Watson And Kelley Speakers At Conference

An informal conference at the regular meeting of the Big Spring Central Labor Council Wednesday night in which C. T. Watson, manager, and E. A. Kelley, president of the Chamber of Commerce went into detail as to that organization's attitude toward labor, particularly organized labor, was expected by attendants to result in vast benefits to the entire community.

Watson Speaks
"Any man who says the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce favors cheap labor is spreading a thing that is absolutely without foundation of fact," Mr. Watson declared.

He backed up his statements by reading from a sheaf of correspondence; letters from persons seeking employment here and copies of his answers.

These letters bore out his statement that in all cases, without exception, when a person or a firm writes here asking about prospects for employment or seeking an opening to establish a business "we have informed them that the situation here is well cared for, of course, in the case of oil companies, etc., etc., and other things that the city has not had until recently or does not have, we have done our best to get them to come here," Watson continued.

President Kelley
In an interesting address President Kelley of the chamber related experience as a Union miner in his youth and declared in no uncertain terms his belief in the principles of organized labor.

A. F. L. Man
Joe Omlar, publicity man for the American Federation of Labor, submitted a proposition seeking to advertise organized labor to the people of the city. No action was taken, a committee being appointed to handle the matter.

COLEMAN IMPROVES Covingtons Are Mum About Hiding Place Of Victim's Money

A decided improvement in condition of S. G. Coleman, victim of the Coahoma hi-jacking case late last Saturday night, was reported from a local hospital in which the man is recovering from fractured skull, broken jaw bone and severe lacerations about the face and scalp. It was the first encouraging report hospital attendants have released since Sunday.

Sheriff Jess Slaughter and Chief Deputy Andrew Merriek, who have conducted most investigations in the case since S. J. and J. J. Covington were returned and charged by Deputies D. D. Durn and B. F. McKinney, were out of the city today and others in the department did not state whether they were seeking other information in the Coleman case or working on other matters.

At noon today the $100 lost by Coleman while unconscious from blows over the head, had not been found. J. J. Covington and his brother S. J. Covington are being held in separate quarters in the Howard county jail and have not been allowed to converse with each other since arrested by Sheriff Everett Hughes of Callahan county in Baird last Sunday morning.

FLUID STANDS 1800 FEET IN MIDLAND WELL

Fluid in the Phillips Petroleum Company's No. 1 Stokes, Midland county wildcat, was gradually increasing as operators continued efforts to fish two strings of tools from the home today. The fluid column has extended up in the hole 1,800 feet, according to reports received here from Midland oil interests this morning.

Neither drillers or operators could say what part of the column is oil. Reports varied from a light slum to 200 feet. The showing was first noticed early this week when contractors were successful in recovering one of three strings of tools lodged in the hole.

LIONS ARE WELCOMED

Passage of a resolution welcoming the newly organized Lions club to Big Spring, pledging cooperation in mutual problems, a review of Kiwanis education, consideration of a Boy Scout movement and an entertaining musical program arranged by Louis Rix, featured the weekly meeting and luncheon of the Big Spring Kiwanis club held today noon in the First Methodist church.

The resolution complimenting the Lions Club here on organization in general was read by Garland Woodward and unanimously adopted by the Kiwanis club. Following an explanation of plans to organize a Boy Scout council in this region and a request that the Kiwanis club devote a part of its efforts to further the movement by G. T. Campbell, Dr. J. R. Dillard, president of the Kiwanis club, appointed a committee to meet in Colorado next Monday with men from other cities in this territory. Those named on the committee are the Rev. R. L. Construction To Begin Soon After Opening Of Bids In Dallas, Engineer Announces

An announcement anxiously awaited by all the people of Big Spring—that the Texas and Pacific Railway Company has set a date for awarding contracts for a portion of its stupendous local terminal construction program—was made this morning to The Herald through the division engineer of the road.

Plans and specifications for the new Big Spring freight warehouse, which will also house the agents' offices and yard office, have been distributed. They are returnable to the T. and P. general offices in Dallas Saturday, June 15, when contracts are scheduled to be awarded. The new freight depot will cover ground space measuring 40 by 355 feet, and part of it will be two stories high.

It will be completely fireproof, of brick, steel and concrete and will be the largest freight warehouse on the Texas and Pacific between Fort Worth and El Paso. The building is planned much as the T. and P. freight building in Abilene, except that it will be larger. The present freight building, a one-story wooden structure 40 by about 90 feet long, will be moved immediately. The building on the Texas and Pacific reservation located directly between the freight depot and the old Y. M. C. A. building will be moved northward against the paved platform. The freight depot will be moved westward to make way for construction.

GAS TAX IS APPROVED

30 Per Cent Decrease In Fees Provided By Measure

AUSTIN, June 6 (AP)—The house committee on revenue and taxation passed out favorably last night the Tillotson-Hubbard bill providing a 30 percent decrease in passenger car registrations, and a measure by Representative Tillotson imposing a four cent excise tax on gasoline.

The committee rejected a combination bill by Reps. Jack Keller, Dallas, and Ray Holder, Lancaster, placing a four cent tax on gasoline and slashing privately owned vehicle rates 35 percent. Under the bill counties would have been allowed to retain a maximum of $300,000 from registrations. Another Keller-Holder measure, creating a three cent fuel tax and a 35 percent cut also was beaten. Authors gave notice of filing a minority report.

The Tillotson-Hubbard registration bill, signed by 75 members, places all fees on a graduated weight basis. Passenger car fees are cut 30 percent and trucks, buses and motorcycles are taxed on the present schedule. Counties are given all fees from passenger cars up to a maximum of $250,000, with the remainder allotted to the state.

Representative Tillotson said the bill would yield approximately $5,250,000 from registration and that counties' proportion would be $9,250,000 in 1930.

Vardeman, nationally known authority.

The institute is devoted to breaking down barrier between town and country, creating good will and community spirit and stimulating business.

Cost of a three-day institute would be $300. The committee called into today's conference favored the Chamber of Commerce paying half the cost and merchants, whose employees would materially be benefitted by Mr. Vardeman's lectures, the balance.

Oklahoma Oil Men in Meeting

OKMULGEE, Okla., June 6 (AP)—Independent oil operators of Oklahoma gathered here today for a meeting called by W. E. Wood, president of the Independent Oil and Gas Association of Oklahoma, who asserted in calling the session the major oil companies have "stocked the cards" for the oil conservation conference opening Monday at Colorado Springs.

Wood said in a statement issued jointly with Ross D. Pine, brother of United States Senator W. D. Pine, who is seeking a tariff on crude oil, that the Colorado meeting "is a move of the major oil companies, including the Standard and Shell interests, to gain control of the American oil fields under the poorly disguised cloak of conservation."

Crystal City—Celebration will be held upon completion of Zavala's county courthouse.

Delos L. James Of U. S. C. C. Meets With Board

The group of business men and farmers making up the agricultural advisory board of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce met with Delos L. James, representative of the agriculture department of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, in a conference of cooperation, Monday afternoon in the district courtroom of the county court.

Mr. James covers the entire United States in his work and holds conferences in the largest agricultural centers in the country. He came to Big Spring from Pampa, Tex., to discuss the production of a fertile region and the diversity of crops in this territory and the general compatibility of climate and soil.

Mr. James suggested following these general lines: What is the major product of the region? (1) Cotton, and under the division he placed (a) Standard seed in order to get uniform staple length and standard type (b) Degree of fertility necessary (c) What to do with the product and by-products (2) Dairying (which is the logical answer to the last subdivision of division 1) with the following items to be considered (a) High grade stock (c) Proper feeding of stock (3) Poultry, with the same subdivisions that follow dairying.

Mr. James discussed equalization of the prices for the product and the marketing which would require co-operation between farmer and business man.

The speaker emphasized the importance of adhering to the standard seed and proper care of stock and poultry or produce in order not to produce inferior products.

In the round table conference which brought the meeting to a close, Mr. James outlined the methods by which business men and farmers may co-operate to supply local demands for product and to equalize distribution and prices.

The aim of the speaker is to make agricultural life more attractive in order to curb the exodus of desirable young people from the farms.

Such a migration to towns and cities will soon leave the farms with an inferior type of farmer, he said. He believes that the type of individual on the farms of today is better than the farmer of several years back and crops are being increased by the higher type of persons now living in the agricultural communities. Stocks have increased 15 per cent and general skill and ability by a greater percentage, due to the better type of modern farmer.

Mr. James suggested that a committee of business men meet with a committee made up of farmers in order to have mutual co-operation and understanding. The farmer is a business man, but the terms "farmer" and "business man" are used to differentiate the two types, the speaker pointed out. The business man is not trying to tell the farmer how to farm, but he is trying to find out how he may aid the farmer toward better results from his labor.

Would You Know One If You Saw It?

If you ever came face to face with a germ, would you recognize it? Of course it is not likely that you ever will see a germ, unless you own a tremendously powerful microscope, for you would have to magnify one over a thousand times to make it as big as a pin head. But you should recognize the fact that these tiny germs can get into your blood stream through the smallest cut, and give you typhoid fever, tuberculosis, lockjaw, blood poisoning, and many more dangerous and perhaps fatal diseases. There is one sure safeguard against these dangers—washing every cut, no matter how small, thoroughly with Liquid Boronox, the safe antiseptic. You can get Liquid Boronox at Cunningham and Phillips, and J. D. Biles.—Adv.

With lime encountered approximately eight feet higher than in any of six other tests in northern Crane County and with one million cubic feet of gas developed one foot in the lime, Gulf Production Company was not pessimistic over its No. 7 Waddell.

No. 7 Waddell is located 2,640 feet from the south line and 330 feet from the west line of section 10, block B-23. Gulf has drilled six other wells in the block four of which are producing oil.

Salt was topped in No. 7 Waddell around 1,198 feet which gave it a plus datum of 1,695 feet or approximately 81 feet higher structurally than any of the other six tests. Brown lime was topped at 2,972 feet and 1,000,000 cubic feet of gas encountered at 2,972 feet, which is also approximately 80 feet above the depths lime has been found in other wells in block B-23. The test has a surface elevation of 2,770 feet. Drilling had continued to 2,978 feet in lime without further increase in gas early this week.

LILAC TIME

Eighty thousand men, women and children, coming from twenty-one states in automobiles, special motor buses and by train, visited Highland Park in the city of Rochester, N. Y., on one recent Sunday.

Big prize fight? Aviation meet? Football game, or bathing beauty parade?

No, just an exhibit of lilacs and azaleas in full bloom. Highland Park contains one thirty-acre patch of nothing but lilacs—384 varieties, gathered from every corner of the world where lilacs grow.

That is why 80,000 men, women and children from 21 states visited Rochester on Lilac Day. They came to see the lilacs.

The bureau of agricultural economics of the United States department of agriculture has discovered that the farm hand isn't so poorly paid, after all.

LET THE PEOPLE KNOW

At regular stated intervals newspaper publishers are required by law to furnish the postoffice department with a sworn statement showing the names of the editor, managing editor, publisher and every person owning as much as one per cent of its stocks or bonds.

The fairness and justice of that law is apparent. Newspapers are public service institutions privately owned.

It was brought out in the recent federal trade commission inquiry that some of the newspapers owned by the power trust had not so declared their ownership. This fact was noted by the postmaster general in his annual report to the senate.

The public is entitled to know who owns its newspapers, hence the importance of keeping the sworn statements accurate.

OPINIONS OF OTHERS

REAPPORTIONMENTS

Houston Post-Dispatch: According to the constitution, representatives in congress shall be apportioned among the several states, according to their respective numbers, counting the whole number of persons in each state excluding Indians not taxed.

Naturally, disparities between population and representation have grown since 1920. It is estimated that, under the reapportionment scheme outlined in the census bill passed by the senate Wednesday, California will gain six seats in congress; Michigan, 4; Ohio, 3; New Jersey and Texas, 2; Arizona, Connecticut, Florida, North Carolina, Oklahoma and Washington, 1.

By increasing the membership of the house of representatives from 391 to 434 the reapportionment act of 1911 provides that no state should lose a representative. After the next census, however, congress faced a strong sentiment, shared by many of its members, against further enlarging the house.

It is a personal issue now to a still larger part of the house. Under a reapportionment based on the 1930 census and with the membership of the house remaining at 435, as suggested in the senate bill, 23 sitting members of the house would be retired.

It is possible, however, to make some enterprises more vital to begin with, more lasting and more genuine while they last.

He believes the Indian wards of the country have been progressing as rapidly as they can safely go.

"In 25 years there won't be any Indian problem," Hastings says. "Eventually the entire Indian population will be absorbed into the general population."

ation extended Mr. Watson and Mr. Kelley to appear before the council was a request of the chamber for data to be included in an industrial survey of Big Spring, which will be sent firms seeking facts concerning the community's buying power, stability, future prospects and other things.

Some members of the council had questioned wisdom of including the wage scales, total annual earnings and total membership of local unions in the survey. They expressed the opinion that dissemination of such information might cause an influx of inferior labor and to determine the exact use the chamber intended making of the data the visitors were invited.

Mr. Watson brought out that the survey is being compiled for the information of local business men as well as concern outside the city; that many insurance companies, loan concerns and other large groups seeking such data to guide their operations in the vicinity.

"However, if this council feels it would not like to have the wage scales in the survey we will be more than glad to leave it out. We could do so and not materially lessen the value of the survey. This information could be obtained from other sources but we would not think of including it without your endorsement," said Mr. Watson.

On motion of Elra Phillips the council's decision as to whether it would furnish the information desired was deferred until next Wednesday evening.

Several councilmen present expressed the opinion including this data in the survey would be advantageous to union labor.

In his address Mr. Watson said in part: "The Chamber of Commerce is attempting to do the things that are to the best interest of the community. In this work a multitude of opportunities arise. We have a lot of calls for general information about the town and surrounding territory. We have some literature for this purpose but it does not cover certain items such as payroll, house rent, utilities and freight rates. Our desire in preparing this second addition to the industrial survey is to be able to furnish such information."

"While talking of rates and wages I'd like to say something concerning a report I have heard a number of times—that the Chamber of Commerce favors cheap labor. I don't become offended when someone disagrees with me. I may be wrong or both of us may be wrong. I've had a few business men to ask why the Chamber of Commerce favors cheap labor."

"I had one of the girls in the office to look through the files and take out a number of letters and answers to calls for employment. This is not a selected list, except that it deals with labor."

"I think you can be of tremendous assistance in quieting these baseless statements. Here is a letting about farm work and employment of May 13 from Lampasas asking on public works and wages. The answer reads, 'There is a greater supply of labor here than demand. Rent is rather higher and apartments are scarce. I would not advise you to come here unless you obtain employment before starting.'"

"Another letter is from a barber. The answer advises that 'there are more barbers here than jobs'. We enclosed a list of barber shops. 'Here is a request from a non-union barber. The answer says 'I would not advise you to come here now. The local situation is well cared for.'"

Another letter informed the correspondent there were 400 union carpenters here; another only confirmed information, apparently already given the writer by the local carpenters' union that the labor supply met the demand.

"This 'cheap labor' rumor seems to break out anew when a large construction job starts. Thirty days or so ago, about the time the viaduct was started, a man came into my office and asked 'where are the 500 jobs the Chamber of Commerce advertised?'"

"Where did you hear such a report?" Watson said he asked the man.

"I read it," was the reply. "In what paper did you read it," Watson asked.

"I do not remember," the visitor said. "Do you have a copy of the paper?" he was asked.

"No." "Are you looking for work?" asked Watson.

"Yes, that's what I'm here for," said the man.

"Well, the Chamber of Commerce has $500 in its treasury. If you'll go get a bonafide copy of any newspaper or any other publication in which this chamber of commerce advertised one job I'll write you a check for that five hundred. You can get rich quicker that way than by hunting a job," Watson said he told his visitor.

NEW BIG SPRING HOSPITAL JUST OPENED

SWEENEY MADE HEAD OF PRORATION BODY

37,500 DAILY ALLOWANCE IS ADOPTED

WELLS, EXCEPT TWINS, WILL BE ALLOWED 90 PER CENT POTENTIAL

M. B. Sweeney, district superintendent of the Sun Oil Company, was elected chairman of the Howard county proration advisory committee in Dallas Friday afternoon succeeding R. T. Piner, Big Spring banker, who asked that his resignation be accepted due to urgency of other business interests.

Six members of the advisory committee met with E. D. Parker, supervisor of the oil and gas department of the Texas Railroad Commission, and E. E. Andrews, Howard and Glascock county proration umpire, according to information received in a communication with Mr. Andrews in Abilene late last night.

In addition to electing a new chairman, the committee voted to further extend the 37,500 barrel daily allowance from three deep oil producing horizons in Howard and Glascock county. In order to fulfill the allowed daily quota, the committee adopted Mr. Andrews' suggestion that all wells in the two counties governed by proration be allowed to produce 90 per cent of their potential gauges for the next 30 days, which will apply to the month of June, it was stated.

Twin wells, or leases of 40-acres on which more than one producing well is located, will be allowed only 50 per cent of their combined production, as has been the rule in the past.

Recommendations that the Amedeo Petroleum Corporation be allowed to use heavier pumping equipment in Roberts pool wells in an effort to control the water encroachment, were adopted by the committee.

Suggestion that some of the older wells in Howard county fields be allowed a shot in case where production is gradually dropping below a commercial basis, were discussed, but no action taken. Application to shoot wells will be handled by the individual producer and the Texas Railroad Commission through the proration umpire as has been done in the past.

G. E. Sweeney, son of the new location advisory committee chairman, lives in Big Spring.

cheap labor into the city.

"I asked him where he got such a report and from whom. He replied that he had 'just heard it'. The secretary continued, 'I named the 20 directors of the Chamber of Commerce and asked him whether he thought those men had any business sense.'"

"They certainly do," was the reply.

Which do you think would be worth more to business men of the city, one man making five dollars daily of two earning $2.50 a day?" was the question put by Watson.

"The man replied that the $5 man obviously was worth more to the business man, to the entire community and to himself and family."

"Don't you see that it would be absurd for any business man, and the Chamber of Commerce is your organization as well as anybody else's, to favor cheap labor," said the speaker.

"Without laborers a town cannot exist. Merchants must sell to the man who earns and the earner must produce. It is the industrial worker who brings new money into the community," he continued.

BERGDORF'S DEATH SENTENCE TO BE REVIEWED NEXT WEEK

The appeal of A. A. Bergdorf, sentenced to death in Howard county district court on charges of murdering Charley Wallace last October, will be reviewed before the court of criminal appeals in Austin June 12, according to information received in Big Spring by defense counsel, Tracy Smith and C. P. Rogers.

Charley Wallace was shot to death near the Fairview filling station, about eight miles north of Big Spring last Oct. 22. In connection with the shooting Bergdorf was sentenced to death of February 14. Motion for a new trial in district court was overruled February 18 and the defense filed a bill of exceptions April 30.

Defense attorneys are seeking a reversal of the case strictly on alleged improper arguments of District Attorney George Mahon, who, it is set out, employed argument in his closing speech tending to influence and prejudice the jury. Statements charged to Mr. Mahon that seeking employment he is given the courtesy every person is entitled to. In many instances we send them to union officials," he concluded.

"One of the bodies that disgusts me most is the United States senate," said E. A. Kelly, "and, some of the greatest strokes toward human freedom that have ever been made in this country have been by the textile workers of New Jersey. Human rights are going to be recognized."

"In the Chamber of Commerce I've never heard a man even distantly allude to cheap labor being wanted. No sensible business man would favor it. I believe in a wage scale to meet normal needs and a bonus when necessary to carry employees through an abnormal period of high cost of living. I think it is something of a joke that business men would favor cheap labor. It would be self destruction."

Favors Forum. "I think we should have some forum, in which directors of the Chamber of Commerce and our council could get together and discuss their mutual problems. In that way misunderstandings could be easily ironed out, as this one seems to have been tonight," said Mr. Kelly.

Mr. Watson also explained the attitude of the United States Chamber of Commerce relative to union labor. He said that the American Federation of Labor brought pressure to bear on the United States Chamber of Commerce and that organization mailed to 3,000 local chambers of commerce questions as to their attitude toward labor; whether any distinction should be made between union and non-union labor. A majority of the local chambers answered that they felt no distinction should be made. Mr. Watson reported. The answers to the question were local ones and did not form the United States Chamber's policy, he pointed out, adding that the attitude of the chamber in one town could not logically be taken as that of another local chamber.

RAINFALL IN MAY 3.16 INCHES

Month's Moisture Is Half Inch Above 8-Year Normal

Rainfall during April totaled 3.16 inches, according to the gauge kept at the government farm, Fred Keating, superintendent stated. The month's moisture, which followed a very arid April, was sufficient to start planting in earnest and farmers declare that, barring further precipitations, the crop will be completely planted in ten days. Last month's rainfall was exactly one-half inch above the average for May during the past 29 years. May of 1928 was the wettest since 1899, when the available record was started. May a year ago saw 10.10 inches of rain fall. Average annual rainfall for the past 28 years is 18.80 inches. This year's total is running practically normal.

Worried Night after Night as health declined

"I suffered frequently from nervous headaches, and I could not sleep well," says Mrs. Cora Dover, R. F. D. 2, Hickory Grove, S. C. "I was thin and pale. I was so weak I could scarcely walk."

"I tried several remedies but nothing seemed to help me. Night after night I worried because I could see I was going downhill. I had my children to look after, and I was afraid of what would become of them if anything happened to me."

"I began to take Cardui. It wasn't long until I was beginning to pick up. My strength gradually began to return. I rested better at night and was less nervous. I took several bottles of Cardui, and when I had finished taking it I was in fine health."

NEW TEXAS MARRIAGE STATUTE TO BECOME EFFECTIVE JUNE 12

After one week from tomorrow, the license county clerks, county judges and justices of peace in Texas can go to bed at night without fear of being aroused in the wee sma' hours of the morning to issue marriage licenses or to perform the rites of matrimony.

The new Texas law, passed at the last regular session of the legislature, requiring parties desiring to unite in marriage to have application for marriage licenses on file not less than three nor more than thirty days before county clerks can issue the permit, goes into effect June 12, one week from tomorrow.

Record books marked "Notice of Intention to Marry" have been received by James I. Pritchard, Howard county clerk, together with blank doctor's certificates stating that the male is free from venereal disease. On each page of the intention to marry record, is an affidavit blank which must be filed in stating the age and residence of both contracting parties. In case either of two contracting parties is absent, a third person must make affidavit stating the age and residence of the absent parties.

County judges are empowered to make affidavit for orphans without guardians as to their age and residence. If no legal objection is entered as to why a marriage license should not be issued within the three day minimum period, the county clerk is empowered to issue the license. When passed by the legislature and approved by Governor Moody on Feb. 23, 1933, the measure argued that the system has been in effect in California and that Texas was in no measure to halt hasty marriages. Numerous cases in which the parties had secured marriage licenses bought to attention of the legislature with the result that the law was passed.

"So you've come for your... well we'll let Her decide"

As the words of his wife's letter burned in his brain, it seemed impossible that Janet could have written it. No word of endearment, not even a hint of regret. And they had been so gloriously happy.

Two days later he had traced and found her in a hotel room—but how changed since the day she had fled! How she clung to him, sobbing, refusing to explain, pleading frantically for him to go.

"He may come any minute," she cried. "He will kill you—kill us both. For myself I don't care. I want to die. But I won't sacrifice you. There are things I can't explain. I love you, I swear it. You are everything in the world to me, but—"

The door opened. A tall, well dressed man entered. His eyes flashed with anger; his voice was a stinging lash of scorn.
