Dr. E. C. Struggs Retires After 40 Years

Dunbar Claws Carthage For State

Tommy Ricks, Quincy White, and Clarence, three of the finest shooters to ever grace the AAA State Basketball Tournament at Prairie View, were just too hot to be cooled off by Turner High of Carthage last Saturday as they led the Dunbar Panthers to the State Title.

The trio, who landed berths on the six-man all-state team named at the tournament, ripped the nets for 71 points as they led the Dunbar Panthers to a 81-66 victory in the finals and were instrumental in scoring the winning points in the semi-final victory.

This victory for the Panthers clamped the lid on one of the school's most successful basketball campaigns in the history of the school. This was the first time the Panthers have ever played in the state tournament as AAA competitor, and trailed the team from east Texas by a score of 17-14 at the end of the first quarter.

The Panthers led by a score of 24-13 at the end of the second frame and continued to maintain this lead throughout the contest.

Coach Gipson stated that "The turning point of our successful bid for the State Title was a win over Amarillo in our third district game. We really played good ball after that!"

For Coach Gipson the victory over Carthage was sprinkled with a bit of sentimentality. Homer Shepard, Coach of the Turner High Five, was teammate of Gipson's at Butler College in Tyler.

Coach Gipson went on to say, "Homer and I talked a lot about the game together, and we really hated to play against each other, but then we decided that this was the way it should be, the two of us in the finals of the State Tournament."

After forty years of teaching and principalship in the public schools in Texas, Dr. E.C. Struggs has retired. Thirty-five of those years of educating tomorrow's leaders was done in the Lubbock Public School System.

Edward Cecil Struggs was born in Wallis, Austin County, Texas, the only son of Mr. & Mrs. E.W. Struggs.

He received his elementary education in the Wallis and Marlin Public School; high school work and the Bachelor of Arts Degree, Paul Quinn College at Waco, Texas; Bachelor of Science, Prairie View College, Prairie View, Texas; Masters of Science in Administration and Supervision from the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Michigan. # Dunbar, A Real State Champ

Editorial: By Thomas James Patterson

It was exactly two football seasons ago since the city of Lubbock has been the nucleus of a state championship. On last Saturday the championship title was bestowed upon Lubbock, when the Panthers of Dunbar High School captured the AAA State Basketball title at Prairie View A&M College.

This championship team had defeated such schools as Odessa, Abilene, Amarillo, and Midland. With such an outstanding record in bi-district play they received an opportunity to play Wichita Falls for the district title. They were successful in defeating the Leopards in Panther gym two weeks ago, and went on to win the state title by defeating Turner High of Carthage. The well-balanced team which was the Panthers produced three all stars... which was half of the all-state team selected.

The credit to the Panthers success goes to head coach Curtis Gipson and his staff for their well prepared instructions given to the quad.

It would be an amazing thing to watch the Pampa Harvesters or Lubbock Westerners play the Panthers. Because of the balance they (Panthers) have, it would be an exciting game. I would say that Texas Tech has three outstanding, balanced players, but the Panthers have five well-balanced players.

The Dunbar Panthers have unmistakably proven themselves to have the best AAA basketball team in the state of Texas. Congratulations are in store for your success and thanks for bringing home the bacon to Lubbock.

A SYMBOL IN EDUCATION

Never before has there been an achievement accomplished in the history of the Paul L. Dunbar High School as it was in the thirty-five years of teaching and principalship of Dr. E. C. Struggs. In his span of education he has been a key figure in the growth of this institution.

From a small stucco building with only three teachers to a million dollar plant which employs over fifty teachers... this educator has been instrumental in all of this.

Perhaps one of the most outstanding events Dr. Struggs can recall is the painting presented to him by a senior class entitled, "A Portrait of a Man". This painting, which was painted by Jim Dallas, is a complete painting of Dr. Struggs as the artist saw him. The painting now hangs in the hallway of the Dunbar High School.

The naming of the new Junior High School in his honor, E. C. Struggs Junior High School, will be a living symbol for our up-coming educators.

Thank you Dr. Struggs for a job very well done!

J & K GROCERY BURGALIZED

There was an unpe- culiar burglary at one of Lubbock's grocery stores, J & K, located at 18th and Avenue B, this past week. The person or persons gained entry by breaking the glass door located on the southeast corner of the building. Force was used in pushing the iron bars on the outside of the window and because of this act the screws were forced out. Found by the door was a wooden stick that was used in breaking the thick glass.

After entry was gained, the persons went to the check-out counter which is located at the front part of the building south. Over six hundred dollars worth of merchandise was taken, including 171 cartons of cigarettes valued at $450.00.

Two cartons of Win- stons were found laying by the door where entry was made. Finger prints were found on one of the cartons. At the present time there are no suspects.

BICYCLE STOLEN

They described him as being 5' 10", about 22-24 years of age, slender built, and wearing a black outfit with a black jacket. The burglar took one dollar and some personal checks from Mrs. Pace's purse and five dollars from her husband's wallet. The burglar came through the front door...it was unlocked.

The Beautician's Corner

The beauticians that attended the Style Show in Amarillo on Sunday two weeks ago said it was a beautiful affair.

Ladies have you heard about the young men who are finishing barbering. They are all grads of Dunbar-and by the way one of the fellows is employed at the Date Barber Shop. Yes, his mother is a beautician.

Now what will the home shop owners do about a cold coke when I see all coke boxes moved out. Look out beauticians if we do not comply we will be out also.

Watch for the date of the "Pink and Green Tea." Mrs. Dinzy said it might be held in the largest hotel in Tohoka. How about that. Someone said a "Tastey" luncheon was in the making girls. Be careful don't taste everything you see. Remember your figure.

Have you noticed how our paper is growing? We are waiting and looking for the other beauticians to meet with us. You know we meet twice a month.

Hey!! Did I tell you about the forward step beautician Jessie Mae Taylor made. Taylor is in the know. Read your paper next week. Did you know that beautician Shields (Gallie) does catering service. Her food is delicious... call her.

Beautician Barror has all the supplies you want in her shop now. Remember she is one of us. Word has been received from Amarillo that co-worker, Pauline Moaning, is feeling better.

Thanks for the news in the Beautician's Corner last week.. Read your Manhattan Heights Times each week.
