UNCF Committee Meets Here Saturday Morning

With a target date of Saturday evening, August 13, from 7 to 10 p.m. over KMCC-TV, Channel 28, members of the local United Negro College Fund (UNCF) Mini-Telethon general committee will meet Saturday morning, June 4, at 11:30 at the Lubbock Housing Authority Center, 515 North Zenith Avenue.

This will be a luncheon meeting for the members. The lunch is being prepared by several organizations to raise monies for the local effort.

Various committees will report on their progress since the last meeting. An added attraction to this year's effort is a can collection committee which will involve young people in the community. This committee is headed up by Joan Crawford.

"With the good people in Amarillo raising $11,000 in their first effort last Sunday evening, we know the good people in Lubbock will help us reach our $25,000 goal," says T.J. Patterson, general chairman.

The Lubbock Branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) on Thursday presented the Lubbock School Board with school desegregation proposals and offered to work with the school system and with representatives of other interested citizen groups in developing a workable desegregation plan which would provide a stable integrated system offering "quality education for all our children — Black, Brown and White, rich and poor!"

They opposed the closing of any predominantly Black, Brown or low-income White schools. Instead, they asked that the older school facilities be improved so that they are fully equal to the newer schools in the system.

Dr. Floyd Perry, Jr., Vice President and Education Committee Chair for the Lubbock NAACP, presented the proposals. His summary said in part:

"We propose that the desegregation plan provide for substantially equal majority-minority ratios throughout the system. We recognize that such a plan will require some 'busing', a term often used to scare people away from school integration. 'Busing,' however is not the issue...

"We have seen here in Lubbock, and throughout the country, that minimal integration of only a few schools soon leads to resegregation of those schools through the process of middle-class flight to the remaining all-White or mostly-White schools in the system or within the area.

"To reverse that trend toward middle-class flight and resegregation, we need a commitment to a carefully phased plan for full integration and equalization of all schools in Lubbock, beginning at the senior high school level where we urgently need to correct our false start.

"While we recognize that residential integration may be the permanent solution to racial segregation problems, it is too slow at best to solve our immediate problems. For most children now attending segregated schools, school integration is the only remedy available for the damage resulting from 100 years of government-supported segregation."

Perry also submitted a statement for the Lubbock NAACP supporting the adoption of the School Breakfast Program, at least on a trial basis in those schools which had shown the greatest interest in the program.

Mickey Leland To Speak At NAACP Banquet

The Lubbock Branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) will present its fourth annual freedom fund banquet Friday, June 17, at 7:30 p.m. in the University Center Ballroom at Texas Tech University.

Speaker for this annual affair will be Mickey Leland, state representative from Houston.

Legal Services Of Lubbock Helps Poor and Underemployed

by Cliff Avery

A "law firm" on the 16th floor of the Metro Tower is out to prove that laws aren't written just for rich people and that the poor tenant and the poor consumer have rights, too.

But this law firm isn't like many law firms. It's Legal Services of Lubbock, federally funded through the Legal Services Corp. in Washington, D.C. Its services are available to help the poor, the underemployed or the people with governmental benefits through legal tangles.

"People have rights they don't even know about," said Carla Crisford, a recent graduate of the Texas Tech law school, serving as community educator until she is formally licensed. "People have been oppressed for so long they're not aware of all the rights they have."

Crisford said the bulk of Legal Services cases have been in the area of family relations—"wills, divorces, paternity suits, child support and child custody."

But she noted that the agency could become involved in landlord-tenant disputes, repossessions, evictions and standard housing cases.

"We can represent people before any governmental agency," she added. This allows clients to have legal expertise on their side when dickering over food stamps, welfare payments or social security problems.

While Legal Services can not represent persons accused of crimes, the attorneys may represent people in workman's compensation claims or other "fee generating" disputes if two local attorneys have refused to help the prospective client.

Crisford said that the group hopes to eventually become involved in "changing the conditions of poverty" through more political representation. "We're telling clients how they can use us to become involved in the democratic process."

Legal Services, organized in Lubbock by the Fort Worth office, is staffed by two full-time attorneys and a part-time lawyer who can help poor people. Crisford will join the legal staff when licensed, and she noted Legal Services hopes to have five full-time attorneys by the fall—including a full time director of the center.

Crisford said Legal Services has broken the language barrier for poor Mexican-Americans who can find Spanish-speaking professionals at every level of the attorney-client relationship — from initial interview through whatever legal aid is necessary.

Legal Services was established under the Office of Economic Opportunity in the mid-1960s, but because of opposition from the local bar association, matching local funds could not be found to start an office in Lubbock. In 1975, Congress passed the Legal Services Act, which provided for total federal funding.

Recognition Banquet

A recognition banquet will be held Saturday evening, June 4, at Mae Simmons Community Center at 7:30 p.m. for T.J. Patterson, editor of the West Texas Times. This affair is being sponsored by the Voices Chorale Ensemble. Tickets are $5.00 per person.

"We have appreciated what he has done for our organization," says Elder Levi Lenley, director.

Sunday afternoon, June 5, at 3, the Voices will host a special musical featuring the well-known U.L. Rivers Singers of Fort Worth at Bethel A.M.E. Church.

"We hope many of our friends will come out to both of these affairs," continued Elder Lenley.

Police Beat

Burglary and Intent to Rape

A twenty-five year old east Lubbock woman was shocked one night last week. She told police that she was sleeping in her bed when she heard a loud noise which awakened her. She jumped up, according to the police report, and hit a man on the head.

The man had the upper part of his body through the bedroom window and was attempting to crawl into the bedroom. When the lady's arm hit the man, he jumped back through the window and left in a hurry.

A short time later, the unidentified man came back and asked the young lady to open the door so he could come inside. She refused to let him inside, and he said he was going to rape her.

The police report revealed that the man had been watching the lady over a period of time. He told the young lady that he had offered her an opportunity to go on a date with him, but she refused.

The lady was able to go next door to a neighbor and call the police. She did tell police that she saw the young man a block away from the apartment but was unable to know who he was. The man did tell the lady that she knew who he was.

Theft Under $5
Juandlup A. Flores, 2508

Weber Drive, Apt. C, reported to Lubbock police that her husband had left a blank check signed for her to cash one day last week while he was out of town.

A suspect did come to her apartment and took the check and wrote his name in the check and cashed it.

The lady said she would stop payment on the check but would file charges this week against the person who cashed the check.

Aggravated Robbery

Kenneth Edward Rayne, 2021 Colgate Avenue, reported to Lubbock police that he had problems one night last week. He said he had gone to the Thunderbird Club, East 23rd Street and Fir Avenue, when he was approached by a young woman who wanted $10 to take care of her sick child. Rayne told the young lady if she would show him the sick child, he would give her the money.

He left the club with the young lady and drove around east Lubbock for approximately ten minutes. They arrived in the Coronado Apartments when a 1966 model car drove up beside Rayne and the lady. A man got out of the car with a large caliber pistol and said: "What are you doing with my wife?"

After several moments of talking, the man told Rayne he would not kill him if he would give him all the money he had in his pocket. Rayne agreed and gave the man his money.

Rayne was taken back to the Thunderbird Club where he was trying to help a mother with a sick child. After several minutes, he left and called the police. He was robbed of $75.

Criminal Mischief

Helen Marie Cross, 1010 East 29th Street, reported to Lubbock police that persons unknown with a coat hanger or another similar type instrument, opened the door of her 64 model car. Once inside, the unknown persons cut all the electrical wires under the dashboard of the car.

After investigation, it was learned that nothing was taken. The car was locked, but approximately $20 worth of damage was done to the car.

Burglary of Habitation

Connie Gonzales, 1709 Zenith Avenue, reported to Lubbock police that persons unknown broke into her house one day last week by kicking in the rear door.

Once inside, persons took several items including a radio/record player, woman's wrist watch, and a clock.

Value of the items were undetermined.

Civil Suits Filed

The Department of Justice filed civil suits this week charging two bars in Marksville, Louisiana, with discriminating against black patrons.

Attorney General Griffin B. Bell said two public accommodations suits were filed in U.S. District Court in Shreveport, Louisiana, against Isaac J. Ponthier, Jr., and Marvin H. Speer.

One suit charged Ponthier, who owns Junior's Bar, with violating the Civil Rights Act of 1964 by racially segregating patrons. A front service area is maintained for the exclusive use of whites, while blacks are required to obtain service in a rear area, the suit said.

The other suit charged Speer, who owns Reynaud's Bar, with violating the 1964 law by serving blacks only on a carry-out basis and refusing to allow them to remain at the bar.

Both suits asked for court orders enjoining Ponthier and Speer from violating the law, refusing to serve blacks on an equal basis with whites, and requiring the owners to inform the public that their services are available to all persons without regard to race.

The Ponthier suit also asked that he be enjoined from maintaining racially segregated serving areas and from refusing to admit and serve blacks in the front area of the bar.

Amarillo UNCF Nets $11,000

"We knew we could raise more than $10,000 for the United Negro College Fund," said an elated Rev. C.A. Perry, local chairperson. After two hours of interviewing with local citizens and the dynamic show of the stars in Las Vegas, the goal of $10,000 was broken with less than twenty minutes to go.

"Amarillo people came out and helped make this a success the first time in this city," said Melvin Shaw, executive director of the Texas Association of Developing Colleges in Dallas. "We're just pleased with what the people have done," he continued.

This UNCF Mini-Telethon was the first ever shown in the city of Amarillo. KFAD, Channel 10, was the host station.

Dr. John King, president of Huston-Tillotson College at Austin, served as co-host for the show. "At one point in the show, I knew we had people in Amarillo who would come through in a really big way, and we're glad they did," he said.

Dr. J. Hancock, president of Texas College in Tyler, appeared on the two hour effort in several spots. "I'm so tickled to know we are able to reach people in Amarillo and they come forward with monies for such a worthy cause," he said.

"We'll do a much better job next year," said Rev. Perry. "People are just so concerned about positive efforts in our city," he continued.

With more than an hour to go on the two hour show, a limousine pulled up in front of the station and gave an anonymous gift of $1,000. "This lets us know that people do care," concluded Rev. Perry.

Rising Star Baptist Church

Last Sunday morning, church services were attended. The message was brought by our loving pastor, Rev. H.L. Phillips. His subject was "Life Is Like a Jigsaw Puzzle."

The Senior Mission presented the music of the hour at a program sponsored by the youth department. This program was well enjoyed by those in attendance.

The youth department will sponsor a wiener roast Saturday evening, June 4, at 6.

Let's continue to pray for the sick and shut in.

A thought from Sister R. Johnson: "The rough ways shall be made smooth."

Mount Olive Baptist Church

Snyder, Texas — Sunday School was called to worship by Bro. Albert Lewis. Classes combined and were taught by the Supt. Sis. Bertha Willis. High Points were by Pastor Toines. Lesson and High Points were most helpful.

Pastor Toines delivered the message for the morning services. He spoke on "Hope Is Essential To Salvation." Scripture reading was from Paul 8:24-25. Music was provided by the Senior Choir. Message and music were most inspiring.

Lyons Chapel Baptist Church

The Missionary Society was in charge of service Sunday. The program was presented very well. Sis. Mary Ward was the speaker for the morning, she gave a nice talk. Everything was carried out lovely. Each senior graduate received a personal Bible from the mission. Once again we would like to congratulate all of the graduates. "May all of your endeavors you strive for be successful." Put God first, others second, self last and you can't help but succeed. Good luck to all of you!

On last Monday evening we really enjoyed fellowshiping with Bethel A.M.E. and New Jerusalem Mission ladies. We really had a good time! There were about 70-75 people present. The Y.W.A. (Young Women Auxiliary) presented a short skit, demonstrating unity in the church and in everyday living. Everyone seemed to have enjoyed it very much. Door prizes were won by Sis. Carrie Malone and Sis. Rose Wilson. Remarks were made from both ladies.

Refreshments were served after the meeting. The Y.W.A. was invited to do the skit again at New Jerusalem. President Hood was very elated on the cooperation of all the ladies.

On Thursday, June 2, at 7:30 p.m. at the church, the social service department, under the direction of Mrs. Karen Edwards, will have a drug seminar presented by Oscar Jones. Each and everyone is invited to come out and listen or participate in this seminar.

Joint evening worship for the first Sunday in June will be at Bethel A.M.E. Church. We are looking forward to a good time. Let us all plan to attend.

Let us continue to pray for our sick and shut in members of the church and community.

Dr. Abernathy, who succeeded Dr. King in April, 1968, resigned the presidency in February of this year. Dr. Joseph Lowery, Chairman of S.C.L.C.'s Board of Directors is acting-president until such time the convention chooses the third president.

City Federation Of Women's Club Meets

The City Federation of Women's Club met Saturday evening at 6 in the Posey Neighborhood House, with Mrs. Rose K. Wilson, president, presiding. Members present were the Royal Ladies, Ever Ready, Tiara and Magnificent Seven Clubs.

A brief memorial service was held in honor of Memorial Day with the Chaplain, Mrs. Omie L. Smith, in charge.

The organization expressed its appreciation to Mrs. Nelda Jackson for making name tags for each member.

The next meeting will be held June 24 at 6 p.m. with a salad supper being served.

The meeting was adjourned with the motto, "If the elevator to success is not running, take the stairs."

Post Planting Care Of Young Shade Trees

Summer is a critical period for recently planted shade and ornamental trees, so they often need special care to withstand hot, dry weather, says a landscape horticulturist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Water is the prime need of young trees during the summer season since a great deal of moisture is lost from the leaves and stems," points out Everett Janne. "Since young, transplanted trees have a limited root system, they can only use water close by. If this soil area becomes dry, the leaves wilt, turn brown and drop. Death of many branches or even the entire tree can follow."

Janne suggests watering at regular intervals all trees planted within the past year. If the soil is sandy, water about once a week; if it is clay or loam, thorough watering every 10 days to two weeks should suffice.

Using an open-end hose, regulate the water flow so there is no run-off and let it run until the soil around the tree is saturated. To determine whether or not you are supplying the proper amount of water, take soil samples between waterings at depths of 12 to 18 inches; the soil should be moist but not muddy.

"Insect control is also an important part of post planting care of trees," notes the horticulturist. "Since even a light infestation can cause severe damage to a newly planted tree, control measures should be taken promptly when insects are found. This means applying appropriate insecticides according to the manufacturer's instructions."

Promoting steady, vigorous growth through the proper use of fertilizers once trees are established will reduce the chance of insect damage, especially from borers, adds Janne.

Final Rites Read For Childers Family

Final rites were read for Elder Robert L. Childers, 51; his daughter, Erma Jean Childers, 25; and granddaughter, Trashaun Childers, 7; last week at the First Pentecostal Church in Phoenix, Arizona with Elder A. Moore officiating.

Interment was held in Greenwood Memorial Park Cemetery under the direction of Webber & Sons Mortuary, Inc.

The three members of the Childers family died of auto accident injuries at Quartzsite, Arizona.

Elder Childers was a minister - evangelist in Valley churches since 1963. He presented Sunday services for nine years of a local radio station, and was 30 years with American Line Supply Company.

His survivors include his widow, Mrs. Lottie Childers; children, Myrtle, Esther, Bessie, Debra, Robert Lee III, Michael, Otis, Anthony, Don and Larry; seven grandchildren; three brothers and six sisters.

Trashaun was taken from Phoenix to Los Angeles, California two months ago where she was in elementary school. Her survivors include her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Childers III, and two grandparents.
