Souvenir Book Dedicated to Anthony Glen Stanley

The Lubbock Alumnae Chapter of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc. have dedicated their souvenir book for the 1981 "Mr. Esquire Ball" in honor of Anthony Glen Stanley who was to have been one of the esquires. Due to illness, prior to his death in which the chapter decided to dedicate the book, and because of his death did do so.

Anthony has been described by some who knew him as a young man who didn't believe in giving up. "He requested that we send him a copy of the Lubbock Digest while he was confined to a hospital bed in Houston, Texas last year, and we did," said Eddie P. Richardson, co-publisher, who knew this young man.

Funeral services for Anthony Glen Stanley were held Saturday morning, April 11, 1981, at the Christ Temple Church of God in Christ with Bishop W. D. Haynes, pastor, officiating.

Interment was held in Peaceful Gardens under the direction of South Plains Funeral Home.

He was born January 16, 1963 in Lubbock to Omie and Lester Anthony Stanley.

Anthony accepted the Lord early under the watch of Bishop W. D. Haynes. He later began worshipping at Hope Deliverance Temple Church of God in Christ, under the watch of Rev. Charles A. Tanner, where he was ordained as a Deacon on September 14, 1978. He was called into the ministry with his first sermon on May 18, 1980. He remained a faithful member until his death Monday, April 6, 1981.

Anthony was a senior at Estacado High School where he had served as President of the Junior Class, Student Trainer, Fellowship of Christian Athletes, and Vice-President of the National Honor Society.

He leaves to mourn his passing, his mother, Mrs. Omie Stanley; his father, Mr. Lester A. Stanley; a niece, LaTonya Williams; three sisters, Faye L. Henderson and Ada L. Holmes of Los Angeles, California and Cora L. Stanley of California; three brothers, Lester E. Williams and Jerry Williams of Lubbock, and Lester Stanley of California; maternal grandparents, Omie I. and Obie Pegues; paternal grandparents, Gerrie and Lester Stanley; four aunts, Era Anderson, Earlene,

Anthony Glen Stanley
Bobbie, and Anna Pegues; a host of nieces, nephews, cousins, other relatives and many friends.

A selection, "Last Mile of the Way", was sung by Sharon McCrutin; while Annie H. White sang "Amazing Grace." Ms. Katie Dawson also sang a selection.

Pallbearers were Jerry Gray, James Barnett, Lawrence Whitley, Leonard Chatham, Kenneth Cade, and Jackie McFadden.

Honorary pallbearers were H. J. Muehlan, Joseph Lee, Jim Broome, Rudolph Adams, D. C. Kinner, and J. V. Davis.

A trust fund has been set up the First National Bank to help defray the medical expenses while he was a patient in a hospital.

FORMER HEAVYWEIGHT CHAMPION JOE LEWIS (Center, Standing) is shown with Lubbock residents in early 1950. This was Louis' only visit to the Hub City. Mrs. C. H. Lyons and the late Dr. J. A. Chatham (both seated in the center) were responsible for his visit. A dinner and reception was held in the home of Mrs. Lyons.

"We had a great time with the champ who was here for several days. He was quite a fellow," said Mrs. Lyons.

Louis died Sunday. He was one of the greatest boxers in history, and is attributed with making it possible for blacks to excel in professional sports, the first being Jackie Robinson who played for the Brooklyn Dodgers. (Photo Courtesy of Mrs. Lyons)

The program is sponsored by Lubbock Opportunities Industrialization, Inc. and offers summer jobs for youth between the ages of 14 and 22.

Employees' wages are paid without direct cost to employing agencies. Participating agencies provide work sites and supervision for youth in the employment program.

Two sessions of work programs will be offered this summer: June 1 to August 7 and June 8 to August 14.

More information is available from Lubbock Opportunities Industrialization, Inc., 1701 Parkway Mall, 763-8077. Orientation sessions for representatives of participating agencies will be 9:30 - 11:30 a. m. on April 24, 1:30 - 3:30 p. m. on April 30, and 12 to 12 on May 9 at the LOIC offices.

Ma Bell Seeks Assistance From Customers

Southwestern Bell is seeking the assistance of its customers in reducing the number of underground telephone cables damaged by digging and other excavation work.

During 1980, some 11,429 damaged cables were reported in Texas. The figures represent a six percent increase in cable cuts around the state and do not include hundreds of cuts of drop wires, which run from a terminal to a customer's house.

"Reducing the number of damaged cables is a top priority for the company in 1981," said E. W. Anderson, manager - outside plant construction, "Lubbock and its surrounding communities reported 200 cable breaks in 1980."

Anderson said the damage is caused by a wide variety of sources, ranging from contractors and excavators, to homeowners setting mailboxes and fence posts.

Over the past several years, most telephone cable has been placed underground. The decision to use buried cable is based on its ecological, service and financial benefits Anderson said. Buried cable solves the problem of sight pollution, caused by the appearance of poles and overhead wires.

According to Anderson,

Should Black Communities be Preserver for Blacks?

by William R. Morris
NNPA News Service

There is already good reason to believe that the ideals of a single society will not only be contradicted by America's growing political conservatism but supplanted by blacks themselves in their struggle to transform impoverished ghetto's into viable communities where blacks may continue to live.

Recent years have seen a major expansion in the amount of housing available to blacks and significant qualitative improvements as well. Most of this increase has come from the transition of residential areas from white to black occupancy. With lowering of racial barriers and consequent widening of opportunity, subtle but profound changes are taking shape in the outlook of blacks. Many members of the black community are acquiring new concepts of what is desirable and possible, and new images of their position in society.

Presently, it is no exaggeration to say that the future welfare of blacks is bound up with their segregation. A concentration of numbers seems to be almost an essential condition of group survival. As history has demonstrated, when the members of an ethnic group cease to live together, their ties to the group become weakened and the group itself tends to dissolve. Although blacks will continue to be identified by others as a distinct group, the degree of awareness of blacks as a group is closely dependent upon their numbers and concentration.

In becoming more like other Americans in jobs and incomes, blacks have also tended to assimilate the goals, the status symbols, and social standards of the community-at-large. The process is a familiar one historically in the assimilation of immigrant groups into the nation's mainstream. Where a family lives is a mark of its social position, and people living in similar housing in the same neighborhood ordinarily are judged to be on the same social level.

It is unlikely that the housing of blacks can be brought up to the general standards of quality while separate residential communities persist. Indeed, certain components of good housing, such as variety to suit individual wants and purses, and prestige locations, are obviously impossible to provide within any limited area. Recognition of this truth was the basis of the Supreme Court's refusal ever to apply the separate-but-equal doctrine to matters of residence.

A parallel trend since World War II has been the growth of governmental activity in housing. In programs of widening scope, the federal government has sought to stimulate the production of housing, aid families to obtain homes, eliminate slums and reduce the concentration of minorities and the poor. In the general movement toward racial equality, housing is a crucial area. One of the basic rights of citizens in a free society is the freedom to move and choose a place of residence. No one, of course, has complete freedom of choice in housing or in any other field, but the exclusion of persons from areas because of race (both blacks and whites) is to deprive them of an essential right. This freedom is basic because it is necessary to the enjoyment of many other rights and privileges.

A fundamental problem of housing for blacks is not one of quality and quantity of dwellings, important as these may be, but whether blacks should continue to be concentrated in separate communities or be encouraged to seek their housing in the general marketplace. A whole new value of black communities is emerging.

Until recently, racial segregation in housing has been sustained by widespread white attitudes, practices of the real estate industry, and policies of local, state and federal governments. Probably no aspect of racial discrimination in the United States has been more institutionalized and resistant to change. Now, some black community leaders are shifting their sights away from integration as a goal. Instead, they have begun to focus on ghetto enrichment programs: better schools, better housing and more jobs - within the black community.

Federal integration policies began to shift during the Carter Administration and, it seems, will be continued by President Reagan, i. e., the removal of site and neighborhood restrictions on federally-assisted projects in areas of racial concentration.

Marijuana Use Increasing Among High School and Junior High School Students

Marijuana use has been increasing steadily at all junior and senior high school levels, according to a recent survey by the University of Michigan Institute for Social Research. In a survey involving more than 16,000 students in 130 schools, Dr. Lloyd D. Johnston and colleagues also found that:

* Marijuana was by far the most widely used illicit drug, with 60 percent of the seniors reporting some use in their lifetimes, half in the past year and more than one-third in the month prior to the survey. Thirty percent had first used the drug during high school, but an equal proportion had tried it earlier.

* While 10.3 percent reported daily or near-daily marijuana use, only two-thirds as many - 6.9 percent - said they used alcohol that often.

* Overall marijuana use was "somewhat higher" among male students, and daily use was "substantially higher" than among females - 12.7 percent compared to 7.3 percent.

* Annual marijuana use was reported by 47 percent of the college-bound versus 53 percent of the non-college-bound students.

* There was slight variation in annual marijuana use by region of the country - 61 percent in the South and 52 percent in the West. It was greatest in large metropolitan areas, where 59 percent of the students said they had used the drug in the last year, compared to 43 percent in more rural areas.

* Until recently, there had been a trend towards thinking that marijuana was not harmful to health. Since 1979, however, there has been an increase in the percentage of students who believe that marijuana use carries "great risk."

* Nearly 70 percent of the students surveyed disapproved of regular marijuana use - roughly the same negative rating as smoking a pack or more of cigarettes a day.

* Roughly a third of the students surveyed thought marijuana use should be entirely legal. Almost as many thought it should be treated as a minor violation but not a crime. And one-fourth believed it should still be a crime.

New U. S. Study Cites Marijuana Perils:

Marijuana smoking affects the lungs and reproductive systems of young men and women far more seriously than previously reported. With one high school senior in three a "current user" of pot, newly surfaced warnings are considered particularly serious. For example:

* Recent research found that smoking as few as four joints a week causes lung damage equivalent to that caused by smoking 16 cigarettes a day.

* By smoking pot, both males and females risk damage to their reproductive systems. Males suffer hormone losses that can cause impotence and a reduction in sperm count. Females suffer problems with ovulation. New studies of animals indicate pot use also triggers miscarriages.

* A study in Jamaica, quoted in an earlier NIDA report to Congress on "Marijuana and Health," and used by promarijuana forces, incorrectly played down the risks to the lungs because the Jamaicans studied inhale less than Americans do, according to a study published by the American Medical Association.

Dr. William Pollin, Director of the National Institute on Drug Abuse, recently prepared a statement, delivered to the House Select Committee on Narcotics, which contained more than 60 footnotes referring to recent pot studies outlining adverse biological effects. Many of the studies rebut past claims that marijuana is relatively harmless.

Inside Council Chambers

Parkway 5th grade elementary students attended part of the morning session of the April 9th City Council meeting. They heard Dr. Bill Dean, chairman of the Transit Advisory Board, recommend the following changes to the Citibus route.

A mid-day and Saturday service has been planned for Route No. 6 Avenue H - Family Park. This will provide full Citibus service for this area which now has only morning and late afternoon service on weekdays.

Proposed Citibus route changes in East Lubbock will discontinue Route No. 10 - Dunbar East. Additional service on Route No. 1 - Dunbar

West with routing changes will provide the area with direct service to Downtown and out bound trips at 15-30 intervals similar to existing services will be available. In effect, service will only be discontinued on Quirt between E. Broadway and 24th Street. All Citibus service on Route No. 1 - Dunbar West will be provided by new GMC-RTS buses which are air-conditioned and wheelchair lift equipped.

The Council agreed to hold a public meeting on bus route changes May 14th, so if YOU are affected by this change and want to comment, come to City Hall prepared to speak on May 14th.

Yellowhouse Canyon water users will have an opportunity to speak at a public hearing tentatively scheduled for May 14th. The city staff will review Mr. Martin's records to determine the reasonableness of the rate increase. Mr. Martin has increased the rate from $10 a gallon to $22 per gallon. This price increase is already in effect and will continue unless a change is instituted after the public hearing.

son, placing cable underground protects it from falling trees, traffic, weather changes, and squirrels.

"Although the below-ground cable offers these advantages, it remains susceptible to damage by digging and excavation work," Anderson said. "That's why we are seeking the assistance of our customers in reducing the number of cuts that take place."

Southwestern Bell has set up signs throughout Lubbock marking the company's buried cable routes. In addition,

Anderson said, area contractors and local residents can call Enterprise 9800 for assistance in identifying cable locations before digging. Callers can reach this number by asking the operator to connect them to Enterprise 9800. There is no charge for these calls.

"We welcome calls to the Enterprise 9800 number," Anderson said. "If we can avoid just one damaged cable with this procedure, it will result in better service for our customers."

Black Communities

The paramount issue, I feel, is "freedom of choice" - including the choice to remain in their communities if blacks choose to, or to seek other housing freely in other areas. In the meanwhile, the task of revitalizing our cities and upgrading black communities must go on, with protections for the poor who choose not leave. With good planning, this can be accomplished while also preserving the social, economic and historical fabric of what is perceived to be "black communities."

The Amarillo Chapter of the NAACP and the Texas Chapter of the Texas Coalition of Black Democrats are working to help stimulate Black interest in governmental affairs, to promote and facilitate Black participation in the Democratic Party. This chapter is working, according to a spokesperson. By the way, you need a chapter in your city.

The Texas Coalition of Black Democrats is the only organization whose interest and awareness has helped in bringing about and aided in some of the political changes in Texas during the past two years of existence. The State President, Deralyn Davis of Fort Worth, Texas, has represented the Coalition in Austin lobbying for and against bills of Black concern. Deralyn and members of the State Coalition represented the State during the Democratic National Convention and were members of the Black Caucus at the National Convention. Congressman Mickey Leland was elected Chairman of the DNC

Black Caucus, and Dr. Jesse Jones of Dallas is appointed as Chairman of the Rules Committee.

"We need your input and concern," said Atoie Horton, chairperson. "Your city needs your input and concern. Join the Texas Coalition of Black Democrats." State dues is $10 per year, and local dues are $5.00 per year -- a total of $15.00. "Join now! The dues cover the cost of your monthly newsletter and entitles you to attend all meetings."

"The city or town that has the most paid memberships by May 3, 1981 will receive trophies at the State Conference to be held in Amarillo.

Emancipation Day in Texas (Juneteenth)

1863 Emancipation Proclamation

"That on the first day of January, in the Year of our Lord, one thousand, eight hundred and sixty-three, all persons held as slaves within any state or designated part of a state, the people whereof shall then be in rebellion against the United States shall be then, henceforward, and forever free; and the Executive Government of the United States, including the Military and Naval Authority thereof, will recognize and maintain the freedom of such persons, and will do no acts to oppress such persons or any of them in any way or efforts they make for their actual freedom.... And I further declare and make known, that such persons of suitable condition will be received into the Armed Services of the United States to Garrison Forts, positions and other places, and to man vessels of all sorts in said service.

"And upon this act ..... I invoke the consideration of mankind, and the gracious favor of Almighty God."

(Signed)
Abraham Lincoln
Sixteen U. S. President

This message reached Texas June 19th, 1865 and was read by Major General Gordon Granger -- General Order Number 3.

State Representative Al Edwards of District 85, Houston, Texas, authored House Bill 1016 and read his bill in the same place General Granger read the Proclamation in 1865. At present time, this same bill was not recommended for funding. It is important for us as black people and freedom loving people get busy and contact our Governor, State Senators and State Representatives that we want this bill continued. If we don't take the time to write these persons mentioned above, this bill could not be legal holiday in the future.

In the year of 1619, about 20 slaves arrived in Jamestown, West Virginia and for the ensuing 253 years, the slave trade of Black people flourished. But on September 22, 1862, President Abraham Lincoln signed and issued "The Emancipation Proclamation", declaring the abolishment of slavery in America. However, it was not until June 19, 1865 Major General Gordon Granger landed at Galveston, Texas and issued the General Order -- known in U. S. history as the "Granger Act." It was in accordance with the Proclamation from the President of the United States: "All slaves are free this date, June 19th -- commonly known as Juneteenth." It has been celebrated in an unofficial way since the Granger Act.

In 1979, a freshman state representative from District 85, Houston, Texas, by the name of Al Edwards authored, sponsored and passed House Bill 1016, making the 19th of June a state wide official holiday.

House Bill 1016 reads: "Relating to a declaration of Emancipation Day in Texas as a legal holiday. The 19th of June is designated 'Emancipation Day in Texas' in honor of the emancipation of the slaves in Texas on June 19, 1865."

If you would like to write state officials about this day continuing being a state holiday, call this writer at 762-3612 or come by 510 East 23rd Street and get the addresses of persons you are interested in writing.

Look for a lot more on this holiday in coming issues and why we must continue to preserve it. Nuff Sed!!

"Dear Black Americans"

by
Vera Givens

The Texas Department of Agriculture and Prairie View University have jointly researched the Black farmer and what has happened to the Black farm. The results of this research is presented in a pamphlet which is free to the public upon request.

If you are a farmer or an heir to farm property, this research information could be useful to you.

Since this is Black History month and the theme is "Black History-Role Model for Youths," I feel that the Black farmer is important to America. Black people particularly, and should not become extinct. Most Black peoples' roots go back to the Black farm. Our fore parents worked, slaved, pinched pennies to buy this land and their heirs should be more caring thoughtful, and wise before they give away what is theirs. Without land you lose a lot of privileges -- landlords or landowners are valuable people in America. Think about this! Don't let go or give up your land for a song and a dance. This land is valuable. It was bought and paid for by the blood, sweat and tears of our Black ancestors.

Beside producing food, etc., land can be used as collateral for purchasing (buying) homes, cars, education, musical instruments, business ventures, etc. So you see, your land is important. Wake up before it's too late.

The land was taken from the Indian and today Blacks are giving it away. Many Black Americans don't want to pay taxes on this land. This is a tax you should welcome to pay. The new owners of your land don't mind paying that tax. I wonder why?

Some people say that there is oil under a lot of this land. Whatever is on or under your land you should figure out a way to farm it, keep or use it because your ancestors depended on your keeping it in the family.

I hope you're not too modern or urban to think about your part.

Ringling The Bell

by

The Black Press: In March, the press of Black America was 154 years old. It was on March 16, 1827 that Samuel Cornish and John B. Russworm started publishing Freedom's Journal. They felt that "from the press and the pulpit we have suffered much by being incorrectly represented."

The purpose of Freedom's Journal was not only to represent, correctly, Black America to the world, but also to interpret and give useful meaning to past and current events in black life. Recently the National Black Monitor declared: "some black Americans question if there is still a need for a black press in view of civil rights gains and the fact that black journalists with a variety of black perspectives are employed in various segments of the so called 'general' media which is basically reflective of and primarily oriented to -- white concerns... We believe that the press of Black America is needed now more than ever. It is because we recognize that any medium worth its salt to its major supporters must cater to, and be oriented to the needs, viewpoints and aspirations of the major constituency it serves. end of quote.

Thus we can see why so many church organizations, civic and social clubs and other black organizations have declared 1981 to be "the year of Black History. When we educate blacks about their heritage, then blacks know their roots and pride becomes inescapable. The Monitor concludes blacks must continue to support and develop their communities for the good of black Americans and for all Americans.

The 77th annual session of the National Baptist Sunday School Training Union Congress will meet in Cleveland, Ohio on June 16-21, 1981. The theme: Positive Christian People in a Worried Confused World. Workshops will be held also on "Survival of the Black Family in the 80's." Dr. J. C. Sams, 954 Kings Road, Jacksonville, Fla., is president of the Convention with Dr. M. L. Price, 3202 Trully Street, Houston, Texas, is vice president. This is one of the largest bodies of Black Baptists in America and thousands from all over America are expected. No reservations are accepted after May 15, 1981. Mail application to: Housing Office, 1301 East 6th Street, Cleveland Ohio 44114.

Booker T. Washington once said: "I confess that I do not envy the white boy as I once did. I have learned that success is to be measured not so much by the position that one has reached in life as by the obstacles he has overcome while trying to succeed... Yet out of the hard and unison struggle which the black youth is compelled to pass, he gets a strength, a confidence, that one misses whose pathway is comparatively smooth by reason of birth and race. end of quote.

Over one half of the world goes to bed hungry, according to Monitor. For food, most of the world exists on what is largely a monstrous cereal diet. There are insufficient resources for meat. Throughout parts of Africa, Asia and South America, the Southern Hemisphere the death rate for children is up to 20 times higher than for children who have been born in the Northern Hemisphere.

Under the direction of the United Nations, a growing number of meetings have been held to discuss ways of overcoming the huge economic gap or gulf between the nations that have and the nations that have not.

The richer nations of the Northern Hemisphere (U. S. included) control the world's technology, claim what are presently the most fertile lands, own the lion's share of the world's money and own and control most of the mineral wealth of the poorer nations as well. Remember the words of Jesus: "When I was hungry, you fed me?" Can we do less?

WHO DETERMINES WHO SHOULD LIVE OR WHO SHOULD DIE?

The Democratic members of the Senate Labor committee, chaired by Senator Kennedy has begun hearings on President Reagan's budget proposals to assess their impact on human needs.

Kennedy says all members of congress agree that there should be a budget cut. He stated that they are pledged to do all they can to cooperate with the President. Yet, they are questioning Mr. Reagan's budget cuts. They neither mean to be obstructionists or rubber stamps. In referring to the President's statement that selfish interest groups oppose his budget recommendations, the Senator asked if the following were being considered in that category:

1) The middle class family whose children will no longer be eligible for college loans?
2) The fourteen and a half million children who will lose their lunches?

3) The millions of senior citizens who will find health care beyond their reach?

Kennedy said the oil companies and nuclear industry are not complaining because they have not been cut at all.

The entire education panel rejected the idea that the November election was a mandate to cut everything that the Administration has proposed. Contrary to this belief the recent Harris Poll shows that only 15 percent of the American public favor education cuts. Public education cannot afford an education reduction of funds diverted to private and parochial schools, elimination of programs that greatly aid the poor, handicapped, those who need bilingual educational programs are to be stock-manized out of existence.

The education group stated that the cut in granted student loans represent a serious restriction of opportunities for many young people to get a college education.

The senior citizen panel said that the President's economic recovery program is based on two incorrect assumptions: (1) That federal spending is the primary cause of inflation, (2) that massive cuts in federal spending will control inflation and strengthen the economy. Medicaid has had an annual increase of 18 percent because of inflation. One out of every five medicare recipients is a senior citizen mostly over age 75. Without medicare basic health needs would be insurcessible to these people. The panel emphasized that the government should not be investing scarce revenues in human services where the cost-benefit to taxpayers exceeded the benefits obtained from the expenditures. "The social safety net is filled with holes and the cut package is not a scalpel but a meat axe that will kill the patient."

Mrs. Richard, a 70 year old senior citizen said that she gets $306 a month. Her mortgage is $134, she gets $70 for food stamps and $80 for her grandson. She goes to the Central Virginia Health Center for health care. This costs her $5.00 a trip which also includes medicine.

Mrs. Kenny receives $282 plus a $99 supplementary and her sick husband receives a small 20 percent disability check. Out of this she pays rent, utilities, food and all other necessities. Mrs. Kenny is a diabetic and she would be entirely unable to get health care without the health center and Medicaid. However, recently she was hospitalized for a kidney operation, and there were some things for which she was charged. She produced a letter from a collection agency that threatened her for payment. She informed them that she would send them one or two dollars a month from her allowance.

Amy, a 20 year old former drug addict who is enrolled in a drug rehabilitation program is now in school. She had a $200 a day habit; money gotten by any possible means. She made a strong appeal to the committee asking that they prevent the cut-off of funds for the drug and alcoholic programs. Amy said that if the program is stopped now while she is going to a school which will enable her to become a productive citizen of society, and since at this point in her life, she is not able to do that without the care and training that she is getting, she would return to drugs and eventually die.

Ed Menken, a rehabilitated alcoholic, is director of Project Return, a drug center in New York City, state, that to cut off funds for these rehabilitation centers will prove far more costly in money and lives by the addicts' return to the street than will be saved by closing them. If this is done thousands of young people will die, annually. He asked the question, "Who'll

The speaker continued by saying: "God wants us to remember that forgiveness is based upon the grace of God, and the grace of God alone. Forgiveness is not only needed by all, but it is provided for all.

Palm Sunday Observed

Palm Sunday was observed by the Eastern Star Lodge No. 228, the Herons of Jericho and the Masons. All turned out for the worship services at the New Jerusalem Baptist Church, Rev. Adolphus Cleveland, pastor.

The Herons presented a short program ranging songs to Jesus. The Stars presented the "black heart" which told us about the things for granted, that should be checked within ourselves to see if we are doing according to the divine will of God.

Both programs were very enlightening and everyone got something out of what was said.

The sermon was preached by Rev. Thomas. His subject was "A Friend In Love." The scripture was taken from Matthew 2:2-3 and 21:8. The choir of New Jerusalem sung several songs.

The sermon touched the hearts and souls of everyone present. The pastor was pleased to have the Herons, Stars and Masons worship with them for this Palm Sunday service.

The Worthy Matron of the Eastern Star had two guest from Estancia, New Mexico, her daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Burrs; and another daughter, Mable.

After the services, punch and cookies were served.

The KITCHEN BEAT

In today's black American home, cooking is no longer the responsibility of one person. Because of busy and varied schedules, usually every member of the family at some time or another has to prepare personal meals or meals for other members of the family. The Kitchen Beat is designed to meet some needs of the various cooks in the modern black family.

EASY & DELICIOUS ENTERTAINING

One should always have stand-by recipes for entertaining that are delicious and yet easy to prepare at the last minute. We asked the folks at the V.O. Good Living Center for some ideas and their "winners" follow. We hope that you and your guests (family, too!) enjoy them.

CHICKEN KARMA (Makes 4-6 servings)

- 4 chicken breasts, bones and skin removed
- 1/2 cup lime juice (about 3 limes)
- 3 tablespoons vegetable oil
- 1 1/2 cups quartered mushrooms
- 1 1/4 cups sliced onion
- 1/4 cup sliced green pepper
- 1/4 cup sliced red pepper
- 1 medium clove garlic, minced
- 1/2 cup orange sections
- 1/2 cup raisins
- 1 cup peanut butter chips
- 1/2 cup half and half cream
- 1 teaspoon curry powder
- 1/2 cup plain yogurt

Cut chicken into 2 x 1/2-inch strips. In large bowl, marinate chicken in lime juice 30 minutes. In large skillet, saute mushrooms, onion, pepper and garlic in oil 2 minutes. Add chicken mixture; saute 10 to 15 minutes, stirring occasionally. Stir in orange sections, raisins, peanut butter, chips, half and half cream and curry. Cook and stir over medium heat until mixture is smooth; remove from heat. Stir in yogurt. Serve over rice. Garnish with toasted coconut, if desired.

CRANBERRY SHRUB (Makes about 5 quarts punch)

- 2 quarts cranberry juice cocktail
- 1 bottle (4/5 quart) whiskey
- 1/2 cup lemon juice
- 1/2 cups superfine sugar
- 2 quarts club soda
- 1 pint lemon sherbet
- Lemon slices
- Ice cubes

In punch bowl, combine cranberry juice, whiskey, lemon juice and sugar. Stir to dissolve sugar. Just before serving add soda, scoop sherbet into bowl and add fruit slices and ice.

We believe that our readers will want to support those advertisers who support the press of Black America. We are sure, therefore, that when you select the ingredients for this week's recipes, you will want to use:

- Canada Dry Club Soda
- Diamond Sugar
- Larry's seasonings
- Masala corn oil
- Ocean Spray Cranberry juice cocktail
- Reese's Peanut Butter Cup
- Seagram's V.O. Whisky

Clovis, New Mexico News

By Willie Hobby
Clovis Correspondent

Following is an interview with Elder W. Charles Green, pastor of the First Church of God in Christ, Clovis, New Mexico.

It is not often these days to find individuals truly dedicated to the commitment of serving their fellowman and woman. The appreciation is deeper and lasting when that service is directed toward the soul and spirit of that fellowman and woman.

For it is the innerman that governs our words and actions. There is great comfort in knowing God has called out some among us to pastor to the body of Christ Jesus. His Church.

Such a one called to head a congregation, to minister to the real person, the inner man, is Rev. W. Charles Green.

Rev. Green has pastored the First Church of God in Christ since March, 1957. He was appointed by the late Bishop J. W. Taylor. Elder Green is also serving as 2nd Administrative Assistant to Bishop W. C. Griffin and as District Superintendent of the Central District.

When asked what was his message in brief, Pastor Green stated: "As people of God, we are called to serve Him, to worship Him, and to obey Him. As we serve, worship and obey, God leads us into the paths of His righteousness. Also we must work while we have the opportunity. Whatever God has assigned to our hand - We must do it. For there is no work in the grave where we go. For Jesus said we must work while it is day, for when the night cometh no man can work. We must steadfast. We must not be moved from our assignment of task. Jesus also said, our works will praise us into the gates."

Thinking back over the years since 1957, Rev. Green declared that God has truly blessed the Church. He was quick in thanking and praising God for the present sanctuary saying, "To God be the glory."

He went further to state, "We ask the prayers of everyone - that God continue to bless us in these trying times. We invite all of our friends to share in the fellowship of our Anniversary (May 1-3). Who knows? This may be our last time, for soon and very soon we are going to see the king!"

He expressed his thanks for life by saying, "I'm certainly grateful to God for a beautiful wife who has suffered and prayed with me, and my six children who have suffered with us. I'm thankful to God for a beautiful family. God hasn't brought us this far to leave us. His grace will sustain us and carry us through. I am also thankful for all the members of the First Church of God in Christ for their support. Remembering that we must always abound in the work of the Lord. For we know that our labor is not in vain in the Lord."
