400 Ships And 2,000 Seamen Sub Victims

Navy Furthers Program To Combat U-Boat Attacks
By The Associated Press
The toll of merchant shipping sunk by enemy submarines on the very doorstep of the Americas has topped the 400-mark and the Western Atlantic has become the grave of more than 2,000 seamen and passengers since Pearl Harbor.

Figures tabulated by the Associated Press yesterday as the announced reported wartime sinkings in those waters reached 401 showed that at least 1,800 more crewmen or passengers were missing after attacks by the undersea raiders, while 11,706 persons have been rescued.

For the 400th acknowledged victim, a U-boat chose the smallest fry in the 233 days of their preying on Allied or neutral shipping off American shores—a 16-ton onion boat just out of Havana. The sub's crew, apparently running out of rations, helped itself to 40,000 pounds of onions, canned goods and a quantity of diesel oil from the vessel.

Later yesterday the Mexican government announced the sinking Sunday morning in the Gulf of Mexico of the Mexican freighter Coahuila, for the fifth Mexican victim of the war and the 401st of the grand total of Allied or neutral ships destroyed.

With the deadly axis submarines destroying ships at a rate of nearly two a day, more than 60 American shipsyard with upward of 300 launching ways are employing 750,000 men and expect to have 2,000,000 on the payroll turning out 2,300 merchantmen and 700 smaller craft by the end of next year.

The navy, meanwhile, has taken many direct steps to stop the submarine menace, including extending the convoy system to the Caribbean, opening a submarine combat school where 1,200 men are being trained to operate an anti-submarine boat, obtaining hundreds of privately-owned small patrol craft, increasing blimp and plane patrols over shipping lanes.

While some of those looking ahead to tomorrow's battle of the Atlantic envision huge air freighters and cargo-carrying submarines capable of transporting 4,000-ton shipments as the answer to the problem, the state department last night announced a different type of project expected to cut the number of sinkings in the Caribbean and the Gulf of Mexico.

In cooperation with the United States, the department said, the Central American republics of Guatemala, El Salvador, Honduras, Nicaragua, Costa Rica and Panama have agreed on the construction of an emergency overland route from this country to the Panama Canal.

The project, calling for the laying of about 625 miles of pioneer roads connecting segments of the inter-American highway between the Mexican-Guatemalan border and Panama City, would permit traffic between the standard-gauge railways in Mexico and the Canal Zone.

Jap Positions Are Blasted

By The Associated Press
In the far Pacific war theater, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters announced today that Allied warplanes blasted Japan's expanded positions in New Guinea while United Nations ground patrols maintained contact with the enemy.

Military dispatches said the Japanese had advanced nearly 80 miles inland since their landing last week at Gona Mission, across the mountainous, 120-mile wide Papua peninsula from the key Allied outpost at Port Moresby, New Guinea.

The next few days, it was said, probably would disclose whether the invaders planned a land assault on Port Moresby, which would be a convenient springboard for a Japanese attempt to invade Australia.

Test Of Presidential Power -- Supreme Court Will Hear Appeal In Sabotage Case

WASHINGTON, July 28 (AP)—A possibility that President Roosevelt's wartime powers might be tested by the United States supreme court arose today as the nation's highest tribunal interrupted its summer recess to determine whether any of the alleged Nazi saboteurs on trial before a secret military commission are entitled to the processes prescribed by the bill of rights.

Chief Justice Harlan F. Stone announced through the court clerk that a special term would be held tomorrow so that counsel for "certain of the prisoners may apply for habeas corpus writs. If the court should decide to entertain the petitions, and then grant them, the case might be transferred to a federal district court.

In appointing a military commission to try the eight suspects secretly "for offenses against the law of war and the articles of war," President Roosevelt issued a proclamation denying any appeal to civil courts by persons who have entered the country since the war for the purpose of committing hostile acts against the government.

Informed persons, who withheld the use of their names, said petitions would be presented on behalf of seven of the eight defendants, whose testimony was completed before the military tribunal yesterday after a 16 day hearing.

The men are accused of coming ashore from Nazi submarines to blow up American installations. Presumably the high court, which is convening from vacation retreats in various parts of the country, must decide first whether it has any right even to receive the petitions before it can pass on to the question of jurisdiction.

A month after Pearl Harbor, the court refused to act on a suit brought by the Italian ambassador for recovery of a tanker seized by this country, explaining that "we suspend the right of enemy plaintiffs to prosecute actions in our courts."

Shortly before the supreme court call was announced, the military commission adjourned until Thursday. Unless the supreme court intervenes, it will start hearing final arguments then. The prisoners are being defended by United States army officers, duty-bound to protect their every interest.

There was little change in the standings in three other races covered in the Bureau's 10 a. m. report.

The last tabulation Sunday night in the governor's race showed Gov. Coke Stevenson with 67.58 per cent of the vote, assuring his nomination over Earl Collins of Brownwood.

The only congressional runoff in prospect is between Cong. Charles L. South of Coleman and Dist. Atty. O. C. Fisher of San Angelo. Fisher was leading with 22,816 votes to 20,729 for South and 4,526 for Harry Knox of Brownwood.

There's Gonna Be A Runoff; O'Daniel Has 48.37 Percent

DALLAS, July 28 (AP)— Senator W. Lee O'Daniel, who carried to every corner of Texas the message that "there ain't gonna be no runoff," was in one today with James V. Allred.

With less than 15,000, or 2 per cent, of the votes in the democratic primary uncounted, the Texas Election Bureau announced at 10 a. m. that the two would face each other Aug. 22 for the party's senatorial nomination.

Returns from the state's 254 counties, 195 of them complete, gave O'Daniel 488,346 votes, or 48.37 per cent; Allred 310,615, or 32.07 per cent; Dan Moody 176,916, or 18.27 per cent, and Floyd E. Ryan, Houston attorney, 12,378. The total count was 988,255. A runoff is necessary unless one candidate gets a majority. The democratic nomination is tantamount to election.

There was little change in the standings in three other races covered in the Bureau's 10 a. m. report.

Runoffs were indicated in three other state races. Burford Jester of Corsicana will oppose Peter Brooks of Dallas for the unexpired term of railroad commissioner.

John Lee Smith of Throckmorton and Harold Beck of Texasarkana will contest for lieutenant governor. W. Gregory Hatcher of Dallas probably will face incumbent Jesse James for state treasurer.

Tokyo Raid A Thrill For Americans

Those Interned Watched Doolittle's Unit Drop Bombs
By JOSEPH DYNAN
LOURENCO MARGUES, Portuguese East Africa, July 24 (Delayed)—General Doolittle's raid on Japan provided the thrill of a lifetime for a group of Americans at an internment camp midway between Tokyo and Yokohama.

One of the U.S. planes flew directly over our camp and the music of its motors was sweeter than Beethoven's Fifth Symphony which our phonograph was playing at the time.

It was shortly after noon on April 18 that the big thrill came. We were having coffee and toast when the police rushed into our camp excitedly and told us to extinguish the fires in the stoves and close the windows because there was an air raid.

We thought it was only a drill—even when we heard two tremendous explosions in the direction of the Kawasaki industrial area.

A few seconds later, however, we saw a large twin-motored plane flying very low. Bursts of anti-aircraft shells were streaking after it. The raider dropped down 200 feet to skim rooftops and escaped.

It flew overhead as a squadron of slow Japanese biplanes arose from a nearby training field and circled around looking for the Americans. But by that time the particular raider was far away over Tamagawa valley speeding toward Fuji where it disappeared in the mists.

We even spotted two raiders far distant in the direction of Yokohama's docks, and that evening the radio told us of raids on Kobe, Osaka and Nagoya.

Our guards were very excited, and later we heard that plane factories in Nagoya were badly damaged. Kawasaki likewise was hard hit, and 350 workers were reported killed there.

The days later I noted a small item in the Japanese press telling of a mass burial of Japanese marines at Yokosuka.

Mrs. Theodore Waiser, wife of a missionary, said her husband and several other internees saw the American planes as they came over the ground in the Waseda area. Waiser said one raider flew over the downtown where hastily-summoned air raid wardens dashed about excitedly. All was confusion with the Japanese.

Aside from the reactions of internees, Japanese, the news of the press indicated that Japanese complacency was shaken considerably by the American thrust into Japan's supposedly invulnerable defenses.

Japanese ministers presented themselves to the emperor to apologize and it was rumored that one high army officer responsible for Tokyo's defense shot himself.

Russia Faces Gravest Hour As Rostov Defense Broken

By EDDY GILMORE
MOSCOW, July 28 (AP)—Germany's mechanized might drove into the north Caucasus today over widened bridgeheads across the Don south of Tsimlyansk and the broken defenses of Novocheerkassk and Rostov in the gravest moment of the entire war for the Soviet Union.

Into their bid for conquest of the Caucasus—Russia's oil barrel and supply bridge to the south—the Germans hurled forces which Red Star, organ of the Russian army, said were "many times superior" to the number of the defenders.

Hammering toward the last rail line linking Stalingrad to the Caucasus, the Germans were said to have made a new crossing of the Don in the Tsimlyansk sector, where the Don flows within 50 miles of the railway.

The defenders of Stalingrad, however, were reported to and motorized infantry attacks deep in the Don's big bend close to the mighty Volga.

(The German high command said its forces had widened and deepened their penetrations south of the Don and had reached or crossed the river along virtually the entire eastward bend.)

A Russian communique said last night that "our troops have evacuated Novocheerkassk and Rostov." There was no confirmation however, of German claims of the capture of Balaia, 15 miles south of Rostov on the main rail line to the Caucasus oilfields and oil ports.

Dispatches from the battlefield said fierce fighting was spreading "the Trans-Don" forces as the Germans strengthened their offensive with clouds of Stuka dive-bombers and many tanks.

The heavy onslaught admittedly was forcing the red army to fall back to the south.

The pressure of the invaders is becoming "more and more difficult" to meet, said Red Star.

The newspaper reported, however, that Russian fliers had destroyed one whole German column as it attempted to cross the Don. At another point a Russian surprise attack caught German troops crossing the river and took a heavy toll.

German Dead Litter Banks Of Don
It said hills of German dead and remnants of tanks and cannon littered whole sections of the Don banks.

One Soviet force was reported to have destroyed 25 German tanks and killed 700 of the invaders yesterday on the steppes that reach to the right bank of the Don as close as 80 miles to Stalingrad, industrial city on the Volga.

The Soviet Air Force incessantly bombed the German battle formations, destroyed or damaged 27 tanks, 78 motor vehicles with troops and supplies and a number of field and anti-aircraft guns.

have repulsed repeated tank attacks and destroyed German armor.

Some prisoners were taken in the fight, and losses were inflicted upon the Axis forces, but there was no indication that any large permanent wedge had been driven in the Axis line. In some places Imperial troops drove back to their original positions.

The Axis forces met the Foray definitely on the defensive and made no immediate move to hit back.

Both sides are racing to get more men and material. Rommel at handicapped in this by the difficulties in drawing strength from the continent and by British and United States aerial blows at his lines of reinforcement. Auchinleck is handicapped in this by the distance of the battlefield from his sources of supply.

Reserves replaced the thousands of Nazi dead reported littering the banks or floating seaward with the wreckage of pontoons smashed by Russian shells and bombs.

The Soviet information bureau announced an abatement of the Nazi pressure to enlarge bridgeheads in the Tsimlyansk area 120 miles from Rostov, but said "fighting is going on with fluctuating successes."

Northeastward, the Germans apparently continued to cross the river in a section of the strategic area between Rostov and Stalingrad.

Overwhelming German attacks finally forced Marshal Semyon Timoshenko's divisions of the extreme left to withdraw to unspecified positions south of the Don, which flows into the Azov sea 25 miles below Rostov's battered wharfs and shipyards.

Admiral Chester W. Nimitz of Fredericksburg, commander-in-chief of the Pacific fleet, to Doris Miller, negro mess attendant from Waco.

Admiral Nimitz recently was given the distinguished service medal by Admiral Ernest J. King, commander for exceptionally meritorious service in successful actions against the enemy in the Coral Sea and at Midway.

Miller won the Navy cross for manning a machine gun for the first time in his life at Pearl Harbor and blazing away at Jap bombing and fighter planes.

Others either born in Texas or residing here who received the Navy cross were: Lieut. (Junior grade) Harry B. Bass of Beaumont, native of Chicago.

Commander Harley F. Cope, native of Dallas, now a resident of New Orleans.

Ensign Marvin H. Haschke, a native and still a resident of Austin.

Boatswain's Mate, First Class, Paul J. McMurtry, born in Waco, now listing Long Beach, Calif., his home.

Lieut. (Junior grade) Jim D. Miller, born in Van Buren, Ark., whose home is in Berger.

Fred K. Moore, seaman, first class, (deceased) who was born in Campbell and enlisted from Greenville.

Lieut. Comm. Stanley P. Moseley of Fort Worth, a native of Mexico.

Lieut. Comm. Jerry A. Steward of Streetman, who was born in Kivren and is listed in the Navy's records as missing.

Lieut. William L. Wright, born in Roby and now resides in Centerville, Md. Commander Wright was awarded a gold star in lieu of his second Navy cross.

The distinguished flying cross was awarded Lieut. (Junior grade) Onis E. Stanley of Abilene, a native of Clarendon.

Rommel Force Attempting To Hold Its Own

CAIRO, July 28 (AP)—Harassed by new British land and aerial counter-thrusts, Field Marshal Rommel's African army appeared today, after the latest flareup of fighting, to be digging in for an attempt to hold its forward positions 75 or 80 miles from Alexandria rather than try to drive on toward the Nile Delta and Suez.

Fighting went on through last night in the newest British blow at the northern flank of the front where the battle has seared for four weeks since Gen. Sir Claude Auchinleck's troops brought Rommel's long push to a standstill.

Some prisoners were taken in the fight, and losses were inflicted upon the Axis forces, but there was no indication that any large permanent wedge had been driven in the Axis line. In some places Imperial troops drove back to their original positions.

The Axis forces met the Foray definitely on the defensive and made no immediate move to hit back.

Germans Raid British City

LONDON, July 28 (AP)—Birmingham, big British industrial center in the midlands, was bombed last night in an attack which cost the Germans eight out of 50 to 70 raiders, and incendiaries fell in greater London district which had its first night alarm since June 3.

A ninth German bomber was reported shot down this morning off the southwest coast.

Scattered bombings caused some damage elsewhere through the midlands and eastern counties.

Many fires were started in Birmingham and casualties were reported "fairly numerous." The greatest damage was sustained by homes and shops and a large hospital was emptied when a delayed action bomb fell nearby.

In an adjacent locality the post office was demolished and residential areas hit. Rescue squads worked until past dawn bringing out those trapped in the debris.

A number of fire bombs fell in fields near London but no damage was reported.

The RAF's bombers, which Sunday night pummeled the German port of Hamburg in a 600-plane assault, stayed home last night.

Mexico To Launch Pilot Training

WASHINGTON, July 28 (AP)—Mexico has decided to establish two pilot training schools similar to the 600 operated in this country by the Civil Aeronautics Administration, it was disclosed today.

The new training centers in Mexico will be organized with the cooperation of the United States, and 26 young Mexicans now training in various parts of the United States will be assigned to them as instructors, working at least at first under American supervisors detailed by the CAA at the request of the government of Mexico, the State Department announced.

LONDON, July 28 (AP)—Frits Wedel Jarlsberg, 57, Norwegian diplomat who played a prominent part negotiating King Haakon's enthronement, has died in Lisbon, the Norwegian telegraph agency reported today.

Joint Return Issue Fought By Connally

WASHINGTON, July 28 (AP)—Led by Senator Connally (D-Tex.), senators from the eight community property states strove today to block further consideration by the Senate Finance Committee of a treasury proposal to revise the method of computing individual income tax liabilities in those states.

The committee was reported to have voted 9 to 6 to consider this proposed change while voting 14 to 2 against a treasury suggestion that the new $4,271,000,000 tax bill be amended to require joint returns for married couples in all states. Such joint returns were calculated to add $430,000,000 to revenues by forcing many taxpayers into brackets carrying higher rates.

Chairman George (D-Ga.) announced the committee had decided to disregard a treasury proposal for federal taxation of the income from state and municipal bonds—a potential producer of $200,000,000—but had left open for further action the question of taxing income from future issues.

The latter proposal would yield little in immediate revenue. While the community property state tax proposal was yet to be reduced to formal terms, Connally contended it would have the effect of disregarding a public policy of dividing the family income and property between husbands and wives in Texas, California, Louisiana, Arizona, New Mexico, Idaho, Nevada and Washington.

As he explained the proposal, it would make the recipient of earned income liable for the tax on the full amount of that income, instead of permitting him to credit one-half of it to his wife, as is directed by state law.

Negro Denied Vote In Ark. Primary

LITTLE ROCK, July 28 (AP)—A Little Rock negro accountant was quietly denied a ballot today in the first reported test of negro voting in the Arkansas Democratic preferential primary.

J. H. McConico, 38, secretary of the Arkansas negro democratic association which has been leading the fight for negro voting in the primaries, appeared at his voting precinct shortly after the polls opened but he got no further than the door.

The balliff stopped him outside the voting place with the statement: "This election is for white electors only."

McConico inquired who the balliff was, and when he replied he was a deputy sheriff, McConico turned and walked away.

Sweden Next On The German Schedule?

MOSCOW, July 28 (AP)—The newspaper Pravda said today that Germany, "needing more victories," was casting a speculative eye on neutral countries, among them Sweden.

Pravda charged that the German airforce is "openly mocking neutrality by flying over Swedish territory as if it were its home land."

Lake Opening Is Deferred

There is little likelihood now that the Moss Creek lake will be opened to the public for fishing until the forepart of August.

The city is throwing every available worker into the construction of water and sewer lines to the U.S. Army Flying School, and this work is so pressing that none can be spared now to set up sanitary accommodations at the lake, said B. J. McDaniel, city manager.

Fishermen were urged to be patient and realize that the army project is vastly more important than fishing, the officials said. As soon as workmen can be spared necessary sanitary structures at the lake site will be erected and the place opened for recreational purposes.

Last of the ditching between the city park reservoir and the army's million-gallon storage tank above the school site was due to be completed Tuesday, said the manager. At the same time crews were making rapid progress on welding the 12-inch steel line.

Remaining pump parts were due to be shipped this week and presumably would arrive here for installation early next week. McDaniel was told. The army indicated it would be ready for water before that time.

A second ditching machine was being pressed into service Tuesday for sewer lines. A heavy piece of equipment, the machine was said to be fully capable of making the 14-foot cut required in some places. Barring rocky structures, it should make excavation faster than workers can install 12-inch tile behind it. The tile is still arriving on siding here rapidly.

Twelve Texans Decorated By Navy Since December 7

DALLAS, July 28 (AP)—Twelve Texans, 10 of them native born, have been decorated by the Navy for bravery since December 7, the Eighth Naval District Public Relations office in Dallas announced today.

Two hundred and thirty-one men, members of the United States Navy, Marine corps, or coast guard, were awarded naval decorations in the 48 states and District of Columbia.

The Texans ranged in rank from Admiral Chester W. Nimitz of Fredericksburg, commander-in-chief of the Pacific fleet, to Doris Miller, negro mess attendant from Waco.

Admiral Nimitz recently was given the distinguished service medal by Admiral Ernest J. King, commander for exceptionally meritorious service in successful actions against the enemy in the Coral Sea and at Midway.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio) said he agreed with the witness, Julian Goldman, that compulsory savings would serve better than taxes to take up the increase in national purchasing power.

"The thing that worries me is the machinery," Taft said. Goldman said that despite price ceilings, inflationary trends already are apparent and "black markets are being created."

Former Policemen Are Convicted

DETROIT, July 28 (AP)—A jury hearing the last of the major Wayne county graft cases last night convicted former district police inspectors Wendell A. Lechbiter and Frank Byczysk of accepting $71,000 in bribes from operators of handbooks. They will be sentenced August 2.

Beaumont And Fort Worth Both Win

By The Associated Press
It's pretty discouraging for Fort Worth—it seems every time the second-place Cats win a game the league-leading Beaumont exporters do, too. And that means, of course, that Fort Worth can't cut down the five and one-half game margin by which the Shippers lead the rest of the pack in the Texas league.

For instance, the Cats annexed a 2-2 victory to sweep a short series with the Shreveport Sports at Fort Worth. However, at Dallas the Beaumonters were busy sweeping their series with the Rebels by taking a 5-1 decision.

At Oklahoma City the Houston Buffs ended the night with a 5-2 win over the Indians, and the Oilers downed the San Antonio Missions 5-2 at Tulsa.

Elderly Ed Greer did the chunking for Fort Worth, pitching effectively despite a wobbly start. Charlie Fuchs wore down Sal Glatto of the Rebels. The Dallas moundman had a 1-0 lead after the first inning, and for five frames yielded only two hits, both of the infield variety. In the sixth however, Beaumont got to him for three base knocks to tie the score, and annexed two more tallies in the eighth.

Joe Berry won his thirteenth victory as the Oilers defeated San Antonio.

Tonight's Schedule—
Houston at Dallas.
San Antonio at Fort Worth.
Shreveport at Tulsa.
Beaumont at Oklahoma City.

Poloists Lose Tournay Final In Colorado

More polo among the Colorado mountains was on tap this week for the Big Spring polo team, which will participate in another series of games after closing out the Foxhall Keene trophy tournament at Colorado Springs as runner-up.

The locals lost the tournay final to Wichita, Kas., being on the short end of a 10-8 score. Wichita gave a three goal handicap in the game.

Riding for Big Spring were M. H. Bennett, Rip Smith, Gus White Sr., and Gus White, Jr. The team is operating under Cosden sponsorship.

While several southwestern and midwestern teams are gathered at Colorado Springs, other games were on tap, and the Big Spring crew will remain through this week. It marks the first "big time" appearance for the local riders.

The WFB steel conservation order reached into the world of sport to save about 12,500 tons of steel which had been going every year into ice skates and roller skates.

Red Sox Whip Indians To Hold On To Second Place

Other Games In Both Loops Are Cancelled

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Always a bridesmaid, but never a bride seems to describe the Boston Red Sox.

They tremble and falter every time they are led to the first place altar of the American league, but they are as full of fury as the women scorned whenever their right to second place is encroached upon.

Second place was at stake yesterday as they opened a four-game series with the Cleveland Indians. The two foes were deadlocked in games won and lost reckoning, but the Sox had an edge in percentage, .538 to .556.

The Bostonians approached the fray with more seriousness than they showed when they had a chance to wrest the lead from the Yankees a few weeks ago.

Manager Joe Cronin shook up his batting order, moving Ted Williams to the third spot and installing himself in the clean-up slot, and he opened with his ace pitcher, Cecil (Tex) Hughson, the tall right-hander who had won ten and lost three.

Although these maneuvers didn't seem to have much bearing on the game—Cronin didn't get a hit in five times at bat and Hughson was pelted for an even dozen safeties—Boston won 5-3.

The Red Sox made 11 hits, two of them triples, three of them doubles, and all of them timely. They never made a hit in an inning without scoring.

This was the only game in the major leagues that escaped a rude weatherman. As a result, three doubleheaders were scheduled for the National league today with attention centered on the St. Louis Cardinals' invasion of Brooklyn.

All Star Team Is Selected

CHICAGO, July 28. (AP)—Minnesota, Ohio State and Notre Dame each will have two representatives on the collegiate all-star football team that will start against Chicago's Bears in the ninth annual charity game at Soldier Field, Aug. 28.

Midwest choices predominated in the final tabulations of the national-wide poll.

Here are their choices:
Ends—Mal Kutner, Texas, and Charles Ringer, Minnesota.
Tackles—James Daniell, Ohio State, and Al Blozis, Georgetown.
Guards—Bernie Crammins, Notre Dame, and Bob Jeffries, Missouri.
Center—Vincent Banonis, Detroit.

Quarterback—Dick Erdlitz, Northwestern.
Halfbacks—Steve Jurwik, Notre Dame, and Bruce Smith, Minnesota.
Fullback—Jack Graf, Ohio State.

Sixty-four players have been invited to make up the squad which will begin practice Aug. 8 at Northwestern.

Servicemen Take Second Game In Fifteen Innings

Endurance was what it took for victory Monday night at city park, as ABC-Lions and WOW battled for 15 innings before a 6-5 decision favoring the ABC-Lions was reached in the final series of the city softball playoff.

It was the second straight for the service club men and they need only one more win to insure the title.

Blankenship, ABC-Lion pitcher was very effective again Monday night, as he struck out six batters, two of them retiring the side in the 15th inning, and held the WOW to 11 hits in the overtime battle.

The service men jumped to a 3 to 1 lead in the third after WOW had counted a single tally in the first. However, needing three runs in the 7th, the WOW team tied the score on a walk and two hits.

The Lions broke the deadlock in the 11th when Lovelady connected for a home run, but WOW coupled two singles together in their half of the frame to tie the count again. The winning run was scored by Thomas, after he beat out a bounder to short. After two men were out then, Lovelady bounced one over the pitcher, which was also out of the second baseman's reach, bringing Thomas in with the final run.

This third game of the series will be played Wednesday night.

Looking 'Em Over

Recent reports indicate that the Southwest conference still remains cold to the idea of playing freshmen on varsity sports teams during the war, although some few in the loop do not frown on the idea. Some athletic conferences have already announced intentions of letting first year men join the varsity squad, especially in cases where induction into service has taken a heavy toll from the squads.

Although some teams have been hit rather heavily in the Southwest, there is none that can't get a fair squad of upper classmen together this fall. As a matter of fact college football in this area may be better than expected this year, of which we will have more to say in the near future.

Remember Johnny De Paolo, the demon speedster of the auto race track? He's now Capt. John De Paolo, commander of the mechanics school at the Victorville, Calif., Flying School of the West Coast Army Air Forces Training Center. Capt. De Paolo graduated his first class of aviation mechanics the Air Forces "unsung heroes," July 18.

If the major leagues had a pitcher who won 13 out of 17 games—and if that pitcher was 50 years old—there would be headlines. Gardner Field, Calif., basic Flying School of the WCAAFTC boasts such a phenomenon in Peter Beaudreau, who this summer attained the rating of Master Sergeant. Pete's baseball background includes pitching for the Boston Braves and their Providence farm. His Army background covers a stretch in Panama; chauffeur for the White House; Military police at West Point and general duty at Kelly Field. Incidentally, one of Sgt. Beaudreau's team mates on the Gardner Field nine is Aviation Cadet Tommy Harmon, Michigan's all-American back.

George Halas is not figuring on letting the college all-stars get the jump on his Chicago Bears in training for their big game on Aug. 28. The shrewd Bear boss has issued a call for all backs and centers to report by Monday, Aug. 3 to begin their conditioning grind. Some of the boys were not expecting the call until a week later.

War Relief Council Organized By FDR
WASHINGTON, July 28. (AP)—A newly created war relief control board undertook today the regulation of agencies collecting welfare funds for use in the United States or abroad.
The agency was established yesterday by President Roosevelt with Joseph E. Davies, former ambassador to Russia and Belgium, the director.

Wakefield A Hitter Like Ted Williams

DALLAS, July 28. (AP)—Steve O'Neill figured Dick Wakefield Beaumont's $51,000 outfielder, of major league caliber the first time he saw him swing—and a stiff breeze convinced him conclusively.

It brought the prediction from the former big league catcher that Wakefield would make major league fans think of Ted Williams every time he took his cut.

Down at Beaumont, near the Gulf coast, explained Steve, there is a breeze that rolls in every day in such a way as to make it tough on a left-hand hitter.

"You can smack a line drive and the ball often loses its force before reaching the outfield," said O'Neill. "Wakefield is hitting Texas league pitching for .350 against such a handicap. It furnishes a test as strong as any big league park would and I believe he could hit just as much in the majors."

The former University of Michigan star looks like Williams in more ways than one. Fans remark at the physical resemblance to the Boston Red Sox outfielder. He's tall, rather slender and fast. And remarks O'Neill: "If the boy has a batting weakness I haven't found it."

The skipper of the Detroit farm club added this significant statement: "Dick has a more even swing than Williams. I won't say he'll ever be as great a player as Ted but I certainly say he shows all indications."

Steve has been paying special attention to development of Wakefield's fielding and says Dick is coming along fine.

"He hasn't been outstanding as a fielder because he's still growing and hasn't quite gotten out of the awkward stage," O'Neill explained.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
Wide World Sports Columnist
NEW YORK, July 28.—Golf writers, who like to tell about the cool, nervous way Byron Nelson plays his shots, may not know that after he missed a 16-inch putt for a winner in the P. G. A. tournament he actually was sick. And he probably didn't feel much better after blowing the four-footer Sunday that was tagged with $2,500 first money in the Tam O'Shanter open.

Zipp Newman, Birmingham News: "For a last place club, the Washington Senators must be the top drawing club for what they are giving the customers. It just goes to show they haven't any places to go in Washington except Griffith Stadium."

Joe Routt, all-American guard of the Texas Aggies, is at Ft. Benning, Ga. taking a course in heavy weapons. He should be giving it . . . John Hubbell, Carl's kid brother who is a fair country pitcher himself although he couldn't make the big leagues, has joined the Enid (Okla.) Army Flying school . . . After Bill Davis, who used to play tackle for Texas Tech and the Chicago Cards, got into the swing of training Naval air cadets at the Athens, Ga., pre-flight school, he became so enthusiastic about the business that he decided to resign his commission as a physical training instructor and become a cadet himself. Only Bill was 25 pounds over the top limit for airmen. He reduced his rations and took off 12 pounds in a hurry. Now he claims he'll get rid of the other 13 or starve in the attempt.

Mike Tresh of the White Sox, currently rated as the American League's No. 1 umpire upgrader, recently irritated one ump so much that the arbiter broke down and asked why he said so many mean things . . . without cracking a smile, Mike explained, "I really don't like to do it but my boss, Jimmy Dykes, makes me do it." Dykes denies the whole story and says he's kept busy thinking of things to call 'em himself.

Cy Blanton has had two big league offers since he returned to Shawnee, Okla., to recuperate from an operation. He may be flinging in the big show again late in August.

TROOP TRAIN WRECKED
NEW YORK, July 28. (AP)—The British radio reported today that 40 German soldiers were killed in the wrecking of a troop train by saboteurs between Paris and Cherbourg. The BBC, heard here by CBS, said the Nazis were enroute to Paris on leave.

Nelson Comes Through With The Title At Tam O'Shanter

CHICAGO, July 28. (AP)—Byron Nelson, one of the greatest of modern linkmen, was homeward bound today with $2,500 in his hip pocket, once again having demonstrated that when the big money is on the line he virtually is unbeatable.

The demonstration came as the grand finale to the golfing circus known as the Tam O'Shanter $15,000 open tournament.

Yesterday Nelson crushed big Clayton Heafner of Durham, N. C., by four strokes in his 18-hole playoff for the championship of the dirtiest of all golf events. The pair had tied at the end of the regular 72 holes, with totals of 250.

As though to stave for his unaccountable lapse of the previous day, when he soared to an inglorious 77 on the fourth round, the Texan took Tam O'Shanter's agony acres apart with a 67-five under par—to send Heafner down for the count.

Not that Heafner was content. The big fellow stayed in there, gamely all the way to score his 71.

Aside from his one terrible round, Nelson shot these scores at Tam O'Shanter: 67-71-65-67-270. Although he has not been the country's top money winner the last few years—his chum, Ben Hogan, holding that distinction—Nelson has shown a remarkable propensity for capturing the really big purses. He has finished in the money in 39 consecutive tournaments over a period of 18 months.

'Toughening Up' Program To Be Followed By Schools, Colleges
CINCINNATI, July 28. (AP)—American schools are helping the navy and army "toughen up" the nation's boys and young men. Colleges will do the job as part of a broad war-time athletic program, said four conference commissioners meeting here today to discuss war's effects on athletics. They expect high schools, many of which will have to curtail inter-scholastic activity, to set up rigorous intramural programs.

War uncovered a need for a "hardening" program and the commissioners pointed out that the Navy and Army met the problem by stressing combative, personal contact athletics like football, soccer, wrestling and boxing.

St. Clair, and Peters met with Arthur R. Hutchens, of the Southeastern and Southern conferences, and Asa Bushnell, of the Eastern Intercollegiate, to review a national summary of inter-collegiate athletic conditions in war-time.

Hit Leaders In Both Loops Have A .354
Boston Braves to suggest that the 1942 batting championships in both major leagues may go to the same hitters that won them last year.

Gordon, after setting the pace much of the season in his circuit, has slipped to .336 and Lombardi, himself a former batting champ, backed down to .340.

Different Colored Sox A Five-Away
LOS ANGELES, July 28. (AP)—Frank K. Hauser returned home wearing socks of a different hue, said his wife Adele. She became suspicious.

She came across a phone number and the woman who answered said she was Mrs. Hauser—first name, Lola.

Hauser was held for trial on a charge of bigamy.

How to Make Your Appliances Run Smoothly and Last Longer*

Your electric fan, and other motor-driven electric appliances, will run more smoothly and last longer if oiled according to the recommendations of the manufacturer. Now that the manufacture of fans has been restricted and many other motor-operated appliances are out of production due to the war, every needed attention should be given them to make 'em last.

A complete cleaning and oiling by a qualified electrician should make your fan operate more quietly and prolong its life. This attention is particularly important after a fan has been idle all winter.

Notes
By MARY WHEALBY

There are all kinds of blues. There are Monday blues, wash day blues, morning after blues and hard times blues. There are blues you sing about, cry about and worry about. But the blues that can really get you down are after-vacation blues.

You return home with a suitcase full of souvenirs, a pocketbook alimporer and an Edna Wallace Hopper figure, and nothing to look forward to for the rest of the summer.

Your clothes all look as though the trip had been too much for them and you can't find a clean article to put on. Your hair that you so carefully curled and primped before the trip now gives a rough impression of a Fiji Islander.

Those times you so gaily spent your money for knick knacks you remember with despair when you search futilely for even a slender dime among your possessions. That last pair of hose that carried you through the last few days has a runner from top to toe and stockings are as scarce as hen's teeth too.

You can't recall for the life of you where those fourteen days went while you were vacationing. They whizzed by in about half the time it ought to take them. But the next fourteen will drag like dead weights because it takes easily that long to recover from after-vacation blues.

Hearing Slated On Proration Protest

AUSTIN, July 28 (AP)—The Texas railroad commission will hold a special statewide hearing August 7 to consider a complaint filed by the Humble Oil and Refining company that the August proration order, issued last week, did not give the company sufficient oil to meet refinery requirements for processing critical war products as ordered by the office of the petroleum coordinator.

The company filed its complaint after an analysis of the commission's order and the effect it would have on Humble's ability to produce essential war products.

Humble stated that it was attempting to operate with a minimum crude run while producing the maximum amount of war products, and asserted that it made its August nominations to purchase crude from various fields with the war demands in mind.

The company declared that its nominations represent "our real demand for oil from various fields as nearly as it is possible to foresee."

Editorial - - Results In Traffic Safety

The first half of 1943 uncovered a very real contribution to traffic safety in Texas. The state public safety commission announces that traffic deaths were off 20 per cent in comparison with the same period of last year. In cities and smaller towns the reduction was 30 and 29 per cent, respectively; on state highways it was 17 per cent, on country roads it was 14 per cent.

This fine showing is due to a number of factors, not the least of which was the lessened speed maintained by most drivers. But at the same time the highway patrol was more active, issuing a larger number of warnings and keeping a tighter rein on the irresponsible driver. The lesson is obvious; we can achieve still greater reductions in fatalities, we can save still more lives, with a still further spread of the general slowdown, with an even tighter rein on the reckless.

A great many people are finding for the first time in their lives that slower speeds not only save tires, lube and gasoline, but contribute a great deal to the comfort of driving. Many a motorist is discovering new country every time he drives over familiar roads at slower speed. He has time to take his eyes off the road and take in a bit of scenery now and then. He is relaxed, not keyed up. He finds, often to his surprise, that it is the steady, unvarying 40- or 45-mile speed that gets him to his destination in plenty of time, and gets him there feeling relaxed and rested, instead of jumpy and tired as all get-out.

It is difficult for most motorists to slow down to 40 or 45 at first. The first 50 or 100 miles seem long-drawn-out and insufferably slow. But if he will stick to it on his next long trip he will find to his surprise how quickly he becomes adjusted to the slower pace, and how soon he will begin to enjoy it. After that he will wonder why he hadn't thought of it sooner.

Manhattan— They Tripped On Just One Word, But A Long One

By GEORGE TUCKER
NEW YORK—The girl (Lucille Roberts) stood in the center of the Rainbow Room blindfolded, and the man (Eddie Roberts) moved from table to table talking to the guests.

One guest pulled a small green stone from his pocket and shielded it so that only Eddie Roberts would be able to see it. When Roberts saw it he called to the girl, "What is it?"

"It's a tiki," she replied. "It represents the god of fertility."

Roberts moved to another table. A guest at that table exhibited a folded piece of paper on which appeared the picture of a bird. "What is the bird?" Roberts called to the blindfolded girl.

"It's a kiwi, the national bird of New Zealand, and it is on a one pound New Zealand note," the girl said.

Roberts moved to another table. A man simply wrote down something on a piece of paper. "What has the gentleman written?" Roberts asked.

"He has written two words—'Traveling Crane,'" was the reply. By this time the Rainbow Room was on its head. Another guest exhibited a torn piece of paper. "That's a piece of the Congressional Record," the girl correctly replied.

I handed Eddie Roberts a ring of keys and indicated the largest key on the ring. "That's a key—a house key," the girl called. "Well, what's the number on it," the man persisted. "It hasn't any number," she said.

Four days later I dropped around for a talk with Lucille and Eddie Roberts. They had never seen me, and I had never seen them. Eddie looked at me and said, "You were sitting on the left side of the room, towards the rear, and you showed me a ring with four keys on it."

That really startled me. I was amazed that his memory was so keen, and I had to take the keys out of my pocket and count them. I had no idea there were only four keys on the ring.

I said, "I know it's communication, but how many items can you two identify like that?"

The answer to this was that they can identify anything anybody

Washington Daybook— Capital Conference!

By JACK STEINNETT
WASHINGTON—Capital madhouse: A few months ago, he was making nearly $100,000 a year as a Wall Street executive and director of several corporations. Now he is a government official, laboring in the war effort.

"I used to think all those stories about confusion on the Potomac were just flights of reprobational fancy," he said as he sat down at the table. "But, man, did I find out."

"Three weeks after I arrived in town and had been given an office, a push-button, two secretaries and nothing to do, a friend arrived from New York and tried to find me. He called the WPB, the OEM, Lowell Mellett's information bureau, the White House and the treasury. They all said, 'I'm sorry but he doesn't work here.' They were right, in a way. I never learned the names of my secretaries. It's not worth the effort. I come to work in the morning and there's a strange young lady at one of the desks. I look at the number to be certain I'm in the right office. Then I look at the young woman again. 'I'm the new secretary,' she says.

"And when I ask what became of the old one, nobody knows. One day I came back from lunch and had two new ones.

"One morning, I came to work early—I couldn't sleep—and I had a new office. The only trouble was nobody could tell me where it was located. It was four o'clock in the afternoon before I found it.

"Man, when you call up a government official and his girl says, 'I'm sorry, he's in conference, you believe her. This is a conference government.'

"They are easy to describe, because they are all alike. One official says, 'Joe, what do you think about the price of tenpenny nails in Timbuctoo?'

"I don't think anything about anything, but he'll take it up in the conference that is going to be held day after tomorrow and brings into a nightclub—I myself heard her read off Elk lodge cards, identify pictures of houses, and perhaps 25 other items and trinkets that people pulled from their pockets.

Did they ever miss?

"One man wrote down a word and I refused it," Eddie admitted. "We didn't miss it because I didn't give it to her. I didn't want to take the chance. But if we ever get it again we'll be ready for it."

I asked Lucille and Eddie Roberts what that word was. It was one of the longest words in the dictionary—'Antidisestablishmentarianism.'

he'll let us know at the first conference held next week.

"Henry throws the conference into consternation by announcing that he has something very definite on the girls and garter situation. It is that at Tuesday's conference he is going to get the preliminary figures on a preliminary survey. He'll send around the preliminary girdle and garter figures at that time and after a period of deliberation, we can discuss preliminary plans at the first conference following.

"After a couple of hours of this, the conferees fly blind through tobacco smoke until they find the door beam and rush off to see what each drew in the way of new secretaries."

Author's note: The above is almost a verbatim report of a new government war official, who for obvious reasons must remain nameless. It really isn't that bad, but the poor fellow had just come from a conference. A week later, I was in his office and he was working like fury and he had learned the names of both secretaries. One had been with him ten days. The other was a veteran of two weeks).

Hollywood Sights and Sounds— Producers Get Away From Formula With Picture, 'Ox Bow Incident'

By ROBBIN COONS
HOLLYWOOD—Down on the old 20th Century-Fox western street William Wellman, the director, was launching a lynchpin.

The mob was getting on horses and taking tight hold on guns. A chap named Henry Fonda was getting in the saddle, too. This chap was just a cowboy going along for the ride, odd business for a hero.

It was the most unusual lynchpin ever staged in Hollywood. It was going to be carried out—all the way. Three men were going to be hanged. The Martins weren't going to land at the last minute, and the sheriff wasn't riding the wind from Eagle Pass with a rescuing posse. The three men—innocent of any crime—were going to die, and that would be the end of the movie called "The Ox-Bow Incident."

Hollywood is constantly accused of making formula pictures. Once in a while the town turns out a picture to beat the charge—and a good thing for Hollywood it does. "The Ox-Bow Incident," at this writing, looks like one of those.

It's taken from a first novel by Walter Van Tilburg Clark. Lamar Trotter, who did the screenplay, says all he did was "write" the book in movie form, it was that screenable. And yet the novel kicked around Hollywood a couple of years with no takers. It was too "different." Those lynchings, first of all, and two suicides. Strong stuff. Then the romance angle. There is romance, but the boy Fonda and the girl Mary Beth Hughes never go into a clinch. Clinch? They never even speak to each other. What could you do with a story like that?

Wellman thinks you can do plenty. First he heard of the story when David Selznick, with an option on it, asked him to read it. Wellman read it and was sold. Selznick let him know if he decided to make it—or didn't. Selznick was busy with other plans, the option expired, and he forgot to tell Wellman, who had forgotten about it too. One day Wellman remembered, just in time to beat another producer to the cash line—with his own cash. Wellman then peddled the yarn, non-profit, to Darryl F. Zanuck just for the privilege of directing it.

"A lot of people think we're insane to be making a picture like this," he said after the lynch-launching. "They say the people want 'escape'—but who really knows what the people want? I saw a double-feature the other night. One was an 'escape' comedy and the crowd liked it. The other was 'Joe Smith, American,' and the crowd applauded at the end. So?"

"Wild Bill" Wellman, Lafayette Escudrille flier in World War I and a sideline with arthritis for this big show, said he wasn't in any mood for "escape" stuff.

"This picture may be great—or it may be terrible," he said.

Right Connection

PORTLAND, Ore., July 28. (AP) A woman passenger told the bus driver the stork was about to arrive.

The bus driver hailed a passing motorist.

"Put her in here," the motorist obliged. "I'm on my way to the maternity hospital with another passenger right now."

Both babies were born later in the day.

Authorities say that 15 per cent of the work on new ship construction can be done by women in extreme emergency, the largest proportion of jobs being as shipfitters' helpers, sub-assembly welders, and painters.

MRS. MURDOCK TAKES A CASE

by George Harmon Cox

Chapter 38
Call From Joyce
Jack Fenner swung his little sedan into the driveway, drove up under the porte-cochere, and stopped there.

"We might as well use the society entrance."

Murdoch eyed him glumly. "I don't like this much."

"You've got the wrong attitude," Fenner said, opening the door. "You were married to her once and now—"

"That's got nothing to do with it," Murdoch said. "I just don't like the idea of trying to bully her when I don't think she knows anything about the case anyway."

"Look," Fenner began pointedly. "This dame has got a definite hook-up with Raeburn, right? And your wife can put Raeburn in the chair practically sighted."

"If Raeburn finds that out—and he wouldn't have to be very smart if he can read the papers and put two and two together—he's going to hope something happens to her, right?"

"Oh, quiet!" Murdoch said. "Get out. We'll talk to her."

The butler looked doubtful when he opened the door.

"Mrs. Losado is engaged at the moment."

"We'll wait," Fenner said and pushed in.

Murdoch followed. "Just say that Mr. Murdoch would like to see her. Tell her I won't keep her long."

He had been moving along the short corridor as he spoke and was now nearly to the main hall. The butler shrugged with his eyebrows and withdrew, and presently Hester appeared.

"Why Kent, how nice—" She stopped abruptly, seeing Fenner and the smile faded. She looked questioningly from one to the other, and Murdoch made the introduction.

"I've heard a lot about you," Fenner said. "And all of it's true."

Hester looked him up and down, with some hauteur at first and then, seeing his grin, with more interest.

"Would that be a compliment?" she asked.

"It would."

A smile touched her glance and she turned to Murdoch. "John Nason's here. Would you rather wait or—"

"Nason?" Murdoch hesitated, finding the name an injection which stimulated many dormant thoughts. "No. He might be interested in this too."

John Nason rose when they entered the drawing room, blond, square-faced and powerful-looking. Beneath the bushy brows his gray eyes examined the trio in one swift glance and then became expressionless.

Hester—Angry
She sat down and the others followed.

"The police haven't been here, have they?" Murdoch asked.

"They telephoned," Hester said. "I told them they could come after lunch."

"Do you know why they called?"

"About Perry Clarke, I presume."

Murdoch glanced at Fenner, knowing that if he did not continue, the detective would.

"Have you seen Raeburn?"

"Why—no."

"Have you been in touch with him at all?"

Hester's glance slid over to Nason and came back. "I'm afraid I don't understand," she said. "I've just told you—"

"A man by the name of Hardacker was murdered last night," Murdoch said. "Apparently by the same person who killed Perry Clarke. Hardacker was a private detective, and he was working for Raeburn. The way it looks now, Raeburn is the one who killed him—and Clarke."

Hester's mantle of graciousness had slipped away.

"And how," she asked, her glance resentful, "does that concern me?"

"You know Raeburn," Murdoch said.

"And we thought you might have some line on him," Fenner added.

Hester looked him up and down. "Is that why you came?" She snapped. "Because you think I'm harboring a murderer?"

Fenner was unimpressed. "It's like this," he said, and began to tell her what had happened.

Watching the lawyer as Fenner continued, he concentrated, remembering things about Nason that had come to light over the past two years, reviewing the business activities that had been newsworthy enough to warrant a paragraph or two in the Courier-Herald.

Suddenly he was aware that not only was there a possible connection between Nason's field of business and Hester's story, but also a very timely and pertinent connection.

Fenner had finished and Hester's mouth tightened. "I'm sorry," she said, "but I don't care to discuss it. I don't know anything about Raeburn and I resent your inference that I do."

She gave Murdoch a hard bright look. "If that's the reason you came I'm afraid I'll have to ask you to excuse me."

Murdoch flushed. He watched Hester rise to put an end to the discussion. He did not move.

Murdoch glanced at Fenner. He was completely at ease. He was leaning back in his chair, legs crossed, a grin on his lips and a challenge in his eyes. Even when Hester glared at him nothing changed.

"She doesn't have to listen," Murdoch's flush remained and so did his stubbornness. "But we may find someone else who'd like to know that she had never been married to Miguel Losado."

Nason Speaks
Hester's face blanched. Her eyes blazed and for a moment her acquired veneer cracked. "Why you—"

she said. "You—"

She choked off and Murdoch went on, implacably.

"You told me you married Losado in July. Isn't that right?"

Hester was either too angry or confused to answer and he did not wait.

"Just a minute, please." John Nason got to his feet and looked at Murdoch and then at Fenner. His face was impassive, his voice smooth. He waited until he was sure of everybody's attention. "The fact that Mrs. Losado was married or divorced on a certain date has nothing to do with the payment of her inheritance."

"Haven't it?" Murdoch said.

Pausing, as though for emphasis, Nason continued: "Had Miguel Losado died intestate, and had Mrs. Losado not been legally married, then your contention would apply. But he did not. He left a will. He mentioned in that will the name of Hester Losado. And so long as he did that, Mr. Murdoch, her legal marital status is beside the point. His intent was clear and that is the crux of the matter."

Murdoch looked at him and said nothing. He watched Nason pass a hand over his short blond hair, nothing the pointed, close-set ears. He looked at Fenner and that worthy tilted his brows and let them fall.

Somewhere in the house a telephone rang. Still no one spoke although Hester's look was eloquent and contemptuous. The butler appeared in the doorway.

"Yes, Edward," Hester said. "The telephone, madam. For Mr. Murdoch."

"Thank you," Murdoch rose. "Excuse me, please."

The telephone was at the rear of the hall and when he answered it Joyce's voice came back to him.

"Kent. Will you do something for me?"

"I don't know. What?"

"Will you and Jack come over to Ward Allen's—and do you think you could bring Hester?"

"What for? What're you—"

"Ward's going away. Kent DeHa's gone over to talk to him and I've just phoned him and asked him to wait."

"He's crazy," Murdoch said.

"Of course he is. And we have to stop him. I think we can if we all get together and tell the truth."

To Be Continued.

Johnson Mum On Politics

HOUSTON, Tex., July 28. (UP)—Fading off requests for his views concerning Texas politics, Representative Lyndon B. Johnson arrived here by plane last night for his first visit to his home state since his return from war duty.

Johnson, who opposed Senator W. Lee O'Daniel when the latter made his successful race for the Senate in a special election last summer, declined to comment on the recent primary. He did, however, ask if the Senate race had been contested.

He contended himself with reiterating views expressed earlier in Washington in which he assailed incompetent generals and admirals, saying:

"There is no use kidding ourselves. These rosy headlines and stories by retired admirals and generals are not doing us any good, they're hurting. If we don't quit thinking that way, you and I and the rest of us are going to get slapped around."

Johnson returned to this country recently by presidential directive after he had served overseas as a Naval lieutenant commander.

He left for Brenham last night shortly after his arrival here.

Next fall—harvest time—when they normally would enroll for the school year, they'll lay aside their textbooks to help the community alleviate a labor shortage.

'Parachutist' Reports Are Investigated

BALTIMORE, July 28. (AP)—Reports that "parachutists or other unidentified planes" in three areas near Washington were being investigated today by military authorities, the third service command announced.

Third service command officials said the reports came from Doubt, Md., near the Potomac river about 25 miles north of Washington; from Shenandoah Junction, W. Va., six miles west of Harper's Ferry, W. Va., and from Bartgis Store, a crossroads about 10 miles from Annapolis on the defense highway to Washington.

An unidentified plane in the Shenandoah Junction and Doubt areas was reported last night, to the army filter center about 10:30 p. m., third service command officials said.

"Investigations by the state police, the state guard, the FBI, and military intelligence agents are in progress," the service command statement added.

"Details are not available for publication at this time. All precautions are being taken by the civil and military authorities."

Scouts To Stage 'Camp' Program

Boosters for the Buffalo Trail council second and "short camp" of the summer will stage a brief entertainment on the courthouse lawn here Wednesday at 4 p. m. for the benefit of Boy Scouts in Big Spring and vicinity.

A group of scouts on tour of the council will present a short "camp fire" program and then answer questions from Big Spring scouts and their parents concerning the camp to be held at Mertson from Aug. 10-15.

Cost of the camp to boys will be $3 including transportation. Location will be at Camp Louis Parr on Spring creek, 30 miles west of San Angelo. The grounds are equipped with a huge dining hall and auditorium, a hospital, swimming facilities, showers and plenty of tentage.

Jack Hodges, Odessa, and Ben Newhouse, Big Spring, both field executives, will be in charge, assisted by field executives.

Army, Navy, Both Get New Recruits

U. S. Army and U. S. Navy recruiters both had a good day Monday.

Four men were shipped by the army, reported Sgt. Edwin R. Turner, recruiter, and A. H. Walker, navy recruiter, reported as many for the navy.

James W. Hunter, Thomas W. Sullivan, and Elmo E. White, all of Coahoma, were shipped by the army. Hunter went into the army, unassigned, while Sullivan and White were assigned to the air corps. Samuel J. Wilson, Big Spring, went into the army unassigned.

Two aviation cadets were in the group sent by the navy to Dallas for induction. They were Harry Rea Sindorf, Jr., Kermit, and Garth Merle Pollard, Odessa, for V-5 (aviation cadet applicants). John Luther Appleton, Vincent, enlisted for V-6 apprentice seaman, and Herschel Virgil Harris, Big Spring for V-2 (aviation groundwork).

Uncle Sam In The Market For Typewriters

Uncle Sam is needing typewriters.

The mushroom growth of government agencies, along with the military, has created a demand for office equipment that wartime production cannot meet—and the government is wanting to buy up what typewriter civilians can spare.

Information on the need has come to local typewriter dealers who will negotiate purchases.

The government wants any non-portable machine built since January 1, 1935, and will pay a fair price for it. The typewriters must be in such condition, of course, that they can be repaired for full usage.

Persons having typewriters that they will dispose of to the government are requested to contact any office supply house or typewriter store. All arrangements may be handled through them.

Real Estate And Housing Loans Added By Strom

A new service designed to meet an important situation in Big Spring—that of providing housing facilities for the present army school—has been added by Carl Strom's insurance and finance office.

Strom is now handling real estate loans, representing a Southwestern concern which handled only Texas money.

Strom said loans were available on building that meets federal regulations, remodeling and repair, as well as purchasing and refinancing.

In need of housing facilities for many years, Big Spring faces a crisis now, with the need of more accommodations for persons connected with the flying school. Said Strom: "When money is available at low cost, it would be advisable to consider, from an investment standpoint, the enlarging, remodeling and improvement of present properties, since the restriction on materials puts a limit on new construction."

Information on services for property improvement can be had from any local loan institution or material dealer.

Rev. Justice Opens Revival Meeting

"Prepare for Going Through," was the opening message of the Rev. I. W. Justice, Eastland, at the Church of the Nazarenes revival meeting at 4th and Austin streets Monday evening.

Taking his text from John 4:4, concerning the woman at the well, the Rev. Justice pointed out that the Rev. Justice had set aside customs and disregard obstacles, so must the congregation ignore defeatist talk and determine to have a God-given revival meeting.

"Put God first," he said, "and we will have a revival. Put on the whole armor of God and let us follow the example of Christ and all things will be done for us." The meeting will continue for two weeks.

First Water Flows From Denison Lake

DENISON, July 28. (AP)—The first water flowed through the conduits of the $50,000,000 Denison dam today and Denison Lake is ready to receive water long after completion of Coffey dam across the stream.

Just before the first water passed through the power tubes another Coffey dam was finished down stream.

The downstream project was built to prevent water from flowing back into the river bed where the main embankment will be constructed. The lake is as large as it will be for some time, but the river already has spread out over a wide area west of the dam.

Training as a squadron is expected to be very valuable to the students, as they will be organized as such later on when they are ready for combat duty.

Young Men Needed As Pilots, Says Hero Of Pearl Harbor

Rotarians and guests heard Lt. George S. Welch, decorated war hero who shot down four Japanese planes during the surprise attack at Pearl Harbor, and Lt. Col. Marvin B. Durrette, district recruiting officer of Lubbock, speak at luncheon Friday noon on the urgent need for young men in the army.

Lt. Col. Durrette spoke on the fact that the army air corps needs young men as the best pilots for combat service and pointed out that boys under 20 years of age can ask for any branch of service they desire and be assured of assignment. He also told of the heroic actions of young Lt. Welch at Pearl Harbor in driving in his car to the airport, taking off to tangle with Japanese Zeroes and dive bombers.

Lt. Welch talked of the need of young men in the air corps, saying that already he was considered too old for use as a combat pilot. Boys from 18 to 22 years are best suited for this line of duty, he told. He also spoke of his comrades in the Pacific who are outnumbered and ill equipped. "We need pilots plenty damn bad," he said "and unless we have them and other soldiers we might lose the war in the far east." He scored those who complained of gas, tire and sugar rationing saying that in Hawaii everything was rationed.

Ira Thurman introduced the two army officers. Mrs. D. R. Keller gave a reading, "Seven Ages of Man" before the talk by the officers.

Hotel Managers In Session Here

Twenty West Texas hotel managers Monday heard Scott Hardy, executive secretary of the Texas Hotel association, discuss new and current problems confronting hostilities.

Hardy, who also is publisher of the trade magazine, Texas Hotel Review, led in a round table discussion on ceiling prices, rent controls, etc.

Managers were here from an area from Coleman and San Angelo to Lubbock, and from Pecos to Abilene. L. L. Speer, Settles hotel manager, was host manager.

Here And There

Earl Haywood Sturdivant, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Sturdivant, is about to complete the second phase of his aviation cadet training at Tulsa, Okla. He started out at Kelly Field and now lacks only about three hours of his acrobatics at Tulsa before moving on to a more advanced training unit. His grades have been consistently high throughout and despite the fact that he has twice suffered a broken hand (the last time from cranking a plane), Haywood has made rapid progress.

If there is someone who stands in real good with the rain makers, Frank Covert, superintendent of the city lakes, wants to swap places at least temporarily. Powell Creek lake, from which the city has been drawing its supply, is down to nine feet seven inches.

Clifford N. Manning and Arthur R. Keune were in the group of enlistees returning to Fort Sill, Okla. Monday for active service. Their names were omitted through error from the original group published Monday.

28 Executed By Germans

VICHY, July 28. (AP)—The Germans announced today the execution of 28 persons at Lille on conviction of a series of offenses, including sabotage, possession of weapons and communistic activities.

Most of those condemned were mine workers in the Lille region.

At the same time French courts at Douai, a suburb of Lille, sentenced two persons to life in prison for stealing ration cards, and 28 others to a total of 40 years in prison. Most of them also were miners.

Delayed advices from Courtrai, also in the Lille region, said an unspecified but considerable number of persons had been arrested as hostages after five fires were started in one night.

Mitchell Co. Has Runoff

COLORADO CITY, July 28.—Final tabulation of Mitchell county votes show that there will be a runoff in every race having more than two candidates.

W. W. Porter, incumbent, polled 1021 votes to A. F. King's 1198 King is a former county judge and the two will battle for the office of county judge in the second primary.

Still the hottest race so far as street corner discussions are concerned is that of sheriff with Nick Narrell drawing 973 votes to Jack Dempsey's 1165.

Closest race in the county was that of public weigher, precinct No. 5, in which Lester Richburg won by one vote with 307 votes to Tom Roy's 308.

There will be run-off races in three commissioners' precincts. In No. 1, Jack Smith, incumbent, polled 567 to Lawrence Candler's 426; in precinct No. 3, J. S. Boyd, incumbent, polled 70 votes, Ross Harvogue, 66; in precinct No. 4, Moody Richardson had 281 to the incumbent, S. O. Givens 257.

The constable's race in precinct 1 took a little of the spotlight, too, with Chas. Putman, incumbent, running, slightly behind John Wood's 619. The two face a decision in August.

In the county attorney's race Joe Earnest defeated E. N. Carter, incumbent, with 1779 votes to Carter's 1099. Bruce Hart will keep the office of tax collector-assessor with 3039 to Louis Latham's 890.
