GREEN FAIR UNDERGOES VAST REMODELING WITH SECURITY

Lubbock Housing Authority has taken what was termed a blighted area and turned it into a newly remodeled community living facility. Housing and Urban Development granted $690,000 to renovate the Green Fair project of 236 units. The facilities include new heating systems, flooring, insulation, screens, windows and panels. And, $49,319 from Community Development will provide security for the area from 5 p.m. to 7 a.m. Residents can call 763-3393 anytime day or night for assistance. The Housing Authority, which began in the mid 1960's is an independent organization subsidized by HUD. The rent for the 765 houses or apartments are based on income and size of family of the applicant. D.C. ## SIXTH TRIP TO PRISON

by Miss Tyndal A. Hollins

Recently, I journeyed to Leavenworth, Kansas with a group of people from the Beverly Hill Baptist Church of Dallas, Texas. This was six out of seven years I've traveled with this group. With a special talent for singing and witnessing, I have been all over the state of Texas visiting men and women, girls and boys in Huntsville, Gatesville, Brownville and Texarkana. My travel also includes visits to Oklahoma to the El Reno State Penitentiary. It appears that my most sincere interest lies with the men and women in Leavenworth's Federal Penitentiary, Honor Camps, Women's Unit, and the United States Disciplinary Barracks. Why? Because the men and women there have been there for long periods of time and it's like a family and "Praise the Lord" again. We are family to many, because families have forgotten and forsaken them. The love of Jesus is ministered unto all, and there are so many who accept Christ for a way out of prison, within themselves. It is so good to see men and women cry out for a Supreme Being for the "love" that often has been rejected to them all their lives. I feel as though the Lord has led me into a special ministry. For He said in His word, "to spread the good news to the free as well as the confined." Some say, why wait to be locked up to accept Jesus, or why wait until one is in trouble? But, there are so many of us who are walking around locked up within ourselves in a world of sin. The Lord has done great things, therefore, we rejoice. All the Glory and Honor goes to Christ Jesus, and through Him all things are possible. Praise ye the Lord!

SPAG DIRECTORS REJECT MIGRANT APPLICATION

A program to aid development of pre-school migrant children was voted down Tuesday by the South Plains Association of Governments Board of Directors. With Judge Rod Shaw abstaining, the board unanimously turned down the $1.4 million application by the Texas Migrant Council, Inc. According to TMC officials, the federal money would have benefited 1800 persons. At the November board meeting, Judge Henry Heck said, concerning the application, that he felt it was the family's responsibility to teach English. The board also reviewed a report from Juanita Forbes, CETA director, on the Hale County CETA program. Forbes concluded that Hale County CETA staff does not have copies of job descriptions; personnel folders are incomplete containing only time sheets; the director Robert Barnett is the only person bonded with Bonding and Workman's Compensation Insurance; staff is unaware of how to set up work experience and classroom training combination; no supportive services provided, and, no exit interview conducted. The board voted for the personnel committee to look into the situation. Forbes also reviewed the CETA progress reports. In other action, the board gave favorable comment to the Lubbock Independent School District Project Head Start, the Community Action Program, the environmental assessment of the Crosbyton Solar Power Project, Plainview wastewater collection analysis, and the regional alcoholism plan.

PUBLIC HEARING IN CITY COUNCIL TODAY

During the Fall, the City of Lubbock began the planning process for the use of Community Development Block Grant funds to be received in June, 1979. The Community Development Office conducted eleven neighborhood meetings and mailed out over 40,000 survey cards in an effort to gather citizen input and opinions concerning the use of CDBG money. Residents of Lubbock were asked to identify their neighborhood needs in terms of housing, neighborhood revitalization, public improvements, and facilities, and other community wide improvements. The Community Development Advisory, a twenty-three member committee, met during the past weeks to review all of the requests for CDBG funds received from neighborhood meetings, agencies, and city departments. The CDAC discussed all of the projects and prepared a recommendation on the 1979-82 years. This recommendation will be submitted to the Lubbock City Council on December 14, 1978 for discussion. The Lubbock City Council has the responsibility of allocating Community Development funds and will discuss the recommendations presented in two public hearings. The first

One thousand five hundred young people had a great time last Sunday evening at the American Legion, Booker T. Washington, Post 808's annual Christmas party. There were many sacks of goodies for these young people of Lubbock. A large number of these young people came from the Lubbock State School.

This is an affair each year for young people of our community. This project is one of many sponsored by the men and women of this fine organization. Because of this joyous effort last week, many young people's lives were enriched. This organization cares about young people. This is only way of showing care and concern.

Thanks, Booker T. Washington, Post 808.

for a job well done. A Merry, Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year to each of you!

In a few weeks, twenty-four young ladies of our community will be presented to society in a Debutante Ball at the Palm Room on Thursday evening, December 28.

Debutantes, escorts, and parents attended a reception last Sunday afternoon at the YWCA, from 3 to 5. It was a most enjoyable affair as the young ladies were as lovely as ever.

This newspaper will present pictures of these young ladies in our special Christmas Issue.

These young ladies are to be seen on "What's Going On?", KCSD-TV, Channel 11, and the local show, "Happenings" this month.

We are proud of all of these young ladies.

Mrs. Harry Stokley, Jr.'s father, Rev. Charles Jackson, passed away here in a nursing home last Thursday. The family left Friday morning with the body going to Henderson, Texas for burial. They returned home Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Gregory of San Antonio, Texas, former members of New Hope Baptist Church, attended the funeral services of Mr. Jessie Heman here last Saturday. They also visited her family, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Beaty, and friends.

Mary Ann Jones of Dallas, Texas is proud her parents live in Lubbock, Texas. She admits it's so nice to have a place to visit here. She was here over the weekend to witness the Memorial Services given in honor of her niece, Jada Davis, last Sunday afternoon at the New Hope Baptist Church.

Ralph and Ann Watley, members of the Greater Saint Luke Baptist Church, were in a terrible car wreck last Saturday on 50th Street. They were treated and released. Ann, however, is wearing a neck brace.

This feature is a news compilation from more than 100 black-owned and oriented newspapers in this nation. It deals with what blacks, who are all-too-often little recognized, are doing to promote full participation in American life by black Americans. It is thus a salute from all of our readers for unsung heroes... and is designed to be a challenge for all of us to keep on doing our very best.

The Fort Wayne, Indiana Frost Illustrated tells of a local success story which just might be a worthy example for many, many others. Congratulations to our honoree! The Frost Illustrated story reads:

Sandra Baker, a contract administrator for E-Systems Inc., Memcor Division in Huntington, will move to St. Louis to work for Emerson Electric Company.

A native of Fort Wayne, Ms. Baker graduated from South Side High School and

Church was happy to have visitors join them last Sunday morning. Some of the visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Walker, Mount Vernon United Methodist; Mrs. Bobbie Patterson and Mrs. Sarah Blocker, Bethel A.M.E.; and the undergraduate chapter of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority at Texas Tech University.

As mentioned recently, if you are going out of the city for the holidays or have friends coming to spend the holidays with you, let me know so we can feature it in this column. This writer loves to let the citizens of Lubbock know about what is going on.

received a B.A. in Social Services at Indiana University. She also worked towards her Masters Degree in the School of Public and Environmental Affairs.

After graduating from I.U., Ms. Baker first held a job in the Allen County Superior Court as a juvenile probation officer before working in Huntington. At Memcor her job as a contractor gave her the opportunity to handle administrative functions in support of contract management including determining documentation and reporting requirements, bid and proposal preparation, contract negotiations (financial and provisional) and other contract-related administrative duties. The administering of government contracts and various quantity of foreign contracts was included in her job also.

Ms. Baker also was president of Fort Wayne's Management. Ms. Baker said career advancement was the principal reason for her move.

"You shouldn't have to switch from job to job but rather from career to career. At Emerson Electric Company I'll get greater experience since it is a larger company."

"Emerson Electric is the third best managed company in the nation. I plan on learning different techniques... the scope of things will be different. Emerson Electric is going to offer me contract administrating."

News From Home Folks

Old Homes," filled to capacity last spring, was repeated this year. The one-day seminar provided professional advice, given by a lawyer, an architect, a contractor, and a designer, who are experienced in restoration. These speakers dealt with problems faced by owners of old homes, prospective owners and real estate brokers in that market. Tax benefits for historic property, preservation easements, construction contracts, grants and loans, styles of architecture, design guidelines for renovation, roofs, walls, foundations, insulation, heating, plumbing, and electrical work were among the topics discussed.

The price of the seminar was $25 for members and $30 for non-members, and included lunch, coffee, and all materials. It was held in the classroom at the LPC office, so enrollment was limited.

The Landmarks Preservation Council is a statewide, private, not-for-profit organization dedicated to keeping landmark buildings in active use. It is located at 407 South Dearborn, Suite 1705, Chicago, Illinois 60605.

The Columbus, Ohio Onix editor-publisher, Rock Flowers, has urged a strong challenge to the Republicans now seeking black support. When this kind of challenge is met clearly, the nation will begin to have a far healthier two-party system than ever before. Rock Flowers is one of perhaps a majority of blacks, regardless of party, who want a strong, healthy political climate for all. He editorializes:

For years the Republican Party has all but ignored a vital part of the election constituency, but recent elections have made them take a better look at what they have been doing. Yes, Republicans made some token efforts to win black votes, but in the main there was no sincerity and the program was lackluster and lacking in high-power selling techniques.

The Big Problem was the fact that those chosen to deal with Blacks had no image; could not deliver any of the things that blacks wanted and elected officials of Republican persuasion constantly ignored blacks once they were elected.

Some believe all of that has changed. In the last several months Republicans on a national level have begun to showcase what they hope will be their new black look. They have given blacks meaningful jobs on the National Committee and a black woman even ran for the top spot in that organization.

Jesse Jackson, president of People United to Save Humanity, recently spoke to a group of Republicans telling them "like it is" and the speech received national coverage. Returning the favor, Jackson featured James C. Cummings, Jr., Chairman of the Black Republican Council. Attacking President Carter, Cummings said: "Black Americans have made considerable progress through the Courts, on the street, and to some extent, through political action. However, the structure of progress today is threatened, and tomorrow could disintegrate."

Jimmy Carter rode to the White House on the backs of blacks. And as soon as he was deposited on Pennsylvania Avenue, he closed the front gates on the black people and began turning back the clock on black gains."

These small indices seem to herald a new approach by the Republican Party to win black favor. This time, however, they seem to be using Big Names and strong, eloquent speakers.

So here is a message to them: Black votes are not gotten by rhetoric, but by action. When the Republican Party leaves its conservative stance and moves into a more liberal action-oriented position, blacks may give them the votes they lost to Franklin Delano Roosevelt.

Republican lawmakers must begin supporting human rights issues that mean much to black progress. They must begin embracing programs and ideas that speak to black concerns, and they must transfer this embrace into meaningful action.

Black Republican leaders must be given high visibility and power to implement their rhetoric.

ON THE DEFEAT OF SEN. BROOKE...

by Congressman Parrer J. Mitchell (D-Md.)
Chairman of the Congressional Black Caucus

The only Black serving in the United States Senate was defeated in the General Election. The Senator-Elect, Paul Tsongas, is a very fine legislator (I served with him in the U.S. House of Representatives). He is a strong liberal; and a personable individual. However, in many ways, he cannot really take the place of Senator Brooke.

Ed Brooke was a tremendously symbolic figure for millions of Black Americans. He was the lone Black serving in what had theretofore been an all white, almost exclusively all male club. Little Black school children could read about him and gain inspiration for their aspirations. Black Elected Officials across the country could point to him as the one Black who made it to the highest, most powerful legislative body in the World. He was indeed a symbol for us.

Substantively, Senator Brooke was one of the most skilled legislators in the Senate. He used that skill on behalf of the poor; Blacks and other minorities; and in protection of civil liberties. Although he belonged to the Republican Party, his commitment to the down trodden and the minorities never wavered. This commitment earned him the wrath of the right wing of his own party. He was too liberal for them. He was not one of their very own who stood in the shadow of Regan and Goldwater and Crane.

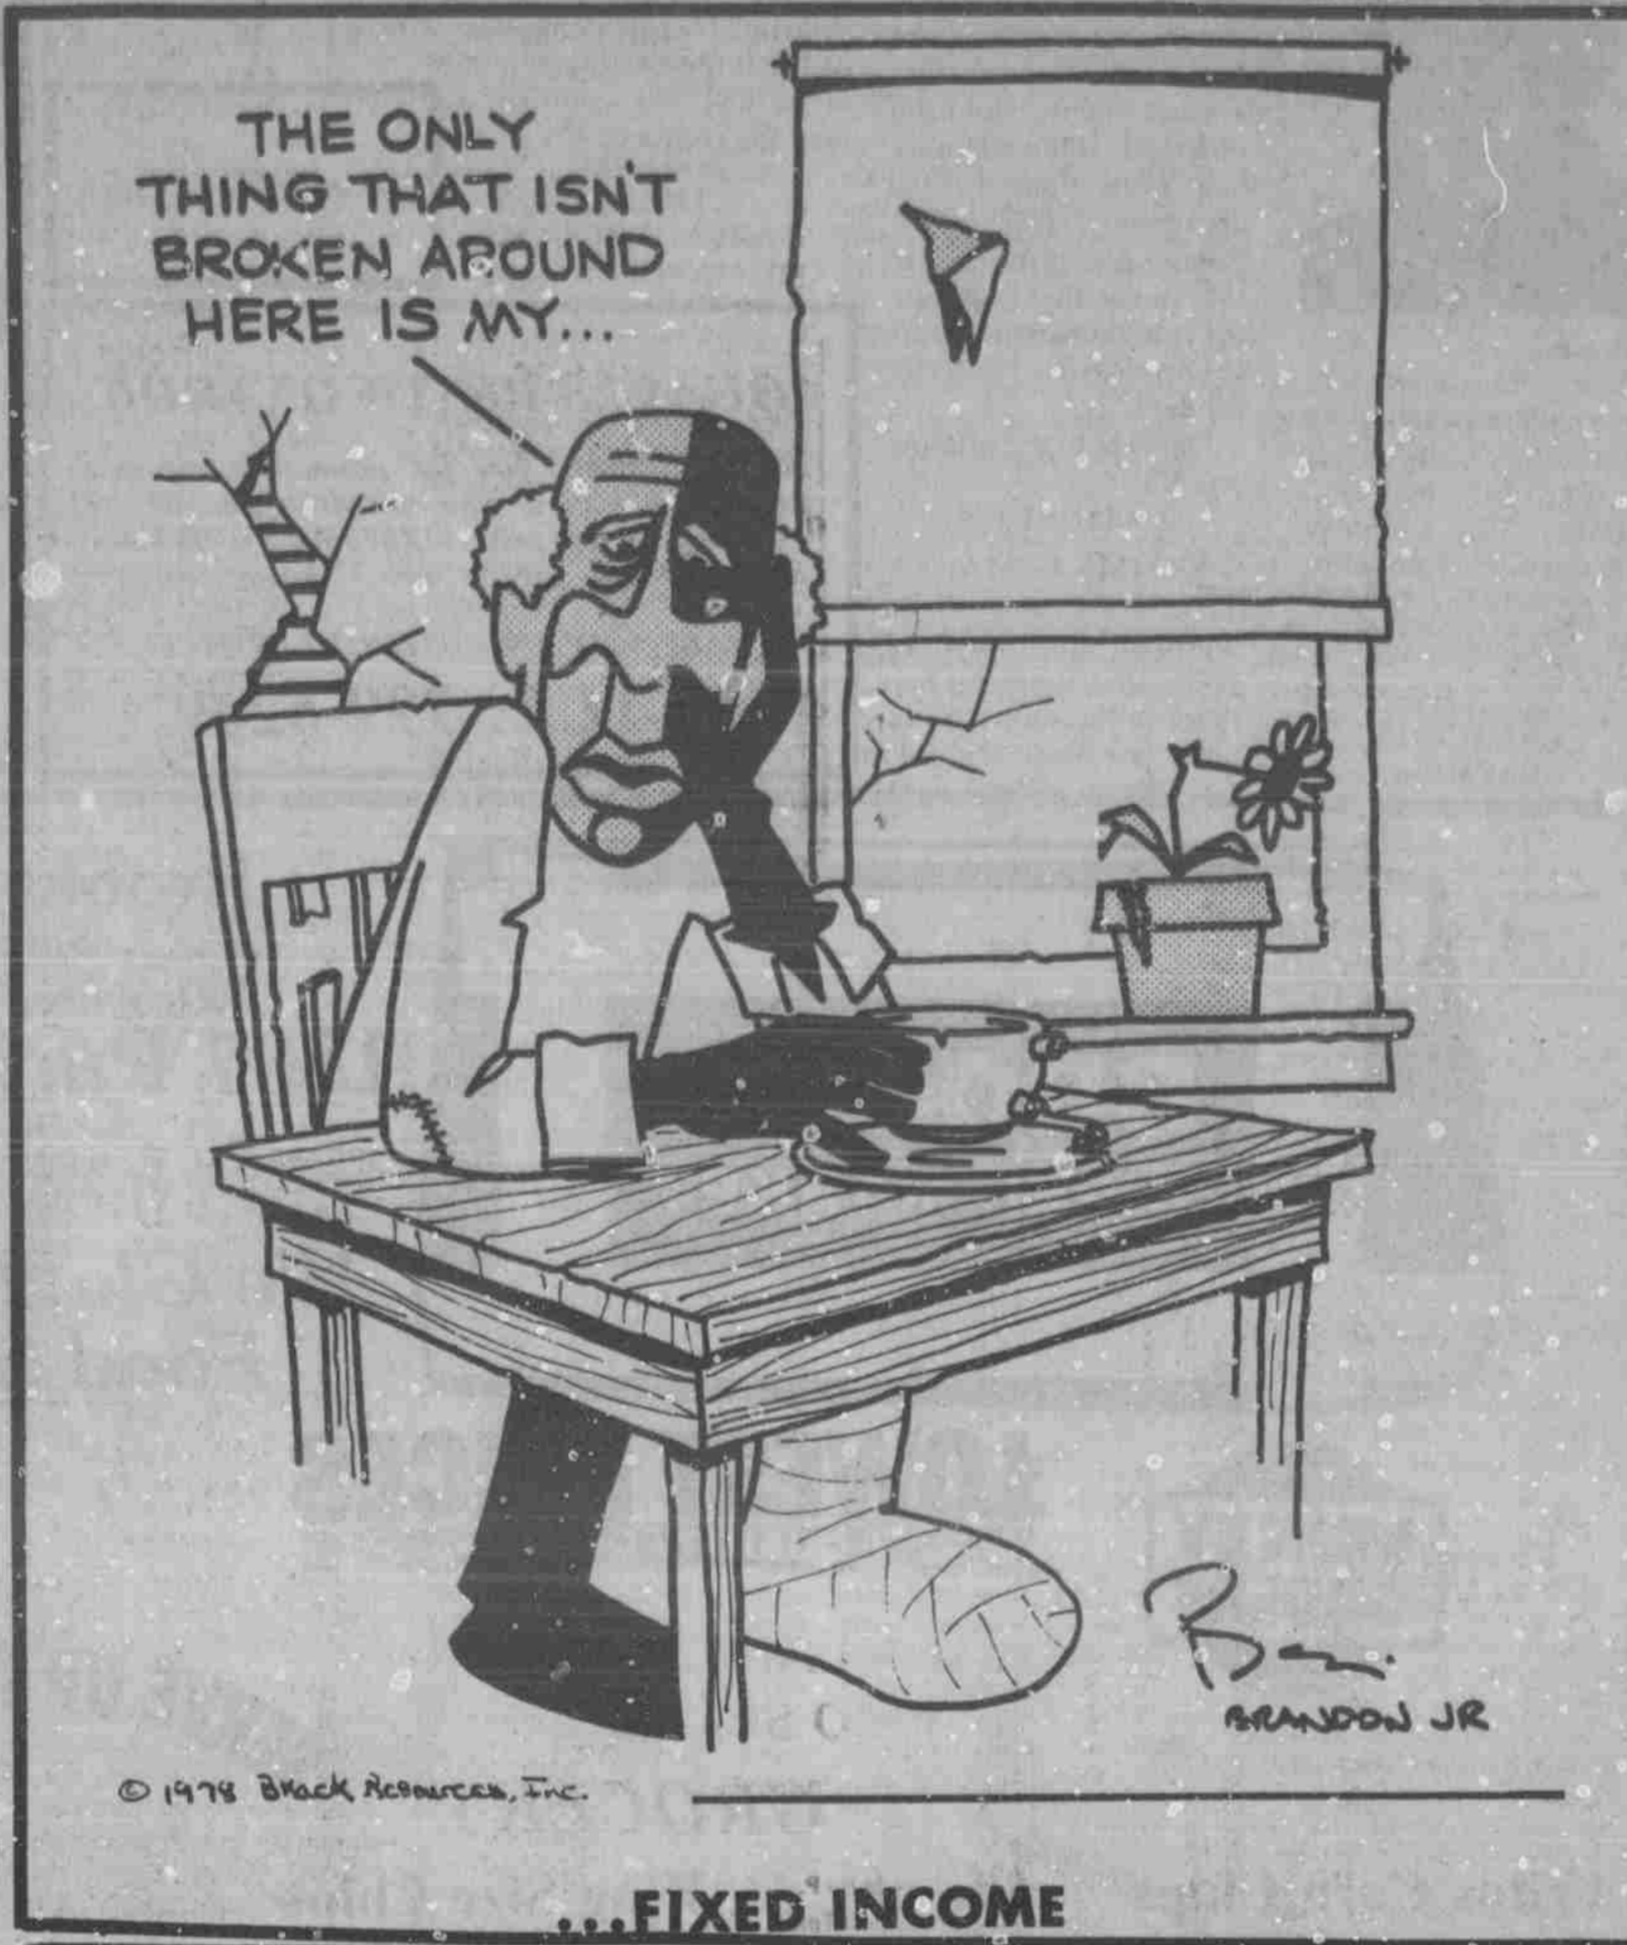

I had the pleasure of serving with him on many joint Senate-House Conferences. On housing legislation he doggedly, and thoughtfully fought for funds for low income housing. He struggled to increase funds to spur home ownership for the poor and working poor. I could always count on Senator Brooke to be an eloquent advocate, as I sought to increase federal funds for jobs and job training.

What really brought about his political defeat? Certainly it was not just the financial problems deriving from his marital difficulties. Many, and I do mean many, Members of Congress have gone through similar difficulties during the time of their campaigns for office and have been re-elected. No, it was not just that. He was the victim of the right wing of his own party, and the liberals in the Democratic party who had relied on his vote in the Senate, time and time again, to get critical legislation passed. I was shocked to see the Carter Administration people campaigning against Senator Brooke. They had always sought out his counsel, advice and vote on legislation that the Administration deemed to be crucial. (It's very interesting to note that the Administration did not campaign against Senator Howard Baker, Republican, who often served as the Administration's spokesman in the Senate.)

Senator Brooke was also the victim of some Blacks who in their "Objectivity" attempted to impose a higher standard of conduct on him that they imposed on non-Black Members of the Senate and the House of Representatives. It's very curious to me that some Blacks have no difficulty in dealing daily with unscrupulous rascals, white and Black, at the local, state and federal level, but when one of our own at the highest echelon of government is involved, they become so righteous that the Black official must be an absolute paragon of virtue.

Senator Brooke got the amendment passed which limited the amount of rent in public housing to 25% of the family income. Ed Brooke broadened the coverage of rehabilitation housing loans so that more of the poor and working poor could benefit from such programs. He worked hard on behalf of minority economic and business development. He supported the concepts involved in establishing tenants rights in public housing. He was quite a man.

WHY ARGUE? THE FACTS ARE HERE!

Senator-Elect Paul Tsongas is quoted to have said "Ed Brooke left behind some very, very big shoes to be filled." Indeed he did, and I for one wish soon to be Senator Tsongas all the luck in the world as he attempts to fill those shoes. However, no matter how hard he tries, he cannot be the same symbol to Black Americans as was Senator Edward W. Brooke, Republican, Massachusetts.

(Guest Editorial by Black Caucus)

Senator Edward Brooke of Massachusetts grew up in the "citizens" city of Washington, D.C. His remarks below are telling. Support all of our Black members of the Congress and others who want Washington, D.C. to be a freed city. Please write at least one member of the Congress in this regard. Below is a portion of Senator Brooke's statement on this concern.

by vote on the floor of Congress. This condition has applied to residents of the District since 1800, when federal jurisdiction over the seat of national government was officially effected. Prior to that time, the eligible male residents of the Virginia and Maryland portions of the District of Columbia voted for U.S. Senators and Representatives.

"It seems almost inconceivable that in this year, with memories of our nation's Bicentennial fresh in mind, we find democracy flaunted with respect to the citizens of Washington, D.C. The plight of the citizens in the District, sadly, is more akin to that of a subjugated, colonial people. The situation with respect to voting representation for the District, instead of serving as an example of democracy for the rest of the country and indeed of the world, provides an outrage of inequity.

The U.S. citizens residing in the District of Columbia have all the obligations of American citizenship. They must pay taxes, defend the country in time of war, and obey the law. However, this sizeable group of citizens, exceeding the population of seven states, do not have representatives in the House or Senate who can meaningfully express the consent or dissent of the D.C. residents

THIS WEEK WE EXAMINE

MINORITIES AND CRIMES Part I of Six Parts

"The Aliens"

(Here, in a series of six vitally important articles on "Minorities and Crime," a fresh perspective is provided with which all black Americans should be deeply familiar. It must be shared in every possible way with white Americans for the mutual good which it affords. The six articles are historical in nature. Two relate to the unique roles of Ambassador Andrew Young, and the final article seeks your help in suggesting a workable way out of the historic impasse which presently makes matters increasingly worse.)

A tremendous new emphasis has been placed of recent years on how best to deal with crime and with criminals in our society. That crimes of theft and of physical violence represent a serious threat to all of us, there can be no doubt. But the problem is not new.

Historians and anthropologists tell of the problems of crime in the most ancient societies. Throughout this ancient literature, one "fresh" insight continues to emerge. It is that those who are alienated or rejected in any society are seen as, or actually are, crime prone.

In relatively stable societies, where all have a reasonably rewarding or appropriate place, crimes tend to diminish or to be practically nonexistent. One of the major problems which we have faced for hundreds of years in our European and American nations is the fact of "progress" or of constant change.

Continuing change means increased uncertainties and the absence of clearly defined loyalties. Hence, the faulty relations which we know as crimes result. Sociologists have explained it thus: "All change brings disorganization."

So far as minorities are concerned, they are by definition the last to find a secure place; they tend to be the "misfits," the superfluous people, the unwanted or the unneeded.

When each new immigrant or migrant group came to the major cities of Europe and the United States, the literature of the day spoke of them as "scum" or "savages" and as those whose proper place was exile or the dungeons.

What was happening was a universal phenomenon of a lag or a failure in the absorption of these new peoples into the existing social, economic and political life. This failure on the part of the majority was projected upon the new minority; and their alienated adjustment or behavior was seen as and defined as crime.

Those who are alienated tend to talk loudly to call attention to themselves, and such behavior becomes a "disturbance of the peace." Those who are alienated tend to gather in groups for conviviality and to while the time away, and such behavior is defined as mischievous loitering.

Then too, the alienated tend to be demeaned and mistreated, and their overt and covert means of striking back are termed as various forms of criminal mischief.

The import here is that alienation (which is rampant among us today) and "progress" or rapid social change make for multi-nations which we call crime. We must understand this fact. But society must do infinitely more.

All societies have the implicit duty to protect themselves from all undue plunder and mischief. Here it may be said that a ounce of prevention is worth far more than perhaps many pounds of cure.

Again, corrective or rehabilitative approaches must be taken to those who have, perhaps willy-nilly, become addicted to an anti-social way of life.

It is perhaps an odd truism that throughout both the Old and the New Testament Scriptures, one sign of the presence of the reign, rule or kingdom of God is "the opening of the prisons."

This suggests that in the most idealized form of society, prisons have no place. Rather our societies must bend every conceivable effort to the affording of a reasonably rewarding place to all within their borders. This is especially true of those who we tend to see as our alienated minorities.

It was the great intellectual giant, St. Augustine of Hippo (354-430AD), who made the startling practical or pragmatic suggestion that the best way to include all people was to encourage marriages between those perceived as the most distant from our own.

Whether through social marriage or the device of social or civic embrace, at least the spirit of St. Augustine's suggestion may assist us in our alleviation of the "problem" of minorities and crime.

THINK POSITIVE!!

WHY NOT?

by Eddie P. Richardson

Monday evening, December 11, 1978, the monthly meeting of the United Political Action League (UPAL), T.J. and I had the opportunity of participating on the program. This writer would like to congratulate Dr. F.L. Lovings and the members for the beginning of a viable organization. It is time we continue to work hard so this organization may become strong as the United Black Coalition of Lubbock was at one time. Only don't stop!! Hold this organization, Lubbock needs it very much.

In this column last week, this writer mentioned Elton Conger and allegations around town about his ordeal from both school kids and adults. My statement was: "I wonder just how much closet racism is in Lubbock." Some Blacks had the opinion this writer was putting down Brother Conger.

This was not true under any circumstances, but I do know from being Black and many years of my personal experiences in life that 99 1/2 percent of all cases of conflict where a Black, brown or other minority is involved, dealing with jobs, social problems where there is a let down, the minority is almost on the short end. This is racism. What makes it closet racism is when the powers that be make excuses, deny or claim innocence, or ingorance.

This writer still asks the question: How much closet racism is really in Lubbock? The minorities and disadvantage know. This writer wonders if the powers that be know. I wish they would really take a good look around and from the bottom of their hearts be true to themselves and truly start cleaning up their campaign. Why Not?

FOR THE WHOLE SOUL NATION

Some could be tearing their hair out trying to make up their mind about the holiday—i.e., celebration versus no celebration. With Life being convulsed by inflation—along with the constant sorrow of death because crimes in the streets are becoming more heinous, we may feel too melancholy for rejoicing.

The holiday experience that would brighten mass consciousness would be a public act of compassion on the part of government officials, which could make it easier for the people to nourish themselves throughout the entire winter; and which would also recognize that poverty does not make one impervious to cold—it is a human right to be warm in the winter, same as the landlord.

Nevertheless—to keep the strong and hopeful blood coursing—sing songs together, bake together, hug one another, share the little you all have and it will be more than enough. Read the story of Christmas out loud from the Bible so that we honor this myth; let the gifts you give be symbols of the Love and not the Love itself. All of us are being called upon to make sacrifice, to yield our individual egos, so the whole of the race can prosper. Saturn is slowing its motion. Winter is... so seed the winter light with Bright Focus! Watch and Pray!

ARIES—March 21-April 20 The forces of light are banging up-side your head. You are being called on to maintain a strong will and a clear mind. However, if your nervous system seems overwhelmed, listen to your heart and hear what it says.

TAURUS—April 21-May 21 Watch out for your lavish taste and your desire to own everything in sight. If you look behind and/or down you may see the weight of accumulation in your own body. Sometimes, frugality and practicality teach us greater disciplines.

GEMINI—May 22-June 21 Just when you've reached the final point of exasperation, you may experience a coming-to-yourself—or you may find what the search intended for you to know. Be glad. Joy is as fleeting as an electric shock, but its intensity can be well-remembered.

CANCER—June 22-July 23 A pretty home this holiday season should contain a joyous attitude. This is most of "the enough" that's needed. A positive energy causes you to glow with a feeling that desires to extend and nurture. Sympathy is also strength.

LEO—July 24-August 23 To sense the future or to know the future are both arts of the Spirit. If you're involved in sensing or knowing what's ahead, wait for visible outcomes in case the intuition distorts and we crave what is not for us.

VIRGO—August 24-September 23 Before winter sets in you may experience your own personal spring day. This proves that all who labor will be given a respite; and those who seek to give love will find one who knows how to accept love.

LIBRA—September 24-October 23 If your recent past lives in your memory as a jangled mystery—don't worry! It's all right to put all energy into discerning the future. Beauty creates best in free and light spaces—away from the annoying habits of yesterday.

The magnitude of your intensities—psychic and emotional—will either create inspiration in those about you, or bring their spirits into the ashes. Choices are inherent to nature's plan as the male and female species. Be what you are!

SAGITTARIUS—November 23-December 21 The prime of life for some is the moment to moment attainment of individual needs and desires. Share with others the knowledge that leads to the disciplines which allow us to fulfill desires and dreams. All things asked for are eventually given.

CAPRICORN—December 22-January 20 Let go your old and aged feelings and seek the light of Love. Enjoyment and pleasure are the natural consequence of hard work and conscientious pursuit of a positive life goal. When winter sets in the light of love will keep you pretty warm.

AQUARIUS—January 21-February 19 You may absolutely refuse to go along with any of the holiday customs because you refuse to dignify and absurdity that heralds love and peace in the midst of wars, world hunger and mass psychosis of high government officials—but go ahead and be of good cheer. Evil will live longer than the season—man has seen to this.

PISCES—February 20-march 20 Don't worry about how things look—be concerned about how things is and are. Reality is a vehicle to roll us through; delays caused by confusion. Do more deciding and judging on your own. You're not the only one in life who is always right or wrong. Peace be still...

EHS CAPTURES TEN SLOTS 1-AAA HONORS

by Dempsey Taylor

The Estacado Matadors, who won the 1-AAA District Crown and Bi-District, finished the year with an impressive ten players on the first team and eight others grabbed honorable mention honors. Coach Louis Kelly was also named "Coach of the Year", and honor or which he was proud, but gave the credit to his staff.

The one thing Coach Kelly was most happy about was the fact he did not have a vote in nominating players from his team.

Offensively, the Mats had Greg Evans (line), Manuel Escamilla (center), Dewey Turner (tight end), Steve Wright (line), and running back Kevin White, making the first team. Defensively, Wright (line), Chatham (linebacker), Parsons (line), Preston Davis (secondary), and George Irvin (secondary), first team.

Matadors receiving honorable mention were Willis Flowers, Kenneth Davis, and Anthony McGraw, defensively. Offensively, Rusty Johnson, Winston Gipson, Mike Esquivel, Robert Humphrey, and Kenneth Henderson.

Steve Wright made both teams. Across the way, though, the Panthers only had a 1-9 season. They still made it work. With Raphael Scott making first team, secondary. Defensively honorable mention were Thomas Patterson, Kevin Lusk and Eddie Walker, defensively. Offensively, Karl Lusk, Geoffrey Crawford, and DeWayne Williams.

Congratulations to both schools for such a fine year, young men, and good luck in the upcoming basketball season.

BASKETBALL ACTIVITY

DUNBAR

The Panthers dumped Lubbock High School Monday night 61-45, and eased by Coronado on Tuesday evening, 59-57. The champions of the district last year (3-AAA), they will be moving into some fast company in District 1-AAA, along with last year's runner-up, Estacado. With people like Scott, Williams, and Patterson, Coach McWilliams will be in the running this year.

ESTACADO

The Matadors blasted Morton 75-62. This marks the first game the Mats were full strength, following a long football season. They should be district contenders, with returning starters like Turner, Gipson, Wright, and Chatham.

BORGER

The Bulldogs showed their power here last Thursday by over powering Lubbock High 78-40. They must fill out the opponents in 1-AAA, however.

LEVELLAND

The Lobos have a power house this year, and has already demonstrated it by downing Brownfield 107-66. They own an 8-1 record for the young basketball season.

SAFETY TIPS FROM AMERICAN RED CROSS

The Lubbock Red Cross Safety Director, Dempsey Taylor, says make playing safe this Christmas.

The organization urges parents to shop carefully when buying toys to protect their children from potential danger. Many playthings on the market today can cause harm.

Take lead-based paint for instance. The Red Cross cautions shoppers to check to make sure a toy is not covered with this type of paint because of the danger of poison to any child who licks it.

Another important consideration in choosing a plaything is its construction and size. It should be durably constructed and its parts should be large enough so a child cannot swallow it. A safe rule-of-thumb: the toy or its detachable parts should be larger than a child's fist.

Even soft stuffed dolls and animals offer potential hazards if they have button eyes that can be pulled or chewed off and swallowed. Toys also should be examined for wood that can splinter, metal with sharp edges, or plastic that can break.

Electric toys also are dangerous and should be kept in good repair. They should always carry the UL (Electric Underwriters) test label and be used under supervision. An electric train or racing game should have a circuit breaker on the transformer. The child should be taught the correct way to plug and unplug and electric toy.

The Red Cross says try to match the toy to the age, ability and interest of the child. Although consumer groups have sought to bring dangerous toys to the attention of the public, parents still have the primary responsibility for assuring that they are safe.

This newspaper has had many numbers of complaints from a great number of Black people on delivery service to east Lubbock from places who advertise delivery service. This writer learned that one establishment, in particular, will not deliver to east Lubbock. One in mind is the former Globe Pharmacy which was located in east Lubbock, the now K Mart Building, according to our many callers.

This writer was told, by Blacks, that they were advised by this establishment they were afraid to deliver in east Lubbock, because it is a bad part of town. They were afraid for their delivery personnel.

Another place, in mind, is the Pizza Express which is located at 2220 19th Street. This establishment is near east Lubbock. They are closer to east Lubbock than a lot of the areas this company services.

Can you imagine these businesses referring to Black people as living in the "bad part of town." We had better wake up, Black people!! Why Not?

HOW MIGHTY ARE THE FAILEN!

A review of Nkrumah and The Ghana Revolution by C.L.R. James (Lawrence Hill & Co., Publishers, Westport, Conn. 06880) 228 pages — Hard Cover $10.00

C.L.R. James has rendered an invaluable service in sharing with the reading public the fine results of his years of solid research and analysis of the Ghanaian Revolution and its aftermath.

Ghana and the name of Nkrumah remain almost synonymous, as the masses of people of the first African nation to throw off the rule of a colonial power summoned him to be at their helm. Nkrumah was not a leader seeking followers. Rather he was the leader whom the masses sought; and he served too well, in a sense, for his times.

Possessed of a penetrating and highly educated mind and with an unsurpassed devotion to the liberation and betterment of the people of Ghana, he was a kind of combined Moses, Christ and Marx. This incongruous "Christmas package" was too good for the times. His people, in some measure, were unprepared for Nkrumah's gifts, and the former colonial powers and their friends were always ready to plunge the knife, which in a relatively short time they did.

Dr. James' story should be read, if one is to appreciate the intricacies sometimes known as Africa and if one is to see how an urban political philosophy meets with inevitable pitfalls when imposed upon, essentially rural and tribalistic life.

This book is recommended for college class readings on the history of modern Africa.

Come to Church

BETHEL A.M.E.

Services were well attended last Sunday morning with our pastor, Rev. A. W. Wilson, delivering a splendid message. Senior Choir Number One, under the direction of Mrs. Lillian C. Struggs at the piano and Mrs. Rose Lincoln at the organ, responsible for the music of the morning.

A rather impressive program was held Sunday afternoon.

The annual Christmas program will be held Sunday evening, December 24, at 7 p.m. Immediately after the program, the Wilson's annual Christmas party will be held in Fellowship Hall.

Instead of the second Sunday project, sponsored by the Adult Sunday School Class, a special effort will be made Sunday morning, December 17. Many gifts of good will be given to needy families in the community.

Let us continue to pray for and visit our sick and shut in members of our church and community.

The Ma Jones Missionary Society meets each Monday afternoon at 5:30 in the church auditorium. The General Board meets at 7 p.m. at the church. All members are asked to attend.

The Stewards meet at the church each Tuesday evening at 7 p.m.

Prayer meeting is held each Wednesday evening at 7 p.m. All members are asked to come out and take part in this needed service.

present "The Messiah" at the Oakwood Baptist Church, 6002 Avenue H., at 7 p.m. All the churches are invited.

Let us continue to pray for our sick and shut in members of the church and community. Will you do this for Christ?

GREATER SAINT LUKE BAPTIST

A Christmas presentation will be on the fourth Sunday in December at 7 p.m. Youths and adults are asked to please make themselves available for this program.

Youth, Ole Saint Nick will be here on December 24th to greet each of you.

Members of the Queen of Sheba, C.A. Henderson, and Hope Circles met in the homes of Sisters Clara O'Neil, Jimmie Demerson, and Hazel Taylor.

Members of the Eunice Circle will meet tonight, Thursday, in the home of Sister Jessie Johnson, 2502 Date Avenue, at 7 p.m.

Attend Prayer Meeting regularly. This needed service is held on Wednesday evenings at 7 p.m. Christmas bids us give up selfish ways, to give in to love, to give out in service to the needy and lonely. Let us make this a praying season.

From the Pastor's Desk: What is the message of Christmas to you? Is it that Christ was born in a manger of faraway Bethlehem, or that he has been born in your heart? Is it that the angels sang, while shepherds watched their flocks by night, a song of peace and good will toward men, or that in your heart that song is being sung?

Let us continue to pray for our sick and shut in. Those on the sick list include Sisters Roxie Reed, May Lee, Dolly Howard and Ellen Tillman. They are all shut in.

TWENTIETH & BIRCH CHURCH OF CHRIST

The Broadway Church of Christ made news all over the country when it was reported that on Sunday, November 19, its members gave a total offering that had neared the $2 million mark at last report. The amount was probably the largest single Sunday commitment by any religious group in America.

The Children's Home of Lubbock is currently taking applications for houseparents to work with the children here on our campus in Lubbock.

We are also in need of foster homes for the children we serve. If you would like more information on the Children's Home or would be interested in applying for one of these positions, contact Tom Barton or Lynn Harms at the Children's Home of the Lubbock campus. The phone number is 762-0481 or write to them at P.O. Box 2824, Lubbock, Texas.

WORDS OF LIFE

Biblical Inspiration For The Week

"The day is at hand."—Romans 13:12

1. Opportunity awaits us! Have you been waiting for "your time," "your great day," to come up? Well, believe it or not, "the day is at hand." Opportunity is knocking at your door. "Now is the accepted time. Behold, now is the day of your fulfillment!"

2. The night is far spent. Have you gained sufficient rest before the dawn? If not, then the day at hand will be lost... through fatigue, and through the inability to cast off the burdens of the day gone by. Prepare for good things. Only in this way will we be ready to receive them.

3. Claim your harvest of good things! Those who live as in the night, wholly or half sleeping, will never see the vast array of good things around them. We are never caught in a trap from which there is no escape. If we do not give up hope and if we open our minds and hearts to what the God of goodness has in store, we may claim an incomparable harvest of goodness, plenty, and all things necessary for our well-being, peace and fulfillment. The day, brethren, is at hand!

Prayer Poem

The theme of the second coming of Christ is almost invariably intertwined with the "day of the Lord" theme. Hence Laurentius Laurenti's hymn, "Rejoice, rejoice believers!", which appeared in 1700, contains this two-fold emphasis.

The day is not only "at hand" in Christian thought but has also arrived. The day is here; the day is coming. For all who would conjoin their lives to God's life, we have already won... and still may keep on winning. Such is the spirit woven into the words of the hymn or prayer poem below.

Rejoice, rejoice, believers! And let your lights appear; The evening is advancing.

And darker night is near. The bridegroom is arising, And soon he will draw nigh; Up, watch in expectation. At midnight comes the cry.

See your lamps are burning; Replenish them with oil; Look now for your salvation, The end of sin and toil. The watchers on the mountain Proclaim the bridegroom near; Go meet him as he cometh, With alleluias clear.

Opportunity for our good, betterment, fulfillment and renewal is at hand. Indeed, it has always come. But boundless opportunity awaits. "The day is at hand."

WILLIAM SHOEMAKE WILL BE HONORED

Members of the Ford Memorial Church of God in Christ are sponsoring an appreciation service for their musician, William Shoemake, at the church Saturday evening, December 16, at 8 p.m. The public of Lubbock and surrounding towns is invited to this special appreciation service.

PREACHES FOR CHRIST

Rev. B.R. Smith, by the leading of the Lord, had it put on his heart to stop in Anton, Texas to inquire about a previous Church of God in Christ and found members there that had been longing for a place to worship for ten years. His heart was moved the more to secure a building, have it moved and to make it suitable for worship. These repairs have been supervised by the newly appointed building superintendent Elder T.L. Washington from Lubbock, Texas. With the help of the pastor and a host of well wishers, young men from the Post District and brothers and sisters of Anton, Texas have been instrumental in establishing God's house. The Post District is an up and coming district under the supervision of Sup. E.L. Hastings.
