Organization makes college dreams for young Latinas a reality

For Rosie Molinary, growing up Puerto Rican in Columbia, South Carolina was challenging. She says that during this time, there weren't many Latinas around. After she went away to college, she realized she wanted to give back to her community. "I got my undergraduate degree and became a high school teacher, so I was really interested in teaching in the inner city and working with low-income and immigrant families," Molinary says. "I realized that the particular thing I was passionate about in my classroom was helping young people find their voice."

Her dreams," she says. "They wanted to become veterinarians and doctors and dance teachers and all these really awesome things." But Molinary says that the statistics about college completion rates and teen pregnancies are really scary. "I felt a real responsibility about the disparity between dreams and numbers," she says. "I [Circle de Luz] was born from a group of us just being uncomfortable with that disparity."

programing, and scholarship funds when the girls graduate after they've been in our program for six years." She says there are twelve different areas they try to cover in their programming including health, nutrition, a ropes course, college tours, career panels, and summer reading and book discussions. They also take the girls to different kinds of restaurants, so they can learn how to navigate a menu. "One of our guiding beliefs is that exposure matters, so we try to give our girls as much exposure to what's possible," she says. One success story that stands out for Molinary is of a girl who was struggling with middle school. "We weren't positive that she'd pass 8th grade," she says. "She is now an incredibly strong academic student as a junior. She's on the honor roll and has really big plans for herself and that's one story that just makes me so proud."

Recognition of LISD's ten National Hispanic Recognition Program award recipients

Ten Lubbock ISD students were recently selected for the National Hispanic Recognition Program (NHRP) for their performance on the 2011 PSAT/National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (PSAT/NMSQT) and their grade point average (GPA). Each year, the NHRP identifies nearly 5,000 of the highest-scoring students (from a nationwide total of more than 200,000 juniors) in the United States and U.S. Territories who take the PSAT/NMSQT and who designate themselves as Hispanic/Latino. The NHRP Hispanic Scholars from Coronado are Gabriel Gonzales and Taylor Reasoner. The NHRP Hispanic Scholars from Lubbock High School are: Florencio Barron, Luke Castro, Carlos Cruz, Madeline Flores, Alexa Gomez, Hallie Looney, Jeremy Medrano and Elizabeth Moreno. The NHRP was initiated in 1983 to identify outstanding Hispanic/Latino high school students and to share information with interested colleges and universities. In order to be eligible, students must be at least one-quarter Hispanic/Latino as defined by the program guidelines, meet the minimum PSAT/NMSQT cutoff score for Texas, and achieve a minimum GPA of 3.0

EL REBOTE REPUBLICANO TRAS LA BOMBA ESTALLADA POR JASON RICHWINE

Por José de la Hita
Hispanic Link News Service

La Reacción va iniciándose el rebote del partido republicano tras la bomba estallada por Jason Richwine.

Un indicador fue la relación de Pablo Pantoja como director de comunicaciones del partido republicano en la Florida. El rebote, en términos políticos, son las consecuencias previstas para una parte responsable de discursos y medidas tomadas. Richwine, para hacer memoria, fue el investigador de la Heritage Foundation, quien renuncia después de colaborar con la autoría de un análisis político, desacreditado ampliamente por libertarios y conservadores, que pedía alegaciones descabelladas sobre el costo de integrar a la población de inmigrantes indocumentados.

Lo que es más revelador es que el periodo, The Washington Post, devolvió que Richwine anteriormente había escrito una tesis doctoral en la que aseguraba -de manera bastante tozudo, digo yo- que "Nadie sabe si los hispanos llegarán a tener paridad de coeficiente intelectual con los blancos, pero es difícil discutir contra la predicción que los nuevos inmigrantes hispanos tendrán hijos y nietos de bajo coeficiente intelectual".

Primera, "hispano" es un término genérico, originado durante el gobierno de Nixon, para identificar políticamente a un importante grupo "de herencia" y comunidades con posibilidades a largo plazo para los republicanos. Lo hispano no es una raza, sino está conformado por muchas razas, orígenes nacionales, etnias y niveles socioeconómicos.

Segundo, los republicanos anticipan, y se dio, que mucho más de un cuarto, casi un tercio del grupo hispano se casará con personas que no forman parte del grupo, lo cual quedó verificado a año pasado por investigaciones del Centro Hispano.

Lo que esto implica, si uno le hace seguimiento a Richwine y cree en cómicas extrapolaciones atribuidas a las calificaciones del coeficiente intelectual - un 28 por ciento de la población de los EE.UU. se hará menos inteligente por asociación con parejas hispanas. O, puesto de otra manera, se volverá más inteligente a través de la prole, cuando los hispanos se casan con personas de otros grupos.

No obstante, ésta no fue la intención de la investigación. De lo contrario, se estableció cual pretexto para discriminar contra los inmigrantes hispanos sin autorización. No es difícil percibirlo. Así hizo Pablo Pantoja, y destapó la cubierta de la intención.

Pantoja no sólo renunció a su cargo como director republicano de relaciones comunitarias, sino que lo hizo públicamente y anunció que se unió al partido demócrata. En una carta dirigida a un "Amigo" el día después de renunciar, escribió que lo hizo porque "No cuesta mucho ver la cultura de intolerancia que rodea al partido republicano".

La Heritage Foundation (referida como "una organización muy conocida") orientó su estudio analítico para que ocupara "el centro del debate sobre la inmigración". La intención de la investigación era presentar a unos seres humanos como "absolutamente incomprensibles" por causa de sus etnias migratorias.

Aquella organización se distanció de las aseveraciones de Richwine. No obstante, está otra investigación relacionada esta vez forrada de "intimidaciones racistas, con base en la evidencia", escribió Pantoja.

Pantoja dijo que las "súper-disciplinadas" tituladas como "solución rápida" causan daño cuando se usan para perdonar y obviar el problema republicano tan arraigado. Incluso con distanciamiento imperturbables, los dirigentes republicanos son cómplices "y no le quita a la cultura de intolerancia al interior del partido".

La lección para los demás no es que los republicanos se han metido en problemas por ser desgarbados hacia una nueva marca de prejuicio basada en un racismo que canta canciones del sur estadounidense. La lección es que alguien los delató con base en su propia experiencia.

Escribió Pantoja: "Mi anhelo sirvió en una unidad del ejército segregado, compuesta por entero de puertorriqueños, el Regimiento de Infantería 65. Después, junto con mi abuela, ayudé a traer 65 los cinco casos de violación por las mujeres puertorriqueñas, al criar a mi tía quien llegó a ser la primera mujer puertorriqueña abogada con un doctorado en astrofísica (con coeficiente de genio, diría yo). Los puertorriqueños, como muchos estadounidenses del día de hoy, deben enfrentar la discriminación cuando votan y cuando exigen sus derechos civiles".

Me uní al partido demócrata, el que tiene su propia serie de demoras, deméridos, principios compromisos, conjunto de intereses empresariales y mala interacción al estilo Obama de las congresiones estilo Lincoln cuando lo necesario es adherirse al principio.

Una cosa que dejó en claro Pantoja en su carta fue que "también voy a hacer una contribución modesta a la American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU) por sus esfuerzos por ayudar a proteger los derechos de los inmigrantes y las libertades civiles en general".

Eso es que poner la mano al fuego y es de él tipo que queremos.

BLOWBACK AFTER THE REPUBLICAN BOMB

By José de la Hita
Hispanic Link News Service

The Republican Party blowback from the Jason Richwine bomb is just beginning. One indicator was Pablo Pantoja's resignation as the GOP's Florida Hispanic outreach director.

Blowback, politically speaking is the unintended consequence to a party responsible for speech and measures taken. Richwine, you might remember, was the Heritage Foundation researcher who resigned after he co-authored a widely discredited, by liberals and conservatives alike, policy analysis that made wild claims about the cost of integrating the undocumented immigrant population.

More tellingly, the Washington Post disclosed Richwine had earlier written a Harvard Ph.D. dissertation asserting - rather dumb, if you ask me - "No one knows whether Hispanics will ever reach IQ parity with whites, but the prediction that new Hispanic immigrants will have low-IQ children and grandchildren is difficult to argue against." First of all, "Hispanic" is a generic term, begun during the Nixon administration, to politically identify a large "herencia" group and communities with possible long-term potential for Republicans. Hispanic is not a race but made up of many races, national origins, ethnicities, and socioeconomic levels.

Secondly, Republicans foresaw as happened that way more than a quarter, nearing a third of the Hispanic group would marry outside the group, verified last year by Pew Hispanic Center research.

It implies, if you follow Richwine and you believe in comical extrapolations given to IQ scores - probably, 28 percent of the U.S. population is likely to become dumber for selecting Hispanic partners. Or, another way, brighter through children when Hispanics marry out. But that's not what that research was intended to do. Instead, it was up as a phony pretext for discriminating against unauthorized Hispanic immigrants. It's not hard to see that. Republican Pablo Pantoja did, and he blew that cover. He hid enough. Pantoja not only quit his post as Republican outreach director, he did so publicly and announced he was joining the Democrats. In a letter to "Friend" the day after he resigned, he explained he did so because, "I doesn't take much to see the culture of intolerance surrounding the Republican Party today." The Heritage Foundation (referred to as "a well-known organization,") geared its study

El Editor

Informing-Educating Creating Action. The Job of a Real Newspaper of RECORD

eleditor@sbcglobal.net

to be "at the center of the immigration debate." The research intended to make human beings to be viewed as "outright unacceptable" because of their immigrant status. That organization distanced itself from Richwine's assertions. Yet, it and other related research is padded with "racist and eugenic-based innuendos," he wrote.

Pantoja said that "pseudo-scholarship" used as "a quick fix" really hurt when used to forgive and forget the deep-rooted Republican Party problem. Even by blandly distancing themselves, Republican leaders are still complicit and "doesn't take away from the culture within the ranks of intolerance.

The lesson for the rest of us is that Republicans are in trouble for slouching toward a new-brand prejudice based on a Sawtooth-River singing racism. It is that someone called it them from their mouths.

Pantoja wrote: "My grandfather served in an all-Puerto Rican segregated Army unit, the 65th Infantry Regiment. He then helped, along with my grandmother, shatter glass ceilings for Puerto Rican women raising my aunt to become the first Puerto Rican woman astronaut with a PhD in astrophysics (an IQ of a genius as far as I'm concerned). Puerto Ricans, as many of our American still today have to face issues of discrimination in voting and civil rights."

My only regret is that Pantoja was so quick to join the Democratic Party, with its own set of delays, denunciations, compromised principles, set of corporate interests and Obama-style misreading of Lincolnque compromise when principle should stand. The one thing Pantoja did make clear in his letter was that "I am also making a modest contribution to the American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU) for the efforts in helping protect the rights of immigrants and civil liberties in general."

Now that's putting his money where his mouth is. That kind of blowback is the needed kind.

Marine Reunion held for CO. 1st Platoon/37

On June 5th through the 9th, several ocal marines will be hosting a reunion for 25 Marines from India CO. 1st Platoon/37 who served in Vietnam. These Marines have stayed together by hosting reunions in different states and now they want to come back to Lubbock. Four years ago, local Marines hosted this reunion and they were so impressed with our hospitality and the way they were treated that they decided to come back to Lubbock. We would like for the Lubbock Community to get involved and show these Marines how much we appreciate the sacrifices that they made so we could enjoy the better things in life which we enjoy everyday. We would like for the business community and anyone else who would like to make a monetary donation to please give us a call and we will go pick up your donation. You can make donations to: American GI Forum, 2505 36th Street, Lubbock, TX 79413 For more informations contact: Jerry Lucero 549-7488 or Robert Narvaiz 781-6277

Protegemos la salud de sus niños.

It's never too late to help our kids make smart choices about alcohol.

As parents, we have to use our influence so it works even when they're no longer under our direct supervision. As we prepare our kids for college, we should focus on asking open-ended questions—such as, "What will you do if there's drinking at the party?"—that encourage them to think through real scenarios. Through honest and open conversations, we can equip them to make the right choice when it matters most. To learn more, join us on Facebook and download our free Parent Guide.
