

Your Challenge, Big Spring! What Other Texans Are Doing

By The Associated Press

The first-grader who brought in 830 pounds of scrap metal yesterday and figured he'd collect 1,000 pounds of discarded rubber today, the city that planned to take up its street car rails and turn them in, the woman who hired workmen to dig 5,300 pounds of iron out of the terraces on her lawn—these and many thousands of other contributors swelled the mighty Texas scrap collection today.

at the Kostoryz school near Corpus Christi, was the youngster who brought in 830 pounds of metal in a single day and promised 1,000 pounds of rubber the next.

A full day's school holiday at Killeen resulted in the biggest pile of scrap that has been gathered in Bell county since the war began. It included automobiles, stoves, a reaper, a binder, a thrasher and a gin, which was given by Ed Saegert.

in 231 cut keys. J. E. Vaughn added a rifle shell which he fired in a World War I training camp to 50 keys he brought in. The Temple city commission planned to take up the city's street car rails.

Trucks from the Army Air Force Bombardier school were on duty at Midland. Arrangements were made by the city to donate an obsolete rock crusher which was at a gravel pit east of Midland.

donned overalls and went to work. One high school student at Wichita Falls donated his childhood playhouse, an old streetcar containing 6,000 pounds of scrap.

Citizens Unite To Collect All Scrap Monday

Nothing ever happened like it in Big Spring. For three hours Monday afternoon, from 1 to 4 o'clock, every able-bodied citizen, young and old, is going to forget everything except helping win the war by getting in scrap metal.

That was the word that came Friday from Salvage Chairman E. J. McDaniel and his assistants on the special drive—R. R. McEwen, Cliff Wiley and Lawrence Robinson—as they contacted business establishments and truck operators to set in motion machinery for an all-out campaign to pick this community completely clean of every ounce of metal that can help make munitions for American fighting men.

The Wiley-McEwen committee canvassed the town Friday morning, distributing posters for business places to display, announcing that "We're out after scrap Monday, and will be closed from 1 to 4 p. m." On the closing issue, they weren't taking no for an answer. It was unthinkable that any save the most essential services would not be discontinued for three hours.

And these workers were telling everybody to "go home and send your employees home to get out the scrap. This is no holiday. This is war."

Schools will close for the afternoon, too, and the youngsters will be laboring to build up the scrap piles already growing on the school grounds.

Scrap accumulated at all business houses and residences will be picked up by a fleet of volunteer trucks, starting out within an hour after the fire siren blows at 1 p. m. Monday. Every citizen is expected to work ahead of these pickup men, have that needed metal at the front of the place.

- ### BEHIND THE GUN
- Points to remember in Monday's scrap blitzkrieg:
- If you have any kind of truck, trailer or pickup that can be used, notify Lawrence Robinson, No. 236, or the chamber of commerce, No. 4.
 - When the fire siren blows at 1 p. m. Monday, close your place of business.
 - Have that place completely raked for every available piece of scrap.
 - Then GO HOME and SEND YOUR EMPLOYEES HOME to search their residential places. A business blackout nets nothing if the time is not put in digging up scrap.
 - Scrap all your scrap at the FRONT of the house, at the curb.
 - Scout your alleys, the adjacent vacant lots; look everywhere for the scrap. Three hours in hunting it is not too much to ask for the war effort.
 - If your neighbor has some scrap he hasn't moved, suggest that he get it out, and offer to help him. This is war.
 - Don't worry about the school children. They're getting off from classes Monday afternoon, too—and they'll be out scouting for scrap. They're already doing it.
 - Trucks—scores of them—are going to tour the entire town, beginning at 1 o'clock. Have your scrap out, and they'll get it. If you're missed, call No. 4. Or if you have too much to be handled in a load, call the same number. Special attention will be given to your problem.
 - The money from this scrap pick up goes to local war agencies. But if you want to sell your scrap to a junk dealer, go to it. The object is to GET THE SCRAP IN, HEADED FOR THE STEEL MILLS.
 - Trucks will gather at 1 p. m. Monday at the city hall. They will be given territory designations there. If you are a POSITIVE ALL SCRAP has been gotten from your place, you might be on hand to help man a truck.
 - If you find some business place that is loath to close shop for this emergency, you might remind the operator that this is HIS WAR TOO.

Nazis Launch Flanking Move To The South

Complete Victory Still Denied Them At Stalingrad

MOSCOW, Oct. 9 (AP)—The Germans, grinding slowly forward in an industrial district of Stalingrad but with victory still denied them there, were reported today to have started anew on a wide flanking invasion further south, obviously calculated to cut through the Kalmyk territory to the Volga delta on the Caspian sea.

A dispatch to the government newspaper Ivestia from Astrakhan, at the mouth of the Volga, contained the first Russian admission that the Germans had entered the Kalmyk area which lies west of the lower Volga and south of Stalingrad.

This indicated a developing activity on the German right flank across the steppes between the Don and the lower Volga concurrent with the desperate see-saw struggle for Stalingrad.

Ivestia's dispatch said representatives of the Kalmyk people, Asiatic descendants of Mongolian nomads who long ago settled in southern Russia, had held a council of war at the village of Kanukovo, heard reports that the Germans were burning and killing in their territory, and vowed resistance.

A speaker at the meeting said the Kalmyks would spare nothing in the defense of their land, the dispatch said, and the representatives adopted an appeal that all Kalmyks mobilize for resistance.

They sent a message of allegiance to Premier Joseph Stalin.

(Actually, according to German claims, the enemy entered the Kalmyk territory several weeks ago when Eliasta, the capital, 180 miles west of Astrakhan, was reported captured. The Ivestia dispatch suggested that this penetration now was being extended.

The route from Eliasta to Astrakhan traverses some of Russia's worst terrain for the support of an invading army. The region is arid, the great plains rumped with sand dunes and overgrown with scrub vegetation. The pastoral nomads who inhabit it are almost constantly on the move in search of water and vegetation for their flocks.)

Willkie Doing OK, Says FD

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9 (AP)—President Roosevelt told reporters today that he assumed Wendell L. Willkie was carrying out extremely well just the things he had asked him to do before Willkie left on his tour of the Middle East, Russia and China.

Asked at a press conference whether he could say to what extent Willkie was representing him personally, the president said he could not because that would be merely political.

He went on to say that everything was all right on the Willkie trip as far as he, the president, was concerned. But he added that the trip had been used politically and asked why that should be made the preponderant angle in writing about the trip.

When a reporter requested that he elucidate on that point, the president said the country was not interested in dealing with speculations on things not absolutely true.

Extra 5 Percent 'Victory Tax' Is Voted By Senate

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9 (AP)—The senate voted today to place on top of the regular income tax a 5 per cent "Victory" levy against all earnings of individuals in excess of $24 yearly.

Adoption of the new wartime tax came on a voice vote after the senate had rejected a proposal by Senator Downey (D-Calif.) to enlarge the basic exemption to $1,200 yearly and boost the levy to 10 per cent on earnings above $2,400.

Also today, President Roosevelt notified congress that the doubling of social security taxes next January 1 would be "not only in accord with the necessities of the social security system itself, but at the same time would contribute to the non-inflationary financing of rapidly mounting war expenditures."

In a letter to Chairman George (D-Ga.) of the senate finance committee, the president expressed opposition to a committee-approved amendment to the new revenue bill which would freeze payroll taxes at their present levels of 1 per cent on employers and a like amount on employees for 1943.

This amendment, not yet voted upon by the senate, would stay an otherwise automatic increase of the tax on Jan. 1 to 2 per cent each on employers and employees.

Formal addition of the victory levy to the new revenue bill boosted the potential yield of that measure by a disputed amount ranging from a $3,107,000,000 gross total estimated by the treasury and the $3,600,000,000 set by the finance committee.

The president said that as soon as congress had disposed of the pending tax bill, he was planning to submit a comprehensive program for expanding and extending the whole social security system along the lines he had suggested in his budget message last January.

At that time the president proposed to enlarge the system to take in many workers not now covered, such as farm laborers and domestics.

One Rehabilitation Agency Advocated

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9 (AP)—President Roosevelt recommended to congress today that legislation be enacted creating under the Federal Security Administration a single rehabilitation service for both war veterans and civilians.

"We are going to win this war," he said in a special message read in the senate, "but the winning will require the best efforts of every individual."

He added that among those already making full contribution in the war effort were physically handicapped people who had been rehabilitated, and that upwards of a million persons were now "waiting for services of the type that only a fully developed rehabilitation program can give them."

Prisoner Treatment Issue Is Threatening Rules Of Warfare

LONDON, Oct. 9 (AP)—The Germans, announcing that they already had shackled 1,376 British war prisoners in their hands, threatened today to manacle three times that number at noon tomorrow if the British carry out their announced determination against German prisoners in Britain.

The new threat from Germany, and another by Italy, aggravated an already bitter wrangle over the treatment of captives and threatened to undermine all restraints against inhumane handling of war prisoners.

Jap Base At Kiska Again Is Hit Hard

15 Tons Of Bombs Damage A Ship And Set Off Fires

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9 (AP)—The navy announced today that army bombers, continuing their steady pounding of Japanese in the Aleutian Islands, had dropped 15 tons of bombs on the enemy base at Kiska last Tuesday, starting fires in the camp area, damaging a cargo ship in harbor and strafing the radio station.

This information was given in navy communique No. 145, which also disclosed the loss, in the Atlantic, of the U. S. coast guard cutter Muskeget, the former U. S. Cornish, of the Eastern Steamship Lines.

The 1,257-ton steam vessel had been overdue "for some time and must be presumed to be lost," the navy said. Loss of the entire personnel—the Muskeget had a complement of about 100 officers and men—also was presumed.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9 (AP)—Persistently hitting Japanese invaders throughout the vast Pacific war zone, the Allied offensive left surprised enemy forces in the Solomon Islands today with eight less aircraft and five damaged ships including a heavy cruiser.

The latest of the recently initiated attacks which already have forced the Japanese back virtually to their starting point in New Guinea and apparently driven them out of two of the three western Aleutian islands they once occupied, struck at the heart of the Japanese invasion base in the North Solomons.

Catching the Japanese unawares in bad weather, an American aircraft carrier force shattered the enemy's ships and planes in the Shortland Island area, on Monday, the navy disclosed last night.

Simultaneously, long range bombers under General Douglas MacArthur's Australian command forestalled a serial counter-attack by splashing the enemy's airbase in nearby islands with bombs.

Three Dead, Five Hurt In Air Crash

RAPID CITY, S. D., Oct. 9 (AP)—Three men were killed and five suffered minor injuries early today in the crash of a flying fortress, four motored bomber, near the Rapid City army air base.

Col. Charles B. Oldfield, base commander, said a board of qualified air force officers had been appointed to determine the exact cause of the crash.

The plane burst into flames after striking a hill about three miles north of the base while coming in for a landing shortly after midnight. The huge ship was demolished and parts scattered over the hillsides. The crew was returning from a routine night training flight. It was the first plane accident at the base.

Over 100 Bombers Joined By Heavy Fighter Squadron

LONDON, Oct. 9 (AP)—More than 100 United States bombers attacked the industrial Lille region of northern France today in the biggest American bomber and fighter force ever to take the air in the European war theater.

United States army air forces headquarters, promising a more detailed announcement later, issued this terse communique:

"More than 100 U.S.A.A.F. bombers attacked targets in the Lille area this morning. Many squadrons of fighters took part in this operation. A big part of the bombing force, an extraordinary number for a daylight raid, was made up of great, four-motored flying fortresses, and the Americans were joined in the assault by the RAF and many squadrons of allied fighters.

United States fliers in American fighter planes participated in the raid.

(Until now, the only fighter plane the Americans had been mentioned officially as using in Britain was the British-made Spitfire.)

The fortress bombers and escorting fighters—many of which were Spitfires and Hurricanes flown by United States pilots—roared out to what was believed to have been the largest daylight operation of its kind in the war.

The exact objectives were not disclosed immediately but the raid apparently was aimed primarily at the Lille region, the big industrial area of northern France.

This blow came only 48 hours after the United States army command had warned French workers through a BBC broadcast to move away from the vicinity of French war factories which were helping the Germans.

Observers on the coast—who saw sky-filling squadrons over a wide area—reported that one bomber force alone numbered more than 100 planes.

A bright sun shone and visibility was excellent over the Dover Straits as the United Nations planes shuttled to and fro throughout the morning.

The operation was first observed early when squadrons of Spitfires returned from the direction of Calais and Cape Gris Nez on the French side. Larger formations of fighters soon were fanning out toward the French and Belgian coasts.

Then the largest formation of United States bombers yet seen in Britain, with a big escort of Spitfires and Hurricanes, droned over the channel past Ramsgate. Still later, glistening United States fighters, bound back from the direction of Dieppe, dived out of the sun toward Folkestone.

Canadian fighter squadrons were understood to have formed part of the fortress' convoy.

State Construction At An All-Time High

AUSTIN, Oct. 9 (AP)—Spurred by war demands, Texas construction boomed to an all-time high of $708,613,942 in the first nine months of the year.

New Control Of Manpower Is Proposed

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9 (AP)—Describing the manpower problem as the most serious question confronting the nation, Senator Taft (R-Ohio) today introduced a bill to create a new office of manpower director, with overall authority over recruiting personnel for the armed forces, agriculture, industry and essential civilian occupations.

"It is based on the idea of voluntary recruiting," Taft explained in a statement accompanying his bill. "I do not believe that the time has yet come when we can adopt a system of forced labor in the factories and on the farms."

His proposed abolition of the present war manpower commission, and transfer of the whole selective service system and the United States employment service to the new agency.

Earlier 15 far state senators petitioned selective service Director Lewis B. Hershey to freeze dairy and livestock workers on the farms for the next three months to prevent "irreparable injury" to food production while a general manpower control program is worked out.

"We are convinced that specific action to halt the continuing drain of manpower from our livestock and dairy farms cannot be delayed longer without seriously impairing the whole war effort," they declared in a letter circulated by Senators Ball (R-Minn.) and Brown (D-Mich.)

The census bureau reported last night that agricultural employment had declined to 10,500,000 persons, a drop of 1,000,000 between August and September, and Eisenhower, Donald M. Nelson of the War Production Board declared the time was rapidly approaching when the government must decide at what point the limit will be reached in building up the armed forces.

President To Talk Monday Evening

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9 (AP)—President Roosevelt said today he previously announced radio speech would be made next Monday at 10 p. m. Eastern War Time, and would last about half an hour.

He reiterated at a press conference that he had not decided what subjects he would talk about. On Tuesday he said he probably would cover many subjects, which he had been thinking about himself and which had been suggested to him.

WASTE FATS

Are Needed For Munitions
And housewives can help in saving greases to go into the making of explosives.

WHAT TO DO:

1. Save all your waste cooking fats.
2. Strain into a wide-mouthed container.
3. Keep in cool, dark place until you have at least a pound.
4. Take it to your meat dealer. He will pay you 4c a pound. For strained fats, 2c a pound for unstrained.

Downtown Stroller

Another hay fever victim, Mrs. RAY LAWRENCE, says that unusually warm weather is getting her down. With the hay fever victim, it's only the first frost that brings any change in their condition and how Mrs. LAWRENCE is looking forward to that day!

One of Miss EVELYN OPPENHEIMER's classic remarks about SHINE PHILIPS book is one that we like the best. "It looks to me," the famous book reviewer said, "as if you folks have an honest-to-God author in your midst." And SHINE blinked too.

Mrs. BEN CARTER and Mrs. R. L. PERKINS, Jr. were among the ladies taking their turn down at the temporary USO center at First and River the other evening. They were just like everybody else. It takes just one trip to convince you that the center fills a real need and that the fellows seem to like the place even with the limited facilities on hand.

One sign of autumn is the rummage sales that are coming up this weekend given by various church and school groups. Maybe that's where we ought to go to get our new fall outfit. It would be new to us, anyway.

To observe national B & P W week, the executive committee of the local organization is going to "put on the dog" Sunday with a tea for the club members from 3 o'clock to 4 o'clock. The event is to be at the Settles hotel.

Three Entertain For Bride-Elect With Shower

Three hostesses entertained for Eileen Killingsworth with a miscellaneous shower recently in the home of Mrs. G. H. Hayward. Hostesses were Dorothy Hayward, Caroline Smith and Mildred Fleetwood.

Miss Killingsworth left this morning for Houston where she will be married Sunday to Novis Womack, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Womack.

Hours were from 6 o'clock to 8 o'clock and miscellaneous gifts were presented to the honoree.

The table was lace-laid and centered with a punch bowl surrounded with flowers. Pink and white tapers in crystal holders were at either end of the table.

Those attending were Mrs. Valena Bryant, Mrs. Zeb Womack, Mrs. John Nutt, Mrs. Stewart Womack, Mrs. V. A. Merrick, Mrs. D. D. Douglas, Mrs. E. W. Killingsworth, Mrs. C. A. Flynt, Evening, Ga., to Austin. Other guests were Mrs. Mary E. Rayburn of Roscoe and son, Wade.

Mrs. Gene Gardner of Garland is here visiting with Mrs. H. E. Rutherford and other friends this weekend. She is a former teacher in the Big Spring school.

Mrs. Cal Rogers of Abilene spent Wednesday here visiting with Mrs. Earl Corder.

Wesley Deats To Be New President Of Senior Class

Wesley Deats was elected president of the senior class, Stewart Smith vice president and Marline Marwin secretary-treasurer in a meeting this week.

Earl Emmel quoted prices for senior rings, invitations and calling cards.

The junior class was informed in a meeting Wednesday that the members must order rings now if they are to receive them next year, as the company is suspending production for the duration.

Junior class officers will be elected by secret ballot Tuesday.

VFW Post, Auxiliary Have Business Meet And Social At Hall

Discussing improvements to be made on the hall, the VFW Post and Auxiliary held a business and social meeting Thursday at 9th and Gollad.

Refreshments were served following the meeting and attending were Mrs. C. B. Barnett, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Brown, Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Deata, Mr. and Mrs. John Cochran, Mrs. Mamie Lee Dadd, Mrs. Clyde Dooley, Mr. and Mrs. W. Ehlman.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Hull, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Jacobs, Mr. and Mrs. U. G. Powell, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. True, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Thurman, Mr. and Mrs. Pierson Morgan, Mrs. C. E. Sinter, Mrs. Eula Lee, Elizabeth Wilson Kraft, Mrs. F. G. Powell.

Homemakers To Work For Red Cross Institute

An officer's clinic was held for the East 4th St. Baptist Homemaker's class when members met Thursday in the home of Mrs. A. S. Woods.

Plans for class activities for the coming year were made. The group voted to have a covered-dish luncheon each last Thursday of the month and devote the afternoon to working at the Red Cross Surgical Dressing Institute.

Refreshments were served from a lace-laid table centered with a bowl of margold. Orange tapers were on either side of the center piece.

The group also voted to have quarterly socials from now on in place of monthly events.

Others present were Mrs. E. H. Sanders, Mrs. Otto Couch, Mrs. W. W. Bennett, Mrs. C. R. Bird, Mrs. Tom Stewart, Mrs. N. O. Decker, Mrs. Joe D. Williams, Mrs. Ocie Chapman, Mrs. T. B. Clifton, Mrs. Bob Wren, Mrs. W. E. Bates, and one guest, Mrs. W. H. Sandridge.

The club will meet next with Mrs. Jordan.

Skyette Club To Have Meeting On Monday Night

Members of the Skyette club will meet at 7:30 o'clock Monday night at the Settles hotel for a business session. Dues for October will be paid and future activities of the club will be discussed. Every member is expected to be present at the session.

Mrs. Walter Pike has returned from a visit in Austin with Mrs. W. W. Crenshaw and son, Jack.

Expanded Program For Child Care Told At Nursery School Meet

Mrs. Eric M. Darnall, assistant district supervisor, and Mrs. Rannie C. Watson of Abilene, new assistant district supervisor for this area met with the WPA nursery school advisory board Thursday at the expanded program of the Child Protection project.

Mrs. Darnall, who was formerly supervisor for this area, is being transferred to the district office in Fort Worth, and Mrs. Watson will take her place and will be stationed in Abilene.

The expanded program of the WPA to take care of children during war time includes setting up nursery schools for children of employed mothers and children of fathers in the armed services or defense work.

A fee, not to exceed 25 cents per day, which will be determined by a committee composed of a representative of the advisory board, a representative of a recognized local social agency, and a representative of the WPA, will be charged. Children eligible, Mrs. Darnall explained, will be those from two years of age up to the time of entering public schools. It will be possible to keep the school open 14 hours a day, if needed, the supervisor said.

A survey of the local situation to determine whether such schools are needed here will be undertaken by the United Council of Church Women, Mrs. Darnall said.

Transportation problems were discussed and notice given that all nursery school children will be given identification tags.

Mrs. Charles Hoberg presided at the session and others attending were W. C. Blankenship, the Rev. R. J. Snell, Dr. J. M. Woodall, Mrs. Koberg, Mrs. George Hall, Mrs. W. J. McAdams, Mrs. Stormy Thompson, Mrs. Shelby Hall, Jewel E. Tucker, Mrs. Bertha J. Owens.

Band Queen To Be Revealed Tonight At Ball Game

Not until the half-period intermission at the Odessa-Big Spring football game will the identity of the new high school band queen be revealed.

The election closed today at 1:30 p. m.

In the contest for selection of the queen are Billie Frances Shaffer, senior; Jerrie Hodges, junior; Betty Jean Holt, sophomore; Melba Dean Anderson, freshman; and Winnie Ruth Rogers, representing the band.

Government expenditures for the calendar year 1942, the department of commerce says.

STOPS GETTING AT NIGHT

Augusta lady gets fast relief from sluggish kidney pains. Backaches gone... sleeping fine now.

"Some days my back ached so bad I couldn't do my housework," writes Mrs. Lenora Lybrand. "At night I used to get up almost once an hour. So I'm mighty grateful to Dr. Kilmor's Swamp Root for relieving my kidney troubles. I feel just grand now."

Mrs. Lybrand is one of thousands of sufferers who have found relief with Swamp Root. For this remarkable stomachic and intestinal liquid tonic (which is a natural product of the earth) is a well-known physician, Dr. Kilmor, Swamp Root is a combination of 16 herbs, roots, blemas and other natural ingredients. No harsh chemicals or habit-forming drugs. Just good ingredients that quickly relieve bladder pain, backache, run-down feeling due to tired kidneys. And you can't miss its marvelous tonic effect!

SOMEONE'S LIFE IS IN YOUR HANDS!

ROUND up your scrap metal — it's needed to make steel. Steel for armor plate to protect him from bombs and bullets. Steel for weapons to help him do the job that must be done before he can come home again.

You don't want production figures. It's enough to know that 50% of all new steel is made of scrap — that our steel mills now have only enough scrap in sight to last another 30 days

It's America Talking, Says Reviewer Of Shine Phillips' Book, 'Big Spring'

Big Spring paid homage to a "home town boy" who made good as an author as an audience of over 700 persons gathered Thursday night at the city auditorium to hear Evelyn Oppenheimer, well-known book reviewer from Dallas, discuss "Big Spring, Casual Biography of a Prairie Town," by Shine Phillips. The book, according to Miss Oppenheimer, is a word picture that will take its place with the best company in the literary world and through the medium of the book Phillips has made Big Spring a focus of national attention of the literary world. The story of Big Spring as written by Phillips is just the man talking, Miss Oppenheimer pointed out, and "nobody talks Texas better than Shine Phillips" the reviewer said. That the story of "our town" is the best book on West Texas yet to be written, Miss Oppenheimer said has been borne out in the acclaim with which it has been received by critics and reviewers not just in

4-H Girls' Club At Garner Is Reorganized

KNOTT, Oct. 9.—Garner 4-H girls' club members were brought together by Fontilla Johnson, county agent, and the club was reorganized and new officers appointed. Officers elected are: Billie Doris McClain, president; Patsy Phillips, secretary and treasurer; Mary Alice Dorsey, vice president; Joe Marie Meyers, reporter; Wanda Jean Forrester and Dorothy Cline, recreational leaders. Committees named for the year book are: Lillie Mae Barnard, Benny Ann Grass, and Patsy Phillips. Present at the meeting were: Jessie Lloyd Goodman, Nelda Shaw, Alice Merle Chapman, Lillie Mae Barnard, Benny Ann Grass, Patsy Phillips, Dorothy Cline, Wanda Jean Forrester, Laverne McCall, Pauline McCall, Maxine Aubry, Nellie Morier, Louella Motley, Nova Gene Williams, Betty Mae Sample, Morvalene Kemper, Mary Alice Dorsey, Billie Doris McClain, Joe Marie Meyers, and Fontilla Johnson. Mrs. J. T. Gross presided over a meeting of the missionary society of the Baptist church. This week's devotional scripture readings were read by Mrs. J. W. Phillips. Members discussed the general condition of religious worship at home and abroad. The meeting was dismissed with a prayer by Mrs. Harschel Smith. Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Smith and son, Bobby, of Houston, visited friends and relatives in Big Spring and Knott over the weekend. Mr. and Mrs. Barney Bibbs were called to Abilene by the death of an uncle. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Barnard and children visited Easton-Barnard at Carlsbad Sunday. Sergeant James Shorter, Good-fellow Field, San Angelo, spent the past week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Shorter. Fontilla Johnson, Howard county home demonstration agent, gave a demonstration of the use of fruits at the home of Mrs. E. A. Brown this week. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Don Raspberry, Oct. 14.

Fire Prevention Quiz Put Before Business Club

Quiz program on Fire Prevention was held for the American Business club at luncheon Friday at the Settles hotel. Bill Tate conducted the quiz, assisted by Robert Stripling and J. E. Collins. Roy Reeder had charge of the program. Funds from the program will be used to buy awards for school children participating in the Fire Prevention Week observance. Board of governors meeting on Monday, October 12 at 8:30 o'clock at the Settles was announced. Coy Nalley, club chairman of the boy scout drive announced a breakfast meeting Tuesday morning at 7:30 o'clock for team leaders and assistants. The city-wide scrap drive beginning at 1 o'clock Monday afternoon was also announced and members were asked to contribute trucks, trailers or other vehicles to the city canvass for scrap. Letter from Sut Gollightly, former member now with the armed forces in Australia, was read to the club.

Texas but from coast to coast. The reviewer declared that she couldn't introduce Shine Phillips as the man, because the citizens of Big Spring already knew him, she could introduce him as a man of letters which she would do in the review, but she wanted to also introduce him as a man who has taken time to bring happiness to others. Representing Frances Ferguson, Dorothy Dublin Garrett, James Stiff and George Choate, Miss Oppenheimer presented Phillips with a gift from them, as four people who had felt the need and the aid of his help in their lives. In reviewing the book which tells of the story of Big Spring in its early days, Miss Oppenheimer quoted many of the sharp and homey phrases that describe early settlers and life in this "prairie town."

West Texas weather that if you don't like it, "just wait awhile and it'll change," the true picture of the cowboys, their lives and romances, the "hot stove league" of the typical small town drug store, were graphically pictured by Miss Oppenheimer who more than catches the feel of the book. In speaking of Phillips' writing style, Miss Oppenheimer said it was just "good comfortable talk, Texas talking, and America talking. Shine caught America talking when he wrote of a period of life in Texas."

Like Mark Twain, Will Rogers and Walt Whitman, Miss Oppenheimer said, Phillips wrote in the vernacular of Americans about a life that he knew and lived. In the closing paragraph of the last chapter on West Texas sunsets, Miss Oppenheimer quoted the sentence, "Nobody could really hate anybody when looking at a West Texas sunset."

That thought, Miss Oppenheimer said, "will be here long after all this world chaos is over and you and I are dust. Thank you, Big Spring, for giving us, the rest of America, Shine Phillips."

Quarterback Club Meets At Settles Saturday Noon

Football fans were reminded again Friday by Coach John Dibrell that the Quarterbacks' Club would hold its post-mortem session Saturday noon on the Settles mezzanine. Those who want to complain about the way things go in tonight's game with Odessa will have the floor at the meeting—and, of course, Dibrell hopes his boys will play so well there won't be too much room for complaint. Fans with questions about plays, about penalties, about anything that happened will get just as frank answers as Dibrell and Assistant Tommy Beene can give. There is no restriction on nor charge to being a member of the Quarterbacks' Club—just be a fan and be on hand at noon Saturday.

Henderson Opposed To Oil Price Hike

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9 (AP)—Price Administrator Leon Henderson told a senate public lands subcommittee today he was opposed to any general price increases on crude oil, asserting such action would cost the government and private consumers between $500,000,000 and $1,000,000,000. Representatives of the petroleum industry testifying at previous sessions of the committee urged an over-all increase on crude prices, contending it was necessary if exploratory operations for new deposits were to continue. The OPA chief said he had reached his views after a study of the earnings and expenses of oil operators.

Inventories On Rubber Due In Sat. Midnight

Dealers in rubber footwear and those who are in the tire trade were cautioned again Friday by Chairman B. F. Robbins of the Howard County Rationing Board that two important deadlines were fast approaching. First is the deadline for inventories of rubber boots and other rubber footwear—these must be filed with the board by midnight Saturday (Oct. 10), said Robbins. These goods are no longer frozen but the inventories on them must be filed. During this week, merchants who have these inventory forms in their possession may sell rubber footwear to certificate holders, "but after Saturday," said Robbins, no merchant may handle rubber footwear without proper authorization. In general, he added, the eligibility requirement for persons who obtain purchase certificates is that they be engaged in some occupation that contributes directly to the war effort or to the public health and safety. Full information on adjusting stocks to the program may be obtained from the board. The other deadline to which reference was made was that of filing the quarterly tire inventory

Eleven 'Missing' From Draft Board

Eleven men are still carried as "missing" by the Howard county selective service board, and some of the names may soon be turned over to federal authorities for action, it was indicated Friday. Only three of the men are from the February registration—Raymond Aurelia, Garza Tonloro Alsbars, and Johnnie Tift (negro); Others are in the first group of by Oct. 15. Several tire dealers have yet to file these statements of the tires on hand at the beginning of the quarter, those purchased since then, and current stocks.

registrants. Two of them, Dalton Archib White and Nisuelo Angular Loya, have never been contacted since they registered. These are missing having had one or more contacts with the board: Tommy Samuels, Jr. (negro), Bill Arthur Rudick, Soledad Granado Corrales, Frank Howard, Jr., Catarino Chavez, Ladislado Chavez, and Willard Sessions Williams. Those knowing of the whereabouts of any of these men may spare them serious consequences by notifying the board where they might be contacted at once. Outmoded women's hats which can be refashioned into 1942 styles are in great demand in the United Kingdom, according to the department of commerce.

Joe E. Brown's Son Killed In Crash

LONG BEACH, Calif., Oct. 8 (AP)—It was in July a year ago that Comedian Joe E. Brown planted a proud kiss on his eldest son, Don, then 24, as he received his wings as a second lieutenant in the Army Air Corps reserve at Stockton, Calif. Today Brown had abruptly left the show in which he was starring at Detroit and was flying back to claim the body of his son, who as an army ferrying command captain, died in the crash yesterday near Palm Springs of a bomber he was piloting to Utah.

To MEN OF 18 AND 19 THE U.S. ARMY ANNOUNCES NEW ENLISTMENT PRIVILEGES

It is not enough for our Army to be as big and as well-equipped as the enemy's—it should also be as well-balanced in age groups. The Army invites American youth to answer that challenge.

LEUTENANT GENERAL EMBISON B. SOMERVILLE, Commanding General, Service of Supply

YOU men of 18 and 19 now have the right to choose any one of 13 branches in which you want to serve. Action! Adventure! Rapid advances in pay! Splendid training and experience!

Have you stopped to think that our enemies have said they'd write the peace of the world in your own capital—Washington, D. C.? You don't have to guess what kind of a world you'd live in under that treaty.

A good many million two-fisted American men have stepped up to say "NO" to that boast. But are you going to be satisfied until you've had your say in the matter?

Right now, before you reach your 20th birthday, you have an opportunity open to men in no other age group . . . the right to enlist immediately and select one of 13 different branches of the U. S. Army.

Until now, you've been able to choose one of the 8 combat branches—Air Forces, Corps of Engineers, Coast Artillery Corps (Harbor Defense or Anti-Aircraft), Signal Corps, Field Artillery, Cavalry, Infantry and Armored Force.

New Army policy gives you the privilege of enlisting in 5 additional branches: Quartermaster Corps, Ordnance Department, Chemical Warfare Department, Medical Department, Corps of Military Police.

If you want adventure and action, if you want training and experience to prepare you for the future—the sooner you join the Army the more you'll learn and the faster you'll advance.

Men of your age group who can qualify are encouraged to apply for Officer Candidate Schools, and many have become commissioned officers.

Talk this opportunity over with your parents. You certainly want to be there when the Axis banners come down and Old Glory is raised into the clear blue sky of a free world. This fight is for your country. You must make sure it's your victory too!

For full information about the branch in which you are interested, call at the nearest Army Recruiting and Induction Station.

CAN MEN
CALL YOU
SLACKER”?

No Matter What You've Already Done About Your Scrap Metal... Read This Now!

To win this war we've got to get more scrap, and you have the finest kind of scrap. You have it in the largest quantities. Your scrap takes the least work to prepare for the mills. Without your help, all the household scrap in America—important as it is—cannot stave off disaster!

So here's what you must do. Wake up to the fact that it's not enough just to clean out broken and useless equipment. We've got to keep going! Get out the stuff that's lying around because someone thinks it may be used some day.

Make this the absolute, unchallenged rule:

IF IT HASN'T BEEN USED FOR SIX MONTHS, AND YOU ARE CERTAIN IT WON'T BE USED FOR THE NEXT SIX—SELL IT... OR SCRAP IT!

This is work for the boss to do—no one else can give the final word. If it's machinery, get in touch with the manufacturer, to see if someone else can use it. If they can't—scrap it! If it's a pile of extra parts or fixtures, sell or scrap the ones you don't need. If it's heavy stuff that has to be dismantled—do it, even if it costs more than the scrap will bring.

Remember—you're not in this to make money... you're doing it to save our Country from defeat!

Get your employees in on this. Listen to their suggestions. Let them know you're in it all the way! But don't forget the real job is up to you! For if this job isn't done, if our community and all the others in America don't come through, steel mills will shut down. Then if we lose the war—what will the things you hoard be worth? Stop for a moment and think of that!

Pvt. Buckshot Is One Soldier Taking It Easy

He's just a raw West Texas recruit, but Private "Buckshot," who never gets up on time, loafers all day and spends his nights tickling Master Sgt. Albert Lessard's toes, is already the most popular guy in the 817th School Squadron at Big Spring Army Air Force Advanced Flying School.

Hard-bitten sergeants worry about his health; proud corporals neglect their best girls to be with him; and timid recruits thrust themselves forward for his attentions. For once, all three groups agree on one point—Private "Buckshot" must have the best in barracks.

Found by a guard three weeks ago when he was scarcely young enough to open his eyes, "Buckshot," a wee cotton-tail rabbit, has been adopted by the boys of the 817th. Natives know how difficult it is to raise an undomesticated rabbit and may be surprised to learn that "Buckshot" is growing like a weed on milk fed through an eye-dropper. In fact, his enthusiastic admirers claim the little rookie is becoming robust enough to take nourishment from pop bottle tops.

The beauty of it all is that at least here's one "soldier" that Sgt. Wooten doesn't have to worry about being AWOL—the boys wouldn't let Bunny Buckshot go over the hill for all the potatoes in Ireland.

Souvenirs Of War Put On Scrap File By Rupert Phillips

To turn over personal souvenirs that have a sentimental attachment to the scrap drive is a real token of patriotism, everyone will agree. This is what Rupert H. Phillips, ordnance inspector, did in Texas this week. Phillips formerly lived in Big Spring.

Phillips, the possessor of shell casings picked up on the battlefields of France after and during World War I turned over to Bowie county salvage officials shell casings, one a large three-inch specimen, to be presented to the nation-wide drive for scrap metals. "If anyone had asked me how much I wanted for those souvenirs, I would have said that money couldn't buy them," said Phillips. "But now is the time for people to begin giving up things to win the war," he added.

Urges Action On Venereal Disease

AUSTIN, Oct. 9 (AP)—Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer, has urged city and county health authorities to speed up efforts to locate sources of venereal disease infection as an aid in preventing spread of the diseases among military and civilian personnel. Under state law health officers are empowered to examine any individual reported infected and frequently are asked to do so by the state health officer, based on information received from military and civilian physicians.

Texas Turkeys To Go Quick
AUSTIN, Tex. (UP)—Most of Texas' turkey supply will be marketed for Thanksgiving dinners this year, a canvass by agricultural statisticians was revealed. Usually the bulk of the supply has gone to the Christmas trade. Army camps are expected to create a huge local demand. The crop is estimated at 3,724,000 birds.

Austin, Tex. (UP)—United States fliers, as representatives of a free republic, have an indefinable something that their enemies don't have and never will possess, Secretary of War Stimson told aviation cadets at Randolph Field yesterday.

"You must go into battle to fight with the skill and courage of the axis, but not with their cruelty and brutality," he said. "When you go into battle you will be equipped with the finest equipment and material an enlightened government can provide you, but in addition to this you must be indomitably brave."

Praising the training of air force pilots, navigators and bombardiers, the secretary did not forget "the fine job being done by the mechanics."

Stimson and Assistant Secretary of War for Air Robert A. Lovett finished here a tour which carried them to Maxwell Field, Ala., Tyndall Field, Fla., Tuskegee, Ala., where negro fighter pilots are being trained, the San Antonio aviation cadet center, Kelly, Brooks and Randolph Fields.

The National Bureau of Standards, Department of Commerce, suggests saving fuel by setting down the thermostat when the house is unoccupied.

Royal Mounties Complete Classic Voyage Across The Top Of America

SYDNEY, N. S., Oct. 9 (AP)—A new chapter was added to Arctic history today by eight hardy Royal Canadian Mounted policemen who completed the first west-to-east voyage across the top of America 28 months after their 80-ton auxiliary schooner set out from Vancouver.

The bearded adventurers sailed quietly into this port yesterday to accomplish in reverse the feat which explorers of a bygone era had attempted unsuccessfully in their search for the Northwest Passage—short cut to the fabled riches of the Orient.

Only once in history has the east-to-west passage been sailed—by Roald Amundsen, the Norwegian explorer, and five other men who crossed the north Atlantic in 1909 and emerged into the Pacific three years later.

Details of the mounties' voyage were cloaked by official secrecy, the members of the expedition declining to disclose their purpose in undertaking the hazardous journey.

They revealed that one member of the original crew had died on the way, but was replaced by another man picked up at a lonely R.C.M.P. post at which they paused enroute.

During most of the time since they left the west coast in June, 1940, the mounties' only contact with the outside world was by radio. Though they carried a goodly load of provisions when they set out they were forced to forage for their food during their lonely wanderings among the ice floes—depending partly on seals and fish for subsistence.

It was a novel presentation of a subject which all enjoyed. He was aided, and abetted by J. B. Collins and Roy Reeder and the program was introduced by Bob Stripling. In the absence of the president and vice president, Shirley Robbins presided.

A War Message on WAR BONDS from the President of the United States

“... The American people know that if we would raise the billions which we now need to pay for the war and at the same time prevent a disastrous rise in the cost of living, we shall have to double and more than double the scale of our savings.

“Every dime and dollar not vitally needed for absolute necessities should go into WAR BONDS and STAMPS to add to the striking power of our armed forces.

“If these purchases are to have a material effect in restraining price increases they must be made out of current income.

“In almost every individual case they should be big enough to mean rigid self-denial, a substantial reduction for most of us in the scale of expenditure that is comfortable and easy for us.

“We cannot fight this war, we cannot exert our maximum effort, on a spend-as-usual basis.

“We cannot have all we want if our soldiers and sailors are to have all they need.”

Barker; The Prophet, Shuts His Eyes And Names His Winners

By HERB BARKER
NEW YORK, Oct. 9 (AP)—After a quick look at last week's results, this corner has decided that the only way to hit a winner this football season will be to use a shotgun. So...

Iowa Naval-MICHIGAN: Nobody's going to get rich betting against these pre-flight schools and especially the one Bernie Blarman coached to victory over Minnesota. This stubborn vote for a fine Michigan team explains nothing perhaps except the state of our personal bankroll.

Stanford-NOTRE DAME: The conviction is strong that Notre Dame has not yet played anywhere close to its potentialities this fall. Maybe this will be the starting point for a new order. Notre Dame.

Southern California - OHIO STATE: Nothing on the records to show the Trojans can beat the surprisingly strong Buckeyes. Ohio State.

Cornell-ARMY: Two fine backs, Ralph Hill and Hank Mazur. And a good line indicate Army will take plenty of beating this fall. Army.

Missouri-WISCONSIN: A close match between two fine teams. The Badgers look like the bigger handful to this perhaps near-sighted guesser, Wisconsin.

OREGON STATE-U. C. L. A.: The Rose Bowl champions knocked off apparently over-rated California and look too strong for UCLA. Oregon State.

VANDERBILT-Kentucky: One of these two strong Southeastern outfits will need to give way. On the toss of the coin, Vanderbilt.

Mississippi-GEORGIA: A major objective for Harry Mehre's Mississippians but the superior strength seems to belong to the Bulldogs, Georgia.

Oklahoma-TEXAS: The Longhorns should get back on the rails in this one. Texas.

Purdue - NORTHWESTERN: And Texas' conqueror, Northwestern, rates an odds-on choice against twice-beaten Purdue. Northwestern.

MINNESOTA-Illinois: The Hunk have done well under a new head coach but they've played no Minnesota and the Gophers get this vote.

Clemson-BOSTON COLLEGE: Clemson seems much weaker than in recent years and Boston's Eagles may be the class of the east. Boston College.

North Carolina-FORDHAM: Off the terrible beating Fordham took last week and North Caro-

S'west Teams Get Nod Over Outside Foes

Still ahead but nothing like as sassy, Southwest conference football teams ought to repair damaged prestige along the inter-sectional front tomorrow.

Because the boys are due to win all three of their games with outside foes and that will be a big help after last week found Texas and Southern Methodist taking the count in games that had been picked the other way.

Meaning Rice ought to nose out Tulane, Texas should roll over Oklahoma and Texas Christian ought to have a field day with Kansas.

Rice appears to have the hardest row. Tulane wants revenge, the Owls are bound to be in a let-down after that terrific and satisfying battle with Louisiana State, and then the Green Wave is a

Experience Is Big Factor On Broncs' Side

The Big Spring Steers made into their first district 3-AA test of the season here at 8:30 this evening when they met the favored Odessa Bronchos under the lights at Steer stadium.

Both teams were reported in relatively good shape with experience on the side of the visitors—likely to prove the deciding factor. Big Spring has a green team, Odessa has a string of veterans.

Weights of the two clubs are about the same, the Steers holding a two and a half pound average throughout. In the line, Big Spring packs a slight advantage, averaging 171 pounds from end to end as against 166 for Odessa. However, Odessa has a better balance with its weight not so much going to a couple of men as in the case in Big Spring's Blount and Brown.

In the backfield, Odessa averages 165 to 168 for Big Spring, and were it not for Hunka Stewart's 215 pounds, the advantage, averaging 171 pounds favor the visiting Bronchos.

Knowing that the odds are all on the side of Odessa, Coach John Dibrell likely will take the bridle of his willing crop of youngsters. As a result, they may be expected to try lots of razzle-dazzle stuff, fancy in the bag for a few extra yards and throw and run that oval in a crazy manner.

If they get away with a fair percentage of it, they may make a ball game of it. If it backfires, Odessa may while the stuffing out the Steers. It's a gamble, but the Steers, yearning and determined for an upset will try it.

Odessa has a well balanced club in experience and ability as well as weights. While the Steers must concentrate on watching big Keith Evans, 205-pound end for the Bronchos, they must also put the pinchers on George Good, other Odessa terminal, and on any of three other backs.

Otis McKelvey is the big noise in the backfield and has a reputation of running over what he can't run around. But if too much attention is put to stopping him, Jimmy McCracken, quarterback, or Jack Wilkerson, halfback, will run the Steers ragged.

Too, Odessa is possessed of a strong passing game. Against Lamesa last week the Bronchos tossed 14 aerials and completed 7 (that's 50 percent). At the same time, they held Lamesa to practically nothing passing and little better on the ground.

Thus, it looks gloomy for the Steers, but these youngsters that have cooked up surprise after surprise this year don't know the meaning of the word "fear." They are ready mentally for this game and if the flesh is half as willing as the spirit, those Bronchos may be in for an evening of confused bucking.

Dibrell has shifted his defenses around somewhat to meet the anticipated type of attack that Odessa uses. He has some flexible plans, and if one pattern doesn't do the work, another may be tried. The whole thing may seem screwy at times, but old timers may recognize a defensive trick or two from days dead and gone. The ticket office will open at 7 p. m. and the gate at 7:30 p. m. Only two sections in the west

3-AA Lads Go At It Tonight For 'Keeps'

All district 3-AA teams play for keeps in games billed for this evening, and for the first time this season results are expected to help forecast outcome of the current chase.

Odessa comes to Big Spring for one of the most important games, for despite ballyhoo in some corners, the Bronchos are still among the favorites to take the district. On the basis of comparative scores, it looks like Odessa all the way.

Colorado City goes to San Angelo for what has the promise of a first class slaughter. Rocky Rundell, San Angelo mentor, has never been the tender hearted type of mentor who calls his boys off when the opposition is whipped. Last week he ran up a 35-7 score against the Midland Bulldogs. Colorado is not supposed to have as much as Midland, and too, they'll be playing at San Angelo, a handicap to anybody.

Midland has to go to Sweetwater, and with Billy Joe Stickney, John Guy McMillan, Marshall Whitmore and Bill Richards out with twisted joints, cuts and the flu, the really untested Ponies are due to plaster the Bulldogs good and proper.

Abilene stays at home to ambush Lamesa, and with amvets another debacle such as occurred at Odessa last week, when they took a 28-0 licking, hang very low for the Golden Tornadoes. Abilene's Eagles have out some dope about Jerry Patterson being out of the line and Red Burdett and Gene Spira maybe not being ready to go—but about 80 percent of this is considered propaganda. Taylor and Reeves may be expected to put out all that two swell little backs can, but it won't be enough to keep Lamesa in the ball game.

No Stars To Shine In Texas-Oklahoma Game This Year

DALLAS, Oct. 9 (AP)—The setting will be the same but the actors this time will be a bunch of guys named Joe.

This applies to both Texas and Oklahoma, who meet here tomorrow in the thirty-seventh football engagement between Longhorns and Sooners.

And you can take that literally in the case of the Texas squad which actually has three Joes.

They're symbolical of the kind of team Texas will bring to the Cotton Bowl. There's not a publicized star on the list. A half-hearted effort was made to build up Jackie Field, the trackman-halfback, but neither Field nor any of his pals have come forward like the stumpy little guy who got into Oklahoma's hall three years running—the one and only Jack Crain.

Oklahoma doesn't have a soul in the headlines. There is no Jack Jacobs and no Orv Matthews.

This time it will be a football game between a couple of teams with the polished Texas machines favored to win with only a minimum of effort.

There are sufficient leather and shoe supplies on hand or in prospect to meet all essential requirements through 1943, the department of commerce reports.

Chasers for the University of Texas Longhorn line its starts so far this season have been centered largely around the top-flight tackle play of Zuel!

Both Stanford And Irish Seek First Victory

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Oct. 9 (AP) Stanford and Notre Dame, attempting to arise from the model T's rumble seat and pile into the driver's position, meet Saturday, each searching for their first 1942 victory.

Frank Leahy, Notre Dame coach, made a big change this week by taking the responsibility of signal calling from junior quarterback Angelo Bertelli. Har-ry Wright, senior right guard, who, as quarterback last year helped direct the Irish through an undefeated season, will call the plays against Stanford.

The move was made in hope Bertelli's passing would improve. As a sophomore, he connected on 70 of 122 aerials for 1,027 yards, but his completion average of nearly 30 percent is less than that of Notre Dame's being held 7 to 7 by Wisconsin and defeated, 13 to 6, by Georgia Tech.

Bertelli's play calling has been poor at times, but he has not made a single bobble in the important role of ball feeder.

The Irish will be greatly bolstered if Owen (Dippy) Evans last year's best ground gainer and scorer, is able to play after an early season injury. The left halfback appeared in workouts this week for the first time in a month and may be the scoring punch needed in a team which has ripped up 870 yards in two games but made only two touchdowns.

Stanford, like Notre Dame, is off to a disappointing start under Coach Marchie Schwartz. Leahy's teammate at Notre Dame in 1929, "A victory over the Irish will make the Stanford season," Schwartz vowed after the Indians lost, 6 to 0, to Washington State, and 14 to 8 to Santa Clara.

Bob Snyder, who scouted the Santa Clara game for the Irish, said Stanford has "the best collegiate line I have ever seen, plus a well-balanced, fast backfield and complete familiarity with the T formation."

The supply of spendable funds in the United States continues to mount, each month setting a new all-time record, says the department of commerce.

Arizona's Ruman Sets Fast Pace In Grid Scoring

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Oct. 9. Individual performers in the Border conference this season will have to step lively to hit the clip set by Bob Ruman, Arizona University's 21-year-old triple threat halfback.

Arizona tops the nation in defensive play, yielding an average of only 31.5 yards in two games, but the Wildcats' offensive game with Ruman in the saddle has been the payoff—as Utah and the New Mexico Aggies can testify.

In those two games, Arizona piled up 482 yards with the 165-pound Indiana back accounting for 233—or an average of 8.7 yards a play. Ruman's punts have averaged 38.75 yards. He starred last season, but this looks like his big year.

Arizona plays its second conference game of the season this weekend, going to Tempe for a session with Arizona State.

The game is one of two conference tussles this Saturday, which finds the Texas members continuing in inter-sectional play. The New Mexico Aggies visit New Mexico at Albuquerque in the 34th renewal of a traditional rivalry.

Leading off the inter-sectional program, West Texas State meets the Albuquerque Army Air Base Kellys in Canyon tonight. The army eleven has won two of its three games, losing the opener by a single point to New Mexico University.

Texas Tech plays host to Oklahoma Aggies at Lubbock Saturday while Hardin-Simmons dips again into Southwest conference circles—this time against Southern Methodist university at San Antonio. Hardin-Simmons previously upset Baylor.

In the other Saturday inter-sectional engagement, the Texas College of Mines tangles with Abilene Christian college at El Paso.

Dog Serves Master Well

WEST GARDINER, Mo.—Allen Fisher says his 11-year-old dog Pat, a cross between a bulldog and a Doberman-Pinscher, has earned at least $5,000 for his master. The dog has rounded up more than 500 lost cattle as well as several flocks of sheep.

A record-breaking quantity of machine tools were delivered by United States' manufacturers during the first seven months this year, the department of commerce reports.

skinned, tall, dressed in riding clothes.

"Did you notify the police?"

"Yes and they radioed the description. But after all, we were about twenty-four hours too late." He looked at her steadily. "I think the F.B.I. ought to hear your story."

Julie shook her head. "Not yet, Pete. Suppose Dawn is merely having a love affair? After all, it might have been merely coincidence that the fire started. And tankers are passing all the time."

"Maybe, but it isn't coincidence that I've been shadowed every moment of the time since I got back from the Kelland place Monday."

"Shadowed?" Julie echoed, startled. "But—why?"

"Somebody thinks I know too much, I guess."

Julie felt fright take hold of her heart. "Or someone realizes how important you are to the work going on at this shipyard?"

He laughed again. "Don't take me that seriously, Julie. Maybe some guy doesn't like the way I part my hair."

"Seriously, Pete, you must be careful," she said anxiously. "Do you really think it has anything to do with Dawn's disappearance?"

"Don't know," he shrugged. "Might. Suppose you have a talk with Kelland in the morning, find out if he's heard anything. If not, we'll get in touch with the Bureau. The longer we delay reporting it, the less value the information will be."

Julie nodded. "Poor Mr. Kelland. I dread having him involved in an investigation."

"Don't waste too much pity on him, Julie," Pete said dryly. "He hasn't exactly spent his life shedding sweetness and light, you know."

But Julie couldn't help hoping Dawn wasn't involved in anything criminal or treacherous. Because chief among those betrayed would be—Pete!

"I don't really believe Dawn is seriously involved in sabotage or arson," Pete said slowly as if in answer to her thought. "But her sweetness, her generosity could be imposed on. We've got to help her out."

Julie watched him, a smile on her lips, but a pain in her heart. Whether she deserved it or not, Dawn still had Pete's loyalty.

Don't Complain About The Service— Add Establishments Swamped By War: Those Cleaning Clothing

If you see the lights burning late these nights in the laundries and cleaning and pressing establishments, it's a signal to you to remember that the cleaning business is not "as usual."

Proprietors have had headaches for weeks now.

"It's heck," they say, "but we like it!"

With volume more than doubled in both these types of business and good help at a premium, worries are a dime a dozen and the man who doesn't have one or a hundred is a prospective Ripley oddity.

Laundries work until midnight every night, but tailor shops usually manage by staying open a little late or burning the midnight oil every third night or so.

One-day service is out of the question, so before you go into a tantrum over the service you're receiving, remember that your tailor has probably just lost two of his old-time regulars to the army.

Tailor shops are enjoying a rush business in uniform alterations and are handling a good volume of mending and repairing, although it's the general opinion that Johnny Doughboy sews most of his own buttons back on uniforms.

Who are the hardest to please? Some say the boys in khaki. Others point the finger at the girls and housewives. Civilian men are tops with the tailors and laundries. Maybe because the poor business man is just too tired to complain.

School Official Talks At Lamesa

LAMESA, Oct. 9.—Dawson county rural school teachers attended a meeting in Lamesa Thursday afternoon to hear a talk by Miss Edgar Ellen Wilson of the state department of education. Miss Wilson discussed at length the state plan to standardize elementary schools.

J. Henry Norris, Dawson county school superintendent, presided at the meeting, which was attended by many visitors from this district, in addition to the local school faculty members.

"Sidewalk shag," a tobacco reclaimed from cigar butts, is selling in German-occupied Netherlands at one dollar a half ounce, the department of commerce says.

Deserter Is Sought For Many Crimes

CHICAGO, Oct. 9 (AP)—A young army deserter who abandoned a life of respectability three months ago and began a life of crime, was hunted by a group of ace detectives, federal authorities and military police today in what officials said was the biggest manhunt in the metropolis in several years.

Chief of Detectives John L. Sullivan was in personal charge of the search for the fugitive whom he named as Irwin Kadens, 32-year-old former postoffice clerk and the father of two small daughters.

As the law enforcement authorities hunted Kadens, his wife appealed to him through newspapers to surrender to avoid bloodshed. In the series of crimes here and in Detroit attributed by police to Kadens since last August, the victims told authorities that he would "shoot on sight." Police have been ordered to bring him in "dead or alive."

Three months ago Kadens was a soldier at Camp Grant, Ill., having enlisted in the army after obtaining his wife's permission. For eight years he had been a member of the Illinois national guard. His wife, who described him as "a good husband and father," said she "couldn't understand what got into him."

In Chicago, Kadens is wanted on two charges of rape, two charges of attempted rape, one charge of kidnaping under the Lindbergh act, one charge of burglary, one charge of assault to kill a policeman, one charge of mail robbery, and other charges of robbery and automobile theft.

Alaskan Scouts Show Stern Stuff In Blazing Way To Northern Isles

HEADQUARTERS, Alaska Defense Command, Oct. 9 (AP)—A rough, tough band of Alaskan scouts, who can go farther on a chunk of dried salmon than most men can go on full field rations, drew praise today as the heroic trail blazers for the landing of American forces on one of the Andreanof islands in the Aleutians.

The landing was announced by the navy Saturday.

The scouts are home now, getting a bit of relaxation by climbing mountains or shooting mountain goats, so their story can be told.

They are known officially as the combat intelligence platoon of the Alaska defense command, but the designation leaves Alaskans cold. Refer to them as "Castner's Cutthroats" and the natives know the fabulous outfit of which you speak.

They faced a stormy and treacherous sea at night in rubber boats; they slept on a rocky coast without fires or the protection of as much as a pup tent in the driving rain, and they went ashore on a foggy island when they didn't know but what the enemy might be there in force.

"Castner's Cutthroats" got their name from their commanding officer, Col. Lawrence Castner, son of the famed Maj. Gen. Joseph C. (Bull) Castner, of World War I.

The colonel, as a veteran Alaskan officer who knows the far stretches of the territory intimately, lauds them as the greatest unit in the army. Beside them, he contends, the commandos seem soft. The backbone of the platoon is composed of volunteers from the Alaskan back country, both natives and whites.

Late in August, after months of training, the scouts set out across Bering Sea for their island destination, with home-made boats lashed to the decks of their vessels and rubber boats inside, ready for inflation.

Nobody then was sure whether the Japanese might have a large force on the island or a small one, ready to call in the bombers from Kiska. Their boats couldn't even enter the uncharted and tricky harbor. High seas washed over the decks. The home-made boats had failed to stand the trip.

The fame of the organization has spread rapidly, and Col. Castner has been besieged with applications.

The scouts' main complaint is that they haven't yet had a chance to get into a fight. It's a fact that upon their return, members of the platoon refused the comfort of warm barracks, preferring tents on a nearby beach despite the autumn weather.

Service Held For Betty June Fields

Funeral services for Betty June Fields, 6, who succumbed Wednesday at her home in the airport addition, were held Thursday at 2 o'clock from the Eberley chapel.

The Rev. Mr. Frasier of San Angelo conducted the service and music was furnished by the Assembly of God church.

The survivors include her parents, Mrs. Robert R. Fields of Big Spring and two sisters, Joyce and Bobbie, and a brother, Robert Lee Fields. Grandparents surviving are Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Fields of Weatherford and Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Gibbs of Big Spring.

pallbearers were E. L. C. Gibbs, J. O. Sanderson, James H. Eppler, Arnold Fields, Harvey Winn and Billy Joe Eppler.

Jury To Probe Violations In Food Prices

DALLAS, Oct. 9 (AP)—Federal grand jury investigation of an alleged "gigantic combine" in control of food prices will begin here next week with the presentation of evidence, the News says today.

Food purchasing habits and the prices paid by approximately a fourth of the population of the nation and alleged virtual control of several important food crops of the country will be involved in the probe, the newspaper said.

The case, which will concern operations throughout the nation, will be presented to the grand jury by William R. Wadkins, assistant attorney general attached to the anti-trust division of the department of justice, and a staff of about 30 assistants who have spent many months in the preliminary investigation of the alleged combine, the paper added.

Sterling City Due To Advance In 6-Man Play

Sterling City will probably whitewash another notch in its football pistol today as the north and south zones of the Pioneer Schools Athletic association swing into their second round of district play.

In the north end, Westbrook must come to Coahoma, and the host Bulldogs rate as slight favorites. In early season games, Coahoma has looked pretty good. Courtney comes to Garner (Knott) and it's a question of what Courtney has. Garner has played in bad luck, its lightweights finally giving away in the downstretch.

Sterling City comes to Garden City for a southern zone test—and a Garden City victory would rank in the list of immortal upsets. Forsan goes to Water Valley to meet the up and coming charges of Coach Middle Young. Forsan, coached by Walker Bailey, has been showing possibilities and improving right along.

Cotton Loan Plan Aired At Lamesa

LAMESA, Oct. 9.—The new cotton seed loan plan was discussed at length Wednesday in Lamesa by 53 county agents and AAA representatives, including 17 counties in this West Texas district. K. J. Edwards, district agent, presided at the meeting, and was assisted in detail work of the program by F. E. Lichte of the Texas A&M college extension service, C. H. Moseley of College Station and E. A. Warner of Mitchell county. B. J. Baskin, Dawson county agent for the extension service, was local host to the group.

Representatives were present from the counties of Tom Green, Nolan, Glasscock, Howard, Martin, Midland, Andrews, Ector, Gaines, Lynn, Borden, Scurry, Fisher, Kent and Dawson.

During the morning hours the group met together to hear a discussion of the plan, and in the afternoon the county agents and the Triple A representatives held separate discussion groups.

Civil Service Will Stay In City Hall

The civil service offices now occupied by L. T. Lee and his staff at the city hall will not be disturbed for the time being, City Manager Boyd J. McDaniel said Friday morning.

The space will soon be needed for the civilian defense offices, McDaniel said, but the civil service will be granted ample time to find new headquarters before moving out of its offices on the second floor of the Big Spring city hall. The city has offered space in front of the hall.

Texas Cotton Crop Put At 3,403,000

AUSTIN, Oct. 9 (AP)—The U. S. department of agriculture has forecast a Texas cotton crop of 3,403,000 bales, which would be $1,000 bales below its first estimate last September. The indicated yield would be 201 pounds per acre, highest since 1912.

The drill is scheduled for 7:45 p. m. and all those who are to have a part in this work are instructed by their officials to attend and wear their arm bands.

NOTICE

EFFECTIVE OCTOBER 1, AND FOR THE DURATION

Effective October 1, we are sorry to announce that we can no longer continue our credit business and delivery service. We are working shorthanded, and yet trying to care for more customers, making it necessary to cut down on work every way we can. We do not have time to carry your accounts and take care of them as they should be taken care of. This is an action we are indeed sorry for, and we hope you understand.

Thank You,
Frank Rutherford
