"Executive director of ICASALS at Tech"

RAULLERSON NOMINATED FOR AID POSITION

U.S. Representative George Mahon announced that the White House has nominated Calvin H. (Frank) Raullerson for the post of Assistant Administrator, Agency for International Development (AID), U.S. Department of State.

Raullerson, who is executive director of the International Center for Arid and Semi-Arid Land Studies (ICASALS) at Texas Tech University, will soon be considered for confirmation by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

When confirmed by the Senate, Raullerson will take charge of the Bureau of Private and Development Cooperation with AID. The bureau includes the Offices of Private and Voluntary Cooperation; Food for Peace; U.S. Foreign Disaster Assistance; Labor Affairs; Reimbursable Development Programs; and American Schools and Hospitals Abroad.

Raullerson's primary responsibility will be to encourage participation of non-governmental institutions in support of AID's development and humanitarian objectives.

He is perhaps the most senior federal government nominee in the history of the university, according to Dr. Charles Hardwick, vice president for academic affairs at Texas Tech.

Before coming to Texas Tech in August 1973, Raullerson served as Regional Director for Peace Corps operations in Africa for three years, with offices in Washington, D.C. During the three years in the Peace Corps he received several commendations from the State Department, including one for successfully negotiating the withdrawal of 120 Peace Corps volunteers from Uganda.

Born in Utica, New York, Raullerson received his bachelor's degree in political science and economics from Lincoln University, Pennsylvania, in 1943. In 1949 he received his master's in public administration from New York University, following a one-year period of graduate study at Harvard University during 1945-46.

At Texas Tech University he served as executive assistant to the dean of the Medical School, special assistant to the president for

THIRTY-FIVE CITY EMPLOYEES WILL BE AFFECTED BY BUDGET BY CITY

City Manager Larry Cunningham said today that the 35 employees that would be affected by discontinuing brush collection in October will be given first preference to fill vacancies in other city departments.

"We plan to do everything in our power to absorb these employees into our work force so they can maintain the benefits they have earned during their years of service with the city," Cunningham said.

The city manager has placed a hold on hiring those positions that sanitation workers would most likely be eligible for. This will preserve those vacancies until actual transfer to other departments can begin.

The city's personnel department has already started to determine the skills and qualifications of the 35 sanitation workers so they can be matched up with available positions in other departments.

Any person who cannot be placed in another city department will be assisted by the personnel department to find other employment in Lubbock, Cunningham said.

The City Council Tuesday proposed discontinuing brush collection throughout the city as one means of reducing taxes this year for all property owners.

What looked like a loss of $300,000 for 279 Title VI workers, who were told their jobs would be terminated by Friday, August 4, was termed "a mistake" on Wednesday, August 2, by Truett Mayes, executive director of the South Plains Association of Governments.

On Friday, July 28, counselors, who are the spokesmen between CETA and the employers, from the CETA Title VI Program told employers of clients, who are temporarily financed through federal funds which come out of the CETA Program, that they would need to look for other ways to fund the workers. The funds were no longer available, according to an apparent directive given to the counselors last week, sources said.

The Lubbock Avalanche-Journal on Monday, July 31, quoted Juanita Forbes, director of the CETA Program, as saying that "Title VI is undergoing a phase-out that over the next two months could result in the closure of 279 federally financed jobs."

She said, "No one is going to be fired. We can keep them on until we run out of money, but our concern is that those people get jobs. We don't want them thrown back into the labor force."

According to Tom Witt, director of personnel for the City of Lubbock, a CETA

UPAL MEETINGS HERE EVERY MONDAY

Some of East Lubbock's citizens are taking interest in East Lubbock's condition and have formed an organization of it's behalf. We have decided that if we want help, we must first help ourselves. We are having meetings every second Monday to work out plans for the betterment of East Lubbock.

The board of directors are yet to be elected.

Come now while the objectives are being defined and amended. The pending objectives are written as follows:

Section 1: The name of the organization shall be the United Political Action League (UPAL).

Section 2: The purposes for which this league is formed are to reconstruct political opportunities for minorities; to serve as official liaison between voters and voter registration committees; to educate the community of all political issues, local, state and national; to groom minority candidates for public office; to endorse those candidates who, in the opinion of this organization, best represents the interest of minorities; and to use power of the ballot to achieve the goals and objectives of the United Political Action League. The United Political Action League is a politically oriented organization.

If you are a member of the East Lubbock Community, you need to be at Carter's Chapel CME Church, located at 420 North Quirt adjacent to Estacado High School, Monday August 14. This meeting will be held for one hour 8 to 9 p.m.

On Wednesday evening, August 2, Mayes sent a letter to Witt explaining that the workers would not be dropped from the program, but phased out over the next two months.

Archie Bottoms, with Community Relations, said that he also received word on Friday, July 28, that the workers were out of jobs by August 4, unless Community Relations could find a means to fund them. He said he met with the CETA director, Juanita Forbes, on Monday afternoon, but was not clear on the final decision. He would have lost 10 workers.

According to Vivian Williams, deputy director of CETA, she will be re-accessing the funds available for the CETA Program to see exactly where the program

Maria, born in Tepetonga, Zacatecas, Mexico, will enter Antioch School of Law in Washington, D.C., this fall.

Each month, the YWCA selects an outstanding woman or girl as "Woman of the Year". Contributions to the community is one of the requirements for being honored. A picture and a brief description of their activities are displayed in the foyer of the YWCA, 35th and Flint.

Joan Crawford, a sixth grade teacher and a member of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority; and Rose Lincoln, a teacher at Alderson Junior High School and a member of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, are among the many women who have been recognized by the YWCA.

Persons can be nominated by calling the YWCA office at 792-2723, or Margaret Randle, membership chairman, at 799-3014.

Congratulations, Maria, and keep up the good work.

MEETINGS ON TAP HERE

"THIS 'N THAT" - ABOUT - People - Places - Things

One of the many delegates to the Summer Convocation of the Church of God in Christ here last week was Elder Leroy Cleaver of Wichita Falls, Texas. While here, he stopped in the home of his aunt, Mrs. Hannah Lee Patterson. Mrs. Patterson traveled back to Wichita Falls, her former residence, with him for a few days. Bishop J.E. Alexander, pastor of the Ford Memorial Church of God in Christ, was presiding bishop of the meeting which brought many people from throughout the state of Texas. The meeting was held at the Lubbock Civic Center.

It appears as though Blacks are going to start using a facility which was built for all citizens of this city. It's about time.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Mason and sons of Houston, Texas spent several days here visiting his father, Mr. J.B. Mason. The Masons left Wednesday for their home. They worshipped at Bethel A.M.E. Church last Sunday morning. Mr. J.B. Mason were in attendance with them. The Masons reported a wonderful short stay in the "Hub City."

Mrs. Jessie Johnson has enjoyed her sister visiting with her for the past three weeks. She is Mrs. Johnnie Bell of Bryant, Texas. She left for home last Thursday. "Boy, did I have a good time," she said before leaving.

Mr. and Mrs. R.L. Ludd and sons of California are visiting relatives and friends here this week. They are stopping with her mother on Teak Avenue. The Ludds, who are subscribers to the "Digest", always enjoy visiting relatives and friends here.

Mrs. Nellie Fuller of Cleburne, Texas was here saying hello to friends here this week. She was enroute home from Hobbs, New Mexico. She has been visiting with her sisters and brother there. One of her sisters, Bertha, has been quite ill. One thing about these sisters, they will surely stand by each other when one is ill or shut in. An example was the devoted concern for their sister, Mrs. Leaner Goldstein, before her death.

This is great!!

Delegates to the Northwest Annual Conference of the African Methodist Episcopal Church and the 75th Annual Session of the West Texas District Association will be arriving here for their meetings at Bethel and New Hope, host churches, on Monday evening. Let's show our good old West Texas hospitality when all these good people come to town. There will be people here from all over the state and other states.

We wish all these people the best of luck and may the host churches be great host.

Ms. Linda Henderson had surgery last week. She is in room 253 of the University Hospital. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Beatty.

Mrs. W.M. Cox said goodbye to her many friends here last week. She had been a resident of Lubbock for 49 years. She moved back to her home, Waco, Texas. Her memories and work will linger here as well as New Hope Baptist Church. She will be greatly missed in our community.

Due to illness, Rev. A.L. Dunn was unable to be at his post of duty on last Sunday. The Rev. W.A. Terry filled the pulpit for him.

Mrs. Lucy Etta Colvin, former local educator and resident of Lubbock, has moved back home. She is glad to be back home.

Also visiting with the Colvins was Mrs. Jewelene Salone and son, Bryan, both of Austin. They enjoyed their short stay here also in the "Hub City."

We will never forget her contribution to our community years back when she saw a need for a debutante ball for the young Black sisters of our community. As we suggested to her then, why not have it every year instead of every other year. Again, Mrs. Colvin, what do you think about every year. We realize you are not residing here, but who knows you may come back one day.

Mr. Jessie Hemanas was released from Methodist Hospital last Friday. He is

GARNETT CHORAL ENSEMBLE SINGING HERE THIS MONTH

Garnett Lee

Members of the Garnett Choral Ensemble Singers will sing a variety of programs this month.

Garnett Lee, director, says thank you to Brother A.L. Smith and the Federation of Choirs, Rev. A.L. Davis, and the Greater Saint Luke Baptist Church for allowing the singers to appear on Sunday, July 23 and July 27, in the Preach-A-RAMA, along with Rev. Benjamin reported to be doing nicely at his home.

Roberts who brought a dynamic message.

His subject was: "There Going To Be A Pay Day", Romans 6:23.

We are still looking forward to singing at the New Hope Baptist Church, Rev. A.L. Dunn, pastor, in the opening of the 75th Annual Session of the West Texas District Association, August 7th. The organization will also participate August 13 in the Second Youth Led Revival. On August 14, the group will sing at the Hope Deliverance Church of God in Christ, Elder Charles Tanner, pastor. The theme for this program will be "Soul Outreach Revival."

The public is always invited to come out and hear this group at any of these programs in our city this month.

REP. SALINAS CALLS FOR AMENDMENT

State Representative Froy Salinas joined 97 House colleagues in co-sponsoring HCR 13 by Von Dohlen, calling for an amendment to the United States Constitution requiring a balanced annual federal budget and the amortization of the federal debt. The resolution was passed unanimously by the House last week.

The resolution has the active support of all major state officials, including Gov. Dolph Eriscoe, Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, Speaker Bill Clayton, and Attorney General John Hill. The resolution specifically requests the members of the Texas Congressional delegation to sponsor the amendment and work for its submission to the states.

Representative Salinas said, "The federal debt has increased by $177 billion in the past three years alone. Runaway spending at the federal level is largely responsible for the inflation that has gripped this country for years. The disgruntled attitude Texas taxpayers have today is aimed more at their frustration with what is happening at the federal level than problems here in Texas. It is past time that we Texans, with our history of a 'pay as you go' government act responsibly and live within its budget as each of us must do."

Police Happenings

were valued at $150. According to the police report, the car was parked in the parking lot of the Hilton Inn. The Black sister, who is a chef there, was rather unhappy on what happened.

BURGLARY

Phillis Stiggers, 1001 East 28th Street, Apt. 19, reported to Lubbock police that persons unknown broke into her apartment by breaking the back door glass.

Once inside, the persons took a 19 inch color television set and an electric stereo. These items were valued at approximately $400.

What is strange about this case is that police report reveals that the sister waited five days before she reported the incident. Gee, Sister Stiggers, you should always report things like this when it happens. By the time you made the report, the person responsible could have pawned the items or taken them out of the country. Think, sister!!

BURGLARY OF VEHICLE

Charles Edwin Henry, 2623 East Auburn Ave., reported to Lubbock police that a young fellow was responsible for breaking into his car while it was parked in his driveway early Saturday morning. His son discovered what was going on as he returned home from work.

The youth, who was apparently responsible and arrested by police, fled the scene. He was followed by Henry and the police where he was caught in an alley.

After his arrest, keys to Henry's car were found on his person. The youth also had an assortment of pens and pencils and a tube of glue on him. These items were in Henry's car.

According to police, the youth apparently used a coat hanger to gain entry to the vehicle.

He was taken to the police department where he was turned over to juvenile officers.

DISORDERLY CONDUCT

Clarence Ervin, 2806 Walnut Ave., was in his front yard early Saturday morning holding a rifle on a suspect. The suspect, a juvenile, was sitting down on the ground. All of this seen by police when they arrived.

According to the police report, Ervin told police that he was about to go to bed when a witness told him of the youth looking through a window of Ervin.

The witness told police that their house was apparently being attempted to be broken into the night before. It is believed that the youth caught by Ervin is the person responsible for attempting this breakin the night before.

The youth was taken to the police department where he was turned over to juvenile officers.

This is the second case this week where our young Black brothers are attempting to hurt other Blacks. It is time for these parents to talk to those kids before something bad happens to them.

BURGLARY OF CHURCH

U.H. Jackson, a minister of the Church of the Living God of Fort Worth, 2510 Birch Ave., reported problems to the police one day last week.

He told police that the church had been broken into.

Taken from the church were an air conditioner and a Holy Bible. These items were valued at approximately $250. The air conditioner was taken from the window of the church.

Brother Jackson told police that he believes he knows who was responsible for taking the church's property. He believes the incident is

BURGLARY OF HABITATION

Savanah White, 2502 Weber Drive, Apt. D, was a very unhappy sister one day last week. She reported to the Lubbock police that someone unknown reached inside the mail slot in the front door and opened her door.

Once inside, the unknown person took a sting ray bicycle which was valued at $75.

It is interesting to know that someone can reach through a mail slot and open the sister's door. This person must have been a version of the 'plastic man.' Anyway, she says that's the way it was done.

CAR BURGLARY

Franklin Lee Rutherford, 5525 4th Street, 27, reported to Lubbock police that persons unknown broke out the left door glass of her car one day last week to gain entry. Once inside, the unknown person took a black case which contained fourteen eight-track tapes. These tapes

WHY NOT

By Eddie P. Richardson

POLITICALLY SPEAKING

Black People have been deaf, dumb, blind, asleep, crazy, brain-washed and as Brother Andrew Young says "Political Prisoners." Not only political prisoners but economic prisoners, social prisoners, and enslaved in a mental jail of debration, despair, poverty, ignorance, indifference, hatred and every disadvantage conceivable since our arrival on this continent.

So good to see us begin to break the shackles, start thinking, acting and charting the courses of our destinies. One point in mine is the recent meeting with top Democrats and Blacks when Blacks stood up and laid the cards on the table. We don't owe you, you owe us, you haven't helped us, we have helped and made you, you haven't been tokens or pawns of us, but us of you. The same address goes to the Republicans. We have not overlooked and ignored you, you have ignored and overlooked us. We are coming of age now. No one can overlook us or take us for granted any more. We may have to tell you both to go to Hell if you will not listen to or at least try to meet some of our needs. We may throw our support behind some splinter party or form our own. Whatever we can most benefit from. Why not???

BUSING—A HOT ISSUE

We hear so much about Busing lately...Funny thing is Busing is not new...another funny thing is the crying did not start until four percent of the nation's children were bused for racial reasons.

Busing started over two hundred years ago. Strange, isn't it, that the noise only started a decade or so ago. The first busses were horse drawn. One of the major or the major reason was to take American children out of the one room eight grades sometimes one teacher school in the rural areas into the nearest metropolitan school to have access to better lab and other equipment. Nothing said over 60 percent of American school children are bused across the nation daily for various reasons. Funny thing when this 4 percent racial balance started so many right wing racists proposed of protest started it wasn't an issue when Blacks walked miles past various schools even when no one thought enough of them to provide busing. Then as time progressed, they were afforded the luxury of being bused across town and some counties but still no one hollered until the four percent for racial balance was started. Someone needs to be realistic and make sense about busing if busing is going to be a way of life lets accept it and be quiet and if we do not want busing let's stop it period for what ever reason agreed with or opposed. If we stop busing, take away the racial balance part and think of all the reasons America's children are bused we will set this country centuries behind. Let's look at the total picture and get off these petty racial hang-ups. Why not????

Thus while blacks may take pre-1964 discrimination on a case-by-case basis before the courts, women are given no relief. The problem is serious; and should be seen to have merit simply on its face. Discrimination against women is far more widespread statistically than discrimination against racial minorities. Long-range economic consequences and the short-term social effects of discrimination against women may not be as devastating as racial discrimination. Nonetheless, this represents no reason to overlook the thoroughly unjust nature of its practice.

One half of our population is women while only some 20 to 25 percent of our population is comprised of other "affected classes," who are held by public law to have been disadvantaged historically as the result of discrimination.

Perhaps the greatest problem before the Supreme Court, in the case of discrimination against women, is what appears to be the practical one of possibly imposing upon our social and economic structure an unpopular decision with widespread social consequences.

The cases involving discrimination against women could effectively revolutionize (or literally "turn around" the direction of) or society which, at present, as in the past, has been far more sexist than it has been racist.

What we know today as discrimination against women, or sexism, has not always been discriminatory in either intent or practice. In non-technological societies, economic survival for all history has been best insured by having persons work collectively, in small groups, most often familial in nature.

In some parts of Africa and Asia today where women do the farming, farm lands are inherited through the women who represent the nearest approximation to both capitalists and technicians.

What is suggested here is that what has gradually evolved into discrimination against women, often called sexism, has neither been precipitous nor deliberate. Hence no doubt much of the inability of a large part of the public to see sexist practices as discriminatory; and hence perhaps also much of the reluctance of the courts to trigger adjustments in practices which, at least until the present, have not created major social upheavals or political unrest.

LONG ROAD TO SEXUAL EQUALITY

In a 7-to-2 decision, the U.S. Supreme Court ruled that seniority systems are not necessarily unconstitutional unless they have been found to be deliberately discriminatory in terms of intent.

The ruling effectively gave approval to all seniority systems in existence before the 1964 Civil Rights Act. But perhaps its most far-reaching consequence related to the claims of women whose discrimination on the basis of sex should be adjusted. The high court did not address these claims.

Thus while blacks may take pre-1964 discrimination on a case-by-case basis before the courts, women are given no relief. The problem is serious; and should be seen to have merit simply on its face.

In some parts of Africa and Asia today where women do the farming, farm lands are inherited through the women who represent the nearest approximation to both capitalists and technicians.

What is suggested here is that what has gradually evolved into discrimination against women, often called sexism, has neither been precipitous nor deliberate. Hence no doubt much of the inability of a large part of the public to see sexist practices as discriminatory; and hence perhaps also much of the reluctance of the courts to trigger adjustments in practices which, at least until the present, have not created major social upheavals or political unrest.

PUBLIC PERSECUTION

A review of The Grand Jury: An Institution On Trial by Marvin E. Frankel and Gary P. Naftalis (Hill and Wang, New York) 148 pages —$5.95

This eloquent essay ought to be read by every thoughtful black American. After the unconscionable Grand Jury persecution of U.S. Representative William Clay, black Democrat of St. Louis, Missouri, black Americans should be more than alarmed and angered. We should all gird ourselves for ridding our nation's legal system of an inequitable and obsolescent appendage, long overdue for extinction.

The two writers have been praised by legal scholars and by others—and deservedly so. They have presented an eloquently, clearly-written, persuasive and yet cautious indictment of a system which serves not the ends of justice but rather the prosecutor's whims and caprice.

Read this remarkably fine book for fun or as a civic duty. In either case, you will be amply rewarded.

CAUCUS TESTIMONY ON WELFARE REFORM
Part XI of Eleven Parts

(This series is designed to share the fullest views of the Congressional Black Caucus on the President's comprehensive welfare reform proposals. We trust that our readers will make concrete suggestions to the Caucus as to how Welfare may be truly reformed or, if feasible, effectively abolished in a "guaranteed work" opportunity society.)

Federal government is less than the cost to the states for providing cash assistance. Therefore, there is no incentive for the state to provide supplementary cash assistance that will at least equal what is available under the current program.

You may write to your Congressmen and Senators at: Congressional Office Building, Washington, D.C. 20515 or Senate Office Building, Washington, D.C. 20510. Please congratulate them for their important work and let them know where Black America stands on crucial issues.

Eyeing Inflation's Causes

WASHINGTON—Inflation is no longer an economic indicator charted only by sophisticated observers of the world's money markets.

These days, inflation is a household word and its ups and downs have to be reckoned with by everyone—consumer as well as businessman.

To most Texans this summer, watching inflation's barometers has become just about as important as watching the West Texan horizon for rain clouds.

The reason is inflation has risen again to alarming rates. That spells bad news and more belt tightening ahead when cutting back already has become a way of life for many.

Rising prices, brought under control by late 1975, are gaining a full head of steam again. Latest figures indicate that inflation by the end of the first four months of the year skyrocketed to nearly 10%.

And just as the return to nearly double digit inflation was as unexpected as it was damaging to the economy, predictions by the Administration that it will recede in coming months have no credibility.

Quite simply, no one—and least of all government—has been able to come up with a magic formula to hold inflation down. At the moment it seems to be steering its own course.

Some of the most alarming indicators have centered on food prices. In this critical area, inflation has gone wild. It's doubtful that if you've set foot in a grocery store, you are unaware of the problem. For the record, though, in the first four months of the year, grocery prices jumped 18%.

That of course means that the family's bread winner who paid $60 for food last December now will be devoting $70 of the weekly paycheck to the shopping basket, and yet will be getting no more for the dollar.

That is a particularly irksome development for families. While their purchasing power has dwindled, the taxes they pay for everything from sewer use to social security have multiplied enormously to pay for the cost of big government to do business.

The biggest spur to inflation, of course, is the Federal government itself, which continues the very practices and policies it points to as the reason for inflation, government spending chief among them. The Federal government's deficit this year is nearing $60 billion and the Administration's budget request amounts to a half-trillion dollars. It's small wonder that taxpayers have so little faith in government's promises to hold the line on inflation. That's a little like the Anopheles mosquito denouncing malaria. Several developments may change all that though. Proposition 13 has forced a new awareness of the need for government to set spending priorities and then stick to them. Otherwise taxpayers won't think twice about setting the priorities at the voting booth.

Another requirement is broad-based tax reduction.

Many of us in the Senate have fought to enact legislation providing for a 33% across-the-board tax reduction. It would return a measure of buying power to individuals, stimulate economic growth, and hasten the creation of productive jobs.

These will help enormously. But before inflation will be brought to its knees, Uncle Sam must admit that up to now, government has been part of the problem, not part of the solution.

(From time to time, this writer will give a tongue and cheek approach to some of the latest sports developments in our community, region, state and nation. These briefs, in my opinion, will be very candid and to the point. At times, it is the hope of this column, briefs and all, that the local situation will change in the area of utilizing young Blacks in the sports arena.)

"DEMP'S SPORTS BRIEFS"

World Champion Cowboys running back situation which is always a nagging question is just as in years gone by...Look like running back PRESTON PEARSON has his problem "I ran out" and is ready to do pretty much the same thing as last year...only this time, there are two more new faces...one of whom is TODD CHRISTENSEN who happens to be Black.

Not one Black collegiate was named in the recent opening of the College Hall of Fame, but as always, they will show their magic with the pigskin this fall. Let's watch to see if credit is given when credit is due...

In District 3-AAA, a new football arrangement for those "fighting" DUNBAR PANTHERS and ESTACADO MATADORS...It appears as though neither team, according to the "SO CALLED SPORTS EXPERTS", was picked to finish on top in their district. (Isn't that something else, but time will tell). Although Dumas is the choice of most sportswriters, this team from DUMAS will have a tuff time finishing on top of the heat...This writer would advise all to think PANTHERS AND MATADORS.....

Should those TEXAS TECH RED RAIDERS win over USC, look out SOUTHWEST CONFERENCE. No question about it, TECH has a difficult schedule ahead of them. All the thanks for such a great schedule should be given to JIM CARLEN, former Red Raider mentor who wanted the world to know that he was here. It's not your fault, Coach Dockery. Just hang in there...

LEE ELDER finished fifth in the Phillie Classic, he shoots off the lead to pick up $7,781. Last week, ELDER birded three of the last four holes to go in to second place, only to fall back into a three way tie for second place at 16 under par. ELDER'S eight foot put for par was missed on the last hole, NO. 18. This miss costed him about $9.70 per foot...a difference of $7,700. Better luck next year, LEE.

Can you believe this, but MARSHALL TAYLOR, SR. fired a two day round in the Fifth Flight to the Men's City Tournament. This fine shooting gave BROTHER TAYLOR a third place. MARSHALL is the only one of several Black golfers to come through...Nice going, MARSHALL. Are you about ready for your teacher????

THE ELEMENTS How They Relate To The Signs Of The Zodiac

VIRGO — The Mutable Earth Sign...

The mutable signs are the ones that come at the end of seasons, and represent Nature's way of changing from one season to the other. These are the signs which are most capable of accepting change. People born under these signs seem to be the most excitable people.

Of the four mutable signs, Virgo is the least difficult to understand because it is part of the Earth triplcity. Unlike other nutable—Sagittarius, Gemini and Pisces (which are Fire, Air and Water, in that order)—Virgos seem to have some of the attributes of both cardinal and fixed. They can adapt themselves to the natures of both of those signs and, consequently, may seem unstable. This also can certainly be said of the other three mutable signs mentioned. Being an earth sign, the restlessness that usually comes at the end of seasons is somewhat subdued in Virgo.

Unlike the other Earth signs which were discussed in earlier articles, Virgos do not appear as serious because of their adaptability and practicality. Their deep sense of analogy gives them an over and over view of seriousness. However, when these traits are negative, because of inharmonious planets in a chart, Virgos can disturb the environment by seeking to make for perfection, in an imperfect world.

TRAVEL AND RECREATION

ARIES — March 21-April 19
You may find yourself too busy in your work or career to have much recreational activity during this period...even though travel to distant places is a lue. However, if you can travel, it will be both psychologically and financially advantageous. Distance is also connected with romance for many Arians. There are plenty of opportunities to travel for pleasure, if only for a weekend; so grab these mini-vacations when you can, during this hectic time. Acquaintances you meet while traveling will prove friendly and beneficial.

TAURUS — April 20-May 20
This is a favorable time for travel, getting in touch with relatives and spending summer holidays with family members and building lasting friendships with new acquaintances you meet. In fact, now through the fall months is a good period for entertainment in all areas for Taureans. Many of you are on the move now and are sensitive to what brings you pleasure where friends, hobbies and avocational pursuits are concerned. Some major changes are in store among your circle of friends and associates, as you seek greener pastures this year.

GEMINI — May 21-June 20
This is a richly emotional year for you; your capacity to enjoy yourself and share that joy with others will bring rewarding experiences. Travel takes on particular importance and, although it may be in connection with your work, you'll find the time for enjoyable pastimes as you mix business and pleasure. There will be plenty of opportunities for short trips and vacations from your work routine. You derive pleasure from hobbies, avocations and such that may bring you into contact with people destined to play influential roles in your career.

CANCER — June 21-July 22
Take advantage of every opportunity to expand your horizons through travel during this period. Distance is especially significant and favorable for you now. Expect many invitations and chances to spend time indulging in pleasurable pursuits that contribute to your financial security. But say no to social situations that tend to bore you and at which you feel you are wasting your time. You are ready for fresh and interesting experiences through changes that are manifesting themselves. Meet the challenges head on rather than resist alterations to your life.

LEO — July 23-August 22
Short vacations on weekends at nearby locales (which you may not have had time to visit till now) can be romantic or inspirational...if you can find the time to fit them into your busy schedule. But with luck running in your direction now, these pleasure jaunts could unexpectedly fatten your bank account through fortunate chance meetings and encounters. Your spirits should be riding high in general, enabling you to project happiness, good will, generosity and optimism. Take frequent time off from work activity to enjoy your life.

VIRGO — August 23-September 22
Many of the tried and true recreational outlets you formerly participated in may seem boring to you now during this major turning point in your life. Friendships can be a major source of pleasure in this period of personality changes, and you'll find that they are on your side through crucial decisions. On July 26 Saturn entered your sign for an approximate two-and-a-half year stay, bringing about serious decisions that you'll have to make about your image to others, as you embark on a new road of personal ambitions.

LIBRA — September 23-October 22
Your home is apt to be an unusually prominent source of pleasure. A move or redecorating may be in the offing. Furthermore, you may be involved with an unusual number of people. The social whirl, travel and communication through writing and long-distance telephoning (in connection with business) all could enable you to reap rich benefits. Destiny is gearing

WANTS TO HELP YOUNG BLACKS

OSSIE CURRY

What started out as a hobby five years ago has proven to be a most rewarding career. These are the words of a young Black businessman in our community. He is Ossie Curry, who was recently featured in this newspaper as a "Young Black Businessman."

Over the past few years, he has received many awards with his creative work being seen in various exhibits. "My challenge to Black people is that if they have a talent, don't just sit on it. Use it! There are many opportunities for the young and the old. If you have any kind of a talent and you need some advise or help, contact the Lubbock Digest or me," says Curry.

He continues: "If you are interested in crafts, I will be glad to share my ideals with you. Older Blacks should become more concerned with our younger people. We must stop being selfish, and help and encourage our young people."

"The existing businesses in our community—mortician, dentist, electrician and all other professions should reach out and give a helping hand. We should even have workshops or whatever it takes to help other people. I am a National Business League (NBL) member and I challenge all other Black business men and women to become a member after the recent seminar held here. I feel bad now that my eyes have been open. When I look around and see our young people going to waste.

"The future is now. Let's do something positive and constructive with it. I challenge all young people to take a stand now. Tomorrow will be too late. Now is the time to become involved with your community in activities to help the community develop. Since the older Blacks have contributed nothing to the economic structure, it is up to our youth to take a firm positive stand NOW!! Not tomorrow.

Let's remember, a mind is a terrible thing to lose. Young people, start saving your money and stop throwing it away. Start thinking about going into business for yourself. You don't have to have a lease around your neck unless you choose to do so. Young people need to think of becoming business people, rather than hustlers and pimps."

"Young hustlers, I challenge you to hustle your legitimate business and see the pride you will have with us. The fear you now have is running from the law is your present situation," concludes Curry.

CETA

stands on Friday, August 4.

She said that she did not think the directive to fire the workers came from the CETA office. She said the Department of Labor had met last week to discuss the phase-out of Title VI. She said the Department of Labor was allowing the program to continue with planning, no funds, through December.

According to Mayes, "Probably some of our counselors heard the talk like this about the phase-out and in this light went to the employers."

He added that CETA plans to use 100 percent of the funds, but that the people hired as sustaining workers will be the first to go.

"You have to remember," Mayes said, "They (workers) knew it was a temporary program. That's why there are special projects."

Williams said, "We are planning to keep them on for as long as the money lasts—we're looking at that on Friday (August 4)."

Neither were able to say where the program stands financially at this point. Miss Forbes, the CETA director, was out of town at a Department of Labor meeting.

Mayes said, "Actually, we're reacting from demands from the Department of Labor."

He said that the Department of Labor called for a hiring of additional workers earlier in the year to help lower the unemployment rate, but that inflation is now a problem, so the workers are being phased-out. Mayes said that the workers on special projects will be given 30-day notices prior to their termination to comply with the law.

According to the modification of Title VI program, dated June 9, passed by the full SPAG board on June 13 and signed by the president of the board, 277 (197 regular and 80 sustaining) were supposed to be carried through Sept. 30 on an average monthly salary of approximately $650, that would amount to approximately $350,000 in wages and salaries for participants for the time of the "rumored close-out" on August 4 to the official end of the fiscal year, Sept. 30. (This modification was published one week before the alleged firing of participants and the public was invited to respond.)

According to Williams, CETA uses the budget as a guideline for implementation of the program.

MUST HAVE SIGNATURES!!

A few days ago, the Lubbock Digest received a most interesting letter from a person who claims to be a member of a concerned organization in the area of professional nursing. The facts, in the letter, made a lot of sense, and are criticisms we've heard before. The letter made a lot of sense!

The letter, as stated was great, but we can't print this letter because there was no signature there. The letter, in closing, did sign itself as an organization. In the first paragraph, however, the letter stated that it was against the ethics of the professional nursing to sign such a letter.

In essence, the letter dealt with the attitudes of patients at various hospitals in Lubbock. We believe this kind of information should be passed on to members of the boards of directors and administrators of hospitals in Lubbock. In time to come, this paper will make this letter known to those persons in position in the various hospitals in Lubbock. After reading this letter, perhaps they can see the frustrations received from Black and Brown professional nurses in Lubbock.

If the writer of this letter would contact us and give permission, by signing her name, we will make it known to the citizens of Lubbock.

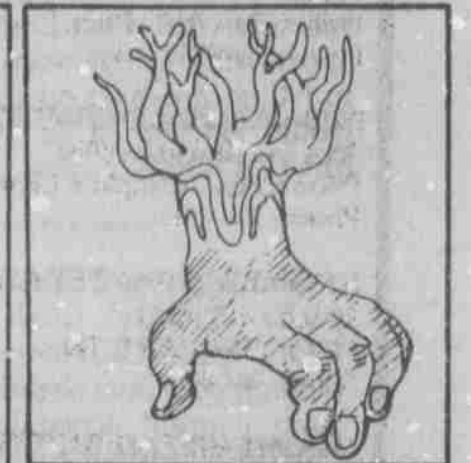

It is a good letter, but we need the name of the person who wrote it.

We have to have a signature on all letters. The writer can request we withhold their name but for our protection and records all letters must have a signature. This is true with all newspapers and magazines.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

CITIZENS OF TWO WORLDS

ACTS 21:27-36

27 When the seven days were almost completed, the Jews from Asia, who had seen him in the temple, stirred up all the crowd, and laid hands on him.

28 crying out, "Men of Israel, help! This is the man who is teaching men everywhere against the people and the law and this place; moreover he also brought Greeks into the temple, and he has defiled this holy place."

29 For they had previously seen Trophimus the Ephesian with him in the city, and they supposed that Paul had brought him into the temple.

30 Then all the city was aroused, and the people ran together; they seized Paul and dragged him out of the temple, and at once the gates were shut.

31 And as they were trying to kill him, word came to the tribune of the cohort that all Jerusalem was in confusion.

32 He at once took soldiers and centurions, and ran down to them; and when they saw the tribune and the soldiers, they stopped beating Paul.

33 Then the tribune came up and arrested him, and ordered him to be bound with two chains. He inquired who he was and what he had done.

34 Some in the crowd shouted one thing, some another; and as he could not learn the facts because of the uproar, he ordered him to be brought into the barracks.

35 And when he came to the steps, he was actually carried by the soldiers, because of the violence of the crowd;

36 for the mob of the people followed crying, "Away with him!"

ACTS 25:11-12

11 If then, I am a wrongdoer, and have committed anything for which I deserve to die, I do not seek to escape death; but if there is nothing in their charges against me, no one can give up to them. I appeal to Caesar."

12 Then Festus, when he had conferred with his council, answered, "You have appealed to Caesar; to Caesar; to Caesar you shall go."

"This is what missionary work is all about," said Mrs. Midred K. Lusk, a member of the Ma Jones Missionary Society who was responsible for the Fifth Sunday services. Mrs. Rose Lincoln brought the day's message. Her subject was "Love." In her presentation, Mrs. Lincoln talked about other areas of our lives. She was concerned that persons present would take a second look at the word love, and tie it into the areas of brotherhood, faith, and preparation.

Senior Choir Number Two, under the direction of Mrs. Bobbie Patterson, was responsible for the music of the hour.

Our pastor, Rev. A.W. Wilson, pronounced the benediction. He also met with the men of the church. Our pastor shows a willingness and strength to continue his work as our pastor.

Thought of the Week: "To learn well, we must listen closely."

Lyons Chapel Baptist

We had several of our young people to journey to Happy, Texas to attend the Ceta Canyon United Methodist Camp. They left here Friday, July 28th, at 12:30 p.m., by Greyhound Bus. On Friday night, they were honored to have Johnny Ray Watson to sing for them and to give a personal testimony. On Saturday morning, they divided into different group sessions for their Bible teaching. We were told that one of the main subjects was "Holy Spirit", and what it does to help us, like giving us patience, love, kindness, and faithfulness. It is quite obvious that the group truly had a good time. For recreation, they had swimming, hiking, volleyball, hula-hoop contests, and camp fire singing.

They had forty-eight youth and sixteen counselors to attend. Rev. Larry Brooks and Vicky Brooks were also counselors. This is sponsored each year by the Trinity Ministry Center. Camp director is Cliff Attaway. We feel this group should be commended for their dedication and loyalty in their work in bringing youth to Christ.

We are looking forward to the New Year Association which will be held August 8th through 11th here at Lyons Chapel Baptist Church. The host will be New Jerusalem Baptist Church, Rev. Adolphus Cleveland, pastor. Let us remember to support our contestant, Petra McCooper, in the pageant.

The date for the trip to Six Flags has been changed due to the Association. We will be leaving Friday, August 18th. We are still selling tickets to raffle off a portable black and white television set. Tickets are $1.00 each. Your support will be appreciated. Let us continue to pray for our sick and shut in members of the church and community. Also pray for our bereaved families.

MONT GILEAD BAPTIST

Last Sunday, we had a great time worshipping the Lord. It was Women's Day.

Sunday, August 6, at 3 p.m., we are to worship with Rev. Roy Jones and church at New Home, Texas.

The second Sunday, August 13, at 3 p.m. we will begin our Appreciation Services for Rev. S.R. Roberts. It is to be held for four days. Those dates are Sunday, August 13; Thursday, August 17; Friday, August 18; and ending on Sunday, August 20, at 3 p.m.

Let us continue to pray for and visit our sick and shut in members of the community.

TRIUMPH BAPTIST Slaton, Texas

Services were well attended last Sunday morning with our pastor, Rev. M.A. Brown, delivering a dynamic message. His sermon was about giving thanksgiving and rejoicing unto God. It was taken from Psalm 69:30 and Psalm 107:22.

The pastor would like to thank the congregation for accompanying him to the thirty-third Annual Session of the Lovely Sunset Baptist District held in Midland, Texas. An enjoyable time was held by all in attendance.

The church would like to ask that we pray and visit our sick and shut in members of the church and city.

the results of a splitting of the congregation over an argument about the preacher recently.

Brother Jackson told police that other items were missing earlier, but he did not file charges. One of those items taken was a piano. "I didn't file charges then, but I'm going to file charges now," said Brother Jackson.

Of course, this is church business and we hope they will resolve this difference without the man coming in and arresting a brother or sister because of differences with the preacher and the congregation. As Black people, we can handle our church business, Can't we????

Since February 1976 he has been working as executive director of ICASALS, responsible for coordinating the Niger Cereals Project funded by AID. Four Texas Tech agriculture experts have been stationed in Niger for the last 18 months helping the West African nation with cereal production.

From 1966 to 1970, Raullerson was active in the Peace Corps serving as director of regional and national operations. Before that he held several senior positions in the American Society of African Culture (AM-SAC) and the United Negro College Fund.

During his high school and college years the White House nominee worked in a post office as dispatch clerk and on an "assembly line" in an ice cream factory.

Raullerson and his wife, Olive, live at 4005 68th Street. Mrs. Raullerson is director of Central Appointments and Registration, Texas Tech University School of Medicine. They have three children: Kevin Raullerson, a tight end at Saddleback Junior College, Mission Viejo, California; Mrs. Serge-Eric Pellaton, Cleveland, Ohio; and Earl H. Jones, Lubbock.

"While we shall miss Raullerson, Texas Tech University is honored by his opportunity to serve the government of the United States," President Cecil Mackey said. "He has been a valuable asset to the staff of this university. We wish him well in his new and important duties."

Dr. Harold E. Dregne, director of ICASALS, is commending Raullerson for his contributions to the university, noted the special role he played during last year's United Nations conference on Desertification at Nairobi, Kenya.

Raullerson was a member of the official United States Delegation to the conference, "where he played a key role in formulating U.S. policy toward global efforts aimed at combatting the spread of deserts," Dregne said.

Raullerson has been granted leave of absence from the university. Dean Anson R. Bertrand of the College of Agricultural Sciences at Texas Tech also commended Raullerson for implementing the university's international efforts, especially through his rapport with the Agency for International Development and the Consortium for International Development (CID). CID is a group of universities in the Western United States. Bertrand is the technical director of the Niger Cereal Project, a joint effort of the member-universities of CID.

Dr. Idris R. Traylor, deputy director of ICASALS, and Dr. Dregne will temporarily share Raullerson's responsibilities. Richard A. Lockwood, M.D., vice president of the Health Sciences Center at Texas Tech noted Raullerson's contribution during 1972-75 as executive assistant to the dean.

"The early years of a medical school are a time when everyone is filling multiple responsibilities. Raullerson earned respect for his ability to conceptualize and his easy going charm," Lockwood said, adding, "I could not be more delighted for Hank and Olive."

YOU AND THE STARS

you up for great changes. Variety and the spice of life are here, so join the parade; there is much activity of a bright, vivid nature to bring you joy and pleasure.

SCORPIO—October 23-November 22 You may have a new concept of what pleasure is during this period, as you derive pleasure from hobbies and seek to get more value from your spare time. Travel may also keep you on the go, affording you new and stimulating environments and people.

During this period, your home can also be a great source of happiness as family support lifts your spirits; you'll finally come to greater understanding, a sense of unity and feelings of mutual love. The Sun entering the sector of your chart related to friends projects interesting group associations near month's end.

SAGITTARIUS—November 23-December 21 Long distances are important to you this month either in connection with your work or for reasons other than recreation alone. Neptune's long stay in your sign gives you the wanderlust and visions of the better life. Those who are without family responsibility may pick up and move as travel is very much in the picture. A great number of you were able to seek new adventure through travel last year. However, during this period—as new awakenings of various psychic and spiritual insights evolve—you may travel figuratively, if not physically.

CAPRICORN—December 22-January 19 Creativity is stressed during this period and you can find yourself involved in new hobbies which bring pleasure as well as profit. Planetary line-ups keep you busy as a bee at this time and it should be one of the most joyous, fun-filled and brightest spells of the year. Travel can bring relations and friends back together through important events, or you may travel to locations to which you may later relocate. Jupiter is making it possible for you to journey to places near and far during these good-luck days.

AQUARIUS—January 20-February 19 This is a busy and exciting period for you as business and pleasure combine with travel to launch you into a career directions. This can mean meeting and entertaining influential new contacts in your home. Group endeavors can be vital to your private and professional status. Teaching or training others, working in therapeutic or social services, music, and decorating are some areas of interest that could mean additional income for you. You are more deeply into a social setting of your liking, which could lead to what you've been wanting from life.

PISCES — February 20-March 20

You can make work and pleasure one and the same during this period. You are now able, with self-discipline, to move from oppressive work to that which is more worthy of your talents and which you will love. Self-discipline merely means giving up bad habits. This new transition can be an adventure in itself, as it's coupled with new recreational outlets that present a wonderful way to relieve the tension of past months. Enjoy short jaunts near home base now, but be ready for a spectacular connection later in this period.
