

Seventy-Three at Dunbar Honored Tuesday

Rites Read for Reverend O.D. Hollins Thursday in Lyons Chapel

Final rites were read last Thursday afternoon, May 2nd, for Rev. O.D. Hollins in the church that he pastored and founded, Lyons Chapter Baptist Church. The Rev. A.L. Davis, pastor of the Greater Saint Luke Baptist Church and friend, officiated. Rev. Hollins died Monday morning, April 28, after a lengthy illness.

Burial was in the City of Lubbock Cemetery under the direction of South Plains Funeral Home.

Hundreds of people crowded into the Lyons Chapel Baptist Church to pay their last respect for a man who came to Lubbock in 1946. The first building he built was located in Queen City. In 1961, the present structure was erected at East 24th and Quirt Avenue.

Through faith he was able to accomplish great things in life. On June 13, 1946, he organized a church on a small plot of land donated by Dr. C.H. Lyons, along with $850 to help defray expenses. The church grew from a membership of seven to approximately five hundred members. The present new location and building is worth $150,000. The corner of 24th and Quirt, where it is located, is one of the most desirable locations in the city, surrounded as it is by a mass of Negro population.

Rev. Hollins was born in Gilmer, Texas to the parentage of Charlie and Josie Hollins, on April 20, 1905. He was married on January 16, 1932 to Miss Orphis Williams and to this union four daughters were born. He attended Center Point High School, Pittsburg, Texas and Texas College at Tyler. He pastored churches in several West Texas towns before coming to Lubbock.

Rev. Hollins served as President of the New Zeal Baptist District Association Sunday School and Baptist Training Union Congress for 39 years; Moderator of the New Zeal District Association for 4 years; Vice-President of the Baptist Ministers Union; Treasurer of the Interdenominational Ministers Alliance; co-founder and

Wallace Backed by Black Paper

Birmingham — (NBNS) — Claiming the stand on segregation by Gov. George Wallace has "been softened through the years," the Birmingham Times became the first black paper to endorse the governor's re-election bid. The paper contended that Wallace stood in the school house door in the early 1960s "because this was what the voters wanted him to do and this is what put him in office."

Black Named Chicago State U. President

Chicago — (NBNS) — Dr. Benjamin Alexander has become the first black to head a four-year higher education institution in Illinois when he was named president of Chicago State University. Dr. Alexander, acting chief of research support with the National Institutes of Health in Washington, succeeds Milton Byrd who recently resigned.

vice-president of the Lubbock Opportunity Industrialization Center and Urban Renewal of the City of Lubbock.

Remarks at the services were given by Rev. Walter Griffin, New Zeal Association; Rev. A.L. Dunn, Baptist Ministerial Alliance; Rev. A.W. Wilson, Interdenominational Alliance; Bishop J.E. Alexander, Northwest Texas Churches of God in Christ; and Rev. J.B. Lester, New Zeal Sunday School and Baptist Training Union Congress.

A longtime friend, Rev. L.E. Brown, pastor of the First Mount Carmel Baptist Church of Houston, spoke kind words about his dear friends, Rev. and Mrs. Hollins.

Several resolutions were read by members of various organizations of the community. They included, Lyons Chapel Junior Mission, Mrs. Verdine Ray; Ministers Wives Alliance, Mrs. A.W. Wilson; New Hope Baptist Church and Urban Renewal Agency, Mrs. Joan Y. Ervin; and Women's Convention of New Zeal Association, Mrs. Ella Swisher.

Rev. Adolphus Cleveland, pastor of the New Jerusalem Baptist Church, presided and Rev. Leon Anderson gave prayer. Supt. M.J. Alexander and Dr. Floyd Perry, Jr. read scripture. His granddaughter, Carla Snell, sang "What A Friend We Have In Jesus." Lyons Chapel Baptist Choir rendered music.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. O.D. Hollins of the home; three daughters, Mrs. Mildred Snell, Mrs. Mary Kennard and Mrs. Betty Miller, all of the city; two brothers, Rev. T.J. Hollins of Santa Anna, California, and Ernest Hollins of Crane, Texas; six sisters, Gertrude Hale of Greenville; Mozell Dimmitt of Hearn, Beatrice Curry of Midland, Charlie M. Jeffery of Crane, Veltha L. Jones of Garland and Daisy Ross of Fort Worth; six grandchildren, a host of other relatives and friends.

Casket bearers were Doyle Snell, Stephen Manahan, Arthur Cornelius, Darrell Snell, Bobby Baldwin and Eddie Avery. Honorary bearers were the Deacons and Trustee Board of Lyons Chapel and Ministers of the City. Flower bearers were Junior Mission of Lyons Chapel and trainees of Lubbock OIC. Ushers were New Hope Baptist Church with assistance from Mount Gilead, St. Luke and Bethel A.M.E.

Local NAACP Chapter Working to Improve Employment Picture Here

The Lubbock NAACP has been attempting this year to improve the employment picture for minority people, especially blacks, in Lubbock. A number of employers have been contacted and others will be contacted during this campaign. The object is to open up opportunities in business and industries where blacks have had little or no representation. One such business is the news media.

The Media Committee of the NAACP has contacted TV and radio stations in Lubbock in an attempt to increase the number of black employees in the industry. According to Dr. Vivian I. Davis, Chairperson of the Committee, "Response to our efforts in this industry have been hopeful."

Perhaps one of the most hopeful responses has come from KSEL Radio and TV. Bill MacAllister, Manager of that station, has discussed plans to cooperate with the efforts of the NAACP by running a training program for persons interested in working in

Piano-Organ Recital Presented Sunday

Nell Oldham presented an organ and piano recital with part of her music class last Sunday afternoon, May 5 at 2:30 p.m. at the Holiday Inn East. Five black girls in our community participated.

Renee Hall played "Fluffy & Duffy", Cynthia Sedberry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Sedberry, played "Ferris Wheel", Denise Smith did a solo "On The Lake", and a love duet "Love Story" was assisted by Paula Deane. Karen Richardson rendered a solo, "Flying Leaves."

Jehovah's Witnesses Plan Seminar

Don Daniels, presiding overseer for Jehovah's Witnesses, announced today that the local congregation is making plans to attend a two-day seminar in Abilene, May 11, 12, at the Abilene Civic Center.

"The purpose of this assembly," Mr. Daniels said, "is to train us to be better qualified ministers."

On May 12 at 2 p.m., H.A. Fetzik, District Supervisor for Jehovah's Witnesses, will highlight the program by his public discourse entitled, "Be Confident of Divine Victory". Fetzik will define and discuss 'Divine Victory' and its impact upon Christians in the light of present day happenings. He will also show the attitude Jehovah's Witnesses take toward Divine Victory by saying, "Even with upheavals, strains and increasing world problems, these will not cause us to be thrown off balance. We will be like Hebrew prophet Habakkuk who was affected by a graphic report of God in the seventh century before Christ, but determinedly exulted in Jehovah God. Let that be our determination too."

All sessions will be free and open to the public.

the industry. The program, scheduled to start early in June, will offer the training free at the KSEL facilities. Anyone from the age of fifteen up, male or female, is eligible for the program. MacAllister explains that the training program will help to create a group of minority persons who will be knowledgeable enough about the industry to work in it.

Persons interested in the training program should contact Bill MacAllister, 745-2828, KSEL Radio and TV; Vivian Davis, 792-8576; or Dr. F.L. Lovings, President of the local NAACP unit at 763-2617.

The Media Committee of the NAACP is interested in programming as well as in employment. For the past two months it has been working in interviewing teams and plans to work closely with the media until the opportunities for minority people are greatly improved. Members of the committee are: Mrs. Marjorie Thomas, Dr. Hazel Taylor, George Woods and Mrs. Emma Knighton.

has been a student of Nell Oldham for seven years, rendered a solo "Lara's Theme", and a duet with her teacher entitled, "Strauss' Waltz", with piano and organ.

The grand finale was a duet, "How Great Thou Art", with Nell assisting. The entire affair was a masterpiece and many of the parents were present.

The girls all wore lovely attire and looked beautiful. This was Olympia's last appearance, and she is a member of Dunbar's graduating class in a few more weeks. She is making decisions about which college she will attend. She is the youngest and only girl in a family of three. Both brothers are in college, one will graduate from Prairie View College in 1975. The older one is a graduate student aspiring to be a lawyer and the other a doctor.

EDITORIALS

May is Mental Health Month

May is Mental Health Month. We should be glad in Texas that we have dedicated people who are concerned about the welfare of those persons who are mentally ill. As one publication, "Impact", states: A mentally healthy person feels good about himself and about others and he can cope with life. But help is available for those who do have emotional problems."

Throughout May, mental health facilities across the state will convey the above mentioned quote in a variety of ways.

If you get an opportunity, visit one of our mental institutions and see the dedicated work which is being done. For those of you who live in the Lubbock area, Big Spring State Hospital will conclude Mental Health Month with a banquet to honor friends of the hospital and to present service and commendation awards.

We are thankful to have facilities in our state that is concerned about those who emotionally disturbed. It is good to know about state facilities as these in our state who are concerned about helping those person in distress.

Unemployment Has to Be Higher Than Indicated Here

We've been hearing that the unemployment figure in Lubbock is less than 2%. This may be the case for those persons who make application at the local Texas Employment Commission, but not for the total populus of people who reside in the lower socio-economic areas of this community.

We at the Times would estimate that in some areas of Lubbock, unemployment is as high as 6 per cent. We know, without any doubt, there are persons in the community who are having a difficult time in finding employment in the Lubbock community. We would go farther in saying that the under-employment rate is rather high in our community.

There are many people (white, black and brown) in our community who are very badly under-employed and are slowly dying on the vine with the potential talents they have. It is one thing to say that we are low in unemployment, but is another thing when those persons who happen to live in a certain socio-economic area are deprived of an opportunity to participate in a fruitful job market.

We were very happy to see that President Nixon signed legislation which has raised the federal minimum wage to $2.00 effective last week and which carries additional provisions for increments to $2.10 in 1975 and $2.30 in 1976. This should help the underemployment persons somewhat.

Unemployment has got to be higher than it is presently indicated by the experts in the Lubbock community. We need to look at the unemployment picture a little more closely if we are really going to determine the real thing about all the people in our community.

We've heard many people of the black community comment about the fact that we are losing too many young gifted black people to other communities where there are opportunities for them to utilize their full potential. If the unemployment figure was that low, it would appear to us that some, if not all, of these young black people would remain in the Lubbock community.

We, at the Times, have had an opportunity to talk with Vietnam veterans who have had a difficult time in securing employment also. On the national level, unemployment for black veterans is 11%. In Lubbock, we'll find that veterans are having a difficult time in securing employment.

Without a doubt, Lubbock is a growing area and there are a lot of opportunities for some. What we would like to see in our community is for everyone to have an opportunity to find a decent employment. We think the figures of unemployment should be checked (and double checked) by those who determine the unemployment figure. If they check close enough, we're sure they'll agree with us.

As I See It

by T.J. Patterson

It appears as though we are back at our same old careless game of not voting. There has to be a way to get out the vote in East Lubbock. If we keep on going the way we are, we'll never get a piece of the action in Lubbock County.

This is especially the case in Voting Vox 20 where only 192 persons voted in the May 4th Primary last Saturday. We are depriving our children of a lot when we fail to go to the polls in great numbers and exercise our vote.

If you look at the total votes cast for County Commissioner, Place 2, there were only 3,984 votes cast for this position. Max Arrants, the incumbent, won this race by only 226 votes. If the residents of Voting Box 20 had come out in greater numbers, the race could have easily been decided with the votes of this box. This is only an example of what residents of this area can do if they get their thing together.

All I am trying to say is, regardless of what election is being held in our community, if we get our hearts and minds on it, we can decide nearly any race in the county.

Don't let anyone fool you, your vote is of great significance if it is used as it should. Of course, it's too late to talk about what we didn't do last Saturday. It is, however, early enough to start thinking about what we can do if we really try.

Without a doubt, I'm quite unhappy (I have been for several elections) with our turnout at the polls last Saturday. We don't have time to be unconcerned about the way things are. We've got to show how we feel by going to the polls and voting.

If you look at the list of qualified voters in Box 20, it will reveal that there are over 1,300 qualified voters. This figure alone could make a lot of difference in any election in the County. If you really are concerned about how effective, this figure (1,300) really is, why not vote in the upcoming runoff elections.

Those races at stake in the run-off elections are State Representative, Place 1, Delwin Jones and Elmer Tarbox; Lubbock County Treasurer, Hubert Kiker and Connie Nicholson; and Justice of the Peace, Precinct 1, Place 2, Charles Smith and L.D. "Pup" Thomas. If you think I'm shucking, ask those persons seeking office.

This writer learned last week that Estacado High School doesn't have a functioning Parent Teachers Association (PTA). It is unbelievable for a school as large as Estacado High School to not have parents involved in the welfare of their children. We've got to do better than that, for the benefit of those young people who are looking for something in life.

All of you who are parents of children at Estacado, remember that the first word in Parent Teachers Association is parents. This is the way it should be, because we are all taxpayers to the Lubbock Independent School District. We've got to get up and see that our children are given the right things in our schools.

The education of our children is very important in this day and time. Without a positive PTA, you as a parent will never be abreast with what problems your children are having. It's time for us as parents to start leading our children and not let them lead us. We can do that by becoming involved with the Estacado PTA.

Some parents have told me (who have children at other schools) that the teachers run the PTA meetings. I will say again to those parents who say this, the first word in PTA is parents, and parents along with teachers, should be the ones involved in this worthwhile effort.

Estacado is not the only school in East Lubbock that has problems getting parents involved in the PTA. It is time now for all of us who are parents and taxpayers, to have our say about the functioning of any PTA in a Lubbock Public School. No PTA will function as it should without the cooperation and participation of parents. Although I don't have a child of mine attending Estacado, I am concerned about the welfare of all children, especially when they happen to be black.

I would advise those parents who contacted me about this PTA problem to confront the principal of Estacado. If enough parents get up and start doing something, problems wouldn't happen in great numbers. If you are dissatisfied with your response from the principal, then I would advise you to talk to the school administration about your problems.

At least give the principal the courtesy of explaining why there is such a problem, before we "fly off the handle". Get involved and start visiting the schools and attending PTA meetings. When we go there, let's talk about more things than football, basketball and track. Our kids have been playing these sports for years, let's check on what they are doing in their school books.

If we don't start doing our thing as parents, our young people will have many more serious problems in the future. Don't take what I'm writing, go by and visit for yourself. When you are there, ask about the PTA program.

You know, it's quite funny about us as black people. When we had nothing but black teachers, we lived on the front step of the school. Since integration, we've been afraid to even look in the direction of the school.

Let's start something now to get a viable PTA program at Estacado High School or any other school that needs one.

JACK ANDERSON'S WEEKLY SPECIAL

BOOK EXPOSES CIA CIRCUS
by Jack Anderson

(Copyright, 1974, by United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)
Washington—We have now learned what the Central Intelligence Agency wants to censor from an explosive new book.

The CIA spooks are more worried about the publication of this book "The CIA and the Cult of Intelligence" than they are about Chinese missiles or Russian spies. They have managed to censor key portions of the book prior to publication. However, through our own CIA sources, we have learned what the secret agents want to hide.

For the most part, the censored material is more likely to cause embarrassment than the toppling of governments. The book, written by former CIA man Victor Marchetti, tears away the fearsome curtain of secrecy surrounding the CIA to reveal a covert circus.

For example, we have learned that the CIA censored a story about an agency desk man who flew to Japan in hopes of getting involved in some cloak-and-dagger adventures. A Russian spy, it seems, was supposed to defect to U.S. agents. But Russian operatives followed their turncoat comrade. A tug of war ensued, with each side pulling at the defector's arm. The Japanese police arrived, and threw the whole crew in jail for disturbing the peace.

The CIA also blue-pencilled its attempts to bug a house cat. And they have censored information about their abortive efforts to place a listening device in range of Chinese missile sites.

Unfortunately, the CIA may win its fight to censor Marchetti's book. If it does, the First Amendment will once again be subverted in the name of national security.

Gas Shortage May Recur: All around the United States, motorists are breathing a sigh of relief. Gas lines have disappeared and, amazingly, gasoline stations are open on weekends in many areas. Even the average price of 60 cents a gallon and the huge oil company profits don't seem to bother the consumers enough.

The abundance of spring, though, is merely an interlude between crises. Our sources at the Federal Energy Office warn that long gas lines are probable this summer unless conservation measures work. In July, the nation's refineries will again switch their attention to heating oil. If gasoline consumption continues to increase, another shortfall of supply will result.

Gasoline shortages are only one problem. Another is the familiar thermostat. Last winter, the nation was told that temperatures in the mid-60's were healthy. By dialing down, there would be substantial savings of heating oil. This summer, though, we will be told to "dial up" to an uncomfortable 78 degrees. Power companies in several areas, including the nation's capital, may be unable to meet peak air-conditioning demands. Unless thermostats are set higher, there may well be widespread power failures, brownouts and blackouts.

In sum, Americans will have to learn to restrict their energy use year-round. The days of conspicuous consumption of energy are over.

Nixon Priority: Congressional relations, now more than ever, have been given the highest priority in the embattled Nixon White House.

Throughout most of the Nixon Administration, senators and congressmen have complained bitterly about the cavalier way the White House congressional liaison operation treated them. A top aide to a conservative Republican House member told us "We got better service when Johnson was President."

The specter of impeachment, however, has changed things. More invitations for White House galas are now being sent to Capitol Hill. Even congressional staff members of both parties are being invited to the White House.

There are also more ominous whispers of White House politicking in the cloakrooms of Congress. So far, the talk is limited to suspicion and rumor, but it is widespread.

Two years ago, when Nixon was at the height of his power, he was criticized for not campaigning for Republican candidates. Now, he campaigns, and the candidate loses. But the change in strategy is clear.

Previously, Presidents invited Members of Congress to the White House mainly for bill-signing ceremonies. Recently, however, Nixon invited Southern members to 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue just to transmit a legislative proposal to the Hill. On his recent political swing through Mississippi, Nixon took pains to provide free air travel to the state's conservative pro-Nixon congressional delegation.

The campaign for anti-impeachment votes in Congress, it appears, is well underway.

Watergate Dissension: The acquittal of former Attorney General John Mitchell and Commerce Secretary Maurice Stans has sparked a tempest of controversy behind the well-guarded doors of the Watergate prosecutors.

As we reported two months ago, the case against Mitchell and Stans was jeopardized by over-eager government lawyers. Special prosecutor Leon Jaworski's attorneys felt the New York prosecutors were pushing ahead without their chief witness, Robert Vesco. He, of course, is still in the Caribbean, ducking subpoenas.

The Jaworski lawyers, much to their dismay, have now been proven right. And the Mitchell-Stans verdict has resulted in a good deal of soul-searching about the cases against other Watergate defendants.

Some members of Jaworski's team, for example, are upset because a few of the Watergate figures have been charged with lying to the FBI. There is such a law, of course, but it has never been taken too seriously because the FBI is only an information gathering agency. It does not administer the laws.

Other Watergate prosecutors are up in arms because defendants in the Ellsberg burglary have been charged with violating the civil rights of Ellsberg's psychiatrist. The Civil Rights Act ought to be used only in racial cases, some prosecutors feel, and not to nab the cloak-and-dagger crew who investigated Ellsberg.

In short, some of Jaworski's lawyers secretly fear that a number of their indictments may be found faulty and thrown out. This could not help but influence future juries to sympathize with the defendants.

A DANGEROUS GAME TO PLAY WITH YOUR MONEY

One bank makes a "free" offer, another bank counters with another and pretty soon you get into the act by playing games with your money. "Something for nothing" is unrealistic in the world of good business and finance. In other words, we keep on giving services that count. We're more interested in giving you total banking service than we are in playing the dangerous game of oneupmanship with your money.
