Local Citizens Turn Out For Tower

The members of the Dunbar marching band and community leaders were among those who were on hand to see Sen. John Tower in a brief stop over in Lubbock last Friday morning.

The Senator, who is seeking reelection on the Republican ticket attacked the Democratic administration farm policies last Friday as he continued his fast airplane tour of 22 Texas cities.

The candidate kicked off his official campaign last Thursday at his home town, Wichita Falls,

'Around the Hub City'

The Directors are now at the new and beautiful Mae Simmons Community Center from 9 a.m. until 12 noon and from 1 until 7 p.m., Monday through Saturday beginning today, September 15th.

This modern dream of a center is open to all ages, young and old. Registration for classes will begin on Monday, September 19th.

Please feel free to drop by and look over the building as well as register for the classes which will be given here starting next week. For any information concerning the center, please call PO2 -6411, ext. 323.

Funeral services were incomplete Monday for Mr. Virgil Denkins, who passed away last Saturday here. Sedberry Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

Charles Wilson, son of Rev. and Mrs. A.W. Wilson, and Maxine McCann and her sister, Majorie Lynn Parker, daughter of Mrs. C. B. Young, of Carlisle, are visiting here in the "Hub City" for a couple of weeks. The trio is from Los Angeles, California.

*****

Mrs. Lila Griffin, who was injured in an accident several weeks ago, was released from the hospital, but had to return last week. It was learned that she had to be placed back in traction.

*****

Andrew Bascus is on the critical list at Methodist Hospital.

*****

College students off for college for the 1966-67 season include the following: Judith Struggs and Chester Griffin, Howard University at Washington, D.C.; Vickie Kyle, Prairie View College; Bobby and Rose Pillow, Tennessee A&I College, Nashville, Tennessee; Joyce and Loyce Graves, Paul Quinn College, Waco, Texas; Nancy Graves, Denton, Texas; Cecille J. Graves, Bishop College, Dallas, Texas; Freddie Simmons, Texas Southern University, Houston, Texas; and the scores who are attending Texas Tech and Lubbock Christian College here at home.

*****

Lettie Ross, Morgan, Texas, and her two children, returned to their home after spending the week-end here in Lubbock. Mr. Harden Furlow, of Abbot, Texas, accompanied Mrs. Ross.

Newcomer Lubbock families last week totaled 56, following on the heels of record 1966 week of 152 families moving to the city. Total for the year now adds up to 2,596 families, compared with the lesser 2,047 number at this date last year.

"Actually, American farmers are caught in such a cost-price squeeze that 3.2 million have left the farm since Freeman became Secretary of Agriculture. Farm prices stand at 79 percent of parity, the lowest in many years.

Senator from Wichita Falls supports President Johnson's action in Viet Nam. "As should all Texans and all Americans," said Tower, in combatting Communism through the Vietnamese war.

Aside from the many supporters of Tower, the mayor of Lubbock was on hand to welcome the Senator and his wife.

Community Center Now Open

Directors for the new community center in Mae Simmons park have been selected and will be on duty at the park a limited number of hours until the official opening date, September 15th.

Mrs. Lydia Furry will be director, with Don Childs as the assistant. They are beginning preparation of the fall schedule of classes and activities, and will begin taking registrations for classes September 19th.

Included in their plans are playtime groups for preschool children, tap and ballet, modern jazz dance, folk dancing, crafts, home nursing courses, rhythmic, tumbling, square dance, and open recreation. Other activities will be scheduled as the demand indicates.

Information may be had by calling the center, PO 2-6411, Ext. 323. Also, all citizens of the community are cordially invited to go by the center, which is located at 19th and Oak, to inspect the new facilities. The building will be open from 9 a.m., to 7 p.m., each day, for the present time.

Oops! We Missed One Panther

In the excitement over last week's activities, we forgot to print the picture and name of one of the fighting Dunbar Panthers. He is Willie Rogers, who wears the number 27 on his jersey, and is a senior at Dunbar High School.

Rogers, like the other Panthers, is traveling to Amarillo this week to play Carver High School. They are looking forward to bringing home the 'bacon' tonight, along with the district title this year.

Integration Up 11 Per Cent Here

Nat Williams, Supt. of Lubbock public schools, revealed in a meeting last week with the school board that the enrollment of the public schools had reached a figure of 22,119 students, with 3,452 of this total Negro pupils. A total of 1,329 Negro students have now been integrated this year in 19 schools. Thirty-eight per cent of the Negro school population of the city are now attending integrated schools.

At the same time last year, according to Williams, 855 of the 3,211 Negro students enrolled in schools here were integrated in 15 schools at a 27 percentage.

Mom - Dads Club Meets

The members of the Dunbar Panther Mom and Dad's Club held their first meeting Monday evening, September 12, at 8:00 p.m. in the auditorium of the school with their president, Mrs. Frankie Davis, presiding.

The fighting Dunbar Panthers of Lubbock opened their 1966 season in a big way last Saturday night at Lowrey field when they drowned their opponents, Dunbar of Temple, by the score of 47-0.

In scoring their 47 points, Coach Hillyer's crew sent no less than ten backs through the leaky Temple defense in the course of the evening, ripping off over 300 yards on the ground. They also tagged on another 174 yards in the air for a gapping total of over 500 yards during the contest which was always in the Panthers favor from the opening kick-off.

Temple, a team who had only played this once in West Texas, never seriously threatened the Panthers defense only ran up a total of 109 yards in their total offense.

Reserves played most of the second half for the Panthers and neither team managed to score in the third period.

The fourth stanza, however, saw the Panthers add to their total as they pushed over one more tally before the final gun.

Two Arrested

Charges were filed last week against a young lady and man for theft in one of our local stores.

The pair was arrested here last week after the employees of Montgomery-Ward Co., 5001 Boston, had seen the woman slip two suits under her dress. A store employee said the suits were valued at $65. each.

Both were being held in city jail last Thursday night, but had been released on bond Friday after charges were filed against them.

DRAFT QUOTA RAISED

Austin--Texas' November draft quota was set Thursday at 2,339 men, and the October call was raised from 2,671 to 2,845; the largest monthly call since April of 1953, near the end of the Korean War.

All men subject to call are for the army.

Draft boards were asked to furnish 1,889 men for September, 1,837 for August, 1,381 for July, 878 for June, 1,972 for May, 979 for April, 1,068 for March, 1,372 for February and 1,475 for January.

ple football game was shown for the entertainment of those who were present. Aside from this added attraction, Coach Hillyer and Principal Scott spoke briefly to the group. Each expressed exactly how happy they were with the cooperation the Panthers had received thus far.

The club, which meets each Monday evening during the football season, will elect officers for this year on Monday, September 26th. Anyone interested in becoming a member of this growing organization is asked to come out and do so.

Approximately 25 members were present at the first meeting. A special project, the selling of Panther stickers for automobiles, is underway at the present time, and anyone interested in purchasing one may do so by inquiring at the school.

registration and opening of the district meeting.

That same evening, the Shrine will present a frolic in the Ball Room of the lovely Pioneer Hotel and only those with invitations may attend.

On Sunday the district members will be special guest of Rev. A. L. Davis and congregation at the St. Luke Baptist Church.

7 WAYS TO BE A BAD PARENT

PUBLISHER'S NOTE: The following article came into my hands through the efforts of Mr. Patterson, our editor.

This message seemed so timely and complete in thought and context that I decided to carry it as our editorial this week. Perhaps with more thought and ideas along the lines the writer outlines below, we would have less "beat-niks" and "Peace-niks", and more responsible citizens to guide our country today.

By Lester C. Means

I realize that most of us consider ourselves a better authority on being bad parents than on being good ones. A leading expert in this field has said, "There are no really bad children—only bad parents". Now this might be taking parental responsibility a bit too far. I have known some lovely parents whose children seem to have repudiated everything for which the parents stood. On the other hand, if the law of sowing and reaping is true, lovely and well-disciplined parents usually beget lovely and well-disciplined children. It usually follows that delinquent parents are largely responsible for delinquent children.

Step number one; Irresponsibility is the first step toward being a bad parent. The job of being a good parent is not a part-time job—it is a full time job. The father who simply does not have time to take time to spend with his children is making a foolish mistake. One simply cannot take parental responsibility lightly—it's a most sobering thought and responsibility. The late president, John F. Kennedy, despite his crushing workload, seemed to have plenty of time to play with his two children. These times must have been relaxing to the late president as well as a benediction to his children. Bad parents simply have no time for their children—good parents do. Do you have time for your children?

Step number two; Being a harsh disciplinarian is the mark of a good parent. The word 'discipline' has almost become 'taboo' in our generation. It is spoken in a whisper—almost as if it were a profane word. Many parents go to the extreme in trying to be autocrats, in trying to overprotect their children. In so many instances the 'motherly' instinct becomes a 'smotherly' instinct. Discipline, whatever its nature, must be fair, administered calmly through love, carefully understood, and followed through. The disciplinary rules of the home should be mutually understood by all. Such obsolete statements, not so obsolete in some circles, as 'do it because I said so', are used too seldom, if at all. The child ought to be given a sensible and intelligent reason for the rules by which he is governed.

Step number three; Over-indulgence is another mark of a bad parent. This is often an unconscious thing in our affluent society. One of the best examples of such a parent is found in the person of Eli. His sons, the record states, "...He restrained them not". This was an ancient account of modern permissiveness. Eli was a good man, a man of God, but he lost his sons. They were beyond many of their generation.

Step number four; The fourth step is closely akin to the above. This is the abandonment of all rules. Most normal children want and need some rules to govern them. They want to know how far they can go, and where the metes and boundaries are. A child who grows up without rules feels itself alone, abandoned, uncared for. It is frustrated and confused. Most children actually feel the need for the sympathetic concern and counsel of their elders; they feel lost without it.

Step number five; Being partial is another way to be a bad parent. Where there are two or more children partiality can be involved. A very fine teacher in high school once solved the problem of partiality with his three lovely daughters by saying to them, "you are my favorite nine year-old, and you are my favorite five year-old, and you are my favorite three year-old." Not bad, would you say?

Step number six; Perhaps one of the most difficult things to parents is consistency in treatment. This is a real jewel for parents—and its absence is one of the marks of bad parents. Nothing can be more confusing to a child than not to know what to expect. Perhaps one of the most glaring points of inconsistency is that which exists between living and saying. For example the doorbell rings and mother says to her child, "tell them I am not at home." We need to say, "Do as I do—Not as I say".

The final step; Our final step in being a bad parent is basic to all

MAN SHOT...

Raymond Booker, 22, of 3009 Avenue C, was admitted to the intensive care unit of Methodist Hospital for treatment of a gunshot wound in the left side of his chest, suffered in an altercation at Carlisle last Sunday morning.

According to sheriff's deputies, they said that Booker was shot one time about two and a half inches to the left of the center of his chest. They were handed a .25 caliber pistol by a 29 year-old Lubbock woman who told them that she was responsible for the shooting.

The incident occurred at the Off Beat Lounge in Carlisle.

MAN KNIFED

Lester Ward, 21, 2411 Birch, was treated at Methodist Hospital early Sunday morning for a knife wound in the neck, reported to have been suffered in an incident at his home about 6:30 a.m.

Ward told police officers that that has gone before. Parents who assume that their children know of their love without their telling them so. This may sound a bit sentimental but children need to be told that their parents love them. Our children live in a world of upheaval, insecurity and need the continued assurance of love of their parents as an anchor to the ship in a storm at sea.

You parents can make it very difficult for your children by doing some of the following;

1. Seldom knowing where they are or what they are doing.
2. Taking their part when corrected by their teachers, or when involved with the law before all of the facts are in.
3. Performing all their chores for them and never setting any standards of responsibility.
4. Encouraging them to run around at all hours of the evening and pushing them to be popular.
5. Encouraging and permitting pre-mature dating.
6. Labeling as "teenage pranks" the so-called "minor offenses" of reckless driving, "practical jokes" and stealing which are often anything but practical and somewhat less than a joke.
7. Failing to see that they have good literature with which to fill their young and expanding minds.

HOUSE BURGLARY

Maynard Jackson, 1708 Avenue B, told police that someone broke into his house while he and his girlfriend were at the bus station havign a cup of hot coffee and took over five hundred dollars worth of suits, coats, and shirts. Police investigated the incident and all they found was a coat hanging on a rack in the closet. Jackson stated that he had no idea who could have done such a thing.

VANDILISM

Someone unknown broke into the Tampico Apartments, in the 700 block of Avenue D and E, and ripped the plumbing out, tore the doors down, knocked sheet-rock off the walls, and in general tore up the apartments.
