Lubbock Black Chamber Happenings!

A man who has given many years in the field of education, Albert W. Lincoln, is a proud member of the Lubbock Black Chamber of Entrepreneurs, Inc.

Albert W. Lincoln

A native Texas, Mr. Lincoln was born and reared in Queen City, Texas, Cass County. He graduated from Dunbar High School in Texarkana, Texas, and attended Prairie View A & M University where he majored in Vocational Agriculture.

After attending PV for two years, he was drafted into the U. S. Army, and after six weeks of basic training, he was awarded the rank of Sergeant and became a Non Commissioned Officer. He served for four years in the U. S. Army, with three of those years overseas in the Pacific Campaign Theater of Operations.

After being honorably discharged, Mr. Lincoln returned to PV and completed requirements for and received a B. S. degree in Vocational Agriculture.

His first employment as a professional was with the Federally funded Farm Program, teaching World War II veterans in an "On The Farm Training Program." He worked with this program for two years.

In 1950, Mr. Lincoln joined the Lubbock Independent School District as an Agricultural instructor at Dunbar High School. In 1984, he retired from the LISD after completing thirty four years of service. His first twenty one years were at Dunbar High School as a classroom teacher and counselor. The last thirteen years, Mr. Lincoln served as high school counselor at Monterey High School.

"One of my most pleasant and enjoyable experiences was when I was asked to organize a Hi Y Club at Dunbar," said Mr. Lincoln. It (Hi Y) was an extension of the Young Men Christian Association (YMCA). One of its purposes was to provide activities for leadership training for young men in high school.

"Many leadership training activities were planned and performed in the community as well as throughout the state in developing leadership skills," continued Mr. Lincoln.

The thirteen years at Monterey High School were a continuation of his counseling responsibilities were most enjoyable and enriching. They provided a fitting climax to a long and challenging career, and a pleasant exit from a career of total fulfillment," according to Mr. Lincoln.

A very active person, Mr. Lincoln, in 1967, completed requirements for certification in Guidance and Counseling in the State of Texas. He became a member of the West Texas Personal and Guidance Association (W.T.P.G.A.), Texas Personal and Guidance Association (T.P.G.A.), and the American Personnel and Guidance Association (A.P.G.A.).

September 1, 1978, he became President of the West Texas Personnel and Guidance Association and served as its president from 1978 to 1979. He experience a growth in membership which totaled more than one hundred thirty members. In October, 1979, the W.T.P.G.A. Chapter served as host to the State Convention. During the convention, the W.T.P.G.A. was recognized and was given an award "As The Most Outstanding Chapter" in the state for 1978 and 1979.

Mr. Lincoln is a proud member of Omega Psi Phi Fraternity, Inc., Phi Delta Kappa Education Fraternity, a board member of the Lubbock County Youth Center, and is a Certified Professional Counselor.

He is also a Certified Drivers Educator Instructor.

He is married to Rose

Lincoln, also a graduate from Prairie View A & M University with a B. A. and M. S. in Music.

The Lincolns are proud parents of three daughters: Alberta Lincoln Rencher, a graduate in music from North Texas State University and a real estate salesperson and owner; Lillian Lincoln Rayford, a biology major at North Texas State University and M. B. A. from the University of New Orleans; and Shelia Lincoln Griffin, a B. A. Interior Design from the University of Texas and has established her own company in Austin.

They also have four adorable grandchildren.

Mr. Lincoln believes a man should live so that his life's work will motivate and stimulate others to achieve and live a productive life.

The Lubbock Black Chamber of Entrepreneurs, Inc. is proud to have Mr. Albert W. Lincoln as a member.

New Hope Baptist Church, 2002 Birch Avenue, Rev. S. G. Nash, pastor, is the Church that really cares. Last Sunday was Youth Day.

Radio announcer was Patricia Jenkins. The Youth Choir was responsible for the music of the hour. Altar prayer was offered by Pastor Nash.

Pastor Nash's sermon was entitled: "Discipline Of Dependability." His scripture was Lamentation 3:27.

Mrs. Emma Stevens is doing nicely from a car wreck she was in recently.

Bernard Thompson of Dallas, Texas and his sister, Bernedetta Thompson of San Antonio, Texas, visited their parents over the holidays.

This writer would like to make a correction from last week's news. Mrs. McFadden's father was funeralized in Oklahoma instead of Wichita Falls, Texas.

Mrs. Katie Johnson's sister was held in Powel, Texas instead of Tyler, Texas. Sorry it came out like that, but it did.

Keep praying for sick and shut in as well as our bereaved families. Our love and prayers are extended to the Mrs. Elnora Butler and Mr. Robert Avery, Jr. families.

Mrs. Octavia Givens lost her uncle in Austin, Texas.

Services were held for Mrs. Elzie Riley of Lubbock, Texas last Friday in South Plains Funeral Home Chapel with the Rev. R. S. Stanley, pastor of St. Matthew Baptist Church, officiating.

He was a longtime resident of Lubbock, and U. S. Army veteran of World War II.

BEHIND-THE-SCENES

(Week of September 12)

Lisa Collins

Michael Jackson calls it quits: Frank Dileo, Michael Jackson's manager announced that Jackson plans to quit live stage performances after his current tour. "Michael Jackson does not want to do concerts again of any size," said Dileo, who added that Jackson will be concentrating on film work and making records. Jackson has been exhausted by the world tour, which began in Japan last September and will end back in Tokyo in December. Jackson's first feature-length film, "Moonwalking," based on his autobiography, will be released in Japan and Europe this fall. No plans have been set for a US release. Jackson is also in the process of putting together an animated film, "Strawberry Fields," based on Beatles songs and characters. The film, due out early next year, will be narrated by Steve Guttenberg and Debra Winger.

Spike Lee Directs Stevie Wonder uptown at the Apollo: After selling out nine dates at Radio City Hall, Wonder went uptown to the Apollo to do an additional three dates at a reduced rate, with some seats in the house going for as little as $10. The show, being taped for later release, is being directed by Spike Lee. Joining Stevie onstage opening night at the Apollo were Barbra Streisand, John H. Johnson, Roberta Flack, and Quincy Jones. In somewhat related news, Motown landed the soundtrack for the new Spike Lee movie: Motown Records will do the soundtrack for Spike Lee's latest movie "Do The Right Thing," starring Danny Aiello, and due out next summer. Among those artists tapped for the music is, of course, Stevie Wonder.

The stars come out for Mahalia: Last week marked the dedication of a star for Mahalia Jackson on the legendary Hollywood Walk of Fame and it was indeed a star-studded occasion. Among those on hand for the ceremonies were Della Reese, Esther Rolle, actresses Ros Cash, academy-award nominee (for "Color Purple") Margaret Avery, and Tracy Camilla-Johns (of "She's Gotta Have It" fame), ex-Supreme Mary Wilson and gospel superstars Marvin and Vicki Winans.

Champagne Wishes & Caviar Dreams for Dionne Warwick: Come September 23, "Champagne Wishes & Caviar Dreams," Dionne Warwick's new song, will play theme to "Lifestyles Of The Rich & Famous," Television Program Enterprises, producer of the half-hour show, contracted Warwick for an undisclosed sum in June to make the song to replace its years-old theme song. The company said it picked Warwick because she expresses the style and elegance of the show.

Tracy Camilla-Johns goes back to work: Next month, Tracy Camilla-Johns will travel to Savannah, Georgia to begin work on her second feature film--her first since "She's Gotta Have It." The film, titled "Tootie Died Griunin'," is based on an off-Broadway play that ran in New York two years ago. Johns received a great deal of attention as the lead in Spike Lee's "She's Gotta Have It." It was a role that particularly endeared her to black men. "People have this idea of Nola Darling--this black woman that's uncontrolled, and they come with this look in their eye like I'm going to be the one," Johns, who is single, says it makes it difficult "to know where they're coming from."

Janet comes to terms with Jimmy & Terry: Production is finally moving on Janet Jackson's long-awaited second LP now that Jackson has settled with the industry's hottest producers--Jimmy Jam & Terry Lewis. Word is that the deal is in the neighborhood of $1,000,000.

The Cosby show will kick off its fall season on October 6th, with Lisa Bonet returning home. Ironically enough, this season's scripts do call for a pregnancy in the Huxtable household, but it's that of oldest sibling, Sandra. Near-due Lisa Bonet's presence is expected to be scarce. After all, the baby is due in November. In the meantime, credit Cosby kid Tempest Bledsoe's new look to jet-setting stylist John Atchison.

James Earl Jones is excited about his upcoming role in "Shoeless Joe" starring Kevin Costner. Jones, who calls his work "a special kind of pleasure," won a Tony award just last year for his work in the New York stage play "Fences," and is set to recreate the role in its LA run.

Briefs: This week Robert Townsend is shooting a TV special for broadcast on HBO. Next week: Find out why Ex-Supreme Mary Wilson is being sued for her "Dreamgirl" co-author.

It Needs To Be Said

by the Mystery Writer

As evidenced by the new church built on Zenith and E. Cornell, there lies an abundance of skills and talents within our community. By combining the available resources within its membership, this church saved a great deal in construction cost by using its members. This effort adds further confusion to, "why can't our community show more progress?"

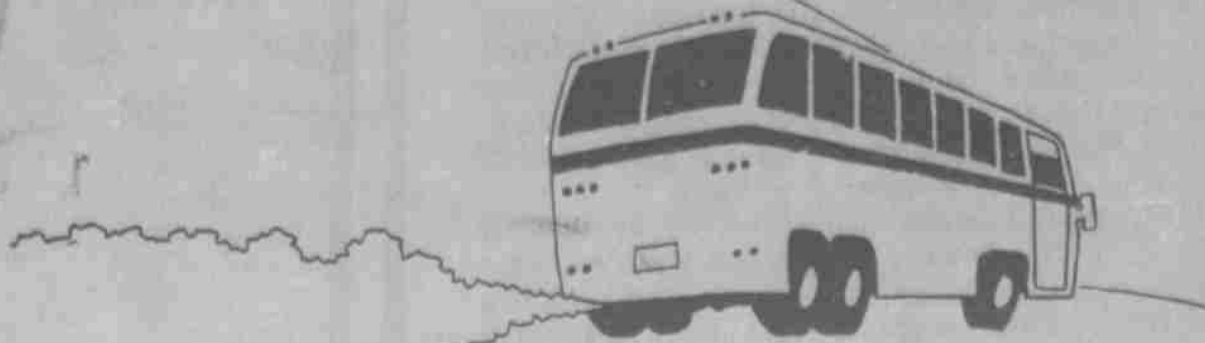

We have within our community, people who can build a house without a blue print. We have mechanics who can completely redo a car, we have people who can express the "King George English" very eloquently. Yet, we fail to achieve satisfactory results in the majority of our projects, why so? And when it comes to cooking, we have an abundance of superior cooks who have pleased eaters for years, yet these same people cannot survive one year operating their own business, why so? The one ingredient lacking within our community is LEADERSHIP. We have the talent, skills and abilities to produce top quality finished products, but only a few can make a living at their trade. Be it a business, a social club, an assistance organization, leadership is the key that makes the entire program work as one.

Just because it's your idea, your money, or your skills are the most needed, this does not qualify you to be a leader. We must learn to select leaders who can lead. A leader is one who can direct others, coordinate with others, plan, manage and supervise in such a manner that the most lowly of workers will feel they are vital and a necessary part of the overall objectives. What happens when there are too many cooks in one kitchen, what happens to a fool and his money? The same applies when there is no leadership or unqualified leadership and our community has too many unqualified leaders which results in good projects and programs becoming inactive or dropped.

Before you take on the job of being the leader, ask yourself do I qualify? Can you direct others in such a manner that whatever part they play will come together as one and for the good of the whole. Directing others is like getting cattle loaded on a train or more close to home, getting a family of 3 or more to do their part in keeping the house clean. Can you coordinate people in such a manner that the "widget" is ready when the "do dad" is finished and have "whats his name" standing by to carry the hot "do dad" to the table before "such and such time." Can you visualize a logical plan, to include the unforeseen in the example above? Can you take 5, 10 or more people and utilize their skills in a timely, productive manner making them feel that they are beneficial to the project, this is managing. Poor supervision is the cause of more bickering, quitting and poor results than other duties of leadership. Supervising can best be summarized by saying, "Can you have the right person, at the right place, at the right time, ready, willing and able to do the right thing?"

Be true to yourself before accepting the leadership role. If you know that you have personal problems that will prevent you from being a good leader, then decline the leadership role. If your job will not allow you to be at the majority of meetings, decline; if you don't have reliable transportation, decline; if your personality has limitations, decline; in short, you know yourself, therefore don't mess it up for others simply because you want to be a leader. It may be your idea or your money, but why risk a bad showing with you as the leader when a good showing could take place with a more qualified leader. As long as YOU know the role you played, why is it so important that everyone else knows. Many successful events have occurred while the key players stood on the side lines and smiled. Don't worry about who gets the credit, be happy in the positive results.

TUSKEGEE AIRMEN PRAISE PRESIDENT TRUMAN'S 1948 "EQUAL TREATMENT AND OPPORTUNITY" ORDER AS CATALYST FOR CHANGE Black Airmen's Memorial Established At Air Force Academy

KANSAS CITY, MO—The Tuskegee Airmen Inc., at their 17th Annual Convention, commemorated the executive order issued by President Harry Truman on July 26, 1948, which created the Commission on Equality of Treatment and Opportunity in the Armed Forces.

John L. Whitehead, Jr., National President of the Airmen, said the Truman order had been a "key catalyst to the new America that has emerged in the wake of the civil rights revolution of the 60's and beyond."

He said: "Tuskegee Airmen take pride in the fact that their outstanding combat performance as a part of U.S. air power in World War II was a major contributory factor in Truman's great step forward."

Philip J. Davis, vice president, urban affairs, General Foods Corporation, in presenting a check on behalf of Philip Morris Companies Inc. for $15,000, said, "The Tuskegee Airmen have been a source of inspiration and pride to all Americans for more than 40 years. We are happy to say that they are still a major human resource for this country."

The convention followed the dedication in May of the Tuskegee Airmen's Memorial at the U.S. Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs.

The memorial, an eight-foot bronze statue of a black World War II fighter pilot looking toward the heavens, will stand permanently in the Honors Court of the Academy along with only two other statues. A tribute to the heroic but seldom recognized contribution to the nation's air war effort, the statue was made possible by contributions from many individuals and companies such as Philip Morris Companies Inc. and General Foods.

CLARENCE GIVERS, a former fighter pilot and an internationally known sculptor, created this inspiring piece.

DEDICATED WITH PRIDE! Lee Archer, left, retired vice president, urban affairs, General Foods Corporation, a Tuskegee Airman and the nation's only black "ace", inspects the eight-foot bronze statue of the Tuskegee Airmen's Memorial at the U.S. Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs, with George L. Knox, III, staff vice president, public affairs, Philip Morris Companies Inc. Archer, a 10-year-old pilot during World War II, was credited with shooting down more German planes than any other black flyer. Knox is the son of the late George L. Knox, II, one of the original 33 black pilots trained at Tuskegee.

CORPORATE SUPPORTER! Philip J. Davis, vice president, urban affairs, General Foods Corporation, left, talks with General Bernard F. Randolph, commander, Air Force Systems Command and John L. Whitehead, Jr., National President of Tuskegee Airmen, Inc. General Randolph was the principal sponsor at the 17th Annual Convention of the Tuskegee Airmen. Whitehead remained on active duty after World War II and became one of the U.S. Air Force's first black test pilots for jet propelled aircraft.

Parent And Child: Partners Working And Communicating Effectively Together

"Train up a child in the way which he go and when he is old, he will not depart from it."

Parenting doesn't begin when your child gets into trouble or when he/she becomes a teenager. Parents begin to use their parenting skills long before then. Before that new baby leaves the hospital, the parents are already setting the tone for things to come. Research tells us that open communication has helped to prevent a lot of problems. Unfortunately, our country does not require adults to take a parenting course before they become parents. Being able to communicate with your child takes skill, patience, and a willingness to do so.

Beginning on Sunday, September 25, 1988 at 6:30 p. m. at St. Luke Baptist Church, 306 East 26th Street, Rev. J. H. Ford, pastor, a four part series in "How To Communicate With Your Child." "How To Deal (Handle) Peer Pressure" will begin. Sister Margaret Randle and Sister Brenda Davis will be coordinating this important effort. Both are members of St. Luke Baptist Church.

Parents will have an opportunity to learn several techniques that has been proven to work in communicating or helping parents to work with and to understand their children. And in addition they will be able to practice these techniques by participating in the workshop.

Each workshop will be approximately one hour and thirty minutes in length.

The workshop will be open to all members of the community.

Handouts will be provided free of charge.

Course: Outlines will follow in next week paper.

The fourth Sunday has been designated as "Drug Awareness Sunday."

Rev. Kado Lang is president of the Alliance.

Services were great at Gallee Missionary Baptist Church last Sunday at 464 N. Front.

With Director Sister Mary Harris in charge, the Sunday School classes occupied their hour for the day. May God be with you, Director Harris in a job well done.

Morning worship was spiritually inspirational last Sunday as Pastor Eugene Gentry preached a convicting message, as he instructed us with the mandate for Christian character that will have a dynamic impact on this sinful world. Rev. Gentry spoke from 1 Peter 2:16, 1

Members of the Outreach Prayer Breakfast met last Saturday morning with the Daughters of Light, 3602 South Frankford, at 10 a. m. The morning consisted of an old fashion country breakfast worship and ministry, followed by Clyde and Elizabeth Day.

This was truly a beautiful meeting. The theme was "Setting The Captives Free." Ministering in song was done by Martha Kae Moe.

words of wisdom from this meeting:

"I'm 100% Committed To Love You"

If you please God, you please me! If you don't please God, He'll have to change you, because I won't judge you. I repent of judging you in the past. I ask you to forgive me for judging you.

During times of disagreement, I'll tell you what I think is wrong in love. I'll judge the act; I'll not judge you. With God's help, I'll never judge you again. I'm 100% committed to love you! You are a special gift from God to me. I'll protect this God given relationship. I'll always speak well of you! I'll speak blessings on you, and never speak curses on

you. I'll never permit anyone to speak ill of you in my presence. I'll tell them of my love for you, and ask them to not say anything negative about you. I consider this a sacred covenant between you and me, given to you in the presence of our Heavenly Father. The way that the world will know that I belong to Jesus Christ is by my love for you. My love for you is not based on your performance. My love for you is based on the love of God that has been given to me. I'm 100% committed to love you!

We will meet in the home of Mr. & Mrs. Dalbert Hood, 2132 East 30th Street, on Saturday morning. See you there!

We will be working by faith and not by sight.

There's a terrific program planned for September 23 and 24, 1988. Looking forward to seeing you.

A NEW HEAVEN AND A NEW EARTH

We believe that after "the thousand year reign of Christ" on the earth that "the dragon, that old serpent, which is the Devil, and Satan...must be loosed a little season." "to deceive the nations which are in the four quarters of earth, Gog and Magog, to gather them together to battle: the number of whom is as the sand of the sea...and fire came down from God out of heaven, and devoured them. And the devil that deceived them was cast into the lake of fire and brimstone, where the beast and the false prophet are, and shall be tormented day and night for ever and ever." Revelation 20:2,3,8,10.

THIS OLD HEAVEN AND EARTH WILL BE DESTROYED.

1. The psalmist prophesied in Psalms 102:25-26 "Of old hast thou laid the foundation of the earth: and the heavens are the work of thy hands. They shall perish, but thou shalt endure: yea, all of them shall wax old like a garment; as a vesture shalt thou change them, and they shall be changed."
2. The heavens shall be dissolved and shall vanish away like smoke. Isaiah 34:4 says "And all the host of heaven shall be dissolved, and the heavens shall be rolled together as a scroll: and all their host shall fall down, as the leaf falleth off from the vine, and as a falling fig from the fig tree." Isaiah 51:6 also says "Lift up your eyes to the heavens, and look upon the earth beneath: for the heavens shall vanish away like smoke, and the earth shall wax old like a garment, and they that dwell therein shall die in like manner: but my salvation shall be for ever, and my righteousness shall not be abolished."
3. Jesus himself said in Matthew 24:35 "Heaven and earth shall pass away, but my words shall not pass away."
4. The Apostle Paul also said the earth and the heavens shall perish in Hebrews 1:10-12 "And, Thou, Lord, in the beginning hast laid the foundation of the earth; and the heavens are the works of thine hands: They shall perish; but thou remainest; and they all shall wax old as doth a garment; And as a vesture shalt thou fold them up, and they shall be changed: but thou art the same, and thy years shall not fail."
5. The Apostle Peter says the heavens and the earth shall be burned up in 2 Peter 3:7 "But the heavens and the earth which are now, by the same word are kept in store, reserved unto fire against the day of judgment and perdition of ungodly men." Verses 10-12 also says "But the day of the Lord will come as a thief in the night; in the which the heavens shall pass away with a great noise, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat, the earth also and the works that are therein shall be burned up. Seeing then that all these things shall be dissolved, what manner of persons ought ye to be in all holy conversation and godliness, looking for and hastening unto the coming of the day of God, wherein the heavens being on fire shall be dissolved, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat?"
6. John the Apostle in Revelation 20:11 said he "saw a great white throne, and him that sat on it, from whose face the earth and the heaven fled away; and there was no place for them."

NEW HEAVENS AND A NEW EARTH WILL BE CREATED.

1. Isaiah prophesied God's creation of new heavens and a new earth. Isaiah 65:17 says "For, behold, I create new heavens and a new earth: and the former shall not be remembered, nor come into mind." God also says in Isaiah 66:22 "For as the new heavens and the new earth, which I will make, shall remain before me, saith the Lord, so shall your seed and your name remain."
2. We are to look for new heavens and a new earth depending on God's promises by faith. 2 Peter 3:13 says "Nevertheless we, according to his promise, look for new heavens and a new earth, wherein dwelleth righteousness."
3. The Apostle John said in Revelation 21:1-5 "And I saw a new heaven and a new earth: for the first heaven and the first earth were passed away; and there was no more sea. And I saw the holy city, new Jerusalem, coming down from God out of heaven, prepared as a bride adorned for her husband. And I heard a great voice out of heaven saying, Behold, the tabernacle of God is with men, and he will dwell with them, and they shall be his people, and God himself shall be with them, and be their God. And God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes; and there shall be no more death, neither sorrow, nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain: for the former things are passed away. And he that sat upon the throne said, Behold, I make all things new. And he said unto me, Write: for these words are true and faithful."

We Thank God For Jesus

"Who Do You Say That I Am?"

Part I

I was born more than nineteen hundred years ago, and I was conceived in the womb; by the Holy Spirit, if you know!

Matthew 1:18b: When as his mother Mary was espoused to Joseph, before they came together, she was found with child of the Holy Ghost.

Who Do You Say That I Am?

I was born in poverty, but came from richness on high. I was born in a stable with animals, because I'm the Lamb of Life.

Luke 2:7: And she brought forth her first born son, and wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a manger, because there was no room for him in the inn.

Who Do You Say That I Am??

I received no degrees, to increase my education. My wisdom came from God, it helps in time of need for everyone.

Luke 2:46 & 47: And it came to pass, that after three days they found him in the temple, sitting in the midst of the doctors. Both hearing them, and asking them questions, and all that they heard him were astonished at his understanding and answering.

Who Do You Say That I Am

I never traveled far, from the boundary which I lived, but I made all things: water, the sun and moon, and high hills.

John 1:2 thru 5: The same was in the beginning with God. All things were made by him; and without him was not anything that was made. In him was life; and the life was the light of men, and the light shineth in darkness, and the darkness comprehended it not.

Who Do You Say That I Am

I ruled the course of nature, walking on water, turning water to wine. All power was given to me; because all power is mine.

Matthew 28:18b: All power is given unto me in heaven and in earth.

Who Do You Say I Am??

I can curse a tree, and it will no longer bring forth its fruit. I can touch man's tongue, and he'll speak, I can open the ears of a deaf mute.

Mark 7:32 & 33: And they bring unto him one that was deaf, and had an impediment in his speech; and they beseech him to put his hand upon him, and he took him aside from the multitude, and put his fingers into his ears, and spit, and touched his tongue; and looking up to heaven, he sighed, and saith unto him, Eph'ph' Tha, that is, be opened.

Have your eyes opened yet? Who do you say that He is??

John 20:28: And Thomas answered and said unto him, my Lord and my God. (Jesus)

God is not through with us yet, so let's pray for one another always.

Panthers Drown Monterey, 37, 0

Who says the Dunbar Panthers are dead? Just look at what they did before a good crowd last Friday night at Lowrey Field. They drowned the Monterey Plainsmen 37 to 0.

"The kids just came out and go after it," said a happy Coach Jerry Lee.

With this win, the Panthers are 1 and 1 for the season, losing a week prior to Lubbock High in a close game.

Dunbar probably took it easy in the first quarter, when they only scored 7 points, coming from a 98 yard pass play from quarterback Leon Roberts to Jeff Johnson who outran the Monterey secondary.

After that initial crack in the Plainsmen, the party was over as the Panthers scored 23 points in the second quarter, and put the icing on the cake in the third quarter with another seven points.

The Panthers had 12 first downs, compared to 8 for Monterey. The Panthers rushed 35 times for 132 yards; Plainsmen rushed 83 yards with 46 carries. The Plainsmen completed two of eleven passes for only 30 yards; while the Panthers connected on two of eleven for 190 yards.

Monterey had to kick the pigskin eight times with an average of 21.8 yards. The Panthers kicked only four times with an average of 38.8 yards.

The Panthers fumbled the pigskin four times, while the Plainsmen only had one fumble.

The Panthers had six penalties for 30 yards; the Plainsmen had one for just fifteen yards.

Fans were saying that if some of the players who played for Lubbock High were properly enrolled, the Panthers would have defeated them.

Anyway, the school on 50th Street will not forget the 1988 Fighting Dunbar Panthers.

The Panthers are now 1 and 1.

Matadors Spank Big Springs

Big Spring, Tx. ... Scoring twenty points in the fourth quarter, the Estacado Matadors spanked Big Spring 30 to 18.

On the way to their second victory this year, the Matadors had six fumbles, recovering three of them. Big Spring only had three fumbles.

In the first quarter, Big Spring led 6 to 0, coming from a fifteen yard pass by quarterback Rance Thompson who hit wing back Tony Lewis with the pass. The PAT failed.

After scoring first, the Steers appeared to gain confidence, but the Matadors smelling pay dirt twice in the second quarter, wouldn't give up. A hardworking Derrick Shed carried nine times in a drive, but it was quarterback Reggie Essis who scored on a 2 yard option run to his right. Cory Flores added the PAT, and the Matadors led 7 to 6.

Minutes before halftime, Flores again split the uprights with a 21 yard field goal, and the Matadors led 10 to 6 at halftime.

There were no scoring in the third quarter, but lighting struck in the fourth quarter when the Matadors scored 20 points, and the Steers were only able to put 12 points on the scoreboard.

Running was the name of the game for the Matadors as they gained 407 yards rushing with 50 attempts. The Steers were able to muster 143 yards with 20 carries.

The Matadors had 21 first down, compared to the Steers 17.

Not looking so good in the aerial attack, the Matadors were only able to connect with four of seven, totaling

Offensive Linemen

Offensive linemen do not get the credit they deserve for contributing to the success of great running backs. Linemen are the key to any running back's success, whether he gains 10 yards or whether he gains an inch.

One of the things you hear all the time about great running backs on unsuccessful teams is that while the back may be good, the team just doesn't have good players. It's been said many times that the Chicago Bears didn't have good teams when I played. Yet I led the league in rushing two separate years. The same thing was said early in Walter Payton's career when he gained about 1,500 yards a year for five or six years and the Bears still lost eight or nine ball games a year.

But anytime, anytime you have a running back gain that much yardage, somebody's doing something up front. I don't care if you're talking about a 10-1 team or a 1-10 team, somebody has to be moving out the defense. If a team wins only five games all year and a running back gains 1,500 yards on the season, somebody's doing something.

A running back has to develop a good relationship with the linemen, and he has to let them know that they are much appreciated. Linemen know that if they have a great back, an Eric Dickerson or a Walter Payton or an O.J. Simpson, if they just hold off their defender for a 10th of a second, that great back has the ability to make that brush block into a 10 yard gain or touchdown. They know a great back will find a way to get there. On my teams, guys like Bob Wetoska and Mike Rabold were doing something right for Gale Sayers to lead the league in rushing and to gain over a thousand yards on the season. They did things right.

Since I played in the '60s, a few things have changed for linemen. Linemen today are 20 to 20 pounds heavier than when I played. Rule changes have made the offensive linemen a little better because when I was playing they couldn't extend their arms, they had to hold them to their chest. Now they can extend their arms and defensive players can't use the head slap anymore. Back when the head slap was allowed, Deacon Jones was tremendous and did a great job at it. Now many times the defense is at a disadvantage.

Holding penalties can be frustrating as a back when you have a long run called back. But a lineman is trying to do the best job he can and he wants the play to be successful. Many times if he thinks he can get away with it, a lineman will hold. Because offensive linemen now can extend their arms, there is probably holding on 80 percent of the plays, but officials don't call it unless it's a real flagrant thing where a defender is pulled down.

It was harder to hold in the past, but some players were very good at it. Conrad Dobler of the Cardinals was the key culprit. But when you had Deacon Jones out there or Bob Lilly or Alan Page, an offensive player would invariably get a holding call on him. You have to hold every now and then. What can you do? You're trying to make the play work and sometimes it happens. ll

Gale Sayers is considered one of the greatest running backs of all time. The former Chicago Bear is a member of the National Football League's Hall of Fame.
