Black Legislator Wants Texan Impeached

Austin—(NBNS)—Texas State legislator Eddie Bernice Johnson wants to impeach 81-year-old Texas comptroller Robert S. Calvert because he called her "a nigger woman."

Rep. Johnson, a Democrat, said she began the request for Gov. Dolph Briscoe to convene the Texas Legislature to impeach the 81-year-old comptroller for racial and sexual discrimination.

"We charge that Mr. Robert Calvert has unlawfully discriminated against more than 65 per cent of the people of the state of Texas who are women, Mexican-Americans and blacks," she said.

Calvert, a white, has been comptroller since 1949.

White Sailor Discharged for Lying About Kitty Hawk Incident

San Diego—(NBNS)—A 19-year-old sailor has been given a bad conduct discharge because he lied in the trial of a Kitty Hawk shipmate. Michael Angelo Laurie of Selden, N.Y. admitted that he lied when he testified in the court martial of seaman Cleveland Mallory.

In that trial, he testified that he had seen the black sailor hit a white crewman during the rioting aboard the ship last October while it was out at sea. Mallory was convicted of rioting, but the Navy overturned the conviction later.

Claiming that he was urged to lie by the ship's legal officer, Laurie admitted to three counts of perjury.

Sammy Davis Jr. Given Initial OK for Gambling License

Carson City, Nev.—(NBNS)—Entertainer Sammy Davis Jr., who is seeking to become a director in Hotel Conquistador which operates the Tropicana Hotel and Country Club in Las Vegas, has received preliminary approval for a gambling license.

Board chairman of the Nevada Gambling Control Board Philip Hannifin said that Davis would have to face some questioning at a meeting Sept. 27 in Las Vegas because "there have been recent allegations reflecting on his (Davis') personal background."

Roosevelt Denies Offer to Murder Pindling

Washington—(NBNS)—Former Miami Beach Mayor Elliott Roosevelt and son of late President Franklin Roosevelt, will appear before the permanent Senate investigating subcommittee to testify and officially deny reports that he offered $100,000 for the murder of Bahamian Prime Minister Lynden Pindling.

A convicted securities racketeer testified last week that he received $10,000 from Roosevelt as an advance for assassinating the prime minister.

Black Named Chairman of Southern Governors Organization During Recent Alabama Conference

Point Clear, Ala.—(NBNS)—The selection of the first black as chairman of the Southern Governors Conference was a rather quiet and routine one.

Virgin Islands Governor Melvin H. Evans, who served as vice chairman during the past year, took over the reins of the Southern Governors organization from Alabama Governor George Wallace.

Evans, who saw his election to the post as rather routine, said it demonstrated that the South had finally accepted the principle of equality.

The 56 year old physician has been a national symbol of racial difference for more than a decade.

Wallace himself said Evans election by the 19 governors had "no significance. The conference elects a man of his ability. He (Evans) is an able governor and an able executive."

Democrats Expand Battle Over Convention Delegate Selection During Washington Session

Washington—(NBNS)—The Democrats' Commission on Delegate Selection has ended its first sessions here with the "reformers" in control and the "regulars" disputing the power of the commission to make binding decisions on how delegates will be chosen for the 1976 Democratic National Convention.

Party Chairman Robert S. Strauss, who opened the sessions by declaring he would not tolerate a quota system for delegate selection in any form, forecast an expansion of the battle beyond the commission to the full Democratic National Committee and probably to the courts.

Strauss, in an unscheduled appearance before the commission, revealed that he had obtained an opinion from Chicago lawyer Newton A. Minow, a former Federal Communications Commission chairman, which held that the 1972 guidelines on delegate selection "have no continuing status" and that any new guidelines written by the current commission "are subject to review and revision" by the Democrat National Committee.

A second opinion, sought from former Supreme Court Justice Arthur Goldberg, was not forthcoming when Goldberg changed his mind and decided "I don't want to get into the political thicket again."

The political thicket was dense as the selection commission met with those who supported the opening up of the delegate selection process to minorities arraigned against the political henchmen of organized labor and the representatives of many Democratic elected officials around the country.

These "regulars", who have controlled many past Democratic conventions, sought to gain control of the 72-member commission by authorizing Strauss to appoint an additional 80 members. The

"The completely routine manner in which this historic event took place," Evans told the governors, "is indicative of a basic understanding and acceptance of principles which may have been in doubt in the past."

"I have been the first black in so many things before I suppose the novelty has worn off."

Evans, who has been governor of the Virgin Islands since July 1969, is a balding six-footer, educated at Howard University Medical School in Washington and the University of California Public Health Graduate School. He was senior assistant surgeon of the U.S. Public Health Service in 1948-50 and later served as health commissioner on the islands from 1959 to 1967.

Florida's governor Rueben Askew was chosen vice chairman for this year, virtually assuring him of the chairmanship next year.

motion was withdrawn, however, when it appeared that Chairman Barbara Mikulski, a Baltimore, Md., city councilwoman, was in full control of the commission with a majority in support of "affirmative action" to assure the inclusion of blacks, women and young voters among the delegates to the next Democratic convention.

The commission approved a 17-member drafting committee, nominated by Miss Mikulski, to prepare delegate selection guidelines for consideration by the commission at a subsequent meeting.

Miss Mikulski had asked Strauss to seek a second legal opinion from Justice Goldberg. Later she said: "I am sure there will be other legal opinions coming along, and quite possibly we'll go to court."

Earlier, Rep. James G. O'Hara (D-Mich.), chairman of the rules commission and parliamentarian at the 1972 convention, had endorsed Minow's opinion that the 1972 reforms, which implied delegate quotas, were now null and void.

This was disputed by Rep. Donald M. Fraser (D-Minn.), who succeeded Sen. George McGovern (D-S.D.) as chairman of the 1972 reform commission. He expressed the view that, if the Mikulski commission "doesn't revise the 1972 guidelines, I'd say they go forward intact" to the 1976 convention.

O'Hara and Fraser also differed on the question of granting automatic voting delegate status at the 1976 convention to Democratic officeholders.

O'Hara recommended that Democratic governors, senators and representatives be given delegate status with the right to vote. Fraser suggested that they be non-voting ex officio delegates, unless they chose to run for election as voting delegates to the convention.

Delegates will begin arriving here Thursday evening for the 37th annual session of the state convention of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) which will be held at the Red Raider Inn October 5 and 6, Friday and Saturday.

Dr. F.L. Lovings, president of the Lubbock NAACP unit, told the press early this week: "The program is shaping up fine. Our workshop speakers are capable and nationally known and should add a great deal to this year's session," says Dr. Lovings.

"It is my desire and hope that all of the people of Lubbock and the South Plains of Texas will come out to our Mass Meeting on Friday evening, October 5 at 8 p.m.," says Dr. Lovings.

Keynote speaker for the Friday evening meeting will be Gloster B. Current, director of branches and field administrator for the national organization. His opening remarks will be based around the theme for the two-day session, "Lest We Forget, The Stony Road We Trod."

Percy Sutton, president of Burroughs of Manhattan, will speak at the Freedom Fund Banquet at 8 p.m. Saturday. Tickets to the banquet are $8.00.

Dr. G.D. Flemmings of Fort Worth will address the Walter White Memorial Luncheon at 12:15 p.m. Saturday. Flemmings is a member of the national board of directors of NAACP and president of the Tarrant County Branch of the Association.

Several Texas Tech professors are scheduled to appear at the conclave. Dr. Hazel Taylor, assistant professor of education, and Dr. Emory Davis, assistant professor of sociology, will be speaking in the various workshops.

Also to participate in various capacities will be Dr. Floyd Perry, associate vice president for academic affairs; Dr. Joan Kelly, associate professor of home economics, and Dr. Glenn E. Barnett, executive vice president.

Stringent Sterilization Restrictions Proposed

Washington—(NBNS)—The government has proposed new restrictions on sterilizations in clinics supported by federal funds to protect the rights of 100,000 low-income and legally incompetent persons.

The order by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare follows guidelines issued on Aug. 3 by the agency following the involuntary sterilization of two young black girls from Montgomery, Ala. Later, there were reports that some Aiken, S.C. welfare mothers were forced to undergo sterilization as a pre-condition to obstetrical care.

The immediate effect of the regulations is to continue a freeze on family planning and Medicaid until early next year for sterilization of minors and legally incompetent persons to control fertility.

Black Brothers Let's Guard And Elevate Our Women

There are many black brothers in Lubbock and West Texas who do not give our black women the consideration they need in this day and time. On the other hand, there are only a few black men who wear the pants in their homes, for the women control the home when we should be doing our thing. It's time for the real black men to step forward and start doing our manly thing in the black community.

As black men, we must look at the black woman as being the field by which our black brothers and sisters are produced. If we don't have the guts to keep out the enemies in our fields, we will produce a bad crop. Many of us have grown corn, beans, tomatoes, beets and other vegetables and if we would find an insect or worm in our garden, we would kill it. We would find some way to keep those terrible creatures out of our garden.

In some cases, we'd even shoot at someone in our garden trying to steal our crop.

Aren't our women more valuable than the crop grown in our garden? How much more valuable is your woman than the crops you have grown in your garden? This question should be asked by each black man in Lubbock and West Texas. If you look at what has happened in the black community, we'd quickly agree that we have not been careful about our women.

How many times have we let visitors to run in and out of our houses, thus destroying the love for our women and our women destroying their love for their black man. This type of action should open our eyes up to the fact that we are going to have to do something different about this sort of thing.

Black brothers, until we learn to love and protect our women, we will never be a fit and recognized people in Lubbock or West Texas. Let's fact it, and be sincere, the white community will never recognize us as men until we protect our women from the troubles of the world. The same will hold true to any race of people who see us not protecting our black women.

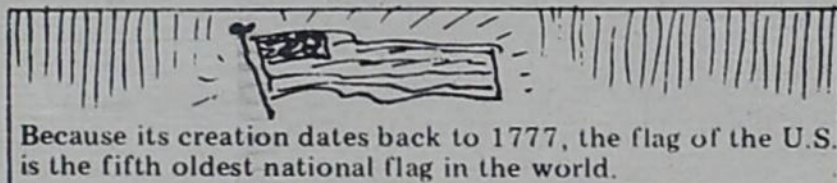

A great number of our women in Lubbock and West Texas walk or ride the streets at night, with some strange men in the community. They are seen in all sorts of places whenever they like. They are even allowed to fill our homes with children other than our own.

Our women are seen comparing their welfare checks in public places, bragging on the number of children they have by different men, some black and some white. Our black women have been used and are still being used by the white community. They can't go anywhere by themselves without being winked at, whistled at, yelled at, slapped, patted, kicked and driven around in our community by whites in Lubbock and West Texas, right under our nose and we say nothing.

Not only does the white man take advantage of our black women, but there are blacks (who call themselves men) who committ adultery against another brother's wife and many of us see this sort of thing happen and we say nothing about it.

Some of us black men are too old to do anything, but we chip and chase on our black women. On the other hand, there are those who take advantage of our young black girls who have no idea of what life is all about. We completely confuse their existence and they end up being one of our dead crops. It's not hard to see why the younger black people are afraid of working with us older brothers and sisters. You see they've seen us do so many things which showed a lack of respect for the womanhood of our community.

Black brothers, we'd like to leave one thing with you. The first nurse and teacher you had was your mother. She was woman. If we don't protect Mother, how do you think we look in the eyes of other fellow human beings as being a group of men who don't protect and elevate our women. It's worth thinking about. Our women are our fields of production.

Because its creation dates back to 1777, the flag of the U.S. is the fifth oldest national flag in the world.

NIXON 'DE-TILTS' PAKISTAN POLICY

by Jack Anderson

(Copyright, 1973, by United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

Washington—Pakistan's Prime Minister Bhutto called upon President Nixon and recalled the President's famous "tilt" toward Pakistan. This was his secret policy of aiding Pakistan in its December 1971 war with India. It was a policy of deception. Both the American people and their Congress were deceived by Nixon, who stated publicly that the U.S. was neutral in the conflict.

The smiling Bhutto said, however, that the President had "tilted for freedom." But this time, the President didn't tilt as far as Pakistan would have liked. Bhutto came to the U.S. to obtain arms to build what he called a "credible deterrent" against India. His appeal for arms was quietly turned down.

Only parts needed to maintain the weapons already in the Pakistani arsenal will be sent. Otherwise, U.S. aid will be limited to food and medical supplies.

Meanwhile, our Ambassador to India, Daniel Patrick Moynihan, has assured the Indian Government privately that the U.S. will not become a major arms supplier for Pakistan. He has also calmed Indian fears that U.S. arms might be shipped secretly to Pakistan through Iran.

The Nixon Administration, belatedly, is seeking to improve relations with India.

1934 Wiretap Scandal: Senate Watergate counsel Sam Dash has uncovered what he called one of the "most serious invasions of privacy in the country." This was a tap on the telephone terminals, believe it or not, of Supreme Court Justices.

But the case goes back to 1934—a Watergate-size scandal that has been hidden from the public for 40 years.

Dash has belatedly learned this much about the 1934 scandal: The Supreme Court was meeting on a giant commercial case involving millions. Apparently, one of the litigants hoped to learn how the justices would vote, so he could settle out of court if it looked as if he might lose.

With millions at stake, he apparently hired some expert tappers who holed up in a building near the Capitol and tapped in on the justices' phones. A squad of raiders from the Federal Communications Commission rushed into the building. But the tappers had fled moments earlier, leaving behind a freshly lit cigarette and warm cups of coffee.

The FCC raiders were sworn to secrecy, and the tappers were never caught.

As I See It

by T.J. Patterson

I had a dream one night last week about the black community. If you'll permit me, I'll be more than happy to let you in on my dream. It was based on the concern of our ministers and pastors to do something for the black community as well as their congregation.

My dream went like this:

A meeting was held by all black ministers of East Lubbock. Every minister and pastor of the more than 19 churches were present. They met in harmony and left all their petty differences at home. It was the first time in history that black ministers and pastors in Lubbock had sat down and discussed the problems of the black people in a business matter and came up with some ideas which would help somebody and contribute something tangible to the City of Lubbock.

It was quite obvious in the meeting that none of the ministerial personalities were hung up on denominations. There was just as much input from the Church of Christ as the Church of God in Christ; the Methodist as well as Baptist. In other words, everyone was doing their positive thing for the community.

One minister in the group came up with an idea of pooling the financial resources of the community. He suggested that since we are fund raisers in our various congregations, why don't we give a certain part of our anniversaries (personal and church) to a fund to develop East Lubbock. Of course, there was brief discussion about the matter, but everyone agreed with the idea and decided to work out a plan of action to utilize this effort to strengthen the black community.

Another minister, who was quite respected by his peers, remarked: "You know our churches raise approximately $30,000 a year in anniversaries and the like, why not give a great portion of that to purchasing some of these 650 lots in East Lubbock?"

"If this is the case, and we decide to purchase the 650 lots in East Lubbock, at $700 per lot, it would only cost us about $455,000", said a pastor. "But if we would only purchase 100 lots at a time, we would be able to purchase these lots over a period of time and not be taxed so much", he continued.

"Surely if we can build beautiful churches as we have over the past years, we can easily own some of the earth God has given us. All we got to do is get our thing together and involve every church member in our community. Not only will this land belong to the Baptists, Methodists, Church of God in Christ or Church of Christ, but it will belong to the black people of East Lubbock," he concluded.

Another minister, who is quite positive with the future of such a program, suggested, "Since we are thinking in this direction, there are possibilities for the tight money situation to cease in the near future and we may be able, not only to purchase land, but as we purchase some of this vacant land, we will be able to develop some decent houses in East Lubbock. Some houses that many of our people who Costly Mistake: Both the consumers and the farmers are paying now for mistakes made by the large food retailing chains during the price freeze on beef. The supermarket chains feared a shortage, so they bought up cattle at high prices in order to keep meat in their stores.

Now with the beef prices going down, the stores are stuck with cattle worth much less. Predictably, they decided to pass their business mistakes along to the consumers. The supermarkets have announced a rise in beef prices even while the market price is going down.

Safeway led the pack by decreeing a 10-cent, across the board rise in beef. Other chains have followed. The result: higher prices for the consumers and lower prices for the farmers.

The soaring meat prices have already resulted in a lot of meatless school lunches. Federal subsidies for school lunches are fixed and, therefore, can't keep up with the price increases. So across the country, school children are getting spaghetti, beans, pizzas and other low-cost meat substitutes.

Their parents, caught in the inflation squeeze, may be forced to do the same.

Social Security Foul-Up: The Social Security Administration has discovered from past surveys that at least two million of the nation's elderly, despite urgent need, are too proud to apply for welfare. These older folks prefer to struggle along with inadequate food, housing and medical care rather than endure the stigma of accepting welfare.

The Nixon Administration, therefore, took old-age assistance out of the welfare system and put it under social security. The changeover was supposed to ease the reluctance of many proud old people to apply for public assistance.

But the bureaucrats at the Social Security Administration, incredibly, plan to issue assistance payments next year not by regular government checks but by special checks. These checks will be a distinctive shade of brown, which will be easy to recognize. The assistance checks, therefore, will carry the same stigma that the Nixon Administration had sought to avoid.

My office asked the Social Security Administration the reason for the distinctive check color. The explanation was that the brown checks would make it easier for the bureaucrats to distinguish between social security and public assistance checks.

This is typical of the attitude of all too many government employees. They are supposed to serve the public, but they serve themselves first. They would rather make their own work easier by issuing distinctive checks than concern themselves about the sensibilities of two million old people.

are at the bottom of the bean pot can afford," he said.

"You know, there are so many programs available to poor people in this country. The only thing we got to do is get together and start working together so we can have a piece of pie here on earth," said a determined minister.

The determination on the faces of every minister and pastor was beautiful. Each was willing to go back to their own congregation and tell what happened. It was quite an improvement on the part of men who reach a great number of black people each week. As one of them said: "It can be done and it will be done."

At that point, I woke up by the alarm clock going off on the dresser. I only hate that I was unable to finish this constructive dream. A dream in which I shall never forget. I only hope that the ministerial body will understand my dream. I hope that they will understand that this dream can become a reality if we really want it to become one. I know, without any doubt, we have manpower in Lubbock, whether it be from the ministerial body or whatever, who could definitely help our local situation.

Lord, I hope one day we will all be able to awake from the drastic dream we're all living and see some of the beautiful things in our community. I hope we will awaken one day and put something together for our children's children. All of this and more is needed if we are to reach the promise land in Lubbock.

Centreville, Alabama, Press: "Excellence in education is not so much teaching a child what to think, but how to think, so that he goes on seeking, choosing, and thinking, so developing the persistent habit of inquiry and reasoning, and if, years later, the knowledge he has acquired in school has become irrelevant to his purpose, dated or forgotten, he still has the ability to acquire new knowledge, to understand events more clearly and to adapt himself to new circumstances. Quality education is not just providing information, it is developing wiser minds."

Blair, Nebraska, Pilot-Tribune: "American taxpayers should begin to take note of the elected state and federal officials who sanction the continued expansion of government programs and government spending. They should analyze every legislative and Congressional vote carefully to determine whether the price is worth the taxes which will be required and whether the project is a genuine benefit to the state and nation or merely a vote getting maneuver at the expense of the taxpayers."

London, Kentucky, Sentinel-Echo: "There are borrowers who have the idea that all loans run for life. Most of us would be better off if we worked less, made less, and spent less. The simple life, praised in prose and verse, isn't so simple in this day and time."

Police Beat

Theft Under $5.00

Yvonne Stinson, 1802 East Amherst Avenue, was a mad sister one day last week. She reported to Lubbock police that someone unknown took from under the hood of her car, one Betty Crocker white cake.

She told police that the cake was not iced and it was in a silver pan. It was valued at $2.00.

This column has reported some lulu's, but to steal a cake from under the hood of a car has got to be something else. Don't you think so?

House Burglary

Doris James, 3410 East 17th Street, reported to the Lubbock Police Department that someone unknown did enter her house through a bathroom window.

After an investigation, it was learned that a .22 caliber rifle and a .22 caliber revolver were taken from the house. They were valued at approximately $70. Other items taken were $15 in coins from a piggy bank, a beer can with $5 in coins and a $26 pair of men's shoes.

Destruction of Private Property

Benny Cole, 2717 East 2nd Street, Apt. A, reported to the Lubbock Police Department that persons unknown did break the front windshield and rear left passenger window of his 1967 model car.

According to the report, the car was parked on the curb in the 300 block of Walnut Avenue.

House Burglary

R.J. Darty, 3512 Teak Avenue, reported to the Lubbock Police Department that persons unknown entered his house through the front door by tearing the screen door and breaking the glass of the front door and unlocking it from the inside.

The burglar took a stereo, an 8-track tape deck, and the stand and two speakers. These items were valued at over $155.

Also taken from the house was a small dog, approximately 8 inches long. How about that?

House Burglary

Peter Snyder, manager of the Coronado Apartments at 1022 East 29th Street, reported that burglars struck twice one night last week in the East Lubbock apartment complex. The apartments hit were Apartment J (1010 East 28th St.) and Apartment I (1008 East 28th St.).

Taken from the apartments were couches, chairs, coffee tables, end tables, double beds, sets of box springs and mattresses, yards of carpet, chest of drawers and dressers.

Over $1,200 worth of items were taken from the two apartments. After a careful investigation, it was learned that there were no signs of forced entry.

House Burglary

Henry Jackson, 104 North Zenith, reported to the Lubbock Police Department that someone unknown broke into his house and took items valued at $775 one night last week. Items taken included a television set and others.

Entry was apparently gained through an undetermined point.

It would be easy to say "I told ya so," but what good would it do? Texas prevailed and that's that. The Longhorns are off and running towards No. 6 and Tech faces the usual uphill battle.

One game doesn't make a season and the Raiders still have a respectable 2-1 record. A victory over Oklahoma State would make the chart look that much better and the rest of the conference race still lies ahead. The Texas loss didn't end the season.

Certainly the Raiders have nothing to be ashamed of in that loss. They fought the favored Longhorns well and, had they been on the receiving end of some breaks, could have become winners.

All of which sounds familiar. I know I've written it before, but I agree with Coach Jim Carlen. The Tech coach said Monday that this was the first time in his four years here that he felt that there really wasn't too much difference between the two teams.

No one would have dreamed, for instance, that Don Grimes would miss both a field goal attempt and an extra point, both well within his reach.

The field goal actually hit an upright and could have made an interesting difference, had it been good. But even if things had remained the same as they turned out and Tech had held a 15-14 lead, the way the Longhorns stormed to their third touchdown might have been the equalizer.

Texas got its third score the way Texas teams get most of their scores. They drove nearly the length of the field. And the big thing was that they could overcome third down situations.

It wasn't that Tech was fooled as much as it was that Texas simply executed well, maybe exceptionally well. The Raiders were caught off guard in the first half when the Horns dug up a formation they hadn't used in 10 years, but the Raiders fought back. Power to 'em!

Haven't things happened in a hurry in baseball? And once again they're calling them fantastic, the New York Mets. In last place Aug. 30 and winners of the National League East Oct. 1. That was some kind of drive against heavy odds.

The 'Mays-ing Mets? Well, Willie wasn't really that much help at bat and in the field, but who knows how much his savvy, his enthusiasm, his leadership played in that stretch drive?

It's funny, too. Ralph Houk (Yankees) and Leo Durocher (Astros) both resigned, back to back, and Boston fired Eddie Kasko. And not much more than a month ago it was whispered, pretty loudly, that Yogi Berra was on his way out as manager of the Mets!

Houk's Yankees were supposed to win American League East, with Boston a good possibility to win. Durocher's Astros were given a big boost at winning the National League East, and failed dismally.

So, here come the playoffs and they should be among the best ever. It will be those amazing Mets against power-laden Cincinnati and slick Baltimore against rambunctious Oakland.

Anyone care to wager a quid or two that the Mets don't surprise again and wind up in the World Series? They shouldn't, but no one knows what will happen to an inspired team. Personally, I think the Orioles will topple pitcher-rich Oakland. Either way, it should be a great World Series in the making.

Bobby Riggs got his com-uppance recently, much to the delight of all the Women Libbers and a lot of male chauvinists, too. I wasn't one of them. I wanted Bobby to win.

It became apparent, early, that the finely trained Billie Jean King was the master (mistress?) of Bobby. She ran the poor old man's legs off and Gatorade probably didn't do much for him.

Now, let's get a 55-year-old woman to play a 29-year-old man!

If you're a football fan, you won't want to miss the Tech freshman game tonight. If you're a concerned person, with a warm, tender heart, you'll want to go.

It's the annual Khiva Shrine Bowl game and the proceeds go to the Shriners' burns institute. This is one of the great things that organizations do with no thought of personal benefit.

Besides, it should be an interesting game, so no one can lose. Go out and support the twin program, Tech and the Shrine.

The Roundup—Friend of mine went to White River last week, reported small bass, and not too many, at the North end....Gerald Myers, Tech's capable basketball coach, merely smiles and says that Tech's cagers can't work until Oct. 15. Is the smile significant?...Report we have is that Baylor's defensive line is pretty leaky....Donnie Anderson is having a great year, despite Dallas. But I still think he's not being played at his best position....Wouldn't it have been great if a television station had brought us the Tech-Texas game....Carlen says Texas is better right now than it has been at the same time the last four years....Don't look for Cliff Hoskins of Tommy Duniven in Tech uniform this fall. They're among the stud players being red shirted.

Longhorns Just Too "Tuff" as Texas Tech Drops Conference Opener at Austin 28-12

by Joe Kelly

An intercepted pass, a missed field goal, failure to complete a two-point play and the general toughness of Texas proved to be Texas Tech's downfall in Austin last Saturday night as the Longhorns rebounded from an opening game loss to Miami, 28-12.

The score isn't indicative of how close the Raiders played the defending conference champions. Texas jumped into a 14-0 lead before the big red express found the mark.

Texas came up with a formation it hadn't used since the glory days of the early 60s and it upset Tech's defense. Still, if a Joe Barnes pass to Lawrence Williams hadn't gone awry, it could have been the game of the 70s in the conference.

Texas used that interception deep in Tech territory to build a 7-0 lead and it was all uphill from there. The Raiders finally got going in the second half and Barnes found Williams in the end zone to cut the margin to 14-6.

Every Tech fan knew it would be 14-7, for Don Grimes hadn't missed in 56 tries during his college career. But miss he did and, when James Mosley scampered 21 yards on the first play of the final period, Tech had to go for two points.

It didn't come up roses as Barnes pass was short of its mark.

If the game had ended then, all would have been well. But Texas staged one of its typical ball control drives to widen the gap to 21-12, and the "gift" touchdown on the ensuing kickoff really had no bearing except on the final score.

So, it's out of the fat and into the frying pan as the Raiders go to Stillwater, Okla., Saturday to take on awesome Oklahoma State. The Cowboys have rolled over three opponents, including Arkansas, with an impressive ground game.

"They're bigger than Texas," Coach Jim Carlen said Monday. "Are they better than Texas? I don't know, but I'd like to see that game. It would be some contest. They're deeper in talent than

by Joe Kelly

Despite being stripped of five or more players for varsity use, the Texas Tech freshmen have won both their starts this fall and Thursday at 7:30 p.m. entertain the Arkansas Shoats in the annual Khiva Shrine Bowl game in Jones Stadium.

This will be only one of two home games for the Picadors, who will be trying to protect an eight-game winning streak. The string started after a 15-10 loss to the Aggie Fish in 1971. The Picadors won their final game that year, all five last year and their first two this fall.

Coach Jess Stiles and several former Tech players have welded together a tough crew that has beaten both SMU and TCU in their opening pair, and without yielding a point in either battle.

Fans watching the game won't believe the size of the Picadors.

This is the biggest freshman squad, physically, in Tech's history and Coach Jim Carlen is looking for big things. The line is anchored by mammoth Mike Kenney, all six feet eight inches and 301 pounds of him.

In addition to seeing a good game, spectators will be contributing to a worthy cause. Proceeds from the game to go support the Shrine's burns clinic and uses the motto: "Strong Legs Run So That Weak Ones Can Walk."

A ribbon cutting at one p.m. Sunday, Oct. 7, will open ceremonies as Plains National bank hosts the official introduction of their five-story "Tower of the Plains" with an open house to which the general public is invited. Two years in the making and touted as the tallest office building in southwest Lubbock, the tower featuring Solarban mirror glass, was designed to be functional, as well as to complement the contemporary design of the original building.

The bank is served by three and one-half acres of off-street, paved and lighted parking areas. These

City-County Library States Display on Middle Ages Here

From October 1-15, the Lubbock City-County Library will have a display on the Middle Ages in history and in fiction. The display covers the period from the fall of the Roman Empire (If it fell, see Richard Haywood's The Myth of Rome's Fall) to the late Fifteenth Century when Columbus sailed and Richard III, or someone else, murdered the little Princess in the tower.

The usual definition of Middle Ages has been stretched to include such otherwhen adventures as the Irish heroic myths and the legends of Arthur, as well as one of the world's earliest novels, the Eleventh Century Japanese classic, Tales of Genji.

Semifinalists Named in National Merit Scholarship Corporation This Week

Names of about 1,400 semifinalists in the tenth National Achievement Scholarship Program for Outstanding Negro Students were announced by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation. NMSC administers the annual Achievement Scholarship competition for black students, as well as the National Merit Scholarship Program which is open to all high school juniors who are U.S. citizens. In the nine annual Achievement Scholarship competitions completed, 2,800 black students have won awards valued at $8.3 million.

"One of our goals is to help colleges locate talented black students," says L.C. McMillan, NMSC Vice-President for the Achievement Program. "The recognition and identification of able black youth is an important element in the quality and quantity of black students now receiving the attention of colleges, universities, and organizations that offer scholarships and other financial aid. Secondary schools that enroll these students find themselves on the regular itinerary of admissions and recruitment officers for many institutions."

To continue in the competition, Achievement Semifinalists must qualify as Finalists by receiving the endorsement of their schools, submitting information about their youth movement designed for girls ages 7 to 17. With the help of volunteer leaders, girls participate in activities designed to inspire high ideals of patriotism, conduct, and service. Girl Scouting in Lubbock is financed by the United Fund.

New adult volunteers who are working with the East Lubbock Service Unit are Mrs. Margaret Nathan, Miss Cecilia Graves, Mrs. Loretta Lee, Miss Diana Henderson, Mrs. Jack Welty, and Mrs. Rose Wilson. Returning volunteers are Mrs. Lester Winters, Jr., Mrs. Ceaser Graves, Mrs. Minnie Ola Bunton, Mrs. S.R. Roberts, and Mrs. James Lenord. Mrs. Clinton Hobdy is service unit chairman.

Girls who are in the second grade or older who would like to join Girl Scouts may call the Caprock Girl Scout Council at 747-2503. Adults who would like to be a troop leader or assistant or have special talents to share may call the Girl Scout office or contact Mrs. Hobdy.

spaces are reported to accommodate as many as 500 cars.

Present at Sunday's festivities will be Lubbock Mayor, Morris Turner; incoming President of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, Bob Brummel; general contractor on the tower, H.R. Bundock; and Chairman of the Board of Plains National Bank, Joe Kirk Fulton.

Plains National Bank President, Jim Ed Waller will serve as Master of Ceremonies. Assisting him will be a bevy of Texas beauties including Miss Texas, Judy Mallet, making her first official visit to Lubbock; Miss Lubbock, Sherry White and the South Plains Maid of Cotton, Ginger Whitacre.

Refreshments will be served and each lady attending open house will be presented with an orchid, courtesy of Plains National Bank.

Area Reading Confab To be Held Friday And Saturday

More than 1,000 teachers and administrators from local and area public schools and colleges are expected to attend the sixth annual Lubbock Area Reading Conference Friday and Saturday, October 5 and 6.

"Reading Lab to Sky Lab" will be the theme for the conclave to be held in the Estacado High School auditorium.

The reading conference is sponsored by the Texas Association for the Improvement of Reading. Locally, it is a joint effort of Lubbock and area public schools and of Texas Tech University. Approximately 1,100 teachers and administrators attended last year's meeting.

Elementary schools in Lubbock will dismiss at 2 p.m. Friday in order that teachers may attend the sessions.

Two leaders in the field of reading instruction will give addresses at general sessions on both days.

Dr. Bill Martin has long been recognized for his work in the fields of reading, listening, creative writing, and elementary education. His latest productions are tapes, records, and films, which help expand his basic premise that language is essentially oral and that the sound of sentences is more important than the sound of individual words within the sentences. He has served as a public school teacher as well as a college professor.

Dr. Nicholas J. Silvaroli is director of reading education at Arizona State University in Tempe. He was prominent participant in the national "Right to Read" conference in Washington, D.C. in 1970. His professional experience has included serving as consultant to the United States Office of Education.

In addition to the general sessions Friday afternoon and night and Saturday morning, 14 interest group meetings are slated. Master teachers from the area schools and from Texas Tech will be speakers and leaders of these sessions.

Topics range from "Four Ways to Touch a Tiger: Motivation for Creative Writing" to "Reading for the Gifted Child" to "Using Newspapers in Secondary Reading."

Mrs. Mildred Ardis, president of the state organization and director of elementary education, Austin Public Schools, will preside during the first general session of the convention at 2:45 p.m. Friday.

Area teachers may register Friday beginning at 1:30 p.m. or may pre-register with Denzil Minyard, principal of Jackson Elementary School, 201 Vernon Avenue, Lubbock, Texas, 79415. The sessions will begin at 2:45 Friday and conclude at noon on Saturday.

A dinner meeting is scheduled for 5:30 p.m. Friday at Furr's Cafeteria Toreador Room, 4th and University. This "dutch treat" dinner group will hear Dr. Silvaroli discuss personal perspectives on reading.

Overton Ele. School Principal Carroll Bert Lockett is the TAIR vice president for this area of the state. James Pipkin, principal of Rush Ele. School, is secretary treasurer for the area group. The college representative for the local executive committee is Dr. John Rogers, professor of education and director of the reading laboratory at Texas Tech.

Boy Scouts Announce Fall Recruiting Plans — Governor's Roundup Campaign

The annual fall membership campaign in the South Plains Council, Boy Scouts of America, began September 1 when 331 Scout troops and Cub Scout packs started enrolling new members.

Called Governor's Roundup, the Scout council expects to give an opportunity to 4500 boys to join the Boy Scouts of America, Jack Baker, council commissioner, said.

Governor Dolph Briscoe, Honorary Chairman of the Fall Roundup in the State of Texas, is giving his personal leadership by awarding an individual recruiter patch, which incorporates the Seal of Texas, to each boy that recruits a new member.

Special events scheduled for this fall include School Nights, Troop Rally Night, First Nighter, Uniform Day, camporees, and individual recruiting.

A boy may become a Scout when he is 11 years old or has completed the fifth grade or a Cub Scout when he is 8 years old or has completed the second grade, Baker said.

In addition to the boys who join existing packs and troops, Baker said, the Scout Plains Council's organization and extension committee expects to organize about 59 new packs and troops in the Council's 22 county area.

The Boy Scouts of America provides a program for boys and young adults that is designed to develop desirable qualities of character, to train in the responsibilities of participating citizenship, and to develop personal fitness, Baker said. Cub Scouting is a family and home centered program, and Scouting is designed to achieve the BSA objectives primarily through a vigorous outdoor program.

Information about Scouting and Cub Scouting is available from the Council Service Center, #30 Briercroft, 747-2631.

Officers Elected at Wheatley Thursday

Officers for the Student Council at Wheatley Elementary School were elected last Thursday with 202 votes being cast by students of the 4th, 5th, and 6th grades. Those officers elected were Bridgett Moses, president; Leslie Malone, vice president; Shaun Harris, secretary; and Robert Hamilton, treasurer.

Other members to the student organization are Lester Andrews, Robert Guy, Mark Sanders, Eddie Walker, Melanie Daniels and Karen Richardson.

The election was held and run by members of last year's Student Council. Those members who participated in this effort were Lisa Caviel, Anthony Williams, Willie Powell and Bridgett Moses.

"This is a process of teaching the young people of their responsibility as good citizens," says Harold Chatman, advisor. Don Rocap, principal, is also an advisor.

Restrictions Proposed . . .

"We are a long step closer to our basic commitment to ensure that the rights of the individual are always paramount, always observed and always secure," HEW's

Secretary Caspar Weinberger said.

Although the rules would stop the Montgomery and Aiken incidents from occurring again, it goes further in several respects. It plugs a possible loophole through which a federally supported clinic might have continued noncomplying sterilizations by claiming it had used non-federal funds in those cases.

The regulations also require written consent for voluntary sterilization for all persons, not just minors and legally incompetent persons.

They would also require establishment of local five-member committees to review and approve proposed sterilization of minors, even when parents or guardians have given their consent, and of persons believed to be legally incapable of giving consent.

Even if the committee agreed to the sterilization, the case would have to be referred to a court to determine whether the surgical procedure was in the best interest of the patient.

The proposal allows 30 days for public comment before they become effective, but they may not take effect for 60 to 90 days because of the controversy surrounding sterilization.

VERA HENDERSON, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Milligan, 2415 E. 29th St., has been elected by the K.O.B. social club at Prairie View A&M University, to reign as Miss K.O.B. of 1973 for the Homecoming October 6, 1973. Vera is a 1972 graduate of Dunbar High School and currently is a sophomore business administration major at Prairie View.
