

AKA Sorority's First Annual Ebony Expo Termed "Whopping Success" Here

With a week of All American activities in our community, sisters of Eta Delta Omega Chapter of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority scored a touchdown at their first annual Ebony Expo '74 at the E.C. Struggs Junior High School last weekend. Hundreds of Lubbockites browsed through the schools to see what was going on in East Lubbock.

"Ebony Expo 74 was a whopping success," said Soror Barbara Williams, director of the project. "We carried out our original purpose: gave the public a view of Black culture; and promoted greater self-awareness among Black people in our community", she continued.

In concluding her observations about the first annual affair, she said, "We thank everyone involved."

Lubbockites had an opportunity of seeing such exhibits about the East Lubbock Business Association (ELBA), Black Culture Experience from Reese Air Force Base, splendid crafts from Curry's Craft, Lubbock Opportunities Industrialization Center (LOIC), Mary Kay Cosmetics, Lubbock's unit of National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) and Universal Life Insurance Company.

Also available for observation were Atlanta Life Insurance Company, Texas Tech University Office of Admission, Omega Psi Phi Fraternity, Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc., Weight Watchers, Figuettes and Caviel's Cosmetics and Jewelry.

Further browsing through the efforts of Ebony Expo 74 revealed many other educational and interesting projects. Many are still talking about the professional art work of J. Poindexter of Odessa, Salone Cunningham, Jimmy Brown, Lester Charles Brown and Vivian Cooke.

Dr. Vivian Davis's book review; the fashion show and musical on Friday evening scored as a catalyst for others to invade the corridors of the temporary art gallery at E.C. Struggs.

Mrs. Calvin Raulierson told of her experiences in Africa at a Saturday morning setting. There was story time for the younger tots as well as African Folk Dancing by Texas Tech students. Ladies, as well as men, enjoyed a wrapping of hair demonstration.

As many have said, "All in all, the puppet show, poetry and music added to the first annual fete."

Winners of the various awards were: Jeffery Collins, dance contest; Mrs. Mattie McKinney, free subscription to Ebony; Gary Davis, won a quilt; and Mrs. Wanda L. Jackson of Odessa, Texas, won a gift certificate to Figuettes.

3. Sensitivity training. Each station shall require their key personnel to participate in sensitivity training designed to provide them with greater insight into and understanding of the Chicano, his community, his problems, his culture and his history.

Prentis Williams Moves Up Coaching Ladder

Prentis Williams, assistant coach at Coronado High School, moved up recently to the University of Texas at Austin as a receiver coach. He said, "I will do the best of my ability to contribute something to my new position with the University of Texas."

Darrell Royal, athletic director and head coach at Texas, said, "We are delighted to have him. Prentis enjoys a wonderful reputation as a person. He's an outstanding football coach and I feel he will be an outstanding asset to our program."

A former head coach at Dunbar High School, he led the Panthers to the 1968 Class AAA state track championship, Dunbar's first year in the UIL.

Williams will step into the position held previously by Alvin Matthews, a defensive halfback with the Green Bay Packers who returned to the pro club rather than coach at Texas full time.

City Schedules Career Workshop at Mae Simmons Center this Coming Saturday

Residents of East Lubbock will have an opportunity to learn about careers with the City of Lubbock this Saturday, June 29, during a "Careers Opportunity Workshop" at Mae Simmons Community Center.

The program will begin at 10 a.m., and will spotlight the many types of jobs available with the City of Lubbock and the requirements and benefits of these jobs.

The program is sponsored by the city and the Texas Tech University School of Business Administration. Speaking at the program will be Dr. Albert Karnig, professor of Business Administration, Norman Heath, city director of civil service, and Joe Minkley, city director of personnel.

Karnig's talk will be about the do's and don'ts of applying for a job, particularly for persons who grew-up in a low-income neighborhood as Dr. Karnig did. Heath will review the requirements and benefits of many other city jobs other than police and fire.

Karnig plans to give special emphasis to the reasoning behind requirements for various city jobs, and why each job has specific qualifications.

The morning session will last from 10 a.m. to noon, and the afternoon session will last from 1 to 3 p.m.

All residents of Lubbock and particularly residents of East Lubbock are invited to attend free of charge.

Garner L. Jordan Receives Award

Garner L. Jordan, 2415 E. 28th, was recognized by Southwestern Bell Telephone Company Wednesday for his quick action in apparently saving the life of Miss LaWanda Johnson last December 3rd.

Jordan, a house serviceman for Southwestern Bell, received a company citation signed by H.D. Schodde, vice president of personnel.

The presentation was made by Southwestern Bell officials in a ceremony at the company building, 20th and Avenue R, Lubbock.

Jordan, who has had several hours of company first aid training, was on his way to work the morning of Dec. 3, when Mrs. Rossie Johnson ran from her house at 2424 E. 28th St. calling for help for her daughter.

Jordan responded and found Miss Johnson, 16, unconscious and apparently not breathing, in the bath tub.

Jordan, assisted by Mrs. Johnson, pulled the unconscious girl from the tub. Jordan applied artificial respiration and Miss Johnson resumed breathing.

Doctors later stated that Jordan's quick thinking and fast action definitely resulted in saving Miss Johnson's life.

She was taken to a hospital by ambulance and was released after treatment.

Mrs. Jordan also arrived at the scene in time to assist in reviving the girl.

LOIC to Stage Grad Ceremonies

Approximately thirty trainees of the Lubbock Opportunities Industrialization Center (LOIC) are expected to graduate in special ceremonies Friday evening, July 19, at 7:30 p.m. at Vann's Catering Service, Slaton Highway.

Guest speaker for the graduation ceremony will be Don Harty, regional director of Region VI.

For information concerning the graduation, contact Ms. Diane Henderson, executive director, at 763-8077.

KNOW WHO DID THIS?—An unknown driver in a white car drove into the kitchen of the Pleasure Garden last week. Approximately $500 worth of damage resulted, according to owner D.C. Fair, Sr. (Staff Photo)

Many Opportunities in Lubbock and West Texas

Many young black men and women have often made the comment: "I'm going to leave Lubbock, because there are no opportunities here for me." Many times we have been guilty of saying there's nothing for young black people to do in Lubbock.

We are not able to answer all the questions or have a solution for all the problems we hear in Lubbock, but we are able to inform all young black brothers and sisters that there are many opportunities for you in Lubbock. Sometimes opportunities present themselves in strange situations, and it's up to you to be able to find them.

Lubbock is growing in leaps and bounds, and with all the growth, we've got to take advantage of those opportunities around us. If you, as a black man or woman born and reared in Lubbock, don't take advantage of the many opportunities around you, someone else will come in and find a bird nest on the ground.

So let's wake up and take advantage of what is around us. If you think we're shucking and jiving, just look at what the Black Muslims are doing in Lubbock. They are taking advantage of business opportunities where many of us don't see them. We say more power to the Black Muslims or any group that is concerned about bettering the conditions of black people in Lubbock or West Texas.

The next time you say there are no opportunities in Lubbock or West Texas, just look around and you will see people doing it. Check it out!!

Good Luck to Coach Prenis Williams

Coach Prenis Williams, an assistant at Coronado High School last year, is to be congratulated for being chosen by Coach Darrell Royal as the receiver coach for the University of Texas at Austin this year. We can see why Coach Royal says they're delighted to have him on the side of the Longhorns, for he is a man who can contribute to the coaching cause.

We would have liked to see Coach Williams remain in our community. He becomes the second Dunbar High School head coach to be drafted by the college ranks. The other was Coach James Hillyer who took a job in Colorado in 1969.

We at the Times hope that Texas Tech University will keep an eye on these black coaches who are being sought after by other universities. We would like to see men of the caliber of Williams and Hillyer to remain on the South Plains, especially working with the big red spread at Texas Tech.

Anyway, what has happened, has happened. At the same time, however, we have been informed that Kenneth Wallace will have an opportunity to work with Texas Tech this fall in an assistant position. This is good and we're glad to hear that Kenneth will be around encouraging young people in our community, and attending to business, seeking another degree.

We say, Good Luck, Coach Williams. We wish you were wearing "red and black", rather than "orange and white".

Belton, Tex., "Journal and Bell County Democrat": "On the subject of badness, this country's welfare program is an extravagant disgrace. Admittedly, many welfare recipients are legitimate and deserving, and those of us more fortunate should help them. But the frauds are becoming rampant. . . . My initial thought was to take half the people off welfare and give them jobs investigating the remaining half. That would not work, because the government would then have to hire investigators to investigate the investigators, and Antigo, Wisc., "Journal": "There are sharp differences between the approaches of congressmen and legislators generally to economic issues. One type is much more disposed to place the blame than it is to develop solutions, and since spotting someone to blame has broad appeal among the voters it can be good politics until the time comes that workable solutions are needed. That calls for constructive efforts, the sifting of facts and judgement based upon them. Those who can see nothing but conspiracy behind every economic evil eventually are recognized as politicians first and statesmen—not at all."

As I See It

by T.J. Patterson

Ebony Expo '74 will be long remembered by the residents of east Lubbock. Sisters of the Eta Delta Omega Chapter of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority are to be commended for a job well done. They did an excellent job in informing residents of Lubbock on some of the happenings in our community.

We've said many times at the West Texas Times that there's so much talent in Lubbock and West Texas and there's a great need to see that the rest of the world knows that we have many things going our way. There's so much going on and we've got to make more things happen in our community. The AKA's have done a splendid job this month, now it's time to keep this type of activity visible. Let's hope we can keep on, keeping on, showing off the black community.

Thanks again, Sisters, for a real exciting program as Ebony Expo '74. What I'd like to know is what will you do for an encore? I would, however, like to recommend that the Ebony Expo '74 concept continue each year. It's needed and the entire city of Lubbock should be a part of it.

Oh, by the way, Sisters of Eta Delta Omega Chapter of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority will be back in December with their Debutante Ball.

It's good to know that there are still great efforts made in strengthening minority-owned financial institutions in America. East Lubbock could use some sort of a financial institution to give us some financial clout.

JACK ANDERSON'S WEEKLY SPECIAL

FAR EAST TROUBLE

by Jack Anderson

(Copyright by United Feature Syndicate, Inc., 1974)
 Washington—While Secretary of State Henry Kissinger has been gaining diplomatic ground in the Middle East, he has been losing ground in the Far East. The friendly relations he achieved with Communist China are beginning to turn sour.

America's best friend in Peking, Premier Chou En-lai, is under political attack. There are signs that his power is slipping. His enemies have charged that the United States is still supporting Chiang Kai-shek.

They point to the recent sale of submarines, planes and helicopters to Taiwan. The Chiang Kai-shek government was also granted permission to open two new consulates in the United States.

The anti-American faction in Peking claims this is contrary to the spirit of Shanghai. In a Shanghai communique, President Nixon and Premier Chou En-lai pledged to normalize the relations between the two countries.

The Chinese viewed normalization as meaning that the United States would disengage from Taiwan and establish full diplomatic relations with mainland China. Instead, the United States has fostered its relations with Taiwan.

As a result, the controlled Chinese press has stepped up its attacks on the United States Secret intelligence reports also warn that the detente is in danger.

Secretary of State Henry Kissinger was so alarmed over these reports that he took time out from his Middle East preoccupation to send Peking a message, reassuring the Chinese of Washington's friendly intentions.

Nuclear Scramble: Secret intelligence reports give an alarming account of the worldwide proliferation of nuclear weapons. At the same time that the United States and the Soviet Union are negotiating to restrict nuclear weapons, other nations are scrambling to build up their nuclear arsenals.

The intelligence reports claim that Communist China has already deployed more than 50 nuclear missiles. Silos are being dug in remote, rugged mountains for hundreds more.

France has 58 fighter bombers and 18 intermediate missiles, with a nuclear punch. Now the French are rushing to build five missile launching submarines. Intelligence reports state each sub eventually will be equipped with 16 multiple-headed missiles.

The British have sounded out the United States for help in building multiple-headed nuclear missiles. The United States is also helping several nations, including Egypt and Israel, to build peaceful nuclear reactors. The used uranium from these reactors, however, can be reprocessed into plutonium for nuclear bombs.

Already, India has built a bomb from the residue of peaceful reactors. The intelligence reports predict that Egypt, Israel, Iran, Japan, Rumania, Sweden and West Germany will also wind up with nuclear weapons.

The great worry is that nuclear weapons will become so

It was good to hear that a one year contract was renewed by the National Banking Association through a $125,000 contract with the Department of Commerce's Office of Minority Business Enterprise (OMBE). Deputy Director Samuel J. Cornelius of OMBE said: "In our joint commitment to strengthening the financial capacity of minority-owned financial institutions, significant progress has been made."

At present time, deposits in minority-owned banks now exceed $1 billion dollars, as compared with $400 million on deposit in 1970. In addition, according to Cornelius, the number of banks in which minority citizens own more than 50 percent of the stock has risen from 31 in 1970 to 54 in 1974.

Wouldn't it be nice to have some type of financial institution in the Eastern part of Lubbock. It would help build the financial base of our community.

I had an opportunity to rap with Capt. William A. Jordan, a brother stationed at Reese Air Force Base, last Saturday morning at the Ebony Expo '74. A resident of Washington, D.C., he tells some interesting things of what is happening in the black community on the East Coast. He tells me that the population of Washington, D.C. is 73% black (600,000 brothers and sisters) and 95% of the schools kids are black.

As he sees it, it's hard to find a white person in D.C. Can you imagine all those brothers and sisters in D.C. As Brother Jordan says: "There's a lot going on there." Can you dig where he's coming from???

Members of the East Lubbock Business Association, under the sponsorship of Stubb's Bar-b-que, is staging a real big bar-b-que at the American Legion Hall, Yellowhouse Canyon, Sunday afternoon, July 7, at 2:30 p.m.

It is the hope of this program that all residents of Lubbock will come out and hear what the East Lubbock Business Association is all about. Aside from the good tasty bar-b-que, there will also be food for thought for everyone attending.

Tell your friends about this special program. If you do, you'll be glad you did.

There needs to be an investigation of the standing water on the Mae Simmons Park (west of Mae Simmons Community Center). I didn't think the City of Lubbock had begun constructing the Canyon Lakes. This water really needs checking out NOW!

plentiful that irresponsible leaders will get their hands on them. Libya's President Qaddafi already is supplying sophisticated, Soviet-made weapons to terrorists. What if Qaddafi had access to nuclear weapons? It is not an idle question: On May 20, the Soviets promised Libya a nuclear reactor for water de-salination.

Oil Flood: Greedy oil governments have been so eager to cash in on sky-high oil prices that they have flooded the market with too much oil. They have been forced to shave prices in order to get rid of their excess crude. This could bring lower prices at the gas pumps by late summer.

The story of the sudden oil glut has been hushed up by the oil companies, apparently, to prevent any weakening of the price structure. The oil shortage psychology helps to keep prices high. Word that the oil pipelines are overloaded could bring pressure to reduce prices.

The oil companies paid top price for most of the oil now in their inventories and they want to sell it for the highest possible price. Therefore, they are keeping the oil surplus story quiet.

We found out about it from confidential memos, which our sources have furnished us from oil company files. These memos report that the oil governments, which have taken control of production away from the oil companies, don't have experience in adjusting production to meet the demand.

Iran, Iraq and Liberia, in particular, have been greedy for greater products. The United States has also brought pressure on Saudi Arabia to increase production rates. As a result, storage facilities are becoming filled to capacity and oil tankers must search for places to unload their cargo.

Unless the oil governments agree to restrict production again, oil prices eventually must drop.

Only in this way, they argue, can the rumor of secret funds be settled.

Dedicated Jury: In the early days of Watergate, President Nixon urged the American people to have faith in the judicial system. Now the judicial system has produced the grand jury statement naming the President as an unindicted co-conspirator in the Watergate crimes.

The President's defenders immediately launched an attack upon the Watergate grand jury. His friend, Sen. Carl Curtis of Nebraska, called the grand jury "unrepresentative" of the country. Presidential speech writer Pat Buchanan repeated the charge in blunter terms. He charged that the grand jury was mostly black and mostly Democratic.

But we happen to know a good deal about this historic grand jury. We have read secret transcripts of the grand jury's proceedings, have talked to inside sources and can state, categorically, that this was an exceptional grand jury, well informed, highly alert and dedicated to the public good.

Among the 23 jurors were an economist, a cleaning woman, a retired army officer, an elevator operator, a receptionist and a taxi driver. Like most other Americans, they recoiled at the idea that the President might be involved.

For several months, they actually avoided questions which might have implicated President Nixon. But in the end, the evidence couldn't be avoided. The grand jurors decided that Richard Nixon should be indicted. When the special prosecutor ruled they couldn't indict a sitting President, the jurors who were present voted unanimously to name Nixon as an unindicted co-conspirator.

Police Beat

Car Burglary

Luis V. Wilson, 1906 East 1st Street, reported to Lubbock police that someone unknown broke into his 1967 model car one day last week while it was parked at the Rockamore Cafe.

Taken from the car were several eight track tapes valued at $5.00 each.

He told police, without hesitation, that he knew the man who could have broken into the car and took his tapes.

House Burglary

William Lightford, 1607 Walnut Avenue, reported to Lubbock police that persons unknown kicked in the front door of his house while he was away one day last week.

It was learned that an $85 guitar was taken from the house as well as some coins from a fruit jar.

There was approximately $25 worth of damage to the door and it will cost $5.00 to replace the window.

Destruction of Private Property

D.C. Fair, Sr., 2007 Date Avenue, reported to Lubbock police that persons unknown, perhaps on a white Plymouth, drove into the kitchen of his business, The Pleasure Garden, one evening last week and knocked it down.

According to the police report, there was approximately $500 worth of damage done to the building.

House Burglary

Paul Andrews, 1817 East 2nd Street, reported to the Lubbock Police Department that persons unknown entered his house one day last week and took advantage of him.

After entry was gained, it was learned that persons unknown took a $25.00 radio and a $65.00 eight track tape player. It is believed that the front door was left unlocked since there was no sign of forced entry.

Assault and Theft

Diane Hooks, 1312 East 16th Street, reported to Lubbock police that a man assaulted her last Friday afternoon.

She reported that the man, whom she knew, hit her several times in the face and attempted to choke her.

She told police that she broke free from the man and ran from the house. She also told police that he took a .22 caliber pistol from her purse.

Mrs. Comora Mingo of Midland, Texas, spent a few hours last Sunday afternoon with a friend, M. Terrell. She was in company with her niece, Mrs. Pearlie Johnson who was returning home from Canyon, Texas, where she carried her daughter, Roslyn, to a music camp. Roslyn was a member of the Midland High School graduating class of 1974 and received a music scholarship. She also received a scholarship from the local chapter of her mother's sorority. Roslyn has been taking voice training for a few years and has been acclaimed as quite talented. She plans to pursue a music career at West Texas State University next fall. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, are natives of Marshall, Texas, and are quite proud of their daughter. Mrs. Johnson has been a member of the Midland School system for fifteen years. She is now an elementary teacher at Ben Milam Elementary School. They left for Midland after a brief visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Hill and children of Dallas visited his family here last week. Mrs. Hill, "nee Karen Johnson", also visited her aunt, Mrs. Louise Reece and family.

Mrs. Addie Bell Howard, and her sister, Mrs. Ruby James of Navasota, were house guest of their sister, Mrs. Joe McGowen and family, last weekend. They left Sunday via Greyhound bus, 9:19 p.m., for home. They also attended the Sorata Club Dance while here. Mrs. Howard is planning to go to Los Angeles, California soon.

DEAR EDITOR

Dear Editor:

Let me begin by saying that in the ten months that I have been away from Lubbock in Whitewater, Wisconsin, I have enjoyed keeping up with news in the minority community of Lubbock via your paper.

However in the past few months, especially in issues which precede and follow elections, I have been disturbed at the fact that the West Texas Times has continually ignored a political party which has been endorsed by leaders in the Black community. I am referring, of course, to the Raza Unida Party. Continually you, the editorial staff at the Times, have omitted the Raza Unida Party when urging your readers to get to the polls or to reprimand your readers for not voting.

I specifically refer to the statement in your June 6th issue of the Times: "Regardless of what party you belong, Democratic or Republican, you must get involved and vote for the candidate of your choice." This statement or a resemblance of it can be found in other issues of the Times. The only time I can remember even mentioning Raza Unida Party is when Carlos Quirino announced for candidacy for State Representative.

Black leaders who have endorsed Raza Unida Party in Texas, specifically Ramsey Muniz a candidate for Governor of Texas, are Mrs. Martin Luther King, Jr. and Rev. Ralph Abernathy. In the words of Mrs. King, "He's not Black, but he's almost Black."

It is ironic that a progressive paper such as yours has not given Raza Unida coverage or for that matter even mentioned it in your editorials. I am sure that you will agree with me that the Democratic and Republican Parties have not served in the best interests of the Black and minority people. Perhaps you are basing your endorsement of the Democratic and Republican party on the amount of money they spend on advertising in your paper. If this is the case, I might as well give up ever wanting to see the name of Raza Unida Party in your paper because I know that RUP does not have the money lords who are members of the other two parties. The voters, candidates and participants of Raza Unida Party are common poor people much like, I would think, many of your readers.

You speak of people power at the polls in your editorials. Can there be more proof that RUP can provide this power to people than the general election of 1972 when for the first time in history a governor (Dolph Briscoe) was elected with less than a majority of votes in Texas? In this election Raza Unida Party showed that it can be the balance of power in Texas. This balance of power can be used to the advantage of Black people in Lubbock and throughout Texas.

This year for the first time the people of Lubbock and the area will have a choice as to who is elected for office in November. For many years the Democrats in Lubbock have had no opposition for offices. After winning the May primaries, Democratic candidates were assured of winning in November.

You often mention that the Black and minority people of the Lubbock area should get off their seats and get out to vote. I now submit that the editorial staff of the Times should get off their seats and endorse or at least mention the party which is really representative of the poor people of Lubbock and Texas, Raza Unida Party in November.
