Texas Tech University Students Receives Ford Foundation Grants

V. Gail Johnson, a junior from DeRidder, La., is one of three ethnic minority students who transferred to Texas Tech University this fall from two-year colleges to be aided in their studies by a Ford Foundation scholarship grant.

Miss Johnson, a physical education major with a minor in English was one of 74 students in Texas who were named scholarship recipients. The students are attending 28 different four-year Texas universities including Texas Tech this fall.

The Ford Foundation scholarship funds are made available through the Upper Division Scholarship Program (UDSP) administered by the College Entrance Examination Board and are designed to finance a major portion of Miss Johnson's tuition and fees.

Other scholarship winners attending Texas Tech are Robert Sanchez of Colorado City, Texas, and Fredrick L. Jackson of Union in Terry County, Texas.

Inaugurated by the Ford Foundation, UDSP was promoted by a general lack of college financial aid for students planning to transfer from two-year to four-year institutions. The program serves approximately 1,000 minority group students who are moving from junior and community colleges. Eligible students are black Americans, Mexican Americans, Puerto Ricans and American Indians.

Miss Johnson was nominated for the award by Howard County Junior College in Big Spring, Texas, where she had been enrolled on a basketball scholarship. Amount of the scholarship is determined by the financial need of the recipient and established through procedures of the College Scholarship Service.

A 1969 graduate of George Washington Carver High School in DeRidder, Miss Johnson will be a member of Texas Tech's women's basketball team and will participate in the university's track and field program.

She is a charter member of Alpha Kappa Alpha social sorority

Building at 1500 Broadway. The meeting will be on the 5th floor in the First National Bank's meeting room. The purpose and activities of Jaycees will be explained. The local officers will be present to answer questions. The meeting will start at 7:30 p.m.

Jaycees offer leadership training through community development for young men between the ages of 21 and 35. The Jaycees is designed specifically to meet the needs of the young man seeking to make his place in community and business ranks.

In working toward these goals, every young man is offered the opportunities of a voice in community affairs, a practical leadership development course, the chance to try new ideas and improve on old ones, and social contact with other young men.

Here are the main reasons why young men join the Jaycees:

The desire for self-improvement. To learn how to accept responsibility, to make decisions, become effective speakers, learn management techniques, to be better employers, employees, and citizens.

The desire for community improvement. To have a hand in searching out community ills and then to plan and execute constructive action projects to remedy them.

The desire for fellowship. To meet progressive young people in their own age bracket, with similar interests—similar goals. The friendships made are not confined solely to the local community, but extend nationally and internationally as well.

Gail Barber to Perform in Monday Concert

Lubbock Symphony Orchestra will have as guest artist for the second concert of the season a nationally known artist whose home is Lubbock. Mrs. Gail Barber, head of the harp department at Texas Tech University, is not only a skilled performer and musician. She is also a composer and newly elected editor of the American Harp Journal, official magazine of the American Harp Society. When the national society met in Lubbock in June, 1970, she served ably as chairman of arrangements. She organized the Lubbock chapter in 1967 and was its first president. She is the Southwestern Regional Director of the American Harp Society.

Mrs. Barber says she had "never seen a harp" until she started her college work at Baylor University. Within two and one-half years, she was a member of the Rochester Philharmonic Orchestra and had recorded for Mercury with the Eastman-Rochester Orchestra. Two years later, she was touring as harp soloist with the Chicago Little Symphony, a tour which took her to 21 states, Canada and Mexico. A graduate of Eastman School of Music with highest distinction and the performer's certificate in harp, she formerly taught at Baylor University and Furman University. Her publications include "Windmill Sketches," original compositions for harp related to the history of the Southwest. Last summer, she taught at Rocky Ridge Music Center in Colorado and performed on the "Music in the Mountains" concert series in Estes Park.

Lubbock Symphony concert under direction of William A. Harrod will begin the second concert of the season at 8:15 Monday evening, November 22, in Lubbock Municipal Auditorium. Advanced tickets may be secured at the Symphony Office, 1416 Avenue Q, telephone 762-4707. Prices are $5, $4.50, $3.50, $2 and $1. All tickets will be sent to Municipal Box Office on Sunday, November 21 and will go on sale 1:00 to 5:00 p.m. Sunday and 9:00 until concert time on November 22nd.

A committee, which was appointed by the City Council recently, came up with a proposal to formulate a 15-man Human Relations Committee with powers to investigate reports of discrimination by local businesses and governmental agencies Monday evening. The committee is expected to present this proposal to the City Fathers next week.

At the Monday meeting, committee members reviewed the goals and functions of such a commission.

Chairman Deaton Rigsby, mayor pro-tem, said he hopes the recommendations will be finalized next Monday and presented to the City Council during the latter part of the week.

It is hoped that the commission would "set up an information service involving all media to gain public support and orderly reform of any local practices which may be detrimental to the welfare of the people of the City of Lubbock," according to tentative recommendations.

Another recommendation proposed is that "a competent, qualified staff be employed to direct the day-to-day planning and operations of programs and policies developed by the commission."

The standing committee is recommending that such a staff be hired by the city manager, that salaries be comparable to similar positions in other cities and that salaries be "high enough to attract and retain a well-qualified executive director and clerical assistant."

Those attending the meeting Monday were Rigsby, Kenneth Hobbs, Dr. Hardy Clemons, Virgil Johnson, James Spears, Police Chief J.T. Alley, Assistant Attorney Kenneth Jones and Assistant City Manager Bob Wilson.

Black People Must Learn How To Think For Themselves

There's no doubt about it, living in this day and time, we as Black people must start learning now how to think, rather than being conditioned as to what to think. Too long we've stood back and let the "man" tell us what to do and how to think.

It's quite obvious in West Texas that we (Black people) haven't utilized our full potential when it comes to doing things for ourselves. We have let the "man" come into our thinking and used his decisions when it has come to making the wise decisions for the black community.

As Black people, we must start in our homes with our younger Black children, regardless of their age, and start teaching them how to think. Let them understand the importance of thinking at an early age. Let this type of conditioning start early in their lives.

Let's not be afraid to think for ourselves. True, perhaps, we'll make mistakes with our own thinking or decision making. So what? The only way to make it this day and time is to believe in what you are doing!

If this editor has listened to the negative remarks or comments about the then called Manhattan Heights Times (originally a four-page tabloid publication), this media wouldn't have come this far along the way. I realize that the "Times" has a long way to go, but being able to think what is best for this media and its many readers will keep it going for a long way.

The Black man, in particular, needs to upgrade his thinking ability. In past times, the Black female has been the one to do all the thinking for the Black family in most cases. This, too, must change. Black brothers, you have all the potential in the world when it comes to making decisions for you and your family.

Come on, Black brothers and sisters, let's all start thinking for ourselves. There are a lot of things coming up in 1972, and by developing a positive thinking system, we all can come out on top. Let's do what we think is best for our Black program. Right on!!

Removal of Publication Bad Scene for Southern Baptists

Recently, the Southern Baptist Convention withdrew a Sunday School quarterly for teenagers which included a picture of a Black boy and two white girls. This picture was considered controversial in the eyes of some Southern Baptist officials. As a result of this, a decision was made to destroy 140,000 quarterlies and 18,000 teacher's guides of the publication called "Becoming," aimed at 14 and 15-year-olds.

This, in our opinion, is a bad scene for the Southern Baptist group. How can we continue to talk about God's Law and at the same time not implement the Law. The church is where we should be making great steps in addressing ourselves to the problems which daily engulf us.

Board executive secretary-treasurer, James L. Sullivan, explained that the photo, showing a Black boy and two white girls conversing and containing some textual material by Twyla Wright of Casa Grande, Arizona, was "potentially inflammatory."

He went on to add, "We feel we ought to be forthright in dealing with reconciliation among the races and with Biblical teaching concerning harmonious race relations. We shall continue to deal with these topics, but in a manner that is in itself conciliatory rather than potentially inflammatory."

Black ministers of Texas addressed the removal of the quarterly at a recent meeting at the Astro-dome last month when 41,777 persons were in attendance; including Blacks, whites and Mexican-Americans.

This is a bad scene if we are to call ourselves Christians. We, those of us who believe in God's Law, must be honest with ourselves. Not only are those three youth watching someone blunder, but thousands of others are shaking their heads about decisions some make as Christians.

Will Mr. Blackwell Remain in Lubbock?

It is usually the custom of ex-city managers to leave a city, once they are relieved of their duties in a city. The case with William "Bill" Blackwell is perhaps different. It appears as though he'll remain here for some time.

We make this observation because of Mr. Blackwell's recent appointment on the Board of Directors of the Young Men's Christian Association (YMCA) here. The term of such position is three years.

Could it be that Mr. Blackwell will be here for election year? On the other hand, and it has been heard from the "whispering grass"—could it be that he will be a candidate for an elected position in the city? Or is he wanting to be a part of the city of Lubbock as a taxpayer, rather than an employee?

No matter what the ex-prexy of the City Managers Association of Texas decides to do, it might well prove interesting. Don't you think so?

No Medals for Yesterday's Heroes

Lou Rawls had a recording called, "There are No Medals for Yesterday's Heroes." There is one sentence in that record that is so appropriate to the majority of the Negro people. The sentence is "What are you doing now?" Oh, I didn't call you Black! Would that make you more creative? If so, I will call every blade of grass, tree, shack, and even the air that you breathe Black if it is going to make you get up off of the part you sit on and do something rather than complain about what the white man doesn't let you do.

It is true that we are confronted with some difficulties. Still it is so irritating to hear people expound over what they have done in the past.

How Far Have We Come?

How Far Do We Have to Go?

In this day and age we hear so much about progress—how far we have come—and on the other hand we hear of how little or of what has not been accomplished.

If Blacks are growing more set in their determination, are whites more concerned in the wrath of white racism?

Some white journalists and businessmen are saying if winning the war against racism and inequality meant black equality then they prefer to loose the war.

The world is changing anyway, even with these beliefs by some. Brown men and Black men are pushing their heads up above the water, and white men, feeling themselves watched, observed, and judged, are afraid.

Their belief in their allegiance to established and maintained white supremacy is only an allegiance and is not working anymore.

The power of the new movement today is different today and mysterious. It has almost no organization, no big machine for promotion and publicity. Yet it grips the people's imagination

When you see them confront Mr. Charlie, by the way they lick his boots, there is no doubt what they did in the past; next, you expect them to take their hats in their hands waiting for Mr. Charlie to dismiss them so they can drive off in their cadillac.

Here in Amarillo, the citizens of "color" will tell you without hesitation that they wouldn't be caught dead in Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia, Tennessee, or any other southern state, but they should go and see how the Black man lives in the deep South.

If the white merchants in Amarillo decide to stop selling food, shelter, clothing, and other important commodities to the Black man here, he would starve to death, or freeze, unless he could survive on the wine and Bar-b-que that is at his disposal. In the South, the Negro has businesses which are comparable to the white businesses—haberdasheries, banks, savings and loan associations, motels, service stations, hotels, and others. They also have farms, and more important, Black students and farmers continue studying, in Black and white colleges, in order to keep improving the land and make it productive. How many Black millionaires live in Amarillo? None! In one county in Tennessee—Haywood—there are at least four.

Let us stop crippling our children with fantastic tales of what we have done. Teach them to be proud that they are Black, but beat it into their heads that they must get what that white man is putting down in his books in order to compete with him in this racist world. Teach them to prepare themselves in order to have some mental ammunition with which to work. Teach them that church and school buildings do not make a community. Communities are made of people and the caliber of the people determine what kind of community it will be.

From The Business Desk

Tomorrow is a big day for many of the residents of East Lubbock. Friday has been proclaimed OIC Day in Lubbock and the people at LOIC, over at 2200 E. Broadway are having an open house all day.

The program, which has been explained several different times on these pages, is well underway now, and every person in Lubbock should make an effort to go by and visit, between the hours of 10:00 a.m. and 9:00 p.m. Classes will be going on, with trainees present to explain the OIC concept, and visitors will have the opportunity to see what a program, begun at the grass roots and sponsored by a community, can do for the many people you and I both know need help.

Make it a point to go by, visit with the people and gain better understanding of what's going on.

and holds their loyalty. Masses of the darker common people are looking at and to awareness, self concept, self confidence, identity, and pride—pride in self, pride in kind.

In the past we had a lot of leaders and no leadership. Now we are learning to think and most of all think for ourselves and not be programmed and conditioned.

We have fewer leaders now than in the past but much more leadership and individual thinking ability.

We do not all set around and wait for some so called leader to think for us. We think for ourselves on our own now.

This is of vast importance in the political education of black. Each being able to think and not be a puppet for someone's gain in being used.

Now black masses of common people are participating in social crusade. Maybe not in the streets and manners like this but in positive constructive manners. Hundreds of thousands of lower-income blacks have come to social maturity and awareness in the awakening '70's.

White liberals usually agree with the black's quest for freedom, justice, equality, but not his methods.

Liberals, moreover, are offended mortally, or so they act like, when blacks exclude them from holding their hands and making their decisions. Along the line of the white liberal is the petty black bourgeoisie who wants results without risk, achievement without action.

Afro-American History Notes for Busy Newspaper Readers—Africa is a grand division in the Eastern Hemisphere, the second in size of the grand divisions, being exceeded only by Asia. It's length from north to south is about five thousand miles and the greatest breadth across the Sudan is about 4,500 miles. The area comprises 11,514,985 square miles, about three times the size of Europe and there is a coast line of fully 15,000 miles. Africa is separated from Europe by the Mediterranean Sea and from Asia by the Red Sea and the Gulf of Aden. The eastern shore is washed by the Indian Ocean and the western by the Atlantic.

Africa possesses some of the greatest rivers of the world, among them being the Nile, said by many historians to most likely have been the cradle of civilization. The Nile River is nearly four thousand miles long. Other great rivers are the Congo, the Zambezi, Niger, Orange, Senegal and others.

In the Southern part of Africa agriculture, mining, and manufacturing have been developed on a massive scale by foreign business interests. Africa is rich in all kinds of minerals, diamonds, gold, copper, iron, lead, granite, ivory, rubber, hides and fruit.

The history of Africa dates back to remote antiquity, in fact Egypt and Abyssinia ranked as ancient in the period when Greece attained its height of power. Most noted historians agree that Africa's historical era began possibly as far back as five thousand years before Christ.

In the time of Solomon, about one thousand years before the birth of Christ, the Queen of Sheba visited Palestine, and at that time Ethiopia, now Abyssinia, ranked as a country of antiquity.

All Black Town Councilman Quits—Boley, Oklahoma—This column has just learned that Maurice W. Lee, Jr., a University of Illinois engineering graduate, has resigned his position on the Boley Town Council after a ten year tenure. Reasons cited were that "I have moved out of the city limits and legally I cannot hold the place on the council," Lee said. During Lee's term of office, the town trustees had improved the town by better street lighting, natural gas installation, modern telephone system, paved streets, better water system, improved fire fighting equipment and better housing. Lee is also former president of the Chamber of Commerce and at present member of the board of directors. He is also manager of the town's only manufacturing outlet. Reports are that political tensions have developed on the Council. Boley is said to be the largest of some thirty-five all black towns in the U.S. today.

Fredrick L. Jackson, 21-year-old junior from Union, Terry County, is one of three minority students attending Texas Tech University this fall from two year colleges, to be aided in the amount of $4,676 by the Ford Foundation.

Jackson, a government major, was also one of 74 Texas students named as scholarship winners. The students are attending 28 different four-year Texas universities this fall.

Eighty per cent of Jackson's tuition and fees will be paid through the funds made available through the Upper Division Scholarship Program (UDSP) administered by the College Entrance Examination Board.

The other scholarship winners attending Tech are Robert Sanchez of Colorado City and Virgil Gail Johnson of DeRidder, La.

Inaugurated by the Ford Foundation, UDSP was prompted by a general lack of college financial aid for students planning to transfer from two-year institutions to four-year schools.

The program serves approximately 1,000 minority group students who are moving from junior and community colleges. Eligible students are black Americans, Mexican Americans, Puerto Ricans, and American Indians.

Jackson was nominated by South Plains Junior College in Levelland. The scholarship award is determined by the financial need of the winner and established through procedures of the College Scholarship Service.

Jackson graduated from Union High School and is presently active in the Tech Student Government and a member of the Wells Hall Residence Council.

Jackson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Jackson of Route 4, Box 80, Brownfield.

City Woman Receives Letters from Class

Little people always have their way of expressing something to adults, especially when the adult happens to love children. The young people of Room 109, Wheatley Elementary School, and their teacher, did just that recently to Mrs. Corine Fair, a teacher's aide in the school system.

"I love working with young people," admits Mrs. Fair, who resides at 2006 Date Avenue. "My position at Wheatley Elementary School is one which is never routine to me; there's something challenging each and every day," she continued.

With a smile on her face and tears in her eyes, Mrs. Fair was overjoyed as she read the lovely letters from a group of students she enjoyed doing something for.

As the note from Mary Curlee, an instructor in the Special Education Class at Wheatley said; "We appreciate you being so thoughtful!! The party was great and really makes us feel like something special."

It continued in part, "All of your kindnesses are appreciated from day to day. Thanks for all of them!!"

The kindnesses referred to relates to Mrs. Fair's contribution day to day.

A student, Gladys Johnson, said: "We are glad that you took time to be nice to us." Another student, Eddie Mae Tolbert, added something to her letter when she signed her's, "Love."

Kenneth Thomas expressed how much he enjoyed himself. Nellie Thomas was happy that Mrs. Fair took her time to think of them.

"I love you" was the closing thought from Robert Mooring. Tina Reed, William Powell and Bruce Walter expressed their appreciation for the time Mrs. Fair took to make this party something special for the young people of Room 109.

To many people, a party is just a party, but to Mrs. Fair the kids in Room 109 are something special. She loves them.
