The American Business Clubs in the 'hub City' should be congraulated for the splendid "Loy alty Day Parade" held in our city last Tuesday afternoon.

Scores and scores of organizations participated in this so badly needed patrotism.

One thing bothers me, it was reported that none of the sororities or fraternities -- such as Alpha Ph i Alpha, Kappa Alpha Psi, Omega Psi Phi, and Delta Sigma Theta were absent. Can this be true?

I don't know, but I've been told that the Booker T. Washington chapter of American Legion w a s not present. Can this be a true statement?

You know this column was well represented.

I will admit that little people can make giant contributions if they are only coached in the right direction. Yes, two little people represented this column in this parade. They were only five and six years of age, but they, too, like the grown-ups walked bit of ground.

Come on, people, let's do a better job in participation. xololololololololololol

Let's take this time and inform you that two of the 'Times' newsdelivers are selling over 100 copies of this paper each week.

The hard working duo include Joyce F. McCormick, 2501 Cedar Avenue, who sells 108 papers each week. A greater distance is Tony Luton, 2713 East 7th Street, who sells 130 papers weekly.

A birthday party was given for Cheryl Flewellen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Flewellen. last Sunday afternoon, May 28, at 3:00 p.m. at 4302 East 64th Cheryl reported a wonderful afternoon with her friends. ***

Mrs. Thersa Richie, a native of Wichita Falls, Texas, visited with relatives over week-end, but did return home Tuesday.

Her primary reason for being here was to watch the Mary & Mac graduation which was held last Sunday afternoon.

She is a sister to Mrs. L.S. Graves and Mrs. April Rose Anderson.

Mr. and Mrs. Dana Phillips of Morgan, Texas -- Mr. and Mrs. Harden Furlough and their three children of Abbott, Texas attended the graduation exercises at Dunbar High School last Friday evening. Their grand-daughter and daughter, Rita Kinner, was a member of the graduation class.

They returned late Saturday. ************

Mrs. Arlaffay Childress of San Antonio, Texas spent the weekend here visiting her brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stevens, and other relatives.

She visited at Bethel A.M.E. Church Sunday morning where she held her membership when she was a resident.

Lubbock newcomer families to date this year total 1,226 after addition of 69 families were added this week.

The new figures are well above comparable numbers, with 1, 177 families reported at this date in 1966.

Among the college students home for the summer and a brief visit are Vickie Kyle from Prairei View, and Freddie Simmons from Texas Southern University. He will return next week to begin the summer session.

'Around the Hub City, "Lucky Me, I'll Be In Lubbock"

"LUCKY ME, I'LL BE IN LUBBOCK during the month of June, and I'll be expecting to seeing you, " admits vivacious Tammie Starr, one of the stars of the renown 'AL BRAGG SHOW'.

The lovely Texan, with measurements of 35-22-38, has appeared throughout the country --- and now, you'll have an opportunity of seeing her perform, and, yes, talk to her.

Mary & Mac Commencement Held

of Mary & Mac Private School, second in the history of this 12 year old institution, were held at the South Plains Boys' Club last Sunday afternoon, May 28, at 3:00 p.m.

The Reverend A.L. Dunn, pastor of the New Hope Baptist Church, gave the invocation while the Reverend Joel Mann, pastor of the Friendship Holy Baptist Church, administered the benediction.

The Mary & Mac Acappella Choir rendered two numbers to the program. They sung their version of "Climb Every Mountain" and "Born To Be Free."

Julius Caesar Graves, III, one of the graduates, played a saxophone entitled "The Shadow of Your Smile."

The theme of this program was "A Community of Learning." Each graduate gave their interpetation of this school as an institution of community learning.

Julius Caesar Graves, III served as chairman while Velma Mae Nash and James Milton Scruggs completed the team.

Special recognition was given to Julius when he received an award from the Boy Scouts of America which was presented to him by Murlin Derebery, vice president of Plains National Pank.

Theodore Phea, Jr., director of the South Plains Branch Boys' Club, presented Julius with an award for his participation with this branch. He made it known to the audience that he (Julius) h a d accomplished a fete which had never been set by any other boys' club in the city when he brought fifty new members to this branch.

Julius Caesar Graves, II, presented the proud trio with their diplomas and cautioned each of them of perilous journey which they will encounter.

Mrs. Lucille S. Graves, principal and founder of this institution, left on the minds of the graduates as well as the audience

Mrs. Vivian Cooke displayed h e r talent at the organ as she played"Pomp And Circumstances" during the processional and recessional.

A tasteful reception was held immediately following the program at the Mary & Mac school auditorium.

Summer School Starts Friday

School is not out for some. You see, summer school classes for Lubbock Public Schools will begin tomorrow, Friday, with registration today, Thursday.

Senior high school courses are scheduled at Coronado High School, headed by Knox Williams. Gordon Deering will be principal for the junior high level for classes conducted at Thompson Junior High School, and, of course, summer school for elementary pupils is slated for Dupre Elementary School. Woodie Coleis head of the elementary school summer session.

Mary & Mac School, a private school located at 902 East 28th Street, plans registration of students June 5 with classes to begin the following day.

Tution will be charged for all courses, except for homemaking scheduled in each of the public junior highs and at Coronado High during June, July and or August.

Drivers education training will be offered by the public schools at Coronado High School only to students who have completed the ninth grade.

The public schools, along with Mary & Mac, will end summer session July 28.

Youngster Drowns While Fishing

Little Joe Melton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Melton, Jr., 2405 East 7th Street, drowned in the rain-swollen waters of the Double Mountain Fork of the Brazos River in Brazos River in southeast Lubbock early Sunday

The youth was pronounced dead by Peace Justice Wayne LeCroy after firemen pulled his body from the swirling river about 100 yards down stream from where he fell shortly after 1:00 p.m.

According to Lecroy, this death would enter an inquest verdict listing the death as an accidential drowning.

The body was found by Jim Settle, an off-duty fireman who happened to be passing the site of the drowning, beneath the Loop 2 8 9 overpass at Yellowhouse Canyon near East 50th Street, when the alarm was sounded.

Methodist Hospital School of Nursing graduation exercises will be held Friday, June 2, at 8:00 p.m., at the First Methodist Church. Dr. John H. Selby will make the principal address. Dr. A. Lee Hewitt will provide special entertainment and Dr. Edward A. Downs will serve as organist. The 23 graduating seniors will be presented by Mrs. Dolly N. Fraley, R. N., director of Methodist Hospital School of Nursing. Presentation of awards will be by Mr. George M. Brewer, administrator of the hospital. The awards to be presented are as follows: The graduate with the highest sxholastic rating is presented a monetary award (Krueger Award) by the Krueger family in memory of Dr. J. T. Krueger, Sr. The person ranking second, scholastically, receives the Alumnae Award, one which pays one year's membership. in the District Number 18, Texas Nurses Association. The Inez Hines Award is a monetary award presented to the best all-around graduate yb the class of 1954 of the Methodist Hospital School of Nursing. The Dr. and Mrs. Royce Lewis Award is a monetary award presented to the graduate designated as the "Best Operating Room Nurse."

The 23 graduates and their home towns are: Mrs. Ann Miller Chapman, Mrs.

Mrs. Jo Terry Erwin, Miss Estelle Fair. Mrs. June Powers Hamilton, Miss Fidela Perez, all of Lubbock; Mrs. Sharon Nix Barrett, Miss Susan Garrett of Hobbs, New Mexico; Miss Dixie Bruce, Miss Jo Goodson, of Midland; Mrs. Sandra Bently Finnell of Enid, Oklahoma; Miss Ann Fisher, Mrs. Joan Malone Lothringer, Miss Mary Nitengale,

Firemen had been probing the stream when Settle located the body in about four feet of water. Investigators estimated it had been in the water about 30 min-

LeCroy said the child had been on an outing with his father, his brothers, Albert, III, 7, and Paul 3, and sister, Sharon Ann, 6.

According to authorities, they were told the children were playing near the water's edge and that the drowning happened from it.

Fireman Paul Humphries said t h e stream was swift near the center, but somewhat slower moving at the edges where the water was about "chest deep." He went to add that there were deep holes in the river.

The child's body was taken to Jamison Funeral Home where arrangements were pending as late as Tuesday morning.

FINAL RITES SCHEDULED Final rites for Marsha G. Tra-venia, 7 month old daughter of Mr. & Mrs. Tola Travenia, Jr., will be read in Jamison Funeral Chapelat 2:00 p.m. today, June 1st. She was survived by two older sisters, Lesia, 3 years and Cheryl, 17 months.

The twenty-fourth summer program got underway at the South Plains Branch Boys' Club, along with the other two clubs, Monday morning.

Hours will be from 9:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. and from 1 to 7 p.m. Monday through Friday. The club will not be open Saturdays or Sundays during the sum-

Members of the South Plains Branch will swim from 2 to 3 p.m. e a c h Monday, Wednesday and Friday at Mae Simmons pool.

Aside from the many special events and activities that are on tap this summer, baseball league w i l l get under way tomorrow, Friday, June 2.

This branch has plans for a watermelon feast, Olympic Days, special tours, field events, bicycle rodeo and movie of the month during the summer montsh.

GREED AND CYNICISM

In a nation where people love freedom; where they know the truth where they consider the rights of individuals as sacred; and where they have character to fight for the freedom they cherish—people will habitually resist every act of Government that is an encroachment upon the sacred rights of individuals. They will resist so consistently and noisily that, in every instance, government will have to prove its case before violating citizens rights; government will have to prove the public need is so great and self-evident that all reasonable men concede the necessity, in this one instance of sacrificing individual rights for the good of the whole people HAS NOT BEEN PROVED BY URBAN RENEWALIN LUBBOCK!...When government reaches for more power in order to do things for the "public good", there are always SPECIAL interest and individuals who stand to profit from the proposed governmental activity.

Please read this, for this is what you receive after you have been forced to sell your property "The property in which you live has been purchased by the Urban Renewal Agency of the City of Lubbook and will be auctioned or demolished and the land redeveloped. You ill expected to move from your present address at a future date, but assistance will be offered to you in finding other quarters which not only meet the requirements of your family andare within your ability to pay, but will also be suitable to you in all respects, providing you live up to your obligations to the Agency." (notice it, you must live up to your obligations to the Agency, but what about the Agency's obligations to you?) Is it obligated to deprive you of your right to own property and do with it as you please? Listen further, "You should begin AT ONCE to look for your own housing resource. Lots are available in the Manhattan Heights area if you care to build a new house." They buy your lots and then try to sell them back to you. Have you noticed how many vacant lots are in this area? Somebody is being disappointed.... Guess who?

And someone is being disappointed about the many empty apartments too. It makes one wonder just how long will it be before these too will be considered as slums? That is the question which is being asked now. That is why so many old citizens are leaving our fair city, the y are afraid to buy property for fear that ir time it too will be condemned and taken away from them to sell to someone else or some firm.

There is a case here among us of a person who has been a citizen of Lubbock since 1924, he is handicapped, being a victim of polio at a very young age, this person refuses to get on the street with a cup to beg, so he struggled at jobs that he could do, and being unable to walk at all it was hard for him to find a job where they would hire him, so he sold newspapers, shined shoes, sold pop bottles, and what ever other little jobs that he could do and saved as much as he could and after many years he had enough to pay down on a home, he even crawled on his hands and knees to work in the snow and rain to keep up payments on his home, and finally, he did get it paid for, then came the Urban Renewal and said, "You must move, we want your home" to sell to someone else." Now what? Oh, they will move him into an apartment and expect him to pay them rent even though he is n o t as young as he use to be, and is handicapped besides, but what difference does that make to them? As long as they can make a profit on it for themselves. (Isn't it wonderful that God is not like man?) Do you get the point? If they put you in an apartment of theirs and y o u pay them rent for it, then they will soon have back the money that they paid you for your home and you will have nothing and still be paying rent (how foxey can you get?). Yet, they are doing this for the good of the people (what people?) -- YOU or THEM? When a man buys a piece of property he wants to feel like he owns it and not that he is paying for something that will soon be taken away from him by some one else at their price and not his own, for when he brought it he had to pay the price that the one who owned it then wanted for it, but after he bought it he is not allowed to set a price on it himself, someone else does it for him--who can say how much another person's property is worth? If a person is allowed to set a price on another person's property and force the person to take it, then another person can do the same (if not why not?) If it is right for one man or group of m e n to set the price on ones property and force him to take their price, then why would not it be right for another man or another group of men to do the same thing? If it is wrong for one, well, it is wrong for the other (If not, why not?).

ILLINOIS FIGHTS BIAS IN BANKS BY TAKING BOLD ACTION

Now here is news, for it is not often that an elected public official searches his conscious and decides to do what he feels is the just and moral thing, no matter what the political repercussions might be. But Illinois State Treasurer Adlai E. Stevenson, III, after much thought, announced that he would not deposit public funds in Illinois banks which discriminate against Negroes in their hiring and lending practices. Stevenson said he would also use state funds to encourage banks to serve the needs of all the people in their community. His theory; if a community has a problem, the bank should make loans in order to help solve the problem.

In his bold new action, Stevenson, noting that taxes are collected from everyone on a nondiscriminatory basis said; "You don't get a tax exemption if your skin is black".

In explaining his new procedure, Stevenson, son of the late Adlai E. Stevenson who was governor of Illinois and U.S. Ambassador ot the United Nations, pointed out; "It's really very simple, and it surprises me that other public treaserers throughout the country haven't adopted a similar policy. We're simply recognizing the fact that taxes are collected from all the people." The Illinois treasurer said he feels that the taxes should be used to benefit all citizens.

"If we learn of a bank or any other financial institution that discriminates, either in employment practices or in the services it renders lending money it's not going to get any state funds from me, " he said. The treasurer added that he will act as "both panel and trial judge. Allfinal decisions will be in my hands." The withholding of funds from bigoted banks, coupled with Stevenson's move to encourage banks to meet the needs of their community will mean much to the staet's Negroes. When qualified, Negroes will be hired by banks and be eligible for loans which heretofore have been denied to them because of color. It was only until recenlty that white banks and white savings and loan associations would lend money to Negroes, and still, many times, It's only to the over-qualified.

White banks still have a reputation in the Negro community for refusing home mortgages to a Negro is the home he seeks is in an all-white area.

As part of his plan for helpnig the banks help their communities, Stevenson has already established or increased deposits in two banks and three savings and loan associations "which are serving the extraordinary needs of Negro neighborhoods on Chicago's South Side."

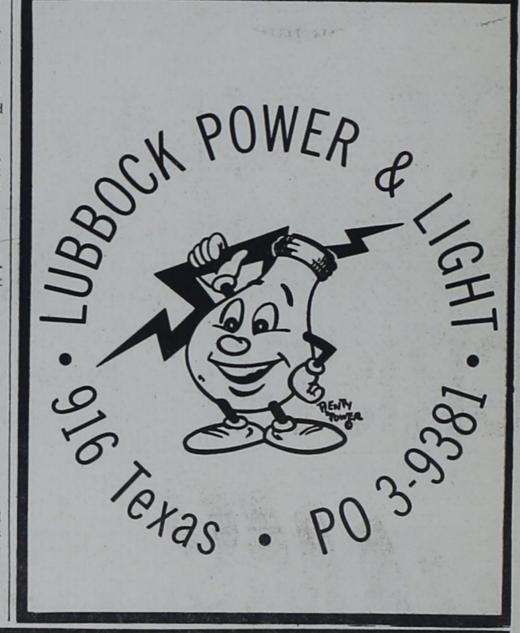

The two banks, Seaway National and Independence, are considered very sound and stable. Seaway is the state's first interracial national bank. Seaway President Harold Algar said Stevenson's new policy will not have a very visible effect immediately, "but as our lending base gets larger we will be able to make more mortgage loans to some home owners and help the small businesses in the area." Algar said Seaway had some state deposits before Stevenson announced his new policy. The state's deposits in both Seaway and Independente are now more than $300,000.

Independence President William R. Franks said his bank will now be able to make more lonas to the small businessman, many of whom are not able to get loans from white institutions. Independence is almost an all-Negro bank. The exceptions are Franke and a white auditor. "This bank has a great many friends in the Negro community, and when white banks end their discrimination, they'll find that they too have many Negro frineds. Actually, they have little choice now; they'll soon be bending over backwards to show goodwill to Negroes," Franke said.

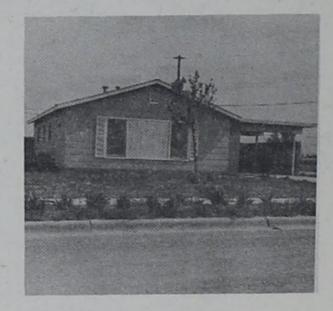

Treasurer Stevenson was lauded for his decision, but much of the

REQUIRED STUDY

Dar Es Salaam -- Under reorganization programs introduced at the Dar Es Salaam University College, a required course of study is politics. The recommendation for inclusion of this as a compulsory course was made by a conference of college staff, government members, workers and cooperative movements.

MAGISTRATE APPOINTED

Lusaka--The first Zambian to be appointed as senior resident magistrate is Godfrey Bill Muwo, 35 year-old lawyer trained at Grey's Inn, London. A former magistrate at Nodla, Broken Hill and Lusaka, he has been attached to the High Court to gain experience in registry work and general administration of the judiciary.

ANOTHER MIXTURE

San Juan--Compulsory military service-with a possible eye on the Vietnam War-is being tied in with the proposed referendum on independence for Puerto Rico. The issue is bieng raised by the independence-minded who are objecting to being drafted for service "in a foreign North American Army." *******

BREAK-UP

Lusaka---(NPI)---Dissolution of the Central African airways and the management and operational control of subsidiary airlines of the CAA corporation by member countries involved are the subjects of talks between senior officials of Zambia, Rhodesia and Malawi currently meeting in Zambian capital. Atentative deadline for completion of all negotiations has been set for next August 31. The airline was a product of the nowdefunct Central African Federation which included Zambia (then Northern Rhodesia), Rhodesia (Southern Rhodesia) and Malawi (Nyasaland) of pre-independence years. ********

IOINT USAGE

Pretoria -- (NPI) -- Portugal, South Africa and Botswana (formerly Bechuanland) have gotte n their heads together to discuss joint usage of the Okavango river, which flows along the border between Angola and Southwest Africa and cuts across the Caprivi strip into Botswana land. The discussions centered around general principles that will govern the joint utilization of water of common interest, and exchange of hydrological and other relevant data.

ALMOST READY

Tokyo--(NPI)--Only 150 more miles to go before the 7,000 miles $690 million highway linking Saigon and Singapore with Paris and London is complete. Called the Asian High way Number 1, it will open up a two-way traffic to the Far East by 1970 through European and Middle Eastern highway networks.

SNAKES

As warm weather approaches, many persons take to the woods and fields where they may encounter snakes. Most snakes in this country are not poisonous and are a boon to mankind because they devour small rodents that damage food crops.

The snakes to fear are the pit vipers(copperheads, cottonmouths and rattlers). They are found in every state where man made buildings have not crowded them out.

When a poisonous snake comes out of hibernation, his venom is highly concentrated. He will not attack a human being, however, cornered.

The rattler is responsible for most cases of snakebites in man. Only about two per cent of the victims die. He does not shake his rattle when he is stalking his prey, but does so as a warning when he is disturbed.

The bite of a pit viper is very painful and is accompanied by swelling and redness in the region of the bite. Whiskey should not be taken for snake bite in spite of its great popularity as a remedy because it speeds up the absorption of the venom.

The victim should lie down and remain as still as possible because activity also favors the rate of absorption. Antivenin should be giv- tourniquet sholud be removed upen as soon as possible. This usually unless he is suddenly surprised or | means getting the victim to a hospital without delay.

The wound should be squeezed forcefully at once, but the squeezing should not be repeated. Suction should then be applied to the wound with a pump which is found in all standard snake bite kits.

If the bite is on the arm or leg. the best course is to keep calm and apply a tourniquet several inches above the bite. If you can get to the hospital within two hours, there is very little danger of a fatal outcome.

Care must be taken not to cut off the flow of arterial blood by too tight a tourniquet. The tourniquet. The tourniquet should be released for a minute in every ten.

Credit for the idea goes to Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr's. Southern Christian Leadership Conference. One of the SCIC's projects in the Chicago area is Operation Breadbasket, and its director, the Rev. Jesse Jackson, first approached Stevenson in January with his plan. Rev. Jackson also contacted Cook County Treasurer Edmund Kucharski and Chicago Mayor Richard I. Daley.

The only one who responded was Stevenson. But since the announcement, Mayor Daley has publicly praised Stevenson's decision, and his city treasurer Marshall Korshak, has since said he will also use the anti-bias banking plan for city funds. No statement has been made by County Treasurer Kucharski, but a spokesman for his office said no funds are deposited in banks which discriminate.

Rev. Jackson's staff is presently planning their next move which will be to make the same proposal to other states and city governments.

"THIS IS ONLY A SAMPLE of the many programs to be featured at the Mae Simmons Community," admits the assistant director, Don Childs.

Parents interested in the Summ e r Program may contact the director, Mrs. Lydia Fury, or Childs at the center.

Many programs are on tap at this modern building during the summer monits as well as throughout the year. The public is cordially invited to any of these.

The director, Leonard Chew, a n d secretary-aide, Mrs. Raymond Peppers, are caught by a 'Times' photographer as they are caught during one of their many tasks in the span of a day at the Multi-Service Center, located at the once Mae Simmons Party House.

This center-having been into execution for over a month-is doing a wonderful job in more ways than one.

Why not contain, at any time, and visit with wir. Chew, in regard to the function of this so badly needed center.

Don't forget, you're welcome.

co-operative, once opposed as a Black Panther Party operation, won its fight to get U.S. support when the office of Economic Opportunity, OEO, in Washington, D. C., granted ti a subsidy. According to farmer Joseph Johnson, chairman of the Southwest Alabama Farming Co-operative Assn., SWAFCA, of Selma. The members wanta self-help program of economic development, crop and livestock diversification and experimentation with higher profit and yield farming. The project will attempt to reverse the trend of Negro farmers leaving a tencounty area because of mechanization, reduced cotton allotments and falling farm prices. The area is one of the nation's most depressed areas. In grnating the coop funds, OEO bucked Alabama Gov. Lurleen Wallace, who announced earlier that she would veto any such programs whereby the Negro farmers would attempt to gain economic security.

Government officials consider the effort significant in testing new assistance programs to help low-income farm families in the Southern black belt. One of the proposals being considered by the organization is the shipping of such crops as okra, cucumbers, peas and sweet potatoes to markets scattered throughout the U. S. It's brand name would be welcomed

(This is a letter received from a member of the Etony Club.)

Dear Club Members:

This letter is in hope that some of you may feel an obligation to reorganize the Ebony Club; seriously requesting that you keep the purpose of the club and our now rapidly growing community in our hearts and minds. We can be a very meaningful influence in every phase of this growth. We know those whom we elected to give leadership. They should return ideas to us, but, actually, s u c h ideas blossom only when encouraged by the membership. We can start with a slogan, "We (the Ebony Club) love our community and the work we do for it shall be thourgh."

My philosophy is, Men an women who accomplish the big thicgs in life have vision, ambit i o n, intelligence and a very generous amount of persistance and patience. You have the first three, I know, because you were an Ebony member, why not develope the other two together?

Any successful organization is built strong like a building and there is a great deal of work to be done by everyone.

It is impossible to include all that must take place to be a successful club. I just hope that maybe you will be inspired as a meaningful influence in our community.

> Sincerely yours, Oliver Walker, Jr.

BIG-TIME SOCCER

Cagliari from Sardinia, Italy, representing the Chicago Mustangs did battle with Dundee United of Scotland, the stand-in for Dallas, as professional league play in the United Soccer Association began for the Mustangs in White Sox park last Sunday, May 28th.

And if all this sounds confusing, it can be explained simply that the United States is launching professional soccer within its shores by importing full-blown professional teams of international soccer status for its initial season.

Cagliari is representing the Mustangs, headed by John W. Allyn, presidetn. The Mustangs are the Chicago entry in the USA. Dundee, therefore, will be playing Cagliari for the Dallas, Texas entry.

The idea behind this setup is to develop real professional soccer in America under USA auspices by having real pro teams to set the standards to which homespun teams should aspire.

"We figure that by next year we should develop enough American players to go with the foreign pros to make our teams really professional," said "Stu" K. Holcomb, the Mustangs' general manager. "We are going to give the American boys a real shot at it."

And so, last Sunday, Chicagoans were treated to professional soccer the way it is played teamwise in South America and Europe. Chicago fans got a sampling of this type of soccer last April 12, when the USA hosted an exhibition game between Red Star of Belgrade, Yugoslavia, and Atletico of Spain. Spain won the closely-contested, rain-splattered contest, three goals to one.

The May 28th game was the home opener for the Mustangs in USA league play, which started May 26, with Washington, repre-sented by Aberdeen from Scotland playing Cleveland. Stoke City from England fepresented Cleve-

The reval National Professional Soccer League jumped the gun and started league play proper last April 18, with the home team, the Chicago Spurs, hosting the St. Louis Stars. The Spurs now rank fourth in the NPSL.

In contrast to the USA, the NPSL decided to go right away with their own U.S.-fashioned professional teams, comprising foreign pros signed to American contracts, plus American-bred players.

From my experience as a former soccer player and observer, professional playing in the NPSL is of second division calibre.

However, the NPSL is tapping a wider market in signing players not only from Europe and South America, but the West Indies and Latin America as well.

New York--NPI--Two studies of Negro opinion have disputed currently held views that Negroes do not support the nation's military policies.

A University of California survey Research Center study found that nearly 90 percent of the Negroes queried indicated a willingness to fight for the United States.

Majorities ranged from 83 per cent in New York to 91 per cent in Birmingham.

Meanwhile, a Louis Harris survey revealed that 48 per cent of 160 Negroes interviewed disagreed with Dr. Martin Luther King's out-

The schedule includes the Tigers Homecoming game against Grambling (La.) College, October 21, as well as a new entry in Bishop College of Dallas, Texas.

The initial meeting of the newly elected operational board of the Multi-Service Center met Thursday, May 25, at 6:30 p.m. with eleven of the twleve elected members present.

Appointed To State Textbook Group

Several months ago, a story appeared in this paper in regard to Miss Clarice Everett, a Levelland school teacher, who was runner-up for Texas "Teachers of the Year" for 1967.

Another story broke last week concerning this outstanding lady in the field of education.

It was learned by this paper t hat she was appointed to the State Textbook Committee for 1967-68 from District 19.

The board is composed of the following people: Mrs. Viola Robinson and Granville Wallace, s e n i o r citizen representative Charles Curry and Almeda Bunt o n, teenager representative; M r s. Ruthie Harris and Quincy White, two young adults; Rev. L. C. Frederick, labor representative; Finnez Skief and Mrs. Ruby L. Davis, two established family representatives; Fredrick Maden, Mrs. Nancy Scott and Howard McBride, men bers at large.

Rev. Fredrick served as chairman of the meeting until the president of the board was chosen by the group.

The following open letter to teenagers first appeared in the "Automatic Machining Magazine." It was brought to us by R.C. Bunting, local Texas Employment Commission manager. The letter might prove helpful to local teenagers seeking scarce summer job ..

Dear Teen:

Today you applied for a job. From the look of your shoulders as you walked out, I suspect you've been turned down before and maybe you believe by now that kids out of high school can't find work.

But several firms hired teen-agers today. You saw some of them.. They were the ones with polished shoes, socks, neckties, who didn't slouch in their chairs, didn't pop a cigarette in their mouths during t h e interview, showed some enthusiasm and an interest in working, didn't chew gum, etc. What was so special about them? Not experience; they didn't have any more than you did. Attitude and appearence, son, that's what put them on the payroll.

They wanted a job badly enough to shuck the wild clothes, put on socks, get haircuts, sit up straight. They did their best to make a good impression; that's where they edged you out.

You see, son, people who hire people these days aren't "with" a lot of things. They know more about Bing than Ringo, and they have some Stone Age ideas about who owes whom a living. Maybe that makes them prehistoric, but there's nothing wrong with the check they sign, and if you want one, you'd do better tune to their wave

They don't care if you are behind in your car payment or have personal problems. They want someone to be interested in THEIR PROBLEMS and to work for THEM.

Look, kid: the only time jobs grew on trees were while most of the manpower was wearing GIs and pulling KP. For the rest of history, you have to get a job the way you get a girl: "Case the situation, wear a clean shirt and try to appear interested." And summer jobs are even harder to come by. Thousands will apply, but only a few hundred will get work. And even though it may befor only a few months, an employer wants somebody who will do a full day's work.

So look sharp, KID, look sharp!!

BETHEL A.M.E. CHURCH

"Thank God", are the sincere words of Rev. A.W. Wilson, pastor, and members of the congregation in regard to the successful launching of the special 'Women's Day Rally' which climaxed at our church last Sunday morning.

This special effort, with the help of thirty-five captains and two co-chairmen--Mrs. Mildred K. Lusk and Mrs. Lillian Struggs, was brought to a most welcome conclusion. The monies raised by these hard-working members will be used to pay off the balance of the church.

During the special program, the Honorable W.D. Rogers, Mayor of Lubbock, delivered a most enjoyable message to the congregation.

Each captain who was instrumental in making this project a success would like to take this time to 'THANK' each of you for your complete cooperation.

Mrs. Sarah Wadley would like to invite any young person interested in participating in the special 'Father's Day' program to please contact her this week.

For further information, you may contact her at PO5-5684.
