BLACK MEDIAN FAMILY INCOME $11,650 IN 1979

"Evidence Of A Decline In Real Dollars Since 1978"

Median family income for Black families in 1979 was $11,650, according to a report from the U. S. Department of Commerce's Census Bureau.

The 1979 median for Black was 6.7 percent higher than the 1978 median of $10,880, but when adjusted for inflation the 1979 figure showed some evidence of a 4 percent decline in real dollars even though the year-to-year change was not statistically significant.

The 1978-1979 change in real dollars for Whites and Hispanics were also not statistically significant. The 1979 median for Whites was $20,520 and for Hispanics, $14,320.

In 1979, Black median family income was 57 percent of that for White families. This was not significantly different from 1978 ratio of 59 percent. According to the report, the 1979 income figures do not reflect the influence of the recession which began in the spring of 1980.

The report also shows that an estimated 25.2 million persons of all races were below the poverty level in 1979, of whom 7.9 million were Black. The number of Black married-couple families below the poverty level increased from 370,000 in 1978 to 440,000 in 1979, reversing a decrease for this group between 1977 and 1978. However, the apparent increase of 200,000 between 1978 and 1979 in the total number of Blacks below the poverty level was not statistically significant.

At the beginning of the decade, 56 percent of all poor Black families were maintained by women; by 1979 the proportion had grown to 72 percent. Although the report notes no significant change in the overall number or proportion of persons below the poverty level since the 1975-76 period, certain population subgroups showed changes between 1978 and 1979. For example, the number of poor persons 65 and older increased from 3.2 million in 1978 to 3.6 million last year.

As part of an effort to improve the quality of its income and poverty statistics, the Bureau introduced several important modifications in the collection and presentation of the data. These changes included a larger sample, a more detailed income questionnaire, use of a new household classification concept, more detailed income intervals for high income groups, and a new farm definition.

As in all sample surveys, the data in the report are subject to sampling variability and errors of response, including underreporting and nonreporting. Single copies of the report, Money Income and Poverty Status of Families and Persons in the United States;

1979, P-60, No. 125, may be purchased from the Superintendent of Documents, U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C. 20402 or from Commerce Department District Offices in major cities throughout the United States. The price is $2.25 per copy prepaid.

Carver Inducted Into Alabama Hall Of Fame

by Shirley Irving Thigpen

October 14, 1980, will long be remembered as a special day in the history of Tuskegee Institute. On that day, the late Dr. George Washington Carver, born a slave on a farm near Diamond Grove, Missouri, was inducted into the Alabama Business Hall of Fame, the first Black so honored in the history of the organization.

Accepting the award for Tuskegee Institute, Dr. Margaret E. M. Tolbert, Director of the Carver Research Foundation, stated that "Dr. Carver was an inspiration to all, regardless of race; his ideal was to be the greatest good to the greatest number of people."

Dr. Carver began serving as Director of Agriculture on October 8, 1896. Eventually, Carver's experiments revealed over 300 items which could be made from peanuts, including synthetic rubber. In addition, he produced more than 120 products from pecans and other Southern crops such as soybeans, cotton, wild plums, and cow peas.

Dr. Carver's research led to the creation of such products as diesel fuel, fuel bicketts, gasoline, illuminating oil, wall boards from hulls, and wood fillers from shells.

Early in 1943, George Washington Carver died. He left the world a free man, renowned for his dedication to teaching all people how to make the world a better place in which to live.

Historical Church

The St. Paul Baptist Church, 1802 Avenue B, is an historical landmark in our city. Prior to being the home of the members of St. Paul, it was the church home of Bethel African Methodist Episcopal Church.

Dr. Jim Loud, pastor, and members of this church have done marvelous things inside this building. They didn't want to destroy the original outside of the building, but inside it's something else. If you get an opportunity to go by and visit this facility.

"We have meeting rooms for organizations in the community who would like to have somewhere to meet," says Dr. Loud.

Every citizen in Lubbock should go by and see for themselves. The Lubbock Digest highly recommend. (Photo by Eddie Richardson)

Black Caucus Meet With State Legislators Dec. 4

The Fourth Annual Legislative Conference of the National Black Caucus of State Legislators (NBCSL) will take place December 4-7, 1980 at the Atlanta Motor Hotel in Atlanta, Georgia. The NBCSL Annual Legislative Conference has expanded to become an annual meeting of more than 500 local, state and national leaders, activists and supporters of the Caucus. The National Black Caucus of State Legislators Annual Legislative Conference theme is: "Expanding and Sustaining a Black American Economy for the 1980's." Special attention will be given to the recent November 4th elections and how to make certain that Black American priorities prevail during the next year.

Maryland State Senator Clarence M. Mitchell, President of the National Black Caucus of State Legislators, said that "My colleagues and I are overwhelmed by the show of support by persons from every walk of life from around the country for Black American economic development. The NBCSL Annual Legislative Conference provides a focal point for involving the Black American community in the local, state, and national legislative process and recognizing those persons who have made great sacrifices for global human and civil rights."

Maryland State Representative Larry Young, Executive Director of the National Black Caucus of State Legislators and Coordinator of the NBCSL 4th Annual Legislative Conference, said that "We look forward to involving the hundreds of persons coming to Atlanta for this important conference in the work of the National Black Caucus of State Legislators and the Legislative process fight for Black economic development. The plenary sessions and legislative workshops on Friday and Saturday, the reception given by Georgia Governor George Busbee honoring Black state legislators throughout the country, and the Awards Dinner will give those joining us in Atlanta the opportunity to get together and freely mingle at the working sessions which are scheduled throughout the weekend."

CHD Distributes Applications For Self-Help Grants

Application materials for 1981 funding from the Campaign for Human Development (CHD) are now available from the diocesan CHD office located at 2601 East Blvd. S. Mailing address: P. O. Box 5914, Lubbock, Texas 79417.

While the deadline for submission of 1981 application forms and proposals is January 31, 1981, potential applicants are encouraged to utilize a new pre-application process in November and December.

The Campaign for Human Development, established by the Catholic bishops of the United States in 1970, is the Church's national education-action program for fighting domestic poverty. CHD makes grants to self-help projects and conducts a year-round justice education program.

In the last decade, CHD has assisted over 1,000 self-help projects. To obtain CHD's support, projects must: -Benefit the poor; The majority of those benefiting from the projects must be members of the low-income community.

-Be self-help projects of poor and oppressed people. The projects must be directed by the low-income groups themselves.

- Aim to bring about social change by attacking the root causes of poverty, the unjust laws, institutions or policies which tend to keep people poor.

The potential for becoming self-supporting at the conclusion of CHD funding also enhances a project's chances of receiving help from the Campaign.

In 1980, 146 projects throughout the country shared in the $6,000,000 available for allocations from the national CHD.

The CHD Funding Booklets, which include the pre-application form, criteria and guidelines and application form, are available from the local CHD diocesan office and from the CHD national office, U. S. C. C., 1312 Massachusetts Avenue, N. W., Washington, D. C. 20005.

Lubbock Public School Offers Suggestion Box

A "Suggestion Box" telephone line is located in the office of Dr. Mike Bennett, Public Information Coordinator of the Lubbock Public Schools. The "Suggestion Box" telephone line will be ready to aid the citizen in communicating his ideas if he will call 744-1212. A member of the Public Information office staff will answer the call, hear the suggestion, and write it down. The suggestion will then be referred to the appropriate office. Suggestions will be kept on file for future reference.

When a call is received, the person will be asked to give his name, address, and the school attendance area in which he resides. This information will be helpful if the school needs to contact the person to obtain further information. The school attendance area of the individual is needed because problem arising in one area may not exist in other areas.

The Lubbock Public Schools value citizen input in improving our schools. The schools have found that citizens of the community are a great source for helpful improvements in the educational process. As the schools receive more input, they are better able to accumulate ideas and incorporate them into the school program.

The "Suggestion Box" line is not to serve solely as a complaint line. The public schools are hoping that the citizens will make constructive suggestions as to how the schools can make improvements and alter any problem situations that may exist. The Lubbock Public Schools encourage citizens to take advantage of the "Suggestion Box" line and work with the schools to improve the educational process.

Make Other People Like You

Are you searching for friends? Would you like to make other people become interested in you? Would you like to win friends and influence people? If your answer to these questions is yes, follow this advice:

- 1. Want To Be Friendly. When you sincerely want to be friendly, you have begun to win the battle of getting friends.
- 2. Act Like A Friend. When you are friendly, other people will respond similarly because they will feel that you like them.
- 3. Ask Questions. And, display a sincere interest in the answers. Most people become very happy when others ask them questions about themselves. This is the easiest way to "break the ice."
- 4. Be A Good Listener. Show concern, understanding and empathy. Most people search endlessly for someone who will listen to their problems; someone who will let them unburden themselves of their difficulties. So, listen!
- 5. Put Your Own Problems Away For A While. Your problems are more important to you than the problems of another person. But your problems are not as important to others as they are to you. Few people ever really have an opportunity to express, in a very personal way, the things that trouble them. When you put your problems away and show sincere interest in the problems of others, you will be instantly liked. So, quietly listen and begin to collect friends.
- 6. Smile. Your smile indicates that you like the person at whom you are smiling. When you smile at them, they will return your smile because your smile says: "I like you." Everybody likes to be liked. Everybody likes the person who likes them. So, smile and win friends.
- 7. Look At The Other Person. Let your eyes communicate your friendliness. When your eyes display interest in the other person, they feel friendly around you. They feel that you are sincerely interested in them and become even more motivated to talk. Let them talk about themselves and you will notice how quickly they begin to like you.
- 8. Make Them Talk. -- by asking them questions about something in which they are interested. Your first objective should be to find out something interesting about the person. Then, express an interest in it by asking a simple question about it. Ask about the person's talents, job, family, clothes or other friends. Then, sit back and listen to them really start talking.
- 9. Compliment The Other Person. Everyone likes to be praised. Everyone likes the person who praises them. So, praise them and start collecting friends immediately.
- 10. Compile A List. -- of the things that you like in others. If you like these qualities in others, remember that other people like the same qualities in you.

It is most important that you remember that when people feel that you like them, they want to be friends with you. Start today to make people like you and you will have more friends than you know what to do with.

If you have questions you would like answered, direct them to Dr. Charles W. Faulkner, P. O. Box 50016, Washington, D. C.

We are appealing to the ladies, who have an hour or so that you can devote each week to this worthwhile organization, to lend your aid to these girls, and help them to develop into well rounded adults through the physical, mental, and moral training the Girl Scout program offers them.

The need is NOW! The need is URGENT! Training is AVAILABLE!
If interested, contact Mrs. Beulah Winters at 762-3504 or the Caprock Girl Scout Council.

Last year's Lubbock Arts Festival drew 75,000 people from throughout the Southwest.

Heublein helps individuals and the community
Black and White Diplomats Do Their Thing

Washington, D. C. - What do James Brown, Dionne Warwick, the original Fifth Dimension group and Lucille Ball all have in common? No, not a cold, dummy! Lee Genud, not Gesundheit! Ms. Genud is the leading female backgammon player in the world. She consistently finishes "in the money" in tournament play. Put more succinctly she taught the above mentioned prominent Hollywood celebrities to play backgammon.

In addition, Lee is a three-time U. S. Life Master in Bridge. But Black Americans aren't breaking into tournament bridge play like they are doing in backgammon money making tournaments. A fact, thanks to Black & White Scotch of the Heublein family which sponsors many positive programs in the Black American community.

Black Americans are getting a chance in the growth sport of backgammon. Even Heublein Black American employees can testify to that fact. Whether or not Heublein's B&W Scotch employees have ever started it, evidence abounds that Heublein has a heart.

Six paintings worth $25,000 were donated by Heublein's Smirnoff Vodka division to the United Negro College Fund for use in generating funds. The paintings are pictorial views of Black American Olympic Game gold medal winners. Charles J. Herbert, president of the Heublein Spirits Sales Division and Christopher F. Edley, UNCF, Executive Director, expect the paintings will be on public display at least until the next Olympics in 1984 in cities all across the country.

Color does not bother Heublein. Certainly not where clothes are concerned. A social conscious company, Heublein's Harvey's Bristol Cream broke tradition in New York with a tailor made Black American fashion makers fall show at the Fashion Institute of Technology last June.

Bernard Johnson received a special award "for excellent in theatrical costume design," such as his "Eubie," "Bubbling Brown Sugar" and "Raisin." Special people and special events seem especially easy for Heublein to sponsor.

Black & White Scotch, for example, is not interested in backing any tournaments that are not open to all people. Allowing you to play in a tournament does not, of course, guarantee a prize. Competition in Washington, D. C. was rugged!

Ms. Genud, the reigning Woman World Backgammon Champion got some wordly competition herself in Washington, D. C. Ambassador Orfield, Secretary General of the Organization of American States was playing, as well as, heading the Washington, DC Backgammon Tournament Committee.

Washington, DC is awash with Ambassadors and private clubs, but B&W Scotch had selected the elite "diplomats" club called "the Pisces" to put on their prestigious tournament play. Putting my money for

One Must Start At Home

by Eddie P. Richardson, Jr.

After the smoke of the general election cleared and we look at the facts, after all is said and done, we will survive some how. We always find a way no matter who or why. Mr. Reagan has won; Mr. Carter has lost.

When we really look at it, Mr. Carter left a lot to be desired on his promises. He was a good man, sensitive and human. But was weak in leadership. We hear Mr. Reagan is cold and insensitive. But as history proves, he is only one man and can only do so much. No matter what he is, now he is our president. Let's give him four years and see. Who knows, we might be surprised.

I am glad God answered one our prayers. The Black Press has one of our own in the U. S. Congress and the Congressional Black Caucus. He is Gus Savage of Chicago, Ill.

Good luck, Gus! Do a good job for all of us in America.

On the local level, one point comes out here. We must start at home. This proved to be the case of Brother McKinley Shephard. He was very well known and impressed others across town. He even met the Governor.

This writer attended the Governor's Conference on Small Business last week (involving people from all over the state) who knew McKinley Shephard. They asked about him.

Black people in Lubbock who didn't know this man Shephard. This should be a lesson for Rev. Shephard or any other Black who may run for political office.

It is important that you start at home first. Your Black brothers and sisters in your own block need to know you. This means that your neighbor, precinct people, and the total community needs to know you, before you venture out. Start with a strong home base.

On next week, this writer will share a very good article written in the "The Villager" of Austin, Texas, written by its publisher - Mr. Tommy Wyatt, a former Lubbock resident and graduate of Dunbar High School.

This article is parallel with what is happening in our community. You should like it next week. NUFF SED!! WHY NOT??

Letters to the Editor

Dear Council Members:

This is in reference to the request by a significant number of citizens from East Lubbock that the name of Quiri Avenue be changed to Martin Luther King Boulevard.

Since I was out of the City on November 10, 1980, and unable to attend the meeting sponsored by the Human Relations Commission (HRC) at Mae Simmons Community Center, please be advised that I fully support the request for the name change. The street is located within an area that is predominantly minority and for the life of me I cannot understand why you, the Council, insist on making a major issue out of the request. When I arrived in Lubbock, "University Avenue" was "College Avenue." Perhaps this was due to the fact that Texas Tech was not considered advanced enough to be called a university at that time. However, when Tech experienced significant growth in enrollment and curriculum, I believe it was determined by reasonably minded people that a change was in order and - viola! Goodbye College Avenue - Hello University Avenue!

The paternalistic approach that you tend to use in addressing issues relevant to the minority community is outdated. You requested and received documentation regarding the manner in which this issue was handled in other cities. The evidence showed overwhelmingly that the change has taken place in other cities with few inconveniences. I agree with Oscar Jones that it is totally unfair for you to expect a 100% consensus among Blacks and other minorities. You require of us that which you do not require of the minority group. We are not naive. We are aware of the fact that there is a hard-core group of people in Lubbock who despise the efforts of Dr. King to alleviate racism and injustice in this country. They will never change, but those who are more informed must continue to work for better understanding among all people in order to prevent the further decline of cooperation between the various ethnic groups in our city.

A cooperative effort to increase efficiencies and reduce urban costs.

Ethnically speaking, there are heroes who transcend ethnic lines and are revered by all. However, it is not uncommon to find that some groups more readily identify with particular figures both current and historical. We are not trying to foster our heroes off on the majority group. You have not been asked to love, respect, and cherish them. We have only asked that you permit us to pay homage to a man who believed in and gave his life for his belief in the universal brotherhood of man. We ask only that you respect and tolerate our desire to love, respect, cherish, remember, and honor Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. in a manner that is meaningful to the Black Citizens of Lubbock, along with many of our Hispanic and Anglo friends throughout this City.

Finally, let the record show that I fully support the Human Relations Commission. I was of the opinion that the members of the Commission were selected on the basis of their ability to articulate to the Council the desires of the citizens of Lubbock as they relate to sensitive ethnic issues. I thought this was particularly true in reference to the liaison between the minority community and the HRC because of the current and historical lack of minority representation on the Council. The HRC should not be used as a shield by the Council in times of ethnic unrest. On the contrary, it (HRC) should be used to prevent or alleviate unrest through its liaison and advice to the Council.

If you continue to treat the HRC in the manner displayed by the present and past Councils, you will effectively destroy it (HRC) because no self-respecting individual will continue to function on that Commission when it is obvious that it has no clout and merely serves as another "showcase" entity that is used to pacify Federal Agencies when the question of Equal Opportunity and Affirmative Action is raised. I trust you understand my position in this matter.

Sincerely,
Harry Stokely, Jr.
2318 Cedar Avenue

"Thank You"

Dear T. J. and Eddie:

Just a note to thank you for honoring Dad and our family with the front page picture and story about the First Annual Roy B. Bass Award presented through the Human Relations Commission. As I am sure you well remember, Dad was the type of man who was interested not in who you are, but in what you are. The HRC Award perhaps best characterizes the type of individual that I remember Dad to be.

And while I am at it, I enjoy receiving and reading the Lubbock Digest each week. I don't always agree with what I read, but no matter. That's the way it should be. Thanks for making a positive contribution to the community.

And again, on behalf of myself and the rest of my family, thanks for the fine story above referred to.

Warmest personal regards,
R. Byrn Bass, Jr.

"Pleased With Precinct 20"

Dear Mr. Patterson:

The members of the Political Unit (ABC News) and I want to express our sincere appreciation for the in-precinct scanning of ballots November 4th. To get 100% of the vote only one minute after the polls closed was just fantastic. The official release from the Tabulation Center, called in to us at 12:30, indicates why we were so pleased to get your early results from Lubbock 20.

I want to thank you just for myself, too. I thoroughly enjoyed meeting you and the other election judges. Next visit I would like to come to your newspaper office and see it (being hopelessly addicted to anything to do with newspapers). And we might even get a chance to talk about New Jersey!

Again, thank you very much for your good deed.

Sincerely,
Nina McCall

LEGISLATIVE

ALERT!

"D.C. AMENDMENT" RATIFICATION-I

Black people, in every state of the union, should be writing to as many elected officials as possible to see to it that their state—and every state—ratifies (and does not rescind ratification of) the D.C. Amendment.

The "D.C. Amendment"—if ratified—will guarantee two—presumably black—U.S. senators from the District of Columbia. This represents permanent power for black Americans, far beyond any other political power possessed presently by black Americans. Hence, it is urgent that all Black Americans work for the ratification of the D.C. Amendment by every state legislature in the nation.

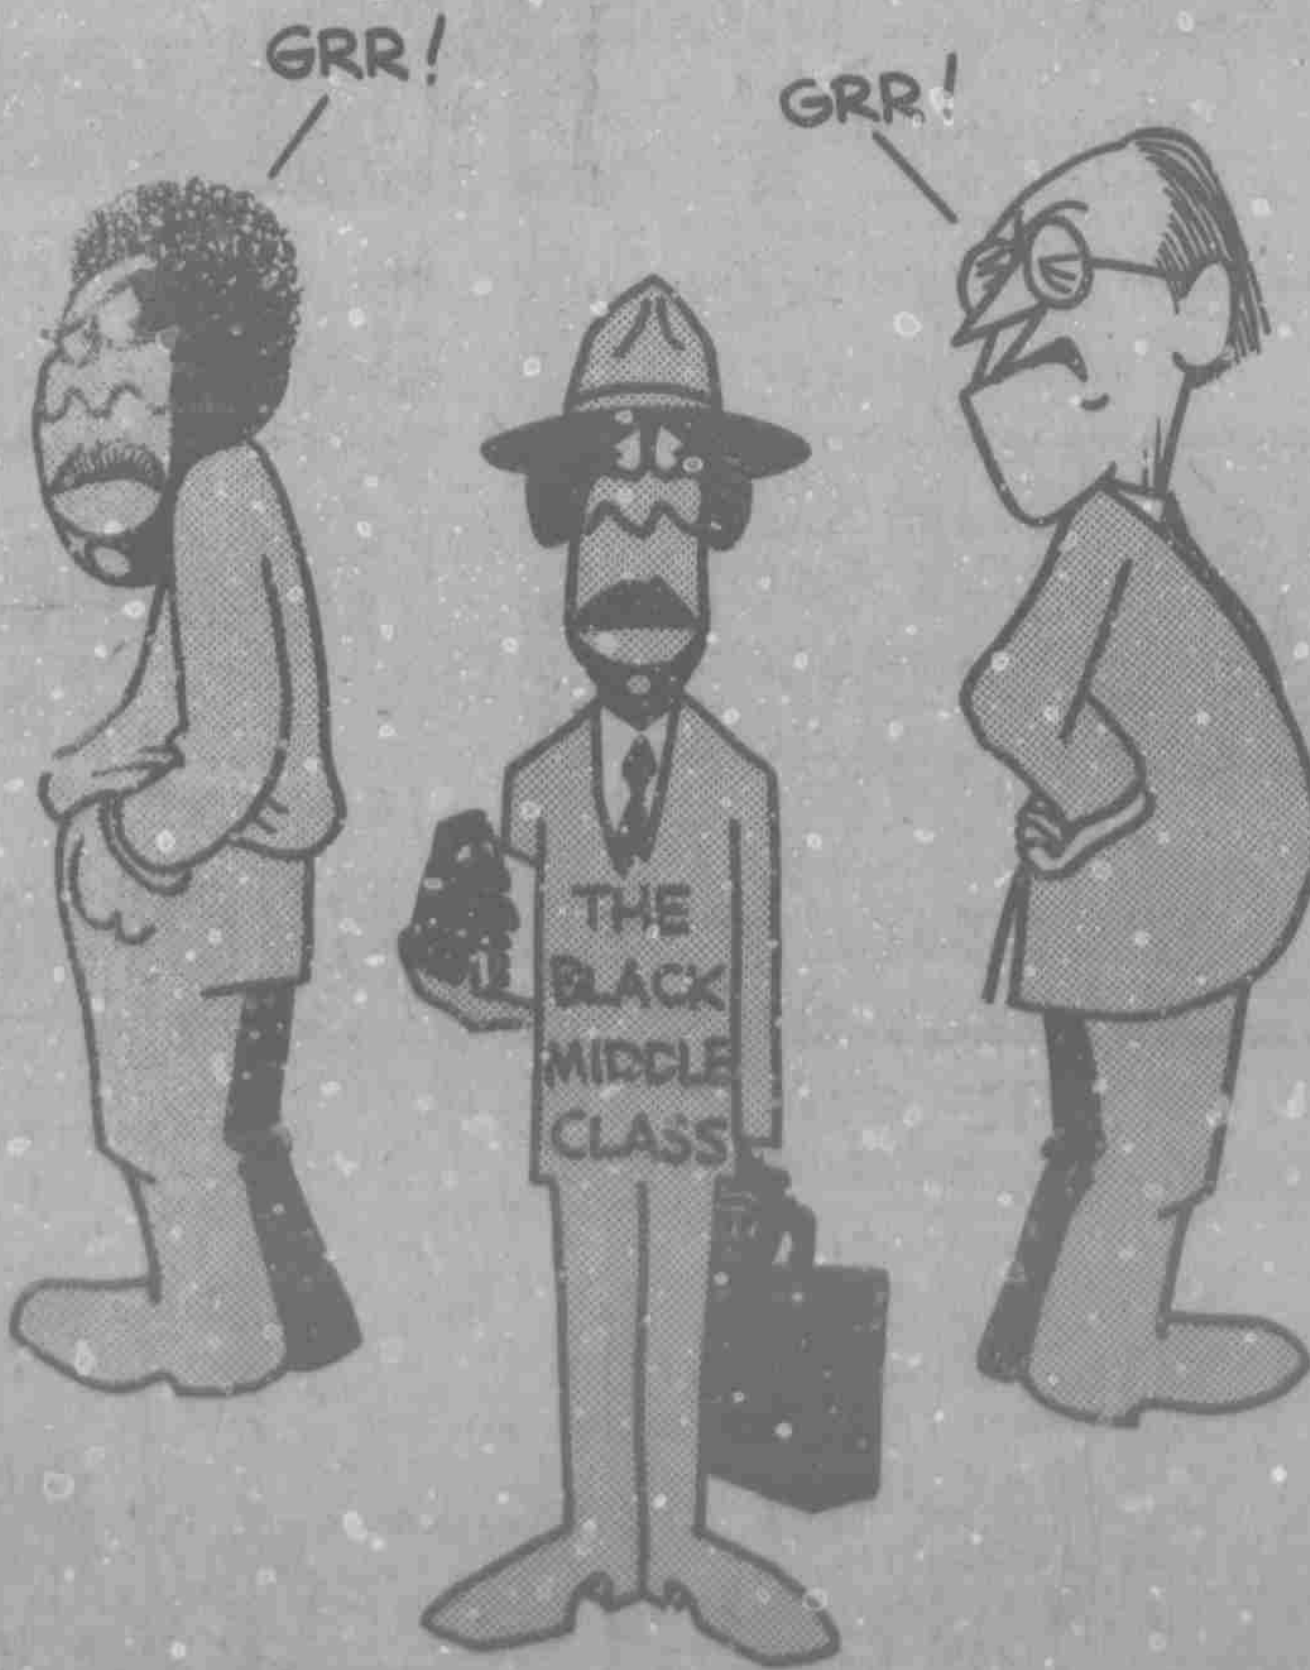

Blacks who belong to the Republican Party should urge the party to adopt a platform plank expressly calling for ratification of the D.C.

Amendment. Word comes that many white liberal Democrats want to base their enthusiasm for ratification on a "deal"—whereby one senator will be white. Hence, there is much more to be gained by working with the Republicans—without whose strong help the Amendment cannot possibly be ratified—for a possible black male or female Republican than by standing firm with the liberal Democrats. That every effort must be made for ratification is clear. Let's do our work right now.

You may write to your Congressmen and Senators at: Congressional Office Building, Washington, D.C. 20515. Please congratulate them for their important work, and let them know where Black America stands on crucial issues.

WHY ARGUE? THE FACTS ARE HERE!

Ringing The Bell

by
Bob Ticeul

The Black Experience From a White Point of View: "Dear Bob - In America Blacks have always been second-class citizens. In Miami, as one Black leader observed, they are third-class, behind the more than 100,000 Cubans who were allowed, by presidential fiat, to be smuggled into the United States. In Harlem, in Miami, in Cleveland, black boys become discouraged early. At the age of puberty, they scan their world and find it dismal.

Parents work menial jobs or are on relief. They do the bidding of the white man. Fathers drink - mothers find refuge in church. White classmates are often better dressed, drive cars, and go on to college. This is the cracking point. Boys dropout of school. They surrender before they face life's first challenge.

"A Miami jury convicted a black school superintendent for conspiring to covet goldplated school plumbing for his home. A St. Petersburg jury exonerated several white policemen of chasing a black cyclist and beating him to death with flashlights. These were the triggers. Just the triggers. The gun had been loaded a long time ago.

I had hoped, long before the fires of Liberty City, that the President and Congress might once more invest in Civilian Conservation Corps to improve our roads, our public buildings, our national parks. No. The administration sends billions abroad to buy friends and it sells arms to the world. Our poor must qualify for food stamps. Human rights are accorded to aliens, denied to Americans. Young Blacks in many areas are wondering and hoping and they want answers and they want them from Washington. Enjoyed your clipping. Signed Jim Bishop - reporter.

Recent Quotes of Note: "Any change which larger numbers of people think tilts Social Security toward welfare, cannot be expected to win universal favor in this large and vital segment of our society. Social Security is a statutory social compact entered into by business, employees, the self-employed and government to assure a basic measure of income security against certain specific major risks.

"Constant pressure to change the basic terms and conditions of the arrangements can only undermine public confidence in the program and could lead to a system which would be - or considered to be - a welfare system for the aged and disabled. This would be unfortunate. Conservatives and liberals alike have a common interest in defending and maintaining the contributory and financial integrity of the insurance elements in the Social Security Program." Wilbur J. Cohen - Professor of Public Affairs - University of Texas.

The book "Barbara Jordan, a Self-Portrait" is a trip down a road that stops at all the bumps in Miss Jordan's life, according to C. Baria. She states that we get a glimpse of the immensity of the struggle, the extent of the voyage from the all-black fifth ward of Houston to the pinnacles of her career - her memorable Judiciary Committee speech during impeachment hearings and her deliverance of the much-heralded keynote address of the 1976 Democratic National Convention.

Jordan speaks: "I do not recall joy related to my experience of these years at church. (Her father was a part-time preacher). How to die, we got that. But we were missing how to live. On balance my church relationship was, without doubt, a very imprisoning kind of experience."

The book is an important one in that it meshes one woman's struggle for personal fulfillment through various "first black woman" achievements with key developments in the civil rights movement. Reading this book is, at times, like listening to a tape of Barbara Jordan reminiscences.

The Outreach Prayer Breakfast

Members of the Outreach Prayer Breakfast Club met last Saturday morning at 9 a. m. in the lovely home of Mrs. Clara Cage. Truly, all of you should have been there; it was great!

Our president, Mrs. Mary Ward, presided over the meeting. Participating in the devotions were Mrs. Clara Cage and Mrs. Dorothy Hood. Mrs. Ward also participated. Scripture was taken from Proverbs 3:1-5. The morning lesson was taught by Mrs. Annie Day. The scripture was taken from St. Luke 11:9-10.

"And I say unto you, ask and it shall be given you; seek and you shall find; knock and it shall be opened unto you. For every one that asketh receiveth, and he that seeketh findeth; and to him that knocketh it shall be opened." This was a spirit filled message. We thank Sister Day for the message. Remarks were given by members and friends.

Thought for the day:
"If a son shall ask break of any of you that is a father, will you give him a stone?" Think about it.

The morning meal was served with a mixture of Spanish-American foods. We are just a group of people trying to bring some sunshine and hope to those who are hurting. Would you like to join us on next Saturday. If so, then bring an appetite, both physically and spiritually.

Our guest list last week included: Rev. & Mrs. Tony Williams and Mrs. C. C. Peoples. Thank each of you for coming. You are welcome.

Prayer request were made and answers to prayers.

Morning prayer was offered by Rev. Tony Williams.

Our sick and shut in list include: Mr. Phillip Gant, Jr., a I. C. U patient at St. Mary's Hospital; Mr. M. E. Collins, at home; Mrs. Ollie Hernanes, at home; Mrs. Rosana Clemons

RUBY JAY'S CORNER

The young people at Bethel African Methodist Episcopal Church will hold a Pre-Thanksgiving Breakfast on Sunday morning, November 23, beginning at 8 a. m. The young people, who have been holding Saturday morning retreats, are inviting all the speakers who have participated in their effort.

For young people or organizations of the community who would like to attend this breakfast, contact Mrs. Thelma Pierson at 765-9046.

"We are having a real good time on Saturday mornings, and we will continue in the future," said Mrs. Pierson.

The New Hope Baptist Church, as well as other local churches, had low attendances last Sunday because of the 6 inch snow. We were blessed, however, to have church.

In all churches, a few Christians came out to church.

Pastor A. L. Dunn was at his post of duty.

Sister Robert Allen, director of the Training Union at New Hope, invites all of her many friends to come out on Sunday, December 7th, at 7 p.m. to their special program. This program will involve many young people. If you would like to have your child to be on this program, come and be our special guest," says Mrs. Allen.

November 30th is the last fifth Sunday for 1980. President Ruby Jay of New Hope Baptist Church is asking all of her many friends to come out to their meeting at 7 p. m. on Sunday, November 30. It will be "Senior Citizens Day". We will have a great speaker. This is an invitation also to all senior citizens to be our special guest. To the members of New Hope, we would like for you to help us reach our quota this year. Your cooperation will be greatly appreciated. Just $6.00 from each member is requested.

Let us not forget to whisper a prayer for our sick and shut in members of the community. Mr. C. Johnson, a husband of Mrs. Sug Johnson, is very ill. Also ill is A. W. Savage, father of Lee Savage.

Of course, there are others, so let's continue to pray for them.

If you are going to be having some holiday parties and programs, let us hear from you so we can publish it in this column. We would appreciate some pictures of your activities.

Would you believe that when the snow had quit falling on Monday morning, Lubbock had received 10.5 inches of snow. Yes, we did!! School was out for local public school students here.
