MOODY EXPRESSES DOUBT AS TO CONSTITUTIONALITY OF ITEM RECENTLY PASSED

Staff Special.

AUSTIN, Aug. 1.—Gov. Dan Moody, today, after being informed by officials that he will veto the bill recently passed by the legislature to pay cotton growers of Howard and nine other West Texas counties for expense of possessing cotton in the pink bollworm restricted zone, to prevent its shipment. He will do so, he said, on the ground that it is unconstitutional to buy a claim that originated before the law authorizing its payment was passed. The $500,000 was for last year's claims only, it was said.

Moody to fix this year's claims so they may be paid has been set up, but officials said Wednesday the appropriation must be made at the January or other future session. No money was provided to permit the state to operate the sterilization plants, as is provided by law.

WORK OF GRADING ALL DIRT STREETS IN CITY STARTED WITH ARRIVAL OF MACHINES

A street grading program that will cover every dirt street in Big Spring was started here Wednesday when the city received its new tractor and grader for purchase of which authority was granted. V. R. Smitham, city manager, at the last city commission meeting.

The new equipment consists of one caterpillar tractor which cost approximately $2,500 and one Adams leaning-wheel grader costing approximately $1,070. The new grader has a regular eight-foot blade for use when new ditches are being formed or when dirt is being pulled into the street. In addition the new grader has two three-foot extensions to be applied when straight grading work is desired.

Mr. Smitham estimated six weeks or two months will be required to work all dirt streets in the city. First work was started on Eleventh Place, he said.

LEAHY MAY DIE TONIGHT

Moody Refuses To Interfere With Scheduled Execution

AUSTIN, Aug. 1.—Failing to obtain a reprieve from Governor Moody, attorneys for H. J. Leahy, condemned to die early tomorrow for the murder of Dr. J. A. Ramsey of Mathis, late today applied to the court of criminal appeals for relief.

The attorneys notified Olin W. Finger, clerk of the court, that they would have a petition to file and Finger summoned Judge F. L. Hawkins, only member of the court in Austin.

Governor Moody refused to delay the execution until October to permit the appellate court to act on an appeal from the Georgetown jury's verdict in the sanity hearing.

Musty Lock Box, KIRBY'S PHILLIPS WELL GIVEN LARGE SHOT SWABS 183 BARKETS IN SIX HOURS

Musty Lock Box, KIRBY'S PHILLIPS WELL GIVEN LARGE SHOT SWABS 183 BARKETS IN SIX HOURS

If a discovery made this week in the county judge's office, which a lock box unopened for more than 20 years, had been made in the first year of this century, the county's general fund would have been $212 more and W. R. Fisher, at that time county clerk, would have been saving considerable worry and figuring over a $212 shortage in the permanent school fund.

When the safe lock box was opened a rusty note dated November 13, 1888, was found. The face value of the note was $212 and in the lower left hand corner was written, "This note is property of Howard county permanent school fund."

It seems that a county judge in the early thirties, now deceased, borrowed $212 from the permanent school fund and gave a personal note payable to the county. The note was secured by personal signature. Before the note came due, the judge left town and in office died. The individual signing the original note as security made a new note payable to the county, but when payment was due, a creditor hunted the court house for the note, but it was never found until W. R. Fisher and H. R. Debusch, now county judge, pried into the safe box early this week.

Mr. Fisher, who has just returned from a motor trip into Oklahoma, Kansas and other states, spoke briefly, urging local Kiwanians to attend the Texas Kiwanis district convention in Tulsa September 2 and 3. Mr. Fisher stated that he learned on his trip that Tulsa is one of the best playground cities of the nation. Among its facilities, he said, is a dam that cost $6,000,000 which is located 75 miles from the city itself. It stores plenty of water for the city present needs and assures a supply to care for rapid expansion.

"I was told the people of Tulsa work together. We are down here but we want to visit. If I will pay us to advertise this town," Mr. Fisher said.

H. L. Mosely urged that the club help to insure all underprivileged children of the city a Merry Christmas this year with a large community Christmas tree and all the trimmings.

Lillian Coffey was appointed program chairman for September.

CLUB WILL HAVE FLOAT

Baseball Challenge Of Rotarians Accepted by Kiwanis

Discussion at Thursday's luncheon of the Kiwanis Club resulted in a decision to enter a club float in the street parade of the August Dedication program and to accept the challenge of the Rotary Club for a baseball game to determine the city service club championship.

W. R. Fisher was chairman of the day. Vice-president Henry Timmins was in the chair. Visitors introduced were Misses Gordon I. Phillips, Gerald Byrne and W. A. Earnest, and Merrill Jess Smith.

Joyce Fisher, who has just returned from a motor trip into Oklahoma, Kansas and other states, spoke briefly, urging local Kiwanians to attend the Texas Kiwanis district convention in Tulsa September 2 and 3. Mr. Fisher stated that he learned on his trip that Tulsa is one of the best playground cities of the nation. Among its facilities, he said, is a dam that cost $6,000,000 which is located 75 miles from the city itself. It stores plenty of water for the city present needs and assures a supply to care for rapid expansion.

A public health clinic for children of pre-school age will be held in Big Spring about August 15, it was announced Thursday by Mrs. Showalter.

Parents are asked to have their children examined for defects in order that corrections may be made before the opening of the school term in September.

An effort is being made to enter all children in school with any possible defects corrected. Healthy children learn more easily, the sentiment of the health staff, and efforts are being made to reach all parents by such clinics.

Children are examined free of charge by competent physicians and dentists and the attention of parents directed toward correction of physical defects found.

The report of the county health nurse for the month of July includes the following items: prenatal home visits, 10; natal visits, one; post natal visits, 9; infant and pre-school visits, 29; school age visits, 32; general case visits, 69; total home visits, 160.

Saturday Date For Finishing Paving Across Iatan Flat

The dirt covering must then be scraped off and shoulders built up along the highway. This will mean the entire job will be finished about August 21.

Winter Garden Follies To Be Presented Free

ABILENE, Texas, July 30.—Each evening during the six days of the West Texas Fair to be held in this city, September 23 to 28, Ernie Young's Winter Garden Follies, a metropolitan musical comedy production will give a free performance in front of the fair grandstand.

All people who enter the fair gates will be admitted without further charge to the grandstand show. This is somewhat of an innovation for a fair program, but the executives of the West Texas Fair have decided to break away from the old customs and give the people of this area something really big and interesting for this season.

The Winter Garden Follies program will be given on a stage 125 feet long. Elaborate settings, electrical effects and costumes are employed and there are 36 people in the company, including 16 chorus girls, all graduates of exclusive dancing academy in an American metropolis.

A stage band of 35 musicians will be used to play the musical scores that go with the program which will consume approximately an hour and a half each evening.

At present the Winter Garden Follies company is playing in the northwest. It started on tour July 1 with all new costumes and equipment and will come to Abilene well prepared for the week engagement here.

Practically all other features of the fair program have been completed, officials of the association say. Auto races, football games, polo matches and other attractions are included.

Women Fliers Await Big Cross-Country Race

More than 25 feminine pilots are expected to hop out from Los Angeles Aug. 18 in a race for women fliers, terminating at Cleveland, O., where the National Air Races will then be in progress. Seven of the best known women pilots now preparing for the race are pictured here: 1. Bobbie Trout; 2. Marvel Crosson; 3. Mrs. Louise Thaden; 4. Amelia Earhart; 5. Mrs. Florence Brines; 6. Lady Mary Heath; 7. Ruth Ider. En route stops will be made at Yuma and Phoenix, Ariz., El Paso, Abilene and Fort Worth, Tex., Wichita, Kas., St. Louis and Columbus.

By NEA Service
LOS ANGELES, Calif., July 30 (AP)—The greatest sporting event for women ever held anywhere will get under way at the Santa Monica airport here on Aug. 18, when 35 women pilots take off in a 2,200-mile aerial race to Cleveland.

This transcontinental air derby for women, the first of its kind ever staged, will be an eight-day affair, and will bring the women pilots into Cleveland on the second day of the National Air Races there.

Its course will take the women over 10 states and through 18 cities.

Starting at Santa Monica's Clover Field, the race will follow a southern route through New Mexico, Arizona, Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Missouri, Illinois, Indiana and Ohio. There will be 18 stopping points, and cash prizes totaling between $6,000 and $10,000 are offered for the winners. In addition, the first woman pilot to reach the Cleveland airport will receive a trophy, the "Symbol of Flight."

Some of the most famous women fliers in the world will be among the contestants.

Lady Mary Heath, whose aviation feats amazed all of England, will be one of the racers. So will Amelia Earhart, only woman to cross the Atlantic by plane; Ruth Elder, who nearly beat Miss Earhart to it, but was balked by motor trouble in mid-Atlantic and rescued by a cargo steamer; Miss Marvel Crosson, who holds the women's altitude record; Miss Bobbie Trout, who held the altitude record until Miss Crosson broke it—and many others of only slightly less prominence.

Sponsored by Exchange Club
This race, incidentally, is being sponsored by the Santa Monica Bay District Exchange Club, under the auspices of the National Exchange Club and the National Aeronautic Association; and the 48 control stops designated for the race are being planned, as far as possible, to fall in cities where there are Exchange Clubs, which can thus partake in the race themselves. Every plane in the race will bear the Exchange Club emblem.

An ingenious method of financing the race has been adopted by the Santa Monica club. Parking space for automobiles at Clover Field is being sold at one dollar per car to spectators desirous of seeing the start of the race, and accommodations for more than 2000 cars have been arranged. It is expected that at least 100,000 spectators will see the race begin.

This race will be a real test of the skill and armanship of the women pilots.
The crossing of the mountains in the southwest does not offer as many hazards as the more northerly routes, but it is no job for a novice. Under almost any conditions, 2,200 miles of cross-country flying can be considered a fairly stiff job for any but a professional aviator.
When the race was first proposed, the officials considered making a rule that each woman pilot be accompanied by a male mechanic, to take care of forced landings and the hazards of the trip wastes. The women, however, objected vociferously, and through Amelia Earhart, their spokesman, talked the officials out of it.

The rules now stand that the crew of each plane shall consist of a woman alone, or a woman pilot and not more than one woman mechanic or passenger. The woman riding as mechanic or passenger must be one who has never made a solo flight, and the use of dual controls will not be permitted.

Each of the woman contestants holds a Department of Commerce license and each has had at least 100 hours of flying experience, including 50 hours of cross-country flying.

According to present plans, the derby will be flown through the following cities:

Santa Monica, Calif.; San Bernardino, Calif.; Yuma, Phoenix and Tucson, Ariz.; Lordsburg, N. M.; El Paso, Pecos, Abilene and Fort Worth or Dallas, Tex.; Oklahoma City and Tulsa, Okla.; Wichita, Kas.; Kansas City and St. Louis, Mo.; Terre Haute and Indianapolis, Ind.; and Columbus and Cleveland, O.
Overnight stops are planned for Yuma, Phoenix, El Paso, Abilene, Fort Worth or Dallas, Wichita, St. Louis and Columbus.

HOUSTON'S WELL MAY HAVE LIME

Last Core Indicates Bit Has Penetrated Formation

Solid lime cored Tuesday morning from 2,392 feet to 2,403 feet in Houston Oil Company and others' No. 1 McDowell, northern Glasscock county test, indicated to operators and oil men that the "big lime" expected for the last 100 or more feet finally has been topped. The upper part of the last core showed some red sand and the lime was flaked with anhydrite, but it was generally conceded that main lime has been reached.

In spite of the fact that lime, if 2,392 feet is the top, is extremely low, some thought saturation may occur at lesser penetration of the lime than in other tests, which if true will not seriously retard chances for a producing well. However, if saturation is not encountered within the next 100 feet, most oil men believe there will be small chance of production.

Of three wells reaching lime tops in the northern Glasscock area, No. 1 McDowell, drilled by Houston Oil Company with other Associates, is the lowest reported to date. World's No. 1-C McDowell, discovery well, topped the permeation lime around 2,230 feet, and Luna Oil Company (Glasscock Brothers) reported lime top in No. 1 Turner at 2,150 feet.

Houston's No. 1 McDowell is one mile east and one-quarter mile north of World Oil Company's discovery well and is approximately one-half mile south and one-half mile west of Luna Oil Company's No. 1 Turner. Houston's well is being drilled with rotary equipment.

No. 1 McDowell is 330 feet from the north line and 2,310 feet from the east line of section 30, block 33, township 2 south, T. & P. Ry. Co. survey.

OIL OUTPUT DECREASES

Santa Fe Springs Field, California, Chief Cause

TULSA, Okla., July 30 (AP)—Halting a continuous upward climb which during the five weeks ending July 20 has resulted in an increase of approximately 170,000 barrels, the estimate daily average production of light and heavy crude oil in all fields of the United States during the week ending July 27 declined 13,529 barrels, according to the current report of the Oil and Gas Journal here.

The total heavy oil production for the past week was 438,984 barrels as compared to 445,435 for the week ending July 20.

421 HOURS AIR RECORD

St. Louis-Robin Pilots Receive Plaudits Of Thousands

ST. LOUIS, July 31 (AP)—Dale (Red) Jackson and Forest O'Brine today rejected professional theatrical offers which would have paid them handsomely. They did not announce future plans.

The known cash income of the fliers from their feat had amounted to $31,328.01, in addition to their salaries for the flight, hundreds of personal gifts and what was paid them by a newspaper syndicate for a first person story of their flight. The one cent was sent to them with a note of good-natured joshing by a friend.

ST. LOUIS, July 31 (AP)—After exceeding the old world's record for sustained flight by more than a week, Dale "Red" Jackson and Forest O'Brine brought the St. Louis-Robin to a perfect landing at Lambert-St. Louis field last night at 7:31:30 o'clock (C. S. T.), because they wished to attend the funeral services today of George L. Lambert, killed Monday with a student flier on a practice spin. They made the sky above St. Louis their home for 420 hours, 21 1/2 minutes and two weeks and a half.

The fliers' greatest thrill came, they said last night, as they watched the milling thousands below churn the dust of the field into a sticky gumbo as a hard rain descended about 6 o'clock.

A crowd estimated at 25,000 was at the field and easily broke police lines and a fence erected to protect the plane.

They cheered wildly and jammed about the hangar where Jackson and O'Brine were rushed. Employees of the Curtiss-Robertson company, sponsors of the flight, together with police, foiled souvenir hunters and the plane was towed with a tractor to its resting place beside the hangar.

was empty on landing. Several persons were injured, but none seriously as the cheering throng broke down a fence and surged through ropes to reach the fliers.

Away from the roar of their motor, the fliers rested today in a luxurious suite at their hotel. They were not weary, however, for the flight surgeon, Dr. A. C. Leggat, who examined them before they left the field, said they were in excellent physical condition.

A chamber of commerce luncheon for the fliers and their wives with the presentation of hundreds of gifts was the only celebration planned for today.

The Curtiss-Challenger motor which powered the Robin was providing maximum power perfectly when the fliers landed and would have continued for many hours without trouble, its designer, Arthur Nutt, chief engineer of the motor division of the Curtiss Aeroplane and Motor Company, said today after a preliminary examination.

The only mechanical defect noticed, he said, was very slight external gasket leaks, which resulted in negligence increase in oil consumption toward the end of the flight.

Major William B. Robertson, president of the Curtiss-Robertson Airplane Manufacturing Company which sponsored the flight, declared today that he was ready to sponsor Jackson and O'Brine in another endurance flight should the record be beaten.

Each pilot was enriched $15,672.50 as a result of the flight, not counting checks and cash mailed to them and their salaries as commercial pilots.

To that the St. Louis Municipal Opera decided to add $1 for each hour they were aloft.

They cheered wildly and jammed about the hangar where Jackson and O'Brine were rushed.

AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT IS FATAL TO R. E. BURCH

Victim One Of Last Officers Of Texas Frontier

R. E. (Bob) Burch, 71, chief of Abilene police, was injured fatally in an automobile accident on the Bankhead highway a short distance east of Trent late Saturday afternoon, according to advices to The Herald.

The veteran peace officer was one of the last survivors of a group which helped establish law and order in the Abilene country 45 years ago. He had resided in and near that city for 50 years, except for a period of ten years while serving as sheriff of Hale county.

Accompanied by Miss Minnie Andrews of Abilene who had known the chief many years, he had started to search for a man living near Trent whom Miss Andrews believed picked up a purse she left in a Merkel cafe last Sunday night, according to the story of Miss Andrews.

They had turned back from Trent when Miss Andrews sighted a man in a passing car she believed to be the one suspected of the theft. Chief Burch gave chase, driving eastward. As the Burch car, a Buick, came almost alongside the machine being followed an automobile loaded with negroes approached from the east.

Clay Davis, an Abilene salesman, was the first to reach the wreck and, aided by negroes who were in the passing car, extricated the unconscious officer. He was rushed in Davis' car to a Merkel hospital but died before arriving. Two girls took Miss Andrews from the accident scene to Abilene, it was reported. She escaped with minor scratches.

Mr. Burch, who left Abilene yesterday for a visit with his son and family in Oklahoma City, was notified of her husband's death only an hour after reaching her destination, it was learned.

R. E. Burch was assistant chief of police when the famous ex-Indian scout and Confederate veteran, John J. Clinton, died in 1921 after serving as police chief and fire chief for more than 30 years. Appointed to fill the unexpired term, Burch was elected in his own right three times. He was defeated for reelection in 1928 by J. T. Dodson. In the city election of April, 1929 he defeated Mr. Dodson and had served in his old position but three months.

Divorce Mill Barely Behind Cupid In County

Nineteen divorce actions filed in district court during July lacked five of balancing the matrimonial books as records show 21 couples filed notices of intention to marry during the period. Though it was a close decision Dan Cupid gained over the divorce mill, it was nevertheless a victory.

The 21 notices of intention to marry represent Cupid's first full month's work under hardships invoked by the new Texas marriage law, requiring notices to be on file at least three days before the county clerk has authority to issue a license. During the final 17 days of June ten couples made known their intentions to marry.

The last two applications for marriage licenses filed since Tuesday noon were made by Charles F. Schooling and Mrs. Etta Brogan, J. E. Hammond and Miss Vera Robinson.

Divorce suits led all classes of legal action filed in district court during the past month. There were 16 divorce actions included in 29 suits filed during July, according to records in the district clerk's office.

Four damage suits brought during July represent the closest competition to the divorce total. Other actions filed include: asking property receiver 1, to set aside action of the industrial board 3, suits on notes 3, to recover taxes for the state of Texas 1, taxtite for damages 1.
