New SBA Booklet Now Available to Businessmen

A new and valuable guide to help small businessmen in selecting profitable advertising media was announced last week by the Small Business Administration.

The book discusses advantages and disadvantages of each medium and outlines ways to judge the usefulness of each.

Quoting John Wannamaker, one of America's great merchants, the guide says that "advertising doesn't jerk, it pulls. If it is continuous, it will exert an irresistible force."

Chapters on numerous forms of advertising are discussed. These include business publications, consumer magazines, newspapers, radio and television. Helpful guides in preparing an advertising campaign are outlined.

Selecting Advertising Media: A Guide for Small Business, may be purchased from the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C., for 70 cents per copy.

It was written for SBA by former advertising executive Harvey R. Cook, now staff lecturer at the University College of Rutgers-The State University, New Brunswick, New Jersey.

July 15th Deadline For School Transferring

It was learned last week that a new deadline for 1969-70 school year only for making requests for transfer from one public school district in Texas to another is July 15.

According to information sent Lubbock Public School District by the Texas Education Agency on a recent law enacted by the Texas Legislature, July 15 is final date for application of transfer for the upcoming year. Also, another change in procedure is that transfer requests can no longer be lodged with the office of county superintendent, but must be made at the superintendent's office of the school district to which the transfer is to be made.

Bill Parker, director of pupil personnel for the Lubbock schools, said, "Many parents who have desired a transfer from one school district in Texas to another school district in Texas have delayed filing their request until late in the summer, but due to a change in Texas school laws as voted by the legislature and signed just recently by the governor, it is necessary that the request for transfers be initiated not later than July 15. gets - 11 and under, Juniors 12 -13; Intermediate 14 -15, and Senior 16 and up, retaining high school eligibility, as is based as of June 1, 1969. Ribbons will be awarded to the first six places in each event and special trophies for team championship and most outstanding performer in both boys and girls divisions.

Jackie Miller, Athletic Director for Lubbock announces that there will not be a district or state qualifiers meet this year. However, each town must submit to him by Saturday, June 28, a roster of participants who plan to run in the state meet at Denton, August 1st or 2nd. Any contestant whose name doesn't appear on a roster of their town will have to participate "unattached." No relay can run "unattached." Miller's address is Box 2000, Lubbock, Texas, 79408.

$50,000 Gift to "Y" Fund Announced

A $50,000 gift from the Moody Foundation of Galveston has brought the YMCA Capital Fund Drive near the half million mark and has brought the building of a new "Y" for Lubbock closer to reality.

"This gift came as the culmination of several weeks of contacts by our local YMCA leaders," said Owen Hamilton, General Chairman of the YMCA Building Fund. "The Moody Foundation has been most generous to our YMCA as well as to other YMCA's in West Texas." Hamilton said that other large gifts are in the probable stage but not yet ready for official confirmation.

Progress is also being made on the selection of a site for the new "Y" facility and as soon as the Site Committee makes its final report to the Board of Directors, the site will be announced. "The centrally located facility will more than triple the participation in our "Y" program," announced Hamilton. "It will supply us with facilities such as an indoor olympic swimming pool and other physical educational and recreational facilities that will allow us to provide a complete "Y" program not possible in our present inadequate building."

Negro Leaders Asked To Home Meeting

Negro leaders from the West Texas-New Mexico area have been invited to attend the first official meeting of the newly organized advisory board for Coronado Children's Home, East 31st Street and Redbud Avenue, Saturday afternoon, June 28, at 2:00 p.m., at the home.

Plans for expansion will be announced following the meeting, according to the director, H. E. Seidmeyer.

The home has been in operation three years under the direction of Pioneer Park Church of Christ elders.

Competitive Bidding Sought

The Post Office Department is seeking competitive bids to build and lease the new Sunset Station of the Lubbock, Texas, Post Office, Postmaster General Winton M. Blount announced.

Competitive bidding encourages the most attractive and economical offer to the Government, Mr. Blount noted. This will help the department to improve postal services while keeping expenditures low, he added.

Under a lease construction program, the site located at the Northeast corner of Frankford Avenue and proposed Elkhart Avenue intersection, will be purchased by the successful bidder who will control the property, construct the building to department specifications and lease it to the department for a basic period of 10 years and options of 20 years. The land and building will remain on local tax rolls. The building will contain 6,302 square feet.

The Department's capital investment will be limited substantially to postal equipment.

Bidding documents may be obtained from Mr. V. E. Bell, Real Estate Officer, P. O. Box 1886, Lubbock, Texas 79408. The Real Estate Officer will supply bidding forms, building specifications, lease provisions and other information. Bid documents will be available June 20, 1969.

Bids must be submitted to the Reas Estate Officer by 2:00 p.m., August 22, 1969, at Lubbock, Texas.

Show standing at the podium is the noted humanitarian, physician and civic and church leader, Dr. Viola M. Coleman, of 500 S. Carver Street in Midland, in one of her numerous public appearances. She appears in deep thought as she "tells it like it is" before an Association for the Study of Negro Life and History group.

Deep disappointment was expressed by people in all walks of life and ethnic groups when she did not receive an appointment to the University of Texas in the Permian Basin Board of Regents. The nine member board is lilly white.

Wage and Hour Laws Reviewed

If you read this paper the last couple of weeks you noticed the front page articles about the U. S. Department of Labor enforcing the Wage & Hour law. At the request of their local Compliance Officer, George Rice, I'm publishing this information for our readers because I know many of us have rights under the federal law that we don't know about.

The chances are that your job is covered by the Wage-Hour law. (Generally domestic house work and certain other jobs are not covered). If your job is covered by the federal law you must be paid no less than the legal minimum of either $1.30 or $1.60 an hour. The amount depends on the kind of work you do and how long your job has been covered by the law. Also, you must be paid time-and-one-half for over 40 hours and men and women must get equal pay for equal work. If you are between 40 and 65 you cannot be refused a job or promotion because of age nor can an employment agency refuse to refer you to a job because of age.

Most of us don't know whether the law applies to us or not. Neither do we know which minimum wage applies to us. So how do we find out? Simple enough—just call one of these Department of Labor numbers and ask them. If they aren't there when you call, just leave your name and number on their recording device and they will call you when they return. Lubbock, PO 5-8541, Ext. 318; Amarillo, DR 6-5151, Ext. 273; Odessa, FE 7-6191; or Midland, MU 3-3942.

I know that one of our functions as a newspaper is to inform our readers. That is why I've written this editorial. I believe we also have a responsibility to protect our subscribers. For that reason I specifically asked Mr. Rice what would happen to people who call these Wage & Hour Offices. He assured me they will investigate any employer who appears to be in violation of the law and seek immediate compliance. Most important, however, Mr. Rice assured me that your name will not be revealed to anyone if you call the Labor Department for information or to report violations.

So, what can you lose? The answer is nothing! And you may get higher wages by checking with them. Call their nearest office and see.

If you believe that a man has no history worth mentioning, it's easy to assume that he has no humanity worth defending. —William Loren Katz

The above statement, when used as a preheading in this month's Reader's Digest, above the interview article "Let's Set Black History Straight," explains in vivid manner why every American—black or white—should purchase a copy of July Reader's Digest and read the article.

If you don't subscribe to the Digest, buy or borrow one, and read it yourself. The article is on page 59, and it is most interesting and informative.

Highlights AND Sidelights

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Austin—Biggest organized plan in Texas history—to fight crime—is in the approval stage, with early approval anticipated.

Plan was submitted last month to the U. S. Department of Justice by Governor Preston Smith's Criminal Justice Council.

With approval will go $1.1 million in action grants to state and local units of government for brand new approaches to the war on crime.

An initial planning grant of $830,350 started the action, and $235,000 more was freed for the purchase of riot control equipment. If this program is successful and continued, $11 million more in federal aid will go to Texas in federal fiscal year 1970.

Plans of cities and regions were cleared through the Criminal Justice Office for inclusion in a state-wide approach. Experts in crime prevention, apprehension, trials, sentencing, corrections, pardons and paroles participated in the drafting of the overall program.

Work proceeds under federal Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets acts of 1968.

Urban Coalition and Urban America Inc. groups recently criticized the program. Private organizations doubted the ability to spend money effectively and complained that the U. S. Justice Department did not give states enough guidance on planning. Also it was contended that private citizens were not sufficiently involved.

Texas Council insists that the best job possible was done in the close time framework available for initial planning. Criticism, the Council contends, should be held until there is an opportunity to measure action.

This effort is the first attempt to pull together courts, law enforcement and correctional institutions, in a mass movement against crime. Only time and experience can measure results.

Mental Health Funds Up—Texas spending for community mental health facilities has risen from zero to $3.5 million a year in two years, bringing Texas from the bottom to sixth in the nation for total aid to such centers.

State actually ranks 15th in per capita spending, with an average of just 32 cents per person per year, according to a study by the National Association of State Mental Health Directors.

A national survey showed only New York, California, Pennsylvania, Wisconsin and Michigan spent more for local mental health services last fiscal year. New York spent $43.5 million or $2.41 per capita, California $30.6 million or $1.59 per capita.

One or more community centers now are operating in Amarillo, San Antonio, Belton, Dallas, El Paso, Houston, Edinburg, Beaumont, Austin, Lubbock, Texarkana, Fort Worth, Waco, San Angelo and Corpus Christi. A center in Midland is expected to open in the near future. Wichita Falls and Galveston have submitted plans and requests for state grants-in-aid with which to finance their centers on September 1.

Community center planning contracts are in effect in 15 other communities and Texas' Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation has contracts for services to provide community treatment in 10 more. Still other programs are being put in effect in rural areas through nine state mental hospitals.

Liquor Store Changes Ordered—Under a new law, all drug stores and discount houses which sell liquor must physically seal off the departments and provide access only through separate entrance from streets.

Liquor Control Board so advised package store permit holders in a new bulletin. About 300 of the state's 3,000 package store permittees will have to do complete remodeling jobs on their stores by September 1 to comply, LCB estimates.

A "sleeper" provision appeared in the liquor law revision bill. Former Gov. John Connally vetoed a similar provision in 1967. Before 1945, liquor could be sold only in package stores. Legislature in 1959 authorized discount and drug stores to set aside part of the floor space for liquor sales. Legis-

The United Nations International Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Racial Discrimination has now been ratified by 31 nations. It established the first international machinery empowered to fight against rights violations. However, the United States has not yet ratified the convention.

Glen Cove, Long Island, N. Y. passed the second toughest open housing ordinance in the country. There are now 270 such ordinances, an increase of 245 in the past four years. Only Ypsilanti, Mich. has a stronger law according to Robert Sauer, associate general counsel for equal opportunity of the Department of Housing and Urban Development. Glen Cove and Ypsilanti both provide up to $500 fine and 25 days in jail for violations.

Property values in Louisville, Ky. "changing" neighborhoods more than held their own when compared to values in all-white areas. Of 183 sales in "changing" neighborhoods, 91 showed an increase in value, 75 showed no change and only 17 decreased in value. This is only one of the findings in a pamphlet, Fair Housing: Myth vs. Fact, available free from the Kentucky Commission on Human Rights, Capitol Annex Building, Frankfort, Ky., 40601.

Student Strike

Are students always rebelling? Campbell Harvey recently wrote to the Saturday Review's "Trade Winds" about a strike at Cass School in Detroit, "The Board of Education," wrote Harvey, "unjustly dismissed Mr. E. C. Whitney on the charge of kissing and hugging pupils. Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of the past week the A-room pupils went on a strike and said they would not return to school until Whitney was reinstated. They had petitions sent around, and more than 500 people signed them. I started one among the alumni up at High School. Last Thursday night, the Board reconsidered the matter and did not replace him."

Oh yes. I forgot to mention that the letter was written by Mr. Harvey to his sister Alice, on September 27, 1903.

So, what's new?

Give It Back To The Indians

When I was in my teens, as a gag I organized an American Association to Give the Land Back to the Indians. We might all be better off today if my efforts had been successful.

Take the problem of schooling and community control, for instance. Throughout most of the 19th century, reports the Carnegie Quarterly (Spring, 1969), the Choctaw and Cherokee Indian Republics operated their own school systems. The Choctaws operated boarding schools, community day schools, Sunday school literacy classes and gave college scholarships. Angie Debo, an Oklahoma historian, writes: "As a result of its excellent public school system the Choctaw nation had a much higher portion of educated people than any of the neighboring states; the number of college graduates one encounters in any contemporary record is surprising; and the quality of written English used by the Choctaws in both their official and private correspondence is distinctly superior to that of the white people surrounding them."

"As for the Cherokees, it is estimated that in the 1830's they were about 90 percent literate in their own language. And by the 1880's the western Cherokees had a higher literacy level in English than the white population of either Texas or Arkansas.

"Both these school systems were closed down by the United States government more than seventy years ago. . . . Today, the Indian dropout rate is calculated at 50 to 60 percent, and those Indians in school score lower on most standardized tests and read and write English less well than non-Indian students.

He did receive a 2 inch gash on the head from the beating. Aside from the terrible beating, this man was robbed of $4.00 or $5.00. He told police that he didn't know who beat him up, but he would definitely identify them if he saw them again.

The knife was found by police. The girl was turned over to the juvenile authorities.

The Senior Choir of Mount Gilead Baptist Church will present "The Golden Star Singers" of Waco, Texas in two appearances here Saturday, July 12, at 8:30 p.m. and Sunday, July 13, at 3:00 p.m.

This is an annual presentation for the choir and they invite all their friends to share this Gospel feast. These singers have appeared here before and if you miss them you certainly will miss a treat.

St. John Baptist Church was host to the Federation of Choirs last Sunday, June 22. Several choirs were absent due to other commitments.

Rev. E. D. Toines, minister of St. John, asked his choir to render a special number in memory of Howard McBride, who passed away Sunday morning.

Mount Gilead Baptist Church will be host to the Federation of Choirs next month. Special requests were heard last Sunday in the absence of some of the choirs. It was also learned that President Iles is not resting well at all. He is a patient at Amarillo Veteran's Administration Hospital.

the California Baptist Convention and one of the nation's great pulpites. Only recently, he was a guest speaker at one of Midland's downtown churches. Mark your calendar.

Yours truly, along with Rev. L. H. Hall, pastor of St. John Baptist Church of Odessa attended the last rites of the late Earnest Miller, who lived at 406 Nelson Street. He was a member of Carter Chapel C.M.E. Church. His body lies in the Odessa City Cemetery, right across the street from the place he made his earthly home for many years. He was a native son of Waco, Texas, and leaves a number of relatives and friends to mourn his passing.

Sunday, June 29, 1969 had been declared "Charlie Mae Thompson Day" by the pastor and members as well as friends of St. Paul C.M.E. Church, located at 409 S. Lee Street in the Tall City. At the morning service Sunday, the pastor will preach from the subject: "Wanted & Needed—More C. M. Thompsons in the Black Methodist Church."

A widow, Mrs. Thompson has raised and educated a number of children and is a steward, class leader, a former member of the choir, assistant church secretary and has served in several other capacities since her membership began at St. Paul. She is a former member of St. Luke A.M.E. Church and was in the organization of St. Paul. "One cannot find a more loyal, dedicated church woman anywhere," stated her pastor. At the five o'clock Appreciation Hour for Pastor Tieucl on Sunday, June 29, Mrs. Charlie Mae Thompson will be the honored guest.

NEW IDEA: CENTRAL VACUUM CLEANING

The American homemaker is tackling an old problem in a new way, battling dirt, dust, lint and bacteria with a lightweight, easy-to-operate weapon.

It is a built-in, permanently-installed central vacuum system which incorporates a variety of work-saving features, all designed to lessen the drudgery of housecleaning.

Installation of a central "vac" puts an end to the chore of pushing, dragging, or lifting the old machine-type cleaner. Instead, the homemaker moves from room to room, carrying only a lightweight hose, a three-foot wand and cleaning attachment.

The system's power unit may be installed in the basement, garage, utility room, or some other out-of-sight location. This unit is connected by tubing to wall receptacles conveniently located throughout the house. When the hose is plugged into a receptacle, the system starts and dirt picked up by the attachment flows through the tubing to the power unit's sediment tank.

Because the motor is remotely located, the cleaning operation is whisper quiet. Vacuuming can go on even when baby or hubby are sleeping.

And to make things even easier, the lightweight hose can be stored in a closet or behind a door on its own specially designed rack.

The system, developed and recently introduced by General Electric, can be installed within hours in the average six-room house. Seldom is there a need for major carpentry or plastering.

things that our members took upon themselves to do for the church, all of which we are grateful for. We hope that we did not overlook anyone, if so, please let the pastor, Rev. M. T. Reed, know.

New Hope Baptist Church

General Mission will be held Monday night, June 30th, at 8:00 p.m. in Fellowship Hall.

Fifth Sunday, June 29th, will be under the auspices of the W.M.S. All members and friends are asked to join in this effort.

Words of thanks from President Howard to all committees and members for a job well done for the Family Day Dinner.

Whisper a prayer for the sick and shut-ins. Mrs. Mildred Borden has lost a relative in Waxahachie, Texas. Remember them in our prayers.

We are to serve Friendship Baptist Church, Sunday, July 12, at 3:00 p.m. for their pastor's and wife's anniversary, Rev. and Mrs. George Flemings.

The Board of Christian Education will meet each second and fourth Wednesday evenings while the Solace Board will meet each first and third Tuesday evenings. Both will meet at 7:00 p.m.

Homecoming services will be held July 7 through 13th. Let us continue to make big plans for this big week.

Mrs. Joan Ervin and Wynette Y. Ball are offering their services to girls interested in learning to prepare the Order of Service. They are asked to come by the church Saturday morning.
