JUVENILE CRIME MEETING HERE

The Texas House Interim Study Committee on Juvenile Crime will complete its one-day hearing at the Holiday Inn Parkway today.

The meeting will be headed up by Rep. Vernon Stewart of Wichita Falls and got under way at 9 a.m.

Officials from throughout the South Plains area are present at this meeting at which the rising juvenile crime rates will be discussed. Those who are attending this meeting include juvenile officers, judges, probation officers and school superintendents.

Other similar meetings are on tap during the week at Amarillo and El Paso.

Members of the five-man state committee will visit Boys Ranch at Amarillo where they will hear ranch director Cal Farley.

The committee was directed by the 1965 House to study juvenile delinquency and recommend new law to curb it.

This year's pageant was one of the better shows ever given at Mae Simmons' swimming pool in recent years. The show was colorful and exciting.

The winner of the "Miss Mae Simmons" crown for the year of 1966 was lovely Miss Linda Scott, a Dunbar senior and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Scott of 2409 Globe Avenue.

Miss Linda Rainwater received runner-up honors.

An added twist this year was the Coronation of a "Mr. Mae Simmons" who was chosen by the young ladies competing in the colorful event. Herbert Johnson won this crown.

Aside from the beauty pageant, the contest was filled with fun for everyone. Some of the first place winners were Earl Day, Issac Phillips, Jerry Williams, and Marc Wilson. The type of races which each were involved in were the 50-yard free style and 50-yard backstroke. Some fancy diving, which was performed by Frederick Phillips, one of the life guards at the pool, was enjoyed by all.

The judges for this year's contest were Mrs. Mae Simmons, Mrs. Mae Phea, and Mr. Virgil Johnson. The management was very pleased to have each of them.

The "Miss Mae Simmons" contest was followed by a dance with Mr. Johnson, local KSEL D.J., as host D.J. These parties are given each Friday evening and all teenagers are invited.

The second session of the "Learn to Swim Program" began last Tuesday, July 26, and will run through August. More attendance is needed for this part of the swimming program.

VACATION TIME, ACQUAINT TIME

For you, your child and school, the summer vacation months have provided an excellent period of time for parents and children to become better acquainted. This is certainly valuable but the idea can be overdone if there is a lack of understanding.

Interests vary with age and individuals. Parents should realize that their children may not enjoy the same activities which they as adults find satisfying. If parents want to spend time with their children, it is important that they choose activities which children will enjoy. It is also important to determine the special interests of their own children which might be quite different from those of other children.

If dad like to hunt and fish, junior may also enjoy these. On the other hand, junior may like to swim and play baseball. He might not enjoy sports at all. He could be the type of child who enjoys a visit to the library or museum. He might really like a trip to some historical shrines or the like.

These are the kinds of things that parents should consider if they want to plan an enjoyable summer during which they and their children can become better acquainted. One thing is for certain, the parent here in Lubbock and throughout the nation should be better acquainted.

Another thing which adults sometimes forget is that children enjoy and need the company of other children of the same general age. If a child spends too much time with adults without having an opportunity to associate with other children, he could develop a confused idea of his own ability. He might also become bored as he misses the chance to just play and have fun with his peers.

Parents who want to get to know their children and develop a really pleasant relationship should make the attempt. It will be rewarding to both.

It is important to remember that parents and children do not necessarily have all the same interests. It is very likely that with soem careful planning a number of activities can be found which will be suitable for both parents and child.

Perhaps the most important thing to remember is that parents should respect their children, and may I add, in more ways than one. Let the child know that you, as a parent, respect his opinions and understand his desires. In this way, a truly valuable relationship can be developed.

Last but not the least is that parents should enjoy their children. Remember that they are children and will not behave like adults. They will make mistakes. They will misbehave. They will act silly. They will do things which you feel are wrong. This is only a part of being a child.

However, children will show love and affection to their parents. They will try to please their parents. Most of all parents can get a great deal of satisfaction from their child's accomplishments.

Please try to spend the remainder of the summer learning a little bit more about your child. Build a little better relationship. You, too like many more parents in this day and time, will get a great deal of enjoyment from it and your child will profit even more.

STUDENT LOAN APPLICANTS URGED TO SUBMIT FORMS

For all of you who are attending Texas Tech who wish to apply for 1966-67 loans under the recently inaugurated Texas Opportunity Plan are urged to submit your application as soon as possible.

Applications forms may be obtained by writing or calling Tech Loan Officer, Thomas P. Stover, Office of the Dean of Student Life, Tech Administration Building, PO2-8811, Ext. 2214.

Promptness is important since approximately 45 days are required for processing applications, according to Stover.

To qualify for a loan a student must be a resident of Texas, show proof that he cannot finance his college education, be accepted for admission or enrolled in good standing at Tech and be recommended by at least two reputable residents of his hometown. Entering freshmen and transfer students are eligible if they have officially been admitted by the college.

There is no minimum grade point average requirement, according to Stover.

Maximum loans, based upon need, are not to exceed $1,000 per academic year and a $5,000 total for undergraduate student, or $1,500 per academic year and $7,500 for graduate and professional student. Summer session loans may not exceed one-third of the amount approved for the academic year.

Borrowers are required to enroll for at least one-half the normal full academic load. One-half of Tech's normal fulltime load is considered to be not fewer than eight resident hours per semester or not fewer than three resident hours per summer term. Graduate or professional students must be making satisfactory progress toward the completion of their educational programs in addition to the one-half normal load requirements.

Repayment of the loan principal and interest will be made directly to the Texas College Coordination Board in monthly installments of not less than $15, beginning not later than four months after the borrower ceases to be a student.

The Texas Opportunity Plan, launched this summer by an initial sale of $10 million in student loan bonds under direction of the Coordinating Board, has been called "the most comprehensive aid program to higher education ever enacted in the state."

The bonds were the first of $85 million authorized by the 59th Legislature and approved by voters to finance the state student loan program.

DIABETES

The underlying cause of diabetes is an inherited inability of the pancreas to produce enough insulin to transform the glucose in your blood into energy. If insulin is lacking, the blood sugar level rises and when it reaches a certain level sugar will appear in the urine.

When this source of energy is wasted, the victim loses weight and becomes weak, the volume of urine is increased and the victim must drink more water to replace the loss.

Acidosis often develops in diabetics. A high degree of acidosis may lead to diabetic coma. Persons who are obese are prone to develop diabetes.

Strict dietary control is important in the treatment of diabetes because an increase in the intake of calories from proteins and fat as well as from carbohydrates will increase the blood sugar.

When diet alone will not control the disease, the victim must take injections of insulin or one of the newer drugs such as tolbutamide that is given by mouth. Unfortunately these newer drugs are not effective in all diabetics.

The number of calories in the diet of a diabetic must be tailored to one's individual needs, and the drug dosage must then be carefully adjusted to keep the urine sugar-free.

Because many persons in the early stages of this disease do not know they have it, a large scale diabetes detection survey to provide early recognition and prompt treatment are the best ways to prevent the serious complications of this disease.

The diabetes testing procedure requires that a person refrain from eating three hours before he is given a solution containing one and two-thirds ounces of glucose—a type of sugar that normally exists in the body.

An hour after a person drinks the solution, a blood sample will be drawn to check the amount of glucose. A high glucose count indicates the possibility that diabetes may be present.

Blood tests, after glucose loading, are used because they are regarded by medical authorities as being most reliable in determining the likelihood of diabetes.

Those most likely to have diabetes include the elderly, the overweight, and persons with blood relatives who are diabetic. Women who have borne babies weighing nine pounds or more at birth are also potential candidates for the disease.

SABBATH BILL
Tel Aviv--(NPI)--A stringent Sabbath law, which would levy fines up to 1,000 Israeli pounds ($333) for those working on the Sabbath or religious festivals, seems to be on the way to become a reality. Last week, a bill was introduced into the Knesset (Parliament) which makes it illegal to work on the Sabbath, something that religious parties throughout the country have been trying to get for years. The law would also ban public entertainment, sports events and many other services.

NEW SUPREME COURT PAGE EYES ON ENGINEERING CAREER

Washington--(NPI)--Fourteen-year-old Lowell Vincent Muse in September gets an opportunity rarely given to a youngster his age. He will enter the Capitol

Page School to begin training as a page with the U.S. Supreme Court, and he is quite happy about it. He once saw the high court in session during a class visit last March and was quite impressed by "the distinguished people..."

Texas Attorney General Waggoner Carr will launch his statewide campaign to unseat U.S. Senator John Tower with a gigantic kickoff rally on September 8 in Lubbock, according to Carr backers.

The youth, and eighth grade honor student at Langley Junior high school, who was highly recommended by his teachers for the page job, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher H. Muse and serves with the Youth Group at Israel CME Church.

Ralph Krebs, Carr's campaign manager for the West Texas area, said exact details for program, speakers and time of the rally have not been worked out yet but will be announced as soon as they are completed.

His parents are both clerks at the Pentagon, and so Lowell comes by his interest in government naturally. He hopes to go on to college and eventually become a computer engineer. His favorite subject in school is rocketry, and is currently toying with combustible materials trying to make a rocket.

Krebs said current plans call for the September 8 rally to be at Lubbock Municipal Coliseum and mark the official start of Carr's statewide senatorial campaign.

Carr hopes that there will be an attendance of more than 10,000 people.

Mr. Price is employed at John Halsey Drugs and has been for some time, while Mrs. Price, like many other Cresthaven housewives, enjoys preparing her favorite dish for her family and caring for her adorable apartment.

The Prices choose to relate the following reasons why they enjoy residing at their lovely apartment which is located at the highest level of the area and is in perfect position for a most beautiful view of the Hub City; also, they enjoy the view, the location is close to a bus stop, the rates are reasonable, the neighbors are friendly, and the location is in agreement with the wholesome recreation now in use plus the construction of the new and modern community center.

The couple is most delighted about their comfort as a family with a family fine living, which resides within the heart of our community is a member of the Mount Gilead Baptist Church, and are very active members.

Not only are they a happily married couple in their apartment, but they are the proud parents of a three year old daughter, Cheryl.

Like the Prices, you too, once a resident of this family within a family of fine living, will be confident that the Cresthaven Apartments located in a community that is moving bodily to be one of the better communities of its kind in America, is fit for any young couple who desire first class treatment only less than that the royal family might receive.

TEMPTING SUMMER SALAD

TEMPTING SUMMER SALAD

A fruit salad mold made with flavored gelatin and bottled Rea-Lemon juice enhances a summer meal. And, when used as a center for the dinner table, rimmed with fresh fruits in season, it provides a delightfully cool, eye-appealing and palatable centerpiece.

An easy-to-make, taste-tempting gelatine salad that combines several fresh or canned fruits, fruit cocktail, fresh strawberries and banana slices, Lemon Fruit Mold is the perfect salad to appease summer appetites.

Bottled Rea-Lemon lemon juice and ginger ale add a zesty, perky note to the fruit-gelatin flavor. If fresh strawberries are not available, substitute raspberries, blueberries or melon balls (watermelon, honeydew, and cantaloupe).

The Rea-Lemon Fruit Mold is prepared in a ring mold, a gelatin mold or a baking dish. When used along with the main course, top it with cream cheese or mayonnaise. If served as a dessert, whipped cream or a low-calorie whip may be used, or it's just as delicious without the topping.

Drain fruit cocktail. Save the juice. Dissolve gelatin in heated

Women's Talk

NEGRO PRESS INTERNATIONAL

If the prediction of an English lecturer comes true, the lass born this year who finds herself an old maid in the year 2,000 will have but to move to England to remedy the situation.

Ian McLuckie, at Hatfield College of Technology north of London, told a conference of welfare workers that by the year 2,000, "Britain will need to consider polyandry."

McLuckie declared that by then an excess of 4.5 million males, aged 16 to 40, would be living in Britain. His solution was that women be allowed more than one husband.

At first glance that might seem a rather taxing suggestion for the women involved--but with women at a premium, no doubt the husbands could be persuaded to use discretion in their amatory demands.

Speaking of England, it does seem to have its problems. A London window, with no visiting friends, and hardly any acquaintances, has gone to the same movie theatre, sat in the same seat, and watched the film twice--five times a week for the last 10 years.

Recently the staff of the movie house gifted Mrs. Violet Forno with a new luminous clock, (to replace a worn one which she used to remind herself to get home early), and a two-month pass. Said the manager, "It's the least we could do. She's spent a lot of money with us over the years."

Lusaka--(NPI)--Zambia will not be taking part in the forthcoming Commonwealth games, which are scheduled to be held in Jamaica next month. No reason was given for the country's withdrawal of its team from the contests, but it is believed to have stemmed from the failure of Britain to take direct action against the white settler-sponsored and ruled independent Rhodesia.

There's no question about it, she's our best customer."

Explanation for the unusual behavior came from author Armand Georges, in a report called "Modern Loneliness." Georges forecast that Britain will have 26,000,000 persons suffering from loneliness in the next 20 years.

"Thousands of lonely people," said Lady Phillips, secretary, National Association of Women's Clubs, "are tragically and so wrongly ashamed of being lonely. They see it as a mark of failure." She said the clubs spend many hours trying to help the lonely. Maybe England can alleviate that surplus of men by breaking the age barrier. That is introduce each widow to two lonely men! Wow!

JEHOVAH'S WITNESSES

Local Jehovah's Witnesses plan to be included in the more than 30,000 delegates at the August 3-7 "God's Sons of Liberty" district assembly at Dallas' modern Market Hall.

According to E.C. Outten, the local congregation received advance program information this week. "Normally much of the program material is kept as a surprise to the delegates until they arrive, but this year we have been briefed on some of the subject matter so that we have our spiritual appetites whetted in advance."

Outten cited the program feature, "Building on a Right Foundation with Fire-Resistant Materials," as an example. "Any Christian knows it is difficult maintaining Bible integrity in these critical times. And one glance at this particular subject reveals it is not a run-of-the-mill treatment of generalities, but a hard and factual analysis of Christian responsibility for today."

Commenting on the program, Outten noted that part of the program will deal with dramatizations offering vivid portrayals of Bible accounts that are filled with meaning for all Christians now. "Imagine seeing the integrity-filled lives of Daniel, Jeremiah and Joshua unfold before the eyes, and with application. This is something to look forward to."

"It is material such as this," he said, "that is real enough for modern use. This way we can effectively combat the current religious fad that 'God is Dead' as well as keeping strong in a materialistic, atheistic, sadistic, and morally corrupt system."

The highlight of the program will be reached at 3:00 p.m. Sunday, August 7, when the public lecture, "What Has God's Kingdom Been Doing Since 1914?" will be given.

Violence, Rioting Spread 'Black Death' Among Negroes Across the Nation

New York--(NPI)--Violence and rioting, moving like a plague from city to city last week, spread "black death" among Negroes across the nation.

Negroes suffered almost all the casualties, as riots erupted in Negro slum areas and were confined there.

Both white and Negro leaders saw the riots as the Negro's way of retaliating against white oppression. But few realized that Negroes were victimized by rioting much more than whites.

In Chicago, South Bend, Ind., Brooklyn, San Francisco, and Cleveland, white policemen were shot, some white were beaten, and some white-owned businesses were burnt out.

But many more Negroes were shot and beaten by police. Negro owned businesses suffered from looting and arson, as did white-owned stores. Negroes suffered from shootings--accidental or not by fellow Negroes. And as in past riots, almost all the fatalities were Negroes.

The anniversary of the first Watts riot was being recalled in the violence-torn area with a "festival." Planners of the "festival," which seeks positive community action in Watts, noted that the first Watts riot, said to be the worst racial outbreak in this century, resulted in 34 deaths--32 of them Negroes.

While white leaders were deploring the riots, there was another side to the tragedy of the outbreaks. Almost always, the riot scenes were slum Negro areas--and Negroes, not whites, would have to live with the destruction and havoc brought on by the rioting.

In Chicago, rioting ended as city officials made minor concessions to Negro leaders, such as sprinklers on fire hydrants and promises of more swimming pools. A dispute between area youths and policemen over use of a fire hydrant as a sprinkler is said to have sparked the Westside riot.

Three Negro Westsiders were left dead--the only fatalities in the rioting.

Two of those fatalities were a 14-year-old teenager, Roseland Howard, who would have been a mother in August, and her still-born son. The mother-to-be was shot down in the streets by an unknown sniper.

Forty-seven years earlier, an even bigger riot had broken out in Chicago, when a Negro youth went swimming in a "white beach" along Lake Michigan. As in other riots, almost all the scores of fatalities and injuries were suffered by Negroes.

It was the same story in Brooklyn, N.Y., where a Negro youth was shot dead during racial violence in the East New York slum area of Brooklyn.

Eric Dean, 11, was shot in the chest by a bullet apparently fired by a sniper as hundreds of Negroes milled about the area.

The shooting was the outcome of racial violence, in which a Negro woman was shot and wounded. Hundreds of Negroes, many armed with rocks, sticks, and bottles, roamed the area.

The riotings have produced a canned dialogue between Negroes and whites.

White leaders blamed "outsiders," "revolutionaries," and "troublemakers" for the riots. They charged that warnings of a "long hot summer" by rights leaders produced what the leaders had predicted.

Negro leaders have countered that conditions in poverty areas, combined with police brutality, produced the riots.
