Zoning Case Tabled By Zoning Commission

Residents of the Chipman Hill Neighborhood sent a loud and clear message to the members of the Planning & Zoning Commission that they do not want Zone Case No. 3158 to pass from a "T" to M-1. The more than 35 residents were heard, and zone case was tabled.

The proposed zone case was: Request of Jaines Gorsuch (for South Plains Lamesa Railroad) for zoning changes from T to M-1 on approximately 2 acres of platted and unplatted land including Lot 1 Ash Addition and a portion (east of Avenue A between East 19th and East 23rd Streets).

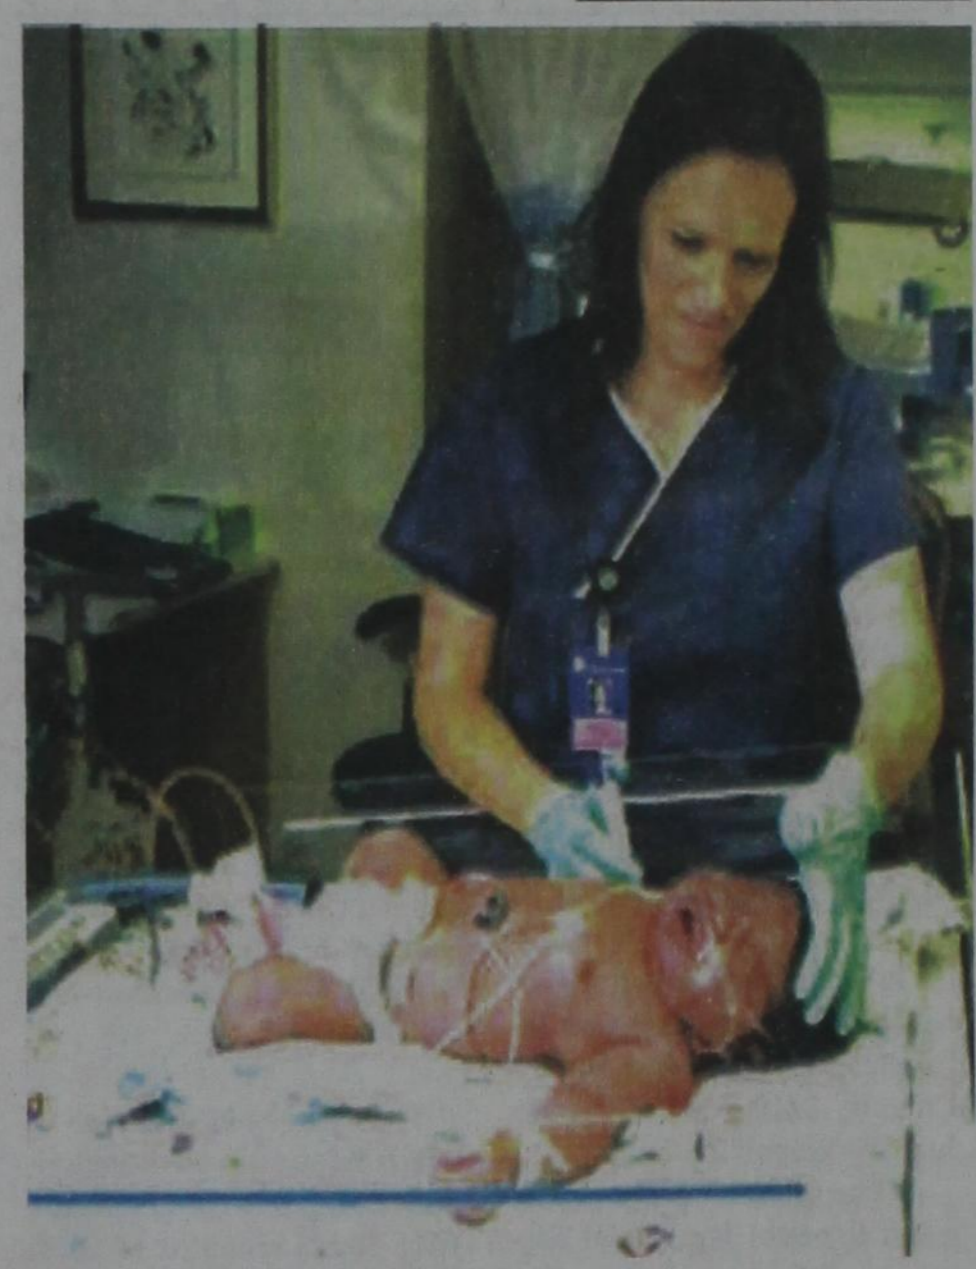

There were more than thirty-five residents of the Chatman Hill Neighborhood present at the meeting at City Hall in the City Council Chambers. Of that number, five addressed their concerns to the commission.

Those from the neighborhood speaking were Rev. Edward Canady, pastor of the St. Matthew Baptist Church, Ms. Vernita Holmes, District 2 LISD Board of Trustee, Carey Don Childers, and Ms. Shelia Harris.

"No, we don't want this zoning change on these properties as it would damage our neighborhood," said Rev. Canady.

The neighborhood residents are to meet with the proponents of this proposal and try to overcome the problems with this proposed proposition.

Members of the Chatman Hill Neighborhood Association are asked to meet in a special called meeting to discuss further plans concerning this proposed effort. This meeting will be held Friday evening, July 22, 2011, at the St. Matthew Baptist Church, 2020 East 14th Street, beginning at 7:00 p. m., according to Ms. Diana Thomas, president of the association. For more information, call 744-1486.

Nurse Monica Carter cares for JaMichael Brown at Good Shepherd Medical Center in Longview on Friday. The baby was placed in the neonatal intensive care unit so his blood sugar can be monitored. His mother had gestational diabetes.

16-pound newborn hits it big with birth record

He's the largest baby born at Longview hospital, and may be the biggest ever born in Texas.

LONGVIEW — The latest addition to Michael Brown and Janet Johnson's family is too big for his britches — literally.

When the Longview woman went into Good Shepherd Medical Center for a scheduled C-section on Friday morning, she knew she was going to give birth to a big baby. She just had no idea how big.

When her son, JaMichael Brown, was born at 9:05 a.m., he weighed 16 pounds, 1 ounce — about 4 pounds more than doctors predicted.

The baby is the largest born at Good Shepherd Medical Center. Hospital officials believe he may be the largest baby ever born in Texas, but it will take several days of combing state records to make that announcement official.

"We're just amazed," Johnson said. "I can't believe he's that big. A lot of the baby clothes we bought for him will have to be returned. They're already too small for him to wear."

The baby also emerged with a full head of hair, and the newborn nursery didn't have diapers big enough to fit him, she said.

JaMichael's father said the nurses told him the baby is a size most infants don't attain until they are between 3 and 6 months old.

JaMichael is Johnson's fourth child. He joins older sisters who are 18, 16 and 10.

Johnson had gestational diabetes during her pregnancy, and JaMichael is spending his first few days of life in the neonatal intensive care unit in order to regulate his blood sugar. The baby otherwise seems to be basically healthy, she said.

Deb Miller, a registered nurse working in the maternal care unit, said JaMichael is by far the biggest baby she's seen in her seven years at Good Shepherd Medical Center.

"I'm happy," Johnson said. "We'll be here for a few more days, and then I'm looking forward to bringing JaMichael home and just loving on him."

Church News

From the Desk of Parson D.A. Smith
"A Colored People In The Woodpile"
 (This is a Re-Run)

Walter Williams, a professor of economics at George Mason University and whose writing is distributed by Creators Syndicate and who is one who sees modern blacks through the eyes of white people and in my reading of his many writing is what many blacks call a WFN.

Williams' column was in the Other Views of the AJ this past week. The title of his story was "Silence about black racism betrays civil rights efforts."

It's hard to digest the writing of Williams for he has constantly portrayed himself as an "Uncle Tom" who not only could, but would eat ten miles of Mr. Charlie's digested racist rubbish while drinking from his discriminatory fountain of injustice for poor ignorant white people and blacks who were only trying to achieve and retain a piece of the American pie.

Williams' wrote that things have changed from when he was a boy and evil upon white people today are mostly committed by black people rather than the other way around. It takes some large "soup coolers" to say some "you know what kind of stuff" like that in his column.

Williams said: "Today ...most racist assaults are committed by blacks. What's worse is there are blacks, still alive, who lived through the times of lynching, Jim Crow laws and open racism who remain silent in the face of it. (That a lie!)"

Williams goes on to say that last year, four black Skidmore College students yelled racial slurs while they beat up a white man because he was dining with a black man. Skidmore College's first response was to offer counseling to one of the black students charged with the crime.

According to interviews and court records obtained and reported by Denver ABC affiliate (Dec. 4, 2009), black gangs roamed downtown Denver verbally venting their hatred for white victims before assaulting and robbing them during a four-month crime wave. (He forgot to mention how white racist Republicans and Tea Partiers treated President Barack Obama in Colorado).

This "Tom" like actor goes on to say that earlier this year, two black girls beat a white girl at a McDonald's, and the victim suffered a seizure. And he noted that Chicago Mayor Rahm Emanuel ordered an emergency shutdown of the beaches in Chicago because mobs of blacks were terrorizing families. (However he failed to mention the white Chicago mobster who was living very well in California who had killed a great number of people and had something near a half of a million dollars in cash when arrested by the FBI a few days ago.)

Williams also noted that racist attacks by blacks on other races were not just limited to whites. He noted that in San Francisco, five blacks beat an 83-year-old Chinese man to death. They threw a 57-year-old woman off a train platform.

Williams goes on and on pointing out how black teens beat other races. Then he points the blame finger by saying: "These racist attacks can, at least in part be attributed to the black elite, who have a vested interest in racial paranoia." If this was not insulting enough to the black community, this piece of barnyard ground cover goes on to say that the elite includes "a president" who has spent years aligned with people who have promoted racial grievance and polarization and appointed an attorney general who's accused us (who in the hello is the US) of being "a nation of cowards" on matters of race and has refused to prosecute black thugs who gathered at a Philadelphia voting site in blatant violation of federal voter intimidation laws.

One might ask: "Who appointed this COON like Black actor by giving him some money to be the Uncle Tom critic of Black America? He definitely appears to be the (???) well colored boy in the woodpile."

We Thank God for Jesus
"Peace Of Mind In This Troubled America"

Written by Evangelist Billy "B.J." Morrison, III - Your brother in Christ. Jesus always.

Jeremiah 6:13-14 -- The Lord said, for the least of them unto the greatest of them, every one is given to covetousness, and from the prophet even unto the priest every one deals falsely. They have healed also the hurt of the daughter of my people slightly, saying: "Peace. Peace Peace" when there is no peace.

America is like a ship tossing and turning as in a troubled sea. It's going crazy, because they can't find happiness, and no Peace!!!

Ezekiel 13:10 -- The Lord said, because they have seduced my people, saying: Peace, and there is no peace, and one built up a wall, and, lo other doubted it with unhampered (useless) moral.

America walked away from GOD, and wanted everyone to do their own thing. Now look at her and her People. This land is full of SHAME, SHAME, SHAME!!!

Isaiah 1:5-6 -- The Lord said, why should you be stricken anymore? Will you revolt more and more. The whole head is sick, and the whole heart faint. From the sole of the fool even unto the head there is no soundness in it, but wounds, bruises ises, and purifying sores. They have not been closed, neither bound up, neither modified with ointment.

The stockmarket has fallen, like humpty dumpty who fell off the wall. The people are AFRAID everywhere. You can hear them SQUALL AND BALL!!

Luke 4:18-19 -- Jesus said, the spirit of the Lord is upon me, because he has anointed me to preach the Gospel to the poor. He has sent me to heal the brokenhearted, to preach the acceptable year of the Lord.

There are no signs of time. The Lord is soon to come, when He's now at the door. The signals are all around you; tomorrow may be anymore!!

Matthew 24:8-12 -- Jesus said, all these are the beginning of sorrows. And because of iniquity shall abound, the love of many shall wax cold.

Some people believe Mr. Obama will fix America's mess. But this thing is bigger than my President. AND IT IS NOT GOD'S WILL!!

II Chronicles 2:14 -- The Lord said, If my people, which are called by my name, shall humble themselves, and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways; then will I hear from heaven, and will forgive their sins, and will heal their land (GOD'S WILL!!!).

So America is living in her SINS, and she don't WANT THE LORD! She thinks mankind can fix this thing, without the help of GOD!!!

John 14:6 -- Jesus said, I'm the way, the truth, and the life. No man come unto the father but by me.

 WILL YOU TURN TO GOD NOW??? *****

Many people don't think Mr. Obama will pull them out of this. But they're just dreaming: ONLY GOD CAN GET US OUT OF THIS MESS!!!

Jeremiah 9:23-24 -- The Lord said, let not the wise man glory in his wisdom, neither let the mighty man glory in his might. Let not the rich man in his riches, but let that glory in this. That he understands and knows me that I am the Lord which exercise loving kindness, judgment, and for in these things I delight.

I, Billy "B. J.", was at one time living and believing in the world of SIN. There was no joy Continue on Page 7

Outreach Prayer Breakfast

The Outreach Prayer Breakfast want to share this scripture with you. "Are Confronting Crises Without Fear? These scriptures are: Psalm 23:27, II Timothy 1:7, John 4:17-18 and Revelation 2:10.

David said in the 23rd Psalm: Even when walking through the dark valley of death, I will not be afraid." II Timothy 1:7.

For God hath not given us the spirit of fear, but of power, and of love, and of a sound mind. I John 4:17-18 -- There is no fear in love, but perfect love, caseth out fear, because fear hath torment, he that feareth is not made perfect in love. Revelation 2:10 -- Fear none of these things which thou shalt suffer; behold the devil shall cast some of you into prison son, that ye may be tried; and ye shall have tribulations. Remain faithful even when facing death and I will give you the crown of life and ending glorious future.

"If you talk about the worldwide Crisis, you will find that Paul said count it all joy when you fall into divers temptations. Christians have become paralyzed by fear. Christ did not give us the spirit of fear. Who did?"

Read these scriptures: Lord, draw us closer. We are faced with problems that grow bigger day by day, and as we seek to solve them in our own self suffering way, we keep drifting into chaos. In our self-centered greed, blinds us to the answer that would help us in our need. Oh, God, He knew our spirit and made us more aware that our future is dependable on sacrifice and prayer; forgive us for our transgressions and revive our faith anew, so we may all draw closer to each other and to You! For when a nation is too proud to daily knell and pray. It will crumble into chaos and descend end into decay. So stir us with compassion and raise our standards higher, and take away our lust for power, and make our one desire, to be a shining symbol of all that's great and good. As you lead us in our struggle toward new found "Brotherhood."

Thought For the Week:
"What's happening in the high officials. No official has control whatsoever. It's the fulfillment of the scriptures. It's the Mighty Hand of God in control."
 Think about it!!

We're looking forward seeing you in the near.

The Outreach Prayer Breakfast will be meeting on the first Saturday in August.

 Let us not forget those in the community who are sick and shut-in. Remind them that God is able, and that He is always with us. Just let God know he is our own.

 Sister Dorothy Hood, president; Sister Christene Burleson, vice president, and Sister Elnora Jones, teacher.

Rev. F.C. Barnes Passes On

Bishop F. C. Barnes

The Malaco Music Group regrets to inform you that Gospel Icon, Bishop F.C. Barnes passed away early Monday morning, July 11, 2011. He was 82.

Bishop Barnes began singing in quartets when he was 14 years old. He would later record eight albums with Rev. Janice Brown and "Rough Side of the Mountain" became the most popular album remaining #1 on the gospel charts for more than a year, selling over 500,000 copies. Bishop Barnes spent his entire recording career on Atlanta International Records, (Air Gospel) a subsidiary of The Malaco Music Group. He recorded 15 albums, not including appearances on several LP's with his son, Gospel Legend Luther Barnes and the widely successful direct marketing campaign infomercial entitled, Gospel Legends.

Bishop Barnes has received numerous Stellar Award nominations as well as a Dove Award nomination. In 2010, Bishop Barnes & Company received a Stellar Award nomination for their latest CD "The Old Time Way." On this CD, herecorded his first collaboration since Rev. Janice Brown with Darrell Luster on the single, "God Is God" (He Won't Change) which received considerable airplay and garnered an appearance on BET's Bobby Jones Gospel.

According to Malaco's Executive Director - Gospel Division, D.A. Johnson... "I was saddened when I received the news of the passing of Bishop F. C. Barnes. Bishop Barnes was the true patriarch of his family, consummate leader to his church ministry, highly dedicated professional in his dealings with his music ministry and always a gentleman. He wrote one of the greatest songs of all time so I affectionately referred to him as, "Mr. Rough Side Of The Mountain" I'm honored to have had the opportunity to serve in his music legacy. Bishop F. C. Barnes will be greatly missed."

Please pray for the entire Barnes Family.

"I was stunned when I heard the news of Rev. F.C. Barnes passing. My former boss was his niece, so I knew personally how close the family was. There were 11 brothers and sisters and he is only the 2nd sibling to pass away, so the family is very saddened. For there to be so many brothers and sisters, hundreds of nieces, nephews and cousins, the family was extremely close", said Hasan James, Root Magazine's Editor In Chief.

Funeral services were held Saturday, July 16, 2011 at the Red Budd Holy Church in Rocky Mount, N. C.

President Obama Raises More Than $86 Million For Re-Election Campaign

WASHINGTON -- President Barack Obama collected $86 million combined for his re-election campaign and the Democratic party during the past three months, giving him a large fundraising advantage over the Republican field seeking to challenge him in 2012.

Obama campaign manager Jim Messina said in a video posted early Wednesday that it raised more than $47 million and the Democratic National Committee brought in more than $38 million through the end of June, building a foundation for advertising and get-out-the-vote efforts in next year's election. Obama's team had set a public goal of $60 million combined.

As expected, the fundraising totals outpace Republicans, who have collectively raised about $35 million so far, although some candidates have yet to release their results. At the same time in 2007, 10 GOP presidential hopefuls had raised more than $118 million, according to the Center for Responsive Politics.

Former Massachusetts Gov. Mitt Romney leads the GOP field in fundraising, pulling in more than $18 million during the past three months. An independent fundraising group supporting Romney's presidential bid has raised $12 million this year.

Following Romney, former Minnesota Gov. Tim Pawlenty collected $4.2 million and former Utah Gov. Jon Huntsman brought in $4.1 million, with about half coming from his personal wealth. Minnesota Rep. Michele Bachmann, a tea party favorite, has not yet released her fundraising totals.

Obama's advisers have told donors privately they hope to match or exceed the $750 million they raised in 2008, anticipating a stiff challenge from Republicans amid rocky economic conditions. Obama has acknowledged he will need to re-energize supporters who were inspired by his message of hope and change three years ago but may be discouraged by the economy and the pace of change.

"We have reason to be proud of what we've built so far but it's going to get tougher from here," Messina said in the video, estimating outside spending by GOP groups could exceed $500 million.

Messina said more than 550,000 people donated money to the campaign during the first three months, a large increase from about 180,000 donors to Obama during the first half of 2007. The campaign has actively courted small donors, hoping to show that the president is in a good position for the 2012 campaign and capable of generating broad financial support.

About 98 percent of the donors gave $250 or less. Messina said the average donation was about $69.

Obama broke his previous fundraising record of $33.1 million during the same quarter in 2007 and surpassed finance efforts by his predecessors. President George W. Bush launched his re-election bid in mid-May 2003 and raised $34.4 million through June 2003. In his first complete fundraising quarter, Bush raised another $50 million, bringing his total to nearly $85 million by the end of September 2003.

Obama's team had said it hoped to collect a combined $60 million for the campaign and the DNC for the three-month fundraising period that ended June 30. Obama opened his re-election campaign in early April and his advisers said the initial fundraising efforts were crucial to building a strong campaign.

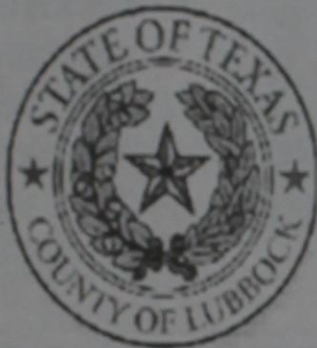

Messina said the money is building the campaign's ground game more than a year before Election Day, saying the campaign has "more grassroots support at this point in the process than any campaign in political history." Obama's team has opened 60 field offices across the nation and held more than 31,000 face-to-face meetings with volunteers.

Campaign finance reports are due Friday, and Messina estimated the Obama campaign's report would exceed 15,000 pages.

Obama has held dozens of fundraisers for his campaign and the Obama Victory Fund, a joint fundraising account set up by the DNC and Obama's campaign. At Victory Fund events, the first $5,000 of a donor's contribution goes to the presidential campaign and the remainder goes to the DNC, up to a maximum of $30,800 a year.

anything can tell you that cut the Medicare cost

It is that time again, the time for family reunions. It is so odd, that as hard as we try, we always leave not knowing some of our relatives. As quiet as it is kept, we still tend to be tribal or branch oriented. We will laugh and talk with our contemporaries and family members of the same branch, but have difficulty really mingling with the older or younger members of our families.

For many of us, a family reunion is a vacation time activity. For some of us it is a worthwhile financial endeavor because with the price of gasoline for automobiles, airplane, bus and train fare plus hotel and/or motel accommodations, the cost is steep. Therefore, it should be a rewarding experience.

It is marvelous, however, when we can get together and exchange friendly bits about ourselves, who we are, where we have been and where we plan to go. We celebrate new births, progress in business and education and society in general. This is all good.

It is great as well, when we decide to have informative material for our families to peruse and mull over at a gathering, rather than just talk, eat, drink, be entertained and dance the time away. It is so vital in this day and age when families can have vital information about health and health care, especially when our families are getting older and in the clutches of need for such information.

Meetings of families which are purpose-driven are definitely the route which needs to be taken. Socializing can be great fun, but that is something that we can do all the year with our friends and families. A family directory is one great way if keeping in touch with family members. It used to be just phone numbers and addresses, but in this day of technology, we need that e-mail address most importantly, especially for our younger family members as they are completely lost without their Blackberries and i-Phones or miniature computers. If they cannot text or talk, communication is null and void. That brings to light another area in which a family meeting can be fruitful, our young people.

Family meetings need activities in which the young and old can have some type of bonding experience. It may be the first step in the right direction to getting us closer together as caring family members where we really help each other, rather than just talk about it. History is not the only thing which makes a family. We need to get 'in cinque' and realize that families have a purpose. When we forget the purpose, we are just another individual with a common history with some other people, many whom we do not or care to know.

Ex-Detroit Mayor Kwame Kilpatrick's New Book Covers Affair, Legal Saga

Detroit, MI -- Disgraced former mayor Kwame Kilpatrick claims in an upcoming book that an unspoken alliance of political adversaries, Detroit business leaders and an aggressive media capitalized on a sex and perjury scandal to send him from leading one of America's largest cities to a prison cell.

The former politician bills Surrendered! The Rise, Fall and Revelation of Kwame Kilpatrick as the true tale of his saga. While he takes responsibility for an affair with an aide and lies told during a civil trial, he also blames plenty of others for his downfall.

"When I perjured myself, I gave my enemies a lane. And they turned that lane into a highway," Kilpatrick writes, according to an advance copy obtained by The Associated Press. "My intent entering office was to empower Detroiters, and my actions heading into my second term suggested that we had the ability to do it. And that threatened too many people's bottom line. Their bottom lines for me, then, became simple. Get rid of me. And they're not finished." Kilpatrick, dubbed the "Hip-

Kwame Kilpatrick

Hop Mayor" when he was elected at age 31, was charged with perjury after text messages on city-issued pagers contradicted testimony he gave during a 2007 police whistle-blowers' trial. The sexually explicit text messages showed he lied when he denied under oath that he had a romantic relationship with the aide.

Throughout the book, he levels criticism at the aggressive Wayne County prosecutor, Kym Worthy, who charged him as well as two judges who heard the case as it went through the court system.

Kilpatrick is open, however, about the affair with one-time chief of staff Christine Beatty and falsehoods he told, even in front of the Wayne County Circuit Court judge who would decide his future and his freedom.

"I stood before Judge David Groner, who requested my plea. 'I lied under oath,' I said, 'with the intent to mislead the court and jury and to impede and obstruct the fair administration of justice,'" Kilpatrick writes. "For the record, I lied when I made that statement. The real reason I lied under oath was because I didn't want my wife to know I cheated. But be clear. There was absolutely no justice to obstruct in the whistle-blowers' suit. The case was manufactured. I was just cornered."

Kilpatrick, 41, eventually pleaded guilty to obstruction of justice and no contest to assault and served time in the county jail. Groner sent him to state prison last year for not adhering to the terms of his probation, which called for the truthful disclosure of his finances. The former mayor is set to be paroled within weeks from state prison for violating probation in the 2008 criminal case.

The book, co-written by Khary Turner, is set to be released Aug. 1. Groner has ruled that any book profits intended for Kilpatrick, his relatives or other agents must first be applied toward $860,000 in unpaid restitution to the city.

At their meeting on Wednesday morning, July 13, 2011, the Lubbock ISD Board of Trustees took action on several personnel positions, gave the district administration authorization to contract for the demolition of two buildings and approved the use of grant funds for several academic enhancement tools.

Berta Fogerson, currently the assistant superintendent in Lubbock Cooper ISD, was named the principal of the Margaret Talkington School for Young Women Leaders. She has previously served as the junior high principal and the high school principal in Lubbock Cooper. Fogerson has received several awards and honors in her career, including being named the Hispanic Association of Women Educator of the Year in 2001 and a state finalist in 2004 for the Texas Association of Secondary School Principals (TASSP) Principal of the Year. "Ms. Fogerson will be a tremendous asset to Lubbock ISD and the Talkington School for Young Women Leaders. She has extensive school leadership experiences as well as the vision to lead this wonderful school forward," said Superintendent Karen Garza, Ph.D.

The board ratified the administration's selection of two current employees as new principals to fill vacancies created by the retirement of the current principals. Lori Andrus, now an assistant principal at Estacado High School, will be the new principal at Parkway Elementary. Ruby Jackson will be the principal at Hodges Elementary where she currently serves as the assistant principal.

Amador Vasquez was introduced as the new mathematics coordinator, replacing Pam Summers who also retired at the end of the school year. Vasquez is currently a math education specialist at Region 1 Education Service Center in Edinburg and previously served as secondary math coordinator for La Feria Independent School District. He has taught all high school math courses and has extensive experience with curriculum development, grant writing, data analysis, and integration of instructional technology in the mathematics classroom. A West Texas native, Vasquez grew up in Southland and earned a degree in mathematics from Texas Tech University.

Utilizing grant funds set aside for that purpose, trustees approved the purchase of program-specific computer hardware and software items and curriculum materials. Also approved was the purchase of four portable buildings, each containing two classrooms, to expand classroom space and fulfill the district's long-range plan of phasing out some of the very old and less efficient portable buildings.

Also approved were the demolition of the former Stubbs Early Childhood Center, which was closed last year, and the building east of Lubbock High School which was once Calvary Baptist Church. A plumbing company has occupied the church building for many years and it had fallen into extreme disrepair. There is no specific timeline for demolition. That will be determined once the contractor is selected. Superintendent Karen Garza, Ph.D. said, "This really is a safety issue for our students. By removing the dilapidated building and expanding the Lubbock High cafeteria to the east, we will be able to accommodate a closed campus at

RUMOR: Beyonce Angry Over Father's New Baby

We all know how much Beyonce loves her father, so you know she must be hurting after finding out her dad got another woman pregnant, and may even be considering dropping him as her manager.

According to egyptsaidso.com, Beyonce said: "I am 28 and about to have a new baby brother or sister"... WOW ... Here's what they found out:

Beyonce is said to be "very upset" over the paternity suit filed against her father, Mathew Knowles, so much so that she's considering letting him go as her manager. A source says that while Mathew and wife Tina have gone through rough patches in the past, Beyonce is "angry that her father didn't have enough sense to protect himself" in this situation. The source adds, "Beyonce says a big part of being successful and happy is being focused, and she can't do that when she has to deal with her father's antics." Now you have to consider the source.....It's the Enquirer. But they have been right about quite a few things in the past.

There's been talk that Beyonce and her father just started working on a film based on his life. This whole ordeal (true or not) will make his movie even juicier to watch!!
