U.S. JUNGLE FIGHTERS CAPTURE MUBO

950 Defenders Of Salamaua Gateway Killed During Battle; Brilliant Air Victory Scored

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, July 16 (AP)—Outwitting the wily Japanese at his own jungle game of stealing up from behind, American and Australian fighters of Gen. Douglas MacArthur possessed the Mubo gateway to Salamaua today after wiping out 950 surprised defenders in a brilliant maneuver in New Guinea.

The abrupt collapse of hill positions bestride which the Japanese for months barred the way along the jungle track leading to their Salamaua air base, 12 miles to the north, was announced in a communique which also recorded a spectacular air victory.

Wallace, Jones Are Stripped Of Powers

WASHINGTON, July 16 (AP)—Sharply denouncing the row between Vice President Wallace and Commerce Secretary Jesse Jones, President Roosevelt stripped both of broad powers and served notice today that anyone else in his official family who feuds in public will be fired.

For almost three weeks, Mr. Roosevelt watched—as he said with surprise—Wallace and Jones alarm each other in print over methods of stockpiling strategic war materials.

Last night, in about the same vein that he pronounced "a plague on both your houses" when rival labor unions were warring a few years ago, the president cracked down. In a sweeping order, he:

1. Abolished the board of economic warfare (BEW), of which Wallace was the policymaking head.
2. Took away from Jones' Reconstruction Finance Corporation (RFC). Four major agencies dealing with foreign purchasing.
3. Established a new Office of Economic Warfare (OEW) with Leo T. Crowley, 53-year-old alien property custodian, as the director.
4. Told all administrative officials that any time they disagree with another agency and "feel you should submit it to the press, I ask that when you release the statement for publication, you send me a letter of resignation." Minor officeholders who violate this are to be dismissed by their superiors promptly, the president added.

Mr. Roosevelt emphasized he was not deciding who was right in the battle which flared into the open June 29 and grew hotter and hotter by the day.

Both principals accepted the president's rebuke without argument.

Wallace commented: "In wartime, no one should question the overall wisdom of the commander-in-chief."

Said Jones: "I concur most heartily in the president's determination to have harmony and cooperation. The (new) director will find the affairs of all RFC agencies engaged in foreign purchases in excellent condition. . . . Functioning with a maximum of efficiency and at a minimum of expense."

President's Move May Leave Milo Perkins Jobless

WASHINGTON, July 16 (AP)—A Board of Economic Warfare spokesman said today President Roosevelt's action in reorganizing the BEW into an Office of Economic Warfare undoubtedly means that Milo Perkins of Texas, BEW director, is out of a job.

This authorized spokesman said merely he did not expect much to be going around BEW today, adding: "Mr. Perkins was fired yesterday, and that seems to be all there is to it."

The spokesman said he did not know whether Perkins has submitted a formal resignation, but he added there is no room for doubt that the executive director considers himself out of a job.

The spokesman said he interpreted Mr. Roosevelt's action as putting the activities formerly in the hands of Vice President Wallace under Stabilization Director James F. Byrnes and those held by Perkins under Leo T. Crowley, newly named director of the OEW.

Neither Perkins nor Crowley could be reached for comment.

Mubo Captured—United States and Australian forces against the Japs (flag symbols and arrows) on the New Guinea left flank of the new South Pacific offensive, Gen. MacArthur's headquarters said in a special statement Friday.

Attack On Texas Law—CIO's Request For Injunction Refused

AUSTIN, July 16 (AP)—District Judge J. D. Moore today refused to grant the application of the Congress of Industrial Organizations (CIO) for a temporary injunction restraining enforcement of Texas' recently enacted labor union regulation law.

The CIO joined the American Federation of Labor in an attack on the constitutionality and validity of the law, which does not become effective until midnight, Aug. 9.

The suits however were filed under provisions of the declaratory judgment act, which makes possible adjudication of bona fide disputes prior to the filing of any actions alleging violation.

The A. F. of L. attack on the law was filed June 19. While the C. I. O. case is a separate one, it was considered likely that Judge J. D. Moore of the 98th district court, in which the suits were filed, would hear both jointly.

Judge Moore yesterday ordered a hearing Aug. 23 in the A. F. of L. suit. Attorneys were conferring with him today as to what procedure would be followed.

The CIO suit was brought by the Texas State Industrial Union Council, I. R. Gray, president; the United Automobile, Aircraft and Agricultural Implement Workers of America, R. J. Thomas, president; and two Texas local unions.

Small Lots Of Unrationed Shoes Due For Sale

Starting Monday and through the remainder of July, shoe buyers will have an opportunity to purchase a limited quantity of obsolete and odd lot shoes without surrendering ration points.

The shoes represent fixed percentages of dealer stocks at specified mark-downs. According to Joe L. Higginbotham, regional shoe rationing officer, only 1 per cent of men's dress and work shoes, youth and boys' shoes may be sold by an establishment. Other percentages include four percent of women's shoes, two percent of children's, and infants' shoes and two percent of other rationed footwear.

There has been some effort exerted to have OPA officials list the percentage factor, but thus far without success.

Dealers may not charge more than 10 percent above actual cost of the "odd-lot" shoes, and any unsold at the end of July must be returned to stock for sale with ration stamps. Regular shoes will continue to require stamps.

Over the nation it is estimated that 18,000,000 pair of shoes will be made this available for the market without ration points.

New Blows Are Dealt Nazis On Orel Front

MOSCOW, July 16 (AP)—The Russians struck fresh blows at the Germans today from points 37 miles north and 25 miles east of Orel, sending elements of ten Nazi divisions reeling back and scattered in rain-soaked forests and fields.

Other Red divisions whittled down the minor German gains in the Belgorod bulge some 165 miles.

LONDON, July 16 (AP)—D.N.B. German news agency, said in a broadcast from Berlin tonight that the Russian army attacked this morning in the area near Leningrad after a violent artillery preparation. The agency said the attack met with fierce resistance and was repelled.

to the south and repulsed all fresh enemy attacks which contained a furious pace, dispatches said.

A German tank losses had reached of the enormous toll of 3,032; 1,586 planes had been destroyed; and upwards of 54,000 men had been killed or captured in the 13 day battle of attrition, on the basis of official Russian estimates.

(The German communique persisted in calling the Russian offensive north and east of Orel "relief attacks" but said the drive was on a 90-mile front between Orel and Sukhinich. The Berlin broadcast said 330 tanks and 48 planes were destroyed there yesterday. The Nazi command asserted that their army made additional gains north of Belgorod and encircled a strong Soviet group. Russian counterattacks were said to have weakened.)

In a special communique last night announcing the counter-offensive launched three days ago, the Russians said their swift thrusts north and east of Orel, 200 miles south of Moscow, had resulted in a 28-mile advance that recaptured 110 towns, left more than 12,000 Germans dead and destroyed 109 Nazi tanks, 294 planes and 47 guns besides capturing piles of supplies.

The special bulletin said the column attacking from the north of Orel had penetrated 28 miles into the German line to within 18 miles of the Orel-Bryansk railway and the other column driving from the east had pushed ahead 15 miles on an 18-mile front to within 23 miles of the city.

In the Belgorod area at the southern end of the active front, where the Nazis registered minor gains at the start of their offensive on July 5, the Russians said the Germans threw more men and tanks into the fighting in a renewed effort to crack the Red army's defenses but declared the attacks had been repulsed.

The Russians said their counter-offensive began at dawn with a heavy artillery barrage and that German defenses in the Orel sector had been broken at several points by 2 p. m.

that age monthly may prove indicative.

2. An indefinite number will be "recovered" from the pool of 2,976,000 men rejected before because of physical, mental, educational or moral disqualifications.

3. Many of the 705,000 single and childless married men now holding occupational deferment for farm work are likely to be called by local boards after the harvest season ends.

4. Occupational deferments for non-agricultural work expire constantly and most of this group of 1,373,000 are single or childless married men.

On the other hand, it was said, only unexpected development can continue immunity for fathers throughout a prolonged war.

More than half the total of 22,184,000 draft registrants 18 through 37 either have entered the armed forces already or have been rejected as unqualified.

The armed forces already have a strength of 9,200,000 men and women and, though casualties thus far have been considerably below the allowance made for them in military plans, the officially projected size of the armed forces is 10,800,000 by the end of this year and 13,300,000 by the middle of next year, largely as the result of naval expansion.

Air Fleets Blast Naples; 12 Towns In Sicily Taken

Nazi Divisions Fall Before British Drive

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, July 16 (AP)—The hard-punching British Eighth army was reported within 15 miles of Catania in a northward surge up the Sicilian coast today after falling upon two German armored divisions and severely mauling them.

Allied headquarters announced the capture of 12 more towns, as Americans, British and Canadians advanced all along their moon-shaped front and more than 20,000 prisoners were in Allied hands when Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's veterans administered another whipping to the Hermann Goering and 15th German armored divisions.

The American Seventh army of Lt. Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., seizing a number of towns on the western sector, some of them of the greatest strategic importance.

This time Montgomery fell upon the Germans north of Lentini, where the axis had gathered important armor for a strong counter-attack, and smashed them back.

Observers believed the enemy had staked his all on counter-attack. With an "appreciable number of tanks" already in Sicily, observers were confident the German tank forces would be dealt with, and that thereafter the enemy would be obliged to fight a defensive rearguard action while conducting a withdrawal from the island.

The axis appeared powerless to keep the Allied fleet in check as it gave strong seaward support to Montgomery's right flank and bombarded the enemy's coastal positions at will.

The 15th German armored division was believed to be a collection of German units which had been assembled to go to Tunisia before its fall. It was then given the name of the enemy division that was wiped out in the Tunisian fighting.

Continuation of the advance from Vizzini would quickly menace the towns of Militeello and Scordia at the western entrance of the Catania plain. At Lentini the British already were fighting at the southern edge of that plain.

Surging ahead toward Catania, halfway up the east coast, in a drive to chop off Messina, possible evacuation port, the veterans of Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery "made further progress against German troops who desperately contested every inch of the ground," said today's communique from Allied headquarters.

Physicians Urged To Be On Alert For Polio Cases

AUSTIN, July 16 (AP)—The state department of health today urged physicians to be on the alert and prompt in diagnosing cases of infantile paralysis in order to facilitate recovery of patients.

"Early recognition of this infection may contribute to a favorable outcome through early institution of the Kinney and other treatment procedures," Dr. George W. Cox said in his weekly bulletin to health officers.

The department reported these communicable diseases, in addition to infantile paralysis, considerably over the seven year median (first figure for week of July 10, second figure median):

- Dysentery 449 and 173; influenza 295 and 90; measles 118 and 85; meningitis 7 and 1; pneumonia 145 and 35; whooping cough 3.6 and 116.

Under or near the seven-year median were: diphtheria 16 and 13; malaria 183 and 216; tuberculosis 44 and 46; tularemia 0 and 2.

Earlier this week the department announced 90 new cases of infantile paralysis were reported for the week of July 10, compared with the seven year median of seven.

'ULTIMATUM' IS ISSUED BY CHURCHILL, FDR

WASHINGTON, July 16 (AP)—President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill today gave Italy her choice—to surrender honorably, or be blasted out of the war.

In a virtual ultimatum, the Allied leaders said the time has come for the Italian people "to decide whether Italians shall die for Mussolini and Hitler—or live for Italy and civilization."

The statement added: "The skies over Italy are dominated by the vast armadas of the United States and Great Britain," and "Italy's sea coasts are threatened by the greatest accumulation of British and Allied sea power ever concentrated in the Mediterranean."

In a joint statement issued simultaneously at the White House and in London (at 6 a. m. Central War Time) the two Allied Nations leaders told the people of Italy that the sole hope of Italy's survival "lies in honorable capitulation to the overwhelming power of the military forces of the United Nations."

"If you continue to tolerate the fascist regime which serves the evil power of the nazis, you must suffer the consequences of your own choice," the statement said.

With Allied forces sweeping across Sicily toward the Italian mainland, the president and British prime minister in their message broadcast to Italy from Algiers and other adjacent Allied points, said they could take no satisfaction in invading Italian soil and bringing the tragic devastation of war home to the Italian people.

They added that they were determined, however, to "destroy the false leaders and their doctrines which have brought Italy to her present position."

The release of the joint statement, which followed several informal invitations in recent months that Italy get out of the war, was the signal for a propaganda drive which included the dropping of thousands of leaflets on Italy by Allied bombers in addition to beaming the message to the people of Italy by radio.

Asserting that Germany's hopes for world conquest "have been blasted on all fronts," the joint statement declared the skies over Italy are dominated by vast Allied air armadas and Italy's coasts are threatened "by the greatest accumulation of British and Allied seapower ever concentrated in the Mediterranean."

"Every moment that you resist the combined forces of the United Nations—every drop of blood that you sacrifice—can serve only one purpose; to give the fascist and Nazi leaders a little more time to escape from the inevitable consequences of their own crimes."

The 60-word message concluded: "The time has now come for you, the Italian people, to consult your own self respect and your own interests and your own desire for a restoration of national dignity, security and peace. The time has come for you to decide whether Italians shall die for Mussolini and Hitler—or live for Italy and civilization."

Rep. Summers Is Business Club Meeting Speaker

Pointing out that people need to participate more than they do in their government, Representative Burke Summers spoke to the American Business club at luncheon Friday at the Settles hotel.

The speaker declared that congressmen want to know what the people back home want and that their authority is merely delegated authority from the people. He urged that men and women should exercise their voting power to keep the democratic form of government.

Past President Charles Girdner was presented with a past president's pin by Jack McGinn, club head. Report on the club victory garden was given by Douglas Orme.

Roy Reeder was in charge of the program and R. H. Ryle was named by the president to be program chairman for the year.

Guests included the speaker, C. B. Breedlove, Haskell, and T. C. Jones.

Key Italy Port Left In Ruins After Attack

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, July 16 (AP)—The great Italian mainland port of Naples lay in smoking ruins today, crushed under one same staggering Allied aerial assault that virtually wiped Messina from the soil of Sicily the previous day.

Twenty-four solid hours of bombardment by the heaviest bomber formations from North Africa left Naples, fountainhead of enemy reinforcements and supplies for Sicily, a blazing inferno, its arsenal all but demolished and smoke rising more than 20,000 feet over the stricken city.

The Allied aerial offensive was spreading deep into Italy itself. While Naples was bearing the brunt of yesterday's smothering attack, American Liberators bombers from the Middle East tore into two important enemy airbases in southern Italy by daylight and heavy RAF Lancasters swung down over the Alps from England to pulverize communications in northern Italy.

Medium bombers and fighter-bombers scourged the enemy in Sicily by night and day, raking road and rail communications and giving tight overhead protection to Allied forces fighting in the south and east of the island. Sixteen enemy aircraft were destroyed during the day, an Allied announcement said, against the loss of seven Allied craft.

The allies' famous one-two punch, delivered by four waves of American Flying Fortresses in daylight and by the RAF's sturdy Wellingtons at night, was employed to give Naples a tremendous battering.

The 24-hour bombardment was described here as comparable to the previous day's "annihilation" attack on Messina, gateway to the Italian mainland, which literally destroyed an area two miles long and one mile wide.

Aerial photographs showed that an ammunition train had exploded in the Messina port area. Doekls, warehouses and locomotive sheds still were seen burning furiously on the neck of land that sticks out within three miles of the Italian peninsula.

"You get the impression that the whole of Sicily is slowly burning up," said a crewman of an American medium bomber, one of hundreds that swept the island from dawn to dusk. "Targets are becoming scarier by the hour."

NEW YORK, July 16 (AP)—Wendell L. Willkie will be a candidate for the 1944 Republican Presidential nomination—if Col. Robert R. McCormick publisher of the Chicago Tribune enters the Illinois preferential primary next April.

The 1940 GOP nominee showed his hand yesterday, challenging McCormick to a campaign for the Illinois primary vote.

Willkie, in an interview, was asked: "Have you seen reports that Colonel McCormick may run in the Illinois primary for the Republican presidential nomination?"

"Yes," was his written reply. "I certainly hope it is true. For then I could really make the issue clear—the greatest issue of the day—American relations to the rest of the world and liberal internal domestic policies."

Asked if he would accept an enter other preferential primaries, Willkie said that he could be decided later. His present plan is to make a complete survey in January, then decide future moves.

McCormick has not commented on the request that he enter the primary, made July 1 by the Republican nationalist revival committee, a recently organized group with an announced aim to help maintain the Republican party as the "nationalist party" in American politics.

Carriage Trade: Sister says there is nothing like a cordurella pinafore for pramming her doll in the park.

Downtown Stroller

The Main Street "river" was the subject Mrs. F. F. McGOWAN was discussing the other morning. It does look like a small stream after a rain on the main drag, all right.

Pulling one of our favorite stunts was IKE MCGANN so he reported the other morning over a cup of breakfast coffee. The alarm went off, he turned it off, and went peacefully back to sleep. He was rushing to make up for lost time when we saw him.

Mrs. W. R. DOUGLASS really called our bluff the other day. We had been moaning about lack of sympathy over our broken toe so she sent us a bouquet of flowers from her garden with a card wishing us a speedy recovery!

We have an apology to make to Mrs. EDITH STAMPER. Her daughter's name is FRANCES, and seems we persist in calling her FRANCES too. From here on out we'll keep jogging our memory and see if we can't do better.

It is really amazing and quite gratifying to see the way the men and women responded to the ration board's plea for help in issuing new A books. The other day there were ten of these volunteers working like mad and getting the job done.

Former sports writer JACK DOUGLAS, now a lieutenant in the army and stationed in Africa, wrote back a travelogue of the places he has been recently. There is even one town in Africa which he says, he hopes some day to be able to go back and visit. It is a French town and one of the prettiest spots he has ever seen, he says.

Rickey Now Prepared To Oust 'Muscles' Medwick

Chicago Cubs Whip Cincinnati Reds 8-0

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

The bums rush is on in Brooklyn for fair and this time the heavens are about to go to Joseph Michael (Muscles) Medwick, the once celebrated outfielder whose usefulness to the Dodgers, like that of Louis Norman (Bobo) Newsom, apparently has come to an end.

When the ball club left New York last night for a three-weeks trip away from the stormy scene of insurrection at Ebbets Field, Medwick was left at home.

Although the maneuver was shrouded in mystery by club officials, no mirrors were needed to see behind the veil of Branch Rickey's house-cleaning.

Having moved to wipe out the rebellion against the manager, Leo Durocher, by trading Newsom to the St. Louis Browns for two antiquated pitchers, Fritz Ostermuller and Archie McKain, Rickey has 26 players on his roster, one over the limit, and was compelled to get rid of another man.

His choice of Medwick was connected only indirectly with the rebellion. Rickey had been trying to dispose of him ever since becoming president of the Dodgers last November.

The Dodgers, while idle, even gained a half game on the Cardinals, who were whipped 4-3 at Pittsburgh last night as Maurice Van Robays, just returned from a minor league whirl at Toronto, collected a double and two singles to lead a 14-hit attack on Max Lanier.

The Chicago Cubs bunched five runs in the third and three in the eighth to crush the Cincinnati Reds 8-0 behind the four-hit hurling of Hiram Blithorn. Bill Nicholson hit his 12th home run with two on in the eighth. The spree interrupted the winning parade of Elmer Riddle, who had won nine of his last ten games.

The Phillies pounded a 9-1 victory out of the New York Giants as Richard (Kewpie) Barrett pitched steady seven-hit ball. The only run against him was a homer by Buster Maynard.

In the American league Orval Grove attained his eighth triumph without defeat by pitching five-hit ball as the Chicago White Sox downed the Detroit Tigers 7-4.

Washington whipped the Boston Red Sox 4-3 with Bob Johnson driving in three runs, two of them on a homer. Each team made five hits, but the Red Sox bunched theirs for three runs in the second before Alex Carrasquel came in to pitch seven innings and get his tenth victory.

The St. Louis Browns stopped the Cleveland Indians 2-1 in the only game played in daylight. A home-run by Vernon Stephens, his 18th, accounted for both Browns runs and a round-tripper by Ken Keltner produced the Tribe's tally, although Steve Sundra pitched a four-hitter.

CHICAGO, July 16 (AP)—Major John L. Griffith, Big Ten athletic commissioner, believes the number of men turning out for summer football practice in the conference is "very satisfactory," saying that some of the coaches previously had been fearful of the manpower situation.

"Minnesota had 60, Ohio State more than 50, Iowa has over 40, Wisconsin 70 and Northwestern at least 60," he said. "I asked one pessimistic college man if they wouldn't have as many candidates as when the game started at his school and he answered 'yes,' that reminded me that when football was started at Illinois only 12 boys reported, yet the school played a collegiate schedule."

SOMEWHERE IN THE SOUTH PACIFIC, July 16 (AP)—A young Marine raider officer, Capt. Cleland Early of Stinnett, Tex., who recently served in the Dallas recruiting office, was awarded the Silver Star medal for extraordinary heroism for his part in successful guerrilla action during the battle for Guadalcanal.

Immediately after Captain Early's raiders landed on Guadalcanal, they disappeared into the mountain jungles. Their job was to harass the enemy back to his own lines, attack and destroy patrols, disrupt communications and demolish installations. So successful was their mission that when they emerged more than a month later, they had killed 400 Japanese and chased the rest out of the theater of operations. Only 15 raiders were lost.

MaJ. Gen. A. A. Vandergriff, commander of Marines on Guadalcanal, cited the entire battalion for gallantry.

Through all these operations, Captain Early, then a first lieutenant, was in the van.

OCCUPY WILL BE FAVORITE AT ARLINGTON

CHICAGO, July 16 (AP)—John March's Occupy, striving to follow in the footsteps of his big brother, Occupation, will be a dominating favorite tomorrow in the Arlington Futurity at Washington Park—a race carrying a gross value of about $80,000.

A victory for the sensational two-year-old would be a big stride toward the 1945 juvenile championship, which, if accomplished, would mark the third straight year the honor of breeding the top-ranking juvenile has been kept in the Platt family.

Thomas Carr Platt, joint owner with March of the brood mare, Miss Bunting, dam of Occupation and Occupy, has come from Kentucky to see Occupy perform in the Futurity. Last year he rooted for Occupation, the leading juvenile money winner, across the wire first.

The elder Thomas Platt, whose farm adjoins that of his son, bred Alsab, the 1941 juvenile champion.

WASHINGTON, July 16 (AP)—June production for the Army fell substantially below schedule for the second consecutive month, Army Secretary of War Robert P. Patterson announced.

"Production for the second six months of the year must be considerably increased over that of the first six months in order to carry requirements," he reported. Approximately three-fifths of over-all Army supply requirements for 1945, including aircraft, remained to be met, he said.

The total of planes manufactured in June was only slightly above May and was below schedule, Patterson said.

The supply of 100 octane gasoline for aircraft is "still tight, and will be for some months to come," Patterson said, but the recent granting of a higher priority rating to this program is expected to accelerate production.

Patterson said production for the Army ground forces supply program increased in June 1.1 per cent over May, but it was still 2.3 per cent below April and 4.9 per cent below forecasts for June.

"The jobs remaining to be done vary widely," he said. "In the next six months we must produce 61 per cent of the total number of airplanes scheduled for 1945."

"There is nothing in the production records for May and June to encourage belief that the task ahead can be accomplished easily. It is a real challenge to labor and industry."

Surgical Instrument Invented By Doctor
WACO, July 16 (AP)—A Waco doctor has invented an instrument that will remove an open safety pin from the throat.

The instrument fits within a rubber tube which is then inserted in the throat. With the aid of a fluoroscope, the surgeon is able to close the pin and draw the instrument, with the pin clamped to it, back through the throat, thus eliminating the necessity of an operation.

Exhibition Matches May Be Featured

GEORGETOWN, Tex., July 16 (AP)—If Southwestern University can't find enough intercollegiate competition to fill out a football schedule next fall it can put on some exhibition games with its own squad to remind you of gripping Southwest Conference battles of years when there was manpower to burn.

A preliminary athletic poll conducted by physical fitness officer Lt. H. R. Giles of the navy V-12 training unit discloses that beside more than thirty men who have had one or more years of intercollegiate football experience, there are about 75 with impressive high school records. However, since freshmen will not be permitted to participate during their first semester, their talents will, of course, remain hidden under a bushel for the present.

While Commander M. A. Hoffman of the Navy V-12 training unit has made it clear that trainees will not be required to engage in intercollegiate sports, they are free to do so if participation does not interfere with their academic and military training.

Under these terms, football men who are eligible to compete under the pirate colors this year include Bill Arnold of Texasarkans who held down a guard position for the University of Arkansas Razorbacks.

Southwestern letterman in the V-12 unit are Ed McFarland of Lufkin; Nelson Webernick of Morgan, C. B. Scarborough of Dallas, Bob Campbell of Austin, J. P. SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
NEW YORK, July 16 (AP)—A recent visitor to these precincts was attractive and very earnest young woman from Bartlesville, Okla., by way of South Orange, N. J., who stopped to put in a few words for the common copper cent.

The reason that Mrs. McClatchey thinks so highly of cents is that when 200,000 women bowlers start contributing them, they mount up to a good many pretty pennies, and as chairman of the war service committee of the Women's International Bowling Congress, Mrs. M. wants to keep the pennies, nickels and dimes pouring in. She also is interested in giving her favorite sport credit for its war contributions.

Last year the W.I.B.C. bought a bomber plane for the air forces, "adopted" its crew, thereby giving Capt. William Chum and Sgt. William Morhead something of an advantage over sailors who have only one girl in every port.

"Miss W.I.B.C." already has been in action and recently returned to Dayton, Ohio, for a check-up. The girls found they had some money left over, so they bought an ambulance which will be presented to the army soon, probably at Columbus, O.

They're not setting any quotas for their contributions during the coming pin season, but they expect to pay for "one or more" ambulance planes at $80,000 each.

Impressive as these figures look, what really stirs Mrs. McClatchey's enthusiasm is the fact that a large part of the money comes from pennies dropped in the "fifty" for misses, splits, etc., during bowling matches. One of her favorite novelties is putting a yellow pin in each pit—"they call it the Jap pin. Well named, don't you think?"—and collecting a cent for every time it is left standing on the first ball. "In a week's time you collect a good many dollars," she points out, especially since about 6,000 women's leagues operate each season.

Believes Texas League Missed Big Opportunity

FORT WORTH, July 16 (AP)—Rogers Hornsby says the Texas League missed a golden opportunity by not operating this year and he thinks it's high time the club owners got busy with plans for resuming operations in 1944.

"The people want baseball and have plenty of money to spend to see it, and I think the league passed up a great chance to put itself on solid ground when it voted to suspend last winter," the Rajah, manager of the Fort Worth Cats, declared.

Hornsby, operating a Panther Park here for the benefit of amateur teams, reported attendance had been good and added: "Ninety-five per cent of the people coming to the park agree with me that the league missed the boat. I think we owe it to the fans to give them baseball."

It was Hornsby who led the fight for league continuance at the meeting last winter. Fort Worth and Oklahoma City were the only clubs in favor of going ahead.

"Sure there's a manpower shortage and the brand of baseball will be lower but I say let's all take our chances in the scramble for players and if we have only four clubs operating four days a week let's give the public what it wants—professional baseball."

Hornsby referred to the fact that the last place clubs in the American Association recently drew 10,000 for a game, that the amateur league here had brought out a Sunday crowd of 5,000 and averaged 1,000 to 2,500 on week days. "Doesn't that indicate baseball interest?" he asked.

The Rajah said he had jobs offered him elsewhere but decided to stay in Fort Worth and try to keep baseball alive. "Now is the time," he declared, "to plan for 1944. We can't wait until winter to do it."

His hope is that club representatives attend the annual meeting of the minor leagues in New York Dec. 1 with definite plans for resuming play next April.

Then another engine caught fire. Carroll had the reputation of being the best gunner at this station. He was a survivor of one of the most hair-raising episodes any fortress crew member is reported to have experienced in this theater.

During an attack on the U-boat plant at Vegesack, Germany, on March 18, anti-aircraft shell hits caused the ball turret hatch to fly open. The wind caught the open hatch and swung it around, throwing Carroll out.

But as he plunged out, minus his parachute, toward the earth five miles below, he grasped his machine-gun with one hand and held on for dear life. For a few seconds he dangled below the big bomber as it ploughed through the flak and an enemy fighter attack.

Then he pulled himself back into the turret. Despite his badly frost-bitten hands, he continued to help fight off the Germans until his ammunition was exhausted.

Shortly before this accident Carroll had shot down one Focke-Wulf. He also bagged three German fighters on his last mission. He held the Distinguished Flying Cross and the Air Medal with three oak clusters.

Because of cloudy weather conditions eye-witnesses said it was highly probable that additional parachutes emerged unobserved.

Sgt. Virgil E. Brown of Little Rock, Ark., tall gunner on the fortress "Charlie Horse," piloted by First Lieut. Vincent Lemon, 26, of Sacramento, Calif., saw "The Mugger" go down.

Problem Of Oil Supply Still Under Survey

WASHINGTON, July 16 (AP)—From end to end of the Atlantic seaboard the problem of gasoline and fuel oil supplies has become a sore spot kept tender by repeated pressure of questions.

War Mobilization Director James F. Byrnes has promised to survey the situation and make public his findings and his decision. The Office of Price Administration, which does the pricing and rationing of eastern oil supplies, has been a favorite target for critics.

But meanwhile here are some of the questions whirling around the ears of Secretary Robert G. Truett, the government agency charged with getting oil supplies to where they are needed in the United States:

From southern states on the eastern seaboard: Oil reserves are being built up here so why can't we be allowed more gasoline than we get now?

PAW answer: Those reserves are not being built up for southern states alone but are reserves for the whole eastern area.

Then this question: Now that the U-boat has been badly kicked around in the Atlantic, why can't we be allowed more gasoline than we get now?

Air Line Heads Start Surveys

Two Continental Air Lines officials, R. J. Moulton, Jr., director of research, schedules and tariffs and Arthur C. Smith, traffic manager of mail, express and freight, have been here this week to institute further surveys into the possibilities of extending the company's present route from Hobbs, N. M., to San Antonio.

The route would operate via Midland-Odessa, Big Spring and San Angelo.

Continental took issue with the Civil Aeronautics Board denial of its original application for the service May 13 on the ground that the CAB examiner originally had recommended the service as meeting public convenience and necessity.

CAB agreed to a rehearing of the case, possibly within 30 days, according to Moulton and Smith.

Continental has been interested in a route to San Antonio since 1938 when it applied first for an extension of the route from El Paso. Later it was revised to cut-off from Hobbs, N. M. This spur off the Continental route from Denver to El Paso by way of Albuquerque, N. M.

New volunteers on hand Thursday were Mrs. C. S. Edmonds, Jr., Mrs. R. Hatfield, Mrs. Wayne Pearce, Mrs. Fairy Shafer, Agnes Currie, Pat Stalcup, Mrs. Leslie Roberts, Mrs. Arthur Puts and Mrs. Harry Stalcup.

Chambers Issue Joint Statement

SAN ANTONIO, July 16 (AP)—Launching a new wartime effort for governmental economy and efficiency and for state and local tax control, South, East and West Texas chambers of commerce through executive heads have issued a new joint statement of legislative policy.

Scientific budgeting of the state's income and expenditures tops a five-point program on which the three regional organizations stand together, according to Ray Leeman, executive vice president of the South Texas chamber, who, with Elmer L. Moore, assistant general manager, has just returned from a Dallas conference with D. A. Bandoen, of Abilene, and H. M. Harrison of Longview, managers, respectively of the West and East Texas chambers.

Birth Of U.S. Marine Corps

In July, 1798, there came into existence in the United States one of the greatest organizations of fighting men the world has ever known—the United States Marine Corps.

Not even the historic armies of Hannibal or Caesar produced a comparable body of fighting men. In fact, history can rate only one equal to it in color and epic accomplishments—the French Foreign Legion, which was written about so ably by Percival C. Wren in "Beau Geste" and "Beau Ideal."

There is scarcely a spot of land in the whole of the Western Hemisphere which has not been touched upon at one time or another by the Marine Corps. Trained to fight either as infantrymen or artillerymen, and especially in naval engagements or in expeditionary forces, the Marines have stood always in the forefront of America's fighting armies.

Hollywood Sights And Sounds—

Erich Von Stroheim Is Cast As Nazi Villain

By ROBBIN COONS HOLLYWOOD — The arch-villain of World War II movies, the nasty militaristic Hun of many a hate-rousing picture, is back in the grooves for World War II. But Erich von Stroheim is no longer the man you love to hate, and he thinks it's a mistake.

Irony, he says, because in this war the actual Nazi brutalities, if filmed, would not pass any state's censorship. Those years between incidentally, have made wartime life considerably easier for von Stroheim. He had been briefly in America from Austria and had served three years in the U. S. Army when World War I broke.

88 Rounds Get 13 Jap Planes

SOUTH PACIFIC HEADQUARTERS, July 15 (AP)—Marine Corps anti-aircraft gunners protecting Rendova Island used only 88 rounds of ammunition to shoot down 13 Japanese bombers and one Zero on the afternoon of July 4, setting what is believed to be a record for economy of fire.

Old Corpus Christi Fire Department Bell Used On New Cruiser Houston

By GEORGE STIMPSON Herald Washington Correspondent Somehow I got the impression that President Roosevelt doesn't like Congress very much anymore. I don't know what it means, but it's Jesse Jones, not Vice President Wallace, who's asking for an investigation in connection with the arrangement, each person who accepts a cabinet or high administrative job would agree to wait two weeks before attacking a fellow cabinet official or administrator.

Mere mention of these events gives an old-timer nostalgia. When Roy Miller was serving his first term as mayor of Corpus Christi in 1913 a partially paid fire department was established. The first piece of modern equipment purchased was a combination chemical and hose wagon, drawn by two beautiful horses, one named Roy and the other Ruth.

The Senate increased one item in the Interior department appropriations bill from $1,861,500 to $1,876,200. Sen. Tom Connally explained the purpose of this $15,000 increase. "Some years ago the federal government, through an act of Congress, provided that what is called the Big Bend National Park in Texas would be adopted as a National Park provided the state purchased all the land and made a gift of the land to the federal government. That has taken place. The State of Texas, through its legislature, appropriated a very large sum—I do not recall all the details—to acquire the title to the entire area known as the Big Bend National Park. It is now about to be turned over to the government.

On the other hand the very fact of winning brings us more and more inescapably up against the decisions we must make which I tried to describe in "One World." While we were fighting a defensive war, trying to hold our own and stop our enemies, we could perhaps afford to postpone some of these decisions. Now that we have taken the offensive, if we postpone them we are lost. Expediency at its best gives only a temporary advantage. At its worst, it is a CONFESSION OF BANKRUPTCY.

ONE WORLD By Wendell L. Willkie

Chapter Eleven Nine months have passed since I came back to the United States from my flight around the world. In these nine months of fore-shortened time, a great deal has happened. The climate in which men and women on our side think and live and hope has changed more sharply than the change from autumn to summer.

And we have won them, not by tricks or deals or political chicanery, but in measure as we enlisted on our side the great masses of peoples for whom, about whom and by whom this war is being fought. Defeatist Mood I was in North Africa in September of last year. I have already described the mood I found in Cairo, a defeatist, tired, cynical mood; only a few highly placed men will ever know how close Alexandria, or Suez, came to being another Dunkerque.

Earlier on the way to Africa, I had talked with American officers and soldiers, many of whom led the actual invasion of Nov. 7. Their mood, too, was aggressive. And, thereafter, straight on to Moscow, I found American, British, Polish, Fighting French and Russian field officers eager to attack and confident of the result, many of the American and British officers even a little impatient with what seemed to them excessive caution at home. It was the diplomats and the desk generals who were timid and afraid. It was men whose task it would be to lead their troops into action who felt that spokesmen in Washington and London.

What has happened in some of the neutral countries I visited has been less dramatic but perhaps no less profound than the expulsion of all Axis troops from Africa.

Public Opinion
Turkey is a good example. In some quarters, I find, it is still widely held that public opinion is inoperative in countries like Turkey, that the destiny of the country is decided by a small group of men in power who must be appealed to by nineteenth-century techniques of power politics.

This is exactly what the Nazis tried. Day after day on Ankara I walked or rode past the imposing mansion of Herr von Papen, Nazi ambassador to Turkey.

Traveling Salesman
I was told something of what he and Berlin's traveling salesman of fascism were offering the Turks for their chrome and their friendship.

I knew plenty about how little we could offer in competition, with our ships loaded with tanks for Egypt. Smart and knowing men assured me that the cards were stacked against us.

It was the same story one still hears sometimes in America; that we were out for our league in this foreign world and that we had better cut our losses and give up.

It seems to me that we have not done so badly. Mr. Churchill's conference in Turkey in January followed the North African invasion and the first crushing defeat of General Rommel.

And the able leaders of the Turkish republic whom I met in September doubtless felt in January that our prospects of victory were growing brighter.

Living Witness
But I am living witness to the fact that even in September they wanted us to win, and chiefly because the great mass of the Turkish people were on our side.

When we take the offensive, and when we speak up for what we believe in, we will find this is true in every neutral country I visited.

Bacteria Count In Local Milk Found Too High

A campaign to reduce an abnormally large bacteriological count in the city milk shed is now underway, it was announced Friday by the Big Spring-Howard county division of the Ector-Midland-Howard county health unit.

This drive has resulted in the revoking of one milk permit and several other producers face similar action unless efforts are made toward complying with the minimum standards, K. E. McFarland, sanitary engineer for the unit, indicated.

First permit to be withdrawn, he said, was that of W. Davidson. Several other producers marketing through creameries or through retail outlets also were close to having their permits canceled for failure to follow up on recommended production changes and improvements.

The bacteriological counts now being run replace two less accurate tests employed for several years by the city, and thus far have been substantially higher than they should be, said McFarland. He added that V. A. Cross, sanitarian, had been collecting samples from local processors so that a check could be had on the majority of producers on the city shed.

Bulk of the difficulty, according to the sanitary engineer, resulted from a decline of facilities for handling milk and in milking procedure.

Huge Pipeline All But Ready

CINCINNATI, July 16 (AP)—Big Inch is all but finished.

Test runs of crude oil are being pumped through the eastern section of the $65,000,000 transcontinental pipeline from Norris City, Ill., and next Monday at Phoenixville, Pa., government dignitaries, including Secretary of the Interior Harold Ickes, will witness welding of the last section of the 1,341 miles of 24-inch pipe.

Monday is 15 days short of a year from the time the first section was laid.

Officials of the Petroleum Administration for War and War Emergency Pipelines, Inc., said pumping started at Norris City Wednesday and oil is moving eastward 33 1/3 miles a day. Engineers are checking the run for leaks or other "bugs."

Big Inch, conceived to help meet the wartime oil crisis, now stretches from Longview, in the East Texas oil fields, to New York and Philadelphia refineries. At Phoenixville junction the line splits, one branch going to Linden, N. J., the other to Philadelphia.

The 15,000 men who ditched plains and mountain, woods and cornfields, and laid and welded the pipe aren't quitting. They're staying on the job to finish the 20-inch gasoline line from Beaumont, Tex., paralleling Big Inch most of the way. Officials of WEP headquarters here predict the smaller line will be ready in December. The two lines are being built under appropriations totaling $170,000,000.

Burt E. Hull of Houston, president of four Texas pipeline companies on loan as general manager of WEP, said that although Big Inch is virtually ready for service, it will be filled slowly.

The first leg, from Longview to Norris City, began operation in April with a daily capacity of 300,000 barrels of crude and No. 2 heating oil.

However, Hull said, it would take 3,000,000 barrels to fill up the eastern leg, and this much can't be divided immediately. Tank-car shipments from Norris City will continue to keep the eastern refineries supplied while the pipe is being filled at a rate of 100,000 barrels a day.

Once filled, oil will move along at a speed of five to six miles an hour, Hull said. By that time, the smaller line is expected to reach Norris City and the tank cars will take its gasoline east until both lines are finished.

Returns To Scene Of His Crime

SILSBEE, July 16 (AP)—The Rev. C. B. Bass, entering his church, smelled whiskey.

Then he sighted a man resting contentedly in the main auditorium surrounded by several empty whiskey bottles, cigarette stubs and burnt matches.

The minister withdrew quietly and summoned an officer.

The officer arrested the man who admitted that he stole ten fans from the church, sold them and spent the money for whiskey, then came back to drink it.

Lizards are able to grow new tails if the original becomes detached.

...ive act of patriotism," exclaimed naval officers. A representative of the Navy contacted Tom Cahill and his friends in Corpus Christi and made arrangements. The old bell was shipped to Homer L. Ferguson, president of the Newport News Shipbuilding & Drydock company, which was constructing the Houston. It was found that the old Corpus Christi fire bell would make a perfect ship's bell just as it was, and accordingly, it was installed on board the majestic cruiser.

So when the Houston steams out into the Pacific to avenge her predecessor of the same name, the gallant crew will order their lives according to the strokes on the old fire bell that hung for forty years in the tower on market hall in Corpus Christi.

Brazil's area exceeds that of the continental United States by about 250,000 square miles.

Military Chiefs Speak At Midland

MIDLAND, Tex., July 16 (AP)—Gen. Henry Arnold, commanding general of the army air forces, and Field Marshal Sir John Dill of Great Britain addressed graduates of the world's largest bombardier school—the Midland Army Air Field—Thursday after watching the new officers prove the accuracy of precision bombing.

Sir John, Gen. Arnold and other high ranking officers of the army air forces saw the men of the bombardier college in a demonstration in which they showed how they could slip a bomb into the hip-pocket of the enemy from 6,000 feet.

Also here for the demonstration were Maj. Gen. Barton K. Young, commanding general of the air forces training command; Major general Gerald C. Brant, commanding general of the AAF Gulf Coast Training Center; Major General Samuel Cousins, commanding general of the West Coast Training Center and Brig. Gen. Isiah Davies, commanding general of the 94th Flying Training Wing and first commanding general of the Midland Bombar-dier School.

Just A Habit

WICHITA FALLS, July 16 (AP)—Judge Allan B. Montgomery blushed after arising to sustain an objection.

He had forgotten he no longer was on the bench.

Judge Montgomery, who had retired after twelve years of presiding over that particular court, was a counsel in the case at bar.

Food Specialist Available Now

After a successful week of conducting demonstrations for Big Spring housewives, Mildred Atkinson, food conservation specialist, is open for engagements during the remainder of July.

Any housewife who will invite a few friends in to witness a demonstration may secure the aid of Miss Atkinson simply by calling 1099. Help will be given in canning, pressure cooking, water bath, brining, krauting and drying methods of preserving food.

Those having pressure cookers which they wish tested may get free service by bringing them to Miss Atkinson at the county home demonstration agent's office.

Wall Street

NEW YORK, July 16 (AP)—Selective buying of steel, rail, air transports and specialties imparted a modest recovery tinge to today's stock market.

Improved tendencies appeared at the start although these failed to spread widely. At the best gains ran to a point or more. Quotations were reduced in most instances near the close and losers were well represented. Dealings slackened at intervals and transfers for the full proceedings were around 1,000,000 shares.

At new highs for 1943 or longer were Standard Oil (N.J.) and U. S. Lines. Supported were Bethlehem, Santa Fe, Goodyear, Sears Roebuck, Pan American Airways, New Haven preferred, Pennsylvania-Airline, Airlines, Pepsi-Cola, Du Pont and National Power & Light. Among losers were, Deere, Douglas Aircraft, Woolworth, American Telephone and John-Manville.

So The Negro Still Has A Problem

TYLER, July 16 (AP)—A negro reported to officers that a bootlegger had stolen his still.

Now the negro faces charges of making illicit liquor.

It seems he was managing to manufacture whiskey in spite of his asserted loss—or had made a supply before the outfit was taken.

Unless matters are different from Thursday, police may have to get themselves a cow pony and butterfly net. Of nine calls during the day, six involved cow or dog troubles. The one drunkenness case made officers feel like "old times."

The spring and summer hatching season is just about all over now, Tommy Neel, hatchery operator, said Friday. The percentage of hatch now is at such a low level that it is impractical to operate. As soon as the fall season comes, hatcheries likely will swing back to production, he said.

H. D. Norris, field scout executive, writes from Camp Philmont at Cimarron, N. M., that the Boy Scouts are having a great time, having ridden horseback one day and having gone on a burro pack trip another. Senior scouts were packing into a remote and beautiful part of the camp this weekend, he said. Weather is fine with frost reported one morning. On the way up scouts were quartered at Camp Luna (Las Vegas), N. M., and Norris said "you ought to have seen those sergeants get them quiet after 'lights out.'" That's a minor miracle.

Mrs. M. Carnohan visited in town Friday with Mrs. H. C. Henley, enroute from McComb, Miss., to Colorado Springs, Colo., where her husband, now a first lieutenant, has been transferred. Lieut. and Mrs. Carnohan are former residents of Big Spring.
