United Black Coalition Unity Meetings Held

Local Girl Helps Students Find Ways To Stay in School With LEARN

The pert, petite young lady smiled as she said, "I am here to help our people. Too many of my black brothers and sisters would like to get a fair opportunity—but they don't know where to turn."

Dianna Okra, a graduate of Dunbar High School means exactly what she says. Working with L.E.A.R.N. Educational Talent Search, at 1306½ Broadway, Dianna devotes most of her time to working directly with her own people. She works with Chicanos and Anglos at times, although she says: "Not enough attention has been given to the black population of our city."

Dianna's task is to meet and counsel with students and parents, and see how L.E.A.R.N. Educational Talent Search can help them to go to college.

"Most of our people do not consider college as a real possibility," says Dianna, "...but I am here to tell them that we too, can make it."

L.E.A.R.N. Educational Talent Search placed more than 37 students in college this past semester. None of them thought that it would ever be possible for them to go to college, the slim Dianna said.

Any students who wish to go to college or who would like to explore the possibilities, should contact Dianna. If you are interested, inform your principal or a counselor who will in turn notify Dianna. You can also contact her through the L.E.A.R.N. office located here in Lubbock at 1306½ Broadway, Telephone 763-4256 or at 744-9817.

If you inform Dianna Okra or the L.E.A.R.N. staff early enough of your intentions to go to college and if you will be in need of financial aid, such help can be assured.

Contact Dianna at your earliest convenience—and stay in school!

West Texas POW Week Committee Reports Over 11,000 Letters Received

It was learned this week that the recent project sponsored by a group of concerned citizens on the South Plains in regard to West Texas POW Week, November 9-15, the Lubbock headquarters has received more than 11,000 personal letters from area residents to Communist leaders protesting the treatment of American prisoners of war in Southeast Asia.

This preliminary count, according to a volunteer campaign worker, does not include the letters and petitions signed at the city's churches as part of the POW Sunday observances, nor the results of display booths placed around the city nor the correspondence mailed last week.

The 11,000 letter total includes nearly 4,000 letters from Texas Tech University, and an equal amount from Reese Air Force Base. The greatest out-of-town response, sponsors said, came from Ralls, home of Army Captian Lynn R. Huddleston, a pilot who's been missing in action since September 26, 1967.

Sponsors early this week urged residents to continue the campaign, whose target remains 100,000 West Texas messages and letters. They should be addressed to Mr. Xuan Thuy, delegation of the Democratic Republic of Vietnam, in care of box 100,000 in Lubbock, Texas 79408.

Display booths will remain for another week at Sears downtown, Dunlaps in Caprock Shopping Center, Furr's Cafeteria in the Town and Country Shopping Center and Lubbock National Bank.

Lubbock Symphony Orchestra Concert Set Monday Night

The Lubbock Symphony Orchestra presents the second concert of the season, Monday, November 23 at the Municipal Auditorium adjacent to the Texas Tech Campus. Conducted by William A. Harrod, the program will feature the magnificent voices of Don Jones, Bill Lucas and Marta Pender. These artists will perform excerpts from Operas.

The Opera Night was well received last season and the Symphony had many requests for a similar program to be given again.

The ticket prices are $4.50, $3.50, $2.00 and $1.00. Order your tickets by writing the Symphony Office, 1416 Avenue Q or by calling 762-4707.

Be in the audience for this exciting performance by the Lubbock Symphony Orchestra in their 25th Anniversary year.

Lubbock Men's Sister Dies in Bryan Hospital

Final rites for Mrs. Dixie Woods Sanders, sister of George and Eli Woods of Lubbock, will be conducted this morning at 11 a.m. in the Daniel's Funeral Home Chapel at Bryan, Texas. Burial will be in Oakwood Cemetery.

A native of Temple, Mrs. Sanders died Monday night in a Bryan hospital after a lengthy illness.

Survivors include her husband, E. A. Sanders; two daughters, Mrs. Dorrie Freeman and Mrs. Dora Barnes, both of Perris, California; three sisters, Mrs. Willie White and Mrs. Eudora Cannon of Dallas and Mrs. Ruby Woods of Los Angeles, California; three brothers, George Woods of 2201 Date Avenue and Eli Woods of 2201 Date Avenue here in Lubbock and Curtis Woods of Los Angeles, California along with other relatives and friends.

Black Senior is TCU Queen

A black senior student at Texas Christian University, Jennifer Giddings, 21, of Dallas, was picked by judges to reign as that University's 1970 homecoming queen.

Jack Fligg, both of whom handle offensive linemen. "It's a pretty big jump from Class AA to the Southwest Conference, especially for a lineman," assured Lyons. "Now instead of playing against a good player maybe once a year, you face a good player every Saturday. And they hit. Everyone of 'em hits you and hits you hard. They really play for keeps in this league."

Tech Starting Lineman, Harold Lyons, Highly Praised

When spring drills opened for Texas Tech, Harold Lyons found himself running at fourth team offensive tackle.

But no one was overly surprised when Harold lined up at the number one quick guard when Tech opened the football season against Tulane. Not even Harold.

"I felt like I might be good enough to play some," remembers Harold with a smile. "My greatest problem was convincing the coaches of that."

Harold didn't have quite as much convincing to do as he might have suspected, though.

"We felt like he would be capable of playing some for us come time for the season to start," reasoned offensive line coach John Conley. "He can play any one of three positions (quick guard, quick tackle, or strong tackle)," Conley continued, "And when we looked for the five best people to put up on the line, Harold was right up there."

A 1969 graduate of Lufkin's Dunbar High School, Lyons came to Texas Tech with an impressive set of credentials. He was a first-team all stater both at offensive and defensive tackle in Class AA. While starting for three years at Dunbar, he helped them to a 39-1 record and a state runner-up spot in 1968.

Harold's excellence extends not only on to the football field but also into the classroom. His 3.1 Grade Point Average for the first semester at Tech put him on the Dean's honor roll, and his major is in architecture. While in high school, he compiled an 89.6 average for three years. Conley emphasized, "Harold is one of those real smart kids, both on the gridiron and in the classroom."

Conley's praise for Lyons comes in the light of two former great Tech guards, Don King and Phil Tucker. "Harold is a good sophomore lineman," insists Conley. "He is very comparable to Don King when he was a sophomore. Both of them are the same type players. As far as comparing him with Tucker when he was a sophomore, I'd have to say Phil was stronger, but Harold I think is probably a little quicker."

Lyons attributes much of his success to coaches Conley and

There were approximately fifty black citizens out last evening at Mae Simmons Multi-Service Center to discuss the problems of the black community. Eddie Richardson, acting president of the United Black Coalition, the sponsoring organization, presided over the meeting.

Leaders of community, civic and social organizations and concerned citizens agreed unanimously on a resolution that all organizations work as sub-committees of the United Black Coalition to address the various problems of the community.

The meeting—like the one held last Thursday night—was billed a great success in regard to serving as a catalyst for uniting the black community. Both meetings, which were beneficial, have added greatly to the momentum in driving for more citizen involvement.

A report of the Eastside Citizen Advisory Committee was presented by George Scott, Jr., chairman of that group.

In other business of the group, an eleven man nominating and steering committee was elected and this committee was charged with bringing back names of candidates for offices of the United Black Coalition at the next meeting Thursday, December 10th. The by-laws will also be studied at this meeting.

Previous discussion included the idea of purchasing Thanksgiving turkeys from one central location for most of the participating people, but a resolution was passed commending Piggly Wiggly for its support of the black community over the years through its advertising in the black news media, and it was voted unanimously that the group purchase their Thanksgiving turkeys from that business firm.

There was some rumors of possible boycott of businesses in Lubbock, which will be discussed at the December 10th meeting. Plans and ideas are to be presented at that time, and all present supported the idea.

"I saw more progress toward community unity and communication in this meeting than I have seen in my 10 years in Lubbock," one man said.

Open House and Bake Sale Set Tonight by Ella Iles PTA

The Ella Iles Parent Teachers Association (PTA) will present an "Open House" and "Bake Sale" at the regular PTA meeting tonight, November 19th, beginning at 7 p.m.

Using a pre-Thanksgiving theme "Time to Talk Turkey with the Teachers and Time to Gobble Food," the organization is hoping to supplement its funds for the annual Christmas Party and, at the same time, provide an opportunity for parents and teachers to get better acquainted.

Included in the bake sale will be cookies, cakes, pies and other delicious pastry prepared or donated by the parents and teachers.

It Was A Great Beginning

By T. J. Patterson

The winds of May 11 have come and gone and we have begun to build back our city. There has been a passage of a bond package which will build a civic center, library and other things. We are in the process of planning for better things for our community. Our community is receiving government money from Washington in order to make all of these things a reality. We have, on the one hand, changed our concept of the use of tax money.

But at the same time, we have not changed our concept of bringing the black man into the scene by means of employment on the city level. This does not mean the need for more custodians or other menial jobs, but the City of Lubbock should look around the black community and hire some of our talented people in the administrative positions of city government.

If we are to build our city back, we must today—not tomorrow, start doing some things which are needed in regard to hiring blacks in administrative positions. The Eastside Advisory Committee—a branch of the Citizen's Advisory Commission—has recommended that this be given priority in city planning.

One of the goals of the Citizen Contribution and Involvement Sub-Committee of Committee

70, spelled this very same thing out prior to the winds in May. Their goals were given consideration by many Lubbockites throughout our city in the various neighborhood meetings. One of the interesting things about that committee's report was that money wasn't the factor in implementing their goals.

The City of Lubbock must realize that if it is to continue to submit applications to the federal government and be given the green light on funds for the projects, they must search among themselves and hire blacks who can contribute something to the cause in the 70's.

Mayor James Granberry and his council must consider this if we are going to build back our community as it should be. Brothers and sisters are asking about this type of action, city fathers, how about it?

City Should Set Pattern Now

by T. J. Patterson

The special community meeting held last Thursday evening at the Mae Simmons Multi-Service Center was a great beginning for those leaders of the various black organizations who were present to start mapping out plans for the black community.

The meeting created a new hope for those who are willing to work night and day in order to build up a black community which is in dire need of leadership at the present time. All present quickly captured the great need for togetherness for the black community if we are to continue to exist in the 70's as well as get into the mainstream of life in the 80's.

The meeting, which was sponsored by the United Black Coalition, was open to those who wished to participate in this type of effort. The speeches made by several blacks as well as the many questions asked by those concerned had merit to them. A great deal of information, at the same time, was distributed to those presidents of organizations and concerned citizens who were present, to take back to their groups.

"It was a good meeting; the coffee can't afford to get cold," was the feeling of those present. A plan has to be put together, at once, if we are to reach the goals which will be brought out this week in another meeting of the same nature.

There was one important point brought out at the meeting by a member of the community and it was given careful consideration by those present. The idea dealt with using some type of credentials for blacks who would represent the black community in regard to what is best for the citizens of our community. If this idea is handled right, this could very well become a great means of stopping black people from being sold out by their black brothers here in Lubbock.

On the whole, citizens present at the meeting last Thursday evening made a few tangible steps which could be added to this week in the Wednesday scheduled meeting. It was proved, without any doubt, that we can do a lot of things together if we think positive and put our ideas together. This was a great start. Let's keep it going this week as well as the weeks to come.

my views

by Eddie P. Richardson

We, as a group of people, have finally started after all this time getting ourselves together. The system wonders why, while we say, "let's go now!"

The reason we say now is that many of us have felt pain, while some of us have eaten well, worn good clothing, and had good jobs, leaving many others to go hungry and ragged. But for some of us it is not only possible, but amazingly easy to live without the slightest spasm over another's pain.

We have the type of people like those at Mae Simmons Multi-Service Center last Thursday evening who have reached that stage of psychosocial evolution where the alleviating of pain of others is important to them.

They asked loud and clear why merchants so willingly take the black's money and refuse to advertise for black business through their only media in this area, the West Texas Times. They were very disturbed over the matter and most of them present stated they would consider spending their money with people who act like they want their business.

Many voiced their concern about Furr's dropping their advertising—and wondered why T.G.&Y. did not advertise regularly since so many blacks spend their money with the McKenzie Village T.G.&Y. Many expressed wonder at the fact that no bread company ever advertised, and that there was very little milk advertising. They were also concerned about Hemphill-Well, especially since they have such a bad record of blacks not being able to use the fitting rooms, etc.

The people there were not like many liberal do-gooders. They recognized that to attempt to alleviate the pain of unemployment, underemployment, inadequate housing, poor financing and the lack of food, personal awareness or little personal pride of individuals alone is to become engaged in unending acts of frustrations. There are too many individuals with too many varied problems to attend to them individually. People are oppressed in masses, not separately. Therefore these problems will have to be solved enmass.

Thus, we are concerned with a re-evaluation of society's institutions—especially when those institutions are designed to shut out some or part of the tax paying public—particularly the blacks.

But to change or redesign institutions, a lot of us will have to change our hearts and ourselves since many ideas and problems that exist are due to people's nature.

We must become new men and women for it is from new people that new institutions and ideas will come forth, which in turn, will create the new society that most of us are striving for. As the late Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. said; the time will come . . . "when men will be judged by the context of their character and not by the color of their skin."

Austin, Texas—Freshman state legislators received some sobering news in their first orientation conference before the legislative halls open on January 12.

About 30 legislative newcomers turned out for the two-day schooling in the capital city. Major state officials and agency heads functioned in the role of professors.

In addition to warnings that money and legislative redistricting problems lie ahead, young lawmakers got word that welfare cuts are virtually certain early next year.

Welfare Commissioner Burton Hackney reported this grim news on the plight of his agency. He announced that "unless an emergency appropriation is made early in the upcoming legislative session, we still face the prospect of cuts in Aid to Families with Dependent Children and/or medical assistance in the first few months of 1971."

Commissioner Hackney added that "even with an appropriation that would take us up to the annual ceiling on state money for public assistance, we can predict the need for a cut in AFDC grants by June if the rolls continue to grow as they have."

Texas' constitution sets a ceiling of $80 million for financial assistance to welfare beneficiaries. Hackney said he has asked $96 million for fiscal 1972 just to cover the present level of public assistance checks.

House Speaker Gus Mutscher urged the freshmen to utilize the formula of "knowledge, cooperation and understanding" in the work ahead.

Further schooling for lawmakers is ahead at a University of Texas special orientation program.

Courts Speak—State Supreme Court has agreed with the federal courts finding that three key sections of Texas' obscenity law are constitutional. But it skipped ruling on two other sections and ordered the Wichita Falls court to move ahead with its case against a theater showing "stag" movies.

In other rulings last week, the high court held that:

+ In spite of mandatory retirement provisions of the constitution, retired judges over 75 may be assigned to hear special litigation and be paid as "visiting judges."

+ Appeal of an Abilene attorney whose license was suspended after conviction for conspiracy to defraud should be turned down.

Three Day Convention Scheduled At Fair Park by Jehovah's Witnesses

Rehearsals for the upcoming 3-day convention of Jehovah's Witnesses were completed Monday night as members of the East unit put the finishing touches on their dramatization to be presented this Saturday night.

The Watchtower Society is conducting three days of intensive Bible training this week-end in the Fair Park Coliseum, November 20-22, with more than 800 expected to attend.

"The Word of God is Alive" will be the theme of the Christian convention, according to Horace Dove, presiding minister of the East unit.

Overseeing the rehearsal earlier this week was Mr. Hermod Jensen, Circuit minister who has been newly assigned to Texas Circuit No. 9, co-sponsors of the Circuit meeting. Jensen will be one of the principal speakers for the assembly as well as overseeing some 20 departments that will function during the meetings. Volunteer help is provided by more than 100 Jehovah's Witnesses.

"Who Will Conquer the World in the 1970's?" will be the main public Bible lecture to be given Sunday, November 22nd at 2 p.m. in the Fair Park Coliseum. Main speaker will be Mr. L. M. Dugan, traveling representative from the world headquarters of Jehovah's Witnesses in New York.

Following the convention Jensen and Dugan will spend an additional week with the East unit in what is described as the Circuit minister's visit with the congregation to further Bible knowledge and provided additional spiritual guidance for all in attendance.

"The Bible educational work being accomplished by over a million Jehovah's Witnesses world wide is for the purpose of encouraging interested persons to read the Bible and live by its principles," Dove explained. "In the Hub City area hundreds of home Bible studies are being conducted each week, free of any charge, with interested persons. Conventions, such as the one to be held this week-end, provide training for the large number of ministers who volunteer their help to anyone who would like to understand the Bible."

All sessions of the convention are open to interested persons with no collections being taken. Admission is free.

I, Rev. M. T. Reed, would like to take this time to say thanks to you, our choir and good members who went to St. Matthews Baptist Church last week to be a part of their program.
