Junior Girl Scouts Complete Drama Workshop at Mae Simmons Center this Week

Twenty-nine Junior Girl Scouts took part in a Drama Workshop this past week at Mae Simmons Community Center, July 12 - 16, under the direction of G. W. Gailey, former director of the Lubbock Theater Center, and his assistant and former technical director, Phil Weyland.

Purpose of the workshop was to initiate an interest in drama by learning the basics of acting and presenting plays. Field trips were made to the Lubbock Theater Center and to the University Theater on the Tech University campus, where the group presented playlets on stage and were given tours of the entire theater. At the conclusion of the workshop, Troop Dramatics badges were presented.

Mrs. Harold Banks, who has worked closely with both the Caprock Girl Scout Council and the Lubbock Theatre Center, was instrumental in setting up the workshop and assisted Bailey during the week. Also assisting was Mrs. Buelah Winters, troop leader from Martin School and Mrs. Anna Langley of the Caprock Council

Staff. Senior Aides included Melinda Green, Tara Price and Franey Falbo.

Girls registered were: Jackie DeVaughn, Sharon Bunton, Dorceia Flewellen, Vicki Thomas, Lender Kay Mosely, Lennetta Patterson, Carla Cox, Alma Robinson, Phyllis Morgan, Judith McKnight, Irma Caraway, Marjorie Robinson, Barbara Harris, Regina Butler, Beverly Thomas, Patsy Lockhart, Cheryl Flewellen, Pauline Gibbs, Yvonda Fulson, Cynthia Logins, Dorthia Williams, Dianna Williams, Sonya Terrell, Bridgette Moses, Pam McKelvy, Greta Laster, JoAnn Cook, Cassandra Larry and Suzanne Dial. These girls are in the 4th, 5th and 6th grades and represent Martin, Ella Iles, Wheatley, Bozeman and Parkway schools.

This was the first of two workshops sponsored by the Caprock Council for Girl Scouts this summer. A Health Aid Workshop will begin on July 19th at Mae Simmons Community Center, with Mrs. George Smith and Mrs. Walter Langley, Red Cross First Aide Instructors in charge.

Friends and Associates Entertain Roy B. Davis at Sunday Afternoon Tea Here

FLOWERS FOR THE LIVING. Last Sunday afternoon at Mae Simmons Community Center, Roy B. Davis was honored by his friends in the city of Lubbock. Pictured above is Mr. Davis, his wife, and three grandchildren, Denise, Roy B., III and Louise, of Houston, who are visiting in Lubbock.

Last Sunday afternoon at Mae Simmons Community Center, the stage was set for Roy B. Davis and his family. East Lubbock and South Plains residents were present to pay their respects to a man who has contributed a great deal to the community in which he lives.

The tea, which had a theme of "Flowers for the Living", had a short program in which Dr. F. L. Lovings served as master of ceremonies. "Mr. Davis has done something constructive for the black community as well as the South Plains," he told the audience of well wishers, both black and white, who were present.

Mrs. Hazel S. Taylor of Lubbock has become the first recipient at Texas Tech University of a Ford Foundation Advanced Study Fellowship for Black Americans.

With that financial support, Mrs. Taylor, who has been in the Lubbock public school system in several capacities since 1955, is expected to receive her doctorate in education with a major in elementary education and guidance and counseling next year.

During the last year she has served as special education counselor in eight Lubbock schools.

The stipend of $4,233 will support her studies through the summer term and the 1971-72 academic year at Texas Tech, pay tuition and fees and provide a book and supplies allowance.

Mrs. Taylor was chosen for her dissertation and analysis of the effects of a daily planned listening program on reading increments of third grade children.

She has already done much of her work toward a doctor of education degree at Texas Tech, having received her master's from the university in 1964 and her bachelor of science degree from Prairie View (Texas) College in 1946 at the age of 18.

In addition to teaching and doing graduate work at Tech, the busy educator handles the roles of wife and mother, Sunday School secretary, and civic and welfare worker.

Her husband, Marshall R. Taylor, is an electrical contractor and their 21-year-old son, Marshall, is a senior accounting major in Texas Tech's College of Business Administration. They live at 2714 Teak.

Mrs. Taylor has been Sunday School secretary at St. Luke Baptist Church 15 years and she sings in the church's senior choir.

She was one of two women who spearheaded the effort through the Lubbock Young Women's Christian Association to establish the "Project New Directions" for pregnant teenagers.

Earnest Butler, coordinator for the affair, told the West Texas Times he was well pleased with the outcome of the program which showed a man of Davis' stature how much they appreciated what he had done.

E. C. Struggs, retired principal of Dunbar High School, told the group many kind things about the honoree. He also expressed the wish that more people could have been able to attend this type of program.

A plaque from the black community was presented to Mr. Davis by Reverend A. L. Davis, pastor of the Greater Saint Luke Baptist Church. Prior to making the special presentation, he, too, as well as Prof. Struggs, told of experiences he and Davis had during their acquaintance.

Rev. A. W. Wilson, pastor of Bethel A.M.E. Church, gave the benediction for the program and Rev. Davis gave invocation.

City Woman Killed In Shooting Sunday

Murder charges were filed against Grover Douglas of Dalhart, Texas, Monday in connection with the murder of a twenty-year-old Lubbock woman, Dinah Shirley Fisher Douglas, who was shot to death shortly after noon last Sunday. Her mother, Mrs. Melvia Hawkins, was also wounded during the incident which happened in an apartment complex in East Lubbock. The 27-year-old Douglas remains in county jail in lieu of $20,000 bond.

The deceased woman was found lying in the floor of the kitchen of the apartment complex at 512 18th Street, Apartment B, by her mother, who resides there.

According to Mrs. Hawkins, the man stood nearby. She said the suspect shot her in the left hand before escaping.

At this report, services were pending at South Plains Funeral Home.

Gail Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Smith, of 2633 East Baylor, left via plane Monday for Houston, Texas, where she plans to have a wonderful time.

She accompanied Miss Jean Demerson, former Dunbar High School student and Texas Tech University graduate, who is residing in Houston.

Gail will spend about two weeks visiting with Miss Demerson and will later be joined by her mother and three brothers, Victor, Jerry and Kirk, who will drive down to Houston and spend a week with Mrs. Smith's brother in the metropolitan city and also visit in Galveston.

What's Wrong, Brothers and Sisters? The CGC Needs Your Participation!

The specially appointed Citizens Grievance Commission, which is over a month old, needs the support of all citizens. This is especially true in the black community, for it was born out of the efforts of the newly organized Black Movement Council.

When speaking of support, the reference is to those of us who've been grieving in the barber and beauty shops, on the bus enroute to work, at the Saturday night dance, under a shade tree at Mae Simmons Park, about the way you feel you have been treated. If you are not going to take "your bit" to the CGC, you must be just running your mouth just to hear yourself talk.

Your support is also needed at the Tuesday evening meetings. Not only by bringing forward any grievances you may have, but your presence at the weekly sessions will be a big lift to those brothers and sisters who are representing the black community. And some of our major complainers in the community might learn a thing or two about both sides of the questions if they attended.

This editor has not been sold on the idea of the "open session" type of meetings where the press is at liberty to use information as it sees fit to inform the citizens of what the commission is doing. True, the press must report the truth, regardless of what media, but too much slanting of the reports will hurt or destroy the effectiveness of the commission's efforts.

Due to the fact that the commission was appointed by the city government, it cannot be a closed session, under the state law, and the commission should abide by such statute.

However, since this is the law, then we as black people, should come out in great numbers and do our "thing", by giving the commission our total support. There have been too many of us in the past who have claimed we have legitimate complaints, and in doing so have helped to put false ideas into each other's heads. Now is the time, if these past complaints had good grounds, to show that what you were saying was for real.

Virgil Johnson, the articulate chairman of the eleven man, one woman commission, has spoken loud and clear by saying, "we will follow the law or guidelines and do what is right by law for all people who come before the commission." We should all appreciate this type of attitude on the part of one of our brothers.

In looking back through several issues of the paper, during the year of 1970, I've found several stories and even direct quotes from some of our black citizens in regard to alleged police brutality. Some of the people have said that they were "mistreated" and some have said they've witnessed brothers and sisters being "mistreated." Since we were contacted by these brothers and sisters, we keep records in our files of these particular situations.

What's disturbing, at this time, is why none of these people have appeared before the commission to tell their story. There has been exposure on the part of this paper to report the story we found, why can't these people step forward and tell their story to the present commission?

We must realize, at the same time, that all policemen are not bad—and for that matter, not even a small number are bad. Many of the policemen in this town are quite concerned about the welfare of all citizens. But, at this time, we must give our support to the vehicle we have at hand which can bring out some of the gripes this media has heard from time to time. The commission must be in a position to make a positive recommendation to the City Council. Time is running out, brothers and sisters.

The CGC is no court of law, nor is it a grand jury. It's not an action group, nor can it wave a magic wand and relieve all the ills in the black community. But it can, without any doubt, document the facts. This is what's important.

The commission needs our input, without any exaggerations. Tell it like it really is, and come out in great numbers. All ministers should encourage their congregations as well as congregations telling their ministers, to support such an effort. All civic and social organizations should make it known as to what's going on in regard to the commission.

The time is now, and the opportunity is here for the many people in this community to air their complaints about what they feel rather than have the people of the community continue to listen to unfounded, and untrue complaints concerning alleged police "mis-treatment" and "brutality."

We Can Do Much Better!

There should have been much more representation of the ministerial body during the special tea held last Sunday afternoon at Mae Simmons Community Center for Roy B. Davis. In looking at the crowd, there was only two ministers present, Rev. A.L. Davis and Rev. A.W. Wilson. Both had representation from their churches, Greater St. Luke Baptist and Bethel A.M.E.

It's a known fact that the honoree had done something for the majority of the black churches, if not all of them, in the past. He gave generously of his money, turkeys and time, to the black churches of the community. He has also been a great contributor to the Eastern Little League.

Perhaps the retired educator, E.C. Struggs, explained it best when he said, "People always come out when they want something, but never when they are not looking for something." This could very well explain why so many ministers declined to come out and express their personal "Thank You" to Mr. Davis last Sunday.

Our thanks to all who did come out. Right on!

We Must Realize Our Potential!

Education is an important element in the struggle for human rights. Not necessarily the formal educational approach, but especially the approach to who we are, what we can do, what we must do to elevate ourselves to realize our potential if we are to use it right. Education is a means to help our children and our people rediscover their identity and thereby increase their self-respect. Education is our pass port to the future, for tomorrow belongs to the people who prepare for it today.

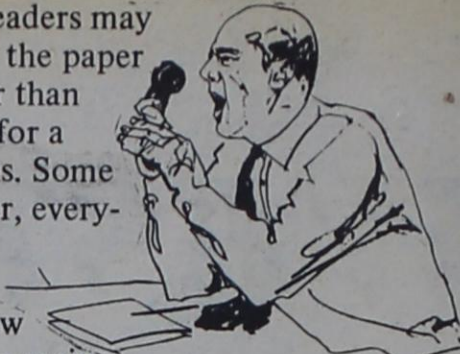

We must—and we are—establish schools all over the country to train our people to become scientists and mathematicians. We all realize the need for adult education and for job retraining programs that will emphasize a changing society in which automation plays a key role.

We intend to use the tools of education to help raise our people to an unprecedented level of excellence and self-respect through their own efforts. One of these programs is O.I.C.

We must realize that our communities must be the sources of their own strength, politically, economically, intellectually and culturally, in the struggle for human rights and dignity.

From The Business Desk

Many of our readers may have noticed that the paper was a little earlier than usual this week—for a number of reasons. Some time each summer, everyone decides that the time has come to take a few days off, and then again, there are a few people who still wish to get some work done—as is the case this week with us. Eddie, you know him, his column appears here each week on page two, had to take a few days off to make a quick trip to Dallas for O.I.C. T.J., everyone who is anyone knows T.J., was all wrapped up this week with school business at Tech; and me, well, the loyal readers know about me, I could hear the fish calling—so we worked real hard last week, and took off a day early this week—sort of what most people refer to as a "summer vacation."

At any rate, it gives us the opportunity of letting our readers know about something very special, a little sooner than usual. Today, Thursday, is a very special day for the merchants in down-town Lubbock, and they are celebrating with a "Side-walk Sale" from 9:00 a.m. until sometime later this evening. You can check out some of their specials on the pages of this issue, and if you find something you would like, go down and let them talk you into buying it. Seriously, there are some good things on sale, at some very good prices, and if you find yourself in need, make an effort to check some of the down-town merchants specials sometime during the day—and while you are at it, tell someone on hand you saw their ad in the West Texas Times—it'll help.

Earlier in this column I mentioned that some need to take time off, and some like to work—well that was the case around here. We all like the idea of taking some time off, and we all have to work which only means, T.J., Eddie and I all worked last week putting this paper together, then we were able to take this week off early. We worked like you wouldn't believe—for a couple of weeks—trying to put the ads from the downtown merchants together that wanted to have some participation from the black community. You can find the ones who really need and desire your business in this week's issue of the paper, the rest had numerous and sundry excuses—which I won't go into.

What I will go into is this—the merchants that are advertising in this week's issue of the paper really want to do business with the black community—and the black community should make an effort to do business with them. Granted, there is not much representation in the eight pages of this issue, but there is all the representation we could muster, and this is the business community you should support. Trade with the merchants who support your media—and watch your media grow!

The community must reinforce its moral responsibility to rid itself of the effects of years of exploitation, neglect, and apathy, and wage an unrelenting struggle against ignorance and poverty.

The black people must be responsible for regaining our people's lives who have lost their place in society. The people of the black community must be prepared to help each other in all ways possible.

We must set up a guardian system that will help our youth who get into trouble and also provide constructive activities for our children. We must set a good example for our children and we must teach them to always be ready to accept the responsibilities that are necessary for building good communities and nations. We must teach them that their greatest responsibilities are to themselves, to their families and to their communities.

Black people must unite and work together. We must take pride in the black community, for it is our home and the base of our power.

What we do in regaining our self-respect, manhood, and dignity, and freedom, helps all people everywhere who are fighting against oppression.

To reach our potential we must begin in the community, and base our ideas and power on community participation. Black people will be free to create only when they can feel free to depend upon the black community. We must wake up and realize our potential and take hold of it and forge the future with the past.

Brothers and sisters, we can make it and we will as soon as we realize our potential!

With Bob Tieuel, Jr.

The Black Country Editor: Roscoe Dunjee, founder of The Black Dispatch of Oklahoma City has recently been selected to the Oklahoma Journalism Hall of Fame at Central State University. Dunjee's citation reads: "Roscoe Dunjee (1883-1965), born the son of a slave in Harper's Ferry, West Virginia, was the founder and for 40 years (1915-55) the editor and publisher of the first Negro newspaper in Oklahoma. With courageous editorials he crusaded for civil rights before it was fashionable—or even safe—to do so. He also founded various civil rights groups, earning a reputation as the father of the black civil rights struggle in Oklahoma."

Recent great quotes: "Ministers should be out front in civil rights movements. Most black preachers are paid by black folks and he is free to lend a hand in the struggle to overcome. Most of all, as black people, we must quit fighting one another." Mrs. Clara Luper, executive editor of Black Voices, speaking before the United Black Coalition in Lubbock recently.

Rev. Donald L. Jackson, a black minister who through his foundation entered into a contract to purchase radio station KKAL in Denver City, Texas, may be forced to give up the contract owing to an apparent boycott on the part of local business men and leaders of the town. He told this column that he has asked for a federal investigation and will sue in behalf of his civil rights. He said that equipment had been removed and his station vandalized. Jackson supported George Wallace for president in 1968.

Contrary to what many people think, the press, including radio and television, can play a key role in bringing the different segments of society together, believes Roy M. Fisher, newly appointed dean of the University of Missouri's School of Journalism. "Newspapers can bring about increased understanding by exposing one man's ideas to another's," he concludes.

Carlsbad, New Mexico is always a most interesting city and place to visit, especially in the summer time. Of course the world's famous Carlsbad Caverns and beautiful beach playgrounds and some fishing in the area. We enjoyed our short visit recently and plan an early return.

We met an old friend, the Rev. Mr. W. H. Bland, pastor of Mt. Olive Baptist Church, and full time deputy sheriff of Eddy County while there.

Levelland Boxer Will Be Featured in Preliminary Bout at Ali-Ellis Match in Houston

Jim Elder, 24-year-old, 6-2 1/2 former Inter-Service and amateur champion from Levelland, Texas, and Manuel Ramos, the 28, 6-3 Mexico heavyweight king, will fight in a special 10-round bout that will open the closed circuit television show for the Muhammad Ali-Jimmy Ellis bout in the Astrodome Monday, July 26.

The Elder-Ramos fight, which figures to be a show-stealing brawl, will begin at 8:30 p.m. Houston time. The 12-round Ali-Ellis bout is scheduled to begin at 9:45 p.m. Between bouts there will be top-flight entertainment and the Ali-Ellis fashion parade, with prizes being awarded to the outstanding dressers.

The Elder-Ramos fight is a matchmaker's dream. The styles of both can only produce a free-swinging showdown. They are both better-than-par punchers.

Elder, a veteran of four years in the Navy, was the 1969 All-Navy and Inter-Service heavyweight champion. The blond giant, an All-State tackle with Levelland High School, won 50 amateur fights before turning professional in 1970. He tried to maneuver his way into a fight with George Foreman in the amateurs, with little success, and his objective now is to beat Ramos and challenge Foreman. Elder has won 12 of 14 fights, with only one loss, one draw, and has kayoed 10. He reversed his loss to Charley Harris earlier this year.

Ramos, known as Pulgarcito by his Mexican fandom, was once hailed as a potential world champion. The carefree 210-pounder is of Spanish blood and part Yaqui Indian.

Ramos' victory over Ernie Terrell is one of the highlights of his career. In his last fight, he upset Jack Bodell, of England, in a 10-round fight. He won 27 of 44 fights, with 14 setbacks, and three draws. He has kayoed 21 opponents.
