

Dedicated to Informing the Negro Citizens of West Texas

SENATOR BARBARA JORDAN TO SPEAK HERE

'Around the Hub City'

Those fighting Dunbar Panthers were hot last Saturday night at Midland, Texas. They didn't give the Carver eleven a fighting chance as they (Panthers) scored a handful of touchdowns.

Let's stay behind our boys as they continue their schedule with Wichita Falls Washington this Saturday.

The Panthers will travel to Wichita Falls.

The Mom and Dad's Club met at Dunbar High School Monday evening at 8:00 p.m.

All interested persons who would like to make a contribution toward the welfare of the Panthers are invited to join this organization.

Newcomer families in Lubbock were tallied last week at 2,292 to date this year, 434 families less than reported at comparable date in 1966.

Last week's group included 45 new families.

It has been learned that the Dunbar Alumni Club will meet in the very near future.

For a definite date, why not ask Prentis Williams who is the president.

Jimmie Theresa Walker, who is enrolled at West Texas State University at Canyon, Texas, spent the week-end at home.

She began classes Monday morning. "So far, so good," admits Walker.

She returned Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Maurice Johnson of Denver, Colorado is visiting her sister, Mrs. C.B. Smith, and also her mother, Mrs. C. Richardson.

Mrs. Lovie McCutcheon, who had surgery at Methodist Hospital last week, is reported doing nicely.

Mrs. C. Wilson is ill at her home. Mr. Solone Cunningham is home from the hospital where he went through the clinic last week.

The Man on East Broadway says if everyone would take the first six months of each year minding their business, they would be so tired the remaining six months they wouldn't have time to mind other people's business.

Personally, I think this is well said. Don't you?

The Federation of Choirs will meet Sunday, September 24, at the Greater Saint Luke Baptist Church. The New Galilee Baptist Church at Carlisle community is host church.

Mrs. Vollie B. Blanton of San Francisco, California is visiting her sister-in-law, Mrs. Lovie McCutcheon who is a patient at Methodist Hospital.

Any young boys interested in selling the Manhattan Heights and West Texas Times are asked to contact Mr. Hubert Alexander at SH7-4419.

Formal registration is set this week in seven public schools here where Adult Basic Education classes will be taught beginning this week.

The free classes started Wednesday night at Sator and Alderson Junior High Schools and at Ella Iles, Wheatley, Guadalupe, McWhorter and Wolffarth Elementary schools.

Since there are many of you

ODORS GONE FROM AREA

What's happened to the obnoxious odors that have plagued the citizens of Southeastern Lubbock for the past several years? They've gone for a while. This signifies a small victory for Southeast Lubbock. Of course, there are other victories, too---among them a proposal to begin immediately to phase out the present trash dump, of which is to be completed by early spring; the sewerage processing vats will be renovated to an odorless process and the parks in this area will be improved.

These victories were the results of much work, meetings, telephone calls and telegrams, and most notably, the embarrassing publicity that the City of Lubbock and its elected officials received when a group of Southeast Lubbock citizens went before the City Council to bring attention to conditions in the area.

As a consequence of the unfavorable publicity, two of Southeast Lubbock citizens, Rev. A.W. Wilson and Roy Anderson, was given positions on the Citizen's Advisory Committee to study the problems and find solutions. These two citizens have given hours of their time in meetings and study sessions---and as a result the above mentioned victories were brought about.

Fair Starts Monday

Nearly 150,000 students and 5,000 teachers from throughout the area are being invited to the 50th annual Panhandle South Plains Fair as guests of the fair association.

Free admission tickets are being mailed to all South Plains area schools as the fair gears to celebrate its golden anniversary here September 25-30.

Already activity is humming at the fairgrounds, where expanded and improved facilities are being whipped into shape.

Five "special" days have been scheduled. Area students and teachers will be honored guests on opening day, when the gigantic parade of bands will launch the weeklong festivities.

On Tuesday and Wednesday, Lubbock students will pour through the turnstiles. Half of the Hub City students will be dismissed at 2 p.m. on Tuesday and the remaining pupils will attend the following afternoon.

Schools scheduled to dismiss on Tuesday include Dunbar, Lubbock High, Estacado, Alderson, Hutchinson, Matthews, Struggs, Thompson, Arnett, Bozeman, Carter, Dupre, Guadalupe, Hunt, Earnest Butler, Jr.

Ella Iles, Jackson, McWhorter, N. Avenue U., Parkway, Posey, Sanders, Tubbs, Wheatley, Roscoe Wilson, Wolffarth and Wright. Those not named above will dismiss classes early Wednesday.

Fair officials are hopeful that last year's record attendance will be broken during the golden anniversary edition.

WATCH FOR THE LITTLE GUY.... HE NEEDS YOU

Promoted To Sales Representative

Mr. Sam Mitchell, an employee of the Southwestern Public Service Company for 27 years as mail clerk, was promoted sales representative September 18, 1967.

A long time resident of Lubbock, Mitchell is married to Mrs.

who are graduates of Bishop or Wiley Colleges, I am sure you would like to know the results in annual rival football game between the pair last Saturday afternoon at Marshall, Texas.

It was learned that Bishop was defeated by Wiley, 12-0.

Actually, I am a Bishop grad but we can't win them all.

Pearl B. Mitchell and they reside at 2702 Teak Avenue. They are proud parents of a daughter, Mrs. Thelma Mitchell Logan.

Mitchell is an active member of Rising Star Baptist Church where he is a member of the Deacon Board. Aside from this, he is a member of the Masonic Lodge #328.

"I think this is one of the greatest things ever happen in Lubbock, it is a giant step forward in this industry," admits Mitchell.

DRIVE CAREFULL AND WATCH THE LITTLE GUY

Senator Barbara Jordan

The Honorable Barbara Jordan, Senator 11th District, will be guest speaker here Tuesday, September 26, at 7:30 p.m. at a banquet at Coop Oil Mill.

She is the first Negro since 1883 to serve as Senator in Texas and first Negro woman to hold such a position in this state.

Senator Jordan, a native of Houston where she attended Texas Southern University and was Magna Cum Laude, received her LL.B degree from Boston University School of Law in 1959.

She is a member of the Massachusetts Bar, State Bar of Texas, American Bar Association, Houston Lawyers Association (Past President) and Texas Trial Lawyers Association.

Other memberships include the Houston Council on Human Relations, Board Steering Committee, Harris County Democrats, N. A. A. C. P., Harris County Council of Organizations, Neighborhood Centers Association, Day Care Association, Julius C. Hester House, Southern Regional Council and Board of Directors, Alley Theatre, 1967-70.

Senator Jordan has taught political science at Tuskegee Institute, Tuskegee, Alabama.

Aside from this, she has lectured at the University of Houston, South Texas College, Rice University; Deep South of Human Relations Conference, New Orleans; National Student YWCA Human Relations Workshop, Chicago, 1963-64; United Church Women of Oklahoma; Methodist Missions School, Fayetteville, Arkansas.

Senator Jordan's standing committee assignments, 60th Legislature, include Vice Chairman, Labor and Management Relations member, State Affairs, Education, Jurisprudence, Privileges and Elections, Nominations and Interstate Cooperation.

Being the first Negro to preside over Texas Senate (March 21, 1967) also set a record for the first Negro woman to preside over a State Senate in the United States.

This year she was appointed one of five Senators to Texas

Legislative Council, a research arm of the Texas Legislature, for the 1967-1968 interim. (First freshman Senator ever named to this Council since its creation in 1949).

United Press International (UPI) selected Senator Jordan this year as one of the top ten most influential women in Texas.

Earnest Butler, Jr., 2610 Ivory Avenue, is the chairman of the committee who is responsible for the State Senator to appear in the City of Lubbock.

This civic effort is one of the many efforts which will be apart of the citizens of the community.

The public is cordially invited to attend the banquet. A tea will be given in her honor at the In Town Inn Motel from 4-6 p.m. Tuesday afternoon.

The Senator will arrive in our city at 3:13 p.m.

South Plains Launch Program

Lubbock's three Boys' Clubs launched their fall program last week end with many activities for the young men of the area.

These programs were planned to introduce boys, parents and guest to activities and facilities at the clubs.

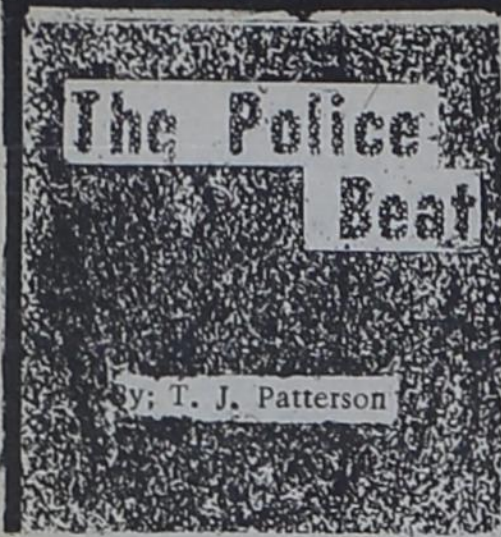

Races were the order of the day at the South Plains Lions Branch, 1801 East 24th Street. About 63 persons were present.

Division winners in potato sack races were: 8-10 years of age, Bobby Taylor, first and David Anderson, second; 11-13, Johnny Henderson, first and Stanley Newman, second; and 14-16, Don Phillips, first and Horace Cleveland, second.

Door prize winners were N.C. Cain, first, a Boys' Club jacket, and Don Phillips, second, a Boys' Club Sweatshirt.

The club held a pre-opening "Bring-a-Buddy Day" party Friday night to which 36 members brought friends.

ASSUALT

Louvenia Jordan, 1918 East 15th Street, told police that a man hit her in the head with a beer bottle. According to the police, the remains of the bottle was found on the floor.

Jordan refused to go to the hospital by ambulance, but did go by automobile.

The man was in a drunken condition.

There were cuts from the smattered beer bottle on her left eye. She said that she definitely would file charges.

VANDALISM

John Milligan, 1511 East 19th Street, reported to the Lubbock Police Department that someone did take five cases of frozen chickens from his trailer which was parked.

In all, approximately 180 chickens were taken.

The trailer did have seals on the rear gate, but they were broken.

BREAK IN

Willie Anderson, 1720 East 1st Street, reported that someone broke into his service station, Phillips Station, and took an undetermined amount of money from the register.

Entry was gained by breaking the lowered window. Approximately $45 worth damage was done in the break-in.

STABBING

Arthur Williams, 1817 Avenue A, told police that a 58-year-old man stabbed him with a knife.

He stated that no fight or argument had taken place prior to the stabbing.

According to Williams, the man just walked into a cafe and began stabbing him.

He was stabbed in the left shoulder.

Williams said that he would file charges, but didn't know his correct name.

STABBING

Chester Arbour Stewart, 1617 Avenue A, reported that an unknown man approached him and stabbed him in the left chest with a small pocket knife.

TIP TO YOU

Parents, since school has begun, let's be more concerned as to where our little ones are at all times and what they are doing.

It's better to be concerned about them now, than to worry our minds to 'death' tomorrow.

These young people are tomorrow's adults--our leaders--so let's be more concerned.

IN WAR ON POVERTY . . .

by LEON L. LEWIS

Back in the depression when everybody--or at least a majority of the people--were poor, it wasn't so humiliating, you might say. But now, you can't have any dignity in being poor.

But dignity, and perhaps a great deal more, may come from participation in community effort, from projects of self help--and even from political action.

That is the story behind the controversial words in Title II of the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964, requiring that Community Action Programs be "developed, conducted, and administered with the maximum feasible participation of residents of the areas and members of the groups" to be aided.

The argument is unsettled about the original intent of "maximum feasible participation." Some drafters of the law may indeed have revolutionary implications in mind; more likely, however, the words merely reflected an amiable notion that poor people, from the areas concerned, should be employed wherever possible in the anti-poverty projects that were to be created throughout the country.

Civil rights groups first caught the potentials of this phrase and infused it with its present dynamism.

Whatever the origin--whatever the intent--"maximum feasible participation" is now the shibboleth of the true believers in the War On Poverty. For them it is the war cry of a policy that commands not merely that the poor shall work in the programs, but that they shall originate, develop and rule on them.

The far-outers take the final step, they declare that the poor must be in essential control.

The emerging controversy over the involvement of the poor in some areas had its roots in relatively moderate ideologies--self help, local autonomy, democratic collective action, and....the importance of ethnic separatism. The struggle, in short, is the tradition of urban politics and nothing more.

It may be asking too much of established power groups to recognize the value of this development, but it must be said, in any case, that they are not being confronted with anything resembling a revolutionary movement.

However, quick judgment about participation of the poor can be deceptive. The program is relatively new and has been obstinately slow in getting underway. It is now picking up considerable steam. Further, the very poor tend to be withdrawn, almost furtive; organization and joint action, almost second nature in a middle class culture, is an unfamiliar concept. They will be slow to move.

The actual facts of our social and political and economic strata are sometimes vehemently disgusting. But we are a part of that system, as well as promoters of it. We haven't heard anything from the thousands of poor people whom the program is supposed to benefit. Maybe they don't care what's happening--or just don't know.

For my own information, I asked a man in an area that shows need for anti-poverty, "Do you know what War On Poverty is?"

"War On Poverty? It seems like I heard something about it. Do I know what it is? No, I can't say I do. It has something to do with the government. I couldn't do no work anyway. I got hurt on a job sometime back."

Whether there will some day be truly "maximum" involvement of the poor depends on the consequences of the present far-from-maximum start. If community action projects result in real and visible, even in small improvements in slum living standards, in concrete victories won from City Hall, in evident corrections of gnawing grievances, then the American social and political scene will surely see established in its midst a new institution, the organized poor.

If we kill it or retard it, the early momentum, not too powerful as it is, will be lost; the venture will be a sour disappointment.

A second guarantee of failure, and one that deeply worries some of OEO's present and past intellectuals, is that the representatives of the poor will either be taken into camp by the Establishment, or never really get their noses into the command tent.

Dunbar Blanks Carver 41-0

Those fighting Dunbar Panthers resumed their winning ways last Saturday at Midland after an opening game loss to Fort Worth Kirkpatrick as they completed mauling Midland Carver 41-0.

Dunbar was in command during the entire game as Carver didn't come close to scratching the scoreboard as the Panthers allowed them only 45 yards total offense all night.

Dunbar scored in the first period and early in the second stanza after the defensive line infiltrated the Hornets' backfield to block punts.

Lionel Howard got the first tally on a one-yard dive, and quarterback Wayne Davis booted the point.

Davis scooted the final 24 yards on the second touchdown with Howard carrying for the two pointer to give the Panthers a 15-0 lead.

Before half-time, a partially blocked Carver kick that covered but nine yards gave the Panthers the ball on the Dunbar 39, and from there Davis moved the club in for the score with Howard again getting the call from the one. Davis booted the point and Dunbar led at half-time 21-0.

Davis, who carried 12 times for 61 yards and completed three of seven passes for 49 yards before retiring in favor of Trent Cox late in the game, opened the second half scoring on a 12 yard scamper that climaxed a drive of 35 yards.

It was the final stanza before Howard and Davis gave way to fullback Sidney Hall in the scoring race, but Hall got into the record books with a one-yard plunge that made the score 34-0.

Eric Gambel put the finishing touches on the scoring, snagging a 30-yard aerial from Davis as time ran out. Austin Baldwin booted the point for the final 41-0 margin.

Howard, who carried the brunt of the Panther attack, managed 29 yards on 13 carries, while Hall finished the game with the best average, getting 46 yards on 9 tries. Charles Sims added 48 yards on 11 carries to the Dunbar offense.

BETHEL A.M.E. CHURCH

Members of Bethel, with the help of their sister churches of the city and Slaton, honored Rev. and Mrs. A.W. Wilson, in their 15th year of service to the church and our community.

Through the week, services were conducted by Bro. F.E. Brown, while Rev. S.R. Roberts delivered the closing sermon last Sunday afternoon.

A very nice financial report was presented to the pastor and wife; plus the many nice gifts.

Visiting these services each week night was Mrs. Maxine McCann of Los Angeles who is visiting her mother and family at the Carlisle Community.

Services were largely attended Sunday morning.

Bro. F.E. Brown delivered the message.

Among the visitors worshipping were Danny Hardaway of Lawton who is attending Texas Tech, Mrs. Maurice Johnson of Denver, Colorado and Mr. and Mrs. J.

Moreland.

ANTIOCH BAPTIST CHURCH

The True Light Gospel Singers of Midland, Texas will appear at our church Sunday afternoon and evening, at 3 and 8 p.m., in a special spiritual program.

Our church, which is located at 1310 East 17th Street, extends a cordially invitation to each of you.

Rev. C.D. Collins is pastor.
