Miss Laneous Notes

By MARY WHALEY

Next to packing a suit case, because that means we are going someplace, we'd rather wrap up Christmas presents than anything else. We don't do it well, in fact some of our gifts have been known to come unwrapped while transporting them a block or so.

We aren't very artistic about where to plunk a sticker or tie a bow. As for blending colors in wrappings so they look good, that's a closed book of knowledge too.

We stamp and stick and get caught in the gooey and sometimes put the wrong cards on the wrong presents. Sometimes we go in for tailored present wrappings for our feminine friends and tussle bows for the males on our gift list.

To date we've never been able to get those corners to lie down flat on our packages and noticeable bulges and bumps appear where it should be smooth.

But regardless of looks and the unspoken thoughts when our chums get our gifts, nothing could stump us. Our toes practically curl with delight when faced with a roll of wrapping paper, Christmas stickers and those "do not open until" signs.

We spend hours at this wrapping, although nobody is ever convinced of this, and it is a job we won't let anybody else even help with. We only get to do it once a year and it's fun!

Spiritual Guidance Is Theme Of Modern Woman's Forum Meet

A lesson on "Spiritual Guidance" was given for the Modern Woman's Forum in the home of Mrs. Bob Hubank Thursday with Mrs. J. P. Dodge and Mrs. Hiram Knox talking part on the program.

Mrs. Dodge discussed an article from the Reader's Digest, "I Believe in Immortality," and Mrs. Knox talked on "Spiritual Values in the Home."

Roll call was answered with each member's favorite Bible story and the reason she likes it.

Others present were Mrs. Cecil Collins, Mildred Crenshaw, Mrs. W. J. McAdams, Jewel Johnson, Nellie Puckett, Marjory Taylor, Mrs. A. B. Wade, Mrs. R. L. Lawrence, Ima Deason.

Good Luck Sewing Club Entertained

FORAN, Dec. 5 (Sp.)—The Good Luck Sewing club met Thursday in the home of Mrs. C. H. Tipple and voted to give a banquet during the holidays at the Crawford hotel in Big Spring.

The husbands of members will be guests at the holiday party. Refreshments were served buffet style. The table was laid with a hand worked linen cloth and centered with pink roses and fern in a crystal bowl.

Attending were Mrs. O. L. Bradham, Mrs. Cleo Wilson, Mrs. Pete Huddleston, Mrs. T. B. Barber, Mrs. E. T. Branham, Mrs. Cardwell and two new members, Mrs. Guy Howell and Mrs. D. W. Roberson.

The club will meet December 16 with Mrs. Wilson.

HEAR ROLAND C. KING preach the old time gospel, in the old fashioned way with power and demonstration of the Holy Spirit. He has just returned from a great Bible conference where he spoke three times daily and many people were turned away at night and several were saved.

His morning theme: "CROWNED FOR FAITHFULNESS."

Evening theme: "THE DIVINE JUDGMENTS OF AN ANGRY GOD UPON A SINFUL AND REBELLIOUS WORLD." He will answer the following questions, namely: Does God send such judgments? If so why? Is Hitler the anti-Christ? If so is he more powerful than God?

ROLAND C. KING WILL SPEAK AT 2:30 P. M. ON THE GREATEST NEED OF THIS HOUR: All the entire city is invited to hear this message.

Lamesa Baptists Will Lay Church Cornerstone Today

LAMESA, Dec. 5 — Cornerstone of the new $70,000 plant of the First Baptist church of Lamesa will be laid in special ceremonies here at 5 p. m. today.

Members of the church and friends of the institution from over a wide area are expected here for the affair, which precedes the first services in the beautiful structure Sunday morning.

On the ceremonies laying program are Owen C. Taylor, the Rev. E. D. Landreth, First Methodist pastor, Carl Rountree, District Judge Louis E. Reed and the Rev. E. F. Cole, pastor. E. C. Nix, Lamesa Baptist layman, will climax the ceremony by depositing a history of the church behind the cornerstone.

Modeled after the First Baptist church of Gatesville, the new structure represents the fruition of a long program of planning. As early as 1939 a building committee was named by the congregation, and with O. B. Norman as chairman, consulted the membership on all important phases of construction. One Sunday last year, just before the letting of the contract, a barrel was brought into the auditorium of the old frame building, erected in 1914, and members were invited to lay their contributions "on the barrelhead." This dramatic gesture netted $30,000 and when used again drew in another $10,000.

Norman said that no "high-pressure" collections had been necessary, the work having been financed by regular contributions made possible by opportunities each Sunday during the period of construction.

The magnificent building rises on the site of the old at South 1st and Wason streets. Constructed in the shape of a huge L, the entrance of the church embodies elements of Spanish architecture, offset by a cupola with modified cathedral effect. That portion fronting on the thoroughfare will house the auditorium and the abutting unit the educational building.

New Church Ready—Cornerstone for Lamesa's new First Baptist church will be laid in ceremonies set for 5 p. m. Friday at 3rd and Wason streets. Erected at a cost of $70,000 the building is shown in the above architect's drawing. Initial services will be held in the church Sunday by the Rev. E. F. Cole, pastor.

Draft Inductions Due To Increase

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5 (AP)—A sharp upturn in the rate of selective service inductions were predicted today, because of the army's announced plans to expand land and air strength to some two million officers and men.

Beginning shortly after the holidays, officials expect the draft boards to be called on to provide recruits in larger numbers than at any time in months.

Farmers need "priority ratings" only for purchases of special classes of machinery not ordinarily used for farming, such as heavy duty electric motors.

Paris Seeks Shoes For School Children

PARIS, Nov. 30 —(Delayed)—The mayors of 14 divisions of Paris and 25 or 30 suburban mayors are busy finding shoes for school children. Leather shoes are available for only one-twentieth of them.

Most mayors ordered wooden sabots from the north of France, but because of the great demand only about half the orders are being filled.

Red Cross Work Is Shown In New March Of Time

How the American Red Cross is serving the nation — and the world at large — during the current war is pictured on the screen of the Ritz theatre today and Saturday in the latest March of Time film, "Main Street, U.S.A.," which presents and analyzes civilian defense activities in this country today.

The Red Cross is now being called upon for the greatest effort it has ever had to make, the film points out.

In private homes and public meeting places everywhere, the March of Time shows, women of the Red Cross are busy turning out for U. S. military hospitals an immediate quota of more than forty million surgical dressings.

Already fifty million dollars worth of medical supplies and warm clothing have been sent to Europe and Asia for the suffering people of twenty-five nations.

Through the International Red Cross, whose headquarters are still in Switzerland, mail and packages can be forwarded to prisoners of war. At Geneva, the Red Cross maintains a missing persons service. Through it, countless soldiers, sailors and airmen — reported as missing — have been located in enemy hospitals and prison camps.

In the United States, a million and a half men, women and children are being instructed in first aid learning what to do to cut down loss of life in case of air raids. Half a million more women are studying home nursing, preparing for the day when hospitals may not be able to handle all sick or wounded.

County Jail's Really Fine ALAMOSA, Colo. — It's little short of a privilege to serve time in the Alamosa county jail. Bernard Anderson, federal inspector of prisons, says: "There is none better in Colorado."

FLASH PREVIEW OF "Sullivan's Travels"

Joel McCrea and Veronica Lake are co-starred in this Paramount comedy, written and directed by Preston Sturges.

Tired of directing movie comedies, Joel McCrea, as Sullivan, sets out to see life in the raw.

He is joined later by Veronica Lake, who shares his travels disguised as a boy.

But a bad cold forced him back to the luxurious trailer in which his publicity men have followed him.

On the road again he is reported dead through mistaken identity, while actually he is sentenced to a Southern chain gang.

But the girl finally establishes his true identity, and he returns home—to produce more comedies.

MEET THE STARS With VIC BOESEN

An expert in a given field is one who may make mistakes in that line and charge it off to freak circumstances.

Some four years ago there appeared in Hollywood one of the most beautiful young men of six feet, two inches and 190 pounds.

It's all work and no pay at Pasadena, and to keep the flesh from going the way all flesh is wont to go.

He got in some acting too, however, quite a lot of it, all dishes considered, but after a while the authorities at the Playhouse—the experts—advised him to give it up.

Keep an eye out for Ian McDonald; that's Ulva Pippy. And that other beginner the experts were saying had no future is a fellow named Laird Cregar.

ERSKINE JOHNSON'S HOLLYWOOD

EXCLUSIVELY YOURS: Sonja Henie, who dieted from 125 to 108 pounds for her last picture, will abandon her streamlined figure for her next film, "IceLand."

Tip to Hollywood actors who are getting repeated draft deferments: Stop pulling strings, boys, and start pulling triggers.

It's in the bag (not the sleeping bag) for Gary Cooper to play the role of Robert Jordan in "For Whom the Bell Tolls."

Marlene Dietrich has turned down that feminine lead in a remake of "The Spoilers." Although she made her comeback recently in rough and tumble roles, she chooses to do only sophisticated comedy in the future.

New that W. C. Fields is on the wagon there's a gallon robot bearing his name on the bar at Leone's. A sign says "For Milk Only."

John Barrymore is making his first album of Shakespearean records for RCA Victor. Ham on a platter!

Script writers have played a strange prank on Claudette Colbert, one of the screen's best dressed women. For a comedy scene in "The Palm Beach Story" she wears an outlandish getup of button shoes with pearl gray tops, a hat with roses, a long black satin evening dress and a feather boa.

And Arthur Murray says he knows a down and out actor who is writing a book called "How Lean Was My Belly?"

Leon Errol is threatening to sue several masters of ceremonies at Hollywood nightclubs for using his routine of a drunken man mistaking a letter. He had it copyrighted years ago.

After all these years the Hays Office runners finally caught up with Eleanor Powell's stockings. The dancing star went too far—two inches too far—with a costume for "Till Take Manilla."

Deanna Durbin, who ought to know, tells me she has made no attempt to buy her contract from Universal. She hasn't talked to studio executives in three weeks.

KEN MORGAN'S HOLLYWOOD KEYHOLE

Hollywood is eagerly awaiting the opening of Paul Whiteman and his orchestra at the Florentine Gardens. Many of the entertainment world's leading satellites owe their start in show-business to Mr. Whiteman, who can rightfully be dubbed a "Star-maker."

Devotion between mother and daughter is not uncommon among motion picture stars. Wendy Barrie and her mother are an outstanding example. Last week, unbeknownst to her mother, Wendy invited six of her mother's friends to witness a performance of Katharine Cornell in "The Doctor's Dilemma" at the Biltmore Theatre.

Gene Parker and Richard Arlen are sweethearts in "I Live On Danger." But that is where the relationship ends, for the pair are rival owners of airplane taxi services in the Southwest; as a matter of fact their hangars adjoin.

GOOD RUMOR MAN: Noel Coward has nixed all offers of picturization rights to "The Blithedale Spirit"—reason being his dissatisfaction with the handling of several of his other properties. He wants to wait until it can be made in England.

Ann Gillis and Martin L. Block at Bit o' Sweden... Jinx Falkenberg and Editor Herb Bragstein do dives about the vittles of Jules of Encino restaurant... Hair expert Burton Sidles has dubbed Frances Langford's hair "plastic gold."

Now committed to a full-time career in pictures, Ginny Simms will be seen shortly in the RKO comedy, "Playmates."

Reviews of Previews

The outstanding picture previewed this past week in Hollywood was the Warner Brothers epic, "THEY DIED WITH THEIR BOOTS ON," starring Errol Flynn and Olivia de Havilland.

The story is based on the life of General George A. Custer, who with his gallant band of Seventh Cavalry troopers was wiped out to the last man at the battle of the Little Big Horn.

Olivia De Havilland and Errol Flynn in "They Died With Their Boots On."

Starting with the arrival of Custer at West Point, the film carries him through almost unbelievable exploits during the Civil War climaxed by the pitched battle with the Sioux Indians and their allies.

Interwoven throughout is a charming romance between Flynn and Miss de Havilland, as the wife who followed her husband to frontier army posts where the zest of life was always against a dark background of Indian raids and constant danger.

Too much praise cannot be given ace Director Basil Walsh for his effective work in pacing the mass of action which makes up the film. Credit too must go to a lengthy supporting cast with an especial mention to Charley Grapewin, Gene Lockhart, Stanley Ridges, Anthony Quinn, John Lital, Walter Hampden and Academy Award Winner Hattie McDaniel, who as Mrs. Custer's maid, has the best comedy role in the picture.

"THEY DIED WITH THEIR BOOTS ON" is a picture every American will want to see. It will move you and stir you and is the sort of entertainment that every last member of the family can genuinely enjoy.

Universal's third service film for the inimitable team of Abbott and Costello, "KEEP 'EM FLYING," doesn't quite measure up to the high standards their previous pictures have established. Make no mistake—it's all funny enough and the boys work like beavers tossing gags around and going through routines worked out to a fine point in their burlesque days.

Whether or not you're an Abbott-Costello fan, if you want to stretch your muscles and toss dull care to the winds, take the family to see "KEEP 'EM FLYING."

On the Sets With REED JOHNSTON

Mr. Orson Welles, a man of many moods and guises, was being Welles the Director on a certain day this week, and that was just as it should be because he happens to be directing "The Magnificent Ambersons," a picture in which he takes no part before the camera. This altogether astounding example of self-restraint in one who is first and foremost an actor, and who had besides the final say-so in the matter of casting, has not been without its effect on the busy young maestro, for it has resulted in the rise to prominence in those moments when the camera is not turning, of Welles the Magician, a different sort of character entirely.

It was Welles the Determined Magician who greeted us during a visit to "The Magnificent Ambersons" set and, like the harpist who took his harp to the party and hoped he would be asked to play, he had a pack of cards all ready in his hand. Up on the winding staircase of an over-stuffed house of the 1880's young Tim Holt and Agnes Moorhead had been having a brisk workout requiring considerable footwork on the treads and risers, and now they were being revived by their handlers while Mr. W took a half-hour off to entertain his visitors; and as I say he came prepared.

Here the Wellesian approach differs sharply from that of the hopeful harpist who waited to be asked, for without any build-up whatever he thrust the pack out aggressively and sounded that time-honored talisman of the nimble-fingered: "Take a card!" So a card was taken and placed in somebody's pocket and another card was placed in Mr. W's pocket while a third party nervously shuffled the remaining pack. And then what do you think happened? Well, sir, you won't believe your own ears, Mulligan, when I tell you that the card originally placed in Mr. W's pocket had now become the card which had first been in somebody else's pocket, and somebody else was now stuck with the card that had belonged to the Determined Magician.

All very baffling, of course, and this was followed by several other antics from the Hays Magicians Handbook, all carried out with a line of patter which might better have accompanied the sudden disappearance of a whole household of people. In all fairness it must be added that the Welles technique includes a tacit acknowledgement of the hardship which amateur card tricks impose on the beholder, who must at least make a course between polite amazement and the opposing danger of seeming too glib for his own self-respect. To put it all in a few words, the tricks were corny but the manner was magnificent. And from all present observation "The Magnificent Ambersons" ought to justify the latter part of that description entirely—meaning without the corn.

Fashion Scene By MARGARET MCKAY

There's a "costume" trend for street clothes these days; hats and dresses that don't go with everything else in your wardrobe, but are uniquely right in just one ensemble. For instance, when Lily Pons was in Hollywood for her opera appearance recently, she had her "Daughter of the Regiment" costume modernized for street wear. The military short jacket with epaulettes, the bias cut skirt, and her hat an exact replica of the one she wore on the stage—a tri-cornered one.

Ann Sheridan appeared at Grace Hayes' Lodge in a Peruvian adaptation. A Peruvian cut felt hat (similar to a sombrero) with bandana effects of copper jersey dripping underneath the back of the brim—and swathing her throat, revealing no hair at all. A copper jersey blouse cut on the native Peruvian style and full peasant skirt of a darker tone of copper completed the ensemble.

So, if there is some national style you like, whether it's Swiss or Mexican, you can modernize it for your own wearing these days. It's a truly individual year in clothes.

BEST DRESSED GIRL OF THE WEEK: Dorothy Cuming, lurching at Museo-Frank's, in a sleek black daytime frock of corded wool and rayon with slim, straight skirt and a short jacket. The jacket takes the fashion bow for being caught together in front with four horizontal and a vertical straight bands of matching material with turquoise buttons alternating down each side. This turquoise touch was carried out further with an unusual jersey scarf of the same color, draped over her hair, awathed about her neck and then forming a vest beneath the jacket. Long turquoise gloves and a black bag completed the ensemble.

Record Review By WAX MAN

Attention wax collectors: Victor is bringing out a memorial album of Helen Morgan hits. Naturally, My Bill will be included.

The novachord is strictly an American instrument which in the last few years has gained much popularity. One of the outstanding performers is Fred Feibel. Columbia has just released eight sides which prove his virtuosity. He runs the entire gamut of instrumental effects with an expert treatment of time-tested favorites. Numbers chosen for this excellent collection: Tea for Two, My Heart Stood Still, Smoke Gets in Your Eyes, I Want to Be Happy, Night and Day, I'm Getting Sentimental Over You, and One Alone.

At last Okeh has released King Joe. This disc is one of those rare musical treats inspired by the feats of the athlete of the century, Joe Louis. Music by Count Basie, lyrics by Richard Wright, author of "Native Son" and vocals supplied by Paul Robeson pack this record with a wallop. Mighty rolling music in the famous Basie style featured excellent trumpet and fine background effects for Robeson's debut as a blues singer.

WAXCRAB: Jerry Blugren has been contracted by Eberhard to make a series of records using his famous "double-talk" routine. Decca is trying to interest Shirley Ross in recording her vocals from her Republic picture, "Sailors on Leave." Bobby Worth, songwriting partner of Stanley Cowan, will form his own band and record for Okeh. After Stanley Kenton's recent opening at the Palladium, record stores are being deluged with requests for his waxes. Jack Leonard, who has been in hankie since April, will shortly be released from the Army and back on wax. Duke Ellington will be the headline attraction at the reopening of the Trocadero. Benny Goodman sticks out his chin with an All-American piano team—picked are Teddy Wilson, Count Basie, Jess Stacy, Earl Hines, Art Tatum, Clyde Hart, Alec Templeton, Mary Lou Williams and Joe Sullivan. Artis Shaw and Lana Turner had the Grand Terrace Room in Chicago as the background for their newly revived romance—the pair were there every night to listen to Louis Armstrong—Louis leaves shortly for several dates in Canada.

Paris Takes Top Role In Gridiron Title Show

S'water Gets Pre-Game Nod Over Ysleta

By The Associated Press
Paris Wildcats, the most talked-about team in Texas schoolboy football, start today on a drive aimed at their first state championship in history.

And they meet the type of team that could side-track them in a hurry.
Highland Park's Scotties, probably the most improved eleven in the state, furnish the opposition of the 12-district round in a game due to attract 12,000 to Owenby stadium, Dallas.

Three other games are scheduled today in the opening round of state play with four titles coming up tomorrow.
Breckenridge plays at Temple and Naacogoches at Tyler this afternoon while Corpus Christi tries to repeat its midseason victory over Austin at Corpus Christi tonight.

Tomorrow afternoon Lubbock plays at Wichita Falls. Sweetwater clashes with Ysleta at El Paso, Sunset (Dallas) invades Fort Worth to tangle with Amon Carter Riverside and Lamar (Houston) entertains the praying Ganders of Robert E. Lee high.
Here's how they look from this corner:

Paris vs. Highland Park at Dallas—Paris should win, but don't be surprised if it's the other way.
Breckenridge at Temple—the Bucksroos can't match the all-around brilliance of Temple's undefeated, untied Wildcats.

Naacogoches at Tyler—They call Naacogoches the "Cinderella team" because it came from nowhere to a district title but the clock is due to strike 12 at Tyler today.
Austin at Corpus Christi—We see no reason why Corpus Christi can't repeat that victory on the Austin field with the boys playing at home before a capacity crowd.

Lubbock at Wichita Falls—taking Lubbock but won't be surprised if Wichita Falls wins.
Sweetwater vs. Ysleta at El Paso—Ysleta has a good starting team but no Marion, Flanagan and few reserves. Sweetwater.

Sunset vs. Amon Carter Riverside at Fort Worth—Sunset's speed should be the deciding factor in a good ball game.
Lamar vs. Robert E. Lee at Houston—most of other critics are taking Lamar but we'll string along with the praying Ganders.

Nev. Gridster Holds Longest Run Record

NEW YORK, Dec. 5 (AP)—You may not have heard of Marion Motley. You shall right now. He is the star negro halfback of the University of Nevada's football team who, according to an annual Associated Press survey, got off perhaps the longest run of the entire 1941 campaign.

Against San Jose (Calif.) State, Motley took a kickoff five yards back in his end zone and ran for a touchdown. What's more, he later sprinted 87 yards for another score, and thus helped bring about San Jose's first defeat in 19 starts, by a score of 20-12.

The survey disclosed that also among the most glittering, spectacular feats of a thrilling season were:

Run from scrimmage—83 yards, by Buck Fawcett of Stanford against Santa Clara.
Pass play—The Virginia Military serial which Joe Muha threw from the end zone and Boeh Pritchard caught on the 24, to go 78 more yards from there for a touchdown against Army; the Bill DeCorsoy of Northwestern threw against Michigan; Walt Motson's 88-yard return of an intercepted pass for Penn against Maryland; the 85-yard lateral pass play, from Don Reese to Harry Joe, which was good for a Missouri touchdown against Iowa State.

Some of the season's brightest stars contributed some of the most brilliant runs and kicks. There was Bill Dudley of Virginia, who ran 78 and 87 yards from scrimmage for touchdowns against North Carolina, and returned a punt 88 yards to score on Lafayette.
Frankie Slinkwich, Georgia's broken-jawed wonder boy, teamed with Lamar Davis on a 65-yard pass play that beat Alabama with two seconds to go.

But there were just as fine performances by players who got considerably less notice.
Among the long runs from scrimmage were George Butch's 73-yard romp for Temple against Bucknell; Dean Bagley's 85-yard scoring run that helped Texas Christian beat Texas, all the more amazing because he'd dropped back to punt and appeared trapped.

Coach Pat Murphy has put in a rigorous season with his Big Spring Steers but he must not be satisfied yet. Today, Murphy starts a week-end of game officiating. This afternoon he works the Brownfield-Meriel 12-district clash—tomorrow he his himself to El Paso, where he will officiate at the Sweetwater-Ysleta 12-district festivity.

Sixteen of the gridsters who shined on the Texas Longhorn club this season will check it back to Coach Dana X. Elbe at Austin Saturday. The suggestion with Oregon will mark fine to what, except for two and occasions, has been a bumper year at Austin.
Listed among those winding up an era that started in '39, when Texas finally got over the 500 mark, are Jack Crain, Pete Layden, Noble Doss, Vernon Martin, Henry Harkins, Chal Daniel, and Malcolm Kutner.

When these hearties put on the Texas colors for the first time, the Longhorns had won eight ball games in four years.
Four other players were picked up along the line since '39 who will call it a finished job Saturday. Mike Sweeney, Buddy Jungmichel, Woody Johnson and Spec Sanders are in the number.
Next year is rather clouded so far as Texas prospects are concerned but the end of the three-year era is one to be remembered. The era opened when Texas started off the '39 season by beating Florida, 12-0. Since then, the Bibbians have scored 548 points to 280 for the opposition. And, they've improved their stock with each year—taking fourth in '39, tied for third in '40 and tied for second in '41.

Baseball Moguls Windup Session
JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Dec. 5 (AP)—The New York Giants may be rebuilt; the Cleveland Indians may be overhauled; the Cincinnati Reds may get a blood transfusion—but it won't be done in Jacksonville. While the 40th convention of the National Association of Professional Baseball leagues ground to a close, the big leaguers banked the fires of baseball's rumor foundry and headed for Chicago.
By train, plane and automobile they streamed north for next week's major league meeting where many of them are expected to renew dickering for trades which failed to materialize here.
The convention produced its usual quota of hand-shaking, table-wrapping and general get-togethers but little in the way of big news.

New Disorders In Paris Reported
VIENNA, Dec. 5 (AP)—New anti-Nazi attacks in Paris were reported today in dispatches reaching Vienna.
The latest in a series of outbreaks was reported to have occurred in the Rue de Seine, in the Latin quarter near the Boulevard St. Germain in this district that a German book shop was recently dynamited. Details of the new attacks were not immediately available in Vienna.

Robbins Quits School; Illness Takes Carpenter

By The Associated Press
The tall Bascobacks of Arkansas, defending Southwest conference basketball champions, open the season after all other teams have had a fling and it's a good thing.
Because Coach Glen Rose may have to go out after some more men if the present loss rate keeps up.

To begin with Noble Robbins, letterman forward, got married, accepted a job on a defense project and quit school.
That left only four lettermen. Now Gordon Carpenter, 6-foot, 6-inch forward, will be out of the line-up for at least half the season. He underwent an appendectomy last week.

So the Arkansas team will start with only three lefty-run — Forward O'Neal Adams and Guards R. C. Pitts and Clayton Wynne.
The Bascobacks play their first game next Thursday night, meeting Southeastern Oklahoma Teachers at Fayetteville.
All the other six conference members will have played games by then. Southern Methodist, ranked as a prominent contender for the title, opened the grind last night at Denton against North Texas State.

Tomorrow night, Texas Christian plays North Texas.
Monday night Baylor starts the campaign with Southwestern Texas State at Waco and the same night, Texas A. and M. meets Sam Houston State at College Station in the lid-blaster for the Aggies.
Rice swings into action Tuesday night against Sam Houston State at Huntsville and Wednesday night Texas opens with Southwest Texas State at Austin.
Several of the teams have attractive inter-sectional schedules, the Aggies making a tour to include Louisiana State, Kentucky, Purdue, Bradley Tech, Oregon State and Washington University and Rice meeting L. S. U.
The conference race opens Jan. 7.

Nine SW Gridsters Placed On Tulsa's All-Opponents Team

TULSA, Okla., Dec. 5 (AP)—The University of Tulsa's three Southwest conference opponents of the past football season—Arkansas, Arkansas and Texas Christian — won nine positions on the Golden Hurricane's all-opponents team.
Milton Crain, Baylor fullback, was unanimously acclaimed as the best back faced by Tulsa during the year. Buddy Getwood, Baylor, was chosen almost unanimously at Center.
Other selections were Reash, TCU, and Adams, Arkansas; end; Brynson, Arkansas; and Barnett, Baylor; tackle; Sel, Baylor, and Liles, Oklahoma Aggie, guards; Gillespie, TCU, quarterback; and Weber, St. Louis, and Parks, Baylor, halfbacks.

Russian Army Takes Back Huge Area

MOSCOW, Dec. 5 (AP)—The Moscow radio declared today that the Russian army had recaptured 4,000 square miles of territory on the Eastern Front from the German-Donets Basin front where "hundreds" of villages were said to have been wrested from the Germans.
The broadcast said Russian troops driving west into the Donets Basin and along the shores of the Gulf of Azov west of Rostov reached the Mius river where the Germans are trying to form a new front.

NYU Alumni Prepare To Throw Out Mal Stevens

NEW YORK, Dec. 5 (AP)—Armed with statements from several recent New York university footballers that there's something wrong with Coach Mal Stevens' system and methods, the Violets' alumni athletes rolled up their sleeves today for a fight to get something done about NYU's gloomy gridiron status.

Hank's Ready To Return To Baseball Wars

FORT CUSTER, Mich., Dec. 5 (AP)—Sergeant Henry Greenberg, who was called from the Detroit Tigers' outfield to become a soldier, said farewell to the United States army today and planned to resume the life of a baseball player.
After 180 days of soldiering, big Hank was ticketed to leave Fort Custer with a host of uniformed men to see him off.
On the eve of his departure, Greenberg declared his biggest thrill of leavetaking was that "now I am able to become a ballplayer again."
"Since I've been in the army there hasn't been a chance even to think about baseball," he said. "All that was either in the past or the distant future. But now I can go home to New York, wait for spring and begin training for my old job with the Tigers."
That was all the lanky outfielder, rated the American league's most valuable player in 1940, had to say about his plans. He said he would drive to New York City, after a stopover at Detroit to pick up some clothes.

Except for the bowl clean-ups, the boys in the Southwest conference will call it a football season tomorrow.
Rice and Southern Methodist, a couple of teams expected to go places before the campaign opens, will play in the conference finals with little at stake.
The winner will be able to claim third- or fourth place, according to the way you look at it—in the final standing.
A. and M. is the champion, Texas and Texas Christian have tied for second.
Texas, disappointed but at least feeling it partially redeemed itself with that glorious triumph over Texas A. and M. last week, finishes up with the Oregon at Austin.
In far-away Tacoma, Wash., the Aggies close the schedule and then begin thinking about their bowl date with Alabama Jan. 1. The Cadets play rugged Washington State and find themselves accorded no better than an even chance of coming through.
All the other conference teams have packed away the mistakes for another year.

Dorothy Thompson—Isolationists Form Strange Alliances

By DOROTHY THOMPSON The December number of Scribner's Commentator, our leading outright pro-Nazi publication, begins with a tribute to Lindbergh's Des Moines speech and an attack on the "inducious shuffling" from the ranks of America First.

Editorial — — Big Spring Housing Faces Dry Rot

Recently the community finished a campaign for ideas which might be of benefit to Big Spring if and when put into effect. We would like to add one more to the list—one we feel is of vital concern. It is our building.

This should be a matter of serious concern. For the first 11 months of 1940 building permits within the corporate limits of Big Spring have amounted to $184,400. Unless something drastic happens, the year's total is not likely to reach $300,000.

The valuation figure is representative of improvements. Businessmen tell us five per cent ought to be allowed for depreciation. Five per cent of $4,000,000 is $200,000—the amount of normal building Big Spring ought to have.

And large, are not the things we honestly love to show off. Particularly is this true of housing. In normal times Big Spring has offered considerably less for what it received than any city in this territory.

THE PHONE BOOTH MURDER

phone call. But I was in that booth later, and besides, I saw Miss Olive drive away! "Never saw anything like this!" Cummings said when he marched back a few minutes later.

woman who had been shot. Once again, he had to give up. "Never saw anything like this!" Cummings said when he marched back a few minutes later.

"In there? At six? Oh, there's been some frightful mix-up somewhere, then!" Freddy spoke with more than a trace of her mother's emphatic manner.

"You're not joking," she said at last. "You seem to mean it. But look, that simply can't be true!" Jennie assured her that it was.

"I've found out," Cummings said. "A number of interesting and instructive things. Freddy, I'm going to describe someone, and I want you to see if you recognize her. You might know her, too."

There was the false alliance of the German Nazis. The conservatives were not Nazis, or if they were, had their own conservative idea of what Nazism was.

"You don't even know where Hanson is," Asay said, "or if his fallows are here yet. What did you find out, Doc?"

"Who ever said anything about Los Angeles?" Cummings retorted. "I didn't! Freddy, don't you know?" he repeated his description, and then added, "She has a small scar about two inches long above her left wrist."

And these areas of agreement are essential even in order to maintain a vigorously constructive opposition. For there are many things to be opposed in the conduct of our policy. I should like to see Mr. Willkie, for instance, launch out and exhort some of the procedure in Washington.

"Well, you've apparently got one now. Where's your father, Freddy? In the kitchen? Where's your mother? Hanson's probably with them. Where are they?"

"I don't know where he is! For the love of God," Cummings said vehemently, "what is the matter with you, Asay? This rushing around with Bill Porter's certainly done something drastic to your efficiency! Find Hanson, and get someone to chase that fellow—yep, ever had any Peeping Toms here before, Freddy?"

Here And There

Josephine Winter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Winter of Abilene, and Sgt. Woodrow Clemmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Clemmer of Comptche, were wed Monday at the Highland Church of Christ in Abilene by Homer Haley, minister. Miss Winter is a former resident of Big Spring and had attended TSCW for two years. Sgt. Clemmer, who has been stationed at Goodfellow Field in San Angelo, is a former ACC student. The couple will be at home in Sherman where he is now stationed.

In addition to trying to get things organized in his work at the Big Spring State Hospital, of which he has been superintendent since Sept. 1, Dr. C. A. Shaw is being swamped with further duties. Already he has been drafted into service for two districts with the selective service boards as a psychiatrist, and now the possibility is he may have to serve for a third district.

The Big Spring Fireboys were in fine spirits Friday morning—and why shouldn't they be. They had a check for $50 from the Big Spring Compress co., given in appreciation for the fine bit of work in holding fire damage in the cotton yard north of town to a bare minimum Thursday morning. Firemen admit it now looks like a merrier Christmas.

The first of a series of Navy programs will be presented by the Mutual Network at 12:30 p. m. (CST) on Dec. 13. H. E. Jones, U. S. navy recruiting officer, said Friday. The programs will be entitled, "Anchors Aweigh."

Four local Masons attended various conclaves of the lodge in Waco during the week. They were Irvin Daniels, W. O. Low, H. C. McPherson and T. E. Thompson.

That new fire truck is catching lots of service. It was used to extinguish a blazing car on the Gall road near the cemetery Thursday night. Again it was the 200-gallon water supply carried by the truck—and which was used successfully in averting a possible heavy cotton fire loss the day before—which was used to extinguish the blaze.

Homer Hill, American Airlines operator, left today for his new station at Little Rock, Ark. Charles Kaub, scheduled for transfer to Roanoke, Virginia, is due to leave the local station soon after the first of the year.

The first president of Harvard university was Henry Dunster, a Cambridge graduate, who was appointed in August, 1637.

Lions Win Zone Banner

For the third consecutive time, Big Spring Lions club members won the zone attendance banner at the quarterly area organization parley Thursday evening in Kermit.

Big Spring tied with the Wink club with 14 in the number attending, but the distance traveled spelled the difference.

Joe Pond, member of the Big Spring club and a past district governor, made the address of the evening, declaring that patriotism of the nation would not meet its sternest test until the period of reconstruction sets in. He assailed the sophisticated practice of debunking the nation's heroes, asserting that the ability to achieve despite human frailties was what made these characters really great.

Attending from here were K. H. McGibbon, Choc Jones, Dr. C. W. Deas, Joe Pond, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Schley Riley, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Vineyard, Joe Ratliff, Dan Conley, Jess Thornton, and Bill Edwards.

Stanton Club Hears Review

STANTON, Dec. 5 (SpI)—Mrs. O. C. Southall gave a review of the "Donkey Inside," a story of travel through Ecuador by Ludwig Bamann, at an open meeting of the Stanton Study club Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Floyd Smith with Mrs. E. F. Smith as hostess.

The review of Ecuador as a typical South American country was depicted by Mrs. Southall in her review, which was studied with interesting incidents and sparkling wit.

Study club members present were Mrs. A. R. Houston, Mrs. J. D. Poe, Mrs. Paul Jones, Mrs. Clabe Long, Mrs. Hubert Martin, Mrs. Walter Daggett, Mrs. Phil Berry, Mrs. Harry Hall, Mrs. Emmett Pittman, Mrs. J. E. Kelley and Maud Alexander. Guests included Mrs. Cal Houston, Mrs. V. Y. Sadler, Mrs. E. M. Jamieson, Mrs. H. E. Barnes, Mrs. J. E. Rapp, Mrs. G. S. Chadd of Raymondville, who is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Phil Berry, Mrs. Guy Eiland and Fern Hodge.

Next meeting of the club will be on Dec. 11 at the home of Mrs. Edmond Tom. The program will carry out a Christmas theme with Mrs. Floyd Smith in charge.

At High School

WITH DICK CLIFTON

A law was passed five years ago by the state legislature requiring each high school student to have at least 18 weeks instruction in state and national constitutions and satisfy an examination before graduating. Miss Pearl Butler's junior social relation classes are now in the midst of this chore, and boys are meeting with disappointment. Article 16, section 15 holds that "all property, both real and personal, of the wife, owned or claimed by her before marriage and that acquired afterward by gift, devise or descent, shall be her separate property." In addition the community property regulations gives her half of what her husband makes and acquires. The boys conclude that Texas women have a clinch—she gets to keep all of her, and one half of what her husband owns is also hers. Maybe young men will find relief in the next study—Jacksonian democracy.

Having been introduced to fractional equations, students in second year algebra under Miss Margaret Collins will now learn to solve and apply them. Final semester students are knee deep in quadratic equations and graphs.

Junior English students, instructed by Miss Clara Pool, have sidestepped the tricky intransitive pronouns and now confront the formidable adjectives of the same stripe.

Candidates for the school patrol had regulations explained to them at a meeting of the high school safety council meeting Tuesday. They were given forms for parents to sign, thus giving consent for participation. Beth Parsons is sponsor of the council.
