Wedding Plans Announced

Midland-Mrs. Gloria Carnetta Holloway recently announced the engagement of her daughter, Gloria Jean Rollison, to the Reverend Leroy Cleaver, Jr. He is the son of the late Mrs. Leroy Cleaver, Sr., and Mr. Leroy Cleaver, Sr., of Waxahachie, Texas.

The bride-elect, a 1960 graduate of Carver High School, attended both Dillard University in New Orleans, Louisiana and Odessa College before receiving her bachelor degree in Nursing Science at the University of Texas Medical Center in Galveston in 1965. She is currently employed as a professional staff nurse, (R.N.) at the V. A. Hospital in Big Spring.

Her fiancé, a graduate of Paul Lawrence Dunbar High School of Lubbock, received both his B.S. and M.S. degrees from Prairie View A & M College where he formerly taught chemistry and mathematics. He is now employed as an instructor in the building trades branch of the Department of Civil Engineering Training at Sheppard A.F.B. He also pastors Miracle Church of God in Christ in Wichita Falls, Texas.

The couple expect to be married October 31st with Bishop J. E. Alexander officiating their ceremony.

Senate Candidate George Bush to Attend Bar-B-Q at Mackenzie Park Saturday Evening

Congressman George Bush, candidate for the U. S. Senate, and Mrs. Bush will be in Lubbock Saturday, August 29, to attend a barbecue held in their honor at 7 p.m. at Mackenzie State Park.

Previous to the Saturday evening barbecue Mr. Bush will attend lunch in Snyder, Texas at the Steak House Restaurant from noon to 1:15; have coffee at Turner's Cafe from 2:00 to 3:15 in Lamesa, and coffee at the Salida-Brownfield Club House from 4:00 to 5:00 in Brownfield, Texas.

Tickets for the Saturday night Bar-B-Q may be purchased in advance at Bush Headquarters, 1605 Broadway, for one dollar. The public is invited to meet and talk with Congressman Bush at each of his campaign stops on Saturday.

While in Congress, Rep. Bush has expressed great concern about the rapidly increasing crime rate in the nation. Major crimes in Texas increased by 73.1 per cent during the '60's.

Although President Nixon has placed crime high on the list of major problems confronting the nation, Bush noted, a Democrat controlled Congress has blocked all but two of the 20 crime bills the president has sent to it.

"Surely the safety and security of the persons and property of our citizens is not a partisan political matter," Bush said. "Order is what we seek and justice is what we must have."

The VA urges college veterans studying under the G.I. Bill to return their certification of attendance cards during the last full month of every enrollment period so final checks for that period may be processed.

Dunbar PTA to Hold Open House Tonight

Mrs. Willie Washington, president of the Dunbar Parent-Teachers Association has informed the Times that the PTA of Dunbar will hold an open house and business meeting at Dunbar tonight, Thursday, at 8:00.

This meeting will be held in the Dunbar High School Auditorium at East 28th Street and Teak Avenue.

An Editorial: Let's Extend A Cordial Invitation By T. J. Patterson

The recent decision handed down by Judge H. O. Woodard last Saturday afternoon, in regard to the order issued Lubbock Independent School District, has created a great deal of concern among Lubbock citizens. There has been, without any doubt, an approach by some, to look at this ruling in a negative manner. What we have to do, at this time, especially in the black community, is to take a constructive view and do all we can to make those coming to Dunbar High School as welcome as possible.

We, all of us, must be concerned about the welfare of all of our young people, black, white and brown, in order that they may enjoy a fruitful high school life as well as be prepared for the world of tomorrow. As one has said, "Let's give the young people an opportunity to prove that it can happen."

Of course, as parents, patrons or friends of the community, we must help make the outcome of these young people who will be attending Dunbar a success. We, being honest with ourselves, must realize that this will be the first time they'll have the opportunity of actively participating in a school in east Lubbock and we must do all we can to help and encourage them.

The same holds true for our young black citizens. They, too, must assist as much as possible in making their brothers and sisters from the west side of Avenue A welcome. This can be done, without any doubt, by working together as a team for the betterment of our city.

Young people, regardless of where you live or what school you are coming from, let's show everyone that we can work together for the betterment of Lubbock. Dunbar's doors are always open at anytime for both parents and young people.

If the West Texas Times can be of any assistance in helping you, please feel free to call on us. We're concerned about you, just as we're concerned about everyone in Lubbock.

A cordial "invite" is extended to all.

Jo Harolyn Long Receives Scholarship

Miss Jo Harolyn Long, daughter of Mrs. Marie Long of 602 East 24th Street, has been awarded a scholarship to Southern Methodist University in Dallas. She will study music.

A graduate of Dunbar High School, Miss Long graduated cum laude, at Bishop College in Dallas at the end of the summer term, after completing the requirements for a degree in three years.

She is expected to study clarinet with Ross Powell of the Dallas Symphony Orchestra and will major in musicology and seek a doctorate degree and specialize in American music.

She is a member of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority and Alpha Kappa Mu honor society. Her name will appear in the 1970 edition of "Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities."

At Bishop she served as secretary of the freshman and junior classes, chaplain and vice-president of the

In a two day hearing last Friday and Saturday, Judge Halbert O. Woodard ordered Dunbar High School's attendance zone expanded westward to Avenue Q; E. C. Struggs Junior High School's zone expanded to Avenue H and refused to make any changes in Lubbock's elementary schools.

The ruling—which did not close any schools—came at the end of two days of hearings on a suit brought by the Justice Department for the Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) to force sweeping changes in the city's public schools to achieve what HEW asserted was a broader racial balance.

The major changes in this year's school operation are as following:

Dunbar's north boundary will be 19th Street, leaving a small portion north of 19th and east of Avenue C, previously in the Dunbar zone, in Lubbock High's zone.

Dunbar's west boundary will be Avenue Q, Avenue Q Southeast Drive and the Tahoka Highway.

Estacado High School's zone will now include the area around the Lubbock Country Club, between the Amarillo Highway on the east and the Santa Fe railroad on the west, which was previously optional between Estacado and Lubbock High.

The north line of Struggs Junior High's zone—for 7th and 8th graders only—will be 19th Street, placing in the Thompson Junior High zone the same area Dunbar loses to Lubbock High.

Struggs western boundary will be Avenue H between 19th and 50th Street. The zone line follows 50th Street eastward from H to Avenue A and follows A south to the school district line.

An area between 19th Street and Broadway east of Yellowhouse Canyon, formerly optional between Alderson and Struggs, will now be in the Alderson Junior High zone.

Estacado will continue to serve 9th, 10th, 11th and 12th grades, but Dunbar will lose its 9th grade.

Ninth graders in Struggs zone north of 50th Street will attend O. L. Slaton Junior High, while those south of 50th Street will attend Atkins Junior High School.

The judge's order also stated that he would appoint a committee composed of Mexican-Americans, Anglos and Negroes to "advise the court as to the degree of integration achieved this year in Dunbar High School and Struggs Junior High School."

The committee will also review and report to the judge results of his order to the schools to assign faculty and staff to each school in relation to the ethnic makeup of the entire system's faculty and staff.

NAACP Meeting Scheduled Monday Evening

Rev. M. T. Reed, local president of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), has announced that an important meet is on tap Monday, August 31st, at 8 p.m. at the May Simmons Community Center.

The purpose of the meeting is to focus attention on the membership drive of this civil rights organization.

The public is cordially invited to attend.

More Than 31,000 Register Here

More than 31,000 students registered in Lubbock's 53 public schools Wednesday, with a number of them in new schools as ordered by Judge H. O. Woodard.

William Powell, principal of Dunbar High School, told the West Texas Times, "It (Wednesday's registration) was excellent. No problems."

Along with new students at Dunbar, many visitors—including parents, patrons and school officials—were present at the opening day of school.

"Our young people are dedicated to the task of making integration work in Lubbock, as well as the state and nation," Powell said.

Charles E. Brown, Struggs principal, also was delighted with the outcome of the first day of registration. The largest enrollment ever is expected at E. C. Struggs.

Several seniors who could have attended other high schools, chose to attend Dunbar.

Committee Must Be Well Chosen!

The order handed out last Saturday by Judge Halbert O. Woodard in regard to the fate of the Lubbock Public School system included that of his appointment of a committee composed of Mexican-Americans, anglos and Negroes to "advise the court as to the degree of integration achieved this year in Dunbar High School and E. C. Struggs Junior High School . . .".

Let's hope that this committee will be one to really "tell it like it is". It is important that those chosen for such a committee take under complete consideration that the committee is designed to, "review and report to the judge on his order to the schools to assign faculty and staff to each school in relation to the ethnic makeup of the entire system's faculty and staff."

This committee will have to be made up of people who are willing to "call a spade a spade" and not one built around the "tokenism" angle where only minorities are members to help the balance of all races. This committee has a very serious role, not only affecting the well-being of all of Lubbock's young people, but also of the well-being of racial tranquility in the city of Lubbock. Certainly the city of Lubbock must expect only the best caliber of citizens to be appointed to this committee.

A report to the judge, by this committee, is expected to come during the first week of October. Therefore, there must be members appointed

(of all races) who are willing to put forth every effort to study the situation and work toward the betterment of the total community.

The judge has issued the order for such a committee, the only important thing now is who will be chosen for such a position and what qualifications were used to choose such people, who must be broadminded enough to come up with nothing more than the truth about the educational structure of our city.

For nearly nine years the West Texas Times has had a policy of taking news stories over the telephone. This, in the past, has been rather convenient to those who wished to report events for their church, club, organization or any activity which was news worthy. Of course, the person calling the story into our office (located on Farm Road 1585—south of the city) had to identify themselves and give their telephone number and address.

This has ceased, as of this week. Last week, a young lady (who gave her name and address) called in a story which was not true, and because of this, created an unpleasant situation for the parties involved. Of course, the young lady involved did not know how serious news reporting is, and was rather shocked with the outcome of her misguided prank.

Therefore, in the future, the Times will not take any stories over the telephone. If you have news and would like for it to be printed, you must mail your news to Box 225, Lubbock, Texas, 79408, or bring it by the Times office.

Austin, Texas—A legislative committee is sampling recommendations for sweeping court reforms, including creation of judicial system administrators with authority to send judges wherever they are needed.

Judicial section of the State Bar will detail its proposals at an October meeting in Galveston.

Judges and practicing attorneys gave the House judiciary sub-committee, at a hearing in the capitol, their ideas for improving and speeding up court machinery.

Sample recommendations include:

- + Strong court administration, including authority to ignore present district lines in assigning judges to duty where the action is.
- + Giving 14 Courts of Civil Appeals power to handle intermediate appeals of criminal, as well as civil, cases to ease load of overworked Court of Criminal Appeals (which now receives appeals direct from district courts all over the state).
- + Creation of a "unified" court system (a variety of plans have been suggested) to insure an even work load on courts, again by shifting judges to areas where dockets are overloaded.
- + Automatic judicial redistricting by a five-member board if the Legislature refuses to do the job.
- + Removing judges from politics.
- + Stiffer fines and jail sentences for contempt of court to help prevent court disruptions like those which have shocked the nation in recent months.
- + Simplification of the judicial article of the state constitution so the Legislature can make necessary changes without having to submit constitutional amendments.

"The climate for judicial reform was never so good", Supreme Court Associate Justice Jack Pope told the committee members. "But if reform is passed up this session of the Legislature, it may be too late."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

She Offers Her Assistance

Dear Citizens:
 I was appointed as Coordinator of Operation Lubbock on July 1st, 1970, by H. S. Brown, President of the Texas AFL-CIO, under the direction of Henry Munoz, Jr., Director of Human Resources Department.

Operation Lubbock was set up by the Texas AFL-CIO to help, principally, the victims of the May 11th tornado and this is what I have done mainly in this past 1 1/2 months. Sometimes it has been impossible for me to handle a certain case but I have always tried to find someone who can. Many of the problems I have encountered have been with the people not able to understand their contracts for rebuilding and I have been able to translate these for them. Sometimes the contract does not reflect what was promised verbally to these people so we try to help in anyway possible to have these contracts fulfilled. Also in my job I try to let the persons I work with understand that the Texas AFL-CIO is very interested in their problems and by opening this office, here it shows their interest.

It is my objective to work with the people of Lubbock, all the people, and that is why I want to let the Negro community know of my job and that I am here to help them, too. It is my most sincere wish to be a friend of all the Lubbock Community so I take this opportunity to let you know the location of my office and my office hours. I am interested in all that is going on in Lubbock and want to work with all the different organizations and groups in the betterment of our community. If at any time you have any questions I will do my best to answer them, so please feel free to call me. If there are any meetings that you think that I may be interested in, again, please call me.

My office is located at 1505 Texas Avenue and my telephone number is 763-7698. Office hours are very flexible because my job involves a lot of field work but I do always try to be there from 9:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon but I also make appointments to see people in the afternoons at a specific time. Again I want to express my most sincere wish to be a friend and to help in any way possible so please feel free to call me.

MY VIEWS

By Eddie P. Richardson

Now that the bond election is over and everyone is settled, or nearly settled down, and back to normal, we should be able to go on with the things at hand. The bonds passed, so where do we go from here? Lets keep close tabs on the politicians and try to watch and see how many of their pre-election promises are kept.

And now that the election is over, lets all get together and walk together for a better city for everyone—while finding ways to help ourselves and each other.

A good example of this is the youngsters around the Mae Simmons Multi-Service Center who are hard at work forming a co-op. Many of these youths are from the Green Fair Manor area, and it will really be interesting to see if these youngsters can succeed in their newly formed project. It will be their thing, since they have set the age limit for participation at 25.

Down To Earth

A Lawless Society

By Jimmy R. Allen

Crime has more than doubled in the United States in the decade of the 1960's while the population has increased only 13 per cent.

This week, F.B.I. Uniform Crime Reports revealed an astounding increase of 128 per cent in major crimes since 1960. At the same time, Chief Justice Warren Berger of the U.S. Supreme Court recently challenged the Governors' Conference to quit being "Sunday Christians" and become involved in changing prisons from a "warehouse mentality" in which we tuck the law-breaker out of sight.

Prisons should be correctional centers in which we work to help people change.

Some time ago Judge Abner McCall, noted Texas Jurist and Baylor University President, told a conference that our nation is built on respect for law so that, any time as many as 15 per cent of the citizens determine to ignore and break the law, the whole system is in danger of falling. Even with the dramatic increase of the past decade we are a good way from such collapse. But the question of how long we can survive such escalation of lawlessness is a serious one.

Factors creating lawless behavior are complex and elusive, a major breakdown of the influence and authority of the family is being experienced in our communities. Unstable or ineffective family living greatly contribute to lack of respect for order and for others. The glorification of violence in the mass media also produces lawlessness. This is especially true if the violence is in contemporary terms so that youth can easily identify with it.

The judicial systems cumbersome machinery and clogged calendars rob law enforcement of its deterrent features. The most effective external deterrent to crime is swift and sure punishment. The criminal element has discovered that the labyrinth, designed to protect the innocent, also increases the chances of avoiding punishment for the guilty.

No area of public life needs more attention from thoughtful Christians than that of dealing with the criminal. Penology must be a major factor in solving this problem.

Insights are being developed into criminal behavior and how to help persons find an orderly life more desirable. They are not being put into action in our penal systems because of public apathy, and public refusal to finance the needed improvement.

Christian taxpayers should feel a moral obligation to support the reclaiming of men and women.

Deeper than any of the external efforts of society, however, is the basic answer to lawlessness. This is for men to experience an encounter with God which involves basic commitment to Him. When the inner impulses of a man's life are turned to the authority of God and his Word, criminal behavior is not a live option.

A renewal of spiritual values in John Wesley's day saved England from toppling during a breakdown of law and justice. Such a revival is needed desperately today. If our nation is to avoid destruction from within.

Texas Tech University Museum Set Fall Program Opening

"This Was the West", a delineation of the early West through the eyes of artists, will be a featured exhibition at the Museum on the campus of Texas Tech University during the formal opening of the new complex in the fall, according to Eugene Kingman, director of Exhibits and Programs.

The Women's Division of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce is responsible for acquiring a collection of Western art, which will be the nucleus of the exhibition. Supplemented by objects from the collection of the West Texas Museum Association and items on loan to the Museum, the exhibition will highlight events scheduled for the week of the dedication slated for November 14.

In association with the Moody Planetarium, a display on "Outer Space" will be ready for Museum visitors, Kingman said. His drawing board holds plans for the development of display areas in the main part of the giant complex, including a contemporary look at art, on loan from collections of art of today.

Arid lands and early peoples will be represented in exhibits. "Stories in a Rock" will cover many facets of the sciences and how man relates to them.

Bush Concerned About Justice Department Action on Schools

Congressman George Bush said last week he has been "extremely concerned" about action taken by the U. S. Justice Department against certain Texas School districts.

"As present law is uncertain about methods of achieving desegregation," Bush said, "I think the time has come for the Supreme Court to act speedily in clarifying the problem, and hopefully, to rule in favor of the neighborhood concept.

"Until it does," he said, "the nation faces a situation in which local judges will be enacting laws that hardly anyone wants."

Dunbar Student, Dwight Gibson, Spends Summer Vacation Attending Extra Classes at Texas Tech University

Spectrophotometer Speculation—Dwight Gibson, left, a senior at Dunbar High School, and Dr. David Carlyle, assistant professor of chemistry at Texas Tech University, examine a photograph taken from a spectrophotometer used to measure the rate of fast chemical reactions. Dwight spent the better part of his summer vacation in a chemistry laboratory as part of the Upward Bound educational program sponsored by the American Chemical Society. The program was instituted to encourage young students who would not ordinarily be interested in pursuing a career in science. (Tech Photo)

Dwight Gibson, a student at Dunbar High School, spent the better part of his summer vacation conducting research in a chemistry laboratory at Texas Tech University.

Dwight studied the reaction of an iron ion, which has a chloride attached to it, what happened when mercury is introduced, and the resulting replacement of the chloride by a water molecule.

Sponsored by the American Chemical Society (ACS), Dwight was one of 100 high school students participating in programs this summer conducted in chemistry labs at colleges and universities across the nation.

"Dwight," said Dr. David Carlyle, assistant professor of chemistry at Tech, "conducted his research from June 1 through July 31 in Tech's program named 'Project Catalyst.'

"The ACS sponsors this program to encourage students who would not ordinarily be interested in science as a career. This summer we had only one student participate, but plans are being made for an increased enrollment next summer."

Dr. Carlyle supervised Dwight's research program and praised the student, a senior at Dunbar this fall. "Dwight is a very bright student," he said, "and his professional attitude and competence in this project demonstrated his intense desire to learn about this scientific field."

After his summer of chemical research Dwight was invited as a guest speaker in a biology class at Tech. The class, part of the Upward Bound educational program, is taught by Charles Henry, an instructor at Coronado High School.

Bush Concerned . . .

Rep. Bush is the Republican candidate for the U. S. Senate.

In his statement last week, Bush reviewed his position on all aspects of the issue. He said:

"(1) I firmly believe the neighborhood school concept should be the rule.

"(2) I am opposed to the dual school system. I am for providing the best possible standard of quality education for all children in our public schools, particularly in heretofore neglected areas.

"(3) I am opposed to busing to achieve racial balance. A sound education requires an atmosphere conducive to learning. I don't believe that busing of school children contributes to this kind of atmosphere. This is why three different times I have voted against the use of federal funds for busing. It has been clear that parents of black students have resisted busing as strongly as white parents in many areas.

"(4) I firmly believe in the freedom-of-choice approach so that any person, if they so choose, can attend school outside their neighborhood without being compelled to. This injects some flexibility into the system."

Bush said, "I realize that in the school districts affected by the Courts' mandates, putting even the most carefully considered desegregation plans into effect is going to cause concern. It is a concern of which I am well aware, and which I share with those affected districts.

"The ultimate answer now," Bush said, "lies in a new ruling by the Supreme Court in favor of the neighborhood school concept, yet against perpetuation of segregation; a ruling making Freedom of Choice and quality education the overriding factors so that we can move forward in upgrading our schools in all areas of our state."

Mark Twain's Story

OF THE

READING SPIDER

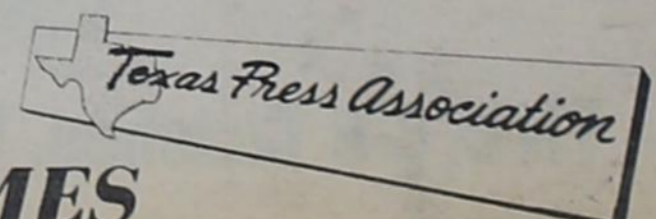

During Mark Twain's days as a newspaperman, he was editor of a small Missouri newspaper. One day he got a letter from a subscriber, stating that he had found a spider in his newspaper and asked if this was an omen of good luck or bad luck.

Twain wrote: "Finding a spider in your newspaper is neither good luck nor bad. The spider was merely looking over our paper to see which merchant was not advertising so that he could go to that store, spin his web across the door and lead a life of undisturbed peace ever afterward."

You will find no spider webs across the doors of the merchants who advertise in your local newspaper.

Someone You Should Meet

Amarillo—This is Johnny Adams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lee Adams of 912 N. Jefferson.

Johnny is in the fifth grade and attends Robert E. Lee Elementary School. He just recently started selling the West Texas Times and says he enjoys it very much. He already has increased his sales from 20 to 40 papers per week.

His father, Mr. Edward Lee Adams, thinks it is wonderful that he has something to do, and has encouraged Johnny in his new work.

You can encourage Johnny and other paper boys by buying a paper from them each week. Tell them that they can depend on you being a regular customer.

Board.

Spokesman for Diamond-Shamrock Chemical Company and American Smelting and Refining Company, on the other hand, argued that the proposed five parts per billion mercury discharge level is beyond their capacity. They called for a delay in adoption of the standards.

Federal officials took exception to the state Board's order which said there is no evidence of public health hazard from heavy metals contamination in Texas. He pointed to mercury found in industrial discharges, coastal waters and in certain species of salt water fish and shell fish. He noted, in particular, industrial waste along the Houston ship channel and in Lavaca Bay.

Courts Speak—U.S. Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals denied Texas' appeal on who has jurisdiction in a Padre Island buried treasure case. U.S. District Judge Reynaldo Garza of Brownsville had held on June 12 that he could take jurisdiction in the dispute over ownership of the recovered artifacts. State wants the articles. So does Platoro Ltd., the Gary, Ind., salvage firm which recovered them.

Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin filed a triple damage, anti-trust suit against three big drug firms, accusing them of conspiracy in restraint of trade leading to a monopoly in Ampicillin and other synthetic penicillins.

State's request for lifting an injunction against enforcing the private bottle club guest rule has been delayed until September 30 by the Austin District Court.

Meanwhile, the chairman of the Alcoholic Beverage Commission, Tom Gordon of Abilene, said ABC will be in contempt of court if it tries to crackdown with "Rule 56".

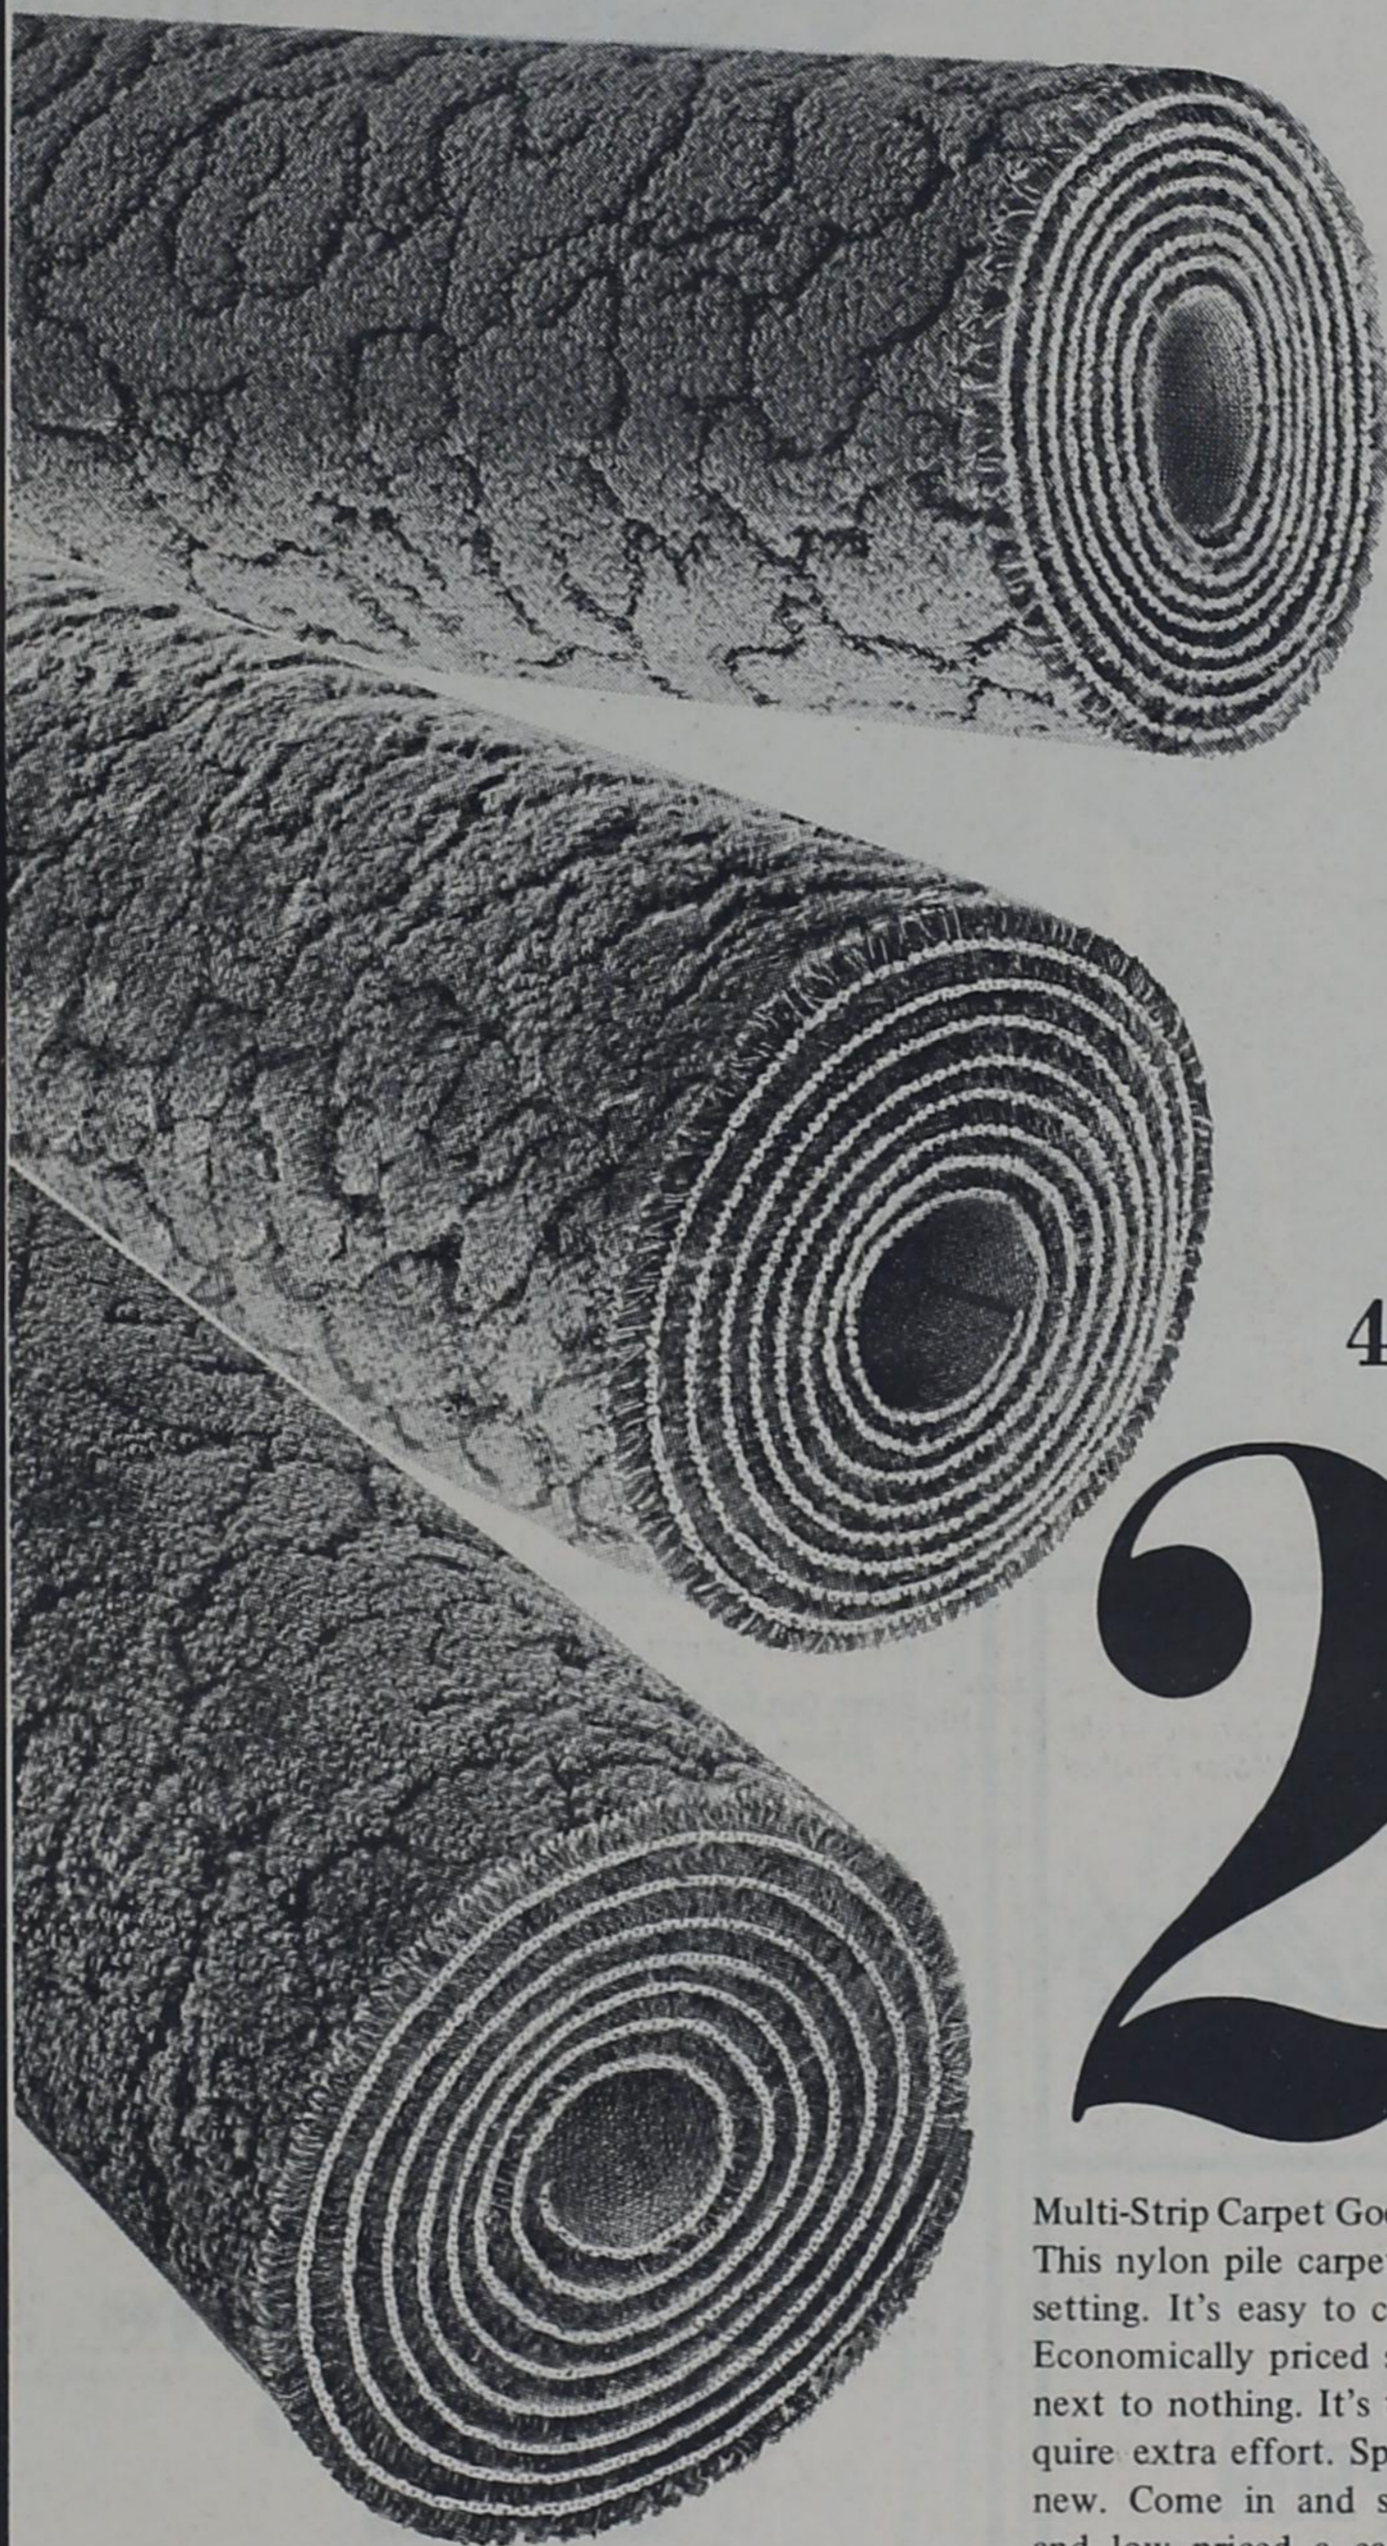

Bottle clubs said they will appeal the top state court rule which upholds the U.S. Supreme Court ruling.

The Zion Jubilees, a spiritual recording group from Bryan, Texas, will appear at the Lyons Chapel Baptist Church, East 25th Street and Quirt Avenue, Saturday and Sunday, September 5th and 6th.

The group will present three programs at Lyons Chapel, according to Rev. O. D. Hollins, pastor, while here. They plan a program Saturday evening at 8:00, one Sunday at 2:30 p.m. and the final performance at 8:00 Sunday evening.

Jerry Lewis Telethon to Be Seen Here for First Time

A super-spectacular, which has smashed all records for programs of its kind in New York and several other cities, is coming to Lubbock for the first time this Labor Day weekend. It's the Jerry Lewis Telethon to raise funds for the fight against muscular dystrophy and related diseases. The show will be seen in this area over KLBK, Channel 13 starting at 9:30 p.m., September 6th, and continuing without interruption, until 5:30 p.m., September 7th.

This is the fifth consecutive Labor Day telethon that Lewis—for many years national chairman of Muscular Dystrophy Associations of America—will be doing. His 1969 show established a new world's record with pledges of over $2,000,000.

Televised live and in color from the Imperial Ballroom of the New York Americana Hotel, the telethon will be relayed by a sixty-five station television network. Local cut-ins will feature distinguished local personalities, as well as other area citizens active in MDAA's program.

Jerry Lewis says he's confident this year's show will be bigger and better than ever. He reports that such stars as Danny Thomas, Joan Crawford, Sidney Blackmer, Danny Kaye, Dorothy Collins, Hildegard, Peter Lind Hayes and Mary Healy have already agreed to appear.

For further information contact MDAA, 1916 Avenue Q, Lubbock, Texas, 79405.

My Views . . .

There are a couple of interested adults helping to sponsor this project, such as Paul Petterson and a couple of concerned whites, but mainly it is being left up to the youngsters.

I would be very glad to see it become successful, and see these youngsters, some with long hair and wearing sandals, prove that they can take an interest in how to help improve the community, and then go out and show they can get the job done without having to beg or depend on someone else to help them. They are helping themselves by putting their change together and attempting to show that they can do what the youngsters did for themselves in Atlanta, Georgia. The young people there got together and formed a co-op and with their proceeds built a shopping center for their area.

When these kids get their co-op operating and making money it will be interesting to see what some of the complacent "we're doing fine" older citizens will say and do.

The chance, the ability and the opportunity is here for the older people to do for and help themselves—more so than these youngsters because they are financially prepared—but among the older generation there is a lack of unity and trust and a lot of apathy. Hopefully once they observe what these youngsters may do, perhaps the older folks will follow their example.

One idea would be returning just a small percentage of the money that is collected each year by the different ministers' during their annual anniversary observance. It probably would be surprising what a difference this would make in the community. Or better still, if the people would hold back this money themselves, and return a small part of it to their own good, something like the Southern Consumers Co-op in Louisiana. Such action might show a decrease in poverty in the community, less of our people on the welfare rolls, and certainly more people able to help themselves rather than having to be helped so much.

This self help program that the youngsters are attempting to start here in Lubbock could certainly show a lot of people that it would be better for the unemployed, underemployed and underprivileged to be shown a way to help themselves, and add to society, rather than having to continually take from society. This would prove that people would be better off giving rather than taking, and at the same time building self-pride, people and dignity, and most of all, financial security!!

Closing thought; "you can make it if you try, but you must try first."

PERSONALS

Note of Thanks
I wish to thank each of you who were so nice to assist me, by making it possible for me to attend funeral services for my brother in New Jersey. Some of you, I do not know personally, but to each one, I want you to know I'm truly grateful. May God bless you always.
Sincerely,
Lucille Blaylock

Sunday, September 27. The meeting will be held at the New Hope Baptist Church
