Sneed Receives Award

Fletcher Sneed, an employee of the U. S. Postal Service for twenty-one years, received the National Safety Council's Expert Driver Award recently. In a letter from Elmer J. Reed, Jr., Postmaster, in part, it stated:

"In appreciation of an excellent driving record with the United States Postal Service in Lubbock, I am honored to present this Expert Driver Certificate from the National Safety Council. This represents 20 years of accident-free driving."

The letter went on to indicate that Mr. Sneed has completed 900,000 miles of exception safe driving practices. "Your concern for the delivery of the mail and your vehicle has contributed greatly to the overall mission of the post office."

Payne Joins Census Bureau

Journalist and lecturer Ethel L. Payne has joined the Bureau of the Census as a writer-consultant for its racial minority programs.

The Bureau is using Payne's experience in minority affairs to enhance current programs designed to produce a complete count of the Nation's minority population in the 1980 Census of Population and Housing which begins April 1.

Winner of several national awards as a columnist, news writer, and former associate of the Chicago Daily Defender, Payne also delivered weekly commentaries for CBS Television network opinion program, "Spectrum," from 1972 to 1978. She recently served as writer-in-residence at George Washington University.

Ms. Payne, who attended Northwestern University's Medill School of Journalism, becomes the latest nationally recognized mass communication expert to join the Bureau's Census Promotion Office, created to develop broad public awareness of the 1980 census.

Doris E. Saunders, chairman of the Census Advisory Committee on the Black Population, said Payne should bring "added focus, direction, and understanding" to the Census Bureau's effort to reduce the minority undercount in 1980.

"We're delighted to see Ethel Payne come aboard," Saunders said. "It's another

Ringing The Bell

With Bob Tiewel

"A Personal Thank You"

We would like to take this means to thank our bellringers who for a number of years have been with this column thru the pages of the West Texas Times, a black-oriented newspaper that was published in Lubbock, Texas for nearly 20 years. The West Texas Times has closed her doors forever and the publisher, Norman Williamson, told me the other day that he felt that "I have paid my dues" and that he wished to thank all of those who supported our efforts during "our years of publication." Our new bellringer club in Lubbock now will originate in the offices of the Lubbock Digest, a black owned and operated newspaper that has been going strong for some three years and located at 510 East 23rd Street, Lubbock. The publisher-editors are T. J. Patterson and Eddie P. Richardson, Jr. And those of you who have tie left on your subscriptions, we will give you the Digest for the remainder of your subscription time remaining.

The Congressional (U.S.) Black Caucus recently announced that guidelines would be used throughout black America to measure all presidential candidates but that the caucus would not endorse any particular candidate. This should be good news for Republicans over the nation. The caucus also called on candidates to support: a. A program to increase the number of blacks in the federal work force, particularly at the higher Civil Service levels, b. Full funding of the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act program, c. An expansion of government housing programs for low and moderate-income families and the elderly and handicapped, d. Legislation to honor the late Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. with a national holiday, e. Increased economic assistance to African countries.

Dear Bob -- The plight of the private church related college goes darker every day. The other day Bob McKittrick of the Lone Star Gas Company of Dallas said that Bishop owed more than $200,000 in water, light and gas bills and that if HEW does not fund the college, Bishop is through. And there are others facing like problems. What can we do? Is there a way out? signed Mrs. T. H. of Dallas. To Mrs. T. H. Watch for our reply here soon, Bob.

by Eddie P. Richardson, co-publisher, he will serve as local organizer and has been given authority by the national office in San Francisco, California. At present time, much input is being given by many of you about this new effort. If you are concerned about becoming a member, then let's become one. This program will not just be one of conversation, but one of action and involvement.

As we began working in our third year of publication, this writer and partner (Eddie) will never forget those of you who have helped us make the Lubbock Digest a reality. Many times, however, some of you forget Eddie is my partner and is responsible for the success of this newspaper. Anyway, for the record, this writer would like for all of you to know this effort is a partnership venture.

As you can see, our advertising is moving up the economic ladder. This is the way it should be. We have not been selfish either, and will continue to do what we can for the community in many ways, including financial. It is also our hope that the advertisement will justify the publication of pages in future issues. Some of you will even say this paper is nothing but advertisement at present time. It may appear so, but keep in mind every printed page cost. And believe this writer when he says that newsprint is high.

TELL IT LIKE IT IS
by
T. J. Patterson, Sr.

Many of you have been asking why the advertisement on this page filling up the editorial page. As this writer has told many of you, it is about time Black people support Black owned and operated businesses in our community. For one more week, this advertisement, serving the purpose of an editorial, will appear.

It is our hope this approach will jog our minds of the importance of helping those Black brothers and sisters who are in the business world. At the same time, advising each of you about an opportunity to join and participate in the U. S. Black Chamber of Commerce. Since this beginning, contact has been made

HOME AND LAND OWNERSHIP

This past summer, the National Association of Property Owners held its first meeting on land use in Washington. Those who were privileged to attend this meeting became aware that they were sharing in a concern which has been central to our nation's well being ever since the founding of our great republic.

A brilliant land-use lawyer named Ben Wallis from San Antonio, Texas sparked the event, pulling together a diverse group of people including national park in-holders, farmers, ranchers, loggers, Indian chiefs from Minnesota's boundary waters, and Alaskans fighting to keep control of their state's resources.

Ben Wallis' principal concern has been a dual one—that of the preservation of the right of all citizens to own land unmolested by needless federal constraints, and the extension of home or land ownership to include practically all of our citizens, most especially the nation's poor.

In this latter regard, Ben Wallis asserts that the basic mind-set of the poor would change—with land and home ownership—from an outlook of dependence to an attitude of investment. People who own property, Wallis notes, have a lively sense, both of belonging and of having dominion. Our alienated poor presently are lacking in both of these regards. One solution: to sell to the poor on attractive terms the federally-constructed housing units which they now occupy.

There would be immediate results in terms of diminished police, fire, sanitation, recreation, and social service costs, plus major savings to local, state and federal governments in the area of administrative costs.

Essentially conservative in his outlook, Ben Wallis would be among the last to advocate more expensive programs to benefit the poor. On the contrary, Wallis believes that all of our citizens stand to benefit most substantially when there is less government spending and control—not more.

On Wallis' side in his conviction is the recognition that it has taken far less money—indeed, only a relative drop in the bucket—to fund the FHA, which moved low-income whites into home ownership, than it costs to fund low-rent housing for blacks, complete with its staggering array of implicit social costs.

Wallis' motivation for his work with the National Association of Property Owners centers largely in his fear of the unbridled encroachments of the federal bureaucracy.

Typical of some of the concerns which have engaged the interests and talents of Ben Wallis is the case of the La Croix Indians in Wisconsin. The La Croix are a small tribe which—like most modern day Indians—has had far more than its fair share of poverty, crime and drug addiction. A few years ago, a new chief was chosen who decided that these problems were unnatural to any community and so could and must be rooted out.

The Indians went to work serving advantageously as guides through the fascinating river and lake country near to where they had lived and soon poverty was virtually ended. Coupled with the new dignity and independence was a thoroughgoing determination to see that no poverty-inspired social problems would plague the life of the tribe. Drug addiction became practically non-existent, as was also the case with crime.

Then came the federal bureaucracy, declaring that under provisions of recent federal legislation the waters on which they served as guides had been taken into the national system of parks. Hence, all profit-making activity would have to cease, including the service of guides.

This case—which holds the possibility of shattering the life of the La Croix Indian community—is still in litigation, as are numerous cases where park in-holders (persons owning private homes in areas declared park lands) reportedly have been almost unbelievably abused in unwarranted and extra-legal ways by agents of the federal government.

The National Association of Property Owners is not an anti-government organization, however. At least in the spirit of Ben Wallis, there is the demeanor of a determined defender of the people's rights and of the greatest public good.

For information about the fascinating and important work of the National Association of Property Owners, one may write to the organization at 2400 Tower Building, San Antonio, Texas 78205. Retired persons especially would be encouraged by an emphasis on the part of some within NAPO to facilitate the ownership by retired persons of practically all of the housing in which they live.

indication the Bureau is serious about reducing the minority undercount. It's terribly important that every minority person understand the importance of being counted in 1980.

Statistics that result from the 1980 census will be the basis for political reapportionment and redistricting, and are used to guide the distribution of an estimated $50 billion annually for more than 100 Federal programs that bring better schools, better roads, more jobs, and other benefits to communities. To the extent that Blacks are not counted in the 1980 census, their communities may be shortchanged. Every household in the Nation will receive a census questionnaire in the mail on March 28. People are urged to fill it out at their convenience and mail it back in the enclosed, postage-free envelope, except in some rural areas, where the instructions ask people to keep the questionnaire until a census taker arrives to pick it up.

Individual answers to the 1980 census are confidential, by law. Census workers are subject to five years in jail and/or a fine for violating that law.

foundation, probably because black families are put under more than the ordinary stress of everyday life. Especially is this true from an economic and psychological point of view, as compared with our white counterparts. To prove a point—many of our black children come from what is called a "broken home" or one-parent situation, particularly in our urban cities. Is there any wonder that we don't have enough love and self-respect for one another.

To help aid in such an important move as marriage, "timing" of such an important event will add to the success, harmony and the perpetuation of the black family. This "timing" can be determined from your date of birth and zodiac sign. For instance—a person born June 24 is a number 6 person (2+4=6), under the zodiac sign of Cancer. Take your date of birth in this manner to find out the best timing

The 2 person, born on the 2nd, 11th, 20th or 29th, and those born under the zodiac sign of Cancer, would do best in choosing late April thru May, late June thru July and late September thru October for nuptial relations.

The 3 person, born on the 3rd, 12th, 21st or 30th, and those born under the zodiac sign of Place and Sagittarius, should enter into matrimony during late February thru March, late April thru May, and late November thru December.

The 4 person, born on the 4th, 13th, 22nd or 31st, and those born under the zodiac sign of Aquarius, should go down the aisle during late January thru February, late May thru June, late July thru August.

In next week's column, we will continue with our analysis of persons who are members from 5 through 9.

ARIES — March 21-April 20
 Wednesday the 23rd is excellent to push talents and abilities. The next day will be pleasingly romantic. Be careful with money decisions on Saturday the 26th. However, Sunday is favorable for whatever you desire. Monday the 28th suggests that you be tactful with others—as well as on the next day.

TAURUS — April 21-May 21
 Begin to communicate those practical ideas you've been carrying around on the 23rd. Thursday the 24th will not only be romantic, but extremely favorable for your plans. Friday will be the same. The weekend, however, suggests that you slow down a bit—especially on Sunday the 27th. Be! Monday, and look forward to assistance from the opposite sex on the next day.

GEMINI — May 22-June 20
 Wednesday the 23rd should be a super-day to travel, create and get things done. Friday the 25th will find you mentally into yourself. Saturday the 26th is indicated as being very favorable for money matters. Sunday is good also. On Monday the 28th, get in touch with partners. You can expect their assistance the next day.

CANCER — June 21-July 21
 Start putting your sensitive and imaginative ideas across on Wednesday. Thursday the 24th will be great socially, and also from the standpoint of love. Over the weekend, Saturday suggests that you be careful in finances. On Sunday, avoid family arguments. Monday you can start in new directions, but Tuesday the 29th may be mixed.

LEO — July 22-August 20
 You can roar ahead with advertising your plans and schemes on Wednesday. Thursday, however, suggests that you be diplomatic with others—especially family members. Friday the 25th also indicates the same trend, but more so. Saturday shows finances that may be a little troubled. Sunday looks much better. Start anew on Monday and be patient on Tuesday the 29th.

VIRGO — August 21-September 21
 Wednesday the 23rd will be the highlight of the week. Push for whatever you want. Thursday, however, may be mixed, especially from a domestic point of view. Friday is excellent for analyzing situations. Watch over-

IMPORTANT TAX NOTICE 1979

1979 tax statements for the City of Lubbock and Lubbock Independent School District were mailed to property owners in October, 1979. Because of the fact that thousands of parcels change ownership each year, many new owners may not have received their tax statements, or paid their taxes for 1979. Consequently, their taxes may become delinquent on February 1, 1980, if these people have not notified the Tax Office of the Ownership change and their correct new mailing address.

Generally speaking, if the property has improvements on it, a mortgage or loan company usually escrows taxes and pays those taxes in December. However, if your taxes are not paid by a mortgage and loan company, you have until January 31, 1980, to pay those taxes before a penalty and interest charge is levied and the taxes are carried as delinquent.

If you have a doubt as to whether your taxes have been paid for 1979, please call the City and School Tax Office and our staff will research the status of your taxes for you. Remember, all taxes must be paid on or by January 31, 1980, to avoid delinquent charges.

spending on Saturday. Sunday the 27th indicates rest for you. By Tuesday, the assistance will come to aid you in your plans.

LIBRA - September 22-October 21

Thursday the 24th should put you in touch with an influential woman. The following day will give time to look at situations more closely. The 26th may have both romance and money in store. Monday the 28th indicates that you rest and guard your health. Partners will be important on Tuesday.

SCORPIO - October 22-November 21

Expect some public activity on the 23rd—but don't expect too much out of Thursday and Friday, the 24th and 25th. Family matters and hidden secrets may cause problems then. SAGITTARIUS - November 22-December 20

Traveling with me was my granddaughter, Chanel.

Let us continue to whisper a prayer for all the sick and shut in citizens of the community.

The brother of Rev. A. L. Dunn, Sam, is ill in Ranger, Texas. Our own Mr. C. Lang is ill.

This writer spent the weekend in Cichorne, Texas with my twin sister who is very ill. She appears to be improving at this time.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Beatty's daughter, Brenatta Cooper of Alexander, La., is here at Reese Air Force Base, Texas.

This writer would like to extend our christian sympathy to Ms. Willie Mae Evans who lost her brother. The funeral services were held in Monahans, Texas last Thursday. Let us continue to pray for this family.

Those of you who missed the Bible Study course held at New Hope Baptist Church last week missed a treat. It was conducted by Rev. Tony Williams, pastor of the Community Baptist Church. He was wonderful. The study was from the Book of Ephesians.

The main thought was "God's New People." The main thought was unity. We are looking forward to hearing Rev. Williams again. We hope you will also.

The Outreach Prayer Breakfast

Members of the Outreach Prayer Breakfast met last Saturday morning in the home of Mrs. Rose Wilson at 9 a. m.

Presiding over the meeting was Mrs. Mary Ward, president. The meeting opened with the singing of "Leaning On The Everlasting Arms" by Mrs. Clara Cagle. Scripture was taken from Psalms 43:1-5 and read by Mrs. Buelah Winters, followed by prayer by Mrs. Willie Mae Hall.

Morning devotion was led by Mrs. Vivian Peoples. Scripture lesson was led by Mrs. Dorothy Hood, Kings Dorothy Hood, II Kings 5:1-23.

"And the Syrians had gone out by companies, and had brought away captive out of the land of Israel a little maid; and she waited on Nooman's wife. And she said unto her mistress, would God, my Lord, were with the prophet that is in Samaria! For he would recover him of his leprosy. And Elisha sent a messenger unto him, saying, go and wash in Jordan seven times and thy flesh shall come again to thee, and thou shalt be clean."

Think about it! This was a spirit guided meeting. Remarks were given by several members.

Breakfast was served with plenty of love. Do you feel unloved and thinks nobody cares? Then come by, because we care. We really do. Guest last Saturday morning included Rev. Stephen Pierson, Mrs. Rose Wilson, and Among our sick and shut in are Mrs. Willie M. Thomas, at home; Mrs. Ruby Scales, at home; Mrs. Verlin Carroll, Mrs. Gertrude Williams, at home. We're sure there are others whom we fail to mention in this report.
