

Dedicated to Informing the Negro Citizens of West Texas

'Around the Hub City'

You know it pays to get out and talk to some of your neighbors every now and then.

Last Monday afternoon, I was most fortunate to have an opportunity of talking with a true friend of our community, Mr. George Francis--owner of George's Maintenance Service.

In talking with a wise, honest and religious man as Mr. Francis, one is able to capture in one's mind how important and rewarding it is to help someone.

It was interesting to learn of the many young people he has helped during his long duration in the maintenance business.

According to Francis, he has many experiences--including the time he encouraged a young man to stay in school and today he is employed with one of the largest oil companies in Texas.

Before coming to Lubbock, "AROUND THE HUB CITY" learned that prior to Francis' coming to Lubbock, he had a successful business in San Angelo, but was concerned in coming to Lubbock.

Since he has been here, he has repeated the same type of service he had in San Angelo. Aside from employing scores of people, he has helped in other respects.

This column is happy to meet men like Mr. George Francis, and it is the hope of "AROUND THE HUB CITY" that Lubbock will continue to open the doors to men like MR. GEORGE FRANCIS.

Mr. Wilburt Joiner and Mr. Bill Washington of Giddings, Texas spent a few days here last week.

Mr. Joiner is a brother of Jeff Joiner and Mrs. Elsie Polk.

Mr. Washington, a nephew, came to pick up his wife and children who have been here two weeks as house guest of her aunt, Mrs. Polk.

Largest week of the year to date in Lubbock, insofar as new comer families is concerned, was 111 newcomer families reported in the seven day period.

Only two other weeks, one in June and one in mid July, passed the 100 mark.

Total for the year is 1,951 new families, still slightly trailing the 1966 total, 2,141.

Average number per week this year has been 63 new families.

Mrs. Charlie Mae Johnson is yet a patient at Methodist Hospital where she is suffering from a back injury she received in a city bus-car collision.

Mrs. Justine Morton is home from Reese Base Hospital where she spent eight days. She is recuperating nicely.

Chester H. Griffin, son of Mrs. L.H. Griffin, was injured last Friday afternoon in a motor-cycle accident. He received medical attention and was released from the hospital with a few bone fractures and bruises.

Mr. and Mrs. Royce Simmons and son, Shan, visited in San Antonio, Texas last week.

Mrs. Willie Jewel Sedberry and two children, Sheldon and Cynthia, left last Friday morning for Mexia, Texas for a visit with her mother, Mrs. Precipha, who will return with her.

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Lusk, Jr. and daughter, Linda, spent a few days last week at Fort Worth visiting her father and sisters and family. Returning with them were twin boys, Kervin and Carl, 6 years-old, who will be a part of the family hereafter.

They were adopted by the Lusks. Linda Marie is thrilled to have two brothers

"GHETTO"

The Encyclopedia Britannica states: "Ghetto, formerly the street or quarter of a city in which Jews were compelled to live, enclosed by walls and gates which were locked each night. The term is now used loosely of any locality in a city or country where Jews congregate."

"During the Middle Ages, the Jews were forbidden to leave the Ghetto after sunset when the gates were locked, and they were also imprisoned on Sundays and all Christians Holy days." (The Encyclopedia Britannica, 11 edition, pages 920-921)

Negroes band together in sections like other races and national groups much for the same reasons. Like other racial and national groups, they can buy land, build communities, settle in any section of the country. Like other racial and national groups, they can make their sections as nice and attractive as possible. The maximum business, cultural, sanitary and social services are within their reach as with other groups.

But some, through propaganda, have sold a number of Negro intellectuals the idea that the Negro section of a city is a ghetto; that it is the product of race hate and the inhumanity of white Americans. Therefore, it is a struggle of Negro against "White oppressors" for emancipation.

Naturally, those holding such views have no community pride, no interest in doing anything to improve its services because that would be aiding and abetting "segregation" and maintenance of the "ghetto." Moreover, they oppose any race project inside or outside the Negro section for the same reason. Everything has to be integrated or it is taboo. In this way, they paralyze Negro initiative and resourcefulness, casting the race in the mold of one that is incapable of producing anything for the advancement of society. At the same time, it creates the impression among other racial groups that the Negro waits for them to prepare the banquet so that he can step in and enjoy it.

Obviously, this line of views, leads to the worst kind of mischief. It strengthens and creates racial prejudices and lays the basis for sharp racial conflicts. Shirking social responsibility and blaming other s may be the easy way, but it is not the best way.

Some people describe New York City as a "melting pot." At best this is wishful thinking. The numerous racial and national groups are as easily identified today as ever. The geographical areas where each group settled or resettled remains. Thus, there are in New York German sections, Italian sections, Irish sections, Jewish sections, Puerto Rican sections, Chinese sections, Negro sections and etc. In short, there may be found as many sections as there are national groups or races. National, social, cultural, linguistic, religious and other common factors effect this sectional cleavage. Parades and gala affairs in national costumes are not uncommon. The same may be said of every part of our country. Though these national, racial and religious differences divide them like five fingers on the hand, yet they are one solid fist as American.

There are those who try to exploit these national, racial and religious differences in order to weaken, undermine and subjugate this wonderful COUNTRY of ours. Like a serpent, they use guile to seduce each group. Have you noticed that these enemies of America have at no time even hinted or suggested to any group, other than the NEGRO, that their clannishness or tendency to colonize a given area creates a "GHETTO" or "QUARTERS," Were they to do so, they would be jeered out of each section as crackpots, and they know it.

Evidently these enemies of the American way of life had international propaganda in mind when described Negro sections as "GHETTOS" because the definition of the word Ghetto in no way applies to a Negro section any more than it does to a German, Irish, Jewish, Chinese or any other section in America.

So before we degrade ourselves by rioting and destroying the property of others... let us show these enemies that we are intelligent human beings and don't have to act like wild animals. Let them know that we refuse to do their dirty work for them!!! Show them that we take pride in our country, and that even though our skin is dark---WE are still AMERICANS and are proud of it.

A Young Man On The Go

ANDREW ROSS, JR.

It's always a pleasure to introduce a young man who is trying, beyond any doubt, to make a great contribution to his community.

The young man--which we singled out this week for his duty to his community and the company, Atlanta Life Insurance, he works--is Andrew Ross, 2202 Redbud Avenue.

Ross, a graduate of the Paul L. Dunbar High School of Lub-

Attends TCTA Conference

William Powell and Raymond Peppers, two of the thirteen Lubbock teachers who attended the Texas Classroom Teachers Association (TCTA) leadership conference at Austin, returned home after a successful meeting.

Powell, second vice president of Lubbock Classroom Teachers Association, was elected to represent District 13.

During the conference, teachers were told of a new TCTA book, Texas, has been with Atlanta Life for only one and one half years. During this short duration, he has made a great contribution to this institution.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Ross, Sr. of 3512 Ute Avenue, and is married to the former Miss Rose McCullough---also a graduate of Dunbar.

They are the proud parents of two lovely daughters--Monica Denise and Cherle.

Aside from his contributions to his community, Ross served three years in the United States Air Force.

The happy Ross family is a member of the Rising Star Baptist Church.

"I welcome the opportunity of explaining the many opportunities the institution, Atlanta Life, has for you," admits Ross.

PATRICIA MOORE

Today we see in affect the youth of our church at work. This has only been brought about by training done on the part of our parents and our church. Each child that you see here today has had some form of teaching about the worshipping of Christ. Our parents and church have worked together trying to install in every child's mind that which was ask of them in Pro. 22:6 and Eph. 6:4: "Train up a child in the way he should go and when he is old, he will not depart from it." "And, if fathers, provoke not your children to wrath; but bring them up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord."

We can tell by the position that the world is in today that there are some parents who didn't follow these instructions. It has been said concerning the importance of child training that children who are allowed to come up to manhood or womanhood with the will undisciplined and passions uncontrolled, will generally in after life pursue a course which God condemns. The neglect of

Nursing School Pre-Exams Here

A pre-entrance test will be given August 18, at 1 p.m. at Lubbock School of Vocational Nursing, 1302 19th Street, for persons interested in enrolling in the fall class for vocational nurses.

Additional information on requirements and costs may be obtained by telephoning the school at PO3-9612.

committee on curriculum and program development and a curriculum center at TCTA headquarters. The center will have latest developments in curriculum contest, studies and practices.

The committee reported results of research by the National Education project on instruction and the conclusion of the project that not less than one per cent of a school's budget should be spent for research.

Other reports covered work on certification, accreditation and professional standards, status of the teaching profession and teacher's rights and responsibilities.

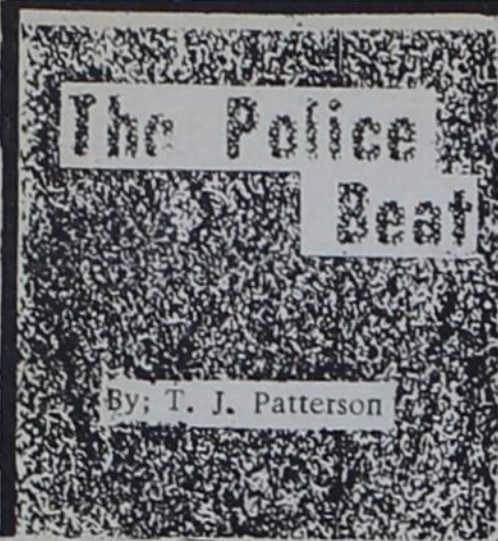

parents to properly discipline their children has been a fruitful source of evil in many families. The youth have not been restrained as they should have been. Parents have neglected to follow the directions of the Word of God in this matter, and the children have taken the reins of government into their own hands. The consequence has been that they have generally succeeded in ruling their parents instead of being under authority. We've often heard the saying: "The hand that rules the world is the hand that rock the cradle." But it seems that the hand that is trying to rule the world is the one that was being rocked.

It is true that no parent knows the future of their child. But God knows as He did in the cases of Moses, Esther and Timothy.

Whether it is His purpose for some of our children to rule the world, as did Joseph and David virtually as prime ministers; or for some of them to stand before kings as did Moses, Esther and Daniel; or for some of them to serve and suffer for the name of Christ, as did Peter, John and Paul, it is our sacred privilege to teach the children faithfully and diligently during their tender years.

As a rule, children will reflect the life and principles manifested in their parents. The reason why so many children are irreverent, irreligious and disobedient today is because their parents are so. Like parents like child. If parents would see a different state of things, they must, themselves, reform. They must bring God into their homes and make His word their counselor and guide. They must teach their children the fear of God, and that His word is the voice of God addressed to them, and that it is to be implicitly obeyed. In too many households, prayer is neglected. If ever there was a time when every house should be a house of prayer---it is now. Father and mother should often lift up their hearts to God in humble supplication for themselves and their children.

Let the father, as the priest of the household, lay upon the altar of God--morning and evening--sacrifice; while the wife and continue on page 2

VANDALISM

Zebbie Lethridge, 2724 East 3rd, reported to the Lubbock Police Department this week that someone took a sharp instrument, possibly a knife, and slashed all four tires on her 67 model automobile.

Mrs. Lethridge has no idea who could have done such an ugly act.

What has happened to Mrs. Lethridge could have happened to you or me.

You know, it pays to be good neighbors. I said that to say, we should protect each others properties.

One hope, one day, that we as neighbors will be more concerned about our neighbors properties.

THEFT

Charles Davis, 2712 East 10th Street, reported that someone had broken into his automobile and took two head rests and a stereo.

NATIONAL OFFICE

The first Negro to hold a major salaried office in the United Church of Christ is the Rev. Joseph H. Evans, pastor of the Church of the Good Shepherd, who won election during the recent convention in Cincinnati for the post of national secretary. The election makes him the first Negro to be named to a top executive post in the predominantly white denomination which boasts Negro membership of less than three per cent.

MOVIE PRODUCER

Versatile Bill Cosby, star of the television series, "I Spy," and a top artist in the comedy recording field, is about to embark on a motion picture producing career. The word is out that Cosby will play a dramatic starring role in "Busman's Holiday" which is being produced by his own company. It's about a Negro bus driver who decides to "cool it" and takes off for California in his company's bus.

KING 'TOUCHED' BY GIFT

Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. said he was "deeply touched and gratified" to learn he was named beneficiary of the bulk of the estate of the late poet-satirist, Dorothy Parker.

Miss Parker's will stipulates that Dr. King is to receive "all of the cash and negotiable securities" of her estate after payment of any debt plus the proceeds of a trust fund. He is expected to receive around ten thousand dollars in semi-annual payments. Upon this death, the principal of the trust will go outright to the NAACP.

TWO CITIES WITH WELFARE TIE-UP

Not long after a walkout of public aid workers ended in Chicago, a similar work stoppage began in New York. The welfare department reported ten (10) arrests and 250 suspensions of non-working caseworkers as New York welfare tie-up continued.

Groups representing welfare clients demanded an end to the work stoppage. The city wide Council Coordinating Committee of Welfare Group, a client organization, warned that a 'nightmare' situation was developing. Thousands of children were destined to go hungry, as clients stood in long lines outside welfare centers waiting for services, the committee said. On the other hand, the Social Services Employees Union, representing some 6,500 caseworkers, accused the city of 'locking' out employees at welfare centers.

SUPER SPOOK

The Watts Community, scene of violent racial disorders last year, recently played host to an anti-minstrel play called "The Super Spook Show," presented by the Watts Repertory Theatre Company.

The play, starring Earl Cook as "Super Spook" centered on the exploitation of Negroes by both white and Negro opportunists. Both the dramatic and the comic were mixed together in the stage action.
