Hispanos Nombrados Al Gabinete

Washington — Un grupo de líderes hispanos celebró una reunión con un alto funcionario la Casa Blanca para considerar la forma en que sus comunidades pueden contribuir a la formulación y ejecución de la política del gobierno del presidente Ronald Reagan.

Circulos hispanos criticaron en semanas recientes las pocas designaciones de representantes de sus comunidades en los más altos niveles del gobierno de Reagan, aunque el presidente en su reciente conferencia de prensa pidió que no se lo juzgara hasta que se terminasen de hacer las alrededor de 17,000 designaciones que acompañan el cambio de gobierno.

En ultimos dias el presidente Reagan anunció que nominará a Michael Cardenas de Fresno, Calif., como director de la Administración de Pequeños Negocios (Small Business Administration, SBA.)

Por otra parte el Senador Harrison Schmitt, Representante de Nuevo México, fue informado de fuente oficial que el Presidente Reagan nominará, a mediados de esta semana, al doctor John Hernandez de Las Cruces, Nuevo México, como Delegado Administrador de la Agencia de Protección Ambiental (Environmental Protection Agency).

Cárdenas de 47 años, socio de la firma Nacional Contable Fox & Co., ha permanecido activo en las líneas republicanas de California desde 1967. Anteriormente fue miembro del Consejo Regional de la S.B.A. en Fresno y San Francisco.

Hernandez de 51 años, educado en Harvard y especializado en Ingeniería Ambiental y Recursos Acuáticos, fue Decano del Colegio de Ingeniería de la Universidad de Estado de Nuevo México desde 1975 hasta 1980; actualmente continúa en esta Universidad como catedrático.

Los dirigentes hispanos, representantes de varias organizaciones, se reunieron con el director de desarrollo de política de la Casa Blanca, Edwin J. Gray, para plantearle sus deseos de que hay "una activa participación de hispanos en la formulación y ejecución de política en todosel gobierno."

A Dissenting View to U.S. Immigration Study

Por Cruz Reynoso, Magistrado Adjuntod del Tribunal de Apelaciones de California

Si yo tuviera la alternativa desafortunada de tener que recomendar todas las propuestas elevadas al Presidente y al Congreso por la Comisión Selecta sobre Política de Inmigración y Refugiados, o de no recomendar ninguna, recomendaría dejar la ley como está hoy. Al tiempo que abrigo los sentimientos más fuertes de que nuestros estatutos y prácticas nacionales sober inmigración no están funcionando, llego a la conclusión de que las recomendaciones, como un todo, trabajarán con menor eficacia.

El criterio de última instancia en lo tocante a una política chereante sobre inmigración debe ser lo que resulte más beneficioso al interés de la nación. Ese interes resultará servido interiormente al continuar el objetivo humanitario de reunir las familias y de fortalecer nuestro crecimiento económico. Internacionalmente, debe fomentar la paz y la estabilidad.

Las realidades internacionales afectan a la inmigración. Los países en vías de desarrollo están sufriendo un crecimiento de población sin precedentes, mientras que los ya desarrollados, incluyendo al nuestro, experimentan tasas de nacimientos cada vez menores, proyectando escasez de mano de obra. Se espera que México aumente su población de 65 a 100 millones de personas para fines del siglo. Mientras tanto, los factores economicos continuos — la inflación, los impuestos más elevados, los costos en aumento de la mano de obra y los materiales — estan forzando a las compañías estadounidenses a relocalizarse en naciones en desarrollo y a unirse al número creciente de corporaciones multi-nacionles que no conocen fronteras nacionales.

Lamento que la Comisión no estudiara adecuadamente si debieramos tener una relación especial con el Hemisferio Occidental. Quizás entre 1 1/2 y 3 millones de inmigrantes mexicanos se hallan dentro de nuestras fronteras sin la documentación apropiada. Mientras que nuestros estatutos escritos no permiten dicha entrada, nuestra ley de hecho la anima. La ejecución relajada de la ley de inmigración y la necesidad que alegan los negocios estadounidenses de tener una provision abundante de mano de obra sin habilidad y barata, ha ayudado a crear un gran numero de personas que viven fuera de la protección de nuestras leyes, una sub-clase de seres humanos sin poder, carentes de derechos humanos. Eso es algo que ningun democracia puede aceptar.

Estoy de acuerdo con el criterio de la Comisión, de "legalizar" a los indocumentados. El método que se recomienda, sin embargo, es defectuoso.

Primero, la Comisión ha destacado que la ejecución estricta de la ley debe preceder o ir paralela al programa de legalización. Si una persona indocumentada se presenta, creyendo que tiene elegibilidad, pero se equivoca al adovinar, se arriesga a que la deporten. No se establecieron razones para la exclusión. La mayor parte de los indocumentados son personas trabajadoras — de la clase que ha engrandecido a esta nación. Em-

By Cruz Reynoso, Associate Justice, California Court of Appeal

If I had the unfortunate choice of having to recommend all of the proposals forwarded to President and the Congress by the Select Commission on Immigration and Refugee Policy, or none, I would recommend leaving the law as it is today. While I entertain the strongest feelings that our national immigration statutes and practices are not working, I conclude that the recommendations, as a whole, will work less well.

The ultimate criteria for a cohesive immigration policy must be whatever is in the best interest of the country. That interest will be served domestically by continuing the humanitarian goal of family reunification and by fortifying our economic growth. Internationally, it must promote peace and stability.

International realities affect immigration. Developing countries are undergoing unprecedented population growth while the developed countries, including our own, are experiencing declining birth rates, projecting shortages of labor. Mexico is expected to increase its population from 65 to 100 million by the end of century. Meanwhile, continued economic factors — inflation, higher taxes, increased labor and material costs — are forcing American companies to relocate in developing countries and to join the growing number of multinational corporations which know no national bounds.

I regret that the Commission did not adequately consider whether we should have a special relationship with the Western Hemisphere. Perhaps 1 1/2 to 3 million Mexican immigrants find themselves within our borders without proper documentation. While our written statutes do not permit such entry, our de facto law encourages it. lax immigration law enforcement and the claimed need by U.S. businesses for a plentiful supply of unskilled, cheap labor has helped to create a large group of persons living outside the protection of our laws, an underclass of powerless human beings devoid of human rights. That is something no democracy can accept.

I agree with the Commission's response to "legalize" the undocumented. The recommended method, however, is defective.

First, the Commission has stressed that tough enforcement must precede or go hand-in-hand with the Opredoce or go hand-in-hand with the legalization program. If an undocumented person comes forward believing eligibility exists but guesses wrong, deportation is in the offing. No grounds for exclusion were established. Most undocumented are working people — the type who have made this contry great. Yet because they are not monied, an unsympathetic legal interpretation could deem them likely to become public charges. The Commission set no qualifying period for residency requirement can be lengthy, nor can it ignore the migratory nature of some undocumented if the "legalization" program is to succeed.

Second, the Immigration and Naturalization Service will apparently be in charge of the program. Right or wrong, the INS is viewed by the undocumented and by representatives of religious and other organizations which help the undocumented as a hopeless anti-alien agency — the "enemy."

Third, the Commission report seems to disfavor the Mexican, who represents only one half of the undocumented but in 1979 represented 93 percent of those apprehended. The enforcement programs stress border control. The Commission approves current enforcement priorities in which only a small portion to the enforcement budget deals with the non-Mexican (much of it European) undocumented.

The Commission's proposals will drive the undocumented, particularly the Mexican undocumented, further underground. In 1976, an Australian "legalization" program reportedly attracted less than 20 percent of that country's undocumented. I estimate that a program structured pursuant to our recommendations will draw as few as 2 percent.

The goal should be to have every undocumented immigrant come forward. Those who are eligible should be documented. Those who are not should be offered temporary status with the opportunity, after a few years, of qualifying for permanent residence.—B

Tech's '81 Football Signees

For the skeptics who said Texas Tech's 1981 recruiting efforts would be badly damaged with the coaching change, Jerry Moore can now look back and smile.

The Red Raiders recently signed 22 players who Moore feels will become definite assets to the football program in the future.

"We missed out on three weeks," Moore said of the Raiders' absence period when Rex Dockery left and Moore arrived. "But we came back strong. We missed out on some, but it could have been a heck of a lot worse. It certainly was no disaster. We really did well with running backs."

Moore and his staff inked nine of the top 100 players in Texas (according to the Fort Worth Star-Telegram). Durán Abandono Porque Temió Hacer El Ridículo Nueva York—El pugil panameño Roberto Durán sigue insistiendo en que abandonó su pelea por el título frente a Sugar Ray Leonard el pasado 25 de noviembre debido a que sufrió espasmos estomacales, y que volvería a hacer los mismo, pero su apoderado expresó que Durán no siguió peleando porque temió hacer el ridículo.

en una información exclusiva que publicó el "Daily News" de Nueva York, se atribuye a Durán haber dicho que "en el octavo round sentí que podría desmayarme si continuaba. Poco antes de abandonar pensé: "no puedo moverme y luego me dije, antes de que Leonard me lastime o me ponga en peores condiciones, abandonaré simplemente".

El diario, que entrevistó a Durán en Panamá, atribuye empero a su apoderado, Carlos Elela, haber dicho: "estaba tan molesto consigo mismo porque se sentía impotente para hacer lo que quiere cada día y porque Sugar Ray se estaba burlando de él, así que en ese momento, en el octavo round, dije: "al diablo con este tipo, se está burlando de mí y no voy a pelear más". "Lo de los espasmos estomacales puede que sea cierto o no, pero Durán no abandonó por ese motivo, lo hizo porque consideraba que estaba haciendo el ridículo. Lo sé, Roberto lloraba después de la pelea cuando lo llevó al hospital para ser reconocido. Me dijo en el automóvil, "estoy avergonzado de mí mismo. Nunca debí haber hecho eso. Ese no soy yo. No estoy orgulloso de mí".

Cuevas Noqueo a Bernardo

Limon Drills EHS To Win

Lamesa (Sp)—Hector Limon drilled three doubles, knocking in two runs, and Rodney Wheeler came on to pitch five strong innings in relief Tuesday to propel the Estacado Matadors to their second victory of the young baseball season, an 8-4 decision over Lamesa.

The Mats are now 2-0 after Monday's 7-6 season-opening victory over Odessa Ector.

"We're still making a lot of mistakes, but it's still early," said Estacado coach Hodie Garcia. "Right now, I'm just trying to take a good look at my squad to see what I have."

In the five-run EHS first inning Limon doubled to drive in Wayne Dodson, who had singled and stole second. The run gave the Mats a 1-0 lead. Joe Benavidez followed with a two-run single. Two wild pitches and an error provided the Mats with their other two tallies.

The Mats increased their lead to 6-0 in the second, but Lamesa made it a 5-3 ball game in the bottom of the second, taking advantage of three walks, two errors and two wild pitches by the Mats.

Wheeler came on to quell the Lamesa uprising and held the Golden Tors to one run the rest of the way to pick up his first win of the season.

Estacado added two runs in the top of the sixth, one on another run-scoring double by Limon. Limon stole third and scored EHS's final run on an error.

Benavidez had two singles for the Mats and Paul Duran and Dodson each singled.

Tech Competes In Texas Invitational

A last chance effort to qualify for the AIAW National Championship awaits several members of the Texas Tech women's swimming and diving team when the Red Raiders compete in the Texas Invitational Friday and Saturday in Austin.

Coach Sue Larson said she is very confident that the meet will produce some national qualifiers for the Red Raiders.

To date, diver Becky Bryant is the only Raider to qualify for nationals March 18-21 in Columbia, S.C. Bryant will compete in the one-meter diving event.

Two Texas Tech relays and one individual swimmer are within tenths or hundredths of seconds from qualifying for the national competition.

Tech's 200-yard Medley Relay just missed qualifying for nationals last weekend at the State TAIW meet in Houston. The Raiders finished with a time of 1:50.31, good enough for a third place in the event, but 2/100's of a second off the 1:50.29 qualifying mark.

The Red Raider 200-yard Free Relay was disqualified at state but will have another chance to try and meet or better the 1:37.59 national qualifying time.

Individually, Tech's Janie James is only 15/100's of a second off the 50-yard backstroke time. At the state meet, James swam a 28.14, just short of the 27.99 national mark.

Several other Tech swimmers have a shot at the national meet, Larson said. These include Dorinda Jung in the 50- and 100-yard freestyle events, Amy Thorpe in the 100-yard freestyle, Debbie Kaufman in the 50-yard butterfly and Cynthia Rinehart in the 100-yard individual medley.

When Larson took over reins as head coach for the Raiders, the swimming and diving team several goals for the 1980-81 season. One of those goals was to rewrite the record books at Tech. The Raiders set 10 school records while in Houston at the state meet. A total of 17 school records have been set by the Raiders this season.

SWC Tournament At San Antonio

Texas Tech made its sixth straight appearance in the Southwest Conference Post-Season Tournament's host city this week when the Red Raiders meet Texas in a quarterfinal match at 9 p.m. Thursday at San Antonio's HemisFair Arena.

Texas Tech had a 15-12 season record to San Antonio while Texas entered the 6th SWC Classic with a 13-14 record on the season. Arkansas went into the tourney with a 22-6 record while Houston had a 19-8 mark with Baylor going in with a 15-11 record TCU went in with a 10-17 record for the season.

Texas Tech owns a 33-27 edge over the Longhorns in the series that began in 1939. The two teams split their two SWC games this season with the Raiders winning in Lubbock 89-79 while the Longhorns prevailed in Austin 65-54.

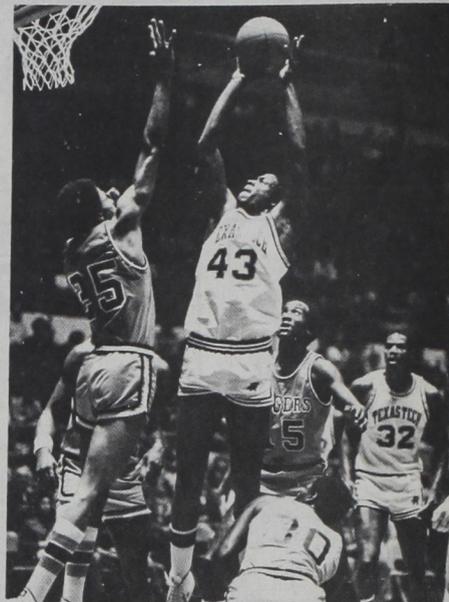

Also, Texas Tech owns a 30-23 edge over Arkansas in the series that began in 1942. The Razorbacks are currently on an 11-game winning streak over the Raiders. The 'Hogs ran their streak to 11 by sweeping both SWC games over the Raiders this season. Arkansas won in Fayetteville by a 60-35 score and in Lubbock by a 64-61 count.

Texas Tech has won eight in the series that began in 1961. The Raiders and Cougars split a pair of league games this season with Houston winning in Houston, 73-70 while Tech won in Lubbock by a 81-70 count.

Texas Tech has won 35 while Baylor has won 21 in the series that started in 1937. Baylor won this year's game in Waco by a 69-61 while Tech won the two team's meeting in Lubbock by a 56-53 count.

Texas Tech has won 46 while TCU has won 24 in the series that began in 1932. The Raiders won both contests with the Frogs this season to run their winning streak to 19 in the rivalry with TCU. The Raiders won 57-54 in Lubbock and 70-60 in overtime in Fort Worth.

Red Raider coach Gerald Myers is 190-103 since becoming the Texas Tech coach at mid-season, 1971. His overall record is 222-146. Against tourney teams, Myers is: 15-7 against Texas; 20-3 against TCU; 18-5 against Baylor; 9-8 against Houston and 10-13 against Arkansas. Myers has never coached a losing Red Raider team.

Clarence Swannegan with a career high 12 points in double figures.

Taking a look at the other coaches, Texas' Longhorn coach Abe Lemons is 94-51 at Texas since taking over five seasons ago.

Houston's Cougar coach Guy Lewis is 474-232 at Houston in this, his 25th season.

Horned Frog coach Jim Killingsworth is 17-36 in two seasons at TCU. Killingsworth is 156-140 overall in his coaching career.

Bears' coach Jim Haller has won 65 and lost 52 in four seasons at Baylor. Razorback coach Eddie Sutton is 163-43 in seven seasons at Arkansas. The Raiders kept their record of never losing a SWC Tournament first-round game intact by fast breaking by SMU 80-58. Tech also put on a shot blocking exhibition with the Raiders rejecting seven SMU shots with Leslie Nichols with four, leading the way. Jeff Taylor was the Raiders' leading scorer with 19 points while Ralph Brewster chipped in a season high 17 points. Steve Smith with a career high 14 points and Clarence Swannegan with 12 points were other Raiders in double figures Ben Hill led the Raiders in rebounding with six caroms. In other first round action, TCU eliminated Texas A&M by taking a 62-60 win over the Aggies in College Station while Texas ended Rice's season by downing the Owls 58-44 in Austin.

The Red Raiders' 6-4 junior from Hobbs, N.M. has either shared the lead or led the team in scoring in the last three Tech games. The streak started when he scored 23 points against Texas in Austin. He shared the scoring lead with Clarence Swannegan in the Arkansas game when both chipped in 16 each. He led all scorers in Monday night's first round game when he scored 19.

Inmigracion de la Primera pero, por razón de que no tienen dinero, una interpretación legal carente de simpatía podría considerarlas susceptibles de convertirse en carga pública. La Comisión no fijó período de cualificación para la residencia. Tal requisito de residencia no puede ser extenso, ni puede pasar por alto la naturaleza migratoria de algunos indocumentados, si es que el programa de "legalización" ha de tener éxito.

Segundo, el Servicio de Inmigración y Naturalización estará, aparentemente, a cargo del programa. Con razón o sin ella, los indocumentados y los representantes de organizaciones religiosas y otras, que ayudan a los indocumentados, ven al Servicio de Inmigración y Naturalización como una dependencia anti-extranjera sin esperanza — el enemigo.

Tercero, el informe de la Comisión parece ser desfavorable para los mexicanos, que representan únicamente la mitad de los indocumentados pero que, en 1979, representaban el 93 por ciento de los detenidos. El programa de ejecución de la ley hace énfasis sobre el control de la frontera. La Comisión aprueba las prioridades actuales de ejecución, en las cuales solamente una proporción pequeña del presupuesto de ejecución se refiere a los indocumentados no mexicanos primordialmente europeos).

Las propuestas de la Comisión llevarán a los indocumentados, especialmente los mexicanos, a ocultarse más aún. En 1976, un programa australiano de "legalización" se informó que atrajo menos del 20 por ciento de los indocumentados de aquel país. Estimo que un programa estructurado con arreglo a nuestras recomendaciones atraerá tan poco como un 2 por ciento.

La meta debiera ser el lograr que se presentaran todos los inmigrantes indocumentados. Aquellos que fueran elegibles debieran recibir sus documentos. Los que no lo fueran deberían obtener un status temporal, con la oportunidad, después de unos pocos años, de calificar para la residencia permanente.

Nuestra pauta general de inmigración debiera permitir la entrada legal aumentada desde el Hemisferio Occidental, especialmente México. Nuestro gobierno se ha mostrado renuente a reconocer la reclamación legítima al asilo por parte de los que huyen de la opresión dictatorial y del caos de la guerra civil en la América Latina. Los litigios, como el testimonio que se nos ha presentado, han señalado la norma doble de nuestra nación, que permite la entrada de decenas de millares de cubanos, judíos rusos y otros favorecidos políticamente por nuestras administraciones nacionales, mientras que se rechaza a los haitianos y salvadoreños.

Las leyes que protegen a los trabajadores estadounidenses deben cumplirse energicamente. Un funcionario estatal de California declaró que su oficina equilibraba el cumplimiento estricto de la ley en la industria de la confección de vestidos con la realidad de que la industria mudarse o cerrar si la ejecución fuera enérgica. Nuestro gobierno condona las prácticas de contratar mano de obra barata, dócil e indocumentada.

El Congreso ha dejado de dotar de fondos los programas ya establecidos — por ejemplo, la verificación de los documentos entregados por los visitantes extranjeros a la salida contra los expedidos a la llegada. Necesitamos el cumplimiento enérgico, profesional y constitucional de las leyes de inmigración. Estoy de acuerdo con las recomendaciones de la Comisión en el sentido de que necesitamos agentes fronterizos mejor adiestrados y mejor pagados, así como un ejecución interior vigorosa de la ley. Rechazo los "sistemas de sensores, las avionetas, los helicópteros los dispositivos para ver mejor en la obscuridad, una fuerza de trabajo móvil y el aumento de personal fronterizo." Todo eso suena a zona militarizada. El mejor enfoque es disminuir la presión para atravesar la frontera o para "olvidarse de regresar."

Pongo obediencia a la recomendación de ilegalizar el que los empleadores contraten inmigrantes sin documentos. Esto crearía un gran número de infractores entre los patronos. Únicamente los "seguramente empleables" serían contratados. Aquellos que aparecieran como "extranjeros" por su color, idioma o costumbres, sufrirían de discriminación. Además, cualquier cualquier sistema de identificación universal, ya sea por medio de una tarjeta o de los documentos ya existentes, se inmiscuye profundamente en la tradición estadounidense. A deferencia de la mayor parte de las naciones europeas, nosotros no tenemos una fuerza de policía nacional u otros dispositivo que permita a nuestro gobierno seguir el rastro a cada ciudadano o extranjero.

Debieramos trabajar para poner alto a la dependencia de cualquier industria sobre los programas de "trabajadores temporeros." Un estudio del Departamento de Trabajo de los Estados Unidos ha dictaminado que: "Una nación que lucha para fomentar la igualdad de oportunidades y el respeto a los derechos humanos se vería en dificultades para hacer frente a las pautas actuales de inmigración ilegal, si importara un gran número de hispanos y los relegara a la condición de segunda clase."

Mi último interés se refiere a la naturalización. La Comisión recomienda el uso continuo del requisito del idioma inglés para la ciudadanía. El informe de la Comisión contempla el idioma como unificador nacional. Creo que eso interpreta mal el carácter de nuestra unión nacional, la realidad de nuestra historia y la diversidad de nuestro pueblo. Los Estados Unidos son una unión política — o una unión cultural, idiomática, religiosa o racial. Nuestras primeras leyes de naturalización no tenían requisito de idioma. Debieramos hacer hoy lo que se hacía antes de que el "nativismo" (un término agradable del principio para describir el prejuicio racial y étnico) del siglo diecinueve se asentara; debieramos dar la bienvenida a los recién llegados con los brazos abiertos, a todas las obligaciones y todos los privilegios de ser estadounidenses completos. Los demás requisitos de la naturalización — que los solicitantes estudien la Constitución, que sean de buen carácter moral y que hayan estado en el país durante cinco años — me parecen razonables. La votación que favoreció el requisito continuado del idioma inglés fue efectuada por medio del correo. Solo dos de nosotros nos opusimos a dicho requisito. Lamento no haber tenido nunca la oportunidad de discutir este asunto en una reunión de la Comisión.

Esta preocupación, me parece, ilustra el camino fácil aunque equivocado que esta Comisión ha recorrido.

[El Magistrado Adjunto Cruz Reynoso es uno de cuatro miembros del sector público designados por el anterior presidente Jimmy Carter para formar parte de la Comisión Selecta de 16 personas. Sus puntos de vista, presentados aquí, resumen los expresados en su declaración complementaria incluida en el Informe Final de la Comisión, presentado el 27 de Febrero al Congreso y al Presidente.]

should permit increased legal migration from the Western Hemisphere, particularly Mexico. Our government has been reluctant to recognize the legitimate claim to asylum by those fleeing dictatorial oppression and the chaos of civil war in Latin America. Litigation, like testimony presented to us, has pinpointed our country's dual standard which permits entry of tens of thousands of Cubans, Russian Jews, and others who are politically favored by our national administrations, while rejecting Haitians and Salvadorans.

The laws which protect U.S. workers should be vigorously enforced. A California State official testified to us that his office balanced strong enforcement of the law in the garment industry with the reality that the industry might move out or close down if enforcement were vigorous. Our government countenances employer practices of hiring the cheap, docile undocumented.

Congress has failed to fund programs presently in place — for example, checking papers turned in by foreign visitors on their departure against those issued on their arrival. We need vigorous, professional and constitutional enforcement of immigration laws. I agree with the Commission recommendations that we need better-trained and better-paid border patrol agents as well as vigorous interior enforcement. I reject "sensor systems, light planes, helicopters, night-viewing devices, a mobile task force, and increase border personnel." This sounds like a militarized zone. The best approach is to reduce the pressure to cross the border or to "forget to leave."

I object to the recommendation to make it illegal for employers to hire undocumented immigrants. It would create a large number of employer lawbreakers. Only "safe hires" will be employed. Those who appear to be "foreign" in color, language or custom will suffer discrimination. Additionally, any system of universal identification, whether by card or presently existing documents, intrudes deeply into the American tradition. Unlike most European countries, we do not have a national police force or other device which permits our government to keep close tabs on each citizen or foreigner.

We should work to end the dependency of any industry on "temporary worker" programs. A U.S. Labor Department study has concluded: "A nation struggling to promote equal opportunity and a respect for human rights would be hard put to deal with current patterns of illegal immigration by importing large numbers of Hispanics and relegating them to a second-class status."

My last concern deals with naturalization. The Commission recommends the continued use of English-language requirement for citizenship. The Commission report views language as a national unifier. I feel that it misinterprets the character of our national union, the reality of our history, and the diversity of our people. America is political union — not a cultural, linguistic, religious or racial union. Our early naturalization laws had no language requirement. We should do today as was done before the "nativism" (an early nice word to describe ethnic and racial prejudice) of the 19th Century set in; we should welcome the new arrivals with open arms, to all the obligations and the privileges of being full Americans. The other requirements of naturalization — that applicants study the Constitution, be of good character, and be in this country 5 years — strike me as sound. The vote favoring the continued English-language requirement for citizenship was taken by mail. Only two of us opposed it. I regret that we never had a chance to discuss this issue at a public hearing. I believe, illustrates the easy but erroneous road this Commission has traveled.

(Associate Justice Cruz Reynoso is one of four public members appointed by President Jimmy Carter to the 16-person Select Commission. His views presented here summarize those expressed in his supplementary statement included in final Commission report submitted on Feb. 27 to the Congress and the President.)

CHS Looks For Coach

Lubbock Independent School District athletic director Pete Ragus said Tuesday the search to find a replacement for Coronado High School basketball coach Barry Arnwine would begin immediately.

Arnwine announced his resignation Monday after three seasons at the helm of the Coronado basketball program. Ragus said Arnwine's decision came as somewhat of a surprise.

"Of course, we've known about Barry's decision for some time, but it still came as a surprise," Ragus said. "We hate to lose a coach of Barry's character, but the opportunity came along and Barry had to make the decision that was best for him."

Ragus said LISD will follow its normal procedure in hiring a replacement for Arnwine. Applications, from both interested persons inside and outside the LISD, will be accepted during the next four to five weeks. All applications will be screened thoroughly.

Applicants will then be evaluated by LISD and the list of candidates will be narrowed to three or four. Those final candidates will be interviewed and a replacement will be hired.

"We want to find the best possible person for the job," Ragus acknowledged. "We want to give everyone interested the chance to apply. We're looking for stability at Coronado and want someone who is interested in staying around for several years and building a solid program."

Soccer is becoming more popular and exciting than what it was in the past years. Lots of people enjoy getting involve in soccer.

Golf

The golf team is participating in the Texas A&M Future Pros Invitational. The Raiders are currently in sixth place in the 12 team field after the first round of play with a team total of 328. Texas A&M is leading with 306. Raider Mary DeLong shot a 74 in the first round at Briercrest Country Club in Bryan and is tied for second place individual honors. DeLong is trailing Amy Berry of SMU by one stroke.

Tennis

Mickey Bowes' tennis team will travel to Oklahoma this week hoping to improve a 16-13 season record. The Raiders will make their first stop in Oklahoma City for a match with Oklahoma City College Friday, March 6. Saturday, Tech will take on Oklahoma State University and Tulsa in Stillwater. Coach Bowes' team defeated OSU last spring 9-0 but expects to see a much improved team this time around. According to Bowes, the Tulsa match should be the toughest for the Raiders, particularly without the services of an injured Peggy O'Neil.

Bowes is anticipating the following lineup in singles: 1- Regina Revello, 2- Cathy Lawson, 3- Jill Crutchfield, 4- Cathy Stringer, 5- Joanie Waltko, and 6- Susan Mangum.

The doubles teams of Revello/Stringer, Crutchfield/Lawson, and Waltko/Smith are expected to make the Oklahoma trip.

Swimming and Diving

Despite recording 33 lifetime bests and breaking 11 school records, diver Becky Bryant remains the lone national qualifier from Tech after the TAIW swimming and diving championships. The swimmers will compete this Friday and Saturday in Austin at the Texas Invitational in an attempt to break the national qualifying requirements. The AIW National Meet will be held in Columbia, South Carolina March 18-21.

Basketball

The basketball team had very little time to celebrate a 68-61 victory over UTEP before suffering a 76-81 loss to New Mexico State in Las Cruces. The Raiders, 13-17 on the season, are awaiting a possible bid to the SWIAW Regional Tournament. Twelve Division I teams from Arkansas, Oklahoma, Louisiana, and Texas will receive invitations. The top four seeded teams will receive byes in the first round while the remaining eight compete March 7 at selected sites across the region. The top eight teams will then compete March 13-15 in Nacogdoches for the championship. An announcement regarding at-large bids is expected Tuesday.

College Station — La tecnología en construcción de viviendas ha aumentado considerablemente durante los últimos años. Sin embargo, muchas viviendas están siendo construidas sin la atención adecuada necesaria para evitar costosas reparaciones en el futuro, indica Chuck Stayton, especialista del área en productos de madera, quien trabaja para el Servicio de Extensión Agrícola de Texas, Sistema de la Universidad de Texas A&M.

La madera de construcción, el "plywood" y otros productos de madera usados en construcción están sujetos a descomposición. Esta descomposición, causada por numerosos hongos que destruyen la madera y se alimentan de ella, puede resultar en fallas estructurales y reparaciones costosas.

"El mejor control para la descomposición de la madera es mantener los productos de madera secos durante su procesamiento, transporte y uso," argumenta Stayton. "Cuando el contenido de humedad de la madera se mantiene a menos del 20 por ciento, la mayoría de hongos causantes de descomposición no pueden atacar la madera."

Fallas básicas en construcción causan la mayoría de los problemas de descomposición en viviendas y otros edificios. Estas fallas permiten que penetre excesiva humedad a nivel del suelo o de las lluvias.

Fallas básicas en construcción causan la mayoría de los problemas de descomposición en viviendas y otros edificios. Estas fallas permiten que penetre excesiva humedad a nivel del suelo o de las lluvias. Stayton señala seis precauciones específicas que se deben tomar para evitar que la humedad del suelo penetre en una casa.

"Ante todo, instale los forros de madera exteriores a seis pulgadas o más arriba de la plataforma de tierra. Asegúrese que cualquier otra parte de madera puede a un mínimo de ocho pulgadas del suelo a menos que haya sido tratado a presión con un producto para preservar."

"En segundo lugar, deje 18 pulgadas o más de espacio libre entre las vigas del piso y el suelo en áreas para gatear. Una distancia mayor es todavía mejor."

"Tercero, haga que la plataforma de afuera sea inclinada hacia afuera, para que haya buen drenaje. En algunas zonas puede que sea necesario hacer zanjas (ditch) o colocar tubos de barro enterrados."

"Una cuarta medida es instalar una ventanilla para ventilación de un pie cuadrado por cada 150 pies de espacio libre que haya bajo la casa. Coloque las ventanillas en lados opuestos y tan cerca de las esquinas como sea posible."

"Después, use carpas de polietileno de cuatro a seis milímetros de grosor para cubrir el suelo del espacio libre que hay bajo la casa, y bajo todas las bases de construcción."

"Finalmente, tome precauciones especiales con los corredores, terrazas y recipientes para plantas rellenos con tierra, manteniendo la tierra a 8 pulgadas más abajo del nivel de todas las piezas de madera que forman parte de la estructura de la casa. Nivele las terrazas de forma que tengan una inclinación alejándose de la casa, para evitar que el agua se estanque," agrega el especialista.

Stayton también sugiere seis precauciones en la construcción de techos para evitar que la madera se pudra.

Para empezar, use tejas de madera de un tipo que sean altamente resistentes a descomponerse o algunas que haya sido tratadas a presión en las regiones en que la madera se pudre fácilmente. También, una inclinación mínima de cuatro pies por cada doce pies es necesaria para evitar que el agua se acumule bajo las tejas.

Segundo, deje suficiente techo que sobresalga para que el agua de las lluvias caiga alejándose de la casa. Se necesita un techo que sobresalga 30 pulgadas de ancho en regiones cálidas y lluviosas, tales como la costa del golfo en Texas.

Después, coloque las tejas del techo por lo menos de tres cuartos a una pulgada más allá de las partes de madera del techo que sobresale y orilla del tejado para evitar que el agua de lluvia corra hacia abajo del techo y por debajo de la orilla de las tejas. Las vistas y vigas de la parte colgante del techo deben ser tratadas a presión o deben ser de madera altamente resistente a podrirse.

La cuarta precaución es asegurarse de que los desagües tengan un desnivel hacia los tubos en que caen para que el agua corra adecuadamente. Mantenga los canales y tubos de desagüe libres de hojas u otras suciedades y sitúelos de forma que el agua caiga sobre un bloque o en los tubos de drenaje.

Finalmente, proporcione alguna forma de ventilación en los áticos. Las ventanillas colocadas en o cerca de la orilla del techo y en la parte colgante del techo deberían de proporcionar un pie cuadrado de ventilación por cada 150 pies cuadrados de superficie del ático.

"Los principales problemas de descomposición que han importunado a dueños de casa durante años se pueden evitar dando especial atención a estas áreas problemáticas," argumenta Stayton. "Algunos estudios han demostrado que la negligencia de no seguir estos consejos causa la mayor parte de los problemas de descomposición en casas residenciales. El mejor momento de prevenir la descomposición de la madera es antes de que la casa sea construida."

UN RAYITO DE LUZ
Por Sofía T. Martínez

Una de las señales de que Jesucristo es el hijo de Dios, es la santidad que demostro durante su vida terrenal.

Sus obras y discursos y todas sus palabras y todos sus comportamientos nos dejan ver su santidad. El es el reflejo verdadero del Padre Celestial.

Dios pidió al pueblo de Israel: "Sean santos porque yo soy Dios soy Santo". El Señor Jesús sigue pidiendo a los que creen en El y lo aman, "Que sean perfectos como perfecto es su Padre Celestial." (Mt. 5, 48). (Lc. 6, 27-36). "Yo les he dado ejemplo, para que ustedes hagan tambien como yo he hecho."

No nos hagamos ilusiones de ser hijos de Dios si no estamos luchando por cumplir este deseo del AMO PORQUE El no puede ser nuestro AMO si no reina en nuestras acciones y en nuestros pensamientos y en nuestras obras y en toda nuestra vida. Un Amo es un Señor a quien se le obedece sin condición. Pero Dios no solo quiere ser el Señor de nuestras vidas. El quiere ser muchísimo más. El quiere que le reconozcamos, cada quien, como Nuestro verdadero Padre. Pero no como cualquier padre, sino como El Padre Unico, El Padre mas Bueno y más Santo, que nos ama y quiere que seamos santos como El, para que seamos felices como El es.

El Señor Jesús nos ha dado a conocer que el comportamiento de los verdaderos hijos de Dios consisten en amar a Dios y al prójimo con ese mismo Espíritu con que se ama a Dios a sí mismo y nos ama a cada uno.

Dios no solamente nos ha enseñado y pedido que seamos santos, sino que nos ha dado a su Hijo como ejemplo y nos da todo lo necesario para que podamos ser santos.

La Iglesia nos enseña que la vida del cristiano ha de ser una conversión continua, buscando sin descanso la amistad y la perfecta unión con Dios.

Esta doctrina siempre la ha enseñado la Iglesia Católica. Mucha gente se queja, sin razón, que no se le enseña el Evangelio, siendo que toda la Doctrina que Ella enseña es netamente del Evangelio.

No sera que mucha gente nunca se preocupa por escucharla y por ponerla en práctica?

Pero Ella como Buena Madre nos sigue invitando cada día, y de manera muy especial, en esta cuaresma, a la verdadera conversión.

Buen Remedio...Ria
Por Próspero Loyola Martínez

Con motivo a las fatigas cotidianas del trabajo, en días pasados me di como descanso unas vacaciones; metiéndome a una cine a ver una película que me habían recomendado. A mitad de ella, empezó un niño a llorar fuertemente que no dejó oírle el sonido se perdía completamente. De repente se escucha una voz aguardientosa que venía de los espectadores que estaban en galería y que decía: "Señora, déle una vueltecita." El marido de la señora le dice: "Saca al niño y comprale algo para que se calle. Así lo hizo la Señora. Sale y le compra un chocolate. Regresa y se sienta, pero nuevamente el niño empieza a llorar, y nuevamente desde lo alto se escucha aquella voz aguardientosa que dice: "Dende una vueltecita." Cansada le dice a su marido la señora: "Ahora te toca a tí. El marido sin decir palabra coje al niño de la mano y va y le compra otro dulce y se regresa, mal se está acomodando en su asiento, cuando vuelve el niño a llorar. Inmediatamente se escucha la voz de aquella persona de galería que dice: "Dále una vueltecita, señora." Ella enfadada se levanta y le contesta: "Ya se la di." Pero en el pescuezo. Le contesta el griton...Todo mundo calló un momento, pero después, todos saltaron la risa.

Talvez, esto para muchos, no sea un buen remedio, pero para mi si fué un gran descanso. Desde El Trópico de Cancer en San Luis Potosi, a 7 de Febrero de 1981

Aquí el Apóstol Juan nos hace una invitación a "Mirad"

No olvidemos, que las invitaciones que vienen a nosotros de parte de Dios, o algunos de sus siervos, son buenas.

Cuando un arquitecto o un buen constructor construye una buena casa, y que en su opinión ha hecho un magnífico trabajo; Cuando todo está terminado, se invita al público a mirar. Porque esta hermosa arquitectura es digna de admiración del público.

El Apóstol Juan está de pie con su brazo extendido hacia la cruz de Cristo y nos señala; "Mirad cuál amor nos ha dado el Padre" La cruz es el amor de Dios manifestado hacia la humanidad. Y una vez terminada esta obra por el Gran Arquitecto, es digna de invitar al público a mirar.

Pero no a mirar con los dos ojos...como cuando usted mira el TV o cuando mira la botella, o la mujer del prójimo. No, no así. Sino mirar con reconocimiento. Y para mirar a Dios tenemos que hacer una pausa en nuestra vida, en nuestros queaceres, y venir a la Iglesia y mirar la obra de Dios, con un corazón contrito y humillado. Leer su Palabra y obrar. No como el que viene a la iglesia y ve al crucificado; Se pasa la mano de arriba abajo, del lado izquierdo al lado derecho, y termina en la boca. Luego, se va, y se olvida.

Pero no así, el que mira al Crucificado con reconocimiento; Este se lleva a Cristo con él. Y puede decir lo que decía uno que fue salvo de sus pecados; "Hermanos! ¡Yo habia oido hablar mucho de María, pero muy poco habia oido del hijo de María!" Juan nos sigue diciendo; "Mirad cuál amor nos ha dado el Padre"

Girl Scouts

March 8-14 is Girl Scout Week, marking the founding of Girl Scouting of March 12, 1912.

"Each of the 341 Girl Scout Councils in the United States will observe the week in accordance with the national theme, Girl Scouting - 1980s Style," said Mrs. Nolen Swain, President of the Board of Directors, Caprock Girl Scout Council.

She further noted that Caprock Council would utilize the theme at the annual Reunion Luncheon, scheduled March 6 at the service center in Lubbock; the Girl Scout Fair to be held at Fair Park Coliseum on March 7; and in all troop activities the following week. Adults and girls from the eighteen county area will take part in the events.

Mrs. Swain also announced, in connection with the birthday, the selection this past week of two Girl Scouts for national opportunities.

Mandy Stavlo, daughter of Mr. & Mrs. Danny Stavlo, and member of Senior Troop 132, was selected to attend "Upstate, Onstage," to be held in New York City. Fifty participants were chosen from a field of 250 applicants for the drama event. Valerie Seymour, daughter of Glenys Hailey, Cadette Troop 2 will attend - "Ho West We Go," a wider opportunity sponsored by GSUSA and scheduled at the National Center West, Ten Sleep, Wyoming. Archaeology, horseback riding, geology, and photography will be emphasized.

The Reunion Luncheon will feature a program on Girl Scouting presented by Mrs. Graig McDonald, Ralls; and Mrs. Keith Strain, Mrs. John Mallory, and Mrs. James Burkeholder all of Lubbock. Mrs. W. C. Warren, also of Lubbock, will serve as hostess for the event. Reservations may be made through the service center, 2567 - 74th Street.

Scheduled 1 - 4:30 pm, March 7, at the fair Park Coliseum in Lubbock, the Girl Scout "Fair" will bring Girl Scout troops in the council together to share songs, folk games, folk arts, and contemporary program for the public. There is no charge for admission.

Caprock Girl Scout Council is member agency of the United Way of Lubbock.

Legislative Update

From Congressman Kent Hance

President Reagan submitted his long-awaited economic package to Congress and the nation during his State of the Union speech February 18. The package has two major provisions: the first is a 30 percent reduction in personal income taxes to be phased in by 1984, along with an accelerated and simplified depreciation schedule for businesses; the second is a major reduction in federal spending and federal programs. The slash in federal programs covered a wide range of areas from Medicaid and certain Social Security benefits to the postal service and Farmers Home Administration loans to farmers. The only major area exempt from spending cuts was defense, for which the President has proposed major spending increases.

SAFE FROM THE BUDGET AX Seven "basic" social programs have been specifically excluded by President Reagan from the proposed budget cuts. The areas the President says he will not cut include: 1) the basic retirement program of Social Security which benefits dependents and survivors as well as retirees; 2) the Medicare program; 3) Supplemental Security Income, which provides financial assistance to the blind, disabled or elderly poor; 4) benefits for veterans with service-related disabilities and for military pensioners-related disabilities; 5) the core of the school free lunch program; 6) Operation Head Start for disadvantaged children; and 7) the summer jobs for youths program.

FEDERAL SPENDING--The biggest issues facing congress this year will be in the area of reducing federal spending programs. It is important that all areas of federal spending be examined for possible spending reductions and that no area be forced to shoulder an unfair portion of funding cuts. I feel that most Americans are willing to make necessary sacrifices in order to bring government spending under control, provided the budget cuts are broad and do not favor any special interest groups.

BALANCED BUDGET--I have long advocated that the United States operate on a balanced budget. Last year I joined Texas Congress, am Ujo Ogra, on signing legislation which would have forced a balanced federal budget. Unfortunately, the bill failed by a few votes. This year, I am again co-sponsoring a constitutional amendment which would require a balanced budget except in cases of national emergency. Although President Reagan (like President Carter) has proposed achieving a balanced budget by Fiscal Year 1984, the Reagan budget projects a deficit of 145 billion in FY 1982 and of 122.9 billion in FY 1983. There are many of us in Congress who are pledged to balance the budget earlier than FY 1984.

SOCIAL SECURITY--The Social SECURITY SYSTEM WILL BE A MAJOR ISSUE BEFORE Congress over the next two years. Texas Congressman J.J. Pickle is Chairman of the House Subcommittee on Social Security and has begun committee hearings on the matter. While the system currently is fiscally sound, action will have to be taken by Congress this year to ensure the financial strength of the system. President Reagan and many others are proposing major changes in the Social Security system. While I am not currently endorsing any one proposal for changing the system, I am committed to ensuring that it remains financially sound. Allowing the system to go bankrupt would be the worst possible action for millions of Americans who have paid into the system for years.

1981 FARM BILL--Hearings will begin soon in the House Agriculture Committee on the new 1981 Farm Bill. The Farm Bill will be totally rewritten this year and will vitally affect farmers in Texas. Texas Congressman Kika de la Garza of South Texas is the new Chairman of the House Agriculture Committee and will preside over the full committee hearings. Congressmen Charles Stenholm, Jack Hightower and I plan to hold a series of field hearings in West Texas this spring to receive testimony on the new legislation. We hope to have an announcement soon concerning the time and location of these public hearings.

DOCTOR CARIÑO

Querido Dr. Cariño:

Porque los de aquí que dicen que son Chicanos no hablan el español como debe de ser. Yo soy de México y allá el mas pequeño habla el español mejor que cualquier persona Chicana aquí. Haber si usted que se las sabe de todas me puede dar una buena contestación. Gracias

Firma — Mexicano hasta las cachas

Querido Mexicano hasta las cachas

Sin embargo usted nos a hecho una gran injusticia a las personas de habla español en los Estados Unidos. La enseñanza de Español como segunda idioma no nos basta para llegar a hablar y escribir un español de uso universal. Entoces sin tener la enseñanza apropiada para llegar a este nivel. Hemos tenido que contentarnos con el dialecto que incluye el uso de anglicismos, arcaísmos, regionalismos, y todas esas palabras que se terminan con ismos. Además, como hispanoparlantes o chicanos hemos sido educados en inglés, vivimos mas o menos aislados del mundo de habla español y como resultado, se nos enseña el español en secundaria como si nos fuera un idioma extranjero. Cada día mas y mas se siente la necesidad de corregir esta enseñanza no apropiada y pasamos por alto los problemas lingüísticos que tenemos. No estoy como me guachol! Gracias y Buena Suerte
