Lubbock Family Attends Reunion

The Cage family motored to Dallas, Moody, Lorena and Waco last week, to visit with relatives and friends. The main travel of the family was to attend a family reunion in Waco in the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Hall.

This reunion began from birthdays honoring the late Mr. and Mrs. Hall. Since that time, this annual affair has been held the first Sunday in October.

There were relatives from Fort Worth, Corpus Christi, Dallas, Austin, Hutto, San Antonio, Houston and Lubbock. Families represented were the Halls, Cages, and Vaughns.

Mrs. Clara Cage of Lubbock had an opportunity to travel as far as Cameron, Texas to visit with her sisters. They met in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Cox for a good old time spiritual singing and prayer. "We had a chance to visit our old towns which brought back a lot of memories," said Mrs. Cage.

She went on to add, "We took a picture of the house where we used to live—it brought back a song to our memories. I went to the house where I used to live, but they don't live there anymore."

It was reported that the families enjoyed themselves. There was plenty of wonderful food to eat. Mrs. Ollie Mae Coleman also celebrated her birthday.

"We would like to thank our many friends for sharing this occasion with us", said Mrs. Cage.

Let's Fill The Stands For Dunbar

This week is a big week for the young people at Dunbar High School. It is homecoming and we are all familiar with this event which happens once a year at a high school or college campus. At one time in our lives, we've been young people and we've looked forward for this time of the year.

This week, Friday night, over 500 students of Dunbar High School will be looking forward to this annual effort. Let's all go out and fill the grandstands at Lowrey Field and let the young people at the "Maroon and White" know that we care about what they are doing.

Being in the stands will mean so much to these young people. When we get there, let's ring our bells and yell with these young people. If we don't know all the yells and songs, still open our mouths and say something. This will mean so much to our young people.

We can fill the stands, if we want to do so! We know that there are hundreds of citizens of Lubbock who would like to see the stands filled on Friday night of this week.

Let's go out and help the "fighting Dunbar Panthers" bring the bacon home. When that marching band from Panther Land performs at half-time, let's give them a standing ovation. They deserve our support also. It means so much when we stand up and cheer for our young ones.

We'll see you at the game Friday night. Why not take a friend with you, it'll mean so much. You bet the West Texas Times will be there.

We Appreciate Your Concern

With all the many problems we have had over the years with the West Texas Times, we must admit that we have come a long way. This would not have been made possible without the help of our many readers and advertisers who have made it happen. It has been a hard effort, but we're still moving forward to make things really happen.

Over the years, people like you have stood by us as we have hurdled the many obstacles in our path. In our editorials and news stories, we have remained unbiased to inform you on what was happening in our community, state and nation.

Over the years, we have been able to have advertisers in our newspaper which have helped our effort. We would encourage you to continue to patronize those merchants and businesses who advertise in this newspaper from week to week. Why not go by and tell these merchants and businesses that you appreciate their concern for your newspaper.

Not only have we been able to increase our advertisement, but our subscription list has grown to a respectable number. If you are not a subscriber, we would encourage you to become one of the many who receive the West Texas Times through the U.S. mail each week. Why not buy a subscription for a friend or relative outside the city.

In the past, we've received letters and phone calls about the positive attitude of our many news boys and girls who sell the Times each week. These young people are a credit to our weekly effort. Under the supervision of James Angles, we are proud of their participation. Some of our young carriers have graduated from high school, married and are college students. It's wonderful to see the contributions they have made.

There are many businesses in our community who sell this newspaper from their counters. We really appreciate them for what they are doing to see that every citizen who comes into their business establishment receives a copy of the West Texas Times.

Many of you have called, mailed or brought your news to our office. This type of participation has helped thousands of people in Lubbock, the South Plains, and the nation know exactly what is happening in our community. Without your concern in this area, our newspaper would be missing a tremendous input from people like you who care.

We can't help but show our appreciation for the efforts of Mrs. Maunita Terrell and Mrs. Juanita Simmons, sisters, for their contributions over the years. Their hard work will not be forgotten. People like Sister Terrell and Sister Simmons help keep communications as it should be in our community. Ladies, we certainly appreciate that you have done over the years.

All in all, it has been a "hustling and bustling" experience for the publisher and editor as we try hard each week to meet our major objective of "informing the citizens of the South Plains each week". Many times, Norman and I have thanked God for being able to work in a community like ours and being able to utilize our talents to make our community a better place in which to live.

Since the beginning of this newspaper, we've not forgot church news. A place has always been made available for the church of the South Plains. This space will forever be open to our many churches in West Texas. We invite the pastors and ministers to continue to let us know what is happening in your congregation.

Words can't express how we appreciate your concern for the West Texas Times. We pledge to you our readers, advertisers, reporters, news boys and girls and others, who have made all of this possible, to continue to work hard in the future. We've still got a long way to go and we can't afford to sit back and be happy with the way things are. We must continue to grow so we can continue to inform you.

Thanks a million for your concern over the past twelve years.

As I See It

by T.J. Patterson

One can easily see why the residents of the 1800 block of Manhattan Drive are angry with the City of Lubbock. In recent weeks, dumpsters have been placed in front of their homes. This type of situation tends to disrupt an area which is kept with a lot of pride by citizens of the area.

It appears as though people are tired of being experimented on by city departments. As one resident in the area said: "We're gonna do something about these dumpsters being placed in our block." We hope something is done about this situation.

The same type of situation is seen in the Green-Fair Manor Complex. Placing these dumpsters in front of the apartment buildings could cause a terrible accident on the part of motorists driving through the Weber Drive area and hitting an innocent young person who is playing.

This same accident could occur in the 1800 block of Manhattan Drive where a large number of young people play in the South Plains Boys Club area. I think, personally, that something should be done about these containers. I hope the residents of this area will continue to work together and get something done about this hazard which was placed in their neighborhood.

There is enough room behind the residents on the north side of Manhattan Drive to develop an alley so the dump trucks can pick up these dumpsters. It'll cost money, but the money is not as important as the lives of our young people who play in the area.

I don't know how many of you read the article, in the other newspaper, last week about the meeting of the South Plains Association of Governments (SPAG). If you read the article, you probably got the same impression I got. They don't want any ethnic representation on the board. Of course, the ethnic question came up as one of the requirements for a regional economic development district, if the SPAG wanted such a program.

For those of you who don't know, the economic development districts are federally funded programs designed to aid economically depressed areas. This type of program, regardless who is funding it, should be given consideration on the South Plains.

In talking with City Councilwoman Carolyn Jordan, she tells me "the other newspaper misquoted her again", and she says this is the way it has been over the months. She was quoted as saying, "making such a drastic change in our bylaws to fit a program which might not be in existence this time next year". This statement referred to the economic development districts.

I did tell Carolyn that no government program is guaranteed to be funded each year. She did tell me that it was her motion, which was not printed in the other newspaper, to include minority members on the board.

It is about time that representation be seen on boards as SPAG. In the past this has not been a reality, except in some sub-committee which has no voice what-so-ever. I hope our elected officials on the South Plains will realize that people are paying more attention to what they are saying these days.

Since an official at SPAG and Councilwoman Jordan told me that the story was inaccurate, I would advise them to start informing the other newspaper of their shortcomings. If they are misquoting you on what you said, do something about it.

No matter how those officials were misquoted last week, we must realize that the first impression is always the last, no matter how many retractions are printed. SPAG members, you must be very careful with things like this.

I hope something will come out of the meeting of businessmen and women at Jamison & Son Chapel last Tuesday evening. The credit goes to C.B. Stubblefield, owner of Stubbs Bar-B-Q, for getting black business people together and discuss the problems facing them. It is time to look at our economic situation.

There are nearly 10,000 black people in Lubbock, and the way I see it, we can build our business community.

SYRIANS GOADED SADAT INTO YOM KIPPUR WAR

by Jack Anderson

(Copyright, 1973, by United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

Washington—The outbreak of fighting in the Middle East caught Washington by surprise. The intelligence reports from Syria and Egypt told of the military preparations and warned of the building tensions. But the White House policymakers didn't take the reports seriously.

We have seen some of the secret intelligence reports and can now relate the behind-the-scenes developments that led to this dangerous new outbreak.

In Cairo, President Sadat had been threatening Israel with an all-out war. But a secret intelligence dispatch said he gave contrary orders to the Egyptian Army to avoid provoking a war. Sadat explained to his generals that he had to talk tough to maintain international interest in the Middle East.

Sadat was goaded, however, by the Syrians. Syria's President Asad, in private conversations, belittled the Egyptians. One secret report quoted him as saying bluntly that he didn't expect much from Egyptians.

Other intelligence reports described a growing tendency among Arabs to treat Sadat's threats toward Israel with derision. The reports warned this pressure from his fellow Arabs might force Sadat, even against his better judgment, to resume shooting.

Apparently, this is exactly what happened. Commodities Market: The commodities market never has drawn the attention of the public like the stock market. There are no "glamour stocks" there—only wheat, corn and soybeans. Yet the commodities market has a much larger impact on our daily lives than the stock market.

The wild fluctuations of the market this past year, for example, were instrumental in driving up the prices of beef, bread and milk in the super markets.

Now, a House subcommittee is investigating the commodities market, and has already come up with some disturbing, unpublished evidence. The Commodities Exchange Authority, which is supposed to police the commodities market, allegedly filed false reports. There is evidence that CEA officials also have been cooperating with the big traders the agency is supposed to govern.

The House subcommittee is also considering a probe of the Russian wheat deal. We have already written, for example, that the Russians may have speculated on the U.S. futures market in violation of law.

Some may call it dull, but the commodities investigation may pay off in lower supermarket prices.

Labor Angered: President Nixon's romance with labor is on the rocks. From the beginning, it was a love affair of political expediency. The President and AFL-CIO boss George Meany shared a distaste for Senator George McGovern and the antiwar movement.

The courtship lasted through the 1972 campaign. Nixon was presented with an honorary hard hat and blue-collar workers trooped to the polls to help re-elect him. As their reward, the President appointed Peter Brennan, a tough New York labor leader, to be Secretary of Labor.

But now, the working men's ardor for Nixon has plummeted as living costs have skyrocketed. The purchasing power of the average worker has dropped two per cent while corporate profits have shot up 23 per cent.

At the supermarket, the worker finds food costs have gone up six per cent in the last six months. At the hospital, operating room charges have soared 48 per cent. If he should try to buy a new home, interest rates have reached records at nine and 10 per cent.

Down at the Labor Department, meanwhile, Brennan has been stewing. He openly clashed with the President over the veto of the minimum wage bill. This is the sort of disloyalty that the President won't countenance from his Cabinet. So, as soon as the President catches his breath from Watergate, Brennan will be dumped. The Irishman from the streets of Manhattan, who rose from hard hat to Secretary of Labor, will go back to the union halls.

Incriminating Letter: The Senate Watergate Committee is quietly investigating the extent of former Democratic Chairman Larry O'Brien's relationship with eccentric billionaire Howard Hughes.

We have uncovered an important piece of evidence in the investigation. It is the original of a letter from O'Brien to Robert Maheu, who used to be the major domo of Hughes' Las Vegas empire.

The letter, written on August 21, 1968, offers to handle government relations for Hughes. O'Brien wrote: "My services would be available as required, with a staff including a highly competent governmental relations man, a top-notch public affairs expert and two secretaries. The staff would perform necessary services on a priority basis."

In return, O'Brien wanted $180,000 a year, plus expenses. To emphasize his importance, O'Brien gave his hotel and convention hall phone numbers, since the 1968 Democratic convention was then about to begin.

But for a former Postmaster General, O'Brien made two unforgivable errors in his letter.

He spelled Maheu's name "Mayhew". And the special delivery letter arrived with four cents postage due.

Pee-Wee Stag Party Staged

Darrell Edward Berry celebrated his sixth birthday with a "Pee-Wee Stag Party", Thursday, October 11, 1973 from 4:30 to 6:30 p.m.

Darrell is a first grade pupil in the Mecham School, and he invited the boys in his class and his friends as his guests. Those attending were, Robert Hayes, Henry Johnson, Percy Hines Jr., Gregory Gentry, Keith Gilbert, Roderick Keys, Patrick Johnson, Reginald Williams, LaDarrell McKeever, Brian Rogers, Rodney Middleton, Greg Bosworth, Michael Burwell, Kelly Ballard, Gary Hollis, W.T. Jeffries, John McCorkle, Daniel Brown, and Bobby Williams Jr.

The "Flintstones" were the decoration theme, and were used on the birthday cake and all the accessories.

Recorded music, pin-the-tail on the donkey for first, second, and third prizes, and a full length colored movie of "Popeye and The Genie" were used as entertainment.

The boys were served ice cream, cake and punch, and were given candy, gum, balloons and jumping bugs to take home.

Darrell wishes to thank all of his friends for making his birthday so grand. He received a variety of toys, books, crayons, clothes, money and many other useful and enjoyable gifts.

Thanks to Miss Rosie Stokley and Miss Yolanda Florez for helping with the service and to Mrs. Sophronia Wright, Mrs. Virgil Johnson, Mrs. Bobby brought the high points on the lesson review.

Williams, and Mrs. A.W. Wilson for attending my party. I am glad I am "six".

Our pastor, S.N. North brought a burning message for morning worship. His subject was "God's Good News", text "I am not ashamed of the Gospel, for it is the power of God", Rom. 1:16.

For the evening services, the church went to Levelland for fellowship with Rev. C.D. Collins.
