KUIBYSHEV, Soviet Russia, Nov. 10 (AP) — Two of Moscow's most celebrated buildings, the Bolshoi theatre and Moscow university, are reported to have been damaged in German bombings.

Bombs fell in the theatre entry and dug a deep crater, broke some sculpture and cracked the front wall but left the marble column facade intact.

The university, adjoining the United States embassy building, was reported to have suffered a direct hit and much damage. The monument of Mikhail Lomonosov, post-scientist founder of the institution, was destroyed.

The embassy windows were broken but the embassy staff living at Spaso House is safe.

Census Shows Texas' Lead In Agriculture

Texas' leadership as an agricultural state is re-emphasized by the 1940 government census, a compilation of figures released today by the department of commerce show.

Not only is the state first in cotton and beef cattle production, but also in such off-the-beaten-track fields as berry production and spinach gardens.

The census shows that Texas ranks first in the nation in 24 important phases of agriculture, second in 15, and third in nine.

The state has the biggest monopoly in mohair production, supplying 88.8 per cent of the nation's total. The state has 82.8 per cent of the U. S. Angora goat population. Only 22.1 per cent of the nation's sheep and lambs are at home in Texas.

A lead is held in cattle and calves, but only 10.4 per cent of the nation's total is accounted for. Of the nation's cotton acreage, 35.5 per cent is in Texas, yielding only 23.7 per cent of the nation's total poundage.

Other "firsts" for Texas, with percentage of nation's total, include: mules and mule colts, 34; sheep shorn, 23; wool shorn, 21.7; turkeys raised, 12.3; total number of farms, 6.9; acreage in farms, 13; cropland harvested, 8.1; blackberries and dewberries harvested, acres, 23.7; pecan trees of non-bearing age, 43.7; pecan trees of bearing age, 31.2; dry onion acreage, 27.8; spinach acreage, 31.8; watermelon acreage, 20.5.

Cat Calls Police When Master Fails To Feed Her Liver

NEWARK, N. J., Nov. 10 (AP) — The telephone operator saw the light flash and asked: "Number please." There was no reply for almost a half hour and then she heard a scream.

A quick call to police headquarters and two radio cars sped to the scene, a butcher shop. They aroused butcher Leo Leonardo, who lived next door, and then with their hands on their guns four policemen broke in last night.

The receiver was off the telephone hook, but the room was empty—except for a cat.

"Now I remember," Leonardo said, "I locked in the cat and forgot to give her her liver."

Kuibyshev, formerly Samara, and now temporary capital of the U.S.S.R., was named in honor of the man who had won and defended it for the Soviet government.

THE WAR TODAY: British Second Front Due In Russia

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Herr Hitler's challenge to Britain to go ahead and try a land invasion of western Europe is a safe form of defiance.

He knows perfectly well that an English attempt at this juncture, while he is still strong and fully prepared along the coast, would be courting terrible disaster. At best, an attack in either direction—by the British against the continent or by the Nazis against England—would represent one of the most difficult military-naval operations of all time.

There's small likelihood that Britain will be able to stage a successful land invasion of western Europe unless and until the Nazi chief is bordering on collapse—or so it seems to me.

If Hitler with all his power hasn't been able to achieve invasion in England's weakness, what chance has Britain to do it while the Fuehrer still has superior strength?

In these a friendly breeze that will waft a British armada of transports lightly over the treacherous cross-currents of the channel, and yet keep the Germans from sailing to England? Or can John Bull pull out of his hat some magic invasion formula which is denied to the most powerful fighting machine of history?

The British will try invasion in due course, and so will Hitler. If there is any sort of fighting chance for success. However, you're safe in betting that if and when John Bull gets an army ashore, it will be after Hitler's forces have been weakened to the point of dissolution.

Napoleon was too smart to try it. Hitler has been too smart to try it thus far.

Where then are the British to strike? Does this mean that no land offensive can be undertaken—that they can't respond to Stalin's invitation to help Russia by opening up a new front?

Not at all. There is at least one exceedingly useful spot, and that's Northern Africa. The allies would have done a great stroke of business if they cleaned up Libya again.

British naval domination of the Mediterranean would seem to be working pretty well for such an offensive, judging from today's claim of the destruction of two axis convoys of ten ships and at least one destroyer (the Italians admit the loss of two destroyers). Those convoys probably were headed for Africa.

However, Britain's greatest land aid for the immediate future probably can be given to the Russians in the Caucasus, to keep the Germans away from the oil they need so badly, and to close the gateway against them into the Middle East. That is the crucial area at the moment.

From that operation might easily spring a great allied front in western Russia. That would seem to be the logical development, for the British already are well established in the Middle East. Indeed, it seems highly probable that the land war will develop in exactly that way.

Indian Political Leader Deserts

A statement made at a session of the council of state said that Bose signed a pact with the axis designed to lead to an invasion of India.

'Pass Punt And Prayer' Plus Fit Steers Go To S'Angelo Tuesday

Murphy Says B'Springers 'Look Good'

Womack, Shaw, Campbell To Be Rid Of Hurts By Tomorrow

"A pass, a punt and a prayer," that's how Big Spring's Steers are going to San Angelo tomorrow, according to Coach Pat Murphy. Game is called for 2 o'clock.

The Mentoring Mick is playing them close to his vest so far as the Armistice Day clash is concerned. He's ready and does declare that his boys are looking good and are 100 per cent prepared to go—he lets it drop there.

Big Spring is slated to be at full strength for the visit to the city on the banks of the Concho. Felix Campbell, end, is due to be in the ranks of the ready; Billy Shaw, guard, is raring to go after a tangle with his ailments; Billy Womack, back, is slated for gridiron activity despite a leg injury in the Plainview scuffle.

San Angelo must be considered the favorite—just considered, mind you. The Bobcats have won all but one of their conference engagements, but that one loss was something to talk about—Odesa trimmed them 43 to 6. Of course, Odesa did the same to Big Spring but not by such a margin.

A bumper crop of fans is expected to be in the Big Spring side of the stands when the game gets underway tomorrow afternoon. Partly to see the game, partly to give the Steers all-out support in a scrap that borders on the grudge classification. San Angelo is due to be out for blood—Big Spring will not be exactly on a vegetable diet.

Big Spring has been pointing toward the joust with the Bobcats since its victory over Midland. Holders of a '41 decision over the San Angelos on the local grounds, the Steers will be called on to cope with a club that has made a powerful showing in all but the Odesa tilt.

Counted on to keep the Bobcats in hole a good deal of the time will be Horace Bostick's accurate kicking. In the Plainview bout, Bostick was rushed considerably, thereby hurting his crack punting performance, but in other seasons he has managed to put the opposition in some rather uncomfortable spots.

Still hopeful about an aerial attack, the Big Springers may again try gains by that method. But, as in the last couple of years, most of the payoff efforts of the Steers will be conducted along the ground route.

Unbeaten S'water, Lufkin Meet Major Barriers Tuesday

Two of the state's unbeaten powers march against major barriers toward district championships in a brisk round of schoolboy football games on the Armistice Day schedule.

Mighty Lufkin, the piney woods juggernaut, plays at Nacogdoches and the winner will become top heavy favorite for the District 12 title although Henderson still is undefeated in conference play.

Sweetwater's Mustangs, undefeated and unlet, face Odesa at Sweetwater in a game regarded as the pay-off battle of District 3. Odesa, beaten but once and that by Lamesa, which gave Sweetwater a hectic night, could move into a tie for the leadership by butting down the Mustangs.

There also are big doings in the Panhandle where Pampa plays at Plainview and Borger at Amarillo. Three teams stand in the way of the Amarillo Golden Sandies in the rush to the District 1 flag and Pampa, already defeated by Lubbock and Plainview, which has not been beaten, are two of them.

Down in District 5 Gainesville plays Denison in the leveling off for a title batt' with Paris. Gainesville and Paris are undefeated. Denison has lost one game.

Two games are scheduled in District 9 with Brownwood at Breckenridge and Ranger at Cisco. Breckenridge and Mineral Wells are undefeated in conference play in this sector.

Tyler faces its arch-rival Longview in the drive toward a District 11 crown. Tyler is undefeated. Longview has lost one game.

Other games scheduled tomorrow are: District 3—Big Spring at San Angelo, Abilene at Colorado City, Lamesa at Midland; District 5—Sherman at Bonham; District 11—Texarkana at Marshall, Palestine at Athens; District 16—Kingsville at Robstown.

Only seven of the sixteen districts have undisputed leaders. They are Wichita Falls in 3, Sweetwater in 4, Yelinda in 4, Highland Park (Dallas) in 4, Mesquite Home in 7, Tyler in 11 and Austin in 15.

Leadership ties are: 1—Amarillo and Plainview, 5—Paris and Gainesville, 8—Sunset and Woodrow Wilson (Dallas), 9—Breckenridge and Mineral Wells, 10—Waco and Temple, 12—Lufkin, Henderson and Nacogdoches, 13—Jeff Davis (Houston), Sam Houston (Houston) and Lamar (Houston), 14—Comroe and Coors Creek (North Zone), Corpus Christi and Robstown, South Zone; Brownville, Edinburg, Harlingen and McAllen.

Remember Baylor In '37— That's Why Texas Was Tied Saturday

WACO, Nov. 10 (AP)—Downtrodden Baylor's 7-7 tie with mighty Texas—the nation's No. 1 football team—goes back to a Saturday afternoon in 1937.

But the happenings of that day spawned the spirit that last Saturday produced 1941's greatest upset in the southwest.

It was just five years ago that Baylor, too, had visions of Rose Bowl glory. Baylor had come up with a team hailed as the greatest in its history. In order to further extol its merits a nationally famous radio announcer had been obtained to broadcast the game with Texas.

Coach Frank Kimbrough declared that although he was not in a good position to say, his observation was that Texas was overconfident.

Lookin 'em Over

Those anguished cries and wrathful utterances issuing from down San Angelo way are not the sounds of calamity or invasion—not invasion, anyway.

Then, Abilene and Sweetwater decided to change their Nov. 28 game to the 27th, and Big Spring and Abilene left their's on the 28th in order to avoid conflict with college clashes.

It is easy to see why San Angelo should want the Sweetwater game in San Angelo Thanksgiving Day—it was indeed a lucrative prospect. But, without consulting other schools in the district, San Angelo proceeded to set the date for the holiday.

Then, the fact is that it is traditional for Big Spring to vie with Sweetwater on Thanksgiving Day. In the minutes of the scheduling season of the district fathers it was definitely stated that Sweetwater and Big Spring would meet on Thanksgiving Day.

San Angelo was scheduled to play Abilene.

For Third Straight Year Aggies Go Into Nov. Ahead Of Pack

By The Associated Press
Texas A. and M. is the Old Man River of Southwest conference football.

They jes' keep rollin', they jes' keep rollin' along. For the third consecutive year they have passed the first week in November leading the league, undefeated, one of the nation's top four teams.

For ten long years—from 1929 to 1939—the Aggies, back in the twenties parental powers of the Southwest, suffered worse than death. They were either pitiable or mediocre.

But loyal Aggie alumni never gave up. And now they are cashing in. In 1939 A. & M. won every game, including a Sugar Bowl victory over Tulane.

Last season they won ten games, including a Cotton Bowl victory over Fordham, but lost to Texas in a great upset.

They have won seven straight in the 1941 season—and with a new team. The record in three years—almost unprecedented—37 wins, one loss.

Saturday they meet a dangerous Rice team in Houston, the last hurdle before that Thanksgiving battle with Texas at College Station.

Last week they downed an inspired Southern Methodist machine 21-0 for their fourth conference victory. Again it was Aggie manpower—the never-ending stream which has been pouring into College Station since 1928—that whipped the Methodists.

S. M. U. journeys to the Ozarks Saturday to meet Arkansas. It will be homecoming in the mountains and that can mean trouble. Arkansas last 21-13 Saturday to Rice and hasn't won a conference victory. They'll be primed for the Methodists—primed to salvage something out of a dismal season.

Eleven People Killed, Fifty Injured In Train Wreck

Fast Limited Derails Near Kenton, Ohio

KENTON, O., Nov. 10 (AP) — A passenger train, thundering through the night at between 60-70 miles an hour, was derailed by a cylinder head blown off a freight train and piled up into a mass of twisted steel near Dunkirk. Eleven were listed today as dead. About 50 were injured.

Engineer R. S. Schuler of Fort Wayne, one of 48 persons to survive the wreck of the Pennsylvania railroad's "Pennsylvanian," said "something went wrong" just after he passed the freight train on his Chicago-New York run. He recalled faintly seeing a man with a flashlight.

In Chicago, H. E. Newcomer, vice president of the railroad, said the cylinder from the freight train blew out and onto the adjoining track "and before there was time to flag it, the Pennsylvanian, moving at high speed, on the eastbound track, struck the damaged cylinder head, derailing and turning over."

Passengers were tossed helterskelter out of seats and berths and into near-freezing temperatures. Wreckage was strewn along the railroad in the little community 10 miles north of here.

A control tower at the intersection of the Pennsylvania and New York Central lines was wrecked by the train, but two occupants leaped to safety. Tangled pullmans and coaches blocked both lines.

Speeding along at better than 60 miles an hour, the train's locomotive suddenly began "swaying back and forth" as it approached the crossing, said Roy Schwartzkopf, tower operator. Five of the cars upset. Only one remained on the rails.

The "Pennsylvanian" was the newest train on this division of the Pennsylvania, making its first run Sept. 28.

Most of the victims apparently were passengers in the third coach back of the locomotive. It literally was split and flung apart.

Several bodies were tossed from the coach along the right-of-way, said Guy Davis of Chicago, who was riding in a club car farther back.

John Sweasfeldt of Chicago, a passenger, said that he and other persons in a club car remarked that they thought the train was "running irregularly" after it left Lima, O., 26 miles west of Dunkirk.

He described it as feeling "like something hard was on the track." Kenton's two hospitals were so overloaded with injured that all doctors and nurses in the city reported for duty in treating the injured.

A relief train, made up at Crestline, O., was sent to the accident scene to take passengers to meet another train in Pittsburgh.

Schwartzkopf said the locomotive veered from the rails just before it passed the tower. The first car of the train jolted on past the locomotive. The second car rammed into the engine and was smashed.

Injured and dead alike were taken into Dunkirk's little wooden depot. Ambulances summoned from all neighboring communities hurried the injured to hospitals, and then returned for the dead who were lined side by side on the floor of the depot.

"Five mornings a week, nine months a year, we mothers of Texas get our children ready for school.

"In our home and a million other Texas homes, that's one of the first and most important duties of a mother's day. Sometimes Dad finds out what a job it is when he has to do it by himself."

All of us want our children to have the best education possible. Most of us look to the public schools for this.

Fortunately, Texas has the best public schools in the South. Helping to build and operate them is the Texas petroleum industry which pays 24 million dollars a year in taxes for school purposes.

These petroleum taxes pay an average of one-fourth the cost of educating our children. Altogether, they meet the entire expense of schooling nearly 400,000 Texas boys and girls.

In addition, oil has contributed substantially to the 70 million dollar permanent school fund. Oil is also responsible for much of the 30 million dollar permanent university fund, which has made possible the expansion of the University of Texas and A. & M. College.

Furthermore, taxes on petroleum products add another 11½ million dollars a year for the schools of our State.

Our children get a better education today because of the Texas petroleum industry.

The school board was being called into session Monday evening. In all probability consideration may be given to the petition presented by teachers asking a 10 per cent salary increase.

Opposed to this early meeting, the regular semi-monthly meeting of the city commission has been shoved from Tuesday back to Wednesday evening to avoid conflict with Armistice Day observances.
