Visits Parents Here

Annette Hobdy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Hobdy, 2917 Beech Avenue, is visiting with her parents during the month of August. Annette who is residing in Greenville, Texas with Mr. and Mrs. B.T. Thrash, is a sixth grade student at Norris Elementary School of Commerce, Texas. She is a member of the First Baptist Church and is eleven years age.

A sell-out crowd of 24,000 were on hand to watch the Big 33 game in Hershey, Pa., last Saturday night.

The Texas squad--manned by Bobby Layne--bombarded the Pennsylvania Big 33 squad almost unmercifully to thundering 34-2 tune which had the local partisans filling for home early in the third quarter. It was proved, beyond any doubt, that the best high school football is found in the Lone Star State.

Burrell Stars

Don Burrell, a former Lubbock High star who even the Pennsy fans applauded were among the stars of game.

Burrell, who caught seven passes for an amazing 218 yards, was named the outstanding offensive lineman.

Burrell, the lightest man on the field at 170, caught two touchdown passes and set up two more with nifty grabs before giving way to Tech-bound Robert David late in the game.

He stole the spotlight at the offset of the game as he pulled in a 35-yard aerial from Texarkana's Joe Norwood on a do-or-die third and seven situation.

Burrell, looking as fresh as he had during the pre-game drills, signed autographs for admiring youngsters and gave his chin strap to a smiling Pennsy backer.

"Young man," one man said in a most noticeable northern accent, "You are one hell of a football player."

Burrell--who had been stunned over being named to the team last March--declared, "I had more fun out there tonight than I've ever had in my life."

His 218 yards in seven catches established a new Big 33 receiving yardage record was lauded time again by the entire coaching staff, "He did a great job--broke the thing wide open," said Layne.

Burrell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James P. Burrell, 3317 East 16th.

He will be among the stars at the Oil Bowl classic at Wichita Falls this week.

You Can Go to College and You Should

BY LEON L. LEWIS
NEGRO PRESS INTERNATIONAL

High school graduates, and others, are going to college in ever increasing numbers. This is very good--not only for them but for the future and welfare of our great nation.

In these days of high specialization, education beyond the high school is becoming more and more important. From the standpoint of dollars and cents alone, we now know that the average college graduate will have lifetime earnings of about $20,000 more than those who stop with high school. But perhaps even more important, they will lead fuller, more satisfying and creative lives.

Your decision to enter college will hinge upon several considerations. First you choose a college which you would prefer to attend. Then there are other factors to be considered, some personal, some financial, some important and some really trivial. But your decisions should be made with great care, and based on facts that you can certainly avail yourself.

There are more than 2,000 institutions of higher learning in the United States. They range from huge universities with thousands of students and vast campuses to small colleges with few buildings. They are divided into two categories: Tax-supported (by a city, region or state), and voluntarily-supported (independent and/or church-related).

You have the choice of any institution of higher learning in the state whether private or tax-supported. The size of the school you want to attend will have to be decided on a purely personal basis.

As a rule, most college-bound students have some idea what they want "to take" or a field in which they hope to major. Actually, all students spend much of their first two years in the same basic courses--English, History, Science--which give them the broad, educational background they need. Most of the specialization comes in the last two undergraduate years (or in graduate school later).

It is important for a student who wants to study accounting to select a campus with a strong school of business. Or those interested first in physics to be sure there is a good department in that field. Students with ambitions to become reporters and editors should hesitate to select a school with no curriculum in journalism.

Many students select a college for convenience--its nearness to home. In fact, if the campus is close enough, many elect to 'commute' to classes. Others want to get away--be on their own. Again this is purely a personal matter.

However, it may be tied to the always important consideration of "finances." No matter what school is selected, there will be expenses. While they may vary a bit from campus to campus, there will be charges for room and board, books, clothing, recreation travel, and other things.

Before making any decision on a college or university, students and their parents should explore carefully the possibilities of self help and financial aids. Almost all schools have extensive programs of scholarships and grant-in-aid. Some have loan funds and others "plans" to help worthy students.

In addition, there are usually possibilities of part time work and many schools maintain "placement bureaus" to help both students seeking such work and the business firms of the community that need such help. These opportunities are especially good in the large, metropolitan areas.

These assistance programs are administered on an individual basis, according to the particular circumstances of each applicant, it applies to students of all classifications--from entering freshmen to candidates for graduate degrees.

Aid is awarded on consideration of merit and financial need. As a general rule academic merit determines whether assistance is given and need determines the amount of assistance. Tailored to fit the requirements of each student, such aid may vary from the freshman year through graduate school.

Generally, it is felt that freshmen require a larger portion of direct aid than the more advanced students who may be able to meet a larger share of their expenses through loans and personal earnings.

Scholarships are awarded on the basis of academic achievement. They are intended to recognize, encourage, and assist young men and women who give promise of becoming leaders in their chosen fields. Financial need is not a factor in making these awards, although the amount of the stipend assigned to each winner will vary with the financial circumstances of the recipient.

The minimum honorary stipend for any scholarship will be $100.00 per year, applied at the rate of $50.00 each of the fall and spring semesters. However, according to the financial circumstances of the winner, the stipend will vary up to an amount covering full tuition, fees and required textbooks, to a maximum of $1,200.00 for the calendar years, which includes the summer session.

Scholarships are awarded with the stipulation all recipients will enroll for and complete a full academic load during each period for which the scholarship is awarded.

Applicants approved for enrollment in the freshman class each academic year, who graduated from an accredited public or private secondary school and who ranked in the upper quarter of their graduating class, are eligible to complete for a scholarship. Approved applicants who are junior college graduates and who ranked in the upper five per cent of their junior college class are eligible for competition.

All freshman applicants for scholarships must submit scores made on the Scholastic Aptitude Test of the College Entrance Examination Board.

Education Roundup

BY

NEGRO PRESS INTERNATIONAL

MIXING PLAN

Hartford, Conn.--(NPI)--Five Hartford suburbs will enroll 265 children from the city's poor districts in September, in an effort to improve integration and offer better opportunities to disadvantaged children. The metropolitan area transfer is being tested with 200 children who are sent by bus to summer school in West Hartford. The program is designed to benefit everyone--slum children will get quality education for the first time, and suburban children will gain a broader outlook from their contact with slum children.

INTEGRATION ORDERED

Waukegan, Ill.--(NPI)--Three local white schools have been ordered to integrate, after a Lake County Circuit court judge ruled that they were violating a state law against de facto segregation. Judge Charles Parker ordered the Waukegan Board of Education to send students from 85 per cent Negro Whittier Elementary school to three all-white schools, reducing Whittier's Negro enrollment to 42 per cent. The judge upheld a prosecution contention that the Armstrong Act requiring school districts to promote integration applied to de facto segregation.

INTEGRATION PLANNED

Evanston, Ill.--(NPI)--This suburb of Chicago has decided to send the students of all-Negro Foster school to mostly white schools in the area and will make Foster into an experimental laboratory school next year. This fall, Foster's kindergarten will be integrated by busing in white children. The laboratory school is expected to have a 20 per cent Negro enrollment next year. A white enrollment of 50-80 per cent in the Foster kindergarten is sought this fall.

BUTTONS, BUTTONS

Philadelphia, Miss.--(NPI)--The suspension of a few students at Booker T. Washington high school was ruled "arbitrary, unreasonable and an unnecessary infringement upon protected rights of free expression" by the Fifth U. S. Circuit court of appeals. The suspension was handed down because the students were wearing "freedom buttons" in the classroom. The court's decision held that the buttons "didn't have any bearing on their education."

TURN BACK CLOCK

Chicago--(NPI)--Directors of the Chicago Educational association have issued a demand to the board of education to permit teachers to "use the rod" on unruly pupils--a return to the old practice to "not sparing the rod, not spoiling the pupil." Basis for the demand is a state law which gives teachers in a classroom the same authority over pupils, as parents have in the home.

Turner captured October 30, was executed--going calmly to his death, according to newspaper reports--on November 11, 1831. The rebellion was the climax of a three-year period of great slave unrest throughout the South, and had significant repercussions upon pro- and anti-slavery thoughts.

Negro Church Too Concerned About Next World, Clergymen Charge

New York--(NPI)--A group of Negro churchmen have charged that the Negro church too often concerns itself with the problems of the next world, instead of the "here and now."

"Too often the Negro church has stirred its members away from the reign of God in this world to a distorted and complacent view of an other worldly conception of God's power," said the National Committee of Negro Churchmen.

"We commit ourselves as churchmen to make more meaningful in the life of our institution our conviction that Jesus Christ reigns in the 'here' and 'now' as well as in the future he brings in upon us."

"We shall, therefore, use more of the resources of our churches in the places of social change and upheaval where our Master is already at work."

Your Good Health

By SAMUEL L. ANDELMAN, M.D., M.P.H. (Negro Press International)

LUPUS

Many victims of lupus erythematosus (LE) are puzzled about how they got it. Although the cause may be the use of large doses of certain drugs, in many cases no cause can be found.

The drugs that have incriminated include hydralazine (for high blood pressure), anticonvulsants (for epilepsy), isonicotinylhydrazide (for tuberculosis), procainamide (for irregular pulse), phenylbutazone (for arthritis), sulfoan-mides (for pus infections), griseofulvin (for ringworm), and others.

LE affects not only the skin but also the joints, heart and kidney. The skin lesions are aggravated by exposure to the sun or to x-rays.

As is the case with several other diseases, the victim may have period of spontaneous improvement. If one of these coincides with the giving of a certain treatment may be given more credit than it deserves. This makes it hard to evaluate the merits of any new treatment.

Treatment with salicylates, such as aspirin, steroid drugs of the cortisone group, and antimalarial drugs have been shown to be of value in controlling the progress of the disease but there is as yet no permanent cure.

The salicylates are especially helpful in relieving the joint pains. The steroid hormones relieve inflammation in the joints and elsewhere, but cannot be taken for prolonged periods because of undesirable side effects.

Since LE is a chronic disease, this is a real disadvantage but one that many authorities believe has been overcome by the introduction of the newer antimalarial drugs. In any case the treatment must be tailored to the victim's individual needs and often taxes the ingenuity of the best of physicians.

PROPOSE NEGRO FEDERAL JUDGE FOR FIFTH CIRCUIT APPEALS DISTRICT

Detroit--(NPI)--The National Bar association has urged President Johnson to appoint a Negro federal judge in the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals in the South.

Strong efforts to improve the position of the Negro lawyer throughout the nation were revealed during the 41st annual convention of the law group.

The association also adopted a resolution informing R. Sargent Shriver, chief of the nation's War on Poverty, that he is expected to give full recognition to Negroes in hiring attorneys for his legal services to the poor.

The same resolution, approved unanimously by the 250 delegates also criticized President Johnson for giving untintingly of our funds and money to the cause of freedom abroad, while economizing on opportunity and freedom at home.

A brilliant array of convention speakers included Richmond M. Flowers, Attorney General of Alabama, R. Sargent Shriver,

VITAMINS, TOO
You probably aren't getting the proper vitamins in your daily diet! Even though you may be overweight, you may still be suffering from vitamin deficiency. A report by the National Vitamin foundation revealed that the problems of proper nutrition for the individual are still with us, despite the conquest in the U. S. of such frank deficiency diseases as pellagra, scurvy, rickets, etc. In many age groups, a substantial percentage of the population is estimated to receive less than two-thirds of the Recommended Daily Dietary Allowance (RDA) of vitamins A, thiamine, riboflavin, and ascorbic acid (C). Many nutrition scientists have expressed concern over this low an intake of these nutrients.

Perhaps a healthy parental concern that results in adding supplementary vitamins to the diet of the whole family--is a necessary development. In this land of plenty, health should be in abundance for all. So Mom, why not check for an economical liquid or tablet supplement--perhaps it will help you to avoid a few grey hairs.

MEASURING FAT
Housewives will benefit from a new development that measures fat. No, it has nothing to do with weight control--except indirectly. A new "automatic system" will determine the fat content in meat "by specific gravity" in less than a minute with no preparation. If you're on a low fat diet, you'll benefit because the fat content can be labeled on the package--unlike the present system which takes up to 24 hours and finds the meat often on the way to the retailer before the results of the analysis are known.

A.C. Christman, minister from Tulsa, Oklahoma, is scheduled to head our annual Summer Gospel Meeting which has been dated August 21-26. Time will not allow us to talk in the future much longer. We should now be in full speed in every phase of work concerning the meeting. Can we say we are? How many prospective Christians have we asked to the meeting? How many pledges have been posted or paid? How many extra petitions have been sent up in behalf of it?

WHAT'S FOR DINNER???

Nothing, maybe. Nothing is right, if we don't prepare ourselves for the Area Fellowship Meeting now. It has been dated August 21. The fellowship will go over big only if we display the true Christian spirit.

How much do I care about Sis. Albrooks who is on the Shut-In list? Do I care enough to visit her, to aid her, or to pray for her? How much do I care about Bro. Graves? Has he seen me at his door since his accident? Has a prayer been prayed in his behalf?
