"AROUND THE HUB CITY" traveled to Amarillo, Texas last Saturday to visit with some friends of the 'Hub City'.

I must admit, the view one sees coming into the City Limits of our northern friend (Amarillo) is rather impressive, but once driving around...well, you wouldn't exchange it for Lubbock.

Henry Crawford, a teacher in the Amarillo Public School System, was more than cooperative in showing us around the city.

While there, it was learned that Carver High School will not be a secondary school come this September.

I wonder what did happen?

'HAPPY BIRTHDAY' from us to YOU, Mrs. Bobbie Jean Patterson. May you have many more like this one. GOOD LUCK!!

Mrs. Idell Smith of Stamford, Texas spent the week-end here visiting old time friends.

While here, she worshipped at Bethel A.M.E. Church Sunday. She was in company with Mrs. Louise Wright who also visited friends and relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. P. F. Fowler of Colorado City, Texas spent the week-end here visiting their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. E.C. Struggs.

Mrs. Leaner Goldstein and son, Cedric, and Mrs. Nellie Fuller motored to Big Springs, Texas last Sunday for a visit with their brother who is confined there and has under-gone surgery.

Funeral services for Mrs. Annie Mae Milus, former resident of Lubbock, was conducted Monday, May 1, at the Martin and Jones Funeral Chapel, 4200 Broadway, North Highland, California, a suburb of Sacramento, California.

Mrs. Milus is a sister of Mrs. Richard Ludd; Mrs. Modene Washington, a former employee at the Atlanta Life Insurance Company here, is her daughter.

Don't forget the special program to appear at the E.C. Struggs Junior High School.

The members of this P.T.A. are presenting the famous Fully-love Gospel Singers.

According to Leonard Chew, new director of the Multi-Service Center to be located at the Mae Simmons Party House, the aides should be hired no later than this week.

This center, designed for more than a dozen situations, is expected to be the answer to many of the problems existing in the area.

Last Thursday evening at the New Hope Baptist Church, the first of two MASS MEETINGS was held. TONIGHT, Thursday, May 4th, at 8:00 p.m. in the auditorium of the E.C. Struggs Junior High School, an organizational meeting will be held.

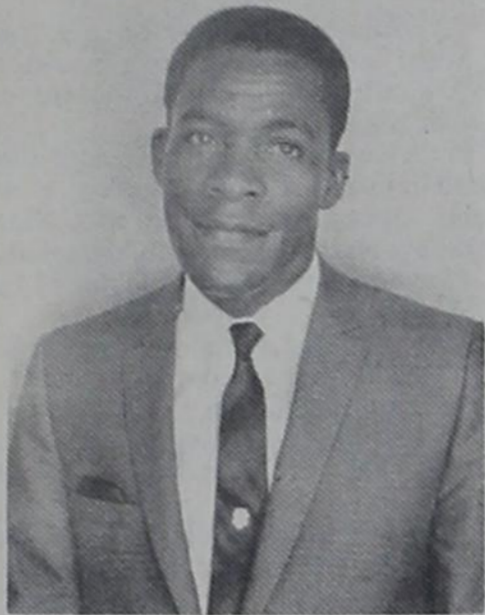

PLEASE come out and attend this meeting. This program is YOURS... And your presence is WANTED....

According to T.J. Patterson, the names of individuals appearing in the column 'WANTED' last week was very much concerned about their names appearing.

Actually, these names were there for a reason...and a very GOOD ONE....

If you have any news that you would like to appear in this column then please let us know about it. If again, you know of someone who would like to become a weekly reader and there is no one delivering the paper, TIMES, than please let us know.

New Salesman At Modern

Another young man moving up in the field of salesmanship is W. M. "Bill" Raven, a new comer to the staff of Modern Chevrolet, at 2420 4th Street, (4th & College). Having been with the company for some months, Bill welcomes the opportunity with an open hand. "I like this type of work real fine", smiled Bill when asked by a reporter for the "Times".

Raven is a native of Marshall, Texas, where he graduated from the Pemberton High School. Prior to working with Modern, he was employed by the Lubbock National Bank.

He is happily married to Mrs. Hester Raven, and they are the proud parents of two children, William, Jr., and Donna. The Ravens reside at 2704 East 8th Street. They are members of the Greater St. Luke Baptist Church.

Being a young man who likes working with and for people, Bill would extend an invitation to each of you to come by and visit with him. "I appreciate all fo you who have come by in the past," Bill stated.

There are many opportunities open to young people, male and female. Like Bill Raven, the door to success is open if you are willing to pay the price..hard work.

Medlock Sets Mark At Corpus Meet

Robert Medlock, the speed demon at Dunbar, established a new Little State Meet record in the 100-yard dash at Corpus Christi last Saturday night before several thousand fans when he raced to his second time of 9.4 for the year.

Although the Panthers didn't come close to setting a new national record in the 440-yard relay although they won in 41.9. Their best time for the year was 41.4.

Claudell Morgan, flashy Dunbar runner, was third in the century with a noticable 9.5, being nosed out by Johnny Gentry of Ector for second spot. Gentry is the only sprinter to beat Medlock all year.

In addition to these events, the Dunbar group was fifth in the 880 relay in a time of 1:29.4, third in the mile relay in 3:17.8, (its best time of the year) and Wayne Davis broad jumped 23' 1" for third place.

There were four other meet records set, but a 20-mile-an-hour wind hindered the Panthers' bid for the sprint relay and it also cost Dave Morton of Memorial a chance to break the 880-yard dash mark.

A crowd of some 9,000 was on hand to watch the fighting Panthers execute their talent on cinder. This meet was a terrific one for the Panthers, and presented a pleasant opportunity to each of the boys participating in the Little State meet.

Citizens Traffic Council -- DPS To Present Drivers License Schools

"The Lubbock Citizens Traffic Council, in cooperation with the Safety Education Service of the Texas Department of Public Safety will present three Drivers License Schools in Lubbock during May," Van McVay, CTC Executive Director, announced today.

The first three-session course will be presented at Dunbar High School at 8:00 p.m., Monday, May 8, Tuesday, May 9, and Thursday, May 11. The school is open to the public without charge.

Rites Read For Mrs. Claudean Martin

Final rites were read for Mrs. Claudean Martin, 22, of 1011 David Avenue, last Saturday afternoon, April 29th, at 3:00 p.m., in the Alexander Chapel of the Church of God in Christ, with the Elder M. J. Alexander, pastor, officiating.

Burial was held in the City of Lubbock Cemetery under the direction of South Plains Funeral Home.

Mrs. Martin died of pneumonia Sunday in Methodist Hospital.

Survivors include the husband; four children, Donna Marie, Elaine, Marilyn and John Martin; two sisters, Mary Lawson of Lubbock, and Mrs. Leslie Rodriguez, Cleveland, Ohio; a brother, Cecil Lawson, Lubbock; parents, Mrs. Reba Lawson and J.B. Lawson, both of Lubbock and the grandmothers; Mrs. Cora Lawson and Mrs. Cassie Ross, both of Lubbock.

The other schools will be presented at Lubbock High School and Guadalupe Elementary School.

McVay stated that a 1964 survey had shown that 5% of all Texas drivers were unlicensed and that 20% of all Texas drivers killed in traffic accidents were unlicensed.

"The purpose of the school is to help those needing help," McVay said, "And is designed to help unlicensed drivers, older drivers needing brushing up and young people who are interested in driving."

"With the passage of Federal legislation and the proposed state legislation, which will tighten our licensing laws considerably, this school will be of benefit to many of our present and potential drivers," McVay said.

The information presented in the course will be taken from the material used by the DPS in Licensing Examinations. Sgt. Fred Marshall, local DPS Safety Education Officer and members of his department, will conduct the course.

OHIO NATIVE VISITS NIECE, MRS. CHARLIE BELL TAYLOR, HERE

Mrs. Alma Rudd, a native of Cleveland, Ohio, is a guest in the home of her niece, Mrs. Charlie Bell Taylor, 2309 Elm Avenue.

Aside from visiting here, Mrs. Taylor, along with Mrs. Taylor and Mrs. Geneva Knox, made a week-end visit to Austin to visit some relatives.

The second of two meetings in regard to the opening of the new Multi-Service Center, to be located at the Mae Simmons Party House, will be held tonight at the E.C. Struggs Junior High School at 8:00 p.m.

As you may recall, last week an organizational meeting was held in regard to the purpose of such center. At this particular meeting, Harold Chatman--who served as chairman--gave a brief history of the steering committee who was responsible for the foundation of such an effort.

In doing so, Chatman did recognize all members present, in as much as tell the duties of this committee.

Joe Kelly, director of the Community Action Board (CAB), gave in brief, more in detail of this type of program. Inasmuch as answer several questions which derived from the floor by the body

Head Start Program Underway

A team of 12 persons from the areas of health, psychology, social welfare, and child development met here in Lubbock last Saturday, at Texas Tech, to plan two workshops for teachers in Project Head Start.

Planning was for the May 29-June 2 and June 5-9 orientations scheduled at the Tech Union Building for teachers, teacher aids and other professional workers new to the Head Start program, according to Mrs. Francis Lyle, regional training director for Head Start.

Recently funds were announced for the summer program which helps disadvantaged youngsters get ready to enter school.

in regard to the program at hand. Thomas J. Patterson, assistant director of CAB, related facts to the body as to the progress of the program. Aside from this, he introduced the new director of the center, Leonard Chew.

It is the hope of the organization that tonight the organizational body of the center will be completed.

In order to do so, twelve individuals from Tract 12 will be chosen by the body at large to represent the area on the operational board. One member of this board will serve on the Community Action Board of Lubbock County, not as a voting member, but in the capacity of informing the CAB board of the needs of the people in Tract 12.

Two members of the present steering committee will serve on this operational committee, not as a voting member, but in the capacity of advising this entire board of the procedures.

This meeting, let us not forget, is for the entire area of Tract 12. Therefore, your presence is absolutely necessary. I know, and perhaps you do also, that sometimes it is rather impossible for an individual to make a meeting. BUT tonight, let's try real hard to be present. Put forth a special effort to be there.

As Chew stated last Thursday at the initial meeting, there are many agencies in the City of Lubbock, without any doubt, that can really help US.

Everyone of you--who are reading this article--please tell somebody about this meeting.

Why not fill the seats up at this meeting? After all, this program involves all of US.

Attends Red Cross Convention

Mrs. Justyne Morton, a local beautician here, has just returned from Dallas, Texas where she attended the National Red Cross convention.

She was one of the three voting delegates for the local chapter of the Red Cross, 1811 Broadway Avenue.

Mrs. Morton returned here last Thursday, April 27, and reported a successful meeting.

TOUGHEST DRIVERS LICENSE LAW

One of the toughest driver licensing bills in Texas history got a house test Monday, the first of May, and the Governor's forces were rightfully confident of victory.

The word had gone out to speed up action on Connally's program to reduce death and destruction on the state's streets and highways.

With less than a month to go in the regular session, the 60th legislature has not finally passed and sent to the governor a single bill in the safety package he recommended last January 18th.

Two bills are the center of what controversy exists over the program—driver licensing and vehicle inspection. But a Connally aid said Saturday the licensing bill is "in good shape" and is expected to pass both houses.

The traffic program consists of nine bills; —Statewide safety program, making the governor responsible for a comprehensive program including driver training and research on traffic problems. It is required as a condition for Texas to continue to receive about $22,000,000.00 a year in Federal Highway Aid under the U. S. Highway Safety Act of 1966. It has passed the House, but the Senate bill is in subcommittee.

—Medical aspects of traffic safety. This bill, also designed to conform with the federal act, requires the State Health Department to investigate medical aspects of traffic accidents and to make recommendations on licensing, enforcement and accident investigation. The House bill has passed, but the Senate bill is in subcommittee.

—Vehicle inspection, adding front seat belts and any other features designated by the Department of Public Safety to the list of items to be inspected, and increasing the inspection fee from $1.00 to $2.00. This bill also is necessary because of the federal act. The House bill has been approved by committee, but the Senate measure still is in subcommittee.

—Driver licensing. This bill generally tightens requirements and raises the licensing age to 18 for youths who have not had driver training. House debate was set for this bill Monday. The Senate bill is still in subcommittee.

—Mandatory crash helmets for motorcyclists. Passed the House and was reported favorably by a Senate committee.

—Required testing of blood from persons killed in auto accidents for the presence of alcohol. Both House and Senate bills are still in subcommittees.

—State licensing of driver training schools. House bill is on calendar for debate early in May. Senate bill is in subcommittee.

—Traffic courts to record. Senate bill is ready for debate, but the House bill is still in subcommittee.

—Repeal portions of misdemeanor probation law relating to traffic offenses. Both House and Senate bills in subcommittee.

"Principally, some of the bills need the interest of the public", was how one member of Connally's staff explained the lag in getting the program passed. The driver licensing bill comes closest to home for most Texans. Persons without driver education could not be licensed until age 18. For those with driver training, the age would be 15; and until June 1, 1969, 16 year olds could be licensed if they presented a statement from their school superintendents saying driver training was not available at their schools.

Fifteen year olds could be licensed in hardship cases and could also receive motorcycle operators' licenses, another innovation recommended by Connally. All operator licenses would bear a color photograph of the driver to whom issued, a major step toward better identification. Drivers under 21 would get "provisional licenses", a device to prevent alteration of licenses by minors in order to buy liquor. Anyone operating a motor vehicle without a license could be fined up to $200.00 on first and second offenses and punished by up to six months in jail and a $500.00 fine for third offenses.

All of these programs are aimed at taking a great step toward a safer and more enjoyable highway system in the state of Texas. Some of the ideas presented are merely for the attainment of more Federal funds, but the program in total is probably a good idea. Now all we the taxpayers have to do in order to have these new laws passed for our benefits is to some way have our elected officials in Austin get to work passing some laws, and in the same effort earning their salaries.

Grand Prairie, Texas—NPI—The St. John Baptist Church, pastored by the Rev. Bettram C. Collier, last week announced the completion of a 124-unit modern housing development, called the Medallion Apartments, for low-income families.

The completion climaxed a drive began by Rev. Collier with community backing several months ago, and he was quick to express his gratitude.

He stated, "I am very grateful to the people of Grand Prairie for the whole-hearted support they have given me in this effort to help make our city the greatest and fastest growing 'Little Town' in Texas."

The Texas Employment Commission will begin recruiting and screening girls immediately for the Job Corps.

Richard Bunting, office manager for the commission said his office has been authorized to assign girls who are out of school and between the ages of 16 and 21 to the Job Corps.

The commission has enrolled boys in the Job Corps since the program began and this program continues. In encouraging boys and girls who are no longer attending school to talk to a Job Corps counselor at the commission office, 1620 16th Street, Bunting remarked that "this is an excellent opportunity for youth to learn a skill."

DPS Slates Demonstration

The Lubbock regional office of the Texas Department of Public Safety announced Sunday that the test car demonstrations would be presented again this year to the Lubbock Public Schools.

Sgt. Fred Marshall, local DPS safety education service officer, said the demonstrations of braking distances of automobiles is presented to show the tremendous destructive power of an automobile even at moderate speeds. The test car, which was brought from Austin for the demonstrations, is especially equipped with an individual braking system for each wheel.

According to Marshall, a demonstration will be conducted at the Dunbar High School Tuesday, May 9th.

This demonstration, like the other ones appearing at schools here, is offered through the combined efforts of the Texas Department of Public Safety and the Lubbock Citizens Traffic Council.

Maddox Threatens To Close Work Camp After Fugitives Protest

Atlanta--NPI--Gov. Lester G. Maddox has threatened to close down a work camp after four escaped Negro convicts surrendered to him and told of mistreatment at the camp.

The four complained of punishment in solitary confinement, a lack of rest room facilities, no visitor privileges, mail delivery only once a week, and 12 working hours from 6 to 6.

Gov. Maddox said he believed "there is a lot of truth in their statement." and... "If they're telling the truth, this camp ought to be shut down."

The fugitives were identified as Booker T. Gary, 20; MacArthur Davis, 26; Douglas May, 24; and Henry Lewis Jackson, 22; all of Macon.

The four complained of punishment in solitary confinement, a lack of rest room facilities, no visitor privileges, mail delivery only once a week, and 12 working hours from 6 to 6.

Gov. Maddox said he believed "there is a lot of truth in their statement." and... "If they're telling the truth, this camp ought to be shut down."

Surprise! Negroes Found To Be Major Victims Of Negro Violence

Washington--NPI--Who gets hurt the most by Negro violence? Many people have long known the answer. Now statistical studies have confirmed it. Most violent crimes committed by Negroes are against other Negroes.

In Chicago, a Negro man runs the risk of being a victim of violent crime nearly six times as often as a white man; and a Negro woman, nearly eight times as often as a white woman, according to President Johnson's National Crime Commission.

The odds are about four out of five that an attacker will be of the same race as the victim.

After studying violent crimes committed in Chicago and Washington, the commission concluded that "the most striking fact is the extent of the correlation in race between victim and offender."

"Thus, while the Negro males account for two-thirds of all assaults, the offender who victimizes a white person is most likely also to be white."

In Washington, only 12 of 172 murders in 1966 were interracial. Eighty-eight per cent of rapes involved persons of the same race. Only nine per cent of the aggravated assaults were committed outside racial boundaries.

Sociologists have long recognized that violence is typically inflicted most on relatives, friends and acquaintances, often indoors, and generally in the neighborhood.

There are two exceptions:
1. The Southern white man, according to a 1948 study, kills five times as many Negroes as Negroes kill whites. But, across the country, it's substantially the same story.

2. Robbery is a largely interracial crime, in which whites are more likely to be victimized than Negroes.

Prof. Marvin E. Wolfgang, University of Pennsylvania sociologist, noted in a 1964 pamphlet entitled "Crime and Race" that whites' fears of being attacked and slain by Negroes are "not supported by what we know about interracial crime."

Prof. Wolfgang said, "The amount of interracial homicide and the relative frequency of whites and Negroes in crossing the race line vary slightly in different parts of the country, but usually indicate that more whites slay Negroes than vice versa."

Violence against whites by Negroes is relatively infrequent both in New York City and nationally, it has been found.

Almost eighty-five per cent of New York City's 543 murders were within racial groups in 1966—a percentage that has remained stable since 1964. These figures run counter to mounting white fears that Negro violence is increasingly being directed against whites.

CAN THIS BE TRUE?

...ATTEMPTED SUICIDE
Can this really be true? You see, it started like this. A phone call was placed to the police department in regard to a family fight. Police arrived and found a 19 year old girl in distress.

She told police that she attempted suicide because she told her husband not to go uptown, that she didn't want him to go. When he refused to stay at home with her, she took a razor blade, yes!, a razor blade, and began cutting on her left arm on the inside, starting at the elbow and running approximately eight inches toward her wrist. The cut was about one inch deep.

Is it true or not, that a young woman, like the one mentioned above, will do such acts to show her beloved husband how true her love is. Or on the other hand, did she commit such an act at all?

A 15 year-old girl, Lola May Malone, of 1807 Avenue B, was stabbed in the back and rushed to Methodist Hospital about 9:30 p. m., Saturday night. It was learned that she had suffered a knife wound about three inches below the shoulder blade. After careful observation and medical attention, she was released from the hospital.

According to the young lady, "I do not know who stabbed me, but I would know him if I saw him again."

Would you believe a young lady could be stabbed as Malone was and not be able to tell authorities who was responsible for the incident? Let's hope she at least knows who to leave alone next time.

What Causes A Riot? Lots Of Answers Given -- Agitators, Frame-Up, Etc.

New York-NPI-What causes a racial outbreak? Leaders came up with all sorts of answers last week--ranging from racial agitators, bad living conditions, attempts to blame Communists for the trouble, and charges of a frame-up by white leaders to problems within the black community itself.

In New York, the United Presbyterian Commission on Religion and Race blamed recent racial outbreaks in Nashville and Louisville on "ghetto conditions that cause minority group unrest--massive poverty, ill health, miserable schools and housing, and the lack of economic and political power."

The assumption that "revolutionary outbreaks and riots of the poor" are caused by agitators in the nation's Negro ghettos is "fatuous and misinformed", the commission said.

The only way to solve the problem of public disorder in "our cities is to dispel the mood of decitizenization, hopelessness, disrespect for law and psychological alienation now rampant in the ghetto."

The commission took issue with the idea that "any single Negro leader, organization or movement should be blamed for the revolutionary outbreaks and riots of the poor."

"We cannot accept the argument that social unrest in the ghettos is the work of a few agitators. Removing and repudiating Negro leaders will not bring peace to the cities."

In Nashville, Mayor Beverly Briley blamed racial disorders at local Negro universities on black power champion Stokely Carmichael, who made several speeches in the area a week before the trouble broke out.

"I think he and his aids and their thinking have generated this situation," the mayor said.

Many students differed. Some said the riots were just a way "to let off some steam."

Meanwhile, the Student Non-violent Coordinating Committee charged that students who rioted at Fisk University, Meharry Medical and Tennessee State Colleges were victims of a calculated frame up by white leaders.

These leaders, SNCC said, had warned of a possible riot in the wake of Carmichael's appearance in Nashville. When none materialized, "they quickly went into action to create a situation which they knew would force the black students and citizens of Nashville to act and defend themselves. Then, they could call it a 'riot' and put their gestapo-like tactics into action."

On April 18, a student was arrested by a white policeman. Onlookers protested and "police called out the riot squad, which was fully prepared and waiting for such an excuse to move in and take control."

In Berwyn, Ill., police uncovered a plot to increase racial tensions by faking attacks on white youths and blaming them on Negroes.

The suburban police became suspicious when they kept getting the same story of attacks by Negroes from different youths. As a result, they swooped down on what they described as a "hate gang" and arrested several youths.

In Chicago, civil rights leader Albert A. Raby said a possible U. S. House investigation of riots in Chicago and other cities could result in racial trouble.

Charges that the riots were Communist-inspired might temporarily "put the lid" on the Negro problem, but ultimately would result in a greater buildup of tensions in low-income areas and "even greater explosions", he said.

Raby, convenor, Coordinating Council of Community Organizations, was referring to the possibility that the House Committee on Un-American Activities might probe racial unrest.

In Cleveland, racial tensions were said to be building up to such a fever pitch that insurance companies were hesitant to write any type of insurance within city limits.

The Home Mutual Insurance Company, Binghamton, N. Y., wrote in a letter to its local agent that "quite frankly, we are concerned at the racial situation in Cleveland and feel that quite probably the next blow-up will not be confined to any particular area."

A local Negro leader, Bertram E. Gardner, became embroiled in controversy when he suggested that lawless elements within the Negro community itself may be responsible for the threat of summer violence.

Gardner, who heads Cleveland's Community Relations board, warned that "if the spring or summer is hot, it will be because the 99 per cent group (of moderate, hard working Negroes) has refused to take a positive community position SEE RIOTS...."

While at Houston last season, James Roy Lewis, advertising manager for the 'West Texas' Times, noticed how much people favor.

This is a picture of two Houston Astro baseball fans---they are mother and daughter---who are on their way to see the game between the Astros and San Francisco Giants, but stopped long enough for Lewis to snap their picture.

The mother, at left in a light suit, and daughter, at right in the dark suit, are quite happy about being one of the many Astro fans. If you look real close, folks, you will see that this lovely pair resemble two Lubbock teachers. On the left Mrs. Evelyn Willis Murphy and Mrs. Voncile Porter Middleton on the right.

There you are ladies and gentlemen... what do you think?

Rayford Nicols, of 2910 Ute Avenue, reported that someone unknown had taken from his front yard, one bike which was valued at approximately $50.00.

When this wasn't enough for the thief, he decided to take another look around, and found two television sets on the patio in the back yard. In taking these, he increased his take by $185.25.

Wonder if he put one set on the back fender and the other on the front handlebars? *****

He denounced militants who maintain "that white men have no rights in a Negro community and then proceed to intimidate whites by robbing them or looting or maliciously breaking out the windows of their stores, leaving whole business areas desolate, while at the same time insisting that they, as Negroes, have a right to go downtown or anywhere else they please!"

Gardner is promoting an interracial home visit program to bring whites and Negroes together for "continuing dialogue" and involvement in the problems of housing employment and poverty. -----
