Big Meeting Set Monday

Since there has been no meeting places offered for the Concerned Citizens of Lubbock, only

East Lubbock Churches have opened their doors for the next meeting. Originally, Second Baptist Church had extended an invitation, but that invitation has been canceled.

Monday evening, May 16th, beginning at 7 p.m., the Concerned Citizens of Lubbock will meet at the Mount Gilead Baptist Church, 2510 Fir Avenue. Rev. Larry L. Peck, Sr. is pastor.

"We are happy to have this fine organization to meet at our church," says Rev. Peck.

According to a spokesperson of the organization, the Human Relations Commissions (HRC) has revoked their participation in the meeting. This follows the refusal of attending the meeting by city councilmen E. Jack Brown and M. J. "Bud" Addison. Both councilmen were invited to attend the meeting held last month, but were unable to attend.

The public is invited to attend the meeting. Anyone who has something to offer this effort are asked to please be in attendance.

The Concerned Citizens of Lubbock became involved over the appeal of the City of Lubbock after the ruling by U. S. District Judge Halbert O. Woodward for Lubbock to have a six-member district.

America's oldest fighting force, the U.S. Marine Corps, receives its first Black recruits in 1943. The participation of Black men and women in America's Armed Forces from 1765 to the present is the subject of THE DIFFERENT DRUMMER: BLACKS IN THE MILITARY, a documentary by award-winning filmmaker William Miles ("I Remember Harlem"). The mini-series will air nationally on three consecutive Wednesday evenings beginning May 18 at 7 p.m. on KTXL, Ch. 5 over public television.

Lubbock Mothers' Society

Lubbock Mothers Enhance Development of Children Through Planned Activities

Concern about the wholistic development of Black children prompted the organization of a group of Mothers. Historically, the formation was encouraged due to an acknowledged need for young Black children to identify with themselves as well as others (who are) like them.

The unofficial name of this group is the Lubbock Mothers' Society. Currently, planning meetings are held once monthly for the upcoming month. The children range in age from nine months to eleven years old.

The Lubbock Mothers' Society in the past has sponsored a Valentine party, Easter egg hunts, a Halloween carnival, filled Birthday parties, fashion gala and a Christmas celebration at the University City Club, complete with individual presentations of baskets of love.

The groups latest and largest event was a Sunmerine Fashion Gala. This extravaganza got underway May 8, 1983 at the YWCA. Music for the show was provided by the "No Compromise Band." Fashions of the afternoon was provided by Pride & Joy, Kidstuff, Little Master, Cameo Girl and Daniels. Door prizes donated by Levi Strauss and tickets sold by the members of the Society. Interested Mothers for future membership should call 762-6076 for more information.

Social Security Tips

Your Social Security And You

by
Jewel M. Love
Service Representative

Here's an important message from Social Security for widows who get monthly Social Security benefits. If you remarry after age 60, your benefit will not be stopped or reduced. But, if you marry someone who also gets monthly Social Security checks, there's a possibility your benefit may be increased.

Social Security retirement benefits start as early as age 62... If you've worked long enough in a job covered by Social Security...and 9 out of 10 workers have...benefits that provide a financial base for your retirement...that keep pace with the cost of living.

If you're in financial need and you're 65 or older or blind or disabled, SSI may be able to help. SSI makes monthly cash payments to people in financial need who have limited income and few resources. If you think you might be eligible, call or write any Social Security office.

If you get your monthly Social Security check and you're planning to move, you should notify Social Security as soon as possible. Then you can be sure your check will go to your new address at the right time. Just call or write any Social Security Office and give them your new address and the date of your move.

Pleasant Home services were as usual throughout all the day beginning with Sunday School at 10:10 a.m. with Brother Mack a Porter teaching adults and intermediates. Sister Hattie Dorsey and Sister Martin taught the primaries. The lesson subject "Breakthrough in Macedonia" Acts 16:9-18. They truly taught beautifully. Devotion was led by Brother Mack Porter, Sister Mozella Mitchell and Sister Delorse Harper. Brother Porter read Matthew 18:1-5. Rev. Kelly poured out his heart and soul to God at altar prayer. The choir, at their post of duty, sang praises to God from their souls. Everyone was at their post of duty. During the 11 a.m. service here at Pleasant Home Baptist Church, our pastor, Rev. Kelly delivered a wonderful sermon. His subject was "A Charge to Keep I Have and A God to Glorify." God was here in the midst and truly spiritually moving.

Statement From Black Leadership

We reaffirm our position that Black seeking the Democratic nomination for the presidency of the United States is a viable option. We affirm the necessity of a candidacy for the Presidency which focuses the Nation's attention on the urgent needs of our cities as well as our depressed rural areas, our poor, our ailing economy, and the erosion of our rights. We find no reason why competent, dedicated leaders should eliminate themselves from consideration because they happen to be Black. We now accelerate the process of voter registration, issue formation, and delegate organization in pursuing such a candidacy. Finally, in the process, we shall consult with other Black business, political, religious, civic and fraternal leaders as well as with Hispanic women, and Latino leaders in order to insure broad and representative participation in this process.

Let's Get Back To Business!!

by
Eddie P. Richardson

Double standards galore!! When the racial stereotype cartoon was published in a state funded institution, that is supported by all taxpayers of Texas, the response was a down play and business as usual attitude. But when the same thing is done by a minority in reverse, oh hell breaks loose. Why? It is wrong on both sides, equally so. But for some reason minorities are always on the bottom of everything and it's taken for granite, reverse the issue still not making it proper or right, and let a minority do the put down and it becomes a major disaster, as was the case with State Rep. Froy Salinas, it has been headlines for almost two weeks out the Texas Tech cartoon was very much played down. Both had bad timing and bad taste in a special sensitive time with the sentiments running high over the appeal issue. Something does not fit!! All of this happened in the same week. State Rep. Salinas' statement and the University Daily's cartoon. The cartoon was downplayed while the State Rep's, who happened to be a minority, was played up to the highest level.

The City Council and Mayor did not help the city with their recent decision to appeal the decision entered by Judge Halbert O. Woodward for a six member district for electing City Council members. They had that legal right to appeal as well as we would have had to right to appeal if the decision had gone the other way, however, we feel their decision was wrong and split the city and the longer the appeal rides the worse it's going to be. The majority of Lubbock citizens disagree as for as all indications show, eg. letters to the editors of local papers, the latest indication being the TV poll by Channel 11 showed by a very large majority of Lubbock taxpayers that they disapproved the council's appeal. The Mayors announcement before the Channel 11 poll that a group was forming to back their stand, what took them so long? and who are they? why now? Why haven't they come forward sooner and let their feelings be known? One thing for sure is the appeal will be overturned by the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals. The most important thing now is for the Mayor and Council to get back to the business of running our city. This has dragged on long enough. Now we need to get back to business. The longer this thing rides the deeper the wedge is driven which is bad for all of us. The judge's decision proved the present system is outdated, outmoded, discriminatory and unworkable so while the appeal is in New Orleans, which will be overturned, let's get back to the business of legislating our city in a positive and aggressive manner.

Take a look around the Black community and you will see that there is not a franchise there eventhough Black people eat chicken, hamburgers, pizzas and other fast foods but there is not a franchise in the area fast food or otherwise in the eastern part of Lubbock. No pizza, taco, or any fast food franchise, something has to be wrong, when one drives across town you see fast food franchises continuously being built on loop 289 heading west one can see two fast food institutions one on each side of the street. More food for the thought, there is not a branch of any financial institution in the eastern section of Lubbock, not even a Civeup window or machine maybe just maybe if there was a person from this section on the City Council, some of these kind of things may not be overlooked in the future because of lack of knowledge on what the community needs and the problem of non-sensitivity and lack of empathy may be resolved.

Tony Brown's Journal

The Depression Hits Race Movies

Part III

"The Middle Years"

The exclusion of Blacks from the motion picture industry and the negative projection of Black life led to the creation of a new cinematic art form: Black-cast movies. The second episode of the four-part mini-series on TONY BROWN'S JOURNAL, "Black Hollywood: The Way It Was," traced the creation of independent Black movies beginning in the late 1900's to the industry's golden era in the 1920's. Part III of this examination of the history of Black independently produced movies and the establishment of a Black film era, "The Middle Years," picks up during the depression years as independent filmmakers struggle for survival.

TONY BROWN'S JOURNAL, the nation's top-ranked, longest-running Black-Affair television series, has been sponsored by Pepsi-Cola Company for eight consecutive years and is televised nationally on public television (PBS). It can be seen in this area on KTXU, Channel 5 at 9:30 p.m. on Thursday, May 19.

In 1929, America's economy was crippled by the stock market crash. The Great Depression dealt a staggering blow to the independent Black film industry. The depression economy and strict competition from Hollywood studios forced all-Black cast movies to take a back seat. It is this period and the industries subsequent revitalization that are examined on the next edition of "Black Hollywood: The Way It Was."

Dr. Henry Sampson, author of Blacks in Black and White: A Source Book on Black Film (The Scarecrow Press), explains the resurgence of Black independent films in 1937. "With few exceptions, the pictures produced by blacks and whites during this period was musicals, gangster films, westerns, or comedies, and the plots were subservient to the dancing, singing, car chases, shooting, riding or comedy routines. In short, most of these films were merely Black versions of gangster and musical comedy films which were being produced by major Hollywood studios," says Dr. Sampson. He continues: "The racial themes which frequently appear in the early films are absent from the films produced during this period."

Film clips on the program include: Oscar Micheaux's "The Girl From Chicago"; "Harlem Is Heaven," starring Bill "Bojangles" Robinson; Paul Roberson's "The Emperor Jones"; and "Symphony in Black," featuring Duke Ellington.

Next Week: "Fading Out."

TAX TICKLERS

"I see you're a fiction writer - and this tax form certainly proves it!"

Black historian William C. Nell wrote Services of Colored Americans in the Wars of 1776 and 1812, first published in 1852.

Ringling The Bell

Bob Tieucl

Black Opportunity: A bellringer writes -- "Dear Bob -- a crying need in all education, is a revision of teaching materials to reflect the fact that Blacks exist: that they have played a part in building America from colonial days until the present and have contributed to every aspect of American cultural, social, economic, political and scientific life. "One will go far to find a history text below the college level that cites the contributions of the Reconstruction governments in establishing public education, removing cruel and archaic laws from the statute books and broadening the suffrage for both white and colored citizens. Every school child learns of the heroic defiance of oppression which the white Sons of Liberty expressed by vandalizing Governor Hutchinson's library and a cargo of tea in Boston harbor. But not many school children learn about the heroic blacks who risked or gave their lives combating the oppression of slavery."

"Perhaps the greatest contribution that could be made to a long range campaign to lessen--or hopefully eradicate racism would be to integrate the Negro into the language arts and social science curricula of American schools so that, at least in their academic education, coming generations would be taught that the black man is and always has been an essential and worthwhile American citizen," signed J.H. Holland.

Dear Bro. Holland--You are right. What we are striving for is that the American Black may gain full participation in the American way of life. We can never occupy that place comfortably until we acquire and believe in our own dignity, self respect and dignity and assurance that we are a part and parcel of the American way of life and there are many signs of progress on the horizon. Don't you agree? Let's keep marching and as my late sainted Mother used to tell me often: "Climb the mountain, black boy, climb the mountain". It was a speech she taught me in early childhood. I still remember most of it. Bob

Here is a portion of the letter to the editor mailed and printed in the Pecos Daily Enterprise recently:

Dear Editor:
On behalf of our small and grateful congregation--The Friendship C.M.E. Church, located at 315 S. Pecos Street here in Pecos, may we take this opportunity as pastor-administrator to thank you and your very fine staff for the wonderful cooperation you have given us and our labors during the past four years.

"We were sent here by Bishop C.D. Coleman and the late Rev. E.J. Lott, district superintendent, of the Northwest Texas Annual conference to see if we could help clear the indebtedness of this mission work. And because of the generosity and faith in us by so many persons of all faiths and creeds, we can report today in the words of the late sainted Martin Luther King: "We are free at last!"

"Nearly thirty years, we served a brief period as pastor of Friendship and had no dream we would be sent back to a charge where most of the charter members and pioneers have passed on and we remember them with love and the knowledge that some day we shall join many of them in the great beyond and tell them "how we got over".

Your editorials on the Chicago Washington's race and election, were challenging and stimulating. And we can thank God, our nation is not all it should be, but under God, we are better than we used to be.

We are still in the midst of our Black Scholarship Fund drive and will be reporting on those gifts for deserving Black students in our Annual Conference which will be convening in Wichita Falls, Texas around the middle of June. Again thanks,

Fraternally yours,
Bob Tieucl, Jr. "The Bellringer"

The KITCHEN BEAT

Pork on a Budget

In today's black American home, cooking is no longer the responsibility of one person. Because of busy and varied schedules, usually every member of the family at some time or another has to prepare personal meals or meals for other members of the family. The Kitchen Beat is designed to meet some needs of the various cooks in the modern black family.

Keeping within the food budget while providing nutritious, appetizing meals is one of today's biggest challenges. Fortunately, cost-conscious consumers can find many opportunities to save at the pork section of the meat counter. There are dozens of budget-savvy pork cuts to choose from—each providing essential food nutrients along with eating satisfaction.

Pork's excellent nutritional rating contributes to its outstanding value. The protein in pork is termed high-quality for it contains all the essential amino acids in the proportions for body growth and to build, repair and maintain tissue and to fight infection and disease. Since protein is needed daily, yet cannot be stored by the body, it is important that at least two servings of protein foods such as pork are included in the diet every day.

Key vitamins in pork include thiamin, niacin, riboflavin, B-6 and B-12. Pork is the leading food source of thiamin, supplying three times as much as any other food. Thiamin helps the body digest food, release energy and is needed for a healthy nervous system.

Iron and zinc are two necessary minerals found in pork. Food iron is vital in forming and maintaining red blood and in preventing anemia. The heme iron supplied by pork is easily utilized by the body. It also helps the body use the nonheme iron supplied by pork as well as other foods.

Dessert With an Italian Accent

Having lasagne, eggplant parmigiana or chicken caeciatara for dinner? Why not have an Italian dessert, too? Biscuit Tortoni Saronno will bring any meal to a delicious close. Best of all, it can be prepared ahead, frozen and served as needed. This is a particularly happy choice when you're having a large group for dinner because the recipe makes 16 servings. Amaretto di Saronno, the legendary Italian liqueur, makes the spirited difference in this yummy version.

BISCUIT TORTONI SARONNO

- 2 cups (1 pint) heavy cream
- 1 cup sifted confectioner's sugar
- 1 cup crumbled soft macarons
- 1/2 cup Amaretto di Saronno

Zinc, especially available in pork, is required to form enzymes, for normal growth and development, wound healing and protein use.

Pork is a wise buy for not only does it supply these many essential nutrients economically, it also supplies them for surprisingly few calories. This high ratio of nutrients to calories means that pork has a high nutrient density, relatively few calories need to be consumed to obtain needed nutrients. This makes pork an excellent choice for weight reduction, as well as normal diets. A 3-ounce serving of cooked lean fresh pork contains just 206 calories while a 3-ounce serving of cooked lean cured ham contains just 160 calories.

The following delicious recipes are via the courtesy of the National Pork Producers Council, in conjunction with the National Live Stock and Meat Board.

Surprise Ham Loaves

- 1 lb. "fully-cooked" smoked ham
- 1 can (8 oz.) crushed pineapple in unsweetened juice
- 1/2 cup soft bread crumbs
- 1 egg, beaten
- 1/4 cup evaporated milk
- 1 Tablespoon agar
- 1/2 teaspoon cornstarch
- 1/2 Water
- 2 Tablespoons cider vinegar

Grind ham or process in food processor to obtain approximately 4 cups. Drain pineapple into 1 cup measure; reserve juice. Remove 2 Tablespoons pineapple for sauce. Combine ham, pineapple, bread crumbs, egg and milk, mixing lightly but thoroughly. Divide mixture into four equal portions; shape each into a loaf about 3 1/4 by 2 1/2 inches. Place loaves in baking pan; bake in moderate oven (350°F.) 25 minutes. Meanwhile, combine sugar and cornstarch in saucepan. Add enough water to reserved juice to make 1/2 cup and add vinegar; stir into sugar and cornstarch. Bring to a boil and boil 1 minute, stirring constantly.

Stir in pineapple. Serve sauce with loaves. (Makes 4 servings.)

We believe that our readers will want to support those advertisers who support the press of Black America. We are sure, therefore, that when you select the ingredient for this week's recipes, you will want to use:

- Argo cornstarch
- Bird's Eye Italian green beans
- Chun King canned bean sprouts
- Chun King soy sauce
- Dole unsweetened pineapple
- Heinz apple cider vinegar
- Wesson cooking oil

Pork Stir Fry

- 1 1/2 lbs. pork shoulder blade steaks, cut 3/4-inch thick
- 1 Tablespoon cornstarch
- 1/2 teaspoon garlic salt
- 1/2 teaspoon ground ginger
- 1/2 cup cooking oil
- 1 medium onion, cut into 12 wedges
- 3 Tablespoons sherry or water
- 3 Tablespoons soy sauce
- 8 ounces fresh bean sprouts*
- 1 1/4 cups thinly sliced carrots, cooked
- 1 pkg. (9 oz.) frozen Italian green beans, cooked and drained

Remove bones from pork steaks and cut into thin strips. Combine cornstarch, garlic salt and ginger; sprinkle over strips. Quickly brown strips (1/2 at a time) in hot oil in large frying-pan; remove and keep warm. Reduce heat and cook onion wedges until lightly browned. Add sherry (or water) and soy sauce. Stir in pork strips and bean sprouts; heat through. Fold in hot carrots and Italian green beans. Serve immediately. (Makes 4 servings.)

*1 can (16 oz.) bean sprouts, drained, may be used.

BLACK AJENDA IN LUBBOCK? A young black architect who graduated from Texas Tech University several years ago believes the BLACK AJENDA for Blacks in Lubbock is in FOUR PARTS and in this order: (1) COMMUNICATIONS aside from the Southwest Digest and including BLACK OWNED RADIO STATION

(2) EDUCATION young Black kids need to know the importance of an education. (3) POLITICS Blacks need to be represented on all local political levels i.e. City Council County Commissioners and School Board and (4) ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT Blacks need their share of the economic pie which they have been denied in Lubbock. These points in more detail were written during his senior year while at TTU. He was here last weekend attending the SCOTT & WALKER FAMILY REUNION and he wanted to reflect back over the way he sees the Black Ajenda here. D. C. KINER THE BARBER SAYS: "It appears as though the same group in Lubbock who wanted PRAYER kept out of school are trying to keep it out of local politics!" DIDJAKNOW??

How many of you read the advertisement which appeared in the May 5, 1983 THRIFTY NICKEL page 6 which stated in part: "3-2-2 CLOSE to Reese TI TECH WHITE AREA Near to country club Well kept neighborhood walk to elementary school Can you imagine an advertisement for housing offered to the public to appear using the words "WHITE AREA" in 1983. Now do you see how important it is for MINORITY REPRESENTATION on the CITY COUNCIL? As one resident said in a recent quote "NOW WE KNOW!" WONDER WHO SUGGESTED IT! A question going around the community these days is who SUGGESTED that the CONCERNED CITIZENS OF LUBBOCK not be ALLOWED TO MEET at the SECOND BAPTIST

A Look At The Churches In East Lubbock

by Rev. R.D. Adams

TOGETHER

I have heard so much about that ministers should come together and that is true we should. But what about the members should they come together too? Members want the minister to do all the building. Well, I am afraid a good many presiding ministers are playing, enjoying selfish ease, instead of seeking to help pershing souls: A sleeping christian is not only helpless and useless, but is a positive hinderance to others.

Too many of our members are on a merry-go-round, they spend all their times going around in circles and getting off right where they got on. As a result they have got absolutely nowhere. I have found very few members who are really dedicated, and committed to the cause of Christ.

Until lazy members become committed to Christ and work for him, obstacles will forever stand in the way. Because many members become like the three monkeys, hear nothing, see nothing and do nothing. They don't like any demands on the old-timers of the community. Members have you awakened to the fact that the world holds the largest number of our young people? Members, the people of the world stick together regardless and there is even a code among thieves that is akin to honor, for one will not betray the other.

The forces of evil are rampant in our Christian organizations, and I dissentions and quarrels among members hold the big stick that cracks down the usefulness of Christian brotherhood. Brothers and sisters we are facing the decision of do or die. We must think for ourselves or be another man's slave.

The Churches are calling for leaders of wise judgement and sound integrity. Yes the churches do need ministers as good leaders but the churches also need good members a good leaders. Leaders not in love with money but in love with God, leaders not in love with publicity, but in love with humanity. No one can be successful in God unless he make a commitment. Commitment means that we are

Mrs. Victoria Andrews

Memorial services for Mrs. Victoria Robinson Andrews, 74 of Rt. 1, Lubbock, Texas will be at 3 p.m. Saturday, May 14, 1983 at St. John Baptist Church, Rev. James Moore will officiate, assisted by Rev. Earnest Wilson, Rev. Leon Woods and Rev. Leon Patton.

The body was donated to Health Research.

Mrs. Victoria Robinson Andrews was born January 29, 1909 in Panola County, Texas to the parentage of the late Mr. Jim and Mrs. Hanna Bryant Robinson.

She attended school in Pamela County and later moved to Lubbock, Texas in 1943.

She and Ben Andrews were joined together in matrimony in 1947. To this union no children were born.

The Outreach Prayer Breakfast

The Outreach Prayer Breakfast members and friends met in the home of Mrs. Pearl Baker at 10 a.m. It was a pre-Mother's Day brunch. This was a service as we have never witnessed before, spiritually. We thank God for Mothers. Presiding over this service was our president Mrs. Ward and vice president Mrs. Fair.

Scripture lesson by Rev. Tony Williams "That First Mother," Gen. 1:26-27; 2:22-23 & 3:1-24. So God created man in His own image, in the image of God created He him: male and female created He them. v 22-23 And the rib, which the Lord God had taken from man, made he a woman, and brought her unto the man. And Adam said this in now bone of my bones, and flesh of my flesh: She shall be called woman, because she was taken out of man. (key verse) 3:20 And Adam called his wife's name Eve; because she was the mother of all living.

This man of God said all women are mothers whether they have bore a child or not. Mothers need to have faith that will not waiver like Sarah. She was an old woman and God said she would be blessed with a son, and will be a mother of nations. God works in mysterious ways his wonders to perform. With Him, all things all possible. This man preached as if he was in a temple of power and fire and this is the way it should be done. God's word has power. Holy Ghosts powers. All in attendance on Saturday can say AMEN. You are the greatest. Rev. Williams. We love you!

President Ward welcomed our many visitors.

Mrs. Ethel Phillips of Shreveport responded to the welcome. There were testimonies and remarks from all.

Mrs. Catherine Smith sung so beautifully, "Amazing Grace." Also Mrs. Dyer sang "Precious Memories," like no one else could do. These women can really sing.

All helped themselves to buffet style food which was prepared by Mrs. Pearl Baker. This lady can put good eating together. We would like to thank her for a job well done.

Are you hungry?? If so, see you on Saturday.

Mrs. Verta Smith, a lady that's concerned about the young people and our community and is working hard to make some positive things happen, stressed that justice is two ways. A lady with a dream.

Guest list: Rev. and Mrs. Tony Williams, Mrs. Loverta Jacks, Mrs. Ethel Phillips of Shreveport, LA., Mrs. Helen Johnson, Mrs. Virginia Herford, Mrs. Mary Hill, Mrs. Irene Buckner, Mrs. Verta Smith, Mrs. Christine Hysom, Mrs. Luella Moore, Mrs. Willie M. Herford, Mrs. Dyer, Mrs. Catherine Smith, Mrs. Pearl R. Bonner and Mrs. Pearl Baker.

Visitors and all former members, it took all of you to make this day so perfect. Come Again!

Sick list: Mrs. Artie M. Washington and Mr. Andrew Williams.

To all bereaved families and all sick and hurting people not mentioned as well as those that are, when we face obstacles to tall to climb. Lord gives us wings of faith. We ask in the name

Today was Youth Day and the young children participated wonderfully.

Starting the day was youth superintendent, Eddie Jackson, opening Sunday School. The lesson was "Conflict in Corinth," Acts 18:1, 4-17. Youth deacons, Roosevelt Portee, Jr and Eddie Jackson carried out morning devotion. The primary choir was at their post of duty. The message of the hour was presented by Rev. Bell. Rev. Bell talked on "Mothers." At 3 p.m. we closed our revival with Rev. Gentry from Crosbyton, TX, pastor of Galilee Baptist Church. Rev. Gentry preached a beautiful sermon "Lift Anchor and Let's Sail," Luke 6:38.4. We'd like to thank Rev. Gentry and his choir for the wonderful job they did.

 Isaiah 1:18

"I Thank God For Jesus"

"Lord; How Sweet, To Be Loved By You"

John 3:16 Jesus said, for God so loved the world, that He gave His only begotten son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life.

Lord how sweet it is to be loved by you, you've been so good, I've got to tell the truth.

Lord, from day one I could have died, but thanks be to Jesus, I'm yet alive.

Lord; when I was in the world of sin and shame, I remember the 3 shot guns, that could have blown out my brains.

Lord; each time I'd tell it, they'd say, boy you're lucky to be, and I was too blind to know, they were blessings from the Lord; I wanna stop and say "thank you Jesus," how sweet to be loved by you, you're just like honey!

I Timothy 1:15 This is a faithful saying, and worthy of all acceptation, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners, whom I am Chief.

Lord; I need someone to help me when I was down, I looked for my so called friends, but none was around.

Lord; I heard you say if you have a problem, bring it to you in prayer, and the faith I believed and you took it from there, when my mother was hit with a stroke,

Cod is not through with us yet, let's pray for one another always.

You'll remember that each summer Texas Tech University Theatre and Music Department along with Civic Lubbock and Lubbock Cultural Affairs Council band together in sponsorship of "Lubbock Summer Rep" (for repertory).

Well, the plans are well underway for "Lubbock Summer Rep '83" which will begin the weekend of June 17 and run through the weekend of July 23 (Fridays and Saturday nights. The three announced musicals will be seen at 8:15 p.m. at the Lubbock Civic Center Theatre.

They are a tuneful lot, this time, familiar to most, with one revival that will be new to the current young generations. The series opens June 17-18 and June 24-25, with Rodgers and Hammerstein's now-classic of World War II, "South Pacific." This will be followed, with John Gills at the helm again, by Gilbert and Sullivan's merry romp about the British Navy, "H.M.S. Pinafore." This one for July 1-2 and July 8-9. Closing the series will be the revival mentioned above, "Anything Goes" from the vintage musical that brought us "I Get a Kick Out of You" and others.

All or any one of these are an evening's full entertainment, tuneful, colorful and worth seeing and hearing. All of them are a bargain hard to beat in any locale. For full ticket information call 806-742-1936. All these have a shipboard, seaside background, so plan yourself a delightful summer cruise right on your doorstep and you'll be glad you did so.

I had planned to write a serious column about a pressing civic and state problem that embraces the management of bars and what amounts to child abuse in my eyes this time and demand action on city, county (where applicable) and state level. I am not yet quite ready but, I promise you, I feel so strongly about this subject that one of these Thursdays you'll get a blast from me. It'll go on via clippings etc. from here to those responsible for law and order and the protection of those who cannot take care of themselves due to irresponsible parents and associates. Watch for it.

I wrote on this subject in the Lubbock Digest a while back. This time I'll not mince words and do my best to make someone somewhere see the light.

A Handbook for Concerned Parents
(practical and helpful guide to sex education)

A review of Sex Is a Parent Affair by Letha Dawson Scanzoni (New York: Bantam Books, 1982), Paperback—238 pages—$2.95.

In an age when sex education is greatly needed and where there is so much controversy over the issue of who should educate—the home or the school—Letha Scanzoni's book seems almost like a gift from heaven. Here is a handbook for parents who want to guide their children toward a responsible, Christian understanding of sexuality.

Here is an A to Z look at anatomy and reproduction. Every subject is presented in an objective, forthright manner. The book offers parents thoughtful answers and useful information for all the questions their children might raise concerning all kinds of sexual situations.

This guide begins with a chapter on "Sex in God's Plan" and concludes with "What If a Child Asks About...?"—26 subjects discussed in clear, explicit terms.

Every parent of young and teenage children should read this book over and over again. It will help to make your children's growing up years less stressful and more secure.

If you've ever rented a house or apartment, chances are that at some point you wished you knew Texas law. Whether it's a security deposit or major repairs, both tenants and landlords are often confused about their rights and duties under the law. Over the next few weeks, this column will cover the main areas of Texas landlord-tenant law. Repairs, lockouts, utility cutoffs, security deposits, evictions, and other areas will be discussed. Later, we will have columns on public or subsidized housing.

In general, it is important to have the terms of your lease in writing. If there is a written lease, read it carefully and make any changes you and the landlord can agree on by putting your initials by the change. Make sure all blanks are filled in or marked "N.A." for not applicable. It's a good idea to inspect the property before you sign. This should be done in the presence of the landlord or other witnesses, and a checklist of problems should be made, dated, and signed. Keep a copy of the lease and inspection checklist.
