Red Cross Asks for Voluntary Donors For Flood Relief

Earth and Springlake Red Cross representatives are asking for voluntary contributions to assist in the relief of the six-state flood area. They have asked that all contributions be in by September 2.

Lamb County's quota has been set for $500 and no drive will be made as they hope to fill this quota by voluntary contributions. Representatives in this area are Bill Beasley in Earth, Bonnie Haberer in Pleasant Valley and Elroy Wisian, V. T. Tanner and Herman Cooper for Springlake, donations can be turned in to any of these listed and they can also be made at the Citizens State Bank in Earth.

President Eisenhower said in his news conference last week: "The heart of America is not going to stand still while other Americans are in distress and in need of help." He added that the Red Cross must be relied on to carry on its relief to families, since the law of the government cannot assist them directly.

The Red Cross has already appropriated $5,000,000 for relief in the six-state flood area, and fears that it may take $20,000,000 to do the job. It has reported having 260 trained disaster workers in the area to assist local chapters. They were operating 107 shelters, housing and feeding 12,000 homeless, and providing clothing to everyone who needs it.

More than 8,000 families were expected to apply for aid in re-clothing themselves, and rebuilding and refurbishing their homes. To help meet this extraordinary expenditure the Red Cross has asked each chapter to raise its prorata share of an emergency fund.

Patterson Resigns, Bill Pope Appointed Earth's New Mayor

Mayor BILL POPE

Bill Pope was appointed Mayor to succeed Hershel Patterson, in a Wednesday morning meeting of the City Council.

Patterson resigned his post as Mayor early Wednesday morning, and left for a much needed vacation. Patterson, expressed his regrets at resigning, but said that being mayor to a town growing like Earth was a full time job, and grocery business was also a full time job and in trying to combine the two, he did not have sufficient time to be the kind of mayor that Earth needed.

Patterson said he hoped the people of Earth who had voted for him would not feel he had let them down. He had tried, but due to so many hours required in the combination of both jobs his health would not hold out to do both jobs efficiently.

Patterson stated before his resignation that all the equipment for the completion of Earth's sewer system had arrived in Earth and workmen were busy working to complete the job which should be finished up in the very near future.

Pope at becoming mayor left a vacancy in the City Commissioners post which he stated would be taken care of Tuesday at their regular meeting.

Pope in his statement to the press, said, he did not feel qualified for the big job of being mayor to a fast growing town like Earth, but stated that his reason for trying to fill the place vacated by Patterson was that he was highly interested in Earth, its growth and promotion, and that he was willing to do his best in this position.

Mayor Pope said he was looking forward to considerable growth and improvement in Earth. But stated that in order to continue its growth it would take cooperation from all the citizens of Earth.

Mayor Pope said that curbing and gutters for Highway 70 through Earth is the first thing the City Council will be dealing with. He stated it had already been approved in Austin and the list of requirements had reached the City Council and that they were not strict requirements possibly the same as had been met in most towns, that had similar projects completed. He said he felt that the requirements would be met as speedily as possible. Pope is owner manager of Pope's parts place here.

WITH POLLY

At the Earth News regret to see Hershel Patterson turn his resignation as mayor. We felt that he was a conscientious man, trying always to do best in every situation. We extend our sympathy for the job well done while we were mayor.

We feel that our new mayor will step in and do an equally good job as mayor. We are truly proud to have a man with such qualities as Mayor Pope possesses to fill the post.

"WHAT ELSE MAMA," was the serious that broke up the serious moments our new mayor was giving for his trying to fill the post of mayor. Bill was going a pretty strong, and I think I got up to see MAMA looking over his taking over more of the duties, and immediately took me to bring on a laugh to make her forget her worries.

General Services Conducted For Martin Infant

General services were held Friday August 26, in the First Baptist Church of Earth for the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Martineau, with Rev. Cecil Meadows officiating.

The infant was born at 4:00 a. m. Aug. 25, in the Olton Memorial Hospital and died at 6:00 a. m. only two hours.

YOU ARE INVITED

A meeting will be held Friday at 8:00 p. m. in the community center, of interest to all the business men and merchants of Earth, and also all the Earth Boosters.

A "Town Promotion," will be the topic of discussion at this meeting.

Any new ideas for a town promotion will be appreciated, as the idea of the meeting is to discuss all promotion ideas, and weed out those thought to have the least number of points, that could be applied to a town of this size.

A Dollar Day was discussed Monday night along with the idea of a drawing on Saturday, no decision was reached however.

Friday night a decision for some sort of town promotion is hoped to be reached.

In a town our size any promotion must have the backing of most every business in order to make it go over.

Also to be discussed will be the organizing of a Chamber of Commerce or some other form of organization to help in putting the best Little Town on Earth before the people.

Think it over, and be at the meeting.

AUSTIN, Tex. — Main impact of the 54th Legislature will be felt next week when most of the bills it passed will become state law.

Taking effect Sept. 6 will be laws designed to eliminate insurance abuses, overhaul the scandal-racked veterans land program and restrict some labor union activities.

Tax increases are the most likely to be noticed first. To augment state revenue by $50 million per year, new levies were placed on beer, cigarettes, gasoline and corporate franchisees.

Ultimate payment will fall to the consumer. Nine major insurance bills are aimed at strengthening the industry and providing better protection for the buying public.

Capitalization and surplus requirements will be empowered to act together as a board. Insurance agents will be licensed, and agents will have to pass an examination.

Veterans land program legislation will tighten regulations and impose more stringent controls on both buyers and sellers. Both are made liable to jail terms up to 10 years and fines up to $10,000 for fraud or misrepresentation.

Major labor legislation includes the "Port Arthur bill." It will enable employers to enjoin strikes by a union which cannot show it represents a majority of workers. Already effective is the "Sord Motor bill" denying unemployment payments to union workers by a strike in another plant of their company.

Other new laws will provide $7 million for public assistance and bring 30,000 more state employees and college professors under federal Social Security. Competitive comic books will be banned, and incorporation requirements will be broadened to include "any lawful purpose."

INTEGRATION UPHELD
Big Spring's test case on the legality of Texas public school integration headed toward the Supreme Court.

A suit to enjoin the Texas Education Agency and comptroller from making payments to desegregated schools was denied in district court. Judge Charlie N. Sullivan ruled invalid that part of the Gilmer-Aiken law which applies to segregation.

Notice of appeal was given at once by the attorney for the pro-segregation Texas Citizens Council who brought the suit. If the district court opinion is upheld, there apparently would be no need for an immediate special session of the legislature to revise school laws.

Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd has warned that school integration should not precede legislative action. He, like the Citizens Council, has insisted that the law is presently set up to make state payments only to segregated schools.

Gov. Allan Shivers declined to comment until after the final court action.

THIRTY DEATHS PREDICTED
Thirty traffic deaths are predicted by the Department of Public Safety for the upcoming Labor Day weekend.

Last year 29 Texans were traffic fatalities during the three-day holiday. Only once recently has the department's forecast missed by any sizable margin. For July 4 it predicted 29 fatalities. Only 18 occurred.

Col. Homer Garrison, department director, expressed hope for a similar error for the September 3 holiday.

POLITICS IS BUDDING
Texas gubernatorial campaign seems to be shaping up, considerably ahead of schedule.

Former Supreme Court Justice and University of Texas Chancellor James P. Hart addressed an East Texas meeting at Henderson, sponsored by the liberal Democrats. Liberals have been courting his entry in the race, and he is "thinking about it."

"There were those who said he sounded like a candidate" in his talk of "ideas and ideals."

Former Speaker Reuben Senter, Pitt of San Saba, only announced candidate for governor, has held a meeting of his state-wide campaign steering committee in Austin. He said he will name county and precinct campaign chairman by January.

State Senator Jimmy Phillips of Angleton is an intended candidate. He was present in Henderson when Hart spoke. A statewide rally in Galveston on Sept. 1 was planned by his friends as the send-off for his campaign for governor next year, two years before expiration of his first Senate term. Governor Shivers hasn't announced; at this time I am not a candidate for anything," he told newsmen.

BIGGEST BUT NOT CHEAPEST
Texas has become the principal producing state of Aluminum Company of America's vast chain of aluminum refining and smelting operations.

Persuaded to try aluminum for some of its heavy permanent road signs, the Highway Department asked for bids. When they were opened, the Canadian aluminum industry turned up with a bid on imported metal eight per cent under the lowest domestic bid.

SHORT SNOOZES — Gov. Allan Shivers and his family returned to Austin Sept. 1 after a summer in Woodville. Before coming to his job in Texas' top executive the Governor hunted antelope in Wyoming with several other sportsmen. Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson is resting at his family County Ranch, recuperating from a recent heart attack. Notary public commissions mailed to 90,932 Texans last by the Secretary of State's

Failure To File Claims Result In Many S. S. Losses

Substantial amounts in social security benefits are being lost by failure to file claims, according to John G. Hutton, manager of the Lubbock Social Security office. According to Hutton, many persons who are at least 72 and still operating their business are not aware of the provisions in the law which permit eligible person age 72 or older to receive their benefits without retirement. Persons of this age who have made profits in covered self-employment of over $400 in at least two of the four years self-employment has been covered undoubtedly have fulfilled the requirements for entitlement but the Social Security Administration cannot start your payments until a claim is filed.

"There are also many self-employed persons," says Hutton, who are over age 65 and whose net earnings in their business is less than $1200 per year which would permit them to receive benefits if they qualified, even though age 65 and 72 whose net earnings from self-employment are between $1200 and $2050 may draw benefits for some months of the year based on a scale of one month's deduction for each $50 earned over and above the $1200.

Hutton emphasized that one of the requirements for any benefit is to file a claim. Under the amend ed law benefits can be retroactive as much as twelve months, if the applicant is otherwise eligible.

The Lubbock office of the Social Security Administration is located in the Veterans Administration building at 1616 19th street, Lubbock.

Mrs. T. B. Ginn returned Sunday from Abilene, where she had attended the funeral of Mrs. Earnest Huckaby, a sister-in-law last Tuesday. Mrs. Huckaby died after a long illness.

Before returning home Mrs. Ginn visited with relatives in Rotan.

Spot Oiling Cheap Control Of Field WEED

There is an easier and cheaper method of getting Johnson grass out of the cotton other than by hoeing. It is known as spot oiling. Fred C. Elliott, extension cotton work specialist, in response to many requests from over Texas for information on the equipment needed for doing the spot oiling has made available to the county agents plans for a gravity weed sprayer.

This type sprayer is recommended because it is cheap and a good application job can be done without, says Elliott. They may be built in the farm shop or by a local tinner. Included on the plan is a complete listing of all the materials needed to do the construction job.

Elliott says that other types of light portable sprayers if already available may be used for applying the oils. In the case of pressure sprayers, only 10 to 12 pounds pressure is recommended, and a fan type nozzle should be used.

GOING on a picnic? Pork and beans, of course! But how about...

Apple Beans
2 slices bacon, cut in half
2 cans (3 1/2 cups) pork and beans
1 small tart apple, chopped
1 tablespoon brown sugar

Partially cook bacon; drain. Empty beans into a 1-quart casserole. Sprinkle apple and brown sugar on beans; arrange bacon slices on top. Bake in a moderate oven (375° F.) about 30 minutes. This makes 4 servings. Cover casserole and wrap in newspapers to keep it hot while totting to the picnic.

Assemble the rest of the picnic foods while beans bake. Hot dogs and marshmallows for the kiddies to toast. Plenty of hotchup, bags of potato chips, plums, grapes, and bananas. Chocolate cake (can bake with the beans). And a jugful of something cold to drink... food too, V.A. or lemonade.

7-20 B.R. W. I didn't fall in! Just went down to get change for a half-dollar!

A. V. Commons, Mrs. Bonnie Haberer, Buddy Free and Mitchell Malouf. These farms will all demonstrate outstanding agricultural innovations for the information of the touring group. Accompanying the group will be representatives of A&M, the State Department and the Department of Agriculture.

The tour will begin at 10:30 a. m. at the Oscar Allison farm where livestock feeding operations and feed lot equipment inspection will be observed. Furrow watering of cotton and grain and use of cotton burrs and barnyard manure will be demonstrated and the 26 varieties of hybrid grain sorghums under irrigation will be shown. A bunker type silo will also be shown the touring group.

On the F. L. Shelby farm, a caged laying demonstration will be observed in addition to a tour of the alfalfa farm. At the Gorak Allison farm, the visitors will tour Allison's farm shop and inspect his home as being a typical farm home of the area. They will also see a reservoir connected to irrigation wells by underground pipe, and watering of alfalfa in 80 foot rows with a big head of water.

The shaded grove on the Allison farm will be the scene of a noon day luncheon prepared and served by the Pleasant Valley Social Club. After lunch, the group will visit the Doyle Turner farm to see four varieties of corn, five of grain sorghum and cotton and under irrigation. They will visit the Turner dairy operation, and be given goats and siphon tubes so they can participate in an actual demonstration of irrigation procedures.

At George Wuerflein's the visitors from the South will see cattle feeding operations, trench silos and tour the Wuerflein home and farm shop.

Other farms to be visited on the tour are those of Johnny West,

GOING on a picnic? Pork and beans, of course! But how about...

Apple Beans
2 slices bacon, cut in half
2 cans (1 1/2 cups) pork and beans
1 small tart apple, chopped
1 tablespoon brown sugar

Partially cook bacon; drain. Empty beans into a 1-quart casserole. Sprinkle apple and brown sugar on beans; arrange bacon slices on top. Bake in a moderate oven (375° F.) about 30 minutes. This makes 4 servings. Cover casserole and wrap in newspapers to keep it hot while totting to the picnic.

Assemble the rest of the picnic foods while beans bake. Hot dogs and marshmallows for the kiddies to toast. Plenty of hot sauce, bags of potato chips, Peeps, grapes, and bananas. Chocolate cake (can bake with the beans). And a jugful of something cold to drink... (and tea, V-8, or lemonade).
