Governor Smith Appoints Black Law Student to Board of Regents of T.S.U.

Austin—In a state-wide news conference here Monday afternoon in his capital office, Governor Preston Smith announced his appointment of Richard Allen Moore, III, a first year law student at the University of Texas, to the Board of Regents of Texas Southern University in Houston. The 28-year old from Austin, is the first student in state history to have ever been appointed to the governing board of a state university. His 6-year term will expire Feb. 1, 1978.

In announcing the appointment, Smith said, "The time has come to afford responsible students this sort of opportunity to participate meaningfully in the educational offices which affect them. I hope and expect to have similar opportunities to involve students and other young people in the decision making process of their government and educational system in the future."

Moore is a member of the Thurgood Marshall Law Students Association; the National Association of Black Students; member of the Student Association House of Delegates on the Texas campus and was a candidate for President of the Student Association.

The former Belton, Texas student, who is originally from McCormick, South Carolina, has worked with various civil rights programs, Little League and in Teenage Counseling organizations, was accompanied by his father at the announcement. In accepting his appointment, Moore stated that allowing students to take part in such positions assures, "...There would be input that would make creative and positive contributions to improving the educational system." Moore added that he was, "looking for more of this."

Department of Justice Gains Consent Decree from Navajo Freight Lines

Washington—Attorney General John N. Mitchell announced last week the entry of a consent decree prohibiting Navajo Freight Lines, Inc. and the International Machinists Union from racial and ethnic discrimination in employment practices.

The decree was entered in U. S. District Court in Los Angeles, partially resolving an employment discrimination suit filed by the Justice Department on January 18, 1972.

A third defendant, the International Teamsters Union, did not join in signing the consent decree. Their part of the suit is still pending.

The suit had charged the trucking company, which is based in Los Angeles and operates 44 terminals in 20 states, with pursuing policies and practices that deprive blacks and persons of Mexican origin of employment opportunities.

The suit had charged the unions with being parties to collective bargaining agreements with Navajo that contained transfer restrictions which perpetuate the effects of the company's discriminatory policies and practices.

The decree permanently enjoins Navajo and the Machinists Union from engaging in any employment practice that discriminates against blacks, Chicanos, American Indians and Orientals.

Navajo is required to begin a program to recruit members of those minority groups at each terminal, including the notification of minority community organizations of all vacancies.

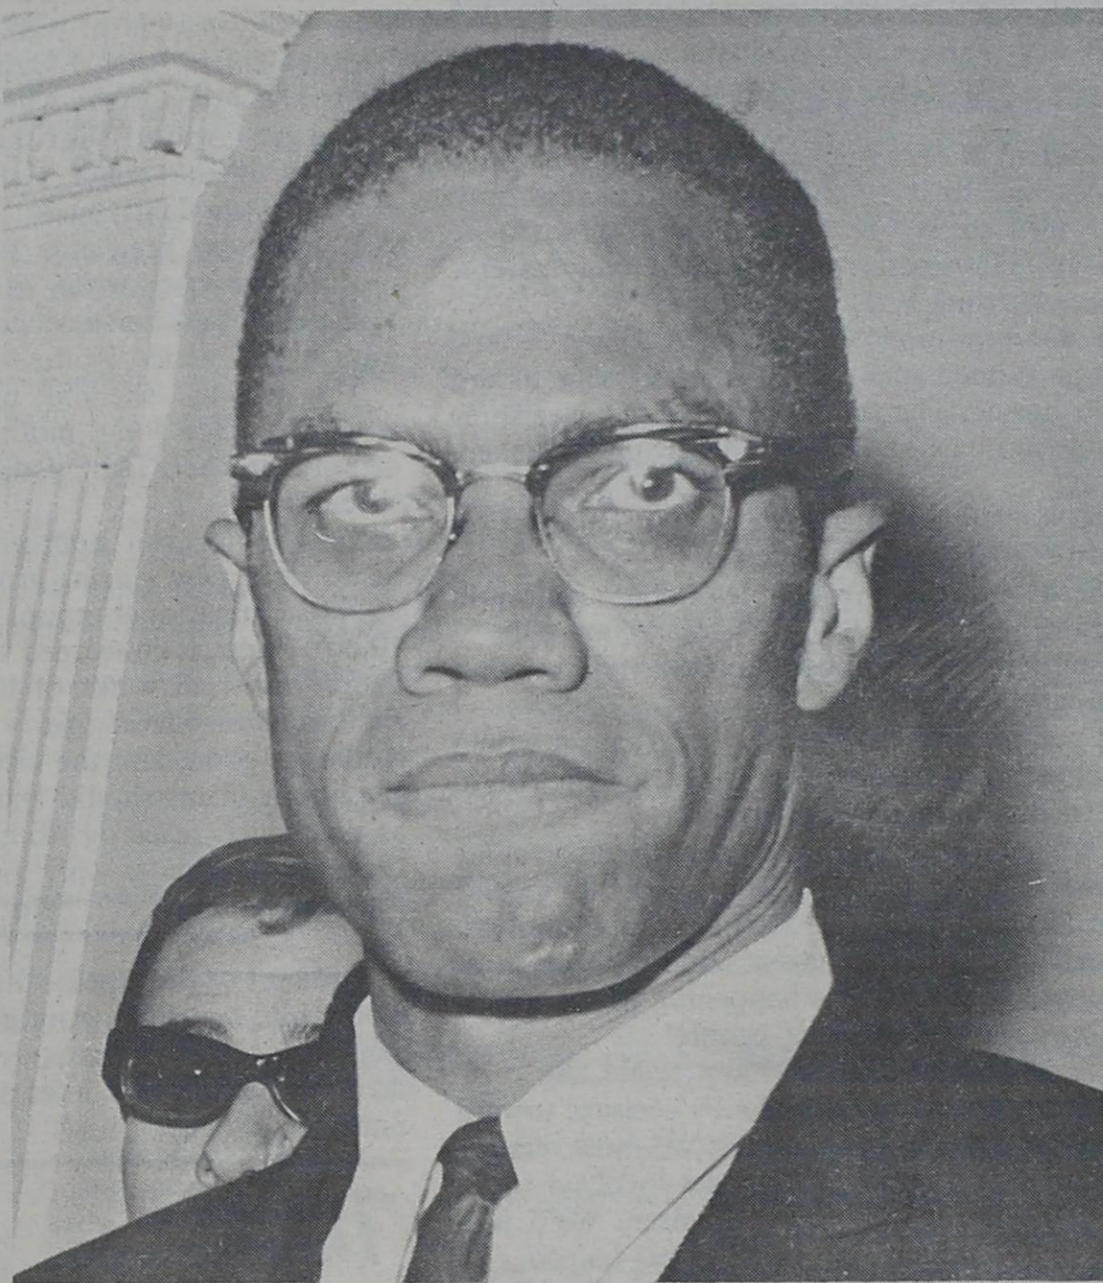

Navajo is further required to take applications from all minority group members who inquire about employment, keep them on file for at least four months, and notify each applicant when vacancies occur.

In addition, Navajo is required to post on employee bulletin boards at each terminal a copy of the consent decree, a statement of the company's equal employment opportunity policy and lists of job vacancies.

In filling vacancies Navajo is required to give preference to minority group employees and to qualified minority group members who applied for jobs but were not hired since July 2, 1965.

To fill remaining vacancies, Navajo is required to hire one minority group member for each white person hired until the number of minority group employees in each terminal equals the minority group-white ratio of the population of the area.

"Why was Malcolm X killed?" "What power structure felt so threatened by the works of this man?"

These are but two of the many questions posed by Black Journal when the WNET series marks the seventh anniversary of his death (Monday, February 21, 1965), with an investigative program which asks "Who Killed Malcolm?"

"Who Killed Malcolm?" will be seen on KTXI-TV, Channel 5, February 22nd at 8:30 p.m.

"The American press has been conspicuously silent on the events that lead to the death of Malcolm X," says Black Journal executive producer Tony Brown. "This program is an attempt to place the events of his life and the eerie circumstances surrounding his death into a Black perspective."

"Who Killed Malcolm?" points to the discrepancies concerning his assassination as reported by witness testimony, newspapers, and magazines. The program deals with the questions left unasked as well as unanswered during the investigation. Peter Bailey, an associate editor of Ebony magazine who was a member of Malcolm X's Organization of Afro-American Unity and was present at the Audobon Ballroom in Harlem the day of the assassination, recalls the event for Black Journal.

The program also provides a documentary profile of the fiery Black leader, noting the significant episodes in his life such as his introduction to the Muslims, his break with The Honorable Elijah Muhammad, his journey to Mecca, and trips to Africa.

How Do You Feel About Nixon's Busing "Thing"?

President Richard Nixon, according to national sources, said that he will take steps necessary to end forced busing of school children "as we know it today." These are steps in which many parents will be watching in the near future.

In an hour and 45 minute meeting, several senators termed such action as necessary to halt forced busing. The senators said Nixon gave three possible avenues of action which could be taken, namely:

- Seek changes in Justice Department action toward school desegregation suits;
- Seek changes through legislative action in Congress; and
- Support the proposed anti-busing constitutional amendments.

As parents and citizens of West Texas it would be interesting to see how you feel about the Nixon plan to ban busing. All of us, however, have our own horseback opinion when it comes to making America a better place for our children to receive an honorable education. This is as it should be, and as parents—and taxpayers—we should be most concerned about what is happening to the educational process of our young people.

This weekly media would appreciate any comment in regard to the President's decision toward busing last Monday. As parents, we must remember that it is a must that we get involved to do what is right for our young children. We'd welcome any comment you as a parent, taxpayer or concerned citizen would send to the West Texas Times, P.O. Box 225, Lubbock, Texas 79408.

The educational opportunities at the public school level, without any doubt, will be an important issue in this year's presidential election. The answer to many of our national problems, if not all of them, lie in the hands of young people who will be the leaders of tomorrow. We can't soft pedal and leave them short in their educational opportunities.

Sufficient educational facilities should be made available to all of America's children; regardless of their race, creed, color or origin. The same opportunities afforded to the white children, should be made available to the Black or brown, regardless of their socio-economic status. This is not, however, the case at the present time in many places.

Let us emphasize again that this newspaper would welcome your comments on President Nixon's steps this week. We'll be more than happy to print what you have to say about the busing "thing" in your community and how it will affect your precious child's future.

Did You Know?

That a Black cowboy invented the rodeo art of bull dogging (steer wrestling). At the turn of the century Bill Pickett was a cowboy on the 101 Ranch near Ponca City, Okla. The 101 Ranch men were so good they were banned from amateur rodeos, so the ranch produced its own traveling rodeo, playing in Chicago, New York, London and Mexico City. Bill Pickett was the rodeo star.

As I See It

by T. J. Patterson

As I See It there are a lot of problems which face young people in our community. The Soul Patrol; William Britt, Floyd Price and Fulton Berry, is absolutely right when they beg parents to please get involved with their children.

While at the police station the other day, I heard a complaint made by a fifteen year old girl, who was pregnant, that her fourteen year old brother was hitting her in the stomach. She told police that her mother had instructed her to inform the police if the brother bothered her.

This is what she did, but what bothered me was, why didn't the mother handle this matter or why brothers fight sisters, especially pregnant sisters.

This writer can appreciate the efforts being made by a new singing group of gospel music, a non-denominational group. The group, called the Ghetto Choir, is concerned with bringing in young people from all walks of life and showing them the beautiful side of life.

This is good, and the citizens of Lubbock and the South Plains should encourage programs such as this which reach out to help young people find themselves. This is only one program, I'm sure there are more. Let's help them all!

Thought of the Week: "I shall pass through this world but one time. Any good, therefore, that I can do, or any kindness that I can show, let me do it now; let me not defer or neglect it, for I shall not pass this way again."

Think!

by Dr. R. W. Jones

Blind, Stupid, or What?

Many people are so blind they can't see the trees for the forest. That blindness gives them a false sense of security that makes them believe their destructive deeds go unnoticed.

I hate to keep beating that same old drum, but it seems as if that "white folks nigger" keeps betraying his people and calls himself a leader and brother.

The creed of the underworld is to never welch on a fellow thug! Not only the criminal, but the police as well, has no regard for a "stoolie" and that feeling is the same that all citizens have for the "white folks nigger." Black citizens might tolerate the actions of a W.F.N. for awhile but when the time comes they will take action as a lady of the streets, referring to a leading Black Amarillo citizen, said to me one day last week, "I'll be damned if I let him get away with getting fat off of my hard earned pay and hide himself to keep from helping me with a problem against those white folks."

Among numerous things this author does are reviews for Doubleday Publishers. This keeps me occupied and prevents me from taking a Gatlin gun and committing mass murder on so-called brothers. I will borrow an idea from Chester Himes' unpublished autobiography, The Quality of Hurt, because it is so appropriate to my way of thinking and to what the Black Tom thinks he is doing

Others Are Saying . . .

Along Freedom Road—Until September, no blacks were registered to vote in Gretna, Fla. But in December, after an NAACP voter registration drive, blacks captured control of the town's government at the ballot box, electing a mayor, two councilmen and a town clerk. Unseated by a vote of 111 to 94 was white Mayor A. W. Watson, Jr., who had said "blacks are too lazy" to register to vote.

Black and Mexican-American voters were a potent force in the recent Houston, Texas elections. A Mexican-American, Leonel J. Castillo, was elected city controller, and black and Chicano votes helped the liberal Committee for Good Schools elect three members to the school board, giving them a clean sweep of the seven-member board.

Two blacks now head important school systems. Dr. Roland N. Patterson has become superintendent of the Baltimore, Maryland public schools, while Taylor M. Williams was appointed superintendent of Fairfax County, Virginia schools.

Let's Be Human, by Harry Fleischman

With all the attention on the upcoming elections for a mayor and councilmen, plus the outcome of the garbage thing and petitions being circulated for Liquor by the Drink, I wonder if anything will be said this year about enlargement of the City Council.

This would be a mighty good year to enlarge the council, and, at the same time, make sure that every area is represented. This would give citizens from throughout the city an opportunity to have someone representing them from their own area.

The way we're going, it appears as though nothing will happen on this question. Granted, the City Charter Commission made their recommendations to the city fathers, but it looks as though it'll just draw cobwebs.

Anyway, I'm not a person who criticizes anyone without offering a helping hand. I have something to offer. This is my second offering of assistance publicly to our city fathers. The other time, I had an idea about the transit problem which we are faced with. There was no feed-back from City Hall. Well, anyway, I have an idea about the enlargement of our City Council.

How about that, city fathers?

The Voter's Education Program being sponsored in March by the United Black Coalition is a winner. This should really help our community get ready for the upcoming elections. At the same time, it should help salvage votes which could be lost if the ballots are improperly marked.

Let's make sure that everyone is registered so they can attend to the business of being a complete citizen.

to me: "They try to kill me with subterfuge, propaganda, and white mouthing, because I refuse to be a white folks nigger, or roll over and play dead, or play the game the way they want to—as a separatist living in the past on things that have been." This action has been to my advantage because it has given me time to sharpen my sword, replenish my ammunition, and gather information that is going to tighten the rope around the necks of Black thugs who exploit our people from the womb to the grave.

I will not use the West Texas Times to wage this battle, because I think I have hurt it enough by merely writing articles for its editorial page.

There are so many brilliant Black men in Amarillo, according to their evaluation of themselves, but when something has to be done, they have to let Mr. Charlie know about it. Their blindness or stupidity, a strategy they call "out thinking the man", gives Mr. Charlie the edge to do what he will with an idea born by them;

Some people have their heads so high in the clouds and are so trusting until they can't recognize when they are being used by their own "Brers", as Uncle Remus would say it.

There is an organization in Chicago called Catalyst that has a drive on to help Blacks who want to go back to the Mother Country—Africa. Catalyst can be contacted by writing radio station WLS, Chicago in care of Wali Sadaeki. I threw that in for a few of my young, blind, misinformed friends with whom I was talking the past week. Let me defend them. They were awakened from a state of mesmerism placed on them by a local Black philosopher.

In Amarillo, there is the chance to remove two unfavorable members of the School Board. However, the act will call for unity and the establishment has a few Blacks so wrapped around its finger I wonder if unity can be had. We can't say the division in the Black community is made up of too many splinter groups because there is no way to get a splinter from a mass of sawdust. Sometimes I think the only way unity can be established in the Negro community is to have a few funerals—to rid us of some snakes. However, now is the time to start eliminating some of the unfavorable candidates and officials. We should recognize the platforms of all candidates. Think! Does the new phrase "Anti-bussing", like law enforcement in the past, mean Anti-Negro?

Let us open our eyes and ears. Don't be stupid and succumb to the smooth talking acquaintance. Examine the records of the persons who confront you. See what they have done in the community. Have they contributed of themselves on the majority of issues or hidden in the background when controversial issues existed? Does Mr. Charlie say "Old Tom is a good boy," and is Tom always taking tidbits to Mr. Charlie? Think!

Mrs. Elsie Young was very pleasantly surprised last Friday evening after arriving home from work when a knock at the door revealed her little three year old neighbor, Ethel Denise Garrett, bringing her a plate of hot catfish with all the "fixings", including the dessert. She is the grand-daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Garrett, Sr., with whom she lives. Of course being tired from the day's toil, Elsie found words of appreciation and thanks after the feast. It all had a very happy ending, Ethel for sharing with someone she loves and Elsie for a delicious meal; and the Garretts for a thoughtful child who is learning to share at an early age.

Clean Up Your Own Back Yard

Amarillo—I happened to hear this on one of the local radio stations recently and it gave me a thought. It is a true fact that a lot of us are trying to clean up something of someone else's when we should be doing a little homework of our own. We are trying to get some other people together before we get together ourselves. Why are we so quick to say that it can't be done? I believe that a man who says nothing can be done, is a man who has done nothing. We, as a race, and I mean as a Black race, should start thinking big. I know you might say it is the little things in life that count, but if your only aim is for the little things in life, you can rest assured that is what you will get.

My suggestion is "let's start today taking a look at our own back yards. Are we sure that a few things are not there that need to be removed, keeping in mind that we can be Black and anything else that we want to be? When we finish in our back yards then take a look at the front and see if things are in shape there. When that's done, we are ready to move out.

I look at some of the areas where our Black people are moving to and wonder, why? Do you get the message?

Have you heard the song where the words go something like this, "he can't run his own business, I'll be damned if he runs mine." What the guy is trying to say is, get your own thing straight first before you try to straighten mine out. Get the hatred, jealousy and all those other things you have in your mind for your fellowman out, then, and only then, will we have a clean back-yard.

Mrs. Carrie Haynes of 1106 N. Hughes and Mrs. Venita Randle of 1110 NW 20th flew via TWA to Houston to attend the funeral of their brother, Mr. Robert Haynes.

Mr. Virgil flew to several cities in California to visit his children. He reports having a wonderful trip.

The surprise birthday party given Fr. C.R. Crowe by members of the St. Martin Parish, was quite a success and very well attended.

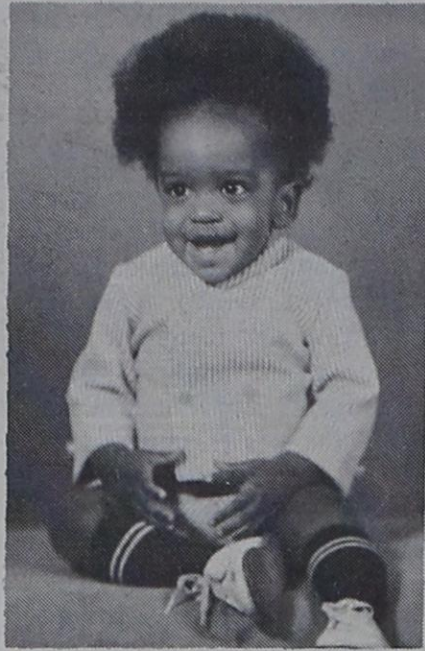

Word has been received of the passing of Mr. Tom Martin. He was the nephew of Mrs. Lillie Bustie of 1315 NW 13th. Mr. Martin passed away on February 4th in Los Angeles, California.

The W. Hayes Gooden family spent Christmas in Palm Springs, California as the guests of Mrs. Gooden's uncle and his wife, the W.O. Carrolls. While there they were honored at several parties. Among these was a dinner party in the beautiful Banning home of the Pitts. Many of you know Mrs. Pitts (Alma). She was a cafeteria manager here in the Amarillo school system. Alma sends her best wishes and greetings to all of her many friends and acquaintances. She is following the same profession there, cafeteria manager. She manages many employees of other ethnic groups, but not of her own. She is reported doing an outstanding job there.

Harvey and Ethel Gooden have returned to college for the spring semester. Ethel to West Texas where she is a music scholarship student and Harvey to Texas A&I, Kingsville, Texas.

The Race Relations Tea, sponsored each year by Wyatt Memorial United Methodist Church, was held this year in the cafetorium of Hilltop Elementary School, 1800 N. Travis, here in Amarillo. This tea began at 9:30 p.m. on the 13th of February and was a great success. Proceeds from this venture will be used, as always, to help support higher education for Negro students at the colleges supported by the Methodist church. We in this community benefit by our children receiving the type of training exhibited by these colleges. Reverend Harold T. Ashurts is the pastor of Wyatt Memorial United Methodist Church.

Sports of The Times

by Joe Kelly

It's not possible for everyone to go to all the events scheduled all the time, but those who missed hearing Eddie Robinson speak at the Dunbar All-Sports Banquet last week really were the losers. The Grambling coach laid it on the line and told it like it is.

Eddie Robinson wasn't trying to sugarcoat his message. He shot straight from the shoulder in scattergun style and he hit both the white and black listener. He had a message based on personal conviction and he gave it directly. He had no apology for what he believed and no sympathy for those who didn't believe.

In essence, he was speaking directly to the Dunbar athletes. In fact, he was talking to everyone within hearing distance. Eddie didn't mince any words. He said that his whole philosophy was predicated on the fact that the United States was the greatest nation in the world and that there was more opportunity here than anywhere else.

Having thus established the fact that he would never want to live in another nation, he struck at the heart of his beliefs—that the opportunity is here and that it is up to the individual. If the individual wants to be a success badly enough, there's nothing stopping him.

He stressed, emphatically, time and time again, that there is no substitute for winning. Winning is his way of life and it should be the goal of anyone who wants to make a success of himself.

Robinson said that there was no substitute for athletics in teaching people to win, no matter what they tried to do. And he is convinced that there is nothing more important in the school curriculum than athletics, that athletics teaches the competitor everything he needs to become a success.

Robinson himself is a shining example of what he preaches. He has achieved, so much so that he has a winning record among college coaches that is second only to Bear Bryant of Alabama. In addition, more Grambling exes are pro football players than from any other institution in this nation.

He is a Christian, a man who believes in his God and his nation, apparently on equal footing. He believes that no sacrifice is too great for the young man who is an athlete. He does not believe in alibis or excuses.

"If you let them," he says scornfully, "they'd blame the officials every time they lost. Officials don't beat you. You've got to earn your success. No one is going to give it to you."

After his talk, and once the crowd had dwindled down, I had a chance to sit and briefly talk with Coach Robinson. He listens intently. He thinks before he speaks and then gives a concise answer. I mentioned the fact that Darrell Royal had just hired a black assistant coach and wondered if he, in reverse, had a white assistant.

"Yes, I do," he replied quietly. "We also have white players on our squad. The coach really is a coach and not a token. He is a big help in recruiting. I have had players question me about him and I tell them the same thing, he's a coach and they'd better do what he says."

"I think one of the big troubles with white coaches coaching blacks is that they treat them differently than they do the white players. This is a mistake. They should have the same discipline and make it stick. They should treat the black athlete the way they do everyone else."

Without mentioning Duane Thomas, Jim Brown or any other black athlete by name, Robinson declared that he was concerned about the image of the professional athlete.

"The pro athlete has to have a big influence on our youth," he declared. "The kids try to copy the pro stars. They look up to them. They definitely have a big influence—and it's just got to be a good one or else we're in trouble."

There's one thing for sure—Eddie Robinson is setting an example. "I'd like to keep him over and have him talk to every high school in town," Pete Ragus, city athletic director, said after the speech. "That's as fine a talk as I've ever heard."

"I want to bring him back to talk to my squad just before district starts," Coach Louis Kelley said with a laugh.

THE ROUNDUP: MC Bill McAlister got off the best crack of the night. "They say winning is contagious," McAlister said to Robinson. "Could you drop by and talk with Jim Carlen before you leave town?" . . . Kelley also brought the house down when he said: "Last year at this time I said I'd have a boy, but we had a girl. I guarantee that at this time next year I'll have some good news for you!" . . . What's wrong with Tech home basketball attendance? It still is a respectable 8,285 average for three conference games, but the lowest in the last three years. . . Tech's recruiting zoomed with the addition of Ecomet Burley and Harold Buell. Addition of Lonnie Littleton could make it a banner season. . . So you think SMU has it all wrapped up in basketball? Not yet, Josephine. Going into Tuesday's games, SMU had to play TCU, Arkansas, Texas and Baylor on the road—with Tech visiting Dallas next Tuesday. . . TCU may be in the best position with only Rice and Texas on the road. . . Eddie Robinson is looking forward to coming back to Lubbock for the All America game June 24. He is on the coaches committee. About the nationally televised game last fall, Robinson said: "We were thrilled, but a little uncomfortable. We're not used to that much exposure. But it was a great thing for Grambling" . . . Coming out of the Coliseum after the TCU game, a fan was overheard: "Maybe Kal Segrist will have a winner."

T.J. Patterson, editor of the West Texas Times, spoke to 450 young people of the Littlefield Junior High School Tuesday afternoon. He spelled out to the group, who represented grades 6 through 9, the importance of being somebody in life.

"You never can start too early in life in becoming somebody," said Patterson, who is concerned about the welfare of Texas' young people.

The founding, growth and prosperity of the United States of America is a saga unparalleled in the annals of history. No other nation can attribute its greatness to deeds of so many divergent cultures, races and creeds.

How did all of this come to be? America is a world leader because of the leadership made by Americans. Some were rich, some were poor, many adventurers, some brave, others were slaves!

Truly Americans of today are fortunate to have Negroes as those who helped make it possible for our country to be what it is today. The Negro's role in the history of America is a great one. Since it is impossible to trace a complete history within the limitations of this page, which is dedicated to Negro History Week, only highlights of specific names and facts are presented here.

Let's turn back to the beginning of modern history. Let's turn back the pages of modern history to the point where the development of the new world was beginning and see some of the contributions made by the black man.

It took tremendous courage to explore this world of ours—and later to explore this great country of ours. When European nations explored the new world, we find Pedro Nion, a Negro, was a pilot of one of Columbus' ships. We learn that he was one of many who sailed with pride to find the new world.

Along with Nino, there were many Negroes who traveled with the Conquistadors as they conquered Mexico. There were 30 Negroes in 1513 who traveled with Balboa at the time he discovered the Pacific Ocean. Negroes also helped explore the states of Arizona and New Mexico—seeking the lost cities of gold.

A Negro was the first to plant and harvest a wheat crop in the new world. In 1565, a Negro helped in building St. Augustine, Florida, the oldest city in America today.

Anthony and Isbella, the first among Africans brought to America in 1619 to Jamestown, gave birth to the first black American born in this country. There were twenty Negroes aboard the first ship to dock at Jamestown.

During the 17th Century, Negroes were given the opportunity to work for their freedom, but due to the dire need for cheap labor, laws were written to make Negroes slaves in order to solve this short labor problem.

On March 5, 1770, the first American credited with dying for the cause of Independence for America in the American Revolution was Crispus Attucks, a run-away slave, who was killed by British bullets in Boston. Peter Salem was at the Battle of Bunker Hill and an estimated 5,000 blacks fought the British during the war. A Negro crossed the Potomac River with George Washington on December 25, 1776, in the same boat.

Then there were the others, Prince Hall—founder of the Negro Masonic Hall; Benjamin Banneker—mathematician, astronomer and writer who helped develop Washington, D.C.; Paul Cuffe—distinguished colonial businessman and philanthropist; Harriett Tubman—"Moses" to her people because of her work with the underground railroad; Sojourner Truth—speaker against slavery to everyone who would listen; Fredrick Douglas—fiery orator, writer, abolitionist and statesman who escaped slavery to help the cause of freedom.

Then came the Emancipation Proclamation, and the opportunity of blacks to improve themselves. Blacks such as Booker T. Washington—founder of Tuskegee Institute; George Washington Carver—"friend of the peanut"; and Paul L. Dunbar; all allowing hope to the entire race of Negro people in America.

This hope led to the establishment of such organizations as the NAACP in 1909; and in 1910 the Urban League was established, and the Negro moved from freedom toward the goal of civil rights.

There have been Negroes such as W. C. Handy, Benjamin Davis, Jr., William McCleod Du Bois, Jackie Robinson, Marian Anderson, Paul Robeson, Mary McCleod Bethune, Martin Luther King, Jr., and many, many others who have helped show the way. Is it no wonder that a week is set aside each year to remember the great contributions of the many listed here, along with those overlooked, in order to show our pride?

Afro-American History Notes for Busy Newspaper Readers: Nearly one hundred and forty-five years ago—March 16, 1827—the first Negro newspaper was published. It was called Freedom's Journal and was a joint endeavor of the Reverend Samuel E. Cornish, pastor of the African Presbyterian Church in New York, and John Russworm, a graduate of Bowdoin College and the first black college graduate in the United States.

Although Russworm later went to Liberia, Cornish continued the publication with the title Rights of All until 1830. Microfilm copies of Freedom's Journal are available in the Schomburg Collection of Negro Literature and History of the New York Public Library.

From the first editorial of Freedom's Journal of New York City: ". . . We believe that a paper devoted to the dissemination of useful knowledge among our brethren, and to their moral and religious improvement, must meet with the cordial approbations of every friend to humanity.

"From the press and the pulpit we have suffered much by being incorrectly represented. Men whom we equally love and admire have not hesitated to represent us disadvantageously, without becoming personally acquainted with the true state of things, nor discerning between virtue and vice among us.

"In the spirit of candor and humility we intend by a simple representation of facts to lay our case before the public, with a view to arrest the progress of prejudice, and to shield ourselves against the consequent evils." End of quote.

In the mailbox: There may be branches of The American Association of University Women that are all white, but this correspondent is in knowledge of black women in Texas and New Mexico who hold office in the Association and of course active members. We suggest that Miss O.N. apply for membership in her local branch and see what happens.

In response to several inquirers from bellringers, we may state that on March 4, 1901, black Congressman George H. White's term in the U.S. House ended. For the first time since Reconstruction there was not a single black member in Congress. White had prophesied that the Negro would return. The prophecy was not fulfilled until after the passage of 28 years.

A new national non-profit organization has been created to mobilize to fight against sickle cell anemia, the crippling inherited blood disease that affects primarily Blacks. It is the National Association for Sickle Cell Disease. A primary purpose of the new organization will be to educate the nation on the impact of sickle cell disease on the individual and the family, and to stress the urgent need for detection and treatment as early as possible.

Answers in Black and White for Bellringers—To Mrs. E.G. of Crosbyton: Would suggest that you place your subscription for your favorite black newspaper. We plan to cover a good number of black religious meets during the next six months, including the General Conferences of the A.M.E. and A.M.E. Zion churches to be held in May and June.

Most of the major Protestant church bodies in the nation will observe Sunday, February 13, as Race Relations Sunday. Why not make every Sunday that day?

To L.O. of Midland, Texas—It is our understanding that the Home-town News, printed in Odessa, Texas, features black and brown news of the area and distributes some five thousand copies of the paper without cost to the reader. This is made possible because major grocery and other stores receiving good black support advertise real well each week. There are two black-oriented newspapers in Dallas that use this same method with distribution mainly in black residential areas. Why not tell your merchant that you appreciate his invitation in the West Texas Times?

To T.E. of Lubbock—Yes, we believe our goal should be total integration of our people into all phases of American business life and especially the mass media. Orchids to that television station for breaking the color line. May others follow the example.

The Black Church in the News—The entire nation was shocked to learn of the untimely passing of two of the bishops of the African Methodist Episcopal Church: Bishop G.N. Collins and Bishop C.A. Gibbs. General Conference of the body meets in Dallas in June.

The 39th Quadrennial General Conference of the African Methodist Episcopal Zion Church, will be held in Mobile, Alabama, May 3-12, 1972. The Admiral Semmes Hotel is the headquarters for the Conference with Bishop William M. Smith, host bishop and Rev. Mr. M.H. Strickland, host pastor. This correspondent will cover both meets for readers of the West Texas Times.

"Sug" Johnson Moves Home

After 44 years of faithful service as an employee of the late Mr. George Benson and wife, Hallie Mae "Sug" Johnson has retired and moved to her own home at 2512 Globe Avenue which she has worked hard to maintain and finally decided to enjoy.

Sug has had serious health problems during the past few years which has made inroads on her activities. She has also resigned the office of president of the senior choir of Mount Gilead Baptist Church, a position she held for 18 years, and the success of her years is as hard to recall as it was remarkable.

After a tearful parting from Mrs. George Benson, Sug yet has a lifelong friend and the same feeling prevails with Sug for the entire Benson family.

She will rest some and start again with her church work.

Robert H. McKelvy Announces Here last Week for Lubbock School Board Post

Robert H. McKelvy, last Thursday announced his candidacy for election to the Lubbock School Board, Place 2.

McKelvy, who was appointed to the Lubbock School Board in June of 1970 to fill an unexpired term, announced that he would seek election to a full six-year term.

"Both my wife and I received our entire public school education in the Lubbock Public Schools, and having completed 19 months of service on the School Board, I believe my knowledge and experience gained through the years will enable me to serve more effectively the children of our community. I feel that the critical questions concerning our public schools involve school integration and financing of the schools. These are matters of great concern to me. I believed that the School Board needs experience and dedication in the deliberation of these matters that vitally affect the future welfare of our children. I believe that my background, knowledge, and experience qualifies me to represent our community in this important capacity."

McKelvy is a 1954 graduate of Texas Tech University. He is a member of the First Methodist Church where he serves on the Finance Commission. He is also a member of the Lubbock Rotary Club and serves on its Board of Directors, and also serves on the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce and Board of City Development. He is the current president of the Retail Furniture Association of the Southwest and is a past-president of Retail Merchants Association of Lubbock.

San Angelo News

Mrs. L.B. Smith spent last week in Houston on business. However, while there, she saw schoolmates of P.I.C. she had not seen for 59 years. Also while in Houston she had surgery on her toe.

During the past quarter (August, September, October, 1971) total participants involved in the General Services of the Tom Green County Community Action Council was 4,127.

Robert C. Wright to Seek Post of Judge, 137th District Court

Robert C. Wright, judge of the 137th District Court of Lubbock County, last week announced his candidacy for that office in the May 6 Democratic primary.

A resident of Lubbock 22 years, Wright was in private practice here for 20 years before being appointed as district judge by Gov. Preston Smith last year.

"I am always aware that it is the duty of the court to move cases as rapidly as possible, always keeping fairness and justice as our ultimate goals. This I have done and will continue to do in the future," Wright pledged in his announcement.

Wright is a graduate of Southwestern University at Georgetown, the Southern Methodist University School of Law and the National College of State Trial Judges at the University of Nevada at Reno.

A past president of the Lubbock County Bar Association, the judge also is a former chairman of the committee on admissions and the 19th District grievance committee of the State Bar of Texas. He also is a former chairman of the City-County Child Welfare Board.

Other memberships and affiliations include the judicial sections of both the American and State Bar associations, the National Conference of State Trial Judges, the board of trustees of Milam's Children's Training Center, the Lubbock Exchange Club and Oakwood United Methodist Church.

Beta Alpha Psi, a national honorary accounting fraternity at Texas Tech University, will prepare income tax returns for individuals with gross income of $6,000 or less, from 10:00 a.m. until 2:00 p.m., according to Emilo Garza, program director of the Community Action Board in Lubbock County.

The dates for the services will be on four Saturdays, February 12, 17, 26, and March 4.

"The service is offered to individuals only," states Mr. Garza. No business returns will be prepared. A charge of ten cents (10¢) per page will be made to cover copying expenses. In addition, a charge of twelve cents (12¢) will be made to cover mailing expenses.

W.R. "Bill" Shaver Announces Candidacy For District Judge Post

William R. "Bill" Shaver last week announced his candidacy in the May 6 Democratic Primary for the post of presiding judge of 140th District Court for Lubbock County.

He has been holding the office since being elected in 1970 to fill the unexpired term of Judge Robert H. Bean, who resigned.

A former assistant district attorney, county and district judge, Shaver has had almost 12 years of experience in private practice of law here. He also is a former counsel for Texas Tech University.

The Lubbock native is a member of the judicial sections of the American Bar and Texas Bar associations and the Lubbock County Bar Association. He is a graduate of Southern Methodist University and the SMU School of Law, and the National College of State Trial Judges at the University of Nevada at Reno.

He also is a member of the Lions Club, Veterans of Foreign Wars and American Legion. He is a former chairman of the official board of Oakwood United Methodist Church, where he and his family are members.

"During the past year," Shaver said in announcing his candidacy, "the combined district judges have updated the adult and juvenile probation departments with increased attention on local rehabilitation." He also pointed out that new approaches to docketing and scheduling cases are being made in an effort to reduce the backlog and time lapse before cases are actually tried.

Shaver and his wife Sunny reside at 2507 57th Street. They have three children: Shelly, 19, a sophomore at SMU; Andy, 17, a junior at Monterey High School; and Danny, 14, an 8th grader at Atkins Junior High School, where his mother has been teaching for 13 years.

Garnet Reeves, Jr. Files for School Board

Garnet Reeves, Jr., a 39-year old insurance agent, announced last Friday his candidacy for the Lubbock School Board, Place 5, to fill out two years of an unexpired term.

Reeves is a native of Lubbock and a graduate of Lubbock High and Texas Tech. He and his wife, Anne, have two children enrolled in J.T. Hutchinson Junior High School. He is on the board of the American Red Cross and the Caprock Council of Girl Scouts, and is a member of the Explorer Committee of the Boy Scouts. He is a member of the Lubbock Rotary Club and attends Westminster Presbyterian Church.

Tarbox Files for Fourth Term

Filing for his fourth term as a candidate in the May Democratic primary for nomination to Place 1 in the new 75th District is State Representative Elmer Tarbox.

In announcing last Tuesday for re-election, Rep. Tarbox made it clear that his work toward establishing new schools of law, medicine and veterinary medicine at Texas Tech University had priority.

Going further with his concern about Texas Tech, he said, "The work is not finished." "Although the Coordinating Board has approved the veterinary school, the Legislature hasn't acted to fund it," he continued.

A real-estate broker who holds interests in sporting goods—with four patents of his own—he resides at 4613 11th Street. The Tarboxes have one daughter, Mrs. Lois Johnson of Dayton, Ohio; and three sons, Mas, in the Navy at Monterey, California; Lee, a junior at Texas Christian University; and Bill, a senior in high school.

Rep. Tarbox is past president of the Texas Tech Ex-Students' Association and a former director of the Lubbock Kiwanis Club.

The second Executive Board of the St. Paul District Association was held Saturday, February 5, at the St. Paul Baptist Church of Plains, Texas. The Board proper opened at 10:30 a.m. with the Vice-Moderator, Rev. W.D. Anderson, in charge. Minutes of the 1st Executive Board were read by the Secretary, Mrs. Jane Walker and approved. The Theme for this meeting was, "Come Now For All Things Are Ready", Luke 14:17. The morning sermon was brought by the Moderator, Rev. L.V. Miles. His subject was "Prayer Meeting in Jail" from Mark 9:1-7. The Board then adjourned for lunch, which was so beautifully prepared and served in the home of Bro. and Sis. W.H. Wilson.

The Board reassembled at 2:00 p.m. and after devotion and expressions, assembled into the following groups: The Women's Department—headed by Mrs. Lilly Miles, President and Mrs. Pearl King Dixon, 1st Vice President with their Theme—"Eyes and War" II Corinthians 3:2; The Men's Group with their discussion on "Faith", Hebrews 11:9 led by Rev. I.S. Ansley, guest minister.

Retreat Termed "Beautiful Fete"

If you ask twenty-two young people of Bethel A.M.E. Church's youth department and eighteen of the First Christian Church's youth department, they would tell you that the retreat last Saturday at Buffalo Lakes at the Wesley Foundation's Lodge was a beautiful success.

A committee of eight, four from each congregation, planned several weeks for the affair, which it is hoped, will be continued with other programs in the future.

The day-long activities were planned by the youth. Activities included a panel approach to problems which face youth of Lubbock, sensitive sessions and discussions of various records which are played on radio and other means of transmission. Group singing was also part of the activities.

The committee is expected to meet in two weeks to begin planning for a program in April.

Who Arranged it, God or Abe?

by Emerson Miller

There is a text in the Bible which states, "... the most High ruleth in the kingdom of men ...", Dan. 4:17. This particular text implies that God is busy working in the affairs of all classes of men. Nothing that happens to men, be they small or great, goes unnoticed. Abraham Lincoln has been credited for the emancipation of Black people. We must not forget that God had something to do with this affair. If it had been left up to Abe Lincoln's personal feelings we would be enslaved until Jesus comes.

The following are Abraham Lincoln's own words:

"I will say then that I am not, nor ever have been in favor of bringing about in any way the social and political equality of the black and white races—that I am not nor ever have been in favor of making voters or jurors of Negroes, nor qualifying them to hold office, nor to intermarrying with white people; . . . and inasmuch as they cannot so live, while they do remain together, there must be the position of superior and inferior, and I as much as any other man am in favor of having the superior position assigned to the white race." Quoted in Charles Silberman, Crisis in Black and White.

Abe really did not care about us, but God so arranged things until we had to be set free. Let us remember to think about God as we celebrate the birthdays of famous men.

Bethel Youth Hold First Annual Musical

The youth choir of Bethel A. M.E. Church held their first annual musical last Sunday afternoon and dedicated the program to Rev. and Mrs. A.W. Wilson and Mrs. Lillian Struggs.

With a theme, "Give Me My Flowers While I Live Today," the recipients of the program were presented gifts and songs by the youth of the church.

Engraved plaques were presented to Rev. and Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Struggs received a lovely bouquet of roses. The youth showed their appreciation for their pastor and wife. Mrs. Struggs—who also received a lovely plaque telling of her contributions to Lubbock in music—was remembered for her concern for youth in music.

"In my fifty years of pastoring a church, this is the first time a group of young people have ever shown their appreciation like this," said Rev. Wilson.

Mrs. Wilson made it clear that Bethel can see the teaching of our young people were being witnessed Sunday.

Mrs. Struggs, on the other hand, who admitted she is not gifted in public speaking, expressed her sincere appreciation with "thank you." She went on to add, "In my forty years in Lubbock, I have seen my children and my children's children grow up."

The well-known Brown Sisters and Mrs. Caro were presented lovely red corsages.

Other participants in the program were Pamela Cunningham, Patricia Page and Olympia Melton. Gary Bunton served as master of ceremonies.

Mrs. Lewis, St. John Baptist Choir, Theadora Phea, The Quigleys and Rev. and Mrs. Caro also participated.

Mrs. Katie Parks read a lovely biography of the life of Mrs. Struggs. She was its author.

A reception was held immediately after the program in Fellowship Hall.

Special guests on the program were the Soul Patrol, Officers William Britt, Floyd Price and Fulton Berry. They told parents how important it is for them to be concerned about their children and that they should be aware of the drug problem in Lubbock, as well as the world.

Mount Gilead Baptist Church

"The Mount Gilead Baptist Church, the friendly church where the spirit and soul meet. The church where everybody is somebody. The church extends to the members and public a cordial and clarion call to worship with us each week."

The Mt. Gilead Baptist Church worshipped last Sunday with the Ebenzer Baptist Church of Hobbs, New Mexico, Rev. C. Wells, pastor, in a special celebration.

Let us remember to pray for our sick and shut-in.

Mount Vernon United Methodist Church

From the Pastor's Desk: Rev. M.T. Reed. Sometime back, I read a very interesting and logical item, but I am sure that some things I may think to be logical may not be so to others. The title of the item was "How to Kill A Church" by Lyle E. Schaller. He gave ten ways to kill a church. Space will not permit me to print all ten, so I will share one with you:

"Encourage a low level of expectations."

"It can't be done." "It won't work," or "We've never done anything like that before" are very helpful slogans. When you ask a person to accept a responsibility, soft-pedal the size of the job. Do not present it as a challenge requiring dedication, time and talent! If you encourage a low level of expectations your prophecy will surely be fulfilled, and very little will be undertaken that might encourage newcomers or outsiders to think your congregation as lively. High expectations tend to produce change, growth and vigor, and you don't want those to show."

It seems to me I have heard those words before someplace, have you?
