

'Around the Hub City'

Many of you will be traveling out of the city for the week-end visiting with relatives and friends throughout the state of Texas.

Please be very careful going to and from your destination for the highways will be as busy as ever during this short holiday season.

It not only matters if you are traveling out of the city, but it is just as important for you to be careful driving "Around The Hub City."

During this Easter season there will be many activities occurring "Around The Hub City". The little tots will be expecting the Easter bunny to bring them eggs and they will be participating in many programs.

"AROUND THE HUB CITY" would like to wish each of you a "Happy Easter".

Mrs. J.R. Sedberry is home from Methodist Hospital where she has been a patient for a few days.

Mrs. Estella McClintock of Slaton, Texas is a patient at West Texas Hospital. She is the mother of Mrs. L.M. Knowles.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas "Toot" Sedberry returned last week from Kentucky where they visited Mrs. Sedberry's parents and other relatives. Her father was ill and in the hospital upon their arrival.

Mrs. Comora Mingo Banks of Midland, Texas and her neice were here last Sunday on business.

Thirty-one newcomer families to Lubbock last week swelled the list of new families this year to 777, maintaining a lead over comparable period in 1965 when 736 families were reported.

Mr. Alonzo Boston and family would like to express their sincere thanks and grateful appreciation to each one who was so nice to him and family during the recent tragedy in their family. I cannot express in words what your deeds of kindness and love meant to me and family. Please continue to pray for us, and may God ever bless each of you.

Thank you very much.

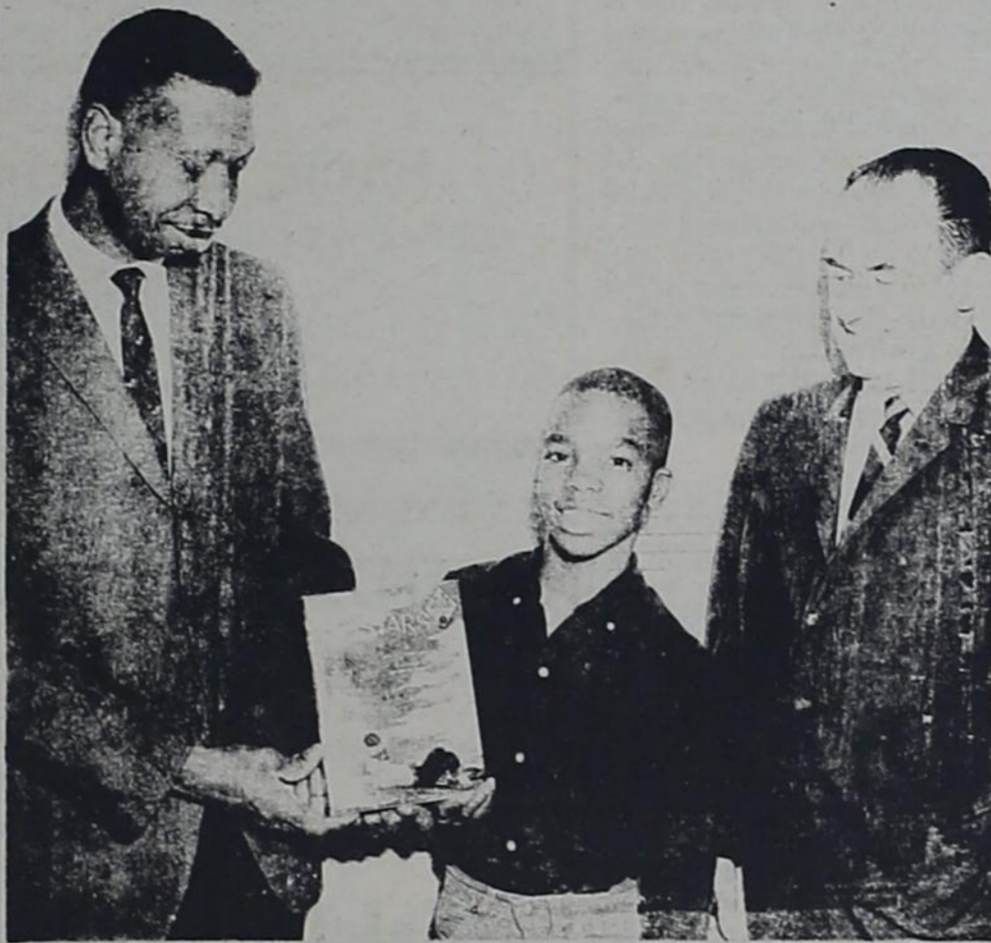

"Around the Hub City" was informed that Caprock Lodge is having some knocked 'out' matinees...

The school kids on the South Plains as well as others throughout the state are happy to see today come because of the short Easter holiday.

Tomorrow is "Good Friday" and they tell "Around the Hub City" that it is a good day to plant flowers and crops.

Negro Gridders Signed at SMU

Dallas---Southern Methodist University, which pioneered in breaking the color line in South-west Conference athletics, announced last Saturday it had signed three Negro football players to scholarships.

Two of them--linebacker Lee McElroy and fullback Rufus Cormier--come from the same high school, Beaumont Herbert High--as the Mustangs' current Negro freshman, Jerry Levias. The other was Walter Haynes, a 200-pound back from Southern University High in Baton Rouge, La.

McElroy, 6-3 and 230 pounds, and Cormier, 5-10, 220 pounds, and a 10-flat man in track, are both in the top 10 per cent of their classes scholastically at Herbert.

Haynes was a fullback in high school, but was recruited as a halfback and linebacker, SMU

News From WEST TEXAS MUSEUM

There's so much to do and so much to see at the West Texas Museum!

A Diamond Jubilee Exhibition, commemorating Lubbock's 75th anniversary, is on display in the Museum's art gallery, and is open free to the public.

The Planetarium attracts hundreds of interested persons each Sunday afternoon, and just recently a local schoolboy became the 55,000th visitor to the Planetarium since it opened.

Admission is 50¢ for adults and 25¢ for students to Planetarium demonstrations, held each Sunday at 3 p.m. "In the Beginning" is the program scheduled for April 3 through May 1, and "Comet Capers" will be May 8-29.

An interesting Sunday outing for the family is a trip to the Museum and Planetarium. Although everyone is welcome to browse through the Museum, only children of school age and older are encouraged to attend the Planetarium demonstrations, along with interested adults. Pre-schoolers do not understand the program, and so are not allowed to attend.

Other interesting sights at the Museum are: a replica of an early day half-dugout, which is the sod home the early settlers used when they first came to the South Plains area, a Victorian living room, bedroom and kitchen, and a collection of branding irons and guns.

An early day General Mercantile store brings back the past, and the Life on the Plains Gallery traces the area for some 12,000 years. The Hall of Earth and Man tells the story of creation and the development of man through the centuries.

Sundays the Museum is open from 2-5 p.m., with plenty of free parking in the area. On other days it is open from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. The Museum is located on the circle west of the Broadway entrance to the Texas Tech campus.

The fourth Saturday, the members of the club met in the home of Mrs. Bennie Whitfield. Those members present at this meeting were Mmes. Scott, Simms, Jordan, Mitchell, Lane, Guyton, Williams, Thigpen, and Daniels.

The members were glad to have Mrs. Mary Lane become a member of the organization.

North Carolina College Professor to Speak at H-T

Dr. Darwin Turner, chairman of the English Department of North Carolina A. & T. College, Greensboro, N.C., was the assembly speaker on Monday, April 4 at 10:00 a.m. in the Mary E. Branch Auditorium on the Huston-Tillotson College campus.

He spoke on the subject: "American Negro Writers of the 20th Century."

Dr. Turner also visited the campus for two days. Having been on the staff of the Institute for English teachers held at Indiana University last summer, he also served as a consultant to the English staff, three of whom attended the institute.

Lecture Series to Honor Dr. Turner, Authority on African, American History

Chicago---(UPI)--Roosevelt university will begin a series of lectures April 18 in Ganz Hall, entitled "Africans and Afro-Americans: Cultural Cross Currents," to honor Dr. Lorenzo D. Turner, for his many years of outstanding scholarship and teaching in the field of African and Afro-American linguistics at the university.

George Shepperson, professor, Commonwealth and American History, University of Edinburgh and author of an outstanding work on early Wyasaland (now Malawi) history, "Independent Africa," will open the Lorenzo D. Turner Lecture series, with a paper on "Afro-American Influences in Africa."

Chief S.O. Adebayo, Nigerian ambassador to the United Nations, commissioner-general for Nigerian Economic Affairs and co-author of the 1962 report on the "Nigerianization" of his civil service, will deliver a paper on "An African Looks at the Afro-American," on April 25.

"The Negro American's Interest in Africa: A Historical Overview," will be the topic of Dr. John Hope Franklin, professor of history, University of Chicago and author of "From Slavery to Freedom: A History of American Negroes," which supplanted all previous syntheses of Negro history in the United States, when he speaks on May 2.

Closing the lecture series will be Dr. St. Clair Drake, professor of sociology, Roosevelt university and co-author of "Black Metropolis." His paper, to be delivered May 9, will discuss the "Afro-American Dialogue."

Dr. Turner, a native of Elizabeth City, N.C., received his bachelor's cum laude from Howard university, 1914; his master's from Harvard university, 1917; and his doctorate from the University of Chicago, 1926.

Since receiving his doctorate, he has studied linguistics at the College of the City of New York and Brown university, Providence, R.I. He spent a year studying linguistics and British West African languages at the University of London, 1936-37, and served as research fellow in linguistics at Yale university during 1938-39.

Before joining Roosevelt's faculty, in 1945, Dr. Turner was professor of English and head of the department of English, Howard university, from 1917-28; and at Fisk university, 1929-46. In 1951, he was visiting lecturer, department of English, University College of Ibadan, Nigeria.

He has done extensive studies and research in American Negro dialects and African languages under Rockefeller Foundation grants and under the auspices of the Rosenwald Fund and the American Council of Learned Societies.

Coach Hayden Fry said. His father, the Rev. L.L. Haynes, Jr., formerly attended Perkins School of Theology at SMU and currently is pastor of Westly Methodist Church at Baton Rouge.

THE HISTORY OF EASTER

The greatest festival of the Christian church commemorates the Resurrection of Jesus Christ. It is a movable feast; that is, it is not always held on the same date. The church council of Nicaea decided that Easter should be celebrated on the first Sunday after the first full moon on or after the vernal equinox (March 21). Easter can come as early as March 22 or as late as April 25.

In many churches, Easter is preceded by a season of prayer and fasting called Lent. This is observed in memory of the 40 days' fast of Christ in the desert. In the Western church the Lenten season is from Ash Wednesday until the noon of Holy Saturday--the day before Easter. These six weeks and four days include 40 fasting days, since Sundays are not fast days. In the Eastern churches, Lent extends over eight weeks, and they do not observe Saturdays as fast days.

Ash Wednesdays get its name from the practice, mainly in the Roman Catholic church, of putting ashes on the foreheads of the faithful. This is to remind them that "man is but dust" and that he must do penance. The second Sunday, before Easter is Passion Sunday. The week following is now usually meant the week before Easter. Palm Sunday, one week before Easter, celebrates the triumphant entry of Christ into Jerusalem. Holy Week begins on this day. Holy Thursday or Maunday Thursday, is in memory of the Last Supper of Christ with his disciples. Good Friday, tomorrow, commemorates the Crucifixion.

Mail to Servicemen Encouraging

Mail from home is the major morale builder for servicemen, military spokesmen agree. Not only will such military spokesmen agree, but I am sure that any serviceman who has had an opportunity of serving abroad will agree. As one serviceman has put it: mail is more important than money when you are far away from home.

And along with the packages and letters, families now are sending increasing numbers of pocket-sized notebooks overseas. Servicemen find them particularly useful for notes taken during military training lectures, for jotting down items to be remembered when writing home, for recording exposures and other data if the serviceman is a camera fan, and for keeping various personal reminders and records.

At home, tablets have become increasingly useful to families with loved ones in the Armed Forces. In them are noted reminders of those daily interesting happenings they can write about in their letters. Those notes are then used as outlines for informative, cheerful letters that help to keep spirits from drooping.

The tablets are also useful for keeping list of items to be sent from home, records of gifts mailed, military postal addresses and other important data.

MUST COMPLETE FORMS PROPERLY

Time was when the dumping into the hopper of four million sets of names and claims, facts and figures, dope and date--such as the additional workload at the Veterans Administration resulting from enactment of the new GI Bill--would be like tossing a giant-size monkey wrench in the gears with a work-jam of the most sizeable proportions.

But not so today, thanks to the Veterans Administration's smoothing Department of Data Management, the section responsible for operating a myriad of electronic computers and automatic data processing machinery and operating them at a fraction of the cost per veteran.

The addition of four million new veterans plus the 600,000 a year who will leave the armed forces and are eligible under the new law appears to be a lot to handle.

But compare it with the 49 million days of hospital care for veterans last year; 4.8 million visits to VA outpatient clinics; $4 billion paid to veterans and dependents for compensation and pension and it becomes just another work-a-day job for the Department of Data Management.

Use of the electronic gear has resulted in the VA's being able to pay insurance dividends in five days when the same payments used to take one year "done by hand." Instead of spending 27 cents to process each dividend, the VA has lowered the cost to two for a penny.

This task is the big job of the VA's Department of Data Management which was organized on February 1, 1963, merging earlier automatic data processing programs. The former 103 data processing stations have been reduced to five central stations and 14 branches.

Savings in equipment rental alone have amounted to $1.2 million a year. Additional savings of $2.9 million each year are effected by buying instead of renting VA computers.

The speedy processing of reports from schools and colleges of attendance figures, etc., will enable veterans to receive their allotments as fast as possible.

One thing that can really slow up production is the poor condition of filled-in forms and cards returned by veterans. A folded or mutilated form card will not be digested by the computer.

Delays caused by mutilated forms and cards bring real hardship to veterans of dependents needing the VA check for tuition, books, and lodging or food.

Chaplain Is Navy's Highest Negro Officer

Washington--(NPI)--The distinction of being the highest ranking Negro officer in the U.S. Navy recently was accorded Thomas D. Parham, Jr., chaplain, when he was promoted to captain.

A native of Newport News, Va., Capt. Parham is stationed at Quonset Point, R.I., naval air station.

LET DOWN

Carletonville, South Africa--(NPI)--The world's richest gold mining area is a "sinkhole" death trap for its 20,000 inhabitants. Since December 12, 1962, 29 Africans have died by being swallowed up in one of the huge chasms in the earth. The cave-ins are principally caused by the removal of underground water from subterranean areas in the search for gold ore. Subsequent water seeping through the dolomite rock, cause the rock arches to weaken and the ceiling of the caverns to give way, bringing the surface down with it.

SHOOK UP

Kampala, Uganda--(NPI)--Quakes of varying intensity shook up people on two continents recently--in Asia's north China sector and in Africa's western Uganda. China had four quakes, one registering 8.3 on the Richter scale (making it one of the most powerful recorded in recent history) which makes a total of six in the area around Singtai this month. Of lesser intensity were two shocks in western Uganda which dumped rocks on the only access road from Bwamba county to the country's capital.

CLERGYMAN BOWS TO PUBLIC

Moulton Chapel, England---(NPI)---Public opinion demanded it and Anglican clergyman, the Rev. Reginald Clifford Thompson, bowed to its collective wish. The minister has withdrawn from his job as referee of a women's wrestling match, which had been termed "disgusting and degrading" by women's organizations.

The 62-year-old clergyman said he did not want to embarrass church authorities, but said he "personally sees no harm in a women's wrestling match."

WHO GOT THE MESSAGE?

Experts delving deep into the controversial "who's benefitting from what" under the anti-poverty program agree that millions of the poor are getting some kind of help, but there are too many who are not "getting the poverty-aid message."

Sure, the program has been widely publicized via all media geared to getting across the program and its benefits. But, there are many who still remain untouched--who haven't heard what aid is available, or that the program encompasses them.

A survey, conducted last fall by the Office of Economic Opportunity, showed that 51 per cent of 434 families polled said they had not heard about a government anti-poverty program, while at the inner core of the area, the total "know nothing" answers reached 60 per cent.

In view of these and other similar findings carried out for the same purpose, OES currently, together with the Social Security administration, is setting out systematically to try to find the "know nothing" about aid programs for the impoverished. Ironically, one of the barriers, it has been found, is that some people do not want to be labeled poor.

BUTTER THE KEY

For years now, canned vegetables have been standing on shelves watching their frozen neighbors piling into shopping carts by the armloads. But now, the canned variety is trying to make a comeback.

The old-fashioned cans will soon contain some new PIZZAZZ--in the form of butter. Will buttered vegetables in an old can be as happy and successful as they seem to be in a modern plastic bag?

There's one company that is willing to wager its reputation on it. It's bringing out a line of canned corn, peas and lima beans in butter. The canned vegetables are much cheaper, so if they taste as good, the frozen ones will have some new old competition. What you want to wager?

DRESSY ACCESSORY

There's a pretty new accessory on the market these days, and you know when it bears the Kimberly-Clark corporation brand, it's been tried and found true. The new designer line paper towels are fashioned with a border design in a two-color decorative scroll on white--pretty enough for place mats, television tray covers, hand towels, babies' bibs and guest towels.

At the same time, they are a welcome addition for general kitchen use and handy for travel (and picnics, when that time arrives). Like solid color paper towels, the designer line towels are double-layer with a rough side for scrubbing and scouring and a smooth side for dusting and polishing. They have the same high absorbency and ease of use qualities.

Mechanics and Farmers bank in Raleigh and Charlotte were announced by bank president, John H. Wheeler, last week.

John W. Winters, serving his third term on the Raleigh City council, has been named to the Raleigh board.

Representing Charlotte are Lem Long, Jr., owner-president, Long's Mortuary Service, Inc., and secretary-treasurer, Long's Mutual Bural association, and Malachi L. Greene.

Greene is owner-operator, Greene Brothers Flooring company operating in Virginia, Georgia, North Carolina and South Carolina.

Crawford Martin, Candidate for Attorney General, Here Next Week

Crawford Martin, a candidate Attorney General of Texas, will be in Lubbock, Texas on Tuesday, April 12th.

Every decade or so there appears a public official so effective and dedicated that his qualifications for higher office are unquestioned.

Such a man is Crawford Martin of Hillsboro.

Martin served as Governor Connally's Secretary of State for 3 years and has a record of public service dating back two decades to his native Hillsboro.

On January 17, Martin launched a new campaign--and that being candidate for Attorney General.

Martin believed during his Senate tenure--as he does today--that sound, progressive government can be obtained with prudence and efficiency.

During his 14 years in the Senate, he was the author of such major legislation as:

Medical aid for recipients of old age assistance through a State contract with Blue Cross of Texas.

The State's first act requiring registration of lobbyists.

Insurance reform laws to end Texas insurance scandals.

The State's first strict securities regulation, creating the Securities Commission and protecting the public from worthless promotions.

First paid adult parole and probation officers in Texas.

Improved treatment for the mentally ill.

THE HISTORY OF EASTER

The greatest festival of the Christian church commemorates the Resurrection of Jesus Christ. It is a movable feast; that is, it is not always held on the same date. The church council of Nicaea decided that Easter should be celebrated on the first Sunday after the first full moon on or after the vernal equinox (March 21). Easter can come as early as March 22 or as late as April 25.

In many churches, Easter is preceded by a season of prayer and fasting called Lent. This observed in memory of the 40 days' fast of Christ in the desert. In the Western church the Lenten season is from Ash Wednesday until the noon of Holy Saturday--the day before Easter. These six weeks and four days include 40 fasting days, since Sundays are not fast days. In the Eastern churches, Lent extends over eight weeks, and they do not observe Saturdays as fast days.

Ash Wednesdays get its name from the practice, mainly in the Roman Catholic church, of putting ashes on the foreheads of the faithful. This is to remind them that "man is but dust" and that he must do penance. The second Sunday, before Easter is Passion Sunday. The week following is now usually meant the week before Easter. Palm Sunday, one week before Easter, celebrates the triumphant entry of Christ into Jerusalem. Holy Week begins on this day. Holy Thursday or Maundy Thursday, is in memory of the Last Supper of Christ with his disciples. Good Friday, tomorrow, commemorates the Crucifixion.

Mail to Servicemen Encouraging

Mail from home is the major morale builder for servicemen, military spokesmen agree. Not only will such military spokesmen agree, but I am sure that any serviceman who has had an opportunity of serving abroad will agree. As one serviceman has put it: mail is more important than money when you are far away from home.

And along with the packages and letters, families now are sending increasing numbers of pocket-sized notebooks overseas. Servicemen find them particularly useful for notes taken during military training lectures, for jotting down items to be remembered when writing home, for recording exposure and other data if the serviceman is a camera fan, and for keeping various personal reminders and records.

At home, tablets have become increasingly useful to families with loved ones in the Armed Forces. In them are noted reminders of those daily interesting happenings they can write about in their letters. Those notes are then used as outlines for informative, cheerful letters that help to keep spirits from drooping.

The tablets are also useful for keeping list of items to be sent from home, records of gifts mailed, military postal addresses and other important data.

MUST COMPLETE FORMS PROPERLY

Time was when the dumping into the hopper of four million sets of names and claims, facts and figures, date and date--such as the additional workload at the Veterans Administration resulting from enactment of the new GI Bill--would be like tossing a giant-size monkey wrench in the gears with a work-jam of the most sizeable proportions.

But not so today, thanks to the Veterans Administration's smooth-running Department of Data Management, the section responsible for operating a myriad of electronic computers and automatic data processing machinery and operating them at a fraction of the cost per veteran.

The addition of four million new veterans plus the 600,000 a year who will leave the armed forces and are eligible under the new law appears to be a lot to handle.

But compare it with the 49 million days of hospital care for veterans last year; 4.8 million visits to VA outpatient clinics; $4 billion paid to veterans and dependents for compensation and pension and it becomes just another work-a-day job for the Department of Data Management.

Use of the electronic gear has resulted in the VA's being able to pay insurance dividends in five days when the same payments used to take one year "done by hand." Instead of spending 27 cents to process each dividend, the VA has lowered the cost to two for a penny.

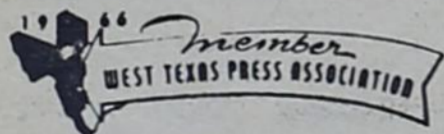

This task is the big job of the VA's Department of Data Management which was organized on February 1, 1963, merging earlier automatic data processing programs. The former 103 data processing stations have been reduced to five central stations and 14 branches.

Savings in equipment rental alone have amounted to $1.2 million a year. Additional savings of $2.9 million each year are effected by buying instead of renting VA computers.

The speedy processing of reports from schools and colleges of attendance figures, etc., will enable veterans to receive their allotments as fast as possible.

One thing that can really slow up production is the poor condition of filled-in forms and cards returned by veterans. A folded or mutilated form card will not be digested by the computer.

Delays caused by mutilated forms and cards bring real hardship to veterans of dependents needing the VA check for tuition, books, and lodging or food.

Chaplain Is Navy's Highest Negro Officer

Washington--(NPI)--The distinction of being the highest ranking Negro officer in the U.S. Navy recently was accorded Thomas D. Parham, Jr., chaplain, when he was promoted to captain.

A native of Newport News, Va., Capt. Parham is stationed at Quonset Point, R.I., naval air station.

LET DOWN

Carletonville, South Africa--(NPI)--The world's richest gold mining area is a "sinkhole" death trap for its 20,000 inhabitants. Since December 12, 1962, 29 Africans have died by being swallowed up in one of the huge chasms in the earth. The cave-ins are principally caused by the removal of underground water from subterranean areas in the search for gold ore. Subsequent water seeping through the dolomite rock, cause the rock arches to weaken and the ceiling of the caverns to give way, bringing the surface down with it.

SHOOK UP

Kampala, Uganda--(NPI)--Quakes of varying intensity shook up people on two continents recently--in Asia's north China sector and in Africa's western Uganda. China had four quakes, one registering 8.3 on the Richter scale (making it one of the most powerful recorded in recent history) which makes a total of six in the area around Singtai this month. Of lesser intensity were two shocks in western Uganda which dumped rocks on the only access road from Bwamba county to the country's capital.
