The Lubbock newcomer family for the past week followed the same history making pattern of stepping up the influx, due to the opening of school, and added 169 families to the city's population. Total number of new families reported to date this year now added to 2,895 families, compared with only 2,427 at this date in 1965.

It was learned last week that Novell Hutchinson, the powerful captain of last year's fighting Dunbar Panthers, has made the starting line-up of the Wiley Wildcats.

Nairobi--NPI--There are those who wouldn't hesitate to take up the challenge of a 70 year-old man to a fight, just to see how good he really is, but in the case of President Jomo Kenyatta last

A fifteen year old Lubbock girl died in a one car turnover on East 19th last Sunday night, and a 51 year old man was killed by a car on a county road east of town the same date bringing the total of traffic deaths to a hard striking 76 for the South Plains area.

The teen-ager, Patsy Sue Evans, 2406 Cedar Avenue, was dead on arrival at Methodist Hospital shortly before 8:45 p.m. last Sunday from injuries received from the car in which she was a passenger overturned and hit a light pole about 250 feet west of Oak Street on East 19th.

Dunbar Meets Marlin Tonight

After having last week off, the fighting Dunbar Panthers are expected to bounce back strong against a hard-hitting crew from Marlin tonight at Lowery Field.

The Panthers—who are two wins and no lost for season—are a favorite in the fete for tonight which will bring many Panther followers out for the contest.

Lubbock Man Caught Here

An eighteen year old man, James Burton, of 1611 Avenue D, was caught at the rear of the Fair Hardware store, 806 Main Street, after a burglary alarm was set off last week.

He was charged later with attempted burglary. Police said he was found hiding under an automobile. An attempt had been made to pry the rear door of the store, according to police officers.

week, he had no takers. Kenyatta, recently returned from a month long stay on the coast, where he had been under the care of heart specialists, appeared before a rally of 40,000 people, looking vigorous and in a fighting mood. No one present seemed to doubt his "strength and fitness".

Two other teen-agers, Lawrence B. Garner, 18, 1714 Walnut Avenue, the driver of the car, and Cora Houston, 16, 504 Webber, suffered minor injuries in the crash and were taken to Methodist Hospital for treatment and later released.

According to officers, the car was going east on 19th Street when it skidded out of control on gravel, went off the street, overturned and smashed, top first, into a city light pole. Evans—who was riding on the right side of the front seat—was fatally injured.

The death was the 20th traffic fatality in Lubbock this year, and the 76th to occur on the South Plains compared to 65 at this same period last year.

Willie Newton, 51, 114 Nutmeg, was the 75th death on the Plains when he was pronounced dead at the scene of an accident nearly one and one half miles east of Lubbock on a county road.

According to a highway patrolman, Newton was struck by a car driven by Lucius Porter, 38, 2610 Webber Drive, as he attempted to avoid an accident with another car.

It was learned that the car driven by W. A. Adams, 608 Avenue A, had become stuck in a ditch and that Newton had stopped to help him. Porter—who was traveling north on the paved road—saw Newton's car parked on the east side of the road and attempted to avoid a collision by taking the ditch between the two vehicles.

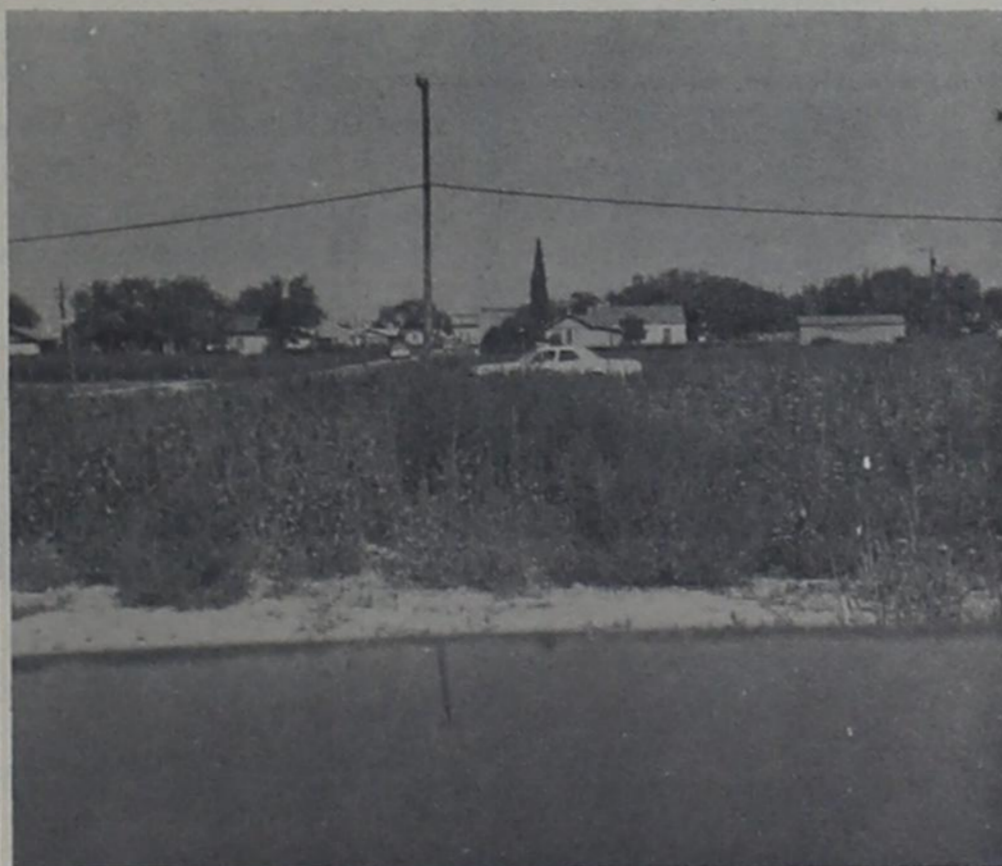

Newton, who had gotten out of the pick-up and was standing between the vehicles, was hit by the swerving car.

Porter continued on down the ditch after hitting Newton and collided with a telephone pole and overturned.

Newton's body was taken to the South Plains Funeral Home, where funeral services were pending at press time.

Funeral services were pending also for Miss Evans at Jamison Funeral Home at press time.

A MATTER OF CONCERN

Each of us, as citizens of Lubbock, should be very much concerned about the many weed covered vacant lots in our community.

These lots make an ideal breeding place for many insects, including the deadly mosquito which carry such diseases as "sleeping sickness", and "typhoid", which could easily be spread not only over our own community, but over the entire city as well. For many of us work in homes in other communities in the city of Lubbock and no matter how you look at it, we are our brother's keeper.

Many once had homes on these vacant lots, and at that time, the weeds were no problem, some had beautiful lawns and lovely flowers—(not all, but some), and took great pride in keeping them. Then came this monster known as "URBAN RENEWAL" and gobbled up their homes, forcing them to move, tearing down their homes and leaving in their places vacant lots to be covered with weeds, creating even a "slummer" slum than before!

B. U. R. (Before Urban Renewal) you could at least see where you were going while traveling the streets of our community, but now the weeds on the vacant corner lots are so tall and thick that a driver of an automobile cannot see another automobile coming. The weeds have even become a driving hazard.

Having lived in Lubbock continuously since 1924, one can remember when Lubbock was known as the cleanest city in Texas. What has happened? Where is our civic pride?

Have we reached the place where we no longer care how our once beautiful city looks?

Where are the men who work for the city? The taxpayers deserve and would like very much to see their tax money at work!!

Teenagers - The Way They Are

"If youth but knew; and if old age could." Adolescence is the swinging bridge over which the child must pass as he crosses the yawning chasm between childhood and adulthood. G. Stanley Hall, the first psychologist to study the adolescent period of life seriously has stated that, "The adolescent might be said to be still in the nest, vainly attempting to fly while his wings have only pinfeathers." This sounds suspiciously like the plaintive lament of old age over carefree days of bygone youth when life was unmarred by the realities of living.

How many of you parents really know your teenager? Does he or she seem baffling at times? Does he or she do things that are hard for you to understand? Is your teenager quite grown-up at times, and at others just a child? Does what the 'other kids do' seem to matter more than anything you can say? Do you seem to be vetoed? Can you fathom your teenager's moods? Do you always agree on everything or even a few things? Now really isn't your teenager a really fine person? Come on now, be honest. Isn't he or she someone you are quite proud of most of the time? Isn't he or she full of promise, potentials, a real challenge to you? Wouldn't you like to be a bit closer? Do you yearn for more communication—getting through to each other? Well parents, the key to all this is understanding, and until this comes you'll continue to wonder and have a gap between you.

All teenagers are alike in that they must grow up and become mature men and women. The second decade of life is long, and there stands before the child a bridge. He enters this period as a child, he leaves at the end of the second decade of his life as a young adult.

All teenagers are preoccupied with their own personal crossing into maturity. No one else can do their growing up for them.

All teenagers are faced with a number of interrelated tasks of growing up, and in brief these developmental tasks are:

- (1) Coming to terms with a changing body,
- (2) Making new friends in new ways—with both sexes,
- (3) Stretching away from childish dependence upon parents,
- (4) Finding out what he or she can do, and training to do it, and
- (5) Answering life's biggest questions—Who am I? and What is life?

These jobs of growing up are relatively easy for some, and very hard for others. It is normal for teenagers to struggle with their development tasks over quite a period of time. How successful the struggle to grow up is, depends in part on how understanding and helpful his parents, teachers, and leaders are, when he most needs them.

Teenagers are persons confronted with problems and needs, confusions, and frustrations, much as adults are. Some of these are;

(1) A time of emotions—feelings seem to constitute the essence of their existence. Superlatives dominate their vocabulary. Everybody is a 'dollar', 'chick', 'drip', 'droop', 'square', an 'odd ball', 'shell-shocked', a 'real guy', a 'regular guy', etc.. For them life is either romantic or dull and unbearable. They are thrilled or on cloud nine or else in the basement. They are first a child, then an adult, close and then far away. Parents need to understand, to feel with him—his fears, his loves, his hates, his discouragements, his humiliations and his dreams.

(2) A time of paradoxes—There are extremes of love and hate; generosity and selfishness; pleasure and annoyance; loyalty and jealousy; thoughtfulness and forgetfulness. He is first up and then down.

(3) An age of problems—Can you actually agree on so many of his problems? There are such things as the use of the car, the telephone, the TV, or money. Then the responsibilities around the house. His or her clothes become a subject of conflict and problems as to cost, style, and actual need. Of course there is the real problem of associates, dates, and the future course of life.

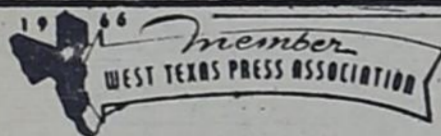

(4) This is the age of great needs—These needs are varied and many. Teenagers need limitations, confidence and trust, guidance, communication, understanding, and above all else, they need their parents. This may not seem so obvious to many teenagers, after all, they are in the process of weaning and asserting their own independence.

Teenagers need adults. They need parents, teachers, ministers, doctors, counselors, and other leaders outside the family. Not as much as they did when they were children, but in a special way now. They need worthy adults whom they can respect and follow. A boy needs fine examples of men who make him stretch upward in his dreams of self-realization. A girl needs women who bring the response, "when I grow up, I want to be like her." Both sexes need to identify with adult members of their own sex who are good examples of fine living. Teenagers need to learn to live in an ever widening community. For this reason, both parents and teenagers must learn to expand their

AMERICANS NOTE

Stockholm --NPI-- Everyone talks about huge car repair bills and spiraling auto insurance rates, but no one does anything about it—except Swedish insurance firms. For the past two years, insurance firms throughout Sweden have been operating their own repair business, and have cut repair charges by one-fifth. Rates are scheduled to drop even more. Best of all, insurance premiums have been stabilized.

THANK YOU NOTE

We want to thank our many, many friends for all the expressions of sympathy and love and kindness extended us during the illness and death of our loved one. Together with friends at church and school, in the community, the young develop a fine spirit which can only eventuate in good. Of course we perhaps feel so fearful of the oncoming generation that we are likely to ascribe to them our "worst generation". But let's not knock them, let us help them to be better. They are pretty good kids, and when you look at the examples set by some of their parents, they look even better.

OPEN SEASON

London--NPI--The recent assassination of Prime Minister H. F. Verwoerd seemed to have triggered another stabbing incident last week, when South African consular official Johannes van der Poel, 55, was stabbed in the chest at the South African embassy.

The attacker, who made good his escape, was said to have inquired about a passport. He was described as being "colored" or "olive-skinned", bearded and about 25 years old.

IMPEACHMENT

Jakarta--NPI--A move is underway by a powerful group of Indonesian intellectuals to have President Sukarno impeached on charges that he betrayed the nation. Simultaneously, militant students in West Java have issued a demand that Sukarno's second wife, Hartini, be arrested and tried for financing Communist activities.

CAPITAL SHIFT

Blantyre, Malawi--NPI--The Malawi government has launched upon a $30 million project to transfer the nation's capital from Zomba, in the south, 130 miles to Lilongwe, in the northwest. Buildings for two ministries--national resources and works--have already undergone construction at the new site.

Dallas--The National Baptist Convention, USA, Inc., headed by Dr. J. H. Jackson, Chicago pastor and widely known Negro leader, last week condemned the term "black power" as a civil rights weapon, and called upon all Americans to seek redress for grievances "through the courts of the land."

The 5 1/2 million member organization, largest Negro group in America, adopted a resolution at its 86th annual session in Dallas, Texas, renewing its support of the supreme law, that is, the Federal Constitution.

"In civil order... civil disobedience is not required, and therefore is not a virtue," the resolution stated. "Historically, civil disobedience has never been used as a means of correcting unjust laws of a social order, but to overthrow that order."

The resolution criticized groups that are advocating "black power" with these words: "We condemn the term 'black power' for the following reasons: fore is not a virtue, " the resolution stated. "Historically, civil disobedience has never been used as a means of correcting unjust laws of a social order, but to overthrow that order."

EARNING a share of the No. 1 tailbacking job at Oklahoma last week was senior Jim Jackson, a 9.5 sprinter on the Sooner track team. Jackson, a squadman last year, moved up alongside junior letterman Ron Shotts.

fore is not a virtue, " the resolution stated. "Historically, civil disobedience has never been used as a means of correcting unjust laws of a social order, but to overthrow that order."

The resolution criticized groups that are advocating "black power" with these words:

"We condemn the term 'black power' for the following reasons:

It is the other side of the old coin of segregation and it renders the people who use it guilty of the same type of prejudicial thinking and feeling that they have so long condemned in white segregationists. You cannot destroy segregation by hating and fighting a segregationist alone. Segregation is an attitude of mind, and may live in Negroes as well as whites."

District Meet for Eastern Stars

The Order of the Eastern Stars held their West Texas District #1 meeting here in the City of Lubbock last week, and according to all indications, everything was just right.

The joint session of Mason and Stars was held at the Masonic Hall last Saturday afternoon at 2 p. m.

Our District Matron, Mrs. Louise Stone of Abilene, gave the introduction in a meeting which was held in the Frontier room of the lovely Pioneer Hotel.

As a whole, the Stars of this district had a wonderful while in the "Hub City."

Three ladies from our city were elected to district offices. They were Mrs. Ira Bell Williams, Mrs. Mattie Beaty, and Mrs. Rosie Lee Wilson. Our Matron, C.E. Fair, was re-elected to the same office.

Mrs. Mattie Demerson served on the door as Warden during the entire meeting.

The entire delegation met at the Greater St. Luke Baptist Church for Sunday worship.

The slogan for this year's meeting was such an inspiration that they would like to pass it on to you:

I'm only one, but still I'm one,
I cannot do everything,
But still I can do something,
And because I cannot do everything,
I will not refuse to do the thing
I can do.

All male students attending local colleges such as Texas Tech, Lubbock Christian and others will take another draft test among 25 Texas colleges and universities November 18-19, according to the state Selective Service headquarters released last week.

Applications for the test must be postmarked no later than October 21, according to Col. Morris S. Schwartz, state director.

Other cities which will hold such testing will include Abilene, Alpine, Amarillo, Austin, Beaumont, Brownsville, Corpus Christi, Dallas, El Paso, Fort Worth, Houston, Huntsville, Laredo, Nacogdoches, Odessa, San Angelo, San Antonio, Texarkana, Tyler, Uvalde, Victoria, Waco, and Wichita Falls.

MARKDOWNS

Can Be

RUINOUS!

(Just Ask Tony)

Tony gets nine cents apiece for his Winesaps today. Day after tomorrow those that are left will go two for a nickel. Day after that the policeman's horse won't look at them. Tony can tell you: markdowns hurt!

In today's market, shoes and swimming suits, air conditioners and automobiles are as perishable as apples. Comes a time when you have to give them away. No one can guess right all the time, of course; a store without markdowns is like a man without sin.

But — need they be so doggone excessive?

They need not, sir. If you promote hard and early . . . if you promote "when they want 'em" . . . you'll have long since banked the cash when they don't want 'em any more.

Most stores consider West Texas Times advertising a mighty important part of their promotional planning. Indeed, they figure that we are well-nigh indispensable to PROFITABLE selling.

One reason is that the West Texas Times reaches 3,000 families every week—households with millions to spend on merchandise that might just as well be yours—people who are open to buy the very minute they pick up their Times. Another reason is that these people act on Times advertising. This is attested by the fact that our advertising volume has been growing steadily.

So — if you are a merchant and are tired of murdering prices two or three times every year, why not let us call on you? We would like to work with you to help make your selling more profitable—yes, for 1966!

MANHATTAN HEIGHTS & WEST TEXAS TIMES

Shown above is another weedy area in the Urban Renewal area of Lubbock where lack of care and public indifference has allowed the weeds to become a haven for insects and wild animals.

Houston---Bobby Bland, unquestionably, is the man. The greatest blues-singer recording, and his latest LP, "The Soul of The Man", is testimony to this fact. Bland sings with unequaled fury, passion and tenderness. Distributors, jocks and the record buying public are ordering, playing, and requesting "Bobby's Soul" with zestful enthusiasm. The album, Bobby's fifth, is not only a credit to him, but a vital and important contribution to the world of music. (Duke Records Photo)

 Djibouti--NPI--Frances' last colonial territory on the African continent is scheduled to hold a plebiscite on independence between now and next July 1. The move, which followed swiftly the anti-French riots that greeted President Charles de Gaulle last Aug. 26th, may mean the colony's 83,000 residents will become an independent entity or align itself with Somalia—the independent amalgamation of former British and Italian Somalilands.

Sen. Edward Kennedy Under Attack for Labor Plan

Washington--NPI--Sen. Edward M. Kennedy (D.-Mass.) has come under the fire of the National Urban League for his proposal that the United States allow more workers come here from abroad.

"It is uneconomical and immoral to keep Negro and other minority workers unemployed or pushing brooms while making a strong recruitment effort 5,000 miles away," Adolph Holmes, League associate director of economic development, asserted in a letter to Sen. Kennedy.

In his letter, Holmes said, "We are seriously concerned with your proposal . . . which will ease the Immigration and Nationality Act and make it possible for persons from abroad to come into the country for jobs such as parking lot attendants, clerks, waiters, sales clerks, typists, truck drivers, housekeepers, and launderers."

"We can't understand why those companies are willing to spend the money and the effort to bring a man 5,000 miles to this country for a job, while there is a source of willing labor right in their own back yard.

"The labor market may be a tight one for white workers, but Negro unemployment is still around the 8 per cent mark and shows no sign of declining.

"The money and energies used to attract foreign workers should go into training programs for unemployed and under-employed Negro workers," Holmes said.

In complaining about foreign workers being given job preference over Negroes, Holmes was echoing a charge which has long been made by Negro leaders. As far back as 1895, Booker T. Washington had called on Southern businessmen to "cast down your bucket where you are"—that is, use available Negro manpower in preference to workers from elsewhere.
