CONGRESSWOMAN SHIRLEY CHISHOLM WILL SPEAK HERE

U.S. Congresswoman Shirley Chisholm, recently elected Secretary of the House Democratic Caucus and Vice-Chairwoman of the Congressional Black Caucus, will address "The New Thrust in Education Today" on Thursday evening, November 30, in the Texas Tech University Center Theatre at 8:15 p.m. The lecture is sponsored by the UC Cultural Events.

An articulate, straightforward champion of the rights of the downtrodden, she derives her power from the people she represents, rather than the regular party organization. Fighting Shirley Chisholm has more than earned her name. One of the most independent-minded members of the United States Congress and Congressional Black Caucus, she means it when she says "unbought and unbossed."

Elected to the 91st Congress, Mrs. Chisholm represents New York's Twelfth Congressional District, which comprises Bedford-Stuyvesant, perhaps the nation's largest Black ghetto. She is the first Black Congresswoman in the history of the United States and the first woman and the first Black to seek the nomination for the Presidency of the United States on a major political party.

A member of the powerful House Education and Labor Committee, Mrs. Chisholm played a major role in the passage of the minimum wage bill in the House. She serves on the Select Education and Agricultural Labor sub-committees. She is a recipient of more than eleven honorary degrees, was also selected to be the first recipient of Clairol's "Woman of the Year" award for outstanding achievement in public affairs. For the last three years, she has remained on the Gallup Poll's list of the ten most admired women in the world. She is the author of an autobiography, "Unbought and Unbossed," as well as the "The Good Fight," which told the full story of her campaign for the presidency.

A few of Mrs. Chisholm's numerous affiliations are: the Brooklyn College Alumni League of Women Voters; Democratic Women's Workshop; Brooklyn Branch, NAACP; Board of

Congresswoman Shirley Chisholm

Directors of the Brooklyn Home for the Aged; National Association of College Women, Inc.; Delta Sigma Theta Sorority; Central Brooklyn Coordinating Council; National Advisory Council for the Institute for Studies in Education; Notre Dame; Washington Workshops Advisory Committee; National Board of the Americans for Democratic Action; Honorary of Board Cosmopolitan Young Peoples Symphony Orchestra, Inc., New York City; Advisory Board, Foundation for Research and Education in Sickle Cell Disease and many, many more.

Tickets for the speech will be available at the UC Ticket Booth on November 16. Admission is $2.00 for Tech students and

Billy Floyd, representative of the National Opportunity Academy of Management of Philadelphia, Pa., is shown explaining the reason for the seminar to Kandis Gatewood, reporter for the "Lubbock Digest" this week at the Hilton Inn. Floyd told the "Digest" that OIC is trying to eliminate poverty. The seminar will conclude Saturday. (Staff Photo)

Building a team in the democratic style of management is the theme of the OIC Management Training Seminar, according to Billy Floyd from the National Opportunity Academy of Management.

Members from across Region VI which includes Louisiana, Texas, Oklahoma, Colorado and New Mexico, are meeting through Nov. 18 in the Hilton Inn.

"We conduct these seminars all over the country in an effort to centralize OIC," Floyd said.

Floyd is from Philadelphia and is conducting the workshop with Robert Goudlock. Floyd has been working with OIC for 12 years.

"I've seen this program bring thousands of folks off of welfare and into skilled jobs," Floyd said. "We're trying to eliminate poverty."

When asked about recent audit problems with the local OIC branch, Floyd said he was not aware of the problems. He said problems are the reasons for seminars.

Floyd added that OIC is not a Black-only organization.

"It depends upon where the program is located," he said.

Rev. W.L. Grimes Will Be Honored Sunday

BANQUET RETIREMENT DINNER SET HERE

The appreciation services for Rev. W.L. Grimes began Sunday, November 12, at 8 p.m. A wonderful turn out was held at the Mount Olive Baptist Church.

The history of Rev. Grimes' ministry goes back a half century when the only thing Lubbock had for minorities like Rev. Grimes were cotton fields and ranch hand works.

But Rev. Grimes came to build a church in a city which had only a few Black churches. Some people didn't want Rev. Grimes to build and said it couldn't be done. But with his aggressiveness and persistence, enabled him to go forward for the Lord.

For 52 years, the Lord has made a way for Rev. Grimes to build and start such churches like St. James Baptist Church, presently pastored by the Rev. Kado Lang; and Mount Olive Baptist Church, pastored by Rev. Benjamin Roberts, Jr. His hands and efforts have been in a few other churches also. For a man who has a handicap with the loss of an arm in his childhood days, he has done more than some people who have two arms.

But Rev. Grimes knew his pastorage had come to a close, but would not leave Mount Olive without a pastor. So he prayed to the Lord for somebody to come along. This person did come along. He was Rev. Benjamin Roberts, Jr. The new pastor is a native of Shreveport, La. and has been in Lubbock

Rev. Benjamin Roberts

RUBY JAY'S CORNER

Last Sunday at 3 p.m. closed the anniversary of Rev. A.L. Dunn, pastor of the New Hope Baptist Church. He was unable to attend these services because of illness. The "Black Voices" of Texas Tech University did a fine job of singing last Sunday.

Rev. A.L. Dunn's sister will be leaving for her home this week in San Antonio, Texas. She has been here at the bedside of her brother for the past few weeks.

Let us continue to pray for our sick and shut in residents. Mr. Ruben Blackmore is home from the Veteran Administration hospital in Amarillo, Texas. He is glad to be home.

Mrs. Igie Scott's sister, Mrs. Maggie Hattan of Dangerfield, Texas, is expected to be here this week to care for her. Mrs. Scott is home from the hospital recuperating.

Mrs. Ruby Jay

Mrs. Laura Eddington is very ill at this report in Methodist Hospital, room 812.

Mr. Gebrge Woods spent last Friday and Saturday at Methodist Hospital. He came home Sunday. He's getting along fine. He just wanted to shake us up a little.

Congratulations, Mae Emma McGowan, 2413 Cedar Avenue, for being the Lucky License winner last week. She was presented a $100 check by Allen Todd. As she says, you can win also.

I would like to say thank you. Through my illness and recovery, I want to thank all of you for your cards, donations, food, visits. Your prayers are priceless to me. I dare not try to call names for fear I am missing someone. You have been so sweet and may God continue to bless you. Love all of you.

TRUST FUND SET UP FOR LUBBOCKITE

A trust fund was set up here recently for a young Lubbock Black woman at the American State Bank.

The lady, Ms. Ray Debra Thompson, 25 years of age, is the daughter of Mrs. Mattie Linzey, 2904 Quirt Avenue, Apartment 601. Mrs. Linzey is the mother of thirteen children.

The fund was set up because Ms. Thompson is a victim of Sickle Cell Anemia.

Persons willing to assist in this effort are asked to send their contributions to the bank. Blood is needed also in this effort.

Across The Nation

News From Home Folks

This feature is a news compilation from more than 100 black-owned and oriented newspapers across the nation. It deals with what blacks, who are all-too-often little recognized, are doing to promote full participation in American life by black Americans. It is thus a salute from all of our readers to unsung heroes... and it is designed to be a challenge for all of us to keep on doing our very best.

Ed Crutcher, intrepid Executive Director of the Dayton, Ohio, Urban League has spoken of the dubious kind of education which our schools are providing today and which affects our black youth most acutely.

We are grateful to the Dayton Jet Stone News for the following presentation:

Someone once said—"The more things change—the more they remain the same."

Perhaps this axiom warrants merit but its measurement of truth becomes questionable under the weight of certain industrial modifications in man's continuous struggle to learn more about the nature of the world and apply this knowledge to industry.

The fact that the world's population continues to grow at an alarming rate while food supplies and energy resources diminish, in and of itself, justifies our steady retreat from the traditional way of doing things and abandonment of simplistic handicraft lifestyles for one which intelligently accommodates around intense industrialization.

Some people hate industrialization—they just can't believe that many heretofore professions—such as teaching, humanistics, attorneys, social workers or psychologists—are no longer in great demand. With the rise of the technocrat, many traditional jobs have become obsolete through the process of industrialization. Moreover, big business is looking for top executives who have strong backgrounds in science, engineering, mathematics, environmental or energy related fields, as well as managerial skills.

All too often, they have found that a college degree is oftentimes unnecessary in order to prepare one's self for many of today's industrial job markets. However, what is necessary is that one has gained through specific training along with certain work experiences the "know-how" to attain optimum productivity at the lowest possible cost.

Today—the average computer operator with a high school education or its equivalent, earns a minimum wage of $11,000 per year and an experienced operator may earn as much as $15,000. Yes, all this and more, dependent upon whether or not the individual wants to continue his education in this particular field and conscientiously applies one's self to the job.

Perhaps you think that this new era of technology can be stopped—but you're wrong—we could stop it, even if we chose to.

Many scholars from various disciplines have equated this modern machine age with some type of evil imposter that has slipped into our lives through the back door of man's haven and produced social upheaval, violence and endless wars; but this is not true.

Industrialization is neither good nor is it bad. Machine technology represents a traumatic change in the world's system and one's attitude has nothing whatsoever to do with it.

Industrialization is simply a tool, like a hammer or a saw which has grown infinitely complex.

It is a tool which we can use to serve us or it can become a it has been in countries like Japan, England and Germany—a tool which has been abused to a critical point of "Over-Kill" and dehumanization.

Conversely, in America, we continue to placate a traditional educational process that might well produce a whole generation of college-trained unemployables who were led up a primrose path of yesterday's fantasies.

The New York Recorder quotes Jesse Jackson in one of his characteristically pithy remarks, this time concerning the white media's portrayal of the "black image." The Recorder story states: The Rev. Jesse Jackson criticized the news media and television for helping perpetuate debilitating stereotypes of blacks.

"The main image projector remains a haven for American racism," Jackson told an audience of about 500 blacks and whites at Roxbury High School, in one of Boston's poorest neighborhoods. He said stereotypes of blacks as athletes, entertainers or violent criminals is constantly reinforced on television and in print.

He challenged the young audience to overcome poverty through education and hard work.

"I may be in the slum, but the slum is not in me!" Jackson shouted during his 40 minute revival-like speech. "We are better than our environment! No one will do more for you than you will do for yourself!"

Our readers may wish to send congratulatory messages and messages of encouragement to the papers which report happenings of interest to us. Such messages may be sent to the publishers, editors or other persons by simply addressing them, using the name of the paper, c/o Black Resources, Inc., 410 Central park West, PH C, New York, N.Y. 10025.

Police Happenings

ATTEMPTED BURGLARY

CONNIE MOORE. 3114 East 4th Street, reported to Lubbock police he was spending the night at his place of business, "Chocolate City", 306 Idalou Road, when he was awakened by a strange noise. He investigated and discovered someone was knocking a plywood panel from the front door.

After getting himself together, he looked through a crack in the door and observed three men attempting to get inside.

At this time, Brother Moore reached for his reliable shotgun. When he got it in his hand to pull the trigger, the trio ran from the business.

Only $10 worth of damage was done to the business.

THEFT

JOHN C. WALKER. 3307 East 16th Street, reported to Lubbock police that someone took the right front wheel from his car while it was parked in his front yard one day last week. An attempt was also made to remove the brake rotor.

He did tell police a few days prior to this incident, a man stopped him and asked about a broken rotor for his car. Walker told the man he did not have one for sale.

Walker did tell police the man kept staring at his car and seemed to show some interest in his car before leaving.

He believes this man was responsible for the theft of his wheel.

BURGLARY OF HABITATION

WALTER HEREFORD. 2429 East 25th Street, reported to Lubbock police his house was broken into one day last week. Entry was believed to have been gained by a bedroom window. Exit was apparently made by the back door in the kitchen. The back gate was left standing open.

Taken from the 89 year old man's house were several television sets, furniture, kitchen supplies, a camera, and several fur trim coats. Also taken was a silver bowl.

Mr. Hereford told police the unknown persons took approximately 100 pounds of meat from his deep freeze. Approximately $5,300 worth of materials were taken in this burglary.

ATTEMPTED ASSAULT

ROBERT THOMAS. 240 East 49th Street, reported to Lubbock police he had an argument last Saturday evening at the "Do Drop Inn", 419 Idalou Road, which led to him being stabbed in the back. He reported the argument began in the club and ended outside with him being stabbed. According to the police report, the fight began once he and the man got outside.

No knives were found by police on the scene of the stabbing. It was believed, by police, that th knife used was thrown in the weeds on a vacant lot near the club. Thomas refused for police to call an ambulance. He was taken to a local hospital by a friend.

He did tell police he would file charges this week.

BURGLARY

ROSANE JONES. 1010 David Avenue, reported to Lubbock police unknown persons gained entry to her house one day last week by breaking a bedroom window. She said her son probably knew the person responsible, because he had had some problems with them.

Taken from the house were a pair of Dingo boots and an eight-track tapes which include the top artist. These items were valued at approximately $85.

Exit from the house was made by a window which was left open. There were several television sets and other electrical components in the house and were untouched.

ASSAULT

RAY D. LEA. 36224 East 15th Street, reported to Lubbock police he was about to enter his house when a man struck him with his fist. The blow, according to the police report, knocked him to the ground. The man dragged Lea, by his heels, to the streets.

The man told Lea he was going to kill him. A lady, who witnessed the incident, told police the man threatened to kill her also. She did hear the man threaten Brother

Lea. Both admitted that the man had apparently returned from a mental institution recently.

If it's Borden, it's got to be good.

NIGGERS !!!!GET IT TOGETHER STOP RIPPING OFF YOUR OWN !!

Perhaps we should say it was a darn shame for brothers and sisters of the Black community to rip each other off. Recently, if you read in the "Police Happenings" column, somebody ripped off the Hicks' Solar Car Wash on Quirt Avenue. After into the situation, it was learned that this has been done for several weeks in a row.

Here is a brother who has gone into business to upgrade the Black community, and some niggers are taking wire cutters to snap his locks and taking the change out of the box, perhaps to buy some drugs or what have you. We hope those persons responsible are caught by authorities and prosecuted.

We can appreciate the efforts of Brother Hicks as he has attempted to upgrade our community by bringing a needed service to all of us. On the other hand, we are not showing our concern by taking advantage of his property during the "wee wee hours" of the evening. We need to do better, people.

Not only is Brother Hicks having problems by the unknown burglar or burglars, but homes are being broken into in our eastern part of Lubbock also. Brother Harold M. Chatman came home one night recently and found his glass door open in his house and television set gone. As he looked for clues, he noticed across the street on the campus of Ella Iles Elementary School that his television set was waiting for someone to pick it up. Someone had to hear all the noise involved and perhaps saw someone taking the set across the street, a few hundred yards away.

No matter what has happened, we've just got to stop this kind of a thing. We don't need to rip off our brothers in business nor do we need to take advantage of someone who is away from their home.

Let's help each other, rather than hinder each other in our community. We hope persons responsible for these incidents (or any incident are caught). We also hope neighbors will get involved and call the police when they see these kinds of acts taking place here.

Let's wake up and get involved to help all of us.

W.E.B. DU BOIS AND BOOKER T. WASHINGTON REVISITED

In the next two parts, we move ahead to W.E.B. Du Bois' days at Fisk, his trip to Europe and study in Germany. This experience in Europe and its contrast with his return to America is written poignantly by W.E.B. Du Bois.

During the next several months, we shall be featuring six crucial circumstances in the life of Dr. W.E.B. Du Bois and the same for Dr. Booker T. Washington. Scholars too are seeking to look empathetically to see the essential similarities at least in the spirit with which black Americans must meet common problems.

We ask that you adapt, in your own mind, the Key Questions, so that the common human conditions faced by these two black pioneers emerge or come to the surface.

The Age of Miracles began with Fisk and ended with Germany. I seemed to ride in conquering might. I was captain of my soul and master of Fate. I willed to do! It was. I wished and the wish came true. I suspect that beneath this triumph there were many failures and disappointments, but the realities looked so large that they swept away even the memory of other dreams and wishes. Consider for a moment how miraculous it all was to a boy of seventeen, just escaped from a narrow valley: I willed, and lo! my people came dancing about me—riotous in color, gay in laughter, full of sympathy, need, and pleading; unbelievably

A RARITY FOR OUR TIMES

Daily we either hear or we read in the press or through the other media of how income is not keeping up with expenditures and of how difficult it is for large numbers of our people to survive in situations of crisis.

But those who have been brought up on a religious tradition are often taught or imbued with the more hopeful conviction that there are always positive opportunities in store, even though many, most or practically all of them remain largely hidden from our sight. They remain marginal to the focus of our attention; and only as we widen our horizons and perhaps deepen our sensitivities may we see the almost unbelievably large store of good things at hand.

Our problem, in this view, would be to get these promising circumstances moved away from being "at hand" to being placed firmly within our grasp; that is, to get them "in hand."

One such economic opportunity has been with us for many years; and it has been strangely underplayed. It is in the field most generally known as "group insurance."

Believe it or not, some forms of "group insurance" may actually pay rather handsome rewards to company or group employees and then practically pay for themselves or be nearly "cost free."

The principles involved are rather simple or elementary ones to economists or to most insurance actuaries but may seem rather complicated to the average layman or lay woman. Essentially, as with banks, insurance companies make profits on deposits. When deposits are made in large amounts, as with company accounts, and when they do not have to incur excessive expenses for advertising or for collection as with many or most "group insurances," insurance companies may provide a much better, than normal break.

Such a "better than normal" break may mean that many persons who have some marginal or borderline "uninsurable" health problems may be accommodated without any appreciable cost—indeed, with a still handsome or reasonable profit—to the insuring institutions.

This works particularly well with large unions and with large corporations. But even with some small company or service groups of no more than a dozen or so, where most operating overhead is eliminated, collections can go into profit-making investments. The happy—and perhaps amazing—result is that there are fresh rewards or benefits for all.

With some charitable organizations, a shared beneficiary arrangement may be arranged in some states where the total cost of the insurance is recovered, even with a possible small margin of profit!

Was this partially "hidden opportunity" now being more fully exposed, many more in our "general public" should be sharing in its advantages. Executives of larger companies have reaped wind-falls for years. With our teachers and our clergy—whom many would see or dub as perhaps less sophisticated in the politics or ways of power than they should be—there is an exceedingly tragic loss of opportunity in the "group insurance" area.

These are the so-called hypertensive professions or crafts where those in their middle years (or forties) discover individually and embarrassingly, that they are no longer able to answer the "three simple questions" which many insurance forms contain to allow one to secure term insurance or to be insured by normal means at all.

It would be fair—and doubtless exceedingly helpful—for most such semi-sedentary professionals (including investment brokers and many salesmen) to say that those in the hypertensive professions are missing out generally on the greatest financial security in their lives by failing to press for "group insurance" where no health examinations are involved and where they fail to press insurance companies into creating fresh options from which all parties may benefit.

In the small space still left to us, it should be said that a general rule for potential "group insurance" participants is that they be insured for between two to four times their annual salary. Two questions quickly arise: the cost? and why?

Costs for group insurance plans are normally borne as a fringe benefit by employers.

But, upon only a moment's reflection, one will recognize that all "fringe benefits" are in reality some form of earnings. But the open option of larger coverages paid for by employee through their companies would be an attractive device to get more insurance quickly at the cheapest possible cost.

Why "so much" insurance? Four times one's annual salary divided by 10 anticipated collectible years is precious little at anticipated rates of inflation. "Group insurance" policies differ, in most cases, from term policies, in that they represent available cash; and the dividends can be larger or smaller, depending upon one's election of payment method.

A reasonable "group insurance" policy, partially paid for by the policy holder for a salary worker in the professions mentioned above has been estimated by one reputable non-profit group as amounting to $50,000 to $150,000.

This may seem like a large amount today. But a few years later it may amount to meager meager times; salted by what should be needless tears.

Whatever your group insurance policy is now, lobby to get it at least trebled, regardless of who picks up the tab. Don't forget either that a "shared beneficiary" policy with your employer, where possible, may mean that the increase is almost "for free."

beautiful girls—"colored" girls—sat beside me and actually talked to me while I gazed in tongue-tied silence or babbled in boastful dreams. Boys with my own experiences wrought out with me great remedies. I studied eagerly under thoughtful teachers, and new worlds opened before me. I willed, and lo! I was walking beneath the elms of Harvard—the name of allurements, the college of my youngest, wildest visions. I needed money; scholarships and prizes fell into my lap; commencement came, and standing before Governor, President, and grave, gowned men, I told them certain astonishing truths, waving my arms and breathing fast. They applauded rapturously, and I walked home on great pink clouds of glory. I asked for a fellowship—and got it. I announced my plan of studying in Germany, and when the Slater Board excused itself, I went at them hammer and tongs. Ex-President Hayes, their chairman, smiled as he surrendered.

Key Questions:
1. What peculiar problems does this episode reveal? Are they still present today?
2. How well were today's circumstances handled? Were there any "hidden agendas"?
3. What important lessons may be learned from today's episode? How would you have possibly handled them differently?

LEGISLATIVE ALERT

HUMAN RESOURCES CONGRESSMAN PARREN MITCHELL

Few, if any leaders in the Congress are more bold, direct and independent than Congressman Parren Mitchell, the veteran black bachelor Congressman from Baltimore. His life-long concern has been the building up of human services.

In his work with the Congressional Black Caucus he spearheads activity which seeks to get blacks, the aged and other minorities using their skills for the benefit of all. He wants doles abolished and to see payrolls take their place. If you have any ideas in this regard, please call or write Congressman Mitchell's office direct at the address below. The Caucus telephone number is 202-225-1691.

Other aspects of Congressman Mitchell's illustrious work are alluded to below:

A Member of Congress since 1970, Parren J. Mitchell represents the Seventh Congressional District of Maryland, Baltimore City. In a key Congressional leadership position, Representative Mitchell serves as Chairman of the Congressional Black Caucus for the 95th Congress.

Congressman Mitchell is Chairman of the Congressional Black Caucus Subcommittee on Minority Enterprise and Housing, a group that consists of a well established network of black technical resource persons in the field of business and housing. His unending efforts in the area of minority business enterprise, through establishment of this "Brain Trust" over five years ago, have been used as a prototype to create a support base for other Caucus legislative priorities.

Originally introduced during the 94th Congress and reintroduced again in the current 95th Congress with 56 House co-sponsors, the Minority Enterprise Act launches an attack on the pitfalls faced by minority businesses of lack of capital and operational finance and lack of access to contracting and subcontracting opportunities.

His legislative victories in Congress are widely varied and include such matters as:

* The African Development Bank—Initial involvement of the United States in the African Development Fund with a contribution of $25 million.

* An amendment which increased the Elementary and Secondary Education Act level of funding by $150 million for the 1978 budget.

* The creation of an additional 112,000 summer youth employment jobs, thus raising the level of summer jobs to 1 million for 1977.

* An Amendment to the 1978 budget which increased the business and loan investment section of the Small Business Administration Act by $271 million.

Congressman Mitchell is Chairman of the Task Force on Human Resources of the House Budget Committee and Chairman of the Subcommittee on Domestic Monetary Policy of the Committee on Banking, Finance and Urban Affairs. He also serves as a Member of the Task Force on Community Resources, a subcommittee of the House Budget Committee, the Subcommittee on Housing and Community Development and the Subcommittee on General Oversight and Renegotiation, both subcommittees of the Banking, Finance and Urban Affairs Committee. Representative Mitchell is also Vice-Chairman of the Joint Committee on Defense Production.

MR. H. J. JENKINS

Final rites were read last week for Mr. H.J. Jenkins at Ford Memorial Church of God in Christ with Rev. R.L. Caro officiating.

Media Reviews:

(For students of black independence)

A review of C.L.R. James' The Future In The Present

Interment was held in the City of Lubbock Cemetery under the direction of South Plains Funeral Home.

Mr. Jenkins was born November 11, 1892 in Taylor, Texas (Williamson County) to Mr. and Mrs. Ben Jenkins.

He married Zadic Sherman November 7, 1936.

Mr. Jenkins passed away November 5, 1978 after a lengthy illness at the University Villa Home.

He is survived by his Selected Writings (Lawrence Hill and Co., Westport, Conn., 1977) 271 pages—Hard Cover $12.95.

For all black Americans who are concerned with the freedom struggle in the Caribbean and in the United States as they relate to each other, here is perhaps the best book you could have by far.

C.L.R. James is a largely self-educated and infinitely well-read and well-disciplined scholar and activist. He has been said to be one of the wisest men of our times. A black West Indian and world citizen, he has been active in the intellectual life of four continents and directly in the political life of the West Indies, where he played a major role in shaping the independence movement.

A Marxist in ideology, he has not received the exposure in America which the wisdom of his writings merit.

For a rare treat and for an unforgettable lesson regarding the politics of freedom, The Future In The Present is invaluable. Here we see a man who thinks deeply, acts decisively, works with diligence and teaches as the same superb master he is in his every craft.

wife, Mrs. Zadic Jenkins; a son, Robert Ray, both of Lubbock; three brothers, Parnell Jenkins of Phoenix, Arizona, Hildago of Los Angeles, California and Rufus of Wichita Falls, Texas; three sisters, Mrs. Peggy Williams of Vernon, Texas, Mrs. Alma McCullough of McCamey, Texas and Mrs. Lagran Parker of Los Angeles, California; four grandchildren, three great grandchildren and many other relatives and friends.

Pallbearers were George Lewis, Jeremiah Yates, Bobby Williams, James Bibbs, R.E. Bates, and E.L. Allen. Honorary pallbearers were Deacons of Ford Memorial Church of God in Christ.

WHAT YOUR STARS SAY
November 15-22

ARIES — March 21-April 20
If you've been in the closet with a dream you might feel the temptation to bring it out and offer it for world approval. If no one notices—remember it is your nature to be the only one, to be going toward a Light only you see.

TAURUS — April 21-May 22
Out-of-the-blue occurrences may or may not bring you what you want. If plans presented seem vague and too idealistic, argue a point until you have some say. In order to keep what one has, one must be judicious.

GEMINI — May 23-June 21
Perhaps you are feeling energized in spirit, but not in body. Rather than go after, wait and see what comes. If you have a choice in matters, choose reality rather than dream and dream concepts.

CANCER — June 22-July 22
It is sometimes very good for the body and soul to talk about things you feel, rather than pretend that you don't feel. This is a good time for you to begin verbal communion in the home through the heart.

LEO — July 23-August 22
Sometimes friends take more than they give—and it is in giving that Leos continue to be blessed. When you need something, seek it from a spiritual source so you can continue giving.

VIRGO — August 23-September 22
Nightmares are not just bad dreams—sometimes they are due to the negative energy that we allow to become a permanent state of mind. The bad you see in things outside you could reflect your real person. Consciously look for beauty—it will help you heal.

LIBRA — September 23-October 22
You may be staving off a tendency to be depressed. Use this energy to meditate on positive outcomes. Reality is the creation of daily doings and this should be your happiness.

SCORPIO — October 23-November 21
Those who are open to higher energies and forces may be experiencing strange dreams or other psychic phenomena. Others may be hard pressed to explain nervous and dissatisfied feelings within themselves. Whatever you rid yourself of petty jealousies, anger and hatreds.

SAGITTARIUS — November 22-December 22
The resurgence of true art is beginning to manifest again. If you are artistic or have any creative urges in any field of life—use them, you will be amply rewarded for your patience and your struggle.

CAPRICORN — December 23-January 20
Keep climbing. The top is at the top and above the top is heaven. If responsibility is cooled-out everything should go your way...and with no interferences you have no excuse for delay and non-achievement.

AQUARIUS — January 21-February 19
If others struggle against your vision—do not insist that yours is the only Truth. Perhaps your perception of Truth is not available to mass consciousness. Cultivate friendship with people of like mind.

PISCES — February 20-March 20
If you cling too sturdily to someone or to something that wants to be let go of, you create negative circumstances for yourself. It is terrible to be alone, but being alone is a bearable human condition. Create the strength you need from your own inner resources.

"ESTACADO DROPS LOBOS 21-13"

The Estacado Matadors showed the ability to maintain their composure and come back after being down 7-6 at the half in Lowrey Field last week. The Matadors made some costly mistakes, but their powerful aggressive defense tighten up the lose ends. The Matadors scored quickly in the first quarter when tailback Kevin White danced into the end zone for six points after just five plays. The PAT was wide and the Matadors led 6-0.

Minutes later, the Lobos punted to Estacado's George Irvin who fumbled on their 27. From there, it only took the Lobos three plays to get running back Sanchez into the end zone. The point was good and they led 7-6.

The Matadors threaten a couple of times, but came up empty and trailing at the half. One of the fascinating aspects of the game of football is a team's ability to come back and come back is what the Matadors did!!

From the fifty yard line, quarterback Henderson rolled right and hit running back Robert Humphrey at the 10, and easily walked in for six. Seconds later, White ran in a two point conversion to put the Mats ahead 14-7. In the fourth quarter, Levelland seemed to be moving well after recovering an Estacado fumble at the Estacado 14, but the Matadors defense stiffen and on fourth down Levelland attempted a field goal which was broken up by Todd Parsons who killed the Lobos' threat.

They (Matadors) did let up a bit and the Lobos came right back and scored on an 81 yard march. They missed their opportunity to score a big two points with less than two minutes remaining in the contest.

Of course, the win was the eighth straight for the Matadors and will pave a way for a showdown with the Canyon Eagles this week at Canyon. If the Matadors can keep the pigskin out of field goal range, they can bring the bacon home.

This writer, however, wonders if the mistakes will hurt them in the big game. We'll just wait and see. Coach Louis Kelly will agree, you just can't win playing away from home making mistakes, less known going to state.

BORGER BOMBED THE PANTHERS 41-14

The Bulldogs did it by on the Panthers last week. They drummed the Panthers 41-14. In the game, Borger rushed for more than 400 yards with 23 first downs. The Panthers could only manage 7 first downs and 76 yards of offense.

No doubt about, the Panthers have taken their lumps, but they have hung in there. This writer wonder what would have happened if the Dunbar had some of those huge fellows from across town on their squad. It would, at least, have helped the Panthers in the area of substituting.

Next year, we believe they will be ready. They have real good character and courage.

CANYON

The Eagles narrowly pulled pass the Demons last week by a score of 16-7. The Eagles scoring came on a six yard scamper by Paul Parenica, who also kicked the PAT. Nine other big points came off the strong leg of Eddie Clement. This win will earn them the right to face the Estacado Matadors this week at noon for the District Championship.

RED RAIDERS SMASH FROGS 27-17

The "big red machine" keeps rolling along, showing they do mean business for the remainder of the year as they entered TCU Frog country last week in Fort Worth. With this win, they walked away with their fourth straight triumph to go five and three for the year.

Although they were far warned of dynamite (James Hadnot), the Frogs could only manage to hold him for 166 yards rushing which allowed Hadnot to become the first Black in the SWC to gain more than thousand yards, and the second Red Raider to do so.

The big junior from Jasper, Texas is tenth in the nation on rushing for 1,029 yards. He should up it this week.

But let's not forget about the rest of the crew Nelson, Reeves, Turner, Reed and Kelly. Each continue to improve each week.

The Raiders will square off with the SMU Ponies at Jones Stadium this Saturday. GO!! GO!! RAIDERS!!

Prayer Poem

In 1745 William Williams wrote a hymn originally entitled "Strength to pass through the wilderness." It became popularly known later; for its first line, "Guide me, O thou, great Jehovah." The hymn speaks of the door or gateway leading over Jordan and into Canaan Land. May God lead each of us safely through the doorway which "lands us safe on Canaan's side."

Guide me, O thou great Jehovah, Pilgrim through this barren land; I am weak, but thou art mighty; Hold me with thy powerful hand.

Open now the crystal fountains Whence the living waters flow, Let the fiery, cloudy pillar Lead me all my journey through.

Feed me with the heavenly manna In this barren wilderness; Be my sword, and shield, and banner, Be the Lord my Righteousness.

When I tread the verge of Jordan, Bid my anxious fears subside; Death of death, and hell's destruction, Land me safe on Canaan's side.

"I am the door," said Jesus, In and through Jesus, the doorway to eternal life, we find the fulfillment of our being.

A door is opened each week in public worship for us to gain a greater glimpse and experience of eternal life.
