An Italian painter, Michelangelo, has gone down in histroy as one of the greatest artist we have ever known, but right here in our city there is another young man who probably has the same creativeness and orginality as that old master.

Mr. David Carothers,

The first annual meeting of the Lubbock Alumnae Chapter of Delta

Sigma Theta Sorority was held September 6, in the beautiful home of Soror

Mildred Lusk. Ready to carry out the theme, "Intelligence is the Torch

of Wisdom", approxi-

Lubbock Peace Corps Worker In Harlem

Miss Lydia Jackson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Jackson of 1326 East 15th Street, was one of the members of the Domestic Peace Corps who came from all over the United States to help tackle the problems of the people of Harlem.

Yes, she traveled more than a thousand miles which laid between the tranquility of Lubbock and the ear shattering roar of New York city. Miss Jackson went this far for the privilege of working in Harlem with Domestic Peace Corps of the Associated Community Teams, Inc.

She was one of the sixty Associated Community Team Corpsmen who have converged on the city from sixteen different states to bring help to the helpless in a unique program of program of providing supportive service to the projects of agencies concerned with Harlem's youth. For long hours at exhausting jobs, she received her room and board, two dollars a day pocket money, and seventy five dollars a month held in escrow until her one-year enlistment was up.

The financial reward was not the goal for Miss Jackson-who is a junior at Texas Tech College. With a major in sociology, she was motivated by a sincere desire to serve and to learn by serving. "Working with ACT is helping us to develop our own goals and find ourselves", she says.

Like some of the other corpsmen, she was assigned to remedial te-

McVEA TO BE'SEEN ...

The people of West Texas will get a chance to witness one of footballs most exciting young stars of all times, Warren Mc Vea, when his name appears in the score book of many college campuses in the Southwest Conference.

McVea, the San Antonio schoolboy star and first Negro to play in the North-South school boy classic, will attend the University of Houston this fall He will be quite an access to this vear's freshman team.

In the North-South game, the Negro halfback, who was abig factor in luring the crowd of 40,000 people is not is not the complete ball player that Gallamo, Hagle, and Baer are and it must be rated as a south mistake to have him in the lineup at all on defense..and as for blocking..well, just forget it. But when it comes to running, that is something else, he is a black ghost.

For two periods during the North-South game, the fans kept waiting in vain for McVea to do some of the things he was supposed to do. He entered the second part of the third period with a deficit in rushing, and the fans were beginning to cheer the determined North defense every time it smeared him. Then he broke loose around end for twenty yards, caught a pass to set up a touchdown and finally ran back a kickoff to the North four yerd line, a seventytwo yard jaunt that was a beauty of timing, before he was collared by one of the North. Taht gave the crowd a sight of McVea at his best.

With the overall look at the McVea from the Alamo City, the exceptional talent for this game assures that the Southwest Conference will remain at the football peak for a few more ye-

"DO WE CARE LESS?"

It appears as though we have no top ten Negro leaders in the Hub City. Several weeks ago the question was asked by The Manhattan Heights Times, but it has gone unanswered. Could it be possibel that we have no leaders or could it be "we could care less?" Why don't you express your opinion about this matter?
