

US Air Forces Blast Jap Navy A Third Time

WASHINGTON, June 16 (AP)—The Japanese navy appeared today to be reeling under the third smashing attack it has suffered at the hands of the American air force in as many operational areas of the Pacific.

Following up the Coral Sea and Midway Island victories, in the southwestern and middle Pacific arenas, respectively, the navy department reported late yesterday that American fliers were pounding a Japanese invasion force in the north, off the Aleutian Islands.

While reports on the progress of the battle were inconclusive, Japanese losses listed thus far included the sinking of one cruiser and the damaging of one aircraft carrier, at least three cruisers, one destroyer, one gunboat and one transport. Damage to some of the vessels was described as severe.

There were no reports of American losses.

In a communique breaking its three-day silence on what appears to have been a desperate attempt by the Japanese to gain a toehold on the barren, rocky chain stretching away from Alaska, the navy said attack operations were continuing by both army and navy fliers.

"Except for these continuing air attacks upon the enemy landing parties and their supporting naval contingents," the communique said, "the general situation in the Aleutian Islands appears unchanged."

This was taken by some observers to mean that the enemy had failed to improve his position over the weekend by landing at any point other than Attu, a craggy little islet that marks the western-most tip of the Aleutian chain, 768 nautical miles from Dutch Harbor.

Attu, which is surrounded by treacherous reefs and is almost constantly fogbound, was considered of little military value, although it might be used as a listening and reconnaissance base.

In addition to Attu, the enemy was reported last Friday to have sent a few ships into the little harbor at Kiska. Today authorities said they had been driven out.

While the latest engagement apparently has not yet been resolved, strategists were inclined to believe the imperial command had suffered paralyzing defeats in three major campaigns:

1. To sever the American supply line through the Coral Sea, preliminary to attempt to invade Australia.
 2. To capture Midway Island and use it as a springboard for a grand assault on Pearl Harbor.
 3. To establish bases in the north for an invasion of the American continent.
- Aside from their offensive nature, all three ventures would have carried considerable importance as defensive measures as well.
- Leaving out the Aleutian score pending more complete reports, a compilation of the enemy's losses in the first two engagements, Coral and Midway, add up to 15 ships sunk, including three aircraft carriers and four cruisers; three probably sunk, including one carrier and a cruiser, and at least 27 damaged.

Funds Set Up For Guayule

WASHINGTON, June 16 (AP)—The house appropriations committee approved today a $33,548,000 omnibus bill primarily for acceleration of guayule rubber production and for financing increased business in the nation's postoffices.

The measure would give the post-office department $35,888,000 because of what the committee said was an "unprecedented volume of mail and postal business." Revenues so far this fiscal year are $65,000,000 more than expected and expenditures are up $32,000,000.

The budget bureau asked congress for $9,750,000 for the rental, planting and cultivation of 50,000 acres of guayule, extension of nurseries to 500 acres for growing of guayule seed and other plants for production of rubber and experimentation in processes of extracting rubber from the plants.

The committee reduced the total to be available for rubber to $3,835,000, but did not specify what projects in the program should be trimmed.

Wheat Damaged By Severe Hailstorm

DIMMITT, June 16 (AP)—A hailstorm that slashed a 10-mile path through Castro county's best wheat belt east of here caused a half-million-dollar loss, it was estimated by Dewitt Lamb, editor of the Castro County News.

The storm struck Sunday night, damaging many row crops, including cotton, which cannot be replanted this season.

Nazis Put On Defensive In Kharkov Area

Russian Defenses Check Attempt To Cross River

MOSCOW, June 16 (AP)—A three-day German assault in an attempt to cross an important river in the Kharkov sector has been balked by Russian hill-top defenses and the nazis now have been forced back to the defensive, front-line Soviet dispatches declared today.

(The Germans claimed today they had expanded a bridgehead which they won across the Donets river in the Kharkov area yesterday.)

Around Sevastopol, the other major scene of current fighting on the eastern front, the Germans have massed seven artillery regiments on their main line of assault in an effort to batter down the Russian fortifications of that besieged Crimean city, the Russians said.

The German cannon include one of the Big Berthas like those with which the Kaiser's troops shelled Paris during the last World War, the dispatches said, but despite this weight of artillery the Red army forces are holding firmly to their rockbound positions.

Tass, official Soviet news agency, said the Germans were using at least seven infantry divisions and more than 150 tanks against Sevastopol in addition to the massed artillery.

In repulsing the repeated heavy German assaults, the agency said, the Sevastopol garrison in a single day destroyed 46 tanks and killed three regiments of infantry, while Soviet planes burned 10 tanks, knocked out 13 more and smashed 13 trucks loaded with infantry.

"The approaches to our advance line were littered with the bodies of fascist officers and men," Tass said, with 950 counted in one small sector.

Tass warned, however, that "the situation remains tense."

Thinks Hitler May Strike On Russian War's Anniversary

FORT WORTH, June 16 (AP)—If Hitler lives up to his past reputation, the Russians probably will be in for trouble within a few days.

Ernest G. Fischer, a native Texan who as an Associated Press correspondent has just returned from internment in the Reich, told members of the Associated Press last night that Hitler's fondness for anniversaries may forebode great events on the Russian front.

It was on June 22 of last year, Fischer recalled, that the Nazi hordes marched against Russia. Therefore it is not unreasonable to expect a powerful German thrust on the first anniversary of the attack, possibly toward the Caucasus, Fischer suggested.

Germany needs the oil in the Caucasus and will leave nothing undone to get it, Fischer said.

Officers Going To FBI Conferences

Deputy Sheriff Bob Wolf and Justice of the Peace Walter Grice, and possibly other law enforcement officers of Big Spring will attend a meeting with the F.B.I. in Lubbock Wednesday.

Purpose of the meeting is to study work of peace officers in national defense, and attendance is limited to officers only.

Denver Dunn, deputy sheriff, will attend a similar meeting in San Angelo Thursday, and Sheriff Andrew Merrick plans to attend another in Stamford on Friday. The Stamford meeting will honor Police Chief George Flournoy, who is completing 42 years of law enforcement work there.

Bill Approved To Double Our Fleet, Add Air Power

WASHINGTON, June 16 (AP)—An $8,550,000,000 ship construction measure—an unprecedented program designed ultimately to double the size of the United States fleet—was approved today by the house naval committee.

The measure, demonstrating the navy's increasing emphasis on plane carrier and pointedly omitting any provision for new battleships, will provide for more than 1,400 ships of all types, including more than 400 combatant craft in the carrier - cruiser - destroyer category.

Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) said construction of the carriers would be started this year and the rest of the big boat program next year. He said the keels for the carriers would be laid "immediately."

The bill authorizes construction of 600,000 tons of carriers, cruisers and 900,000 tons of destroyers and destroyer escort vessels.

Two members of the senate naval affairs committee said that navy officials had decided to defer all plans for huge new battleships in order to concentrate upon expanding fighting power in the air.

Senators Ellender (D-La.) and Brewster (R-Me.) in separate interviews said that top ranking admirals had informed them that no new battleships would be started and that plans for cruisers now under way were being converted so that these would be completed as aircraft carriers.

"The navy finally has decided it must have more airpower to protect our present fleet," Ellender said. "Some of the cruisers being converted were pretty well along."

Rubber Salvage Starts Briskly

Big Spring counted its scrap-rubber collection in the tons Tuesday as the campaign for retrieving old rubber goods moved into its second day here.

At noon the total reported through the chamber of commerce stood at 48,350 pounds—48,000 pounds reported by two oil companies and one junk dealer.

By and large, service stations—due to be the backbone of the drive to reclaim rubber—were reporting meagre response.

Largest amount collected was reported by Humble oil. C. L. Rowe, bulk agent, said the total through his stations stood at 25,000 pounds at noon Tuesday. Howard County Refining Co. was just getting warmed up at its Flash stations and had 3,000 pounds at noon with prospects that things would really get underway during the afternoon. Charles Morris, junk dealer, said he had received 20,000 pounds.

All other service stations reporting—and most had no report at all—had small lots of 25 to 50 to 75 pounds, a miscellaneous total of 550 pounds in all.

B. J. McDaniel, chairman of the committee composed of representatives of oil companies, had promised in the planning meeting Monday that if stations "do not get results, I'm going to call you fellows back here to see if we can't get the job done."

Stations were authorized to pay a cent a pound for the reclaimed rubber. Those who wish may donate their old rubber and have the proceeds go to wartime relief agencies, or may leave the supply beside the garbage can at home and the city will convert the material into funds for the local office of civilian defense.

Boy Scouts of troop No. 3 were busy as scavengers Tuesday collecting old rubber goods, and W. D. Berry, scoutmaster, asked that those who wish the scouts to pick up the material call 2020 and leave their address. Boy collecting the most gets a prize and proceeds from the sale will go to the troop treasury, he said.

Meanwhile, residents were urged to gather up all old rubber items around their homes and to turn it in, no matter how small the amount. There was no limit on what could be used—hot water bottles, rubber gloves, rubber hose, rubber heels, overshoes, tennis shoes, tires, tubes, old rubber shoe soles, rubber door and car mats, etc.

Bond-Stamp Day Mapped

An all out effort to sell war bonds and stamps in unprecedented volume on July 1, when a quarter hour will be set aside during which nothing else will be sold in any store, was mapped at a meeting of the chamber of commerce retail committee Monday.

A. Swartz was named chairman for the undertaking, and immediately started plans to enroll every seller in the city.

The July 1 program is on a nationwide basis, the treasury department having asked every store in the country to suspend all regular sales for the 15 minutes from 12 noon to 12:15 on the first day of July, and to have employees concentrate on disposal of stamps and bonds.

Stickers announcing participation in the program will be provided for all stores which cooperate here, the C. of C. said. Full information will be taken to all retail sellers within the next few days.

Rome, Berlin Claim Convoys Shattered

Allied Cruisers, Destroyers and Merchantmen Said Sunk

ROME (From Italian Broadcasts), June 16 (AP)—The Italian high command announced today the loss of a heavy Italian cruiser, destruction of an allied cruiser and two destroyers, the sinking or setting ashore of five other allied vessels, and damage to 12 more in a series of heavy naval and air battles in the central Mediterranean on Monday.

(There was no confirmation of the Italian report from any other source. The Italian communique indicated that at least some of the list of allied losses were in addition to the announcement yesterday that seven allied ships were sunk, although it was not clear on this point.)

The fighting centered around two large British convoys, one east-bound, the other west-bound.

BERLIN (From German Broadcasts), June 16 (AP)—The German high command in a special communique today declared German aircraft and naval vessels cooperating with the Italian air and naval units had sunk 56,000 tons of shipping, including four cruisers and destroyers, in attacks on a British Mediterranean convoy.

Two other escort vessels were sunk, the communique said. (There is no confirmation of these claims from allied quarters.)

Auto Industry Is 98% Converted To War Production

WASHINGTON, June 16 (AP)—Conversion of the automobile industry to war production is reported by Representative Thomason (D-Tex.) to be more than 98 per cent complete.

He told the house that a trip he and other members of the house committee on military affairs made to Detroit disclosed that "production everywhere in that area is up to or ahead of schedule."

"It is a genuine thrill and inspiration to see what is going on," he said. "It is proof of what American genius and determination can do."

Committee Balks On $25,000 Limitation

WASHINGTON, June 16 (AP)—Chairman Doughton (D-NC) said today the house ways and means committee had decided "it should not take the responsibility now" of considering the administration's request for a $25,000 limitation on individual incomes after payment of taxes.

Members said that they understood that the request probably would not be considered in connection with the pending tax bill. Word spread on Capitol Hill that President Roosevelt would like action expedited on excise taxes.

CAP To Start Patrol And Courier Duty

SAN ANTONIO, June 16 (AP)—Patrol duty and courier service will be undertaken immediately by the Texas wing of the Civil Air Patrol, D. Harold Byrd of Dallas, state commander, announced today.

Ordering of the C.A.P. to duty came on the same day set for demobilization of the Texas Defense Guard air arm by Gov. Coke Stevenson.

Motion Pictures To Be Shown Wardens

A special motion picture program for air raid wardens of the city and county will be held in the city auditorium June 24 at 8 p. m. The three-hour program is to be given by the Texas Department of Public Safety. Pictures of actual bombing raids are to be shown, and the work of air raid wardens while the raids are in progress and after they are completed will be emphasized. Local wardens will be able to see concrete examples of what is expected of them in case of an air raid.

Land Measuring Work Under Way

According to reports from the local AAA offices, land measuring work in the county has been started in several areas. Before the work can move into full swing, however, more men are needed. The present group employed is too small to take care of the entire county.

Many Italian Ships Sunk, Damaged

CAIRO, June 16 (AP)—The United States army air force and the RAF, operating together for the first time in the Mediterranean, have set fire to two Italian battleships, sunk a 10,000-ton Italian cruiser of the Trento class, and scored hits on a smaller cruiser and a destroyer in four days of heavy fighting, the RAF announced late today in a special communique.

In addition, the RAF and the Royal Navy's fleet air arm set fire to another Italian cruiser and probably hit a destroyer in a second Italian naval force during the same period, the communique said.

The American airmen were operating big four-engined Consolidated B-24 bombers, which the British call Liberators.

(The American planes which landed in Turkey after a reported raid on Rumania and the Black Sea area last week were the long-range Consolidated B-24's.)

Italian communique yesterday and today have described major naval-air battles in the central Mediterranean, claiming heavy damage to Allied convoys.

The RAF communique, confirming big-scale operations in that area, and disclosing for the first time the U. S. Army air force participation, gave this account:

"On the evening of June 16 an Italian naval force including two battleships and four destroyers was sighted south Taranto.

"It was shadowed and, during the following night, was attacked by torpedo planes from Malta and Africa and by a force of Liberator aircraft the majority of which were American-manned by the United States Army air force.

"The attacks were simultaneous. A number of hits were made on the battleships. Fires were caused.

"One Trento cruiser (10,000 tons) was set afire by bombs and sunk by aircraft torpedoes.

"One six-inch (gun) cruiser and one destroyer also are known to have been hit.

"Early in the afternoon the enemy turned northwards, and during the night of June 15-16 were shadowed as they returned to base.

"On the morning of June 15 a second Italian naval force of cruisers and destroyers in the neighborhood of Pantelleria was attacked by torpedo aircraft of the British fleet air arm and the RAF. One cruiser was hit and set on fire and one destroyer probably hit.

"From June 13 British naval forces were covered by fighters and many bombing attacks were intercepted.

"One enemy raid consisted of 40 Junkers 87's and 55's escorted by more than 20 Messerschmitt 109's.

"The enemy was compelled to jettison bombs far from our ships.

"Considerable losses were inflicted on the enemy, but full details are not yet available."

British Lose Defense Line In Africa

CAIRO, Egypt, June 16 (AP)—The fierce Libyan battle, in which armored forces of both sides have taken a terrific hammering, moved eastward toward Tobruk today as the British withdrew from their coastal anchor around Ain El Gasala while heroic anti-tank gunners and tank drivers fought to hold open the road at Acroma.

This meant the British had given up the old Ain El Gasala-Hi El Haschem line of strong boxes and minefields which the Germans first went around, then pierced, and finally erased one end at a time.

But it also meant the British had succeeded in escaping a threatened trap when the Germans drove their tanks at Acroma, 10 miles west of Tobruk, to cut off the Ain El Gasala forces, 30 miles farther west.

Rommel thus had managed after three weeks of terrific battling to accomplish what he had aimed at in the first few days, the elimination of the defense line for a direct attack on Tobruk and its screening positions at Acroma and El Adem, just to the south of Tobruk.

But there was no indication that Rommel had been reinforced, and he was believed to be fighting with the same three armored divisions with which he launched his offensive three weeks ago.

In the British view, both sides are near the end of their energy and yet another of the seething battles of Libya will end without settling the fate of northeast Africa.

Even if Tobruk fell or again were besieged, they said, Rommel would be too spent to push beyond toward Egypt and the Nile valley.

Ship Toll Now Is Up To 271

Six newly announced ship sinkings in the submarine-dotted western Atlantic put the war total of destroyed allied and neutral vessels in that area at 271 today while the navy pondered the fate of an American freighter missing for four months.

Navy and other reports of the recent victims said the U-boats had picked off two American merchantmen in Cuban waters. A large Panamanian cargo vessel in the Gulf of Mexico, a Norwegian tanker off South America, an unidentified ship in the Atlantic and a British schooner off the British West Indies.

Naval and shipping circles were discussing the disappearance without a trace of the New Orleans freighter Miraflores of the Standard Fruit and Steamship company, last sighted Feb. 15 off the Haitian coast.

HOMER W. HAISLIP

Rev. Haislip Resigns As Pastor Here

Rev. Homer W. Haislip resigned his pastorate of the First Christian church here, at a meeting of the church board Monday night, and announced he had accepted a call to the First Christian church of Ardmore, Okla. A pulpits committee from the Ardmore congregation visited here several weeks ago.

Rev. and Mrs. Haislip came to Big Spring in May, 1940, from Fort Worth.

The return to Oklahoma will be something of a homecoming for the Haislips. Both attended Phillips university at Enid where he received his B. D. and M. A. degrees and Mrs. Haislip received her M. A. degree. Rev. Haislip was at a ministry in Okemah, Okla., before coming to Texas.

The local church has made an outstanding record in the past two years, with over 100 new memberships, and the raising of the entire indebtedness of $3,500. Giving to missionary causes has been doubled and the local budget has been greatly increased.

Rev. Haislip has been a member of the state board of religious education and district chairman of young people's work. He has served as local director for the West Texas Young People's conference for three years. Mrs. Haislip has been active in the local and state program of the church and has taught Bible in the Big Spring high school.

Rev. Haislip expects to close his ministry here on July 15. The board already is considering a successor. The pastor expressed regret at leaving Big Spring but said he felt "morally and spiritually obligated to accept this larger Christian responsibility." Members of the board expressed appreciation for the fine leadership Rev. Haislip has given here.

The budget bureau asked congress for $9,750,000 for the rental, planting and cultivation of 50,000 acres of guayule, extension of nurseries to 500 acres for growing of guayule seed and other plants for production of rubber and experimentation in processes of extracting rubber from the plants.

The committee reduced the total to be available for rubber to $3,835,000, but did not specify what projects in the program should be trimmed.

JULY 1, 1941. The latest news is not the war in Russia, but that two men from the battalion can go on leave every fortnight. I've worked it out that under this scheme we shall need five and a half years. Marvelous, isn't it?

JULY 13 . . . we started off the day again with an inoculation in the left breast, this time against cholera. If it goes on like this we shall shortly be walking medicine chests.

JULY 31. Last night things were pretty hot in Tobruk. Half the night German bombs were crashing down. Enormous pillars of fire arose in the air. I admire the iron resolution with which the British fight on from this isolated post. It was in their power to abandon it by sea long ago.

AUGUST 31. The Italians are are getting thinner, but that's no reason for going back home. Only if you have got no left arm and no right leg can you start talking of home.

SEPTEMBER 15. Today that mad Italian bugler sounded the air raid alarm no less than 19 times. That makes 38 bugle calls altogether. The Italians by this time are getting to be a real joke. They shoot at anything in the air—providing it's far enough away.

OCTOBER 15. Today once again we got rations for three days. I had such a pitiable hunger that I have already eaten my rations for tomorrow and the day after. What I'll eat then, God alone knows. Perhaps I'll get another food parcel. Isn't it a perfect mockery what they offer us here for food? Here of all places, where you need more to keep you in condition. . . . The Afrika Korps has grown a lot. A few months ago a man could be spared, but today—! They want us to build another wooden cross out of an old wooden box.

Heavy Demand Continues For Canning Sugar

Howard county families are putting up that food for freedom, as is evidenced by the land office business being done in the county ration board on canning sugar days.

Two days in each week, Monday and Friday, are set aside by the board to issue canning sugar, and the task has become so great that it is practically impossible for the board to carry on any other business on those days.

As workers in the office report in the mornings of canning sugar days, a lengthy line of applicants invariably awaits them. The workers enter and begin issuing certificates, trying to dispense with the rush as best they can.

After two or three hours, and the line has not diminished in size, all other work is pushed to one side as the ration board workers prepare for a full day of canning sugar rationing. Not only will it take up their full working day, but often runs over two or three hours past closing time.

An exceptionally large group was on hand Monday morning, long before time for the office to open. It seems that a number of families chose to spend that Sunday afternoon of leisure getting fruits ready for canning.

Occasionally one popped up with a bandaged finger, the result of a sharp knife used in preparing the fruit for the can. Everyone was in a hurry, because that fruit just won't keep for long.

However, just as the board was all settled for the day, it was discovered that a package, supposedly containing a thousand canning sugar certificates, had something else enclosed. As the supply of certificates dwindled, the nervous tension among the workers became terrific. But there was a solution. A message was sent to the Midland board and a new supply was soon on its way.

Vincent Community Reunion Called Off

Annual Vincent community reunion, customarily held on the third Sunday in June each year, has been cancelled this year.

Mrs. A. D. Henry reported that the Vincent Baptist church, in whose building the reunion gathering is held, had voted to call the meeting off due to illness and fire rationing.

"Many have sent word that they could not come this year, so it was felt wise to cancel the reunion until after the war," Mrs. Henry said.

Annie Oakleys Take Up Duties Of War

TILLAMOOK, Ore.—The Tillamook Guerrillas today were reinforced by a ladies' auxiliary—a band of sharpshooting Annie Oakleys with well-polished deer rifles.

Col. Stewart Arnold, blind commander of the Guerrillas, signed up the feminine marksmen at a recent meeting.

Citing the example of the Russian and Spanish women "partisan" warriors, the Tillamook housewives and secretaries besieged Stewart to grant them licenses for the prospective "Japanese hunting season."

Organized in groups similar to those established by the Guerrilla force, they prepared to man essential industries and help with seasonal crops. One battalion has been delegated the job of collecting needed scrap metal.

The women's army will function in that fashion until the day of invasion comes—if and when. Then they'll drop their hoes and plows for rifles.

Stewart says the feminine warriors will be assigned definite territory to defend, and he isn't doubtful about their ability to defend it. Many of them get the bag limit during deer season.

War Dangers Are Nothing, Compared To The Bathtub

NEW DELHI, India, June 16 (AP) During two years in the war zones, Associated Press Correspondent Preston Grover was bombed more than 100 times by the British, Germans and Italians.

He was repeatedly under artillery, machine-gun and snipers' rifle fire.

He flew in a bomber raiding enemy territory.

Twice he was pitched into the Mediterranean from attacked ships.

He wasn't scratched.

Today he was nursing his first injury—two ribs broken when he slipped on a piece of soap in his bathtub.

How to Make Your Appliances Run Smoothly and Last Longer*

Your electric fan, and other motor-driven electric appliances, will run more smoothly and last longer if oiled according to the recommendations of the manufacturer. Now that the manufacture of fans has been restricted and many other motor-operated appliances are out of production due to the war, every needed attention should be given them to make 'em last.

A complete cleaning and oiling by a qualified electrician should make your fan operate more quietly and prolong its life. This attention is particularly important after a fan has been idle all winter.

"Refrain From Chatter" Is One Way Women Can Help War Effort

WASHINGTON, June 16 (SpI) — Col. Frederick George Sutton, member of the Australian military mission, said today that one way American women could help the United Nations win the war was "to refrain from chattering"—and get the menfolk to do the same.

He was backed up in this by Mrs. Jimmy Doolittle, wife of the flyer who led the raid on Japan. "There is too much idle talk," she said.

Both were luncheon speakers at a conference yesterday in which presidents of leading national women's organizations, composing the advisory council to the women's interests section of the war department, met with high ranking Army officers to discuss war problems of importance to club women.

The conference sessions were very hush-hush, but one of the major problems discussed, said Col. R. Ernest Dupuy, of the war department bureau of public relations, was how to discourage idle tongues—male and female.

Colonel Sutton said in Australia a person who spread unfounded rumors or gossip was dubbed a "chatterbug."

Passeau Hands Brooklyns A Licking, His 10th Win

By SID FEDER
Associated Press Sports Writer
The moral of this piece is: Never throw a bean ball at Claude Passeau.

It took it out on the Dodgers ever since, and getting a lot of laughs out of it.
Claude was so peeved that afternoon of July 13, 1940 at Wrigley Field that he started to take on the whole Brooklyn ball club, bareknuckles. He was punched around somewhat by Joe Gallagher, then a Dodger but now a soldier. These antics shocked National League Prescy Ford Frick so that he pinned a $76 fine on the Chicago club's ace elbow.

Ever since then, the man from Mississippi—that's no reflection, the Claude's college—has been taking that "six bits" out, in a knockout. In the course of two years, he knocked off Brooklyn seven times and lost only two games.

Right now, he's pretty warm for June—or any other month. He hasn't been beaten since May 5. So last evening, Manager Jimmy Wilson, his old pal and co-refugee from the Phillies, asked him to go out there against the Brooklyns in a twilight game—the first big league game ever to start in daylight and end under the arcs.

"Them bums," Passeau shrugged, "why they're my cousins."
What he did to the league leaders made the relationship seem even closer than that. He served up a five-hitter and he didn't let a Dodger get past second. In fact, only two got as far as that. And with the help of some fair country clouting by Lou Novikoff, Bill Nicholson and James (Double-X) Fox he walked home with a 6-0 decision.

It was his eighth straight victory and made him the first big league twirler to hit the ten-game winner bull-eye this year.

The triumph moved the Cubs back into fifth place, and dropped the Pittsburgh Pirates into sixth, because the Cubs lost the only other game on the big league schedule yesterday. This was a 6-2 setback pinned on them by the New York Giants.

The American league's eastern clubs open their western swing today, and the National league's east entertains the folks from the west. Except that Brooklyn and the Cubs will take the day off to rest up.

Two Birdies On One Hole: Harrington Smacks Dove

It wasn't a dodo, but it certainly was a birdie—two birdies, in fact—that Matt Harrington chalked up out at the country club course Monday afternoon.

and was as dead as if Harrington had used a rifle.
To make matters better, Matt went ahead and birdied the hole, in conventional golf fashion.
The Texas Electric Service man was able to boost today of having turned in a shot the likes of which have never been seen around these parts.

His game had gone along until the sixth, when Matt squared off for a drive. The ball took off, rising about 30 feet, and wham!—it smacked right into a dove.
The bird plummeted to the ground, fluttered a time or two

Hagen Wants Jones To Help Him Beat Ryder Cup Team

DETROIT, June 16 (AP)—If he can get Capt. Bobby Jones of the Army Air Corps on his side, Walter Hagen is convinced he has the combination to beat the American Ryder Cup team.
Hagen, deserting his captaincy of the American Cuppers for the first time to pick an array of challengers for matches here July 18 and 19, disclosed today that he would ask Bobby this week at Chicago, where they will meet in the Hale America championship. If Bobby says yes, it should be a particularly interesting situation.

versal of the margin.
Hagen invited 11 others headed by Lawson Little and Picard, to join his squad. Others are Sam Byrd, Ed Dudley, Harry Cooper, Jimmy Thomson, Al Watrous; two sensational youngsters Melvin (Chick) Harbert of Battle Creek, Mich., and Chandler Harper of Portsmouth, Va., and Sergeant Jim Turnesa and Corporal Ed (Porky) Oliver of Fort Dix, N. J.
On the Cup team are five new-comers—Open champion Craig Wood, Sarazen, Ben Hogan, Lloyd Mangrum and Jimmy Demaret.
Holdover Cuppers are Cloyd Vie Ghedi of Fort Monmouth, N. J.; J. H. McSpaden, Byron Nelson, Horton Smith and P.G.A. Champion Sammy Snead.
Of those discarded from cup selections, only Picard has been snapped up by the challengers. The others are Jimmy Hines, Paul Runyan, Ralph Guldahl and Dick Metz.

Golfing Clan Gathers For Hale America

CHICAGO, June 16 (AP)—Golf's elite section blew into town today ready to take Ridgemoor golf course apart to see what makes it tough.
With Byron Nelson, Ben Hogan, Henry Picard, Lawson Little, Craig Wood and the rest of the clan on the scene, the field of 107 pros and amateurs was almost complete for Thursday's tee-off in a 72-hole medal play trial leading to the Hale America championship Sunday.
Johnny Dawson, the businessman golfer mentioned with Nelson, Wood, Hogan and Little as a first-five-finisher, posted a 70 and 72 over the par 36-36-72 route yesterday. He was the only fellow to give out his score in public. The others tipped their caddies not to tell.
Ralph Guldahl, still searching for his game, Jug McSpaden and Sergeant Jim Turnesa, the P. G. A. runner-up who was a corporal then, were hush-hushing about 70's and 70's.

Weather Holds Up Tennis Tourney

HOUSTON, June 16 (AP)—The Texas state and sectional tennis tourney, held up for a time yesterday by the weather, entered its second day today, with only 11 of the scheduled 63 matches played.
Sixth-seeded John Hickman, Southwest conference champion from the University of Texas, defeated Felix Runion, Houston, 6-1, 6-1, in one of the day's feature encounters.

Hospital Team Is Tripped By Service Men

In one of the major upsets of the year in the city softball league, the ABC-Leons routed the Big Spring State Hospital 10 to 4 Monday night.
The defeat toppled the Hospital team right out of first place, leaving the W. O. W. in undisputed possession of the top rung spot. The Service club men crossed the plate for four runs in the first stanza, and then tacked the game away with three more in the fourth. Blankenship, pitcher for the ABC-Leons, limited the Hospital to eight hits, and managed to keep them scattered fairly well enough through most of the game.
In another game last night Radford's rolled over Vaughn's 16 to 3. It was a ball game for the first three innings, but the Radford aggregation came through with four runs in the fourth and four in the fifth to win with apparent ease.
No game was played in the church league Monday.
Tonight the W. O. W. meets the Boy Scouts in the city league and the First Baptists will oppose the North Side Mission in the Church league.

Ted Williams, Les Fleming Hike Averages

NEW YORK, June 16 (AP)—The big noise of the past week's hitting fireworks came from the loud bats of Les Fleming, Cleveland's kid first baseman, and Ted Williams, the Red Sox swatter.
While the leadership of the two leagues remained the same, with the Yankee Joe Gordon head man in the American and Brooklyn's Pete Reiser the No. 1 boy in the National, Fleming and Williams took a particular liking to all pitchers during the seven-day span to advance 13 and 14 points, respectively, and climb into a tie for fourth place in the junior circuit with .335 averages each.

Dispute Over Purses Closes Suffolk Downs

BOSTON, June 16 (AP)—Racing at Suffolk Downs, which provides more than $15,000 daily revenue to the commonwealth of Massachusetts was suspended today when a deadlock between the Eastern Racing association and more than 200 owners of thoroughbreds stabled at the palatial track forced a cancellation of the 12nd program of its 60-day meeting.
The suspension followed when the striking horsemen's demands for an increase in minimum purses from $1,000 to $1,200 were rejected by President Charles F. Adams of the association.

Warmerdam To Try 16 Feet

EVANSTON, Ill., June 16 (AP)—The man on the bamboo pole, Cornelius Warmerdam, will come to town tonight to try the "impossible"—vault 16 feet.
The Piedmont, Calif. boy is featured in the sixth annual Pacific Coast-Big Ten dual track meet and his presence promises to draw the event's greatest crowd.
The school teacher who learned to vault in his father's barnage patch has skyrocketed over the 16-foot mark 34 times in competition, and recently cleared 15 feet 7 3/4 inches which has been recognized as a world's record.

Looking 'Em Over

With WACIL M'NAIR

Oldsters are doing quite a bit of cutting up in the major leagues these days in the record-breaking department. Red Ruffing, the old Yankee work horse, finally got that 251st victory Sunday, and Ted Lyons of the White Sox is just awaiting his turn on the mound to come around again when he will be trying for number 260. Many a critic has predicted for the past few years that these two veterans were nearing their row's end, but they are still able to step in occasionally and show the younger guys a thing or two.

From the point of service Lyons' record promises to be one of the most outstanding any major league hurler has ever made. For 19 years now he has averaged 16 or more games per season, which, if you don't believe is remarkable, just ask any manager. Unlike most pitchers who compile great records, Lyons has never been a particularly outstanding pitcher in any particular season. Although he has been rated a good, dependable pitcher since his entry into the majors in 1923, he has never experienced a boom year such as the Dean brothers, Schoolboy Rowe, etc.

Bill Dickey still has a chance to catch in 100 or more ball games this year. However, in order to do so the veteran Yankee backstop must be behind the plate in more than three-fourths of the remaining games on the schedule.

While most of the old heads are hard at their tasks of record smashing, Ray Starr at 26 bids fair to become the rookie of the year in the National league, according to Howard Green of the Abilene paper. Starr has been around some of the better minor loops for several years, but this is his first chance in the big show. He gained a good following in the section while pitching for the Fort Worth Cats in the Texas league. Starr has won eight and dropped three for the Cincinnati Reds this season.

Although the government has called a halt to many sports activities, Galveston reports that vaca-

Spudders-Bombers-Pirates Drop 20th Straight Game

That hapless bunch of ball players known as the West Texas-New Mexico league's "Spudders" have managed to stretch their string of consecutive losses to an even score.
The Pirates—once the Wichita Falls Spudders and then the Big Spring Bombers—dropped their 20th in a row Monday night to Lamesa, the score being 4-0. Not since May 27, when they edged by Lubbock have the Spudders-Bombers-Pirates managed to score a victory.
Contrariwise, the winning streak of the league leading Clovis Pioneers was stopped Monday night, with Amarillo the club turning the trick. However, the Pioneers have been a pretty hot ball club, winning 20 out of their last 23 games. A long streak, starting May 23, was interrupted by a loss on June 8, then came five more victories in a row before last night's loss.

MRS. MURDOCK TAKES A CASE

Answer To Rubber Problem Is Up To The People

The big scrap rubber collection is under way, to continue on a nationwide basis through June 20. On the results achieved in this great effort of all scrap collection efforts to date hangs the answer to the problem of whether or not to apply gasoline rationing to the whole of the United States as a rubber conservation measure.

Purpose of the drive is to determine whether or not there is plenty of rubber in the form of scrap, available in this country. Some experts say there is, some say there isn't, but nobody really knows. Only a nationwide quest for scrap made it necessary.

If the scrap rubber drive yields enough material to justify the hope that we can get by on what we have, there will be no further rationing of gasoline in Texas and the other 30 states now free of rationing.

People that square up to the problem themselves whether gasoline rationing will be made universal, or continued only in states where transportation difficulties have can answer that question definitely, and even this answer depends on an all-out 100 per cent effort on the part of all.

Rubber is as vital a war need as guns and warplanes. Indeed, you couldn't have guns or warplanes either without rubber. It would be suicidal to permit the destruction of our remaining rubber supply unless we are sure we have enough to fight and win the war. Synthetic rubber isn't ready for the job of the need. We are cut off from our normal supply—85 per cent of it—by the Japanese. The only possible source whose exact quantity is not known is scrap rubber.

Every household has bits of scrap in the form of shoe heels, rubber-soled shoes, rubber boots, hot water bottles, children's toys, bottle stoppers, discarded electric wiring, old casings and inner tubes. Most people would be surprised at the quantity they could turn up if they'd only take the trouble to investigate. Maybe their individual contribution wouldn't amount to more than a few pounds at most, but added to the contributions of millions of other households in this country it might spell the difference between rationing or no rationing—aye, between victory or defeat, if you come right down to it.

Your Uncle Sam needs all the scrap rubber he can lay his hands on. Getting personal, you need it, too—you can help avert gasoline rationing in a state like Texas where there is enough gasoline to fill the Grand Canyon.

Service Club Dances First With Gals In Washington

By JACK STENNETT

WASHINGTON—The capital in wartime:

A young girl burst into the United Service Organizations headquarters the other day and asked to be registered as a dance partner for men in the service. After taking her name, the USO representative asked her address. The sweet young thing answered breathlessly: "Oh, I don't have any address yet. I just arrived in town. I came here first."

If any of these athletes think they are doing something hot off the 1942 griddle as athletic instructors for the army, navy and marines, they have another thought coming. Jack O'Leary, who has been around these parts for a good many years, has a letter dated April 14, 1917. In effect, it expresses appreciation for O'Leary's interest in establishing contacts which might lead to setting up an athletic program sponsored by the League for Universal Military Training—in other words, putting athletics into the army, navy and marine corps. The letter is signed: "John L. Sullivan."

Incidentally, it was that same 1917-18 athletic program in the World War which brought forward one Gene Tunney, later to become

Farm Contains Famous Population

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK — One of the laughs around town is a series of telegrams exchanged between Todd Duncan and his son, who is away at school. Duncan is the Forgy of "Porgy and Bess," and after the Gerashwin operetta was broadcast recently Todd sat around expecting to hear a few words of praise from his son. Nothing happened. Duncan then wired his son, inquiring, "Did you hear Forgy and Bess broadcast?"

"Yes," and nothing more, Duncan, meanwhile had forgotten all about his own telegram to the boy, so he wired back, "Yes what?"

The son replied, "Yes, Sir."

praise from his son. Nothing happened. Duncan then wired his son, inquiring, "Did you hear Forgy and Bess broadcast?"

"Yes," and nothing more, Duncan, meanwhile had forgotten all about his own telegram to the boy, so he wired back, "Yes what?"

The son replied, "Yes, Sir."

Though she is known on Broadway chiefly for her performance as the maid Hilda in "Junior Miss," and for her singing in nightclubs, Paula Lawrence is a talented wire sculptress. She just takes pieces of wire and bends them into the shapes of people. Recently she gave an exhibition of her art, and among the figures represented were wire caricatures of Garbo, Charlie Chaplin, Moss Hart, and Shirley Temple. There was also one of herself, and it was such a perfect likeness that she was awarded a blue ribbon. It was Chaplin who declared to his friends that Paula was "the funniest woman in the world." He followed this up by promising to use her in his next picture.

Come July 14, Grace Moore and Valentin Parara are going to celebrate their 11th wedding anniversary. They plan to celebrate it on their farm at Sandy Hook, Conn. This farm is known to their friends as Faraway Meadows, and it is a well stocked piece of land.

It is this "stocked" part of the description that Miss Moore likes to dwell on. She has two horses, the gift of Amos Carter, the Fort Worth publisher. She has two sheep, the gift of Lily Pena. She has two pigs, the gift of Lawrence Tibbett. She has a fine blooded Rhode Island Red rooster, the gift of Jose Iturbi. All of which sugthese last minute dates, which partly explained why her husband could not be with them, Ward had telephoned just before dinner to say he had seats for Late Harvest, and without bothering to dress for the theatre they had come here to Hugo's for something to eat. Now they hadn't much time.

All at once she realized Clarke was addressing her. She looked at him, smiling. "Murdoch?" he said thoughtfully. "It wouldn't be Mr. Kent Murdoch, would it?"

"It would," Joyce said.

Clarke laughed lightly. "Well, this is a coincidence. I don't suppose there could be more than one Kent Murdoch. You're not by any chance his first wife?"

"No, I'm not."

"Was the first Mrs. Murdoch's name Hester? Oh, I'm not trying to be impertinent," he added hastily. "Really. But if Hester was his first wife it is rather startling because you see I married a Hester Murdoch."

"Oh," it was the best Joyce could do at the moment; then she smiled and came back and disliked it so much it was easy to keep her voice cool and indifferent. "How amusing. So you're married to Hester?"

"Was married," Clarke said. "It didn't take — for long. After that she married Miguel Loasado and went to Caragua. Ward knows the Loasados." He sipped some of his drink, glanced ceilingward. "Yes, Hester did very well. Loasado died three months ago—you know that?"

of course, Allen—and Hester is still doing nicely. . . . You know she was in town?"

"I heard she was," Allen said. "You would, naturally, seeing that Thorndike is handling some of her business. You're still with Thorndike & Company, aren't you?"

"Yes, Hester's taken a house here for these months I believe. Arrived last week. Strange she hasn't gotten in touch with you."

"How long have you been here?"

"I flew in the day before yesterday."

Joyce was attentive now. Within her the fibers of mixed emotions began to stir, and looking back, she realized that from the very instant Ward had looked up to find Clarke at the table, a cupping of tension had closed in.

At first intangible, it had become something she could almost feel. Some intuitive tremor warned her that this man was doing more than making idle conversation. The way he looked at Ward, his head tipped back but always watchful, as though not concerned so much with what he said as with the effect of his words upon his listeners. Nothing escaped him. There was something shy and supremely confident in his glance, and he was obviously finding pleasure in the things he saw in Ward Allen's face.

Delia, too, had sensed the undercurrent that flowed between the two men. No longer was her glance politely quizzical. She was watching her fiancé, her face grave and her eyes doubtful.

UNFAIR TO LOVE

Chapter 32
Another Picket

"He did a boy-scout good deed!" said Uncle Frank, appearing in the doorway. "My car got out of order just when I needed it most, and he came forward with his—like a thoroughbred."

"You mean he — ?" Kathleen stopped, completely confused.

"Ducky," said Uncle Frank, "meet your aunt!" He came out, stood with his arm around Ruby. "Pretty sudden, I know—but we had to get married in between performances."

Kathleen found her voice at last. And when she spoke it was hard for her to keep the singing in her heart from breaking forth into sound.

"Mind?" she said, laughing. "I'm delighted!" She kissed Ruby, and she hugged her uncle. "Only, I — I thought it was Joe you'd married. So did Fred DeMille. He saw you and Joe getting into Joe's car early this morning, and so—"

"Me marry a mere kid?" exclaimed Ruby. "The idea!"

"Where is Joe now?" Kathleen asked.

"He's working at the office. I think," Uncle Frank replied. "He said he had a lot of work to catch up."

Kathleen smiled. "Excuse me, you two newly weds, while I go see to the meal!" In the doorway, she paused for a second. "Do you really feel marriage is—is more important than a career, Ruby?"

"I certainly do," said Ruby. She reached up and, nuzzled Uncle Frank's cheek. "We're going to be terribly happy, I know—Frank and I."

"You bet we are," agreed Uncle Frank. "And Ruby's going to work with Joe on his play. Maybe when they try it out next summer, you can have a part in it."

"Thank," said Kathleen, but without enthusiasm.

She went into the dining room. She got out her best tablecloth, the fine old Vaughan silver, and the sterling silver candlesticks that had belonged to her great-grandmother. She arranged the table so that it would have made a splendid illustration for a good housekeeping magazine. And Lizzie was just as successful with the food that she served.

"Why didn't you elope in Ruby's car?" Kathleen asked suddenly.

"Good lord, Ducky," said Uncle Frank, "it'd be like a fool eloping in a car belonging to the girl I was marrying!"

"He said," smiled Ruby, "that it would be too much like kidnapping."

"I see," said Kathleen, remembering what she had said to Fred that morning. "Anyway, it was nice to have Joe along for one of the witnesses. I'm sorry I overslept."

Then Ruby and Uncle Frank were hurrying off to the barn theatre, and Kathleen was alone. She sat there upon the porch, watching the fireflies, and listening to the summer insects. And still no telephone call from Joe.

Stubborn, unforgiving! Eight o'clock, Kathleen, and went Nine o'clock, Kathleen could stand the waiting no longer. She slipped on her feet, her eyes shining. She had an idea—a wonderful idea. She ran into the house, and up to her room. There she shut herself in, careful to lock the door so that Lizzie couldn't come barging in unannounced.

It was a little after ten o'clock when she came out again, and it was half an hour later than that when Joe Neely went to the window of the Livinville Gazette office to look out, and saw her. He stared, unbelieving, for Kathleen was marching up and down in front of the building; and she carried a placard which bore the words: "Joe Neely is Unfair to Love."

When he had recovered his faculties so that he could speak, he leaned out of the window and called: "Kathleen, darling. I'll be right down!"

He slammed shut the window, and went racing down the stairs. A moment later the placard Kathleen had been carrying lay in the gutter, and Kathleen herself nestled in Joe's arm.

"You're a precious little idiot," he whispered. "where on earth did you get that silly thing?"

"I made it," said Kathleen. "I made it all for you, my precious. And if you don't tell me you love me, I'll picket you until—until the cows come home!"

"I love you," said Joe.

"Darling!" said Kathleen. "Now I'm going to put Mary and Martha back in my old barn, just the minute those actors get out!"

THE END.

Life's Darkest Moment

Hollywood Sights and Sounds - - Ann Harding's Back Again

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—It was just like good old times, walking on a movie set and seeing her.

Even from far across the stage, you couldn't mistake that voice, low and vibrant, with authority and music in it. Going closer to watch the rehearsal, you could see her now, sitting up in bed in a blue negligee, her hair streaming far down her shoulders. Nobody else in pictures has hair so curly like it—a soft cascade like white gold.

It had to be Ann Harding.

And it was. After five years away from the sound stages, Ann Harding was back at work. And it looked better than the good old times, because "Eyes in the Night" looks to have the makings of a good movie, a paradoxical rarity in the career of one of the best actresses and most beautiful women this town ever saw.

Miss Harding came over, after the rehearsal, to tell us the how and the why of her return. It's a brief tale; husband Werner Janssen, the symphony conductor, was leaving to spend so much time in Los Angeles on orchestra work that commuting to their ranch down the coast no longer seemed practical, what with the tire situation and all. So they found a house in Beverly Hills, right near the high school for daughter Jane to attend—and only 10 minutes away from M-G-M. The picture offer came along. Ann liked it, and here she was. "It's an 'experiment,'" she said.

"I've rotten-spilled my family these past few years," she explained, "so we'll have to see how they get along with an actress in the family again!"

It's the kind of role, she said, in which she had decided she would come back, if at all. She turned thumbs down on the idea of any more young romantic roles — "I want to act my age," she said, "and having been away five years I can slip right into character roles. One I wanted last year was Ma Baxter in 'The Yearling'—no young romance about that!"

Vacation Bible Schools Set Attendance Mark This Year

The vacation Bible school season, now hurrying toward its climax, already has eclipsed local records for attendance, a survey of participating churches showed Tuesday.

Highway Dept. Garden Features Giant Hibiscus

A flowering hibiscus is just one of the results that careful gardening can bring despite West Texas' arid soil. At least, out at the State Highway department headquarters, a second hibiscus has bloomed this year and the plant is loaded down with buds.

The plants were brought here from Snyder by Sam McComb two years ago and show no ill effects of being transplanted.

The hibiscus is a purple-pink in color and measures seven inches across the center which makes it unusual in size as well as beauty.

In addition to the hibiscus, the highway department's garden would make any housewife despair of her gardening efforts. Zinnias and blue bonnets and other flowers of commoner type grow just as plentifully as the unusual flowers.

The department is even experiment with guayule, the plant that is supposed to contain a substitute for rubber. So far, the plants seem to be thriving.

The highway department keeps one man on all the time to tend the garden and lawns and bent grass yards make the department yard a beauty spot on the highway.

And in the fall, the department ought to be able to stage a chrysanthemum show by itself for one side of the garden is devoted to chrysanthemum plants.

Band Starts Summer Work

Band rehearsals for the summer were started Monday, reported Director Dan Conley, with good attendance.

Several beginners have been enlisted, he said, but that more are needed. Youngsters in the fifth grade and above who are interested in playing in the band were asked to contact Conley as soon as possible.

Freezing of musical instruments may mean that those who wait until later to decide to play in the band may be unable to secure instruments, according to the director.

In an effort to offset this, Conley is making a survey to find out who has instruments which might be sold to youngsters.

The summer schedule calls for junior band practice at 9 a. m. on Friday and senior band at 10 a. m. the same day. The senior band has its evening rehearsals at 8:30 p. m. on Thursdays and the beginners at 8:45 a. m. Monday and Wednesday.

On Monday and Wednesday Conley meets beginners at 8:45 a. m., his junior clarinets, saxophones and flutes at 9:30 a. m., junior cornets at 10:15 a. m., and junior trombones, bass, horns and baritone at 11 a. m.

On Tuesday and Thursday he meets the senior clarinets, saxophones, flutes and oboes at 8:45 a. m., senior cornets at 9:30 a. m., senior trombone, bass baritone and horns at 10:15 a. m., and drums, both senior and junior, at 11 a. m.

Legion Names Five Delegates

Appointing delegates to the fifth division district meeting in Abilene July 11 and 12 was business for the American Legion members who met in session Monday night at the Settles hotel.

Delegates will include Charlie Sullivan, C. L. Rowe, Dale Thompson, L. B. Dempsey and Bruce Frazier.

Cliff Wiley, captain of the Texas Defense guard here, made a patriotic talk to the ex-service men. Lt. Batten, who is stationed here with the glider school, was a guest speaker and discussed ways and means that ex-service men could help entertain the soldiers to be stationed here with the Big Spring Flying school.

Demos Assess Ballot Fees

Ballot fees for candidates in the county democratic primaries were assessed by the county party executive committee in session Monday.

Candidates, some 28 in all, have until Saturday to pay their fees for places on the ballot, said L. S. Paterson, chairman of the county committee. Monday the committee meets to draw for places on the ballot for candidates who qualified by posting ballot fees.

Around $1,000 must be contributed by the candidates to finance the primaries, not only the July 28 race but the run-off in August.

District officials were assessed $50 in uncontested spots. County officers drew $40 assessments with the exception of county treasurer, which was $35. County commissioners' posts, precinct officers, were set at $35, the uncontested justice of peace place at $25 and the constable's office at $15.

Dependent Aid Bill Completed

WASHINGTON, June 16 (AP)—The house completed legislative action today on a bill providing for financial aid to dependents of service men through deductions from army and navy pay checks and supplementary allowances from the government.

As sent to the White House, the compromise legislation also contained a provision giving selective service authorities power to defer from the draft married men on the basis of their family relationship regardless of actual financial dependency.

RAF Drops French Flags On Paris

LONDON, June 16 (AP)—The RAF announced today that a British plane dropped two French tricolor flags on Paris last night and attacked the former Ministry of Marine with cannon fire.

One flag was dropped over France's memorial, the Arc de Triomphe, and the second in the Place de la Concord.

Heating Oil May Be Scarce In The East

WASHINGTON, June 16 (AP)—Petroleum Coordinator Harold L. Tokes today grimly warned that an adequate supply of heating oils "can not now be guaranteed" for next winter in the Atlantic seaboard states.

Arguments In Kilday Case Unfinished

By The Associated Press
Chief interest in the Texas political campaign focused today on the attempt of James E. Kilday to obtain a court order restraining the state democratic committee from placing the names of ten opponents for the office of railroad commissioner on the ballot.

The Ninety-Sixth District Court at Fort Worth recessed shortly before midnight last night with arguments unfinished on Kilday's contention that he was the only candidate for the post who had filed by the June 1 deadline.

Continuation of the hearing was scheduled either for this afternoon or tonight, depending on other matters before the court.

Candidates for other offices busied themselves in various parts of the state.

In a speech at Terrell, James V. Allred, U. S. senatorial candidate, declared that "If Wheeler and Nye and our war senator had had their way about it this country would have been without defenders at the time of Pearl Harbor and our west coast would have been invaded."

Oil Allowable Is Reduced

AUSTIN, June 16 (AP)—The Texas oil industry was operating today under an allowable production schedule of 1,190,322 barrels daily, or 59,466 less than that of the first half of the month.

Chairman Ernest O. Thompson and Commissioner Olin Culberson of the railroad commission yesterday signed an oil order permitting estimated actual production of 1,111,340 barrels of crude daily, or 74,989 less than for the preceding 15 days.

Culberson said that with an estimated 98,000 barrels daily of natural gasoline production, statewide yield would approximate an average of 1,209,340 barrels a day.

Building Blanks Received Here

Application blanks, only enough for copies for each lumber yard operating here, have been received as guides for anticipated new building programs.

The blanks cover applications for critical materials for new houses, and the chamber of commerce, which secured the forms from J. A. Raley, Jr., Lubbock, district FHA representative, was making copies of a list of critical housing materials.

Another set of forms being distributed were for material ratings for remodeling homes so as to provide facilities for another family.

In this class, restrictions were relieved a week ago by FHA to permit local people to undertake extensions with the view of mitigating an acute housing shortage here.

Brotherhood In Informal Meet

East Fourth Baptist laymen Monday evening "rolled and stacked" their own in an informal program that marked the regular monthly Brotherhood meeting.

Address of the evening was given by the Rev. F. D. (Dick) O'Brien, First Baptist pastor, and there were several musical numbers. The Brotherhood quartet, composed of the Rev. R. Elmer Dunham, pastor, Emory Ralfe, Roy Lee Williams and J. Hollis Lloyd, sang; Lex James, Jr., played two piano selections; and Williams, accompanied by Wanda Don Reese, gave a vocal solo. The Rev. Ernest E. Orton, Church of the Nazarene minister, gave the invocation.

All members and guests came without or removed their coats and literally "rolled their own" when it came to tucking shirt sleeves. With the meal served cafeteria style, member stacked their own sandwiches and made a gala evening of it. Buck Tyree, president, presided.

Miss 'Laneous

By MARY WHALEY
Patience shall have its own reward, so the saying goes, and if this is true, in the hereafter the elevator girls ought to cash in plenty.

Talk about patience! As the girls stop at a white light, meaning going up, to take on a person who has pushed the white light and wants to go up, they are greeted with, "Going up?" So, the elevator girls smile or at least refrain from comment and admit they are going up.

The same thing happens in reverse for those souls who want to go down but seem doubtful that the elevator girls will know how to go through such a procedure.

Then there are the riders who enter with a glow that comes from bottled spirits. They care not whether they go up or down, they just want to ride along and be sociable. But never once do the girls bounce them over the head with the stool, which would seem logical to us.

These paragons of patience also have to worry with the vague ones who say they want to go up, when they want to go down, and with the kids who would ring a million bells just to catch the elevator at a different floor.

But most of all, they have to put up with the guys who saunter in with a so-called wise crack, an elbow dig in the ribs, and a "look what a smart boy am I" attitude. Invariably they smirk, "well, your job certainly has its ups and downs," haw, haw.

Anything would be permissible after that, but the elevator girls really seem to believe the customer is always right.

Compromise Talked On Surplus Wheat

WASHINGTON, June 16 (AP) — A compromise that would permit farmers to obtain full parity loans on major crops and still allow the government to sell surplus wheat at a lower price was reported under White House consideration today.

The proposal was said to have been advanced by some members of a joint conference committee, striving to break a senate-house deadlock on major features of the annual $680,000,000 appropriations bill.

Chief element of the controversy has been a senate amendment authorizing the government to sell up to 125,000,000 bushels of wheat for livestock feeding purposes at about 83 cents a bushel instead of the full parity price of $1.34 a bushel.
