Y-Pal Program in Lubbock Needs Volunteers

"To see if we can't work out a lot of problems before young boys and girls become felons," says Lloyd Watts, director of the Lubbock County Juvenile Probation Office, "is the goal of a new preventive program for juveniles who commit minor offenses."

The new program "Y-Pal (Youth-Pal), is geared at working with those young people, average ages of 12 to 15, who are having problems. Some of the problems, ranging from a young person who has committed a minor shoplifting case to a boy or girl who has run away because he or she couldn't see eye to eye with a parent, could best be helped by the Y-Pal program.

Over a year's time, according to Mr. Watts, "our office receives between 500 and 600 minor cases of that nature which could be best handled by a program such as Y-Pal". It was also observed by the veteran probation officer that many of the minor cases occur in the home where the mother is the head of the household or the father is the sole parent and is working all the time. "These kids need someone to be able to work with them, take them to a ball game, hunt and fish or just talk about future livelihoods of these young people," said Watts.

"In a sense, the Y-Pal Program will be a copy of the Big Brother and Sister program in our community," he added. "We do, however, want to be able to compliment the efforts of the Big Brother and Sister program and be able to help those boys and girls who need help, now," he made known.

Of course in any kind of program as the Y-Pal, there needs to be involvement on the part of citizens in the community who are concerned about the welfare of young people who happen to get involved in minor offenses. At the present time, twenty five

Cage Family Holds Reunion at Waco

It was time of year again when the Cage family held its annual reunion at Waco, Texas, recently in the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Hall. There were relatives from Austin, Hutto, San Antonio, Fort Worth, Dallas, Houston, Lubbock, and the state of California present.

Mrs. Ruby Hobdy and Mrs. Nelda Jackson, both of Lubbock, were guest at the reunion. An estimated 160 relatives were on hand for the gala affair. There was also a special surprise visit from Coach James Hillard, former coach of Dunbar High School in Lubbock who is now coaching at Galveston.

Plans for another reunion is scheduled to come off in April, 1975, in Lubbock.

volunteers are needed to work with this special effort. "We want volunteers from all walks of life, all races, male or female, and individuals who really want to help these young people with problems," he said.

Each volunteer will be trained before he or she will be permitted to work with the program. Training will consist of two hours per week for four weeks. Each volunteer will be required to spend at least six months with the program. The first training session will begin on Tuesday evening, November 2, at 7:30 p.m. in the Lubbock County Office Building, Room B-2.

Training will be administered by full time staff of the Juvenile Probation Office. Those persons who will be participating in the training program will be Miss Vicki Hammond, Mrs. Sarah Wadley, Mrs. Kathy Martin. Persons who would like to make application as a volunteer may contact either one of the staff workers by calling 763 - 4850. The Junior League and Psychology Department at Texas Tech University will participate in the program.

It will be essential for each volunteer to be willing to work in the following areas: know something about the kids, know what their job will be about, be able to spend a minimum of one hour per week with a young person, be willing to take the kids to ball games, fishing, hunting or other activities of interest, be able to give the young people an idea of what career the young person is interested and help the kid with his or her personal development.

"We hope that many people from the Lubbock County community will volunteer for this pilot program," said Mr. Watts. The program, however, has been submitted for funding next year.

The newly created Y-Pal Program could help a lot of boys and girls in our community. Most of all, as Mr. Watts has said: "We need citizens of Lubbock County to volunteer for a program we all can be proud of in our community. Get involved with Y-Pal, it will help some young people," he concluded.

Volunteers Needed in East Lubbock To Help With Local Girl Scouts

Teachers, housewives, college students, and business women are taking a part in the lives of the girls of East Lubbock. As Girl Scout leaders, they work with girls age 7 to 17, helping them learn to be happy and resourceful citizens. These leaders are setting an example for tomorrow's women by sharing with the girls something that money cannot buy—their caring and their love; their time and their attention. Some of these adult Girl Scouts have years of Scouting experience; some are new and are learning with the girls. In any case, they are dedicated volunteers investing time and talent into the future.

Working with Girl Scouts in the East Lubbock service unit are Mrs. Carolyn Gilbert, Mrs. Sherry Souza, and Mrs. Carolyn Jordan at Iles School; Mrs. Caesar Graves and Miss Cecille Graves at Mary and Mac School; Mrs. Lester Winters, Jr., and Miss Karmen Hopkins at Martin School; Miss Sarah Terrell, Miss Dawn Glover, and Miss Joy Pettigrew at Posey School; Mrs. S.R. Roberts, Mrs. M.O. Bunton, and Mrs. Rose Wilson at Wheatley School; and Miss Janice Clark at Struggs Junior High. Mrs. Clinton Hobdy serves as chairman for the service unit.

There are still several positions open to adults who would like to volunteer to help a troop. In particular, an adult is needed to lead a group of Brownies at Martin School. Most troops also have room to accept more girl members. Contact Mrs. Hobdy at 765 - 7696,

Mrs. Winters at 762 - 3504, or Sarah Terrell at 747 - 2503 for more information.

Debutantes Already In Action Here

The 1974 debutantes, sponsored by Eta Delta Omega Chapter of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Inc., are living up to their theme "A Time For Us" by being involved in various community as well as social activities.

To get the activities off to a good start, the month of June found the young ladies involved in a "get acquainted rap" session at Mae Simmons Community Center. The debts assisted the contestants of the Miss Black Lubbock pageant in getting dressed and also served as guides and booth attendants at Ebony Expo '74 which was sponsored by Alpha Kappa Alpha.

In August, the young ladies found a time for themselves by attending the fashion show sponsored by Dunlaps Department store at the coliseum. The debts journeyed to Canyon, Texas, to spend a few hours sightseeing at Palo Duro Canyon and stayed over to see the play "Texas". On August 24th the debts were entertaining friends with a back to school party at the home of Mrs. Robert Pillow.

The month of September found the Debts entertaining their mothers at a salad luncheon at Mae Simmons Community Center. Dr. Vivian Davis, Assistant Professor of English at Texas Tech was the guest speaker.

The service project for September was taking Mrs. Rikki Horton's Head Start class from Martin Elementary to the South Plains Fair. The young children as well as the debts really had fun.

October found the young ladies enjoying dorm life at Texas Tech, a charm clinic and attending the Tech-Arizona football game on the 19th of this month. The young ladies were guest of the Ivy Leaf Pledge Club and Zeta Tau Chapter of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority (undergraduate chapter). October's community project is making Halloween treats for the residents at Parkway Manor Nursing Home.

November will find the debutantes actively involved in soliciting for ads to be used in the Debutante Booklet, voter registration, making Thanksgiving treats and progressive parties.

The Debutante Ball will be held December 28, at the South Park Inn.

SPAG Needs Minority Representation On Its Board

With a population of 327,777 people living in the fifteen county South Plains Association Governments (SPAG), there needs to be some representation from the minority communities as member of this important board. To date, however, there is no minority representation and it appears as though it will be a long time before such a move is made. Surely, there could be something done about the lack of minority representation in this fifteen county community.

Of the 327,777 people living in the SPAG area, 88,024 are members of the black and brown communities. According to a SPAG official, there are 21,953 (6.7%) blacks and 66,071 (26.9%) browns living in this area. Both groups comprise 20.2% of the total population.

Without getting hung up on the numbers game or how many blacks or browns that should be on the SPAG board of directors, let it be understood that voters from the minority communities of the fifteen county communities could very well do something about this matter, that is, if they wanted to. As a political body, SPAG makes decisions which affect the lives of every man, woman, and child who resides in this area. For that reason, and many others, we should care and take time to express ourselves at the voting boxes about such shortcomings.

At the present time, one of the policies of SPAG is that only elected officials from the 15 county area can serve as one of the 26 board members. If you look, however, it is easy to see that the area SPAG services has several minorities who have been elected to public office. At one time, according to a SPAG official, there were at least five minorities who were elected officials and could serve as a member of SPAG.

We hope that the board of directors of SPAG will understand that we are not suggesting that minorities hold positions as members of the various advisory committees. We think it is about time for minority members to become members of the SPAG board of directors. The present board of directors of SPAG could do a great service by seeing that the constitution of SPAG is amended so minorities would have this opportunity to serve an honorable position for the people of the South Plains of Texas.

SPAG has missed one good opportunity to bring in programs from the U.S. Department of Commerce, by way of Economic Development Administration (EDA) funds, because they (SPAG) didn't have minorities on its board of directors. Whether we like it or not, EDA programs could very well help the economic situation of many "have not" communities in the SPAG area.

If SPAG really cares about the opportunities for all American citizens, surely, they would find some means of seeing that there is minority representation on its board of directors. There are members of the 88,024 minority community who could help SPAG in many areas. The help is there for SPAG if this board of directors would only look at the resources in the minority communities in the fifteen county communities.

We hope that all board members of SPAG will realize that without SPAG counting the numbers of minority people, some of the funds afforded some organizations and institutions would not become a reality. We hope also that all citizens of the South Plains will continue to express themselves at the polls. If you vote loud enough, SPAG board of directors will hear and feel you.

As I See It

by T.J. Patterson

Grandma didn't lie when she said it would always come out in the wash if you just wait and see. This is the case of the meeting of the Lubbock Housing Authority Board of Directors (LHA) who are scheduled to meet at Green Fair Manor Apartments Monday evening, October 28th, at 7 p.m. This meeting was to have been held on October 10, but obstacles prevented this meeting from taking place.

This writer would encourage all tenants of Green Fair Manor Apartments and concerned citizens to make extra plans to attend this meeting. It would do a lot of good if you as a tenant and citizen would just show up and let the board of directors of the Lubbock Housing Authority know that you really care about what is going on. If you have anything on your chest, then this is the place to get it off.

After the vote taken by the five board members last week, this may be the last time that citizens of the "have not" community will have an opportunity to "rub shoulders" with those citizens who are charged by the City of Lubbock to direct Lubbock's housing projects.

It appears as though after the meeting at Green Fair Manor next Monday evening (October 28), the future meetings will be held on the 12th floor of First National Bank and Pioneer Natural Gas Building in the plush Lubbock Club. It will be rather hard for tenants of Green Fair Manor, Hub Homes and Cherry Point projects to make those meetings during the lunch hour.

This writer would have thought Brother Richard Rillison would have made this point clear to the others on the board. It appears as though Brother Rollison needs our support if he is to become a strong member of this needed housing board.

Your attendance on Monday evening will let Brother Rollison know that you are on his side and willing to help him under any circumstance. If we don't show up at the meeting, especially those of us who live in Green-Fair Manor, we can kiss our opportunities good-bye. And please don't forget that!

Each resident of green Fair Manor is to get an announcement of the Monday evening meeting from the Lubbock Housing Authority Board. If you don't get an announcement, then please let them know about it.

Those of you who are reading this column, please inform the rest of the community about this important meeting. Especially those of you who reside in Green Fair Manor. We have an opportunity together to keep this ship from sinking. Hope to see you on October 28 at 7 p.m.

It won't be long before we'll have the opportunity to go to the polls and cast our vote for the individual of our choice. Start getting it together and passing the word on how important it is for all of us to get out and vote on November 5th.

If each of us would only tell ten (10) brothers and sisters to get out and vote, this would increase our numbers at Ella Iles and Alderson Junior High School boxes.

Young people, those of you who became 18 years of age recently, please get involved and cast your vote. Surely you have twenty minutes you can give to help a cause which will help all of us. It would be a beautiful thing if some of you young fellows would take some of our senior citizens to the polls on November 5th. Get involved, young people.

Let all of us do what we can before November 5th in informing our families, friends and neighbors how important it is to go to the polls and vote.

We can do it if we really want to do it.

This writer has an opportunity to do something for the community and West Texas. Beginning Saturday afternoon, at 12:30 p.m., I will have a television show, "What's Going On", appearing over KCBD-TV, Channel 11. Check it out and see if you like it.

My first guest will be brothers of the local Black Muslims in Lubbock. Brothers Roosevelt X and Robert 2X did a beautiful job in our first taping. Sister Brenda Lockhart does a beautiful job in singing one of her better songs.

Check out this new show which will be seen once a month. Who knows, if this show catches on, it could be possible to come on once a week. Drop me a few lines on the newest thing in town: "What's Going On". Can you dig that!!!

Not only will this show have the latest in information, but the "Soul Patrol Style Shop Ltd." supplies me with the latest in fashions.

I've said many times to many people that the West Texas Times is moving in many directions. In this month's "National Black Monitor", which is a supplement of the Times, excerpts of an editorial written several weeks ago in the Times appears.

It is good that this editorial will be seen by 64 other black newspapers in the east, midwest, south and western areas of these United States.

As we said then, each community should train those persons who need training in their community. If we look long and hard enough, some people can be found in Lubbock and West Texas to fill those skilled positions in this part of the country.

JACK ANDERSON'S WEEKLY SPECIAL

FRANKENSTEIN'S MONSTER

by Jack Anderson

Washington—Recent press reports claim that King Faisal of Saudi Arabia and the shah of Iran have been discussing strategy to lower world oil prices.

We have confirmed that discussions are going on among officials of the two nations. But it is unlikely the planning will get past the discussion stage.

There is little doubt, say our sources, that King Faisal would like to lower oil prices. But the shah is interested only in enriching his vast stores of wealth. He has become one of the world's most recklessly greedy, unbelievably rich rulers.

Indeed, it looks as if the oil crisis has turned the shah into America's Frankenstein monster. Back in 1957, Iranian Premier Mohammed Mossadegh threatened to overthrow the shah. But our own Central Intelligence Agency stepped in and helped oust Mossadegh from office instead.

Thus, the shah owes his throne to the United States. Yet he has led the charge for higher prices inside the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC). And he has consistently pressed for still higher prices, even though it could gravely injure the West.

Our CIA sources tell us the agency still has strong ties with the shah. extensive intelligence-gathering facilities are located in Iran and former CIA Director Richard Helms is the U.S. ambassador there.

Recently, the shah dispatched troops to Oman to help the shiekh fight Communist-backed guerrilla forces. Oman, of course, controls the entrance to the Persian Gulf, through which oil tankers from the Middle east must pass.

The shah's excursion into Oman, we are told, was inspired by the CIA. In short, we not only saved his throne, but continue to support him to this day. Yet he has turned a deaf ear to U.S. appeals that he help bring down oil prices.

In contrast, King Faisal has tried to use his influence with other oil-producing countries to reduce oil costs. He has even written a private letter to the shah, according to intelligence reports, warning that neither kingdom will last if the West is plunged into depression by exorbitant oil prices. The king fears that the Communists will exploit economic chaos in the oil consuming Western industrial nations.

Overdue Housecleaning: The Watergate crowd may be out of the White House, but at the General Services Administration the scandals linger on.

Last March, for example, we reported that the GSA, in an "exchange" agreement with Rockwell International, had acquired a gigantic $20 million building at Laguna Niguel, Calif. The deal was struck, apparently, to provide a warehouse for the presidential papers of then President Richard Nixon. His San Clemente estate is only 10 miles away from the massive building.

Our story was vehemently denied by GSA spokesman

Richard Vawter, who accused us of practicing "jaundiced journalism." Now, however, the Washington Post has confirmed our story. After three years of searching, the Post reported, the GSA has been able to rent out only 2 percent of the facility.

It was the GSA, moreover, that spent millions of tax dollars to improve the Nixon properties in San Clemente and Key Biscayne. Among the expenditures were thousands of dollars for landscaping and gardening services, and even $20,000 for a shark net that stretched far enough to protect the beach in front of Bebe Rebozo's home, next door.

It was the GSA that attempted to give the former president $850,000 in "transition" funds. The original plan called for $110,000 to construct a secure safe for presidential documents at the Laguna Niguel building. Congress cut the request, by nearly 75 per cent.

Even hiring at the GSA was influenced by political considerations. The Civil Service Commission has recommended that disciplinary action be taken against a half dozen top GSA officials. The reason: They allegedly "subverted the merit system" to put political appointees in top slots.

Despite the scandals, GSA Administrator Arthur Sampson and his cronies have managed to hang on to their lucrative jobs. Our probe of the GSA, also known as the "federal housekeeping agency," suggests that its own house is in sore need of cleaning.

Food Profits: Something is out of whack in the food industry. The wholesale price of beef has sunk so low, for example, that farmers in Wisconsin have killed over 500 calves in protest. Other cattle slaughterers have been threatened. Destroying the calves, the farmers claimed, would be cheaper than raising them.

Despite the wholesale price skid, beef prices at the supermarkets continue to soar. Many congressmen suspect that the supermarket chains are taking advantage of the shortage psychology to reap exorbitant profits.

A look at the food stores' profits is instructive. A&P's earnings are running 17 times higher than a year ago. And Safeway stores wound up the last quarter with a 100 percent profit increase.

The food chain economists can expect to be called upon the congressional carpet to explain why the supermarket chains are profiting so handsomely from the nation's worsening economic plight.

Washington Whirl: Jack Kemp, the former football pro and Republican congressman from Buffalo, says the public has already forgotten he was an ardent Nixon supporter, but they still remember he was one of the finest quarterbacks Buffalo ever produced. . . . Best selling muckraker Ovid Desmaris is the only famous American around with two entries in "Who's Who". He's listed under his real name, Ovid Desmaris, as well as his pseudonym. Despite his calls and letters, "Who's Who" persists with the double entry. . . . In a gesture to Women's Liberation, some big businesses now refer to their typing pools as "word processing units". . . . President Ford's domestic affairs adviser, Kenneth Cole, may be on the way out, say insiders. One name under consideration as his replacement is Alvin Arnett, the former antipoverty chief who was deposed by Richard Nixon. . . . The number of Congressmen who accept double pay as military reservists was down to 16 a few months ago, but now there are 20 "double dippers on Capitol Hill.

Police Beat

House Burglary

Delton Wooten, 2228 Redbud Avenue, reported to Lubbock police that persons unknown gained entry to his residence one day last week while he was away. Entrance was apparently gained through a bedroom.

It was discovered that once inside the house, persons unknown cut the telephone wires.

Taken from the house were several items, including a rental television set, stereo record player and a food cooker.

He has no idea who could have taken the items from the house.

House Burglary

Theda Toines, 1919 East Colgate Avenue, reported to Lubbock police that persons unknown broke into her house and took several items from the house.

Entry was apparently gained through a garage door and exit was through the back door.

Taken from the house was an 8-track tape player, and fifteen records. Total value of the items taken was approximately $185.

Car Burglary

Corine Perkins, 3803 East 4th Street, reported to Lubbock police that she left her purse in her car at 315 Guava Avenue. She also stated that the car was left unlocked while she was gone.

When she came back, she learned that persons unknown took her purse which contained over $100 in cash. After a careful investigation it was learned that she had approximately $140 in her purse.

Police found her empty purse in the 300 block alley of Guava. Surely, Sister Perkins learned a lesson on leaving large sums of money in an unlocked car. At least we hope she did. Don't you?

Theft Over $20, Under $200

Paul Devran, Jr., 1807 East Auburn Avenue, reported to Lubbock police that while he was playing pool, persons unknown entered his home and took advantage of him.

He told police that his wife and children were in the house when the unknown person took $140 in cash from a jewelry box in the bedroom. He also reported to police that he had no suspects in this case.

House Burglary

Ellis Osby, 1323 East 16th Street, reported to Lubbock police that persons unknown broke into his house while he was away. Taken from the house was a radio receive, radio and engraver which were valued at approximately $210.

He told police that a neighbor told him a 16 year old youth had the stolen items. The youth was called by Osby and he brought back the radio and engraver.

At this report, the youth was in the custody of Lubbock police. It does pay off when we report people doing strange things in our neighborhood. If we would all do this, we would help stop and solve some of the burglaries in East Lubbock and the entire city.

Sports of The Times

by Joe Kelly

Prior to Saturday night's game with Arizona, the one most asked questions by Texas Tech fans was: Could the Raiders win? Would the team be too low, let alone bruised and battered by games against Texas, Oklahoma State and A&M, to overcome an explosive offensive team?

When anyone asked my opinion—for what it was worth—I replied simply that I thought Tech would win, that this team had pride enough to come back. The proof came on a 17-8 victory.

"Usually, we do some running, work in the whirlpool and look at films on Sunday," Jim Carlen said Saturday night at a well attended press conference. "But this week I'm going to give them the day off. I may give them Monday off, too.

"The players are tired, physically and mentally. It's been a tough schedule and it's not going to get easier. I look at it as halfway through the season, with only conference games left. Each one will be tough—and the next two are on the road."

It wasn't an impressive win from the standpoint that Tech didn't really control the tempo of the game. It didn't blow Arizona out of contention. Indeed, it was a game in doubt until the score was 17-0.

As usual, the defense saved the day, with the offense sputtering. And when Tommy Duniven was hurt, the offense really became conservative. Don Roberts threw only one pass—for three yards—in the second half as the Raiders tried to grind it out on the ground.

The defense once again was equal to the task, and it was no mean achievement to stymie the Wildcats. In winning five games without a loss, they built up an average of 435 yards total offense per game. You have to be impressed with statistics like that.

"Like A&M last week," Carlen said, "give credit where it is due. Our defense had a lot to do with Arizona not being able to move consistently, just as A&M stopped us."

Despite coming off the bench and moving Tech in for its first touchdown, just before the half, there was a little breath holding on the part of Tech fans. Roberts had been shaky when he relieved against Texas.

But the Seminole star grew stronger as the game went on. You could see the confidence build and he ran the team well.

"He's a natural athlete," Carlen said. "I thought he did a good job. He and Joe Barnes are a lot alike. I'd say Roberts is at about the same stage Barnes was when he was at Tech."

Overall, the margin Saturday night was a stout defense and an offense that capitalized when it could.

"I thought that we would sustain drives more," Carlen declared. "That was a disappointment."

In analyzing the Raiders, Carlen pointed out that the offensive line still was young and inexperienced, but learning.

"I knew, before the season, there was no way we could be as strong on offense," Carlen stated. "We lost too much experience. We just have to show more improvement, tackle to tackle."

From the press conference, other Carlenisms: "Everybody likes a shutout, but I like to win!" . . . "I like to win the games and lose the statistics." . . . "I'm going to play who I think will win." . . . "SMU's top 30 are as good as anybody's in the league. You bet they'll be tough. When Woody Hayes says Bostick (SMU fullback) is the best he's seen, that's good enough for me."

I'm an American League fan, have been for years, but I'm no Oakland A's supporter. Maybe it's because of Charles Finley, but I would have been delighted to see Los Angeles bomb the A's.

Instead, it was the other way around. The Dodgers were so unbelievably bad that even the Taiwan Little Leaguers might have beaten them. LA execution left so much to be desired that it wasn't funny. The Bums beat themselves, as much as Oakland beat them.

Still, you have to give grudging admiration to the A's. They got the clutch hits. They ran the bases intelligently. And they played superb defense. The pitching was brilliant and Rollie Fingers did a magnificent job.

Isn't it funny? The National League wins the All-Star game and makes the Americans look sick, but a team that seems to love dissension and dissatisfaction puts it altogether three years in a row and performs like World Champions should.

The Roundup—Enjoyed a brief visit Saturday night with Doug McSwain, former Tech tackle and, until a few years ago, a hospital administrator at Levelland. Doug's now with Blue Cross in Dallas. He looks good and it was nice to see him. . . . Putt Powell's description of Tommy Duniven: "He looks on Texas Tech as just a big McLean!" . . . Had a good visit with Bill Henderson, the former boxer, in Lamesa last week. I hadn't seen Bill in ages, but he looks great. I couldn't believe that he's 48. Seems like only yesterday he was stalking foes in the ring. . . . The story I get is that Arkansas has internal problems, perhaps racial in nature. It's too bad, with the talent the Razorbacks have. . . . Edgar Self, Denver City, connected my name with sports the other day, shook his head and said that he missed the coverage area towns used to get. . . . Jess Stiles and his aides, as well as the Picadors, deserve a big hand for their undefeated season. . . . And belated congratulations and a large doff and tip of the Levelland Stetson, to Ralph Carpenter, Tech SID, on his recent pressbox award by the Football Writers Assn. He runs a great pressbox and thoroughly merits the award. . . . Gerald Myers, Tech cage boss, was wearing a big smile in the PB Saturday night. "I always smile!" Gerald said, but wait until Dec. 1 and that smile will be a frown. "If things were going any better, I couldn't stand it," Gerald laughed.

IN GRATEFUL APPRECIATION

I wish to thank my many friends for their concern during my brief stay in the hospital last week. My illness was a brief flare-up which amounted to some tests and examinations that all proved very satisfactory. "Thank You" is a very small word, but is the simplest way I know to say how grateful I am. May God bless each of you.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Lucy McQuinney

We the member of First Progressive Baptist Church would like to give a vow of thank you's to all of our many friends who prayed for us. Because of this, we know that we couldn't have made it thus far without your prayers. To you, we say thank you.

We were blessed to give the Right of Hand of Fellowship to two new members that united with us Sunday morning. Mrs. Suzie Lewis and Mrs. Ruby Thomas are the new members at First Progressive Baptist Church, and we are proud of these sisters that they have decided to come and be a part of us.

Sunday school was very interesting this week. Rev. Shephard's lesson was from Hebrews 11:1-5. Rev. Shephard also brought a wonderful lesson in regular service. The lesson was "Try God while you still can", Isaiah 55:1-7. He also talked on the
