Dedicated to Informing the Citizens of West Texas

Adult Foster Homes Needed for Disabled

Adult foster homes are needed by the Texas Department of Human Resources in Lubbock and surrounding counties to provide care for aged, blind, or other disabled adults. The aim is to assist persons who cannot live independently but do not require nursing home placement.

Families, couples or singles are being sought who have room in their homes for one to three aged or disabled persons and can provide a family-like, loving atmosphere.

The foster family must be willing to help provide social, recreational, and religious activities as appropriate.

The resident placed in the foster home will be able to walk without personal assistance and provide his/her own personal care.

Cost of the care is shared by the resident and the Department of Human Resources. Payment to the foster home is approximately $250.00 per person per month.

Persons interested in learning more about providing this service should contact their nearest Department of Human Resources office. In Lubbock call Priscilla Byrd, foster home worker, at 762-8922, Ext. 253.

Transportation Funds Allocated

The State Department of Highways and Public Transportation announced that funds are available to purchase vehicles and related equipment for the transportation of elderly and handicapped citizens.

Texas has been allocated $1,189,000 in federal funding for the fiscal year 1978 Section 16b (2) program. Only private, non-profit agencies are eligible to receive these funds.

Involvement of minority-oriented organizations is encouraged.

Interested individuals or organizations can obtain information and applications for 16b (2) grants at the district office. Inquiries may be directed to George C. Wall, Jr., State Department of Highways and Public Transportation, P.O. Box 771, Lubbock, Texas 79408, Telephone 806-745-4411.

U.P.A.L. Presents Voter's Education Forum This Saturday

The United Political Action League is presenting to the East Lubbock community, a Voter's Education Forum. Our goal is to acquaint the community on the interlocking network of politics, industrialization and the economic foundation. An understanding of the political system is an absolute necessity and is the key to understanding the real nature of the economy. It will be highly profitable to attend this forum.

The forum will begin promptly at 6:30 p.m. at the Green Fair Manor Activity Center, located on Weber Drive and Quirt.

TEXAS A&I CENTER—Clifford Burrow, 6-2, 230-pound junior from Lubbock Estacado High School. is a member of the Texas A&I University football team this fall. Burrow is a center in his first season with the Javelinas.

JAVELINA STARTER—Ken Wright, 6-0, 240-pound junior from Lubbock Estacado High School, is an offensive guard with the Texas A&I University football team this fall. Wright has made the starting alignment in his first season with the squad.

Shared Housing Offered to Elderly and Handicapped Persons

The Department of Human Resources is offering elderly and handicapped persons in Lubbock and 14 surrounding counties an opportunity to live independently in shared housing arrangements.

The project, called the Alternate Living Plan, is aimed at aiding the elderly and handicapped in avoiding premature entry into nursing homes.

A family-like setting will be established and housekeeping chores, cooking and limited personal care will be performed by a live-in or part-time homemaker.

Shared household costs will make community living more affordable for those on fixed incomes.

Housing may vary from several persons sharing a home to individuals residing in separate units within an apartment complex or boarding house.

Interested elderly and handicapped persons will be considered for participation on the basis of their physical disabilities and ability to get along with others. Persons with severe disorientation or confusion cannot be accommodated in this project.

In order to be financially eligible, the monthly income for an individual must be $573.69 or less.

All persons interested in the project should contact the nearest Department of Human Resources office. In Lubbock call Priscilla Byrd at 762-8922, extension 253.

Auto Dealers Workshop Held

By Lerisa R. Payne

The Texas Automobile Dealers Association held a workshop, October 11, 1978, at the Hilton Inn in Lubbock. TADA's purpose is to help other dealers learn to communicate and handle complaints from the customers. There are some complaints which are not solved through the dealer, therefore: they are forwarded to TADA's Automotive Consumer Action Panel, (AUTOCAP) or the local Better Business Bureau.

The AUTOCAP, founded in 1974, has customer satisfaction rate after handling more than 650 cases. Even though the BBB has a comparable rate of mediation success. There were 60 dealers of the South Plains attending the workshop.

Lubbock has adopted a similar program as the TADA. Some factors in the Lubbock program is the servicing of vehicles by mechanics and also allowing one person in each dealership to serve as a customer relations representative to handle service complaints.

Gene Fondren, a lawyer and executive president of the TADA says, "he hopes that others will adopt a similar program because it builds customer confidence rather than creating a defiant relationship like a city repair shop ordinance might do, and it costs less."

Gene Fondren along with David Lancaster will cover 14 cities within 6 weeks, and they hope to get other dealers interested in the program.

Bob Townley discussed other matters such as the registration system, and changes in the Texas Motor Vehicle Commission Code.

Openings in Classes

Hodges Community Center, located at 42nd and University, is offering classes for adults and elementary age children free of charge. There are openings in the Women's Physical Fitness Class taught by Tech's Cheerleader, Beth Ann Wright; and adult and teen Chess Class taught by a professional chessman, and elementary classes such as Piano, Creative Clay, Puppetry, and Gymnastics.

Anyone interested may go by Hodges Community Center or call 762-6411 ext. 2706 for additional information and registration.

DPA Trooper Applications Now Being Accepted

Major C.W. Bell, Regional Commander of the Texas Department of Public Safety announced the DPS is accepting applications for the position of State Trooper. Applications may be picked up at any DPS offices.

"The entrance examination will be administered in the Lubbock, Amarillo and Wichita Falls DPS offices on Tuesdays and Thursdays for this area of the state and continuing through early December for the Recruit School beginning in January," according to Bell. The test will begin at 9 a.m. and continue through most of the day. Applicants are advised to wear comfortable running footwear and be prepared to give their best mental and physical effort.

Major Bell said general qualifications for DPS Troopers are: Applicants must be 20 through 35 years of age; good moral character; excellent physical condition; weight not less than two pounds nor more than three and one-half pounds per inch of height; visual acuity no worse than 20/40 correctable to 20/20; and a citizen of the United States. Educational qualifications are now a minimum of 60 semester hours of college. Qualified female applicants are also being accepted for the uniformed services of the DPS. The Department has been increasingly successful in recruiting persons from minority groups and the DPS is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Upon successful completion of the entrance examinations and personal background data investigation, the recruit will enter 18 weeks of intensive police training. Classes will begin at the DPS Law Enforcement Academy in Austin, January 9, 1979. Starting salary for recruits is $876.00 per month.

The 18-week training period will cover some 850 hours of law enforcement classes on a wide variety of subjects such as: criminal and traffic law, human and community relations, investigative techniques, marksmanship, pursuit driving and physical training.

After graduation, as a commissioned law enforcement officer, the monthly salary increases to $1,000.00 and at the end of six months active duty, the officer gets a salary increase to $1,068.00. State Troopers receive longevity pay for each year of service up to 25 years. Other benefits include 5.85% paid Social Security. Uniforms, weapons, ammunition and vehicles are furnished by the State of Texas. Life insurance and hospitalization are paid for the employee. Paid vacations, state holidays and sick leave are provided to all employees.

Upon graduation, the trooper will be qualified to enter the following DPS field services: 1) License and Weight; 2) Drivers License; 3) Motor Vehicle Inspection; 4) Highway Patrol. Experienced uniformed troopers may apply for appointment to positions in Narcotics, Intelligence, Texas Rangers and Motor Vehicle Theft Services when openings occur.

Contact your nearest DPS office for job applications to begin a new and exciting career in Law Enforcement. Join the winning team as a Department of Public Safety Trooper, January 9, 1979!

Among activities to be presented will be demonstrations on the use of solar energy, rope-making, bike and skateboard safety, astronomy, cooking, mosaic design, plaster casting, backpacking, rappelling, archery and shotgun safety, First Aid, Indian Crafts, scuba diving, gold panning and arrowhead making.

The Scout-O-Rama is one of the largest youth shows staged on the South Plains and tickets are available from any area Boy Scout or the Scout office. Tickets cost $1.00.

JACK ANDERSON WITH JOE SPEAR WEEKLY SPECIAL

Mafia Tie to JFK, Oswald Deaths A Story Unproved but Persistent

Copyright, 1978, United Feature Syndicate, Inc.

WASHINGTON—Several years ago we developed the confidence of gangster John Roselli, one of the mobsters whom the Central Intelligence Agency recruited to murder Cuban Premier Fidel Castro. With Roselli's help, we were able to break that story in January, 1971.

He continued to talk to us over the years. He was always cautious with words. But in his guarded way, he indicated to us that the plot against Castro had backfired. He suggested that Castro had captured the underworld assassins, had brought pressure on them to reverse the plot and had sent them after President Kennedy.

The assassins, Roselli also indicated, worked for Mafia godfather Santos Trafficante, the former overlord of the mob-owned gambling casinos in Havana. Roselli implied that Lee Harvey Oswald, the accused Kennedy killer, was a patsy used by the mob. Once he was apprehended, he had to be shut up. This assignment allegedly was given to Jack Ruby, whom Roselli identified as an underworld punk with links to Trafficante.

The story was so fantastic that we found it hard to swallow. Then, on Aug. 3, 1976, some of Roselli's friends told us that he was missing. They implied that he might be in trouble with the mob for talking to us. His body was found a few days later in an oil drum, wrapped in heavy chains.

It had been heaved into Miami Bay where it was supposed to have disappeared forever on the ocean bottom. But body gases made the oil drum buoyant and caused it to rise eerily from its watery grave.

Police sources told us they had learned from underworld informants that Santos Trafficante had ordered Roselli rubbed out. This was an allegation, of course, that could not be proved.

Roselli has been dead for over two years. But his story has come back to haunt Trafficante. Recently, he was hauled before the House Assassinations Committee and questioned about reports that he had foretold that Kennedy "would be hit."

The crime lord, hunched and balding, denied it. "Absolutely not," he said. "No way."

Now, however, we have obtained a fascinating FBI report dated March 21, 1967. It quotes a former top FBI official who had learned from his law clients about the CIA-Mafia plot to knock off Castro.

"Castro ... arrested a number of suspects," states the report. "By pressuring the captured suspects, he was able to learn the full details of the plot against him. He decided, 'If that is the way President Kennedy wanted it, he too could engage in the same tactics.'

"Castro thereafter employed teams of individuals who were dispatched to the United States for the purpose of assassinating President Kennedy."

In short, the story simply won't go away. This, of course, does not mean it is true. There is no proof. And Castro himself has emphatically denied it.

Trade War: With cold and quiet efficiency, the Soviet Union is winning a major war against the United States—without firing a shot. It is the trade war.

While U.S. officials sit idly by, the Soviets are seizing control of the world's major shipping routes. The American maritime fleet, meanwhile, is becoming an international joke. If the situation does not change, the United States may be paying the Russians to ship American materials in the decade ahead.

The Kremlin bosses have made it clear that they intend to use the world's shipping lanes as an "international tool for building communism." They are accomplishing it by undercutting their maritime competitors by as much as 50 percent. Soviet shippers, in short, are taking huge, government-subsidized losses in order to steal business away from Western shippers.

Pension Plight: More than 30 million Americans are enrolled in some form of pension program. Congressional investigators have determined, however, that many employees who are counting on their pensions to cushion their retirement might do better to put their money in savings accounts.

This confidential investigation, conducted by Sen. Howard Metzenbaum, D-Ohio, has raised serious questions about how the funds are being managed, or mismanaged. The senator is planning to hold hearings on the pension fund fiasco next month.

Deceptive Advertising: The military dictators who run Chile have received a lot of bad publicity. They have been denounced for abusing human rights. And now the United States is trying to extradite the former Chilean secret police chief for masterminding a murder in Washington, D.C.

The Chilean leaders are trying to counterattack with some positive publicity. But they are using highly deceptive tactics.

The Chilean embassy, for example, recently distributed a publicity package to the press. One of the items included in it was the September issue of Nation's Business magazine. The embassy boasted that the periodical contained "a special report on Chile."

The so-called "special report" was in fact a paid advertising supplement.

Ringling the Bell . . .

with Bob Tieucl

So You Want to Be a Black Leader? "Dear Bob—Since the survival of black folks in America is determined by those who sit on the Supreme Court and school boards; members of city council and the state legislature, the governors of the states and the president, only black people who should allow themselves to be called 'black leaders' are the ones who can get large numbers of registered voters to go to the polls and elect people who will get jobs for our unemployed, and contracts for minority businesses, and fight hard for better schools, decent housing and good health care programs.

"Although an individual may be recognized as a good businessman, a good writer, and be an excellent student who makes all A's; until that individual can get large numbers of blacks to register and go to the polls and vote, he is not a leader, in other words, the real leaders of the black community are the people who can get black folks to participate in the political processes that will set them free and make them equal under the law.

"If we elect our own people, and vote for those who are sympathetic to our interests, we don't have to be filing law suits, in the streets demonstrating, nor jumping up and down on Mr. Charley's desk demanding jobs, tax dollars and government programs which are rightfully ours.

Census data indicates there are about 15.4 million blacks of voting age but only some 48.7 said they voted in 1976. Surveys show that 60.0 percent of whites of voting age said they voted in that election. Want to be a black leader? Get em to the polls, we say.

Mississippi bellringer sources indicate that the success of Charles Evers, mayor of Fayette, Miss., and brother of Medgar Evers, slain civil rights leader, to mobilize black voters behind his banner could hold the key to the outcome of what may be the most unusual Senate campaign in Mississippi in 100 years. Sen. James O. Eastland who had stayed on 13 years past the time when the Voting Rights Act of 1965 began lowering the curtain in Mississippi on a political epoch dominated by open, often virulent, racism. As blacks started voting, white politicians stopped "niggering" their way into office.

Evers is running for the Senate as an independent in a three way race that pits him against Democrat Maurice Dantin, the former mayor of Columbia, Miss., and Republican Thad Cochran, a three-term veteran in the U.S. House of Rep. A fourth candidate, independent Henry Kirksey, is a black social activist who has mounted only a nominal campaign.

Most observers give Evers only a remote chance of winning the election, some believe he could siphon off enough traditionally Democratic black votes to tip the election to Cochran. An estimated one third of the registered voters in Miss. are black.

Some of my old time bellringers in Oklahoma remember the 30's. It was the time of 'Pretty Boy' Floyd and his gang that roamed the hills of Oklahoma. Bank robberies were popular and Floyd told his gang not to attempt to rob the bank at Boley but they wouldn't listen and as a result his integrated gang was left lying 'stone dead' on the streets. Chief of police at that time was the late Langston McCormick who passed recently. So on Oct. 8, 1978 Gov. David L. Boren of Oklahoma declared it Joseph Langston McCormick Day, citing his 46 years as a "policeman and state investigator" and helping to keep peace and promoting law and order in Oklahoma." McCormick will be placed in the Southwest Black Hall of Fame in Pecos, Texas, friends of this column reported. A grand addition, we think.

Hill backs tax relief on ballot November 7

"We've got a great opportunity Nov. 7 to take a significant first step toward tax relief in Texas. I'm urging everyone to vote for the proposed constitutional amendment to give tax relief to our farmers and ranchers, homeowners, and elderly. After this amendment is adopted, I'll be ready to take the lead in the 1979 legislature to follow through on this first step."

The historian's objectivity and the storyteller's narrative skill are combined in Wilderness Calling: The Hardeman Family in the American Westward Movement, 1750-1900 by Nicholas Perkins Hardeman. Hardbound, 357 pps., illustrated, bibliography, indexed, $14.95. Order from the University of Tennessee Press, Communications Building, Knoxville, Tenn. 37916. A fine example of what can be accomplished with genealogical research, this book gives a panoramic view of the part the Hardeman family played in American frontier history. Although the Hardeman family immigrant, Thomas, arrived in America prior to 1660, this work starts with the adventures of Thomas Hardeman, born in Albemarle County, Va., in 1750, and follows his direct descendants down to the beginning of the twentieth century. Members of the family were instrumental in settling Tennessee, Missouri, Texas, Oregon and California and took part in forays into Mexico, Central America, and the Philippines. Occupations varied from farmers, shepherders, and gold seekers to merchants, doctors, and political figures. Valuable information from family papers was supplemented with extensive archival research. Hopefully, other genealogists will tell their family's part in American history in such a scholarly and entertaining way.

Mrs. J.M. Wood, Jr., certified genealogist, will begin teaching classes on basic genealogical research, Tuesday, October 24, at South Plains College at Lubbock, 1302 Main St., Lubbock. For further information, call Mary Rooker, Director of Special Services, at 747-0576 or 747-8111.

Ms. Della Smith, 1171 E. 47th Place, Los Angeles, Calif. 90011 is interested in the Wright, Flournoy, and Clemon/Clemmons families.

Mrs. Geraldine Cannon West, 4120 Hartwood Drive, Fort Worth, Texas 76109 would like to hear from descendants of Cornelius Daugherty and Charlotte Tap, who were married in Kaufman County, Texas on Oct. 3, 1878.

The 1880 census of Kaufman County shows Cornelius as "Neil", b.c. 1846 in Arkansas. He is listed as a mulatto, living in Beat #1 of Kaufman County. His father was born in Tennessee; the birthplace of his mother was unknown. Charlotte, listed as black, was born c. 1861 in Arkansas. The birthplace of both her parents was unknown. Mrs. West will be glad to exchange information on the Daugherty family and will return postage on all replies.

The annual meeting of the Texas State Genealogical Society will be held Friday and Saturday, November 3 and 4, at the Airport Hilton Inn, Interstate 40 at Lakeside in Amarillo. Guest lecturer for the two-day workshop will be James D. Walker, prominent black genealogist and Director, Genealogical Programs, Education Division, National Archives and Records Service, Washington D.C. He will discuss genealogical research sources in the National Archives. Dr. Sandra L. Myres, Associate Professor at the University of Texas, Arlington, will talk about "Diaries of Army Wives in the Nineteenth Century West" at the annual banquet, Friday evening. The registration fee (which does not include meals) is $15 per person and should be sent to Mrs. J.L. Tryon, 4421 Ridgcrest, Amarillo, Texas 79110.

Please send your queries and genealogical information to Marleta Childs, 2308 21st St., Lubbock 79411.

KELLY'S HEROES

by Joe Kelly

Congratulations are certainly in order for James Hadnot in particular and Texas Tech's football team in general. Hadnot set a new school rushing record and the Red Raiders won a game.

Few backs will ever have the kind of game that Hadnot had, with 268 yards rushing. That's the kind of record which will stand for years, if not forever. It was a brilliant performance, made all the more outstanding because the young full back has played only five games in the backfield.

As for Tech, it wasn't a particularly artful victory, but it was important. The Raiders needed to win after dropping three of their first four battles.

Obviously the drop in caliber of opposition was right to their liking. They stormed past the New Mexico Lobos with their best offensive showing of the year.

The defense left something, indeed, a lot to be desired.

Lest you think Hadnot's record was a fluke, the SWC had an interview with Steve Bradham of Houston and Floyd Randle of Texas A&M. Randle is an outstanding linebacker and here's what he said:

"Last week I was able to stop the toughest runner to bring down I've ever seen. That was (James) Hadnot of Tech. He was tougher to bring down than Earl. He's not the strong runner that Campbell is, but he was the toughest to tackle."

Tech, of course, is out of the championship race with two losses. And who is keeping the Raiders company? None other than Baylor, rated a darkhorse for the title, and TCU, not rated.

And how about this fact. When Tech takes the field against Rice Saturday night, it will be playing its third team that is fighting for the championship. Yep, the Owls, rated ninth, boast a 1-1 conference mark. Half the season gone and six teams still have a chance at the crown.

There are two great games this Saturday and one that might be. Arkansas goes to Texas and Houston is at SMU. The other game that might be great is Baylor at A&M.

You have to go with Arkansas and A&M, but it is tough to pick the Cougars or Mustangs. If backed into a corner, I'd have to go with the Coogs, just as I would go with Tech over Rice and Tulane to hand the Horned Frogs yet another loss.

The SWC has taken a giant step forward to end the type of situation that left Tech frustrated in basketball last year. You remember the Kent Williams incident in the A&M game, don't you? Coach Gerald Myers rightfully protested but the conference could take no action until the spring meet, weeks later.

That situation apparently has been solved. The league named a three man committee, headed by Cliff Speegle, to make immediate investigations and to take action. It should help tremendously.

By the time most people read this, the World Series will have ended and everyone can settle down to football. One thing is sure: either the Yanks repeated, or the Dodgers dethroned them!

Not being a betting man, except on sure things, like death and taxes, I looked forward to the final game or two. The odds were all with the Yanks. But then, the odds were all with the Dodgers when the teams went to New York.

The pivotal game, in my opinion, was No. 4. Ron Guidry, even though he wasn't as sharp as usual, had held off the Bums to get the Yanks within range. Now it was up to Ed Figueroa.

For four innings Figueroa, a bust in the first game, held his own with Tommy John. Then he got careless. He got behind the hitters, as he did earlier, and Reggie Smith unloaded a three-run homer.

It seemed as though the Yanks were out of it. They got a couple in the sixth, but they were short. In the eighth they scrapped for a run to tie the score.

New York won it in the tenth, after Graig Nettles had thoroughly demoralized the Dodgers with his work at third base. Had the Dodgers taken this game, the teams might not have gone back to the West Coast.

Then came No. 5 and three things happened: Jim Beattie pitched fine ball, Yankee bats exploded for 18 hits and the usually sure fieldings Dodgers came apart at the seams.

Was it a sign of things to come? We'll know soon. Certainly the Yanks have momentum, even in "foreign" Los Angeles.

SWC Notes: SMU's Mike Ford already has more yards passing than Davey O'Brien had in his entire career ... Baylor's biggest loss going into the SMU game was a 6-point loss to Ohio State. So what happened? The Bears lost by seven ... SWC attendance through one third of home games played, is 25% ahead of the 1976 record pace ... TCU, SMU and Baylor have almost traveled around the world. The three have logged 20,170 travel miles, about 5,000 miles less than a trip around the world ... It's only 10 weeks and two days before the Cotton Bowl game is played. Wanna bet Penn State will be the visiting team? ... Phil Tucker has left the insurance business and is a part owner of K-Bob's in Brownfield ... And Ken Kummer (Tech 52-55), also of Brownfield, has retired.

Lunch Bunch to Hear Program on Antarctica

"Animals in Antarctica" will be the topic of Dr. Russell W. Strandtmann's Lunch Bunch talk on Tuesday, October 24. Dr. Strandtmann is a retired professor of Biology at Texas Tech University, and has made several trips to Antarctica. He is currently doing research at Southwestern Texas State University at San Marcos.

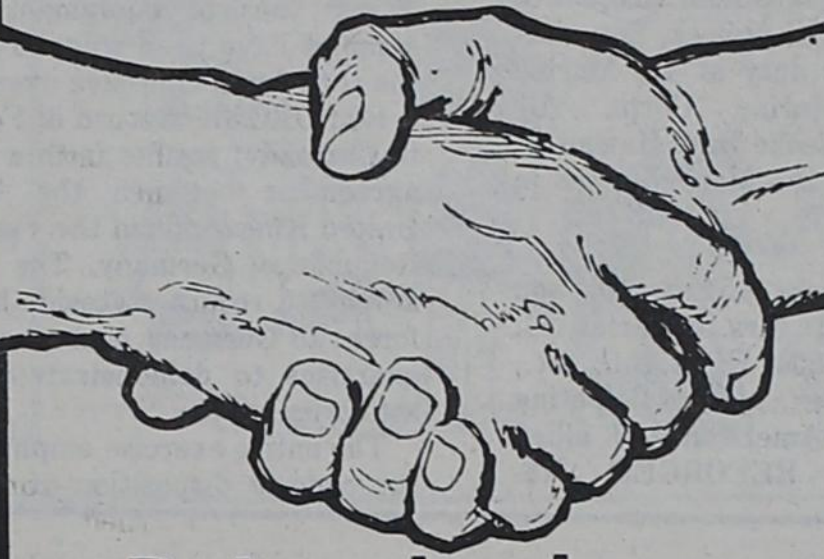

Lunch Bunch meets each Tuesday from 12:15 to 12:45 in the Mahon Community Room of the Lubbock City-County Library, 1306 9th Street. The public is invited to bring a sack lunch and enjoy coffee and a free program provided by the Library.

SW Bell Begins Construction on Telephone Service Project

Southwestern Bell has begun construction on a $600,000 project to improve and expand telephone service in the north part of Lubbock.

The project is necessary in order to meet the future needs of north Lubbock, according to Bob Dunbar, division manager. "Growth is expected to increase in this part of the city, and the cable extension will allow us to serve an additional 3,000 customers."

The extension primarily will serve the North University Ranchettes, located north of Loop 289 on University, Texas Instruments and the Lubbock Regional Airport.

The project involves two cable extension from the Porter-Sherwood office, explained Bill Hollabaugh, project coordinator. Approximately five miles of cable will be buried north on Avenue N to Owen Street and then east to Interstate 27. The other extension will be placed in conduit underground, running two and one half miles west on Fourth Street to Detroit avenue.

Hollabaugh says he does not anticipate any inconvenience to traffic during the construction. "Possibly, one lane of traffic will be closed during parts of the construction, but no roads will be turned up or be inaccessible to the public."

The project should be completed by December.

Community Centers Sponsor Competition

Hodges, Maxey, and Rodgers Community Centers will be sponsoring the Pepsi-Cola Hot-shot Basketball Competition through the month of October. Registration forms are available at each center. Age divisions are 9-12, 13-15, and 16-18 for both boys and girls.

Participants have one minute to shoot from five different "Hot Spots". Scores will be kept and winners will move on in competition.

For more information call or drop by Hodges, 42nd and University, Maxey, 30th and Oxford, or Rodgers, 3000 Amherst.

Sheridan's Ride

by Jack Sheridan

Hail and welcome! That greeting is meant sincerely and directed to the movie complex at 66th and University. For, that which we have been calling Showplace 4 for so long a time is now Showplace SIX! Yes, somewhat unobtrusively during this past week they opened the newly-added two more mini-houses and so there is an even half dozen little theaters under the one roof. With the South Plains Mall Cinemas 1-4 boasting their two new additions, Fox-4 complex out on 19th, and hinted plans for more expansion on the part of Lubbock Theatres, Inc. the town has a most impressive hardtop list. Now, if the product can just keep up with the outlets, everything will be fine.

It was to the South Plains Mall this week that the column journeyed this week to catch the new Woody Allen film, "Interiors."

Now, Woody Allen fans are legion, built up almost cult-like over the passing years. The whole was climaxed by last year's award-winning "Annie Hall," which swept the Oscar lists this spring. Woody Allen, diminutive and witty, putting himself off more than likely, has been starring in his own films (as well as writing and directing). But, for a long time now, Allen has been threatening to make a SERIOUS film and "Interiors" is just that. He has written and directed this personal film with demanding and meticulous care. Just how the public will respond to this "other side of the coin" where Allen is concerned remains to be seen. At the moment, in these first weeks of the film's national release, "Interiors" is doing right well at the box office. It's the word of mouth that is going to be the key factor here.

Woody Allen does not appear in this newest film. He is on the other side of the camera. He has written and directed a sombre and serious film, all right, with direct and unavoidable parallels to the work of that other sombre master, Ingmar Bergman of Sweden. In fact, if one were not aware of the background of this film, the odds are that it would be tabbed a Bergman film. The ocean, grey and angry, is there, the music background is almost non-existent. The mood is almost totally unrelieved as Allen traces the breakup of a middle-aged marriage. The concerns of the mother, the three grown daughters and, latterly, the entrance of the father's new wife. The tragedy that climaxes the film gives the film's beginning as well. People just go on living, accepting.

With absolutely no hint of the brilliance and biting satire that Woody Allen fans have come to expect, "Interiors" will frustrate many who come expecting the "old" Allen touches and bewilder others. Only the true film buffs will make headway with this 93 minute exercise. It is a brilliant, brooding film, no doubt of that. But, it has its Bergman, Eugene O'Neill overtones and that is the problem.

Allen has amassed a heady band of expert players for this one. His longtime cohort, Oscar winner Diane Keaton plays the poet daughter with much concern over creativity. Geraldine Page is the hapless mother, with all her usual electricity. Maureen Stapleton is the second wife, beautifully done. E.G. Marshall, yes he of the CBS Mystery Theatre on radio, is the escaping father. Marbeth Hurt is the daughter who feels and faces realities and she is superb. Kristin Griffith is the third daughter, a briefer role but telling, too. Richard Jordan is extremely good as the separate author cum teacher husband of Renata (Keaton), and Sam Waterston rounds out the cast as Joey's friend, most competently.

So, I say to you, go and see "Interiors." But, go at your own risk. If downbeat, laughless films are your metier then you'll be most exciting about Woody Allen's experiment into meaningful drama. If you're looking for Woody Allen's particular brand of previous zaniness then don't. You won't find it in "Interiors."

Live drama comes flourishly to life this week when the University Theatre at Texas Tech takes the wraps off the ambitious production of Shakespeare's "Romeo and Juliet." This is the play that opened the then-new theater some years ago now and it was then and is now being directed by the master, Ronald Schulz. The play begins at 8:15 p.m. Friday and repeats through Oct. 28, evenings, with matinees set for 2 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 22 and again on Oct. 28.

There is a large cast for this beloved tragedy and we shall be evaluating them in the next week column.

Right along with the speech and drama department's new show will come the Texas Tech Music Theatre-Civic Lubbock, Inc. Civic Centre Theatre offering, Oct. 27-28 when Director John Gillas brings Puccini's beloved "La Boheme" to life. Again the casting will be treated more fully in the next edition. Tickets are available for all these shows but the word is out that one should not delay or dilly-dally around. There's a healthy appetite for live productions in this town and these two offerings will be snapped up quickly.

The Lubbock Community Concerts Association is in the wings, too, waiting to go on. The first concert, at the Civic Center, will be at 8 p.m. Monday, Nov. 6, and stars a "returnee" to Lubbock, the gifted Israeli pianist, David Bar-Illan. Subsequent concerts will bring us over the winter-spring season Jacque Trussel, tenor; "Pirin," the national Bulgarian folk ensemble; and The Four Freshmen. These concerts are by subscription membership only; no tickets are sold for the individual concerts.

A new art exhibition will have its unveiling at a public opening reception from 1-4:30 p.m. Sunday at the Baker Gallery of Fine Arts, 13th and Ave. L. Works featured are those of Walt Gonske, Marion Quimby and old friend Doris Steider. The artists will be present during the afternoon. Drop in and meet them and see their newest work. There is no admission charge.

Closing note. Did you see "The Lion in Winter" this week on Home Box Office? Starring Katharine Hepburn (for her third Oscar) and Peter O'Toole, this story of King Henry's search for an heir among his sons and his hapless Queen must be one of the best, most literate of all films ever made.
