience in Potter and Armstrong County.

"If elected, it will be my pleasure to help protect the citizens of this district by aggressively prosecuting felony offenders and helping to educate our youth as to what is expected of them by society, so that they do not become offenders themselves.

If That Tree Could Talk...

If you have ever stood on Main Street on a hot, August morning to watch the Groom Day parade, you know where the only shade tree in town is ... right in front of the Groom News office. Max Wade, previous publisher of the paper, stops in every once in a while to visit. Last week he was telling us about the history of the tree.

"It came up volunteer..." He said, "right out of the concrete side walk. People kept running over it and breaking it off, until I finally put a post up in front of it." That was in 1954, 40 years ago. Max recalled how quickly it grew with just a little care and a drop or two of water. At one time Max had a bench chained to it. People would pull off of Old Route 66 (mostly "Okies" going to California or Californians going to Oklahoma, he commented) and have their picnic lunch in front of the News Office.

With all the thousands of dollars that many cities are spending to plant trees on their main streets, Groom is very lucky that Mother Nature (with a little help from Max Wade) already has it's Main Street "naturalized".

For many students the class is the first creative class they have had since elementary school. Mrs. Gable teaches two art classes as well as high school English.

theme that followed our scrap book. Our theme was based on Scotland because the Angus breed is Scottish. My stall is built like a castle."

In addition to the heifer, Melody will also show her steer that won Grand Champion at Carson County.

Chy Phillips, Matt Miller, Scott McLaughlin, Kori Brown, and Dara and C.J. Whatley will all show steers in the Junior Livestock Show. McLaughlin will also show his Carson County Grand Champion Heifer.

Dara and C.J. Whatley, Jason Prather, and Leo Britten are showing pigs and went to Brenham for the sift show before going on to Houston.

The United Methodist Church of Groom will sponsor the World Day of Prayer Service.

Women throughout the Groom area will gather at the United Methodist Church on Friday, March 4, 1994 in observance of the annual World Day of Prayer service, at 2:30 pm. This year's service, part of a global celebration observed by Christian communities throughout the world, has been prepared by Christian women in Palestine and explores the theme Go, See and Act.

The 1994 service, based on the story of Christ's passion and resurrection as told in the Gospels of Luke and Mark, focuses on the experiences of women living in the occupied territories of the West Bank and Gaza. The authors, Lutheran, Episcopalian, Catholic and Orthodox Christian women who identify themselves as Palestinians, share their personal stories while calling upon all people to work toward reconciliation and justice.

While acknowledging the inherent sensitivity of the political situation in the Middle East, participating World Day of Prayer communities see the service as an opportunity to engage in further study and dialogue while working toward a lasting peace.

Founded in 1887 by Mary Ellen James, World Day of Prayer calls upon participating communities to join in "informed prayer and prayerful action," confessing "individual and national sins with offerings that fitly express the contrition." Offerings received from World Day of Prayer participants in the United States help support Church Women United, the official sponsor of World Day of Prayer in the United States, in its national and international witness. Among the programs supported is CWU's Intercontinental Grant fund, which provides financial assistance to projects benefiting women and children worldwide.

New Raffle Laws In Effect

Raffles Without Hassles
Texas depends on more than 25,000 charities to provide needed funds for religious, educational, and public welfare projects. However, it was only recently that the Charitable Raffle Enabling Act legalized raffles. The law is intended to prevent fraudulent fund-raising activities while allowing legitimate charities to conduct raffles legally.

Who Can Hold a Raffle?

Only qualified organizations may hold raffles, including: Nonprofit organizations that have existed in Texas for at least three years, and are exempt from federal income tax; Religious organizations that have existed in Texas for at least 10 years; Volunteer emergency medical or fire departments.

How Many Raffles Can Be Held?

If your group is a qualified organization, it may hold two raffles per year, although only one at a time.

What Prizes May Be Offered?

Your organization may not offer money as a prize. It may offer a prize worth more than $25,000, but only if it has not paid anything to acquire the prize. For example, a car dealership may donate an automobile with a retail value of $30,000 for auction. But the organization may not buy the car for a discounted price, and then raffle it off.

Also, the organization must have each raffle prize in its possession, or it must post a bond for the full value of the prize with the local county clerk.

Key Points To Remember

What to Do?

The language of this law is very technical. If you are considering holding a raffle to benefit an organization, you should read the act or consult your attorney.

For more information about charitable raffles, please call our toll-free hot line at 800-621-0508.

Prohibitive Repair Cost Warrent Look At New Gym

The McLean School Board met in regular session on February 17. All members were present with the exception of John Holland, who was absent. Also attending were Steve Carter, Jacque Riley, Bonita Myers, John Griffin, and Monte Joiner.

Steve Carter and Monte Joiner held a discussion with the trustees about basketball concerns. No actions were taken.

Superintendent Lamb updated the board on the status of some of the school buildings. He reported that the gym floor has a problem that will be too costly to consider repair (estimated at $100,000). A discussion was held about the possibility of a new gym being constructed. Superintendent Lamb was instructed to obtain cost estimates from an architect to be presented during the March meeting for further discussion.

The board agreed to advertise for bids to repair hair line cracks on interior walls due to conversion of gas heat from steam heat. Outside structure repair report from the architect was presented by Lamb.

The board voted to call an election; one full term and one unexpired term. Trustees James Hefley and Thacker Haynes currently hold the seats in question.

Election officials will be: Judge Carl Dwyer; Clerks - Roger McCracken and Ted Longino. Absentee voting - Sue Simmons and Anna Miller.

In other business:

Lamb informed the board about upcoming training and seminar schedules.

John Griffin and Bonita Myers met with the trustees to discuss their areas of responsibility, asking for definite plans and what was expected of them during the interim while the board considers applicants for the position. The matter was tabled to executive session.

Lamb reported that he had been in contact with Dan Fish concerning overdue rent. No overdue rent has been paid.

Alanreed Community Improvement Association has requested use of the Alanreed gym for their Homecoming on June 12.

Textbooks and committees were approved.

Discussion was held concerning the possibility of using the band hall for some supervised recreation activities for high school students. No action was taken.

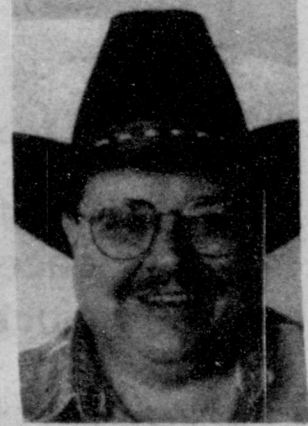

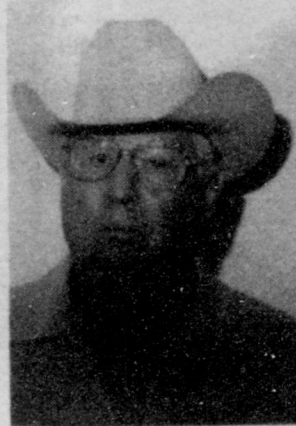

Concerning the sale of a school bus, the board agreed to go ahead with the sale if approval is granted by the State Purchasing and General Services Commission.

Justice Of The Peace Campaign To Be Decided In Saturday's Election

McLean's Justice of the Peace race will reach a fever pitch this week as four candidates will be vying for the office. With no

Democratic candidates, either Martha Jo Bailey, Jake Hess, Mary Ann Carpenter or Milton Best will emerge the winner and have a new job come January.

Equal fines, alternative fines, and the youth of the McLean/Alanreed area seem to be of major concern that most candidates talked about.

Being a former city council woman and working in the Gray County Tax Collection Department, Bailey feels her experience will be beneficial to the community service.

Milton Best agrees that civic service is a good way to teach, punishing teens who get into trouble. Best has visited with civic leaders and clergy in preparation for the position.

Another former City Council member, Jake Hess, sees no significant problem with McLean's youth. Cooperation between the school system, churches, and law enforcement will make a good impression. Hess is also a former school board member.

Juvenile offenders were also a main concern of Mary Ann Carpenter. She thinks she could help establish programs, possibly through the school system, that would teach juveniles how to be responsible. "They are not getting it at home," she stated. Some of it's bound to rub off somewhere."

Trew Travels Mother Road Through California & Arizona

By Delbert Trew
Recently we traveled to California to visit friends and relatives. Our plans were to travel Old Route 66 from Barstow back to Winslow, as this was part of the Mother Road we had never traveled before.

Much of the road was like here in Texas, disjointed and covered up, but in towns, it was still going strong. Barstow was almost original as many of the old buildings were still being used. The road twisted and turned, stopped and started, and was hard to follow.

Without the recently placed Route 66 signs, it would have been impossible to follow. Finally we were out of town and on our way to Needles. Again, off the Interstate, in downtown Needles, we turned and stopped many times, but did enjoy many original 66 sites. Crossing into Arizona, we entered Route 66 in Oatman. This is a neat old mining town that has been rejuvenated by many shops and stores. Burros wander the streets begging food. Old mining buildings are numerous. Almost every kind of souvenir imaginable is stocked. The surrounding area is mountainous desert, with scrub bushes and small trees. The whole area is dotted with mineshafts and remains of old buildings. The road is well maintained but like the books say, it is crooked, 15 miles per hour is about all you can do. Switch backs, corkscrew turns, and steep grades certainly kept us flatlanders on our toes. One particular canyon had foundations and rock retainer walls on almost every square foot of its bottom. Must have been hundreds of people lived there during the mining strikes.

Many people are buying old claims or buildings in the towns, remodeling them for vacation cabins or in many cases, opening up a business. Arts and crafts along with souvenirs are most numerous. Once in a while there is a nice art gallery with local talent exhibited.

We enjoyed the Oatman area and certainly recommend it to travelers who tire of the Interstate. People are very friendly and laid back. They don't open until 10 a.m., so don't be in a hurry in the mornings. Food and gasoline are cheaper than on the Interstate also.

THE GROOM NEWS-Page 11
Thursday, March 4, 1994

During 1994, Marye and I have an objective to travel more and when we do, we are resolved to stop frequently and "smell the roses". Since we are both country kids we are uncomfortable in big cities. We have observed the economy of some cities and towns and based upon a continuous tourist traffic, as we approach any development, big or small, we look at appearances, new or old, improved or run-down, clean or trashy, prosperous or abandoned, and if there is no community pride, we hardly slow down. Thus I ask, when tourists pull off I-40 from either the east or the west toward McLean's center, what do they first see?

In my January letter I suggested an objective for McLean. I know there is significant tourist traffic interested in Ol' Route 66. Thus, my recommendation to rename Railroad and 1st Street to be East and West Route 66 Boulevards. And I further recommended the median be improved by moving or destroying old and abandoned structures as well as by landscaping.

Spring is just around the corner. Islands could be designed for landscaping and flowering trees, like crabapple, could be planted along the curbs.

Also, the three excellent museums are attractive once one gets inside.

The whole world is interested in education. I understand there is still in existence a one room frame school house that is restorable but needing to be moved to town some where along Route 66 Boulevards. My, what an attraction that would be. Does anyone know of a one or two hole out-house? That would add reality and bring a smile to many remembrances.

Drive by and look at the restored Cactus Inn and see what a little elbow grease can do. I'm confident McLean is restorable and can be more attractive to both tourist and to those looking for a place to retire.

Sincerely,
Garth Thomas

Mary Ann Carpenter

Mary Ann Carpenter wants to be your next Justice of the Peace. Why? The opportunity to help one child, young adult, teenager, or adult make the right choice instead of the wrong choice. The opportunity to help them learn there are alternatives to physical and verbal abuse. I welcome and want input from our community as a whole. This means teenagers, teachers, businesses, parents, law enforcement, churches, anyone who is interested. Community service is important as alternate punishment. The person committing the offense is being responsible for their actions by doing something rather than just paying the fine and that is the end of it. Being responsible for our own actions is something I feel could use some work. There are too many excuses being accepted, for our actions. There is always a point when we make a choice as to what we do. Being impartial is a vital part of the job. Personal feelings must be put aside as an administrator of the law. I want to serve the people of Precinct 4. Together we can make a difference. On March 8th at the Republican Primary vote

The 100th Judicial District is not under the Career Prosecutors Act that pays a district attorney $84,000 annually. Our D.A. makes $68,000 annually and that salary is set by the state, paid by the state, and only the State Legislature can change it.

ELECTING ME WILL NOT COST YOU ONE CENT MORE THAN YOU ARE CURRENTLY PAYING! For that same salary, you will get someone with over seven years of felony experience and I will do that job on a full-time basis WITHOUT THE DISTRACTIONS OF A PRIVATE PRACTICE.

Additionally, I am a qualified candidate having met all residency and other requirements set by law in addition to being a land owner, property owner, taxpayer, and registered voter of the district.

I remained at my previous job for as long as possible to keep an income and to continue gaining experience. I then voluntarily resigned that $64,000 a year position to let you know I was serious about wanting to be your next district attorney.

Money is not the issue with me; if so, I would have quit prosecuting long ago and began a private practice. I prosecute because I believe in the job and want to make a difference. I have worked hard attending functions, running from house to house knocking on doors, and doing whatever I could to meet the people of the district.

The ultimate question is, "WHO DO YOU WANT PROTECTING YOUR RIGHTS, ESPECIALLY IF YOU OR YOURS BECOME THE VICTIM OF A FELONY OFFENSE?"

Myself, my experience, and my dedication to prosecution stand ready for your use. I would appreciate your vote on March 8th.

Sincerely,
Randall Sims

Seven Students Elected To Honor Society

Seven McLean High School students have been named to the school's National Honor Society Chapter and were inducted Thursday, February 24, 1994 at 7:00 pm in the school cafeteria.

The seven are: Tom Pennington, Senior; Matt Hall, and Misty Young, Juniors; John Dickey, Heather Hess, Holly Jasper, and Jaylene Watkins, Sophomores.

To be eligible for membership, students must have a cumulative grade point average of 92. Members must also meet high standards of leadership, service and character. Members were evaluated by the faculty council.

Leadership is based on the student's participation in two or more community or school activities, or election to an office. To meet the service requirement, the student must have been active in three or more service projects in the school or community. Character is measured in terms of integrity, behavior, ethics, and cooperation with both students and faculty.

Agriculture Science - Meeting The Needs Of Tomorrow's Workforce

With the economic and technological changes sweeping the nation's workforce, we must all recognize that vocational training is critical to prepare young people for the future. The agriculture science and technology (AST) program in Texas, with an enrollment of 86,967 students, is moving toward the 21st century with an updated and expanding curriculum. The focus of the AST curriculum is continuously being revised by educators and business and industry leaders to include the latest agricultural areas which are important to the future of the Texas economy.

The high school agriculture science and FFA leadership programs prepare young men and women for rewarding careers in agriculture production and such diverse areas as biogenetics, international marketing, engineering, horticulture, communications, and business, as well as other occupations. As many as 50% of these students go on to higher education, while approximately 30% go into related jobs in agricultural industry like processing, manufacturing, marketing and transportation.

Students are provided a unique set of experiences to prepare for their future. In the classroom and laboratory, they may work with computers and accounting, plants and animals, or mechanics and sciences as they learn useful, problem solving skills. The leadership, team work, personal responsibility, management and analysis skills highly valued by employers are developed in the FFA and high school agriscience and agribusiness classes.

Enrollment in AST programs throughout Texas has increased from 60,000 to nearly 87,000 in the last eight years, while the number of teachers had decreased from 1,620 to 1,417. Over 30% of today's AST enrollment is female and programs are offered in metropolitan school districts as well as rural communities. The vocational curriculum in Texas has undergone significant restructuring in the last ten years and, today, provides programs that are beneficial to students and to the state. Agriculture science and technology is a hands-on program that teaches real skills for real life situations.

ideas to help citizens live with environmental laws and regulations and to develop environment-friendly practices.

The Enviro-Fair will begin at 7:00 pm until 10:00 pm Friday night and resume Saturday morning at 9:00 am until 5:00 pm.

Friday night programs will be related to Agriculture and 2 CEU's will be given.

City And School
Receive Grant Money
The City of Groom has received grant money from the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department. The money will be used to completely re-do the three existing tennis courts and put a walking trail around the city park and five covered picnic tables for the park.

The total cost of the project is $137,900.00.

The Texas Parks and Wildlife has granted half of the total funds.

The City and School will be matching the rest of the funds. We can do this in several ways such as volunteer work, donated materials or equipment and cash.

No definite date for starting has been set at this time, but the Texas Parks and Wildlife has given us three years for completion.
