

Stassen Reported Seeking Support For '48 Election

Former Governor To Get Out Of Navy; Begin "Campaign"

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON, Oct. 13 (AP)—Capt. Harold E. Stassen is getting out of the navy soon and going back to the political wars with a nationwide speaking campaign. Friends of the former Minnesota governor, who expects to be in mufti before December 15, said today that Stassen is a definite, unannounced, candidate for the republican presidential nomination in 1948.

Unless he changes his plans, they said he will not seek any public office in the meantime. Stassen apparently plans to take an active part in republican politics in his own state and nationally. In Minnesota, he reportedly will support another candidate in the primaries against Senator Shipstead (R-Minn).

Nationally Stassen plans to lay out a program in a series of speeches he will make between now and convention time in 1948. He hopes also to build up support within the party for what now seems to be an uphill battle for the presidential nomination. Because his views on international affairs are pretty widely known, Stassen plans to devote much of his speaking time to domestic issues. Before he went in the navy he was in the forefront of those who urged all-out international cooperation to preserve future peace. He was one of the American delegates to the San Francisco conference.

On the domestic front, friends said Stassen will bear down on proposals to improve labor-industry relations. His most outstanding suggestion along this line is for the establishment of a judicial tribunal, such as exists in Sweden, for the settlement of jurisdictional strikes.

Proposals for a balanced budget and for conservation of natural resources depleted by the war are expected to be key points in his program.

Bible Fund Goal Within Reaching

More donations have put the high school Bible class fund within easy reach of the minimum $2,000 goal.

The Staked Plains (Masonic) No. 598 Saturday contributed $100 to the cause. Added to $25 from the Herald, $10 from Mrs. G. S. True and $5 from Robert Hill, this brought the total to $1,917.61, exclusive of $230 paid in by churches on a sustaining fund.

Proceeds from the fund are used to finance teaching of Bible, in accordance with state department of education regulations, in the high school. Currently, the instructor is teaching classes other than Bible but by mid-term, the number desiring the instruction is expected to be such that it will go on its intended full-time basis. In the meantime, the school pays for instruction in other classes and the Bible fund only for that portion of time given to this instruction.

Reviewing The Big Spring -Week-

Joe Pickle

Shorn of vague phrases, the truth of the matter is that the Community Victory Chest campaign is off to a slow start. Somehow the initial punch didn't develop. Monday workers take to the field on the community solicitation and we hope that they meet with much better response, particularly on the part of workers. So when they call, make a generous donation. May we suggest a minimum of one day's pay?

Reservations should be made now for the men's dinner honoring W. G. Vollmer, president of the Texas & Pacific Railway company, here Oct. 23. The T. & P. has been an important part of this city since its inception and this is the first time that we can remember that Big Spring has had the honor of giving a dinner for the head of that concern.

The high school Bible class fund is getting mighty close to its minimum goal of $2,000. As of Saturday night the amount stood at $1,917.61, exclusive of $230 paid in to date by churches toward a sustaining fund. A few more checks in our Monday mail would put it over.

Poll taxes are now payable. Of course you can put off getting it until January—and then maybe

Scientists Urge Sharing Of Bomb

LOS ALAMOS, N. M., Oct. 13 (AP)—Foreseeing atomic bombs "thousands of times more powerful" than those dropped on Japan, 400 scientists who developed the weapon at the government's laboratory asserted in a statement today that to try to keep it from the rest of the world "will lead to an unending war more savage than the last."

Released by Dr. Robert R. Wilson, member of the executive council, on behalf of the Association of Los Alamos Scientists, the statement said:

It is certain that nations other than the United States, Great Britain and Canada by research alone can produce atomic power. This nation's highly concentrated industrial centers make it particularly vulnerable to such a weapon.

Counter-measures would be "extremely difficult and uncertain" because of the "concentrated form of destructive energy" and "the large number of possible methods of delivery."

Advantage would lie with the aggressor. "A single heavy attack, lasting a matter of minutes, might destroy the ability of a nation to defend itself further."

The bomb is "a deadly challenge to civilization itself."

"The use of atomic energy must be controlled by a world authority."

The statement disapproved suggestions that the United States, Britain and Canada assume unilateral control over atomic power development.

"Such a policy will lead to an unending war more savage than the last," the scientists said.

"It is certain that other countries before many years may also be manufacturing bombs—bombs which may be tens, hundreds or even thousands of times more powerful than those which caused such devastation at Hiroshima and Nagasaki."

Expressing the belief that international control is technically feasible, the scientists said "abolition of secrecy in national and international relations may be necessary," providing free access to "all laboratories, industries and military installations."

Nimitz Commissioned Admiral Of Texas Navy

FREDERICKSBURG, Oct. 13 (AP)—Fleet Admiral Nimitz of the United States Navy tonight became Admiral Nimitz of the Texas Navy as this state's parting gift to its ranking native son warrior.

Gov. Coke Stevenson presented him with the commission in a navy which is non-existent today, but which was a potent factor in Texas' first fight for freedom in the days when it was a republic.

"You are a sailor's admiral," the governor said in presenting the commission. "You have the head to plan, the heart to resolve and the hand to execute. I know you are already an admiral of the United States Navy, but Texas wants to retain what sovereignty it can."

Nimitz replied that he realized such a commission was a real honor, in view of the important role played by the pioneer navy in Texas' struggle for freedom.

He received the commission a short time after visiting his birthplace, a small stone cottage where his aunt, Mrs. Lena Henke now lives. It was the last scene of the Political Crises Rage To Add Peace Wrinkles

Jap Election May Be Violent Battle

By RUSSELL BRINES
TOKYO, Oct. 13 (AP)—With Russia reportedly taking an active hand, once-inert political factions in Japan were consolidating rapidly today for a midwinter general election battle that may become violent.

Premier Kijuro Shidehara's new cabinet meanwhile approved woman suffrage, lowered the voting age from 25 to 20, dismissed 4,800 "thought police" and abolished the 13-year-old law under which some 60,000 political offenders had been arrested.

Revision of uneasy Nippon's constitution was begun, and friends of Prince Fumimaro Konoye, newly-named imperial adviser, reported that Emperor Hirohito was "seriously considering" abdication. They said, however, that Konoye was aiming suggested constitutional revisions at strengthening the diet without altering the traditional position of the throne.

In the elections, entrenched officeholders and their backers will be opposing a variety of political opponents who in turn are opposing each other, and the balloting is expected to afford a cross-section of public opinion rather than effect any real influx of new diet members.

Attitude of the communists—supported, say American and Japanese officials, through the Soviet embassy—remains the biggest current question mark.

Yoshio Shiga, liberated communist who had been imprisoned since 1928 for his left-wing beliefs, is advocating "establishment of democracy in the American way," the Domei agency reported.

Newspapers predicted that a revised constitution would be ready for submission to a special diet session in December, but first reports gave no evidence of any voluntary movement among the Japanese leaders for completely overhauling the document.

Newspapers said that Konoye's first draft altered principally the provisions making the emperor supreme commander of the now-disbanding army and navy, and giving him treaty-making power which Konoye would transfer to the diet.

Greyhound, Unionists In Deadlocked Strike

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 13 (AP)—Pacific Greyhound and spokesmen of its 2,700 AFL employees today accused each other of bad faith in deadlocked negotiations attempting to end a nine-day strike which has crippled the service in seven western states.

Although both sides indicated disclosed the disputants were near agreement on wage scales for drivers of commuter buses and station attendants, but deadlocked on the pay for main line drivers.

Long distance drivers have asked for as much as 12 1-2 per cent increases on the basis of mileage pay.

Palestine Quiet As Propaganda Spreads

JERUSALEM, Oct. 13 (AP)—Palestine was outwardly quiet tonight and British military headquarters announced that no disturbances had been reported in the last 24 hours.

There were signs, however, of intensified propaganda activities by both Jewish and Arab factions.

Texas PTA To Meet

AUSTIN, Oct. 13 (AP)—From state headquarters today the call went out for the 37th annual convention of the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers in San Antonio Nov. 14 and 15.

For Nimitz, master of ocean warfare that helped win the Japs to their knees and finally to their faces, it was a simple howdy ride back to the homefolks of his boyhood.

Working cowboys in their dusty boots and duckies and some duded out in flaming silk shirts, big-eyed youngsters in blue jeans, teen agers with autograph books, small town business men, high home-state officials and navy big shots laden with braid and ribbons, turned out here and at Kerrville by the tens of thousands to welcome Nimitz home.

Nimitz himself apparently forgot his own braid and ribbons. Right there in front of all the people, he came down once from the grandstand to greet a cousin, Miss Edna Henke, and to shake the hand of Miss Susan Moore who taught him mathematics in high school.

Forty-two years late, he was formally graduated from Tivy High of Kerrville when the principal of his preparatory school days handed him a blue and gold embossed diploma fashioned from the hide of a Kerr county sheep.

French Kill 100 Annamese, Japs West Of Saigon

By CHARLES A. GRUMICH
Saigon, Indo-China, Oct. 13 (AP)

French troops have killed 100 Annamese and two of their Japanese leaders in a push west of Saigon against rebellious nationalists, it was announced today, while the British disclosed the Annamese had been warned to halt "interference" with British forces.

The French began "very difficult operations" at dawn Friday to broaden their hold west of Saigon, and eight French soldiers were killed and 15 wounded in an assault on a nationalist stronghold. British 25-pounders supported the attack.

Eight hundred Annamese were captured, and will face court martial.

Maj. Gen. D. D. Gracey, head of the control commission in Vietnam, warned leaders of the Viet Nam (Indo-Chinese independence party) at a meeting Monday that any Annamese action against British troops carrying out their occupation assignments would be dealt with firmly, it was disclosed.

A truce between the Annamese and French, seeking to reoccupy the colony, was pledged in Saigon Oct. 2.

Despite the truce, armed bands of Annamese attacked British forces, Gracey said. A British officer, an Indian officer, and two Indian soldiers were killed when Annamese attacked an airfield Wednesday night.

The British moved into the southern half of French Indo-China to accept the Japanese surrender, to disarm the Japanese, and to recover Allied prisoners of war.

Tax Collections Behind Last Year

Tax collections made by the county tax collector's office are running slightly behind last year's figures, a recent check revealed.

Total payments of state, county and common school assessments as of Saturday amounted to a figure approximating $26,000.

The three percent discount proffered persons meeting their tax obligations will not be in effect after Nov. 1.

Poll tax receipts for the year amounted to 322 as the week closed out. The bulk of the poll tax payments is expected to be made through late December and January. The figure is expected to approach 5,000 before the deadline, Jan. 1, 1946.

Navy Bears Brunt Of Okinawa Storm

FAIRFIELD, CALIF., Oct. 13 (AP)—Eighth Air Force and Navy installations on Okinawa were demolished and five ships were beached by the typhoon which struck that island Wednesday, an eyewitness declared on arrival at this army airfield today.

T-Sgt. Harry J. Phillips of Chicago, made a photographic reconnaissance flight over Okinawa.

"Installations of the Eighth Air Force were completely devastated. At Yontan and Naha airfields the hangars, tents and buildings were downed," Phillips said.

"It was a miracle that only slight damage was caused to heavy bombers and transport planes based on the island. Just a few small cub planes were demolished."

"The navy suffered the brunt of the storm. Five ships anchored in Naha bay were beached. Quonset huts were demolished and a navy air transport operations building was left a shambles. Communications lines throughout the island were also torn down," he said.

"The first warning we received of the approaching storm came when ships anchored in the bay headed out to sea two days before the typhoon struck. Navy officials decided to have their ships try and ride the storm instead of being wrecked on the beaches."

FRANKFURT, Germany, Oct. 13 (AP)—Gen. of the Army Dwight D. Eisenhower will be 35 tomorrow. He hopes to attend a football game between the two undefeated army teams—the 508th Parachute and U.S. Headquarters.

Farrell Forms New Argentine Cabinet

BUENOS AIRES, Oct. 13 (AP) — President Edelmiro Farrell, seeking to form a cabinet to weather Argentina's stormy political crisis, today swore in Vice Admiral Hector Vernengo Lima as navy minister.

He also named Dr. Juan Fantanas as acting secretary of labor and social welfare, one of the posts vacated by Col. Juan Peron, vice president, who was under arrest on a warship.

Other important posts, including the foreign ministry, still were vacant but Farrell said he was holding over Gen. Eduardo Avalos as minister of war, Comodoro Edmundo Sustaia as secretary of industry and commerce.

It was still not clear whether Farrell would survive the crisis after the cabinet resigned yesterday, the army announced it had the resignation of the president "for us at any moment."

During the day the government commission for reorganizing political parties also resigned.

The main problem in the crisis is an impasse between political leaders and the army. The political leaders insist that the country's administration be turned over to the supreme court, and the army wants to retain power until after the elections April 7, 1946.

No violence was reported today, following last night's bloody outbreaks in which one person was killed and 35 wounded. Mounted police, however, armed with mauler rifles, patrolled downtown streets. They normally carry rifles only in time of great emergency.

Pearl Harbor Files Opened To Congress Committee To Probe

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13 (AP)—The government's secret files on Pearl Harbor were thrown open today to a senate-house committee investigating the Pearl Harbor disaster.

Chairman Barkley (D-Ky) announced receipt of letters from the war and navy department—and oral assurance from Secretary of State Byrnes—that all information the three agencies have will be made available.

Barkley said the time needed by William D. Mitchell, committee counsel, to look over the mass of evidence and draft a plan of procedure will delay public hearings by the 10-member group until early in November.

Secretary Forrestal wrote that the navy "stands ready to render full assistance to the committee and its counsel, making available from its records all information material to the investigation."

In a letter to Forrestal asking the navy's cooperation, Barkley said:

"Now that the war is ended, we hope that reasons of national security should not require that any information material to the investigation be withheld from the committee or their counsel and the committee will be free to use any pertinent evidence."

"The committee proposes to hold public hearings and all evidence material to our inquiry will thus be made public," Barkley concluded.

In his reply, Forrestal did not renew his plea for secrecy on the unpublished portion of the inquiry board's report.

D. C. Riley Fatally Hurt In Car Wreck

D. C. Riley, 75, father of three Big Spring people, was killed in a car mishap in Austin Saturday.

He was visiting in Austin at the time. The body will be brought back to Lubbock, his home, for interment. Arrangements are pending.

Three children, D. S. (Schley) Riley, Mrs. J. B. Collins and Mrs. Sam Smith, reside in Big Spring. Mrs. L. V. Yates and Mrs. Faye Priece, daughters, reside in Fort Worth and Lubbock, respectively.

"Guest Wife" Visits Ritz Over Weekend

In "Guest Wife" which opens today at the Ritz theatre, all the elements for a zany comedy are neatly rolled together—and what comes out is one of the season's brightest, more sophisticated farces.

Such expert hands as Claudette Colbert and Don Ameche, ably abetted by Dick Foran and such sterling performers as Charles Dingle, Grant Mitchell, Wilma Francis and Chester Clute, really must have enjoyed making this picture. They seem to get the most out of the hilariously amusing situations which the screenplay provides.

Chris Price (Dick Foran) and his adoring wife, Mary (Claudette Colbert), are about to depart for New York on a belated honeymoon. Their gay plans, however, are disturbed by the unexpected arrival of Joe Parker (Don Ameche), Chris' best friend, college chum and globe-trotting reporter, who is en route to New York from the Orient. In the last-minute confusion, Chris misses the train. Next, Mary finds herself in New York with Joe . . . and is mistaken for his wife.

To save Joe from possible disaster, Mary continues the deception. This hoax—known as a "kibble"—dangerously gathers momentum. A "kibble," incidentally, is a story you tell someone and then get a third person to confirm. Chris, unfortunately, is detained in Keetooson, and Mary, left to her own devices, finds herself an unwilling participant in one compromising situation after another.

Precious days go by and the belated honeymooners haven't even seen each other. When Chris finally arrives, Mary takes matters in her own hand and professes a mad infatuation for Joe. That's her "kibble" and the objective is to break up the "beautiful" friendship that has already clouded two honeymoon attempts.

Chris nibbles at the bait and in the grand finale, Mary is on the sidelines watching her master plan unfold—and what merry, madcap situations evolve.

JUST PRETENDING—Don Ameche and Claudette Colbert make a pretense of being happily married to have Don's job in their latest hilarious comedy, "Guest Wife," opening at the Ritz today for a two day engagement.

Lovely Stars Don Khaki For State Attraction

Three lovely stars don khaki for this full scale screen treatment of the Women's Army Corps. "Keep Your Powder Dry," playing at the New State theatre today and tomorrow.

Heading the list is Lana Turner, looking quite as attractive as ever and doing a bit more acting than usual. Matching her step for step are Laraine Day and Susan Peters and a company of trim WACs whose appearance should dispel any lingering doubts about the uniform. Their importance to a nation at war, however, is not made clear in the film.

The story broadly traces the careers of civilians from varying backgrounds through basic training to their final acceptance as officers. But it is more particularly a story of rivalry between two girls, a cruel and petty battling for superiority which is resolved only when they discover that the Corps is greater than either of them.

The opposition of these two themes—for the girls are certainly not meant to be representative of the thousands of women who have joined the Army—considerably lessens the dramatic impact of the film, while the familiarity of the larger framework robs it of suspense.

On the credit side are competent performances, some bright lines of dialogue, occasional humorous incidents and a touching sequence which illustrates the tragic import of the war. Laraine Day as the colonel's daughter who represents the spoiled heiress for personal as well as military reasons is especially good. Miss Turner, as her rival, and Miss Peters, the constant peacemaker, give effective if not always believable characterizations. Among the support-

City Sanitarian Reemphasizes Facts Brought To Light In Lions' Survey

Following completion of the Lions Club sanitary survey made recently in Big Spring, many interesting facts have been brought to light which might be of interest to local citizens. Lawrence Wells, city sanitarian, says.

The survey was conducted by teams of Lions in the hope of obtaining information that would make each person realize his failing in regard to civic responsibilities. It is the duty of every person to see to it that personal faults around the home are destroyed by means of home planning and organization, said Wells.

Many of the items gathered by the Lions are seemingly minor problems of each household, but when they are taken together as an aggregate whole, they represent a serious problem for the community, the sanitarian declared. He said, "if we are negligent in our duties again, the epidemics of poliomyelitis and typhus that touched us during this past summer may not be so easily controlled."

There were many instances where it was discovered that people failed to comply with the city in the correct disposal of garbage. Wells believes that this particular problem could have been the beginning of the polio cases witnessed this year, not to speak of the feeding ground for rats and mice that infest any area.

He suggests that each person:

- 1) keep a tight fitting cover on garbage containers at all times;
- 2) do not overcrowd the container;
- 3) be sure that all garbage is placed in the can after the liquid waste has been drained and the solids are wrapped in paper;
- 4) keep the area sprinkled with lime and clean at all times;
- 5) keep cans washed clean to prevent flies and odors;
- 6) do not burn matter in trash or garbage can;
- 7) use containers for their original purpose, not for rocks, iron scraps or other types of waste matter;
- 8) inform the neighbors as to the correct methods of container use.

P-TA Membership Week Proclaimed

Local Parent-Teacher Association organizations will observe Texas Parent-Teachers Membership week with efforts to expand their individual organizations.

Not all of them will launch the campaign this week since some do not hold their regular session until next week, but Mrs. J. E. Brigham, council president, said the effort would be city-wide.

Mayor R.L. Cook has followed the lead of Governor Coke Stevenson in proclaiming it as a special week, pointing to the fact that Oct. 19 is the anniversary of the founding of the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers in 1909.

"I urge all parents to aid and support the efforts of this constructive and forward-looking organization in coordinating the activities of the home and school to the end that we better train our children toward their responsibilities of service in citizenship," said the mayor's proclamation.

Parent-Teacher activities in Big Spring have shown a steady growth for several years, but Mrs. Brigham said the goal was to enlist more and more of the parents to strengthen interest at home in school activities for their children.

Cap Rock Electric Making Extensions

STANTON, Oct. 13—Extensions, both by contract and by regular crews, are being effected on the Caprock Electric Cooperative.

O. B. Bryan, superintendent, said that Eugene Ash, contractor for three projects totaling approximately 90 miles, would start stringing wire this week on the Elbow-Cauble loop in southwest Howard County. Poles are up on this stretch. Bryan estimated the sections would be energized in two to three weeks.

Ash also will install approximately five miles of additional line in the Moore community, some 40 miles, in the section east of Stanton on the Big Spring highway, and then complete his contract with the addition of 25 miles of line in the Vealmoor community. Already being planned are 1-100 additional miles of lines to cover the rural areas of Martin, Midland, Howard and parts of contiguous counties.

Currently Cap Rock has 1,050

consumers, about three times the original number, on 475 miles of line. Bryan envisioned an additional 1,700 members by the time all planned work is realized.

Block Chairmen To Breakfast At Crawford Shop

An inspirational and informational breakfast is scheduled for city block chairmen of the Howard County Victory Chest at 8 a. m. Monday in the Crawford Coffee Shop.

The breakfast was to be held at the Settles hotel and was changed to the Crawford because of remodeling. Material on the Victory Chest is to be distributed and workers are going to attempt to wind up the drive as soon as possible on the quota of $29,780.

Special gifts workers have turned in only little better than the first $1,000. G. H. Hayward, chairman of this portion of the campaign, said Saturday. He urges workers to make their contacts early this week and to report as soon as possible.

"Much of the success of the drive will depend upon the effort of this committee," he declared. "If our contacts can be made quickly, we can get the campaign moving in full force."

Following the breakfast, a session is to be held in the ballroom with Rev. Dick O'Brien as the main speaker. R. R. McEwen, chairman of the drive, and Bill Dawes, chairman of business district canvass, will be present.

City block chairman to attend include Glenn Bennet, Boone Horn, Dick Bird, Sam Goldman, Cliff Wylie, Perry Johnson, Eddie Polacek, Stanley Wheeler, James Swofford, Elmer Boatler, Roy Reeder, E. O. State Officials To Poison City Rats

In connection with the permanent typhus control program set up here in the business section, plans are to begin rat poisoning this week under the direction of James H. Harris, C. S. Renfro and J. S. Burwell, all of the State Health Department and Public Health Service.

The men, who are working under the sponsorship of the City of Big Spring, have already checked over the city where dusting with DDT wasn't completed. They have also trapped rats for research experiments.

Renfro said the county program is being delayed until the Commissioners Court gives the go signal on the typhus control plan.

The new program is operated on much the same plan as that of

Interpreting The News— CHINA'S CAPITAL MAY MOVE— POLITICIANS ASKING WHERE?

By JAMES D. WHITE, Associated Press Staff Writer
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 13 (AP)—There's a rumor going around in Shanghai that China is about to move her capital back to Peiping, in the dusty north, from Nanking in the hot and humid south.

That would be something like the temporary plan used earlier in the fall. The health officials stated that four out of every dozen rats from Big Spring tested in state laboratories showed positive infection. In such a case, if as much as five per cent infection shows up an immediate program is set up.

moving the capital of the United States—if it were at Mobile, Ala.—to its present site at Washington, D. C.

Climate would be involved, but so also would be politics and the future.

The same report was current in this country a couple of years ago. It came from sources close to Chiang Kai-shek, who at that time was said to be convinced that it would be a good thing to have a capital close to Manchuria.

After the Japanese surrender this September, General Ho Ying-chin, the southerner who is Chiang Kai-shek's chief of staff, announced that China's government would return to Nanking from Chungking, its wartime refuge, by the end of this year.

Now Shanghai rumor revives the hardy report to the contrary, that the capital is going back to the north. If it does, it will be because of high reasons of economic and political policy.

Nearly all of China's industry is in Manchuria and most of her strategic minerals, including iron and coal, are either there or in North China.

Chinese communism is strongest in the north, and if the government were to move back there it would be a bold reassertion of authority.

Chinese banking influence centering in Shanghai was strong in nearby Nanking. In Peiping that influence, as well as that of British, American and French commercial interests, would likely be reduced.

Possibly most important, return-

Catholics In Ireland Mourn Bishop's Death

ARMAGH, Northern Ireland, Oct. 13 (AP)—Catholics throughout Ulster and Eire tonight mourned the death of Joseph Cardinal Macrory, archbishop of Armagh and primate of all Ireland, who died at his home here today.

The 84-year-old primate had been ill only four hours.

Prime Minister Eamon de Valera will cross the border from Eire into northern Ireland for the first time in 17 years to attend the cardinal's funeral, scheduled for Wednesday.

ing to Peiping the Chinese government would be moving diplomatically as well as geographically closer to Soviet Russia.

Through treaties, Russia obtains an important partnership in Manchuria which is to last 30 years.

If China and Russia are to get along, they will work out their problems there, in the north.

Physically, Nanking and Peiping each have had and good qualifications as capital sites. Nanking is very hot in the summer, Peiping very cold but invigorating in the winter. Nanking has some new buildings, Peiping has a lot of old ones. Both are communications hubs, with little war damage.

Republicans Favor World Free Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13 (AP)—The house republican leadership threw its support today behind a "world free press" drive.

Rep. Joseph W. Martin, Jr., of Massachusetts, leader of the 189 republicans in the house, called a meeting of the party's steering committee for next week and predicted it will approve unanimously a proposal to prohibit use of American relief funds in foreign nations not permitting press freedom.

Specifically, Martin said in an interview, the committee will consider an amendment to pending legislation appropriating an additional $550,000,000 for activities of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration.

The amendment was drafted by Rep. Clarence Brown (R-Ohio), who said it complies with a policy declaration of the American Society of Newspaper Editors issued last November.

Support for Brown's amendment came also from members of the house appropriations committee which now is hearing testimony on the additional UNRRA funds.

Frozen Lockers Added At Cap Rock Plant

STANTON, Oct. 13—Eighty-four lockers are being added to the Cap Rock Electric Cooperative freezer locker plant here.

Part of the material is on hand, and O. B. Bryan, superintendent, said that 36 of the new boxes had been installed. The additions, when completed, will bring to 538 the total of boxes in the plant.

Volume of processing is averaging about six to eight head of livestock daily, not to mention considerable processing of poultry and other food supplies.

Representatives To Attend Conference

Efforts are being made to have several representatives from Big Spring attend the seventh annual Texas Personnel Conference at the University of Texas in Austin on Oct. 26-27, according to E. J. Berry, area director of the U. S. Employment Service.

Berry said that schedule for be one of the biggest and most beneficial in years.

Among those to be on the program are Dan T. Pierce, assistant to the president of Sinclair Refining Co., P. D. Lewis of E. I. Du Pont Nemours & Co., M. J. Norrel of Magnolia Petroleum Co., James H. Bond, regional director of the USES, O. A. Knight, president of International Oil Workers Union, Gen. J. Watt Paige of selective service, Vernon K. Banta of the Washington office of Veterans Employment Service, and Thomas Mobley of Hughes Tool Co.

Berry urged early hotel reservations since Austin may be crowded on those dates due to the Texas-Rice game.

American Soldiers May Be More Law Abiding Returned To Civvies

By WES GALLAGHER
(Substitute for Kenneth Dixon)
FRANKFURT, Germany, Oct. 13 (AP)—American soldiers returning to civilian life will be just as law-abiding and, in many cases, more so, than before they joined the army, declared Brig. Gen. E. C. Betts, judge advocate general in the European theater. He ridiculed "ill founded" reports that returning combat troops formed a possible crime potential.

During the last two years, Betts, a professional army officer and close student of soldiers' reactions in this war and the last, headed the judge advocate general's department, which checked behavior of some 4,000,000 troops.

"Isolated incidents which received wide publicity have given the wrong impression," Betts said. "As a matter of fact the crime rate of these 4,000,000 troops, despite unnatural conditions, has been so low that any city in America would be proud to boast a similar record."

"We had two peaks in crime—one after D-day and one after crossing the Rhine," Betts explained.

"In the first case the soldiers had been mentally geared for months to expect death on the landing beaches. Their nerves were near the snapping point. Then the attack came and some weeks later they found themselves deep in France. They had a normal let-down and relaxed.

"That relaxation was rough. This period ended as they became accustomed to their surroundings and became familiar with local inhabitants.

"Another period of tension built up as we crossed the rivers leading to the Rhine. Soldiers expected each river crossing to be their last.

"Then came the Rhine—the last river—and when it was over the soldiers looked around, found they were still alive and once again in an unknown enemy country. So, they relaxed—with another crime peak resulting.

"Now what happens when a soldier goes home and is discharged. He goes back to the community where he is known by everyone, and society fits him back into the framework of his life through friends, church, college and a thousand other influences. All the factors which induced crime abroad are gone. In fact, the reverse is true.

Workers End Strike In Permian Fields

ODESSA, Oct. 13 (AP)—Workers in parts of the huge Permian field in West Texas went back to work today, thus ending the week-long strike of drilling department members of the Oil Workers International Union (CIO).

A telegram from Dr. Edwin A. Elliott, regional director of the National Labor Relations Board, was sent to C. Massengale, director of the oil workers organizing campaign, requesting a hearing between the union and the NLRB.

Massengale asked the drillers to return to work upon receiving Dr. Elliott's request. Elliott said in his wire, "x x x the petition for representation for drilling department employes of the Oil Workers International Union x x x had been investigated by this office and reported in full to our Washington office, with the recommendation that we proceed to a hearing on this matter."

Hutto Services Set For 2 P. M.

Last rites will be said at 2 p. m. today at the Eberley-Curry chapel for Louie Hutto, 69, Howard county rancher since 1906.

Mr. Hutto died Friday from injuries received when struck by an automobile at Coahoma as he attempted to shield his granddaughter.

The Rev. C. P. Owen, Pittsburg, Texas, will officiate at the chapel, and the Masonic lodge will be in charge of graveside services in the Masonic cemetery, where Mr. Hutto's wife is buried. Masons were instructed to meet at the temple at 1:30 p. m.

Survivors include his daughter, Mrs. Marion Barber; a granddaughter, Frances Barber; his son-in-law, Cpl. William Thomas Barber, who is in Nagasaki, Japan. H. W. Langfor, Ft. Worth, a sister, arrived Saturday, but it was not known if his brothers, Bill Hutto, San Gabriel, Calif., and Ernest Hutto, Jacksonville, would be able to be here. A close friend, E. L. Martin, Oklahoma City, was to be here for the rites, and a nephew, Capt. Thomas Louie Hutto, who has just returned from overseas, may arrive in time.

Mr. Hutto operated the same ranch south of Coahoma since 1906. He was a charter member of the Coahoma Masonic lodge but his membership currently is Big Spring lodge. Intensely interested in his fraternal work, he was a Knight Templar, a charter member of the Hella Shrine temple in Dallas, although his membership is now at Fort Worth, and was a member of the Eastern Star.

Pallbearers will be Bill Inkman, A. W. Thompson, W. E. Carnrike, Dr. E. H. Happell, T. S. Currie and Robert Currie.

Bank Vice-President Dies In New Mexico

CLOVIS, N. M., Oct. 13 (AP)—James Hartley Hutt, vice-president of the Clovis National bank, died last night at a Clovis hospital.

Hutt, 34, had been ill for the past six weeks. He came here in August from Denison, Tex., where he had been vice-president of the State National bank there.

He had previously been associated with the Whitesboro, Tex., National bank, the Grayson County State bank of Sherman, Tex., the National Insurance Corp., of El Paso, Tex., and had served as a national bank examiner with headquarters at Amarillo.

Survivors include his wife and an infant daughter.

Funeral services are planned at Sherman tomorrow afternoon.

Subsac Resignation Criticized By Tito

LONDON, Oct. 13 (AP)—Dr. Ivan Subsac, former Yugoslav foreign minister, was accused by Marshal Tito today of resigning in order to provide a "motive for foreign intervention" in Yugoslavia before the election scheduled for Nov. 11.

In a letter to Subsac, quoted by the Belgrade radio, Tito denied a charge by Subsac that the marshal's agreement with him for a coalition regime was not being carried out.

British official circles said Subsac's declaration about Tito's failure to carry out his agreement and the undemocratic flavor of the election plans was well founded, but that there was no British intention to intervene.

Pacific Nisei Units Risk Tortures For Allied Cause

By DUANE HENNESSY
TOKYO, Oct. 13 (AP)—A highly secret U. S. army unit made up principally of Japanese-Americans operated so skillfully on Pacific battlefields that often it knew the telephone numbers of Japanese billets.

Existence of the organization was disclosed this week by Allied headquarters.

Every document seized in combat by the unit's operatives, from periodicals and diaries to maps and carbon paper, was studied carefully by the Allied translator and interpreter section—ATIS.

ATIS knew not only the location of many Japanese units, but also their officers by name and experience, and the rosters of the companies down to the lowest private.

Captured documents sometimes proved their value within 20 minutes after seizure, when American troops were sent against the new enemy installations they disclosed.

Among the Nisei in the ATIS were some taken off Corregidor before the fall of that island fortress. Many have been decorated for outstanding service.

"No group in the war had so much to lose," said the ATIS commander, Col. Sidney F. Mashbir of Washington, D. C. "Capture would have meant indescribable horror to them and their relatives in Japan."

Fires Burn $140,000 Yearly In City, But Not All Up In Smoke

Fires in Big Spring are costing better than $140,000 yearly.

Not all this goes up in smoke, but since there are fires, premiums must be paid as well as a fire department kept up to date.

Fire department expenses and fire insurance premiums for 1944 totaled approximately $142,125 for the city of Big Spring. No record is kept on uninsured losses which would add to the final total by at least several hundred dollars, fire department officials say.

The fire department expense costs, including salaries and everything used in the unit for the fiscal year April 1, 1944 until April 1, 1945, was $28,125. Approximately $114,000 was spent on fire insurance premiums here.

A 15 per cent penalty on fire insurance premiums was dissolved for 1945 and five per cent credit is allowed for the city this year, said F. W. Bettie, fire marshal. A net 20 per cent reduction resulted for 1945.

Eloise Haley Home From Overseas Duty

Eloise Haley, Red Cross director, arrived in Big Spring Thursday after returning to the States following 20 months service in Italy with the Red Cross. She has been based in Sicily and Naples and Bari, Italy.

Miss Haley will spend the most part of a 40-day leave visiting her sister, Mrs. R. V. Hart, and Bernice Haley of Kermit. She is to report back to Washington, D. C.

The Red Cross director was formerly camp hostess at the Big Spring Bombardier school. Before that she was a high school teacher here.

HD Council Plans Fair

Arrangements for the Howard County Fair to be held Nov. 1, 2, and 3 were made at the meeting of the Home Demonstration Club Council Saturday afternoon in the office of the county agent.

It was announced that the decision had been made whereby anybody, whether a member of an HD club or not, may enter handwork, but only HD members will be awarded prizes. It was announced further that the food exhibits will be open to anyone, and prizes will be awarded regardless of whether to an HD club member or not.

A new phase of the fair will inaugurate a poultry section for the first time, this year. All exhibits must be in the booths by 6 p. m. on Nov. 1, in order that judging may begin the morning of Nov. 2.

An announcement was made at the meeting that on Tuesday, Oct. 16 a meeting will be held at the First Methodist church for sessions on family life. The all day meeting will begin at 10 a. m., and specialists will be available for demonstrations.

An achievement tour was planned for Nov. 15, at Saturday's business meeting, and the Christmas party committee was named to include Mrs. O. Y. Miller, Mrs. Shirley Fryar, Mrs. Johnny Phillips and Mrs. J. D. Leonard.

Present were Luther, Mrs. Edward Simpson, Mrs. Akin Simpson, Mrs. Lesley Bryson; Fairview, Mrs. W. H. Ward, Mrs. Miller; R-Bar, W. F. Heckler, Mrs. Earl Hull; Overton, Pearl Caudle, Mrs. E. T. Overton; Forsan, J. M. Craig; Knott, Mrs. Joe Myers, Mrs. O. R. Smith, Mrs. Hershell Smith; Coahoma, Mrs. Ray Swann; Hiway, Mrs. Shirley Fryar, Mrs. J. E. Brown, and Miss Margaret Christie, HD agent.

The Statue of Liberty cost the French people who presented it to America $450,000; the American people paid $350,000 for the pedestal.

Twenty-four amino acids are known.

Graham - McAlister Marriage Solemnized In Formal Ceremony At Baptist Church

DeAlva McAlister, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. H. McAlister, exchanged vows with Sgt. Paul Graham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Graham of San Angelo, Tuesday evening in a formal ceremony at the First Baptist church.

The double ring ceremony was read by Rev. P. D. O'Brien before an altar banked with fern, palms, and baskets of white gladioli and daisies and plumosus.

Preliminary music was played by Mrs. J. P. Kenney, organist, and included "To An Evening Star," "Intermezzo," Schubert's "Serenade," "Indian Love Call" and Tschakowsky's B Flat Concerto. Mrs. Kirby Parsons, soprano, sang "My Heart Ever Faithful" by Bach, and "Exquisite Hour" by Renaldo Hahn. The choir, robed in white vestments, sang "O Perfect Love" and "The Bridal Chorus."

The choir was directed by Mrs. Bruce Frazier, and its members included Helon Blount, Mrs. Ernest Hock, Mabel Smith, Mrs. R. D. Ulrey, Mrs. Mariette McDonald, Mrs. H. G. Keaton, Vernon Logan, Ernest Hock, F. H. Talbot, Felton Underwood, H. G. Keaton and Bernard Lamun.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white slipper satin, designed with long sleeves, fitted to petal points over the hand. Its sweetheart neckline was embroidered with seed pearls in a floral pattern. The bodice had a long torso effect with shirring at each side of princess panels. The full skirt extended into a train.

The two-tiered finger-tip veil of bridal illusion was caught to a tiara of seed pearls. In carrying out the bridal tradition, for something old the bride wore a lavalliere of green gold set with a diamond enclosed in its center and a pearl tear drop, belonging to her aunt, Mrs. George Rice. Something borrowed was a lace handkerchief from Brussels, Belgium, belonging to Miss Lillian Shick. The bridal bouquet was formed of a white orchid surrounded by garlands of stephanotis placed on a white prayer book, and showered with white ribbons.

Mrs. A. L. McAlister acted as matron of honor, and Nell Rhea McCrary was maid of honor. Both wore bouffant frocks of camellia pink net with snug basque bodices of satin, with shirred bands and tiny short sleeves to form an off the shoulder effect. They wore matching feather tips in their hair. They carried powder puff wrist bouquets of white gladioli with blue centers, backed on illusion. Bridesmaids were Morine Trigg, Mrs. G. H. Clark, Mrs. Dale Puckett and Mrs. Eddie McElhannon. Their gowns were identical to that of the honor attendants, except that they were of blue net, and their headresses were of blue feathers. They carried wrist bouquets of white gladioli with pink centers. All of the attendants wore necklaces of pearls and gold beads, gifts of the bride.

The flower girls, Jan Tillinghast and Linda Mason, wore floor length dresses of white taffeta, and carried white baskets. The ring bearer, Hardy McAlister, nephew of the bride, wore a white satin suit, and carried the two wedding rings on a white satin cushion.

Mrs. McAlister, mother of the bride, wore a formal length gown of plum colored crepe embroidered with matching sequins with a corsage of a gardenia surrounded by pink carnations. Mrs. Graham mother of the bridegroom, wore rust colored crepe with a corsage formed of a gardenia surrounded by yellow roses.

Merle Proctor acted as best man and ushers were Bill Heflin, L. B. Conway, Frank Taylor, Leander McAllister and Joe Pickle.

Following the ceremony a wedding reception was held in the home of the bride's parents. Those in the receiving line were Mr. and Mrs. O. H. McAlister, the bride and bridegroom, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Graham. Approximately 100 guests were registered by Mrs. G. H. Clark of Abilene.

The white, decorated wedding cake was served by Mrs. J. W. McAlister of Fort Worth, and Miss Florence McAlister presided at the silver coffee service. The table was laid with a cloth of Italian cut work and was centered with an arrangement of Marconi daisies and white chrysanthemums.

The bride was graduated from Big Spring high school and attended Lindenwood College, in St. Charles, Mo. She received her degree from Hardin-Simmons University in 1943. She also studied for two summers in the Chicago School of Music. She was a member of Beta Sigma Phi.

Graham was a graduate of San Angelo high school and was attending Texas A. and M. when he entered the army. He went overseas in June, 1944, where he served in the European theater with the Ninth Airforce. He returned to the United States in September, 1945.

Following the reception the couple left for a wedding trip to Colorado Springs and Denver, Colo. For traveling Mrs. Graham chose a dressmaker suit of moss green, with which she wore brown accessories, a small brown, turban-type hat, and a five-skin kolinsky-scarf. She had an orchid corsage.

After the trip, Graham will report for further assignment. Mrs. Graham will return to Big Spring temporarily.

BTU Banquet Held At First Church

Around 130 people attended the Training Union Columbus Day banquet held Thursday evening at the First Baptist church.

The program opened with a sing song by the entire group. Attendance goals for each union were presented by Rev. P. D. O'Brien. The study course scheduled for November 4 was announced.

A stunt was given by the young people's department under the direction of Mrs. J. A. Coffey. The program was concluded by an inspirational address by Rev. Cecil Rhodes.

GRUEN

THE PRECISION WATCH

The Watch that aimed at the Stars!

Strictly speaking, precision time is the time of the stars. No watch in the world can match its perfection.

Green has tried to come as close to it as is humanly possible. In fact, Gruen is the one watch permitted to carry the trademark "Precision."

Behind this trademark lie 70 years of skill and craftsmanship... Behind it are revolutionary new departures in design like the famous patented Curve... a watch so daring, so different it is actually protected by a patent until 1959!

If you want a watch that gives you utmost in precision, along with the very latest in style, be sure to see the new Green watches. Let us show you the patented Curve or the equally famous patented Veri-Thin.

Mary Brown, Joe Fortson To Marry In R. L. Wolf Home Sunday Afternoon

In a double ring ceremony read by Rev. Cecil Rhodes, Mary Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Brown of Vincent, will become the bride of Joe E. Fortson, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Fortson of Vincent, Sunday afternoon in the home of Mrs. R. L. Wolf, aunt of the bride.

The vows will be repeated before an improvised altar of lattice covered with plumosus and white seasonal flowers, banked with palms and baskets of gladioli and chrysanthemums. The altar arrangement will be connected by white satin bows to the candelabra.

Melba Brannon of Coahoma will sing "I Love You Truly," accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Loyd Brannon. Mrs. Wylie Kinard of Colorado City will play the wedding march.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride will wear a street-length dress of white jersey, with a high neckline and fullness at the waistline, falling into a peplum. She will wear a flower hat with a shoulder length veil, and black patent accessories. The bride will carry a bouquet of two gardenias surrounded by red sweetheart roses, over a white Bible, a childhood gift from her mother.

For something old, she will wear a diamond ring belonging to her aunt, Mrs. Wolf. Something borrowed is a locket of seed pearls, belonging to Mrs. Jesse Jones, which she had worn in her wedding. For something blue she will wear a ribbon in her shoe.

At the reception following the ceremony the three-tiered wedding cake, topped with miniature bridal figures, will be cut by the bridal couple. The refreshment table is to be laid with a handmade lace cloth over olive. Mrs. Wylie Kinard will serve the wedding cake and Mrs. W. E. Mann will preside at the punch bowl.

Miss Mildred Fortson will be at the guest registry. Approximately 75 guests will attend the wedding and the reception.

The couple will leave shortly after the reception for San Antonio and other points in South Texas. On their return they will be at home in the Midway community.

The bride is a graduate of Big Spring high school and attended Texas Technological college. She is a teacher in the Midway school. Fortson is a graduate of Melvin high school. He entered the army in September, 1940, and went overseas in November, 1943, serving in the Pacific theater in Australia, New Guinea, Biala, the Philippines and Okinawa, serving as a technical sergeant in the 21st air service group. He received his discharge on Oct. 10.

G. J. Couches Have Flow Of Visitors During Fall Season

A flow of guests to the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Couch began on Sept. 30 when their son-in-law, John F. Brasher arrived home with his discharge from the army. On October 2 John T. Couch returned from overseas service. He was in the army for more than four years, 17 months of which he spent overseas.

Mr. and Mrs. Linzy Coleman of Clovis, N. M., arrived on October 6, as did Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Scott and Wesley and Mary Lee of Sweetwater, and Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Couch and children, Vera Mae, Roberta and Cecil of Lubbock. On October 7, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Couch and Wareda of Merkel, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Couch, Evelyn, Bennetta, Truett and Nina of Abilene, and John L. Ross of Abilene, arrived.

Ethel Dean of Abilene and Lennie Phipp of Luther came on Sunday.

Riley D. Whetsel, F 1/C, who is serving with the merchant marine, has returned to New York after visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Whetsel in the Aragon Oil company lease. He had just returned from Strasburg, France. Mr. and Mrs. Whetsel have learned that another son, M/Sgt. Lee D. Whetsel, is now stationed in the Philippines.

The turnip probably originated in Europe or western Asia.

TEEN TALK

Dear Judy,

Well, I got some loot and it took me completely by surprise. My mother tripped into the house the other day hauling a big package which turned out to be laminated skis. You know the kind the Army used. They were painted white, but I didn't like 'em that way so Jim came over and used some paint remover on them. After that we sandpapered them and coated them with shellac. The natural wood turned out to be super solid. He painted my initials on them in red.

Helen told me that she often practiced her ski turns in the house before the season started. So I decided to do the same.

So... I made a wonderful ski hill just like she said... with the car cushions under the rug. Then I sprinkled borax over the rug for added support. My mother screamed "Egad!" when she came home and saw it. She said the steel edges would ruin the rug nap... Oh, Brother... I guess I was saved from a fate worse than death.

By the bye, you really would have howled if you had been here this week and seen the high school students parading in sympathy for athletics coaches. It seems a rumor spread that athletes might be dropped because the coaches were dissatisfied. I think the kids are acting gooney, don't you?

Carolyn Jones of Denver writes that when her family moved, all her records were broken. So the kids got together and held a platter party for her. All the heps supplied one wax apiece and she now has a good start with 24 platters to her credit.

My sister has been literally buried in a book called "Green Peace," by Marjorie Wilson. She can't put it down even for a minute, so that's why I got stuck with the chores and couldn't write to Andy.

Heard from Corinne. Did you know that she is now at Smith College—and she's crazy about it. She says that Smith has dropped its accelerated plan. Guess most of colleges are back to normal now.

Did I tell you Corinne collected coins from all her beau boys who have been abroad? She made a wonderful bracelet by having the Egyptian, French, English, Canadian, Russian and other coins bored with holes and attached to her bracelet.

Scatter Chatter: Lily Pons and Andre Kostelanetz are writing a war diary... Jack Smith, who sings like a dream (especially "June Is Bustin' Out All Over"), has gone back to teaching veterans about aircraft instruments. He does it in his spare time. D'ya know his fans don't want to be known as the bobby soxers and call themselves the "silk stocking kids!"

Anderson Stresses Need Of Enough To Eat For All People

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13 (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Anderson said tonight that a new international food agency faces "one great, towering fact"—two out of every three people in the world won't get enough to eat.

Another fighting war — with atomic bombs — would ruin civilization, he said. "And that means," he added, "we must not permit the pangs of hunger to bring about those basic fears and greeds which result in war."

It is a scientific fact, Anderson said, that the world can produce enough food and fiber for everybody. But there must be a general rise in living standards, he said, so that all peoples can buy and sell in the world market and make enough money to get the food they need.

Big, Little Inch Profits Totaled

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13 (AP)—The "Big Inch" and "Little Inch" pipelines, built by the government at a cost of $142,000,000 had a gross profit of $135,000,000 on their operations up to last June 30, two senate committees reported today.

The figures were in a joint report of the special committee investigating petroleum resources and the surplus property military sub-committee. Both groups are headed by Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo).

The Reconstruction Finance Corporation supplies the figures to the senate committees. RFC also figured its net outlay under the petroleum subsidy program amounted to $207,000,000 as of June 30.

The senate report announced that hearings will be begun on disposal of government-owned petroleum facilities as soon as W. Alton Jones, of Cities Service company, returns from London where he served as an adviser to the American delegation which negotiated a new petroleum treaty with Britain.

'The True Glory' To Be Shown At Ritz

Under the sponsorship of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and its auxiliary, "The True Glory," a documentary film of the Western Front, will be shown Thursday at the Ritz theatre.

The VFW post is turning over its entire proceeds from the production to the Community Victory Fund.

Members are selling tickets for the film, said to be one of the most revealing and graphic pictures of its kind ever produced. Regular prices prevail except in the case of students, who will be admitted at a 35-cent rate.

General Ike Eisenhower might well be called the father of the picture, for its action shapes up under his guidance. The story of teamwork between nations, services and troops is shown in its sequences, and many of the scenes were taken by cameramen risking their lives to get close up shots of historic war action.

Unlike many documentary films, "The True Glory" keeps alive and moving by novel use of GI commentary. This innovation was accomplished by sending hundreds of writers into the field to get soldier comments on actions.

Heifer To Be Given Winner Of Pig Show

A Jersey heifer is in the offering to the winner of the Sears pig show, which will be conducted in the County Warehouse barn here Oct. 22-23.

Four hundred baby chicks will be divided among four other 4-H boys who show to advantage in the exhibition.

Eight gilts and a boar have been qualified for the show to date. The grand champion will be announced at 10 a. m. on the second day of the contest by E. M. Regenbrecht, State Swine Specialist of College Station, who will be on hand to judge the stock.

Competing club members and their fathers are to be guests at a luncheon in the Settles hotel on the 23rd. The luncheon is being sponsored by the Sears Foundation.

The public has been invited to attend the show by Durward Lewter, County Agent, who is helping complete arrangements for the displays.

Red Raiders Trimmed By Hurricanes, 18-7

LUBBOCK, Oct. 13 (AP)—Wearing down the Texas Tech Red Raiders here tonight, Tulsa University struck from behind in the last half to win 18 to 7 before a packed stand of 9,000 fans.

It was a hard, bruising ball game, with Coach Henry Frnka wearing down the Red Raiders with a steady flow of subs in the fading minutes as Camp Wilson and J. R. Boone struck repeatedly to bring the Tulsa victory.

Union Grateful For Stopping Terrorism

AUSTIN, Oct. 13 (AP)—L. Buck Baker, president of local 520 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers (AFL), said in a statement today he had written Director Homer Garrison of the department of public safety that he was grateful "for stopping the terrorism against the strikers which marked the early days of the LCRA strike."

"Public opinion has put a stop to the 2 a. m. arrests without warrants and the several-hour third degrees on union men by Texas Rangers," Baker said.

"I suspect that Col. Garrison found out what his men were doing and put a stop to it," Garrison was out of town and not available for comment.

Misdemeanor charges are pending in justice courts here against four men, for alleged acts in connection with the recent strike of electrical workers employed by the Lower Colorado River Authority. The men were arrested by Texas Rangers.

US Attorney To Give Up Private Practice

DALLAS, Oct. 13 (AP)—United States attorneys must close their private law offices and work only for Uncle Sam, U.S. Attorney General Tom C. Clark said here today in announcing a new policy for his department.

The announcement was made during an impromptu talk at a luncheon sponsored by the Bar Association of Dallas and the Dallas chapter of the Federal Bar Association.

"Practicing law on the side will not be tolerated hereafter," he said.

Gov. Robert S. Kerr of Oklahoma, a guest at the luncheon, described Clark as "a man who does not waste time uselessly talking about what might have been, but stands as an architect of a greater America of tomorrow."

Amvets Disapprove Texas Resolution

CHICAGO, Oct. 13 (AP)—A resolution labeled by a veteran as a direct attempt "by unscrupulous management to break up the closed shop system" today was rejected by the American Veterans of World War II.

The resolution, introduced by the Texas delegation, said: "No veteran shall be required to join any organization as a condition of employment."

Edwin Bruder, a Chicago delegate, criticized the resolution from the convention floor and claimed it had "the earmarks of management sponsorship."

The veterans also voted to form on a nationwide basis a group to be known as the "Sad Sacks," an organization within the Amvet national structure devoted exclusively to "fun-making."

In other measures, the organization favored elimination of age limits governing educational benefits provided under the GI Bill of Rights and voted approval of a national veterans' emergency housing act.

Jap American Feared Victim Of Foul Play

LA GRANDE, Ore., Oct. 13 (AP)—A 61-year-old Japanese American with two sons in the army is believed the victim of foul play after his personal effects were found in possession of an 18-year-old Texan, Sheriff Jesse Breshears of Union county said today.

The sheriff said the Texan, arrested in Dalhart, Tex., on a car theft charge, admitted leaving La Grande Oct. 5, with N. Kurisu who has been missing since that date.

The youth at first claimed the war bonds, a wallet and a watch identified as the property of the Nisei, were given him by a sailor at Salt Lake City, Breshears stated. Later the Texan declared he left Kurisu at Ontario, Ore., where the Nisei resides, the sheriff reported.

DO THE DEAD RETURN?

A strange man in Los Angeles, known as "The Voice of Two Worlds," tells of astonishing experiences in far-off and mysterious Tibet, often called the land of miracles by the few travelers permitted to visit it. Here he lived among the lamas, mystic priests of the temple. "In your previous lifetime," a very old lama told him, "you lived here, a lama in this temple. You and I were boys together. I lived on, but you died in youth, and were reborn in England. I have been expecting your return."

The young Englishman was amazed as he looked around the temple where he was believed to have lived and died. It seemed uncannily familiar, he appeared to know every nook and corner of it, yet—at least in this lifetime—he had never been there before. And mysterious was the set of circumstances that had brought him. Could it be a case of reincarnation, that strange belief of the East that souls return to earth again and again, living many lifetimes?

Because of their belief that he had formerly been a lama in the temple, the lamas welcomed the young man with open arms and taught him rare mysteries and long-hidden practices, closely guarded for three thousand years by the sages, which have enabled many to perform amazing feats. He says that the system often leads to almost unbelievable improvement in power of mind, can be used to achieve brilliant business and professional success as well as great happiness. The young man himself later became a noted explorer and geographer, a successful publisher of maps and atlases of the Far East, used throughout the world.

"There is in all men a sleeping giant of mind-power," he says. "When awakened, it can make man capable of surprising feats, from the prolonging of youth to success in many other worthy endeavors." The system is said by many to promote improvement in health; others tell of increased bodily strength, courage and poise.

"The time has come for this long-hidden system to be disclosed to the Western World," declares the author, and offers to send this amazing 9000-word treatise—which reveals many startling results—to sincere readers of this publication, free of cost or obligation. For your free copy, address the Institute of Mentalphysics, 313 South Hobart Blvd., Dept. T 325, Los Angeles 4, Calif. Readers are urged to write promptly, as only a limited number of the free treatises have been

Cadets Overpower Michigan, 28-7

Doc Blanchard, Glenn Davis, Both Score

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
NEW YORK, Oct. 13 (AP)—The speed and power of Glenn Davis and Felix (Doc) Blanchard, plus perfect execution of the plays that shook them loose for long touchdown runs, carried Army to a 28 to 7 victory over Michigan's smart and speedy football team today.

Blanchard ran 68 yards for one of the touchdowns that sent the Wolverines down to their second defeat in five games this season while Davis sprinted 70 yards for the final Army score.

A crowd of 70,000 at Yankee Stadium saw the Cadets meet their first real test in three games this season, and they didn't meet it any too well. Except for Davis and Blanchard, Army's 1944 all-America stars, and occasionally Tom (Shorty) McWilliams, formerly of Mississippi State, Army's backs couldn't gain consistently. Their passing was ineffective and defensively they were in constant trouble from the tricky, speedy Wolverine attack.

Equipped with a set of plays that often had the big Army line-men charging into empty space, Walt Teninga, Bob Kussbaumer and Jack Weisenburger threatened at any minute to change the picture of the game. That they didn't was due largely to the defensive ability of the scoring stars, particularly Blanchard, who made a number of tackles when runners appeared to be in the clear.

Statistics for the game show that of a total of 452 yards Army gained on the ground and through the air, Davis gained 191 by rushing and passed for 47 more while Blanchard accounted for 179 by rushing.

The Cadets' payoff punches both came on the first play after Army had taken the ball. There wasn't a Michigan tackler on his feet when Blanchard burst through the line and set off downfield for the second Army tally midway through the second period. In the last quarter Davis swung around his right end with plenty of interference, put on a dazzling burst of speed and out-ran the Wolverine secondaries in a straightaway sprint.

The other Army touchdowns were scored by McWilliams on a seven yard end run just about two minutes before Blanchard's score, and Arnold Tucker on a quarterback sneak for the last few inches after McWilliams had setup a third-period tally.

The Lamesa Tornadoes spotted a gaping wound in the Big Spring Steers' bulwark of defense midway in the first period of Friday night's grid game at the local stadium and made a through excursion on the glory road.

They tried it again intermittently and with varying degrees of success and though they were never able to go all the way, that first period touchdown proved asset enough in a 6-0 triumph which left John Dibrell's crew hobbled at the barrier in the District Three football conference breakaway.

Orv Nieman's eight-yard pass to Bryant Clark in the end zones was the payoff punch. The Big Spring defenders looked like they were dying on the vine during the excitement, for Clark had ankled off by his lonesome into a corner of the end zones. The Steer backs shunned him until a body would have thought he had the plague.

Especially uncomplimentary to the Big Spring defense was the fact that the Lamesa butcher-boy originally had intended to bang away at the line but had to change his mind. The vicissitudes in Nieman's occipital lobe were effected when the center's snafu was so low, any umpire in the land would have had to rule the pitch a ball. Beside that, the delivery was wide. Clark executed a beautiful

Gillory-Bechtol Combination Pays Off

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
DALLAS, Oct. 13 (AP)—Texas swept 69 yards with five minutes to go today to beat Oklahoma 12-7 in the thirty-ninth renewal of this colorful intersectional football game as little Byron Gillory teamed up with huge Hubert Bechtol to turn back the best Sooner team that has played here in six seasons.

For the third-straight year it was a 17-year-old who spelled Oklahoma defeat. In 1943 Bobby Coy Lee passed the Longhorns to victory, last year it was Bobby Layne. This time it was the 140-pound Gillory whose passing and running pulled the Longhorns over a big hump—a fighting Oklahoma team that outgained Texas and too often for comfort was knocking at the door to touchdowns.

A crowd of 45,000 turned out on this clear, sunny day to see one of the greatest offensive battles ever staged by the two teams. It was a record throng, surpassing the 1941 mark of 44,069. There was standing room only in the big Cotton Bowl today.

Oklahoma, with Giant Aubrey McCall taking passes from every angle, went in front in the first period. Texas got a touchdown in the second but Tom Harrell, Longhorn guard, missed the try for point and Oklahoma still led. The teams swept into the fourth period with Oklahoma outplaying the Longhorns and once driving down to the Texas three-yard line only to be stopped by a pass interception.

But the Texas team that had gone without a first down in the third, came storming back early in the fourth to make the touchdown drive that came the Longhorns their sixth-straight victory over Oklahoma.

Oklahoma had rolled from its 43 down to the Texas 31 before losing the ball on downs when the tired Longhorns pulled themselves together for one last effort. Gillory hit the line for three, passed to all-America Bechtol for a first down and Guy Nunnelly and George Graham powered the line for another. Gillory fumbled and lost three but made up for it by pitching to Bechtol for twelve. Graham smacked the line for a first down on the Oklahoma 37. Gillory threw to Bechtol for 18 yards and after Ray Ragone had lost three, raced around left end down to the Oklahoma four-yard stripe after faking a pass.

Graham got one. Gillory two and Graham rapped right guard for the remaining distance.

Texas made its initial touchdown in eight plays, driving from its 3 with a pass from Gillory to Bechtol over the goal line bringing the score.

For the record Gillory pitched 10 passes and completed nine for 100 yards. He made 50 carrying the ball but lost 24.

It could be termed a battle of the ends. McCall and Bechtol turned in exhibitions both on offense and defense to equal anything ever seen on this field.

adagio step along the end zone outskirts in trying to get in position for the throw-in and Nieman made connections as if he had been wired with radar.

That was all the scoring but it wasn't all the excitement.

The resident eleven out-studied the guests all the way and made a pretense of climbing back into the ball game in the second quarter when Gerald Harris, who only last week was christened a fullback by the coach, shook himself loose from a bevy of would-be ruffians and scattered 46 strides across the goal.

Ecstatic reaction was building in crescendo among the kibitzers in the bleacher seats when a couple of arbiters put their think tanks together and decided that there had been a flagrant mockery of the game's constitution and by-laws. A tower of strength in the Big Spring line, it seems, had been caught using the double Nelson on a Lamesa back.

When the sentence was carried out, the locals found themselves back in their own territory and with so much yardage between them and the double stripes, the goal posts were lost in the haze.

As far as the Steers were concerned, that was the ball game. They solicited again but the decision had robbed them of their zeal.

The Tornadoes were not through, however. Twice in the waning moments they made ominous threats to improve their advantage. Horace Rippey, a human projectile, time and again aimed withering attacks squarely at the forward wall but for all his efforts he almost wound up with a lily in his hand.

Led by Ike Robb, the Longhorns laid down an old and revered law: "Thou Shalt Not Pass!" and made the Lamesans respect it. Robb and his cohorts always seemed to be in the right spot at the right time.

The nearest thing the locals had to proffer in the way of a threat was the redoubtable Hugh Cochron, a ubiquitous halfback who is equally as good on defense as offense. The 150-pound speedster accounted for almost half the 79 yards Big Spring recorded in ground action.

One of the Lamesa forwards made a lucky grab at Cochron's crash-proof goggles once and tore them from his noggin. It was an old trick but it didn't work. Coach Dibrell was there to effect repairs with a safety pin and an old postage stamp and Hugh was as good as new.

Bill Casey, handicapped only by his own eagerness, turned in a superlative game up front for the Steers.

Last Half Uprising Gives Baylor Win Over Porkers

Upset Throws S'West Chase In Turmoil

By JACK RUTLEDGE
WACO, Oct. 13 (AP)—Baylor stayed in the Southwest conference race here today by upsetting a favored Arkansas 23-13 at Municipal Stadium before a shirt-sleeved crowd of 7,500.

The Bears were trailing 7-6 at the half but exploded like an atomic bomb in the third to score enough points in the one period to ice the game away. Touchdowns by Sammy Pierce and Joe Joiner, and two conversions and a field goal by substitute Louis Leal racked up 17 points.

Arkansas came back with a touchdown by Alton Baldwin but then bogged down. That ended the scoring for the day. The fourth period was a see-saw affair featuring Arkansas' famed end, Mike Schumsky, who was a continual threat as a pass receiver for the Razorbacks' flurry of heaves.

The game opened about as expected with Arkansas scoring in the first period after Baylor fumbled the kickoff. Far better kicking by Baldwin on punt exchanges placed the Razorbacks deep in Bear territory. A pass from Bud Canada to Baldwin was good and the Arkansas halfback scampered over the goal untouched. John Hoffman converted.

Despite the Razorback score in the first, Baylor quickly showed it meant business. Its ground game was dazzling, its line ripped holes in the heavier favored Arkansas line and its passes clicked. Superior heads-up play paid off in the second for Baylor when Stony Cotton who had gone in for Pierce at left half, scampered behind beautiful blocking for a touchdown. Try for point failed and Baylor trailed at the half 7-6.

Jess Wilbanks Bogs Pheasant Limit

Jess Wilbanks returned this week from a pheasant hunt in the Dakotas where he bagged his limit of 20 fowl.

The nimrod took time to view the Purdue-Wisconsin football game at Madison, which the Bollermakers won, 13-7, and reports that Coach Cecil Isbell, a former Texan, has come up with a team that must be reckoned with in the Big Nine league chase.

Valley Defeats Garden City

GARDEN CITY, Oct. 13—The passing combination of P. B. Cope and Dick Miers clicked twice for touchdowns to give the Water Valley high school six-man football team a well earned 12-6 decision over Garden City here Friday afternoon.

Cope's first flip, which materialized in the opening quarter, traveled 35 yards while the second was almost as good, going 30 yards. The game-clinching score came shortly before the half ended.

Garden City also scored before half-time intermission, Harry Caverly passing to J. C. Pye in a play that carried 35 yards.

The Water Valley sextet made numerous threats during the last half but could not score.

Bill Baker and Pye contributed outstanding performances for the losers.

Dippy Evans Paces Skymasters To Win

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 13 (AP)—Dippy Evans, Notre Dame's gift to the army air forces training command, passed and ran the AAFTC Skymasters from Fort Worth to a 14-0 victory over the Air Transport Command here today.

It was Evans who plunged over from the two yard line for a touchdown late in the first quarter after totting the ball one play before for a 15-yard gain.

And, in the last two minutes of the game, it was Evans who tossed a short pass from the ATC 10-yard line to sub end Leonard Darnell, who hit pay dirt. Herman Rohrig kicked both extra points.

The win marked the Skymasters' debut in the AAF football league this year. It was their fourth straight victory.

Gaels Crush Pacific

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 13 (AP)—St. Mary's Gaels loped past another milestone on the road to national football prominence today with a crushing 61-0 victory over a weak but fighting College of the Pacific eleven.

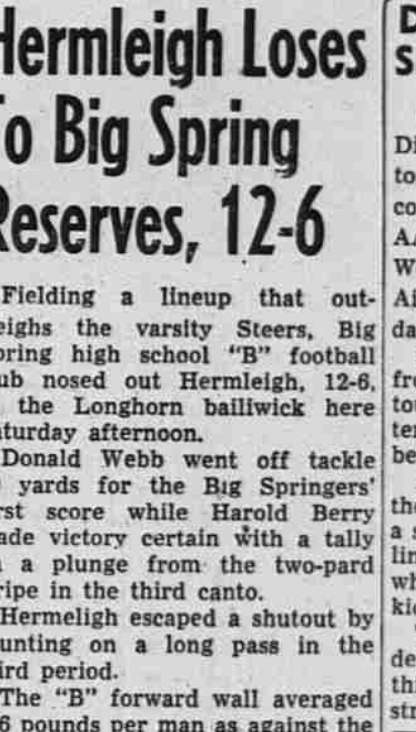

A crowd of some 20,000 fans saw Coach Jimmy Phelan's colorful Gaels chalk up their fourth win in an unbeaten season.

Huskies Win

SEATTLE, Oct. 13 (AP)—Scoring a touchdown in the last two minutes of play, the Washington Huskies upset Washington State College 6-0 in a Pacific Coast conference game today before 34,000 fans.

North Ward faces East Ward in a Junior football league game at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon. The bout was originally scheduled for last week but reset due to the fact that the North Siders could not field a complete eleven.

All six contingents of the circuit swing into action Wednesday, South Ward opposing College Heights, the East Ward clan tangling with Central and the West Enders tangling with North Ward.

In last week's tests, West Ward decisioned South Ward, 14-0, while College Heights and the Centrals scrapped to a 7-7 tie.

Looking Em Over

With ANGUS LECESTER

The 1946 District Golden Gloves boxing tournament will definitely be staged here the last week in January. So says Jack Johnson of the Big Spring Athletic Association, which will sponsor the show. Site of the classic will be the high school gym, an ideal spot for an arena.

Other stand-out events in the field of sport are headed Big Spring way, thanks to the American Business Club.

According to Johnson, who is a member of that organization as well, the ABC's are working like beavers to line up a college football game for Big Spring fans this fall, will definitely have one in 1946.

Both Southwestern university and West Texas State college officials have notified Ted Phillips, in charge of the ABC athletic campaign, that their clubs would be available for games this autumn but a Pirate-Buffalo game is not possible due to the fact that the teams have different open dates.

The powerful Army Air Field eleven of Amarillo might be brought in for a Dec. 1 bout with the Georgetown collegians.

Buffaloes Routed By Sterling City 24 To 13

STERLING CITY, Oct. 13- Forsan's Buffaloes dropped a non-conference six-ball football decision to Sterling City here Friday by a 24-13 count.

Although the Forsan team halted the heavier Sterling club's running game, inability on the part of Buff backs to solve the Sterling passing attack resulted in their defeat.

Forsan broke into the lead with a first period score when Wash intercepted a Sterling aerial and went 35 yards to score. Long added the extra point on a plunge.

The home club proceeded to get back into the thick of the argument by filling the air with passes and ultimately counted on a toss from Tweedie to Ivy.

Sterling added another six-point shortly thereafter when Butler took a long pass in the end-zone but Forsan vaulted into a temporary lead on the first play after the kickoff, Long breaking through center on a 55-yard sprint.

Shortly before the half wound up, Tweedie's short sprint added a third touch to the Sterling total.

That was not all the fireworks before intermission time. The determined Buffs swept back down the turf within two yards of the goal where the gun caught them.

Butler went into pay dirt in the last half to put the decision on the Sterlings.

Forsan still leads the North zone of the Six Man conference with two victories in as many league starts. Garden City setting the pace in the South zone, having subdued Sterling in a previous venture.

Cal Loses To UCLA

CAL ROSSI

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 13 (AP)- Led by their hard driving half back, Cal Rossi, who personally accounted for both touchdowns, the speedy U.C.L.A. Bruins today tamed their big brothers from Berkeley, the California Bears, 13 to 0.

Rossi, running up 101 yards from scrimmage—more than the entire California backfield—scored on a ten yard swing around left end in the second quarter, and duplicated on the identical play from the Cal 11 yard line in the third quarter.

Quarterback Ernie Case place kicked the 13th point.

The Bruins' first touchdown culminated a 40-yard march in six plays with Case's recovery on a wild Bear lateral, setting up the drive.

The second score saw the Bruins roll 52 yards in ten plays, with a Case to Ross pass netting 17 yards as the big gainer before Galloping Cal swung around the far corner for six points.

Wolf Pack Cops Snyder Go, 42-0

COLORADO CITY, Oct. 13- Scoring almost at will, the Colorado City Wolves beat the light Snyder Tigers here Friday evening, 42-0.

It was the fifth straight victory for the undefeated Wolves, who have yielded only 12 points this season, and those through the air.

First points came on the second play of the opening quarter when Colorado blocked a Snyder punt and the Tigers covered in the end zone. Truman Bodine, Wolf half-back, circled left end for 10 yards for the first touchdown, and Ocie Lambeth, quarter, added the extra point. Bodine scored again in the second from the five and Lambeth converted.

Lambeth scored from the two-inch line shortly before the half. Richard Thomas, Wolf fullback, reached 30 yards off left tackle for the next one and Bodine galloped 45 yards off right tackle for the next tally. Lambeth converted both times.

Don Shepperd, guard, blocked a Tiger punt in the fourth, and Thomas Conaway, right tackle, covered for the final touchdown.

First downs were even at five-all; Colorado City completed two of nine passes, Snyder four of 16; Colorado City punted three times for 122 yards, Snyder six for 162. The Wolves gained 163 yards rushing. The host team lost 75 yards in nine penalties, Snyder five in one.

Friday the Wolves meet their traditional enemies, the Roscoe Plowboys at Roscoe. Conference honors may turn on the game.

Minnesota Forced To Open Bag Of Tricks To Beat GI's 14 To 0

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 13 (AP)- Minnesota had to open up its bag of power plays and passes to take a 14-0 victory today over a surprising team of Ft. Warren, Wyo.

soldiers who were supposed to be pushovers for the Gophers, but who actually outplayed them most of the second half.

Hudson "Hockey" Mealey, full back, and Tom Cates, who played both right and left half for the Gophers, sparked the drives that produced the two touchdowns Merlin Kispert, quarterback, provided the place kicks that netted two points.

Mealey's touchdown early in the second period was set up when he plunged 12 yards to the Ft. Warren three-yard line. During the second and third periods, the teams fought the ball into each other's territory consistently but neither could find the scoring combination.

Midway in the fourth period Minnesota worked the ball down the field to the Soldier five-yard line from where Cates plunged over.

Defending Champ Beaten, 3 And 2

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 13 (AP)- Dick Harrison of San Antonio won the State Senior Golf Championship today, ramming home a 12-foot putt on the sixteenth green for a birdie four that defeated defending champion R. H. "Bob" Nix of Dallas, 3 and 2, at the San Antonio Country Club golf course.

Harrison was two up at the halfway mark after going out in 38, two over course par. Nix, with four bogeys and five pars, played the first nine in 40 strokes. Harrison had three bogeys, five pars, and a birdie.

Nix won the 11th and 12th with a par and birdie, but bogeyed the next two while Nix was shooting par. After halving the fifteenth, Harrison got his birdie which beat Nix's par and won the match.

NAS Comets Wallop Troop Carriers

AUSTIN, Oct. 13 (P)-Scoring in every quarter, the Corpus Christi Comets, trounced the Troop Carrier Command football team, 34-0, in Memorial Stadium, here this afternoon.

The charges of Lt.-Commander Larry "Moon" Mullins, utilizing the "T" formation, completely out-classed the Troop Carriers in every department, netting 15 first downs to five and outgaining the losers 314 yards to 107.

Middies Punch Out 28-0 Win

ANNAPOLIS, MD., Oct. 13 (P)-Navy's Midshipmen looked like Raggedy Ann's a good part of the way today, but by hard battling against a rugged Penn State eleven managed to punch across four touchdowns and a safety for a 28 to 0 triumph over the Nittany Lions.

The sailors as a unit never looked like a championship ball club, but Leon Bramlett, their great end, rose to defensive heights and inspired his team to win as 22,106 fans jammed every seat in the stadium to watch navy's centennial celebration come to a close.

Bramlett speared through to block Floyd Lang's punt behind the Penn State goal in the first period, and Navy was ahead 2 to 0 as the ball bounded out to the end zone for a safety. Pettit's 35-yard punt return led to a touchdown drive a moment later, with Bob Kelly fumbling as he ran from the Lions' 17. The pigskin scooted over the goal and alert B. O. Coppedge, Navy tackle, fell on it for the score.

Bramlett's block of another long punt deep in State territory set the stage for Navy's next counter, coming when Williams intercepted Wallace Triplett's pass and ran 15 yards unmolested over the last white line.

A 57-yard drive gave the sailors a third-period score, with Horenschmeyer tosses to Williams and Dick Duden moving the ball down to the 19. There Williams, a real flash, sped around his own right end for the touchdown. Duden, slipping through to rush Joe Tepsic's pass, struck the ball as the State tisser let go. Juggling it basketball fashion, he gathered it in and ran 35 yards for the final counter. Jack Currence made two of four points after touchdowns.

Isbell's Tribe Blasts Iowans

LAFAYETTE, IND., Oct. 13 (AP)-Purdue's unbeaten Boiler-makers, their T-formation accounting for two touchdowns in their first eleven plays from scrimmage, became a sizable obstacle in Ohio State's path to a second successive western conference gridiron championship today as they blasted Iowa 40 to 0.

The Boiler-makers, winners of four-straight contests, were just two points shy of the 42-to-0 pasting Ohio State handed the Hawkeyes a week ago. Purdue will meet the Buckeyes at Columbus next Saturday.

The bulk of the glory for today's homecoming triumph went to sophomore Billy Canfield, who sped for three Purdue touchdowns and had a fourth called back by a penalty. Canfield's touchdown gallops measured 10 and 41 yards and he caught a pass from Bob Demoss for the other.

Fullback Eed Cody, back at his old stand after two weeks at right half back in place of the injured Dave Shaw, and Norbert Adams and Ray Gunkel were the other Purdue scorers. Tackle Tom Hughes booted four of six conversion attempts.

Editorial - - How Big Is Our Heart? Consider Thy Neighbor

By FRANK GRIMES
Herald Special Writer

A great many smaller communities were on the skids even before the war took most of their young men for the armed services and scattered their older men all over the country in warplants.

The decline of small towns was generally attributed to development of more and better automobiles and more and better roads. That probably had something to do with it, but it was only part of the picture.

The trend to fewer and bigger farms, resulting from mechanized farming, and the lack of conveniences and comfortable living facilities, as well as lack of entertainment, probably contributed as much.

In any case, the smaller communities were slipping, and the war didn't help the situation any.

Before our larger communities get too far along in their programs of growth and development, they should consider their so-called retail and wholesale trading areas.

Take X City, for example. It is ambitious and full of beans. It envisions a 50 percent increase in population, right away, and it is getting ready to spend millions of dollars putting its municipal plant in order to receive and care for newcomers.

Just what is X City's chief asset in prosperity and adversity—the one thing that made it a city in the first place, and without which it cannot hope to grow and develop?

Well, it's the retail and wholesale trade area from which it has drawn sustenance in the past, and which it will continue to draw sustenance from—if it gets any.

Every moribund little town in its territory, every small city that is slipping, every community that has hit the skids, is a drag on the area's principal trading and supply center. It can prosper and grow only if its natural and normal trading area prospers and grows.

So any ambitious plans we may be plotting must necessarily take in more territory than the city limits. We must cultivate the goodwill of our neighbors, and reach out a helping hand to assist them with their problems. For their problems are ours. The amount of business we do with them will very nearly determine our own prosperity and well-being.

And if they dry up and blow away, what have we got left?

In this connection, the current number of the American Magazine tells the remarkable story of an Arizona banker and what he was able to do for that state. He is Walter Bimson and his bank is the Valley National Bank of Phoenix.

Bimson, a man with ideas, took charge of the bank in 1932, when deposits were $6,500,000. He immediately inaugurated a program of service to his state that has paid huge dividends not only to the bank, but to the inhabitants of Arizona.

Today the Valley National has deposits of $171,000,000—largest in the Rocky Mountain region.

Bimson fosters and gives aid to farmers, small merchants, farm cooperatives, industries and everything else that promises to make Arizona prosper-

The appeal goes to the people this week. Until now, workers have been carrying the plea for support of the Community Victory Chest to business and professional concerns and to larger contributors. Monday it will be brought to the ordinary folk like you and us.

How big is our heart? If we are looking for excuses not to give, we probably will be able to find them. The war is over, indeed. We can see an end in the months ahead to home of the needs. We may be uncertain about the future.

Yet, the ending of hostilities has not eliminated the need any more than the extinguishing of a fire takes care of those made homeless by it. Suffering in many lands will reach its most critical point in the winter ahead. There will be millions, nameless to us, who will rejoice over crumbs, who will take renewed hope with a garment or something to pass for shelter.

With the ending of the war, the chief goal of our servicemen scattered over the face of the globe has been removed. Until their job is finished and they can be brought home, time will hang heavy on their hands. If they ever needed recreational and entertainment facilities at all, they most certainly will need them for the next 18 months.

Here at home we have a direct stake in the success of the campaign, for $12,000 of the $29,780 goal is for our own humanitarian and character building organizations—the Boy Scouts, the Girl Scouts, the Salvation Army.

We face a big challenge in reaching our objective. If we prove ourselves to be little people, it will be too big; but if we are a big people, it will seem little. Plan now to make your gift as big as your heart—and don't let your heart be the size of a dollar bill.

Time For People To Decide

Our junior college proposal has been in the mill a long, long time. It has huddled first one and then another legal difficulty, but at last most of these seem to be out of the way.

It seems to us that the issue ought to be put up to the people for a decision as soon as practicable. If the idea has merit—and we believe it most certainly does—we have faith that the people will approve it. If not, then it is settled in accordance with our ideals of democracy.

Who Will Be First?

The City of Big Spring has outlined a 52-block per year paving program for the next five years. Moreover, its officials have said that up to an additional 100 blocks per year will be constructed upon proper petition. Who will be the first to take advantage of this possibility?

In a thinly-populated state, with four persons to the square mile, he has since 1934 made 198,000 installment loans to big and little people—with a loss of only two-tenths of one percent.

He has helped countless families to buy and pay for farms, start stores, create dairy or beef herds, and otherwise get started on the road to success.

That might be called enlightened selfishness—the sort that every ambitious city must practice if it hopes to realize its dreams.

Let's not make the fatal mistake of leaving our neighbors out of our plans for the future. We might find that we need them a lot more than they need us.

The Thrill That Comes Once In A Lifetime Texas Today—

Ginny Makes Up Her Mind Quick

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD — "I married a very nice man, Bob," said Ginny Simms. We were in her dressing room between scenes of "Night and Day," and she was talking about her new husband, Hyatt Robert Dehn.

"How long had you known him?" "One month," she answered. "Ah, you impulsive girls."

But Ginny was quite sure he was the guy. "He's very kind and considerate," she said. "He doesn't know much about show business, but he is tolerant of it, which helps a lot. He understands that I have my work. The only thing he objects to is my working so hard."

Her husband's knowledge of popular music was somewhat lacking. In his extensive record library, there were no non-classical works. That means there were no Ginny Simms records.

I asked Ginny how her new life was shaping up. "Very well. Right now what I need is some free time. Do you know we've been married two months and we haven't even had a honeymoon yet? Besides, the doctor seems to think I need a six-month rest. So for the next six months I'll try to do only the radio show."

"But I'm glad I was able to do these two pictures. I am very happy with 'Shady Lady.' And this part in 'Night and Day' is very good."

"What about a family? I asked. Certainly, she said. "How large? Pretty large, she said. "Then do you foresee the day when Ginny Simms might retire?" "Perhaps some day. But I don't see why I couldn't raise a family and stay on the radio too. Some girls have been able to combine a family and a career." She searched for examples and came up with Joan Bennett and Margaret Sullivan.

At this point it was time for her to pursue her career. She walked on the set to do a scene with Cary Grant.

Washington—

A Radio Set In His Wooden Leg

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—Incidental Information: The stranger-than-fiction stories of this global war still will be turning up a decade from now—stories like the one the Netherlands Information Bureau here came across recently.

It's about the American in a Japanese prison camp in Java who built a radio receiving set in the hollow of his wooden leg.

Clyford A. Buchanan, Claysville, Pa., lost his leg in his third year at the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis but was permitted to complete his course. An engineer for the Sperry Gyroscope Co., Buchanan was captured and interned in Java as the Japanese spread south. With two tiny acorn tubes another prisoner had salvaged, parts from a wrecked set found in the camp, a charcoal fire and bits of copper, Buchanan built the set into a small aluminum cup and fitted the cup into a recess hollowed out of his wooden leg.

A rectifier was built into a battered and discarded Dutch canteen and an aerial was made of wire supporting mosquito netting over one of the cots. With that the prisoners kept in touch with the outside world—until the tubes blew out.

A second set was constructed by Buchanan and Lt. Louis Emil Biechlin, USN, South Akron, O., but was too large for Buchanan's leg and finally was built into a pair of bath clogs with thick wooden soles over which the ingenious prisoners tacked strips of crepe rubber. Although Japanese guards watched and examined the prisoners constantly, the sets never were discovered.

There have been some complaints lately that WACs and War Department civilian employees are being used to answer congressmen's mail, although why this should be considered scandalous under the circumstances is a mystery.

In the Adjutant General's department, a staff of more than 100 has been assigned to answer letters to congressmen about demobilization. The congressmen send their queries over to the office and get back letters for them to sign and send out.

Who is better qualified to answer demobilization questions than War Department experts? And aren't they working for the taxpayers just like members of congress? If there's any little white fraud in a congressman sending these letters out over his own signature, it's the same any business man employs when he has a secretary answer letters he only signs.

Tall, gangling Earl of Halifax, back in this country as British ambassador, has the best one-line answer I have ever heard to questions about why the Churchill government was thrown out of office. After protesting that the vote that brought in the Labor government wasn't in any sense a personal repudiation of Winston Churchill, Lord Halifax says simply: "In our country, we vote for a party, not a man."

Has anybody pointed out that the three B-29s which flew from Tokyo to demonstrate how suicide bombers could have struck at United States cities followed almost the identical route flown by the Japanese "goodwill mission" in August, 1939?

In the month and year the "Nippon," a Mitsubishi twin-engine transport, owned ostensibly by the publishers of two large Japanese newspapers, and flown ostensibly by civilian pilots, followed virtually the same route as far as Whitehorse, Canada, and then swung south. Could they have been trying to prove the same thing six years ago?

The scattering of seed by hand is the simplest and oldest method of sowing.

So the problem is partly getting the Russians to like us and trust us, and to understand that we're not such bad people. . . . The other day, I travelled from Washing-reached such a state of perfection, maybe because we have reached the all-time low in international discouragement, we will wake up and revolutionize our tactics. . . . Maybe we will wake up to the futility of old-fashioned diplomacy, and the hopelessness of big armies, and put our faith in friendship. . . . In other words, everything has now failed; we might finally come around to practicing the sermon on the Mount. . . . It has worked with our good neighbors in Latin America. Maybe it would work in Europe and Asia—where lurks the greatest danger.

Department of Peace Why, not, for instance, really begin working at the job of getting along with other nations and people? Why not, for instance, establish a department of peace. . . . If, for instance, we spent a small fraction of the amount we spent for war on good neighborliness, it couldn't hurt, and it might help. . . . A drowning man will grasp at anything to save himself. Since we now admit that civilization is in danger of going under, perhaps we'll grasp at such a revolutionary thing as trying to work at the Sermon on the Mount and peace.

A lot of people will call me crazy or a chronic liar or something similar for suggesting this, but perhaps it isn't so crazy. . . . Take, for example, what we did in Latin America. There, Nelson Rockefeller did a pretty good job—until he made the mistake of patting Argentina on the back. . . . We exchanged professors, students and newspapermen. We got Latin Americans up here to travel around and see that the U. S. A. was full of friendly and relatively harmless people. . . . This is important. The problem of preventing war is largely one of getting to know and understand people. . . . We will never have any war with the British because we understand them. But the Russian situation is much more difficult. In the first place, we isolated Russia for nearly 20 years. We snubbed her diplomatically, and we are now reaping the consequences. . . . You can't keep a nation at arm's length without making them suspicious. And the Russians are now just as suspicious of us as the U. S. senate was of the League of Nations and the world court in the day of Woodrow Wilson. . . . They don't want to enter any world league or conference unless they have the veto power—just exactly as the U. S. senate demanded the right to veto decisions of the world court or the league.

Random Thoughts On World Outlook

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Random thoughts of a "chronic liar"—some editors believe that a columnist isn't supposed to think, only report. But sometimes this "columnist" gets tired crouching under the president's desk, taking notes on what he says to the house days and means committee, or climbing up state department fire-escapes to read Jimmy Byrnes' diplomatic dispatches. . . . Sometimes not even a "chronic liar" can avoid the painful effort of thinking—especially when the world looks so dreary. . . . Gen. George Marshall has just contributed to that dreariness. He says we'll need to mobilize an army of 4,000,000 men, on the heels of a war which we thought was going to bring peace. . . . In the next breath the general knocks the props from under his argument by telling us about great 100,000-pound rockets which can be guided across the ocean to hit factories and cities and, of course, men. . . . What would those rockets do to a helpless mass of 4,000,000 men? The answer is obvious, but it doesn't make for a cheerful morning.

Dreary October October can be about the most beautiful month in the year. Ordinarily you get up bursting with the joy of living. . . . But not this October. On top of General Marshall's doleful message, along come the atom-bomb scientists with another cheerful warning. The atom bomb, they say, is sure to be discovered by other countries. Russia frequently is far ahead of us in science. . . . Cheerful little thought. Our cup of joy isn't all. The chief living German specialist on atom energy, Werner Heisenberg (a Nazi), has disappeared, and the U. S. army either doesn't know or won't tell us what's happened to him. . . . And more cheerful news. Enough atomic energy to blow up the city of New York can be smuggled into this country in a loaf of bread. Once inside, it could be made into a bomb with the machinery used in an ordinary bicycle shop. . . . In other words, an enemy wouldn't need to use the long-distance rockets General Marshall and General Arnold have been warning us about. And how could an army in New York stop the explosion?

On the heels of all this comes Jimmy Byrnes, an optimistic one, bringing us the most doleful report ever emanating from an international conference. . . . The London meeting was about the most important the world has seen. Yet it was the world's greatest diplomatic failure.

Sermon on the Mount Maybe, however, there is one small ray of hope on this dreary October horizon. . . . Maybe because the weapons of war have reached such a state of perfection, maybe because we have reached the all-time low in international discouragement, we will wake up and revolutionize our tactics. . . . Maybe we will wake up to the futility of old-fashioned diplomacy, and the hopelessness of big armies, and put our faith in friendship. . . . In other words, everything has now failed; we might finally come around to practicing the sermon on the Mount. . . . It has worked with our good neighbors in Latin America. Readying For Atomic Bomb

By HOWARD W. BLACKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

OAK RIDGE, TENN., Oct. 12 (AP)—The atomic bomb promises to repay its $2,000,000,000 cost in three ways, each independent, and each many fold on the profit side.

The three are power, new processes and apparatus for industry, and still in the secret category, some fundamental scientific discoveries.

When Nobel prizes are given for achievements connected with the bomb, some at least are likely to go to men who have scarcely been mentioned because their work cannot be talked of without great restrictions. This restricted field covers physics and chemistry, but particularly chemistry.

More than a thousand scientists participated in the atomic bomb project. Their individual stories have not been told.

Dr. F. O. Lawrence, the still youthful genius of the University of California who invented the cyclotron before he was 30, played a dual role. He contributed vitally to the scientific discoveries that led to the electro-magnetic separator, the system of great magnets that separated uranium 235 from its non-explosive companion, 238. He also acted as an administrator. His advice contributed to construction of the great plant for the electrical method. This plant was the first to get the explosive uranium in quantity.

Enrico Fermi, Columbia University, who emigrated to the United States after he had become world famous and was naturalized here, was one of the pure science wizards of the bomb. He stuck to research only. Colleagues say he has few peers in his line.

A. H. Compton, University of Chicago, one of the great physicists, did an administrative job here and at Chicago that carries a story probably unique in the history of universities. Chicago University actually went into the manufacturing business on a big scale here.

This is probably the first time that a university went into industry. Big business was shy about trying what the university undertook. And with good reason. The project was to make a metal which never before existed, by a method never before used, and the method was pure alchemy. Dr. Compton advised the university that the project was a gamble, but worth the try.

With what the university learned here, the Dupont Company took over, on a line new even to them, and set up the huge, successful plutonium plants in the state of Washington.

Little known to the public was the work of two scientists who carried the torch in the early days when there was doubt whether to undertake the bomb job.

One is George B. Pegram, acting president now of Columbia University, who didn't want a bomb but who knew what was going on in Germany. He made some of the early moves to interest the government.

The other is L. J. Briggs, age 71, head of the U. S. bureau of standards. After the scientists had made their first report that prospects of anything

Midland County Has First Well

By JOHN B. BREWER
SAN ANGELO, Oct. 13—Midland county, near the center of the Permian sea, from whose beds comes the bulk of West Texas' heavy oil production, joined the growing list of oil producing counties this week to provide the outstanding development of the week in the region.

Humble No. 1 Mrs. O. P. Buchanan, nine miles southeast of the city of Midland, flowed an average of 10 barrels of 43.1 gravity oil hourly plus 3-4 per cent basic sediment and water hourly in early testing after treating the Strawn line of the Pennsylvania with 2,000 gallons of acid.

The oil came through 60 perforations in 5 1-2 inch casing between 10,370 and 10,390 feet through a 12/32nds inch tubing choke. Source of the water was undetermined but its decrease indicated it was not from the formation. At the start of an 8-hour gauge, during which 86 barrels of net oil was recovered, flowing tubing pressure was 790 pounds, at the close it was 600 pounds. Gas rated 1 1-2 million cubic feet daily.

More Perforations

Perforating higher to open an estimated additional 40 feet of pay was expected. The section was said comparable to the crinoidal pay of the Strawn in the Todd Deep field in western Crockett county, which also had Ellenburger production. The Midland strike found the Ellenburger barren in tests through perforations after drilling to 12,574 and cementing 5 1-2 inch casing at 12,568 feet, and plugged back. Elevation is 2,694 feet. Top of the Strawn had not been announced.

No. 1 Buchanan is in the C SW NW 32-W. M. Baldrige, only 1 1-2 miles from the west line of a Humble block of approximately 25 sections. Nearest acreage outside the block was reported unleased. Of major companies Magnolia holds the closest leases.

Activity at Low Ebb

Almost 12 days of general rains, restricting of production by refinery strikes following sharp cuts due to ending of the war, and walkouts by drillers on some rigs combined to slacken activity to the lowest point in years. The lull in exploration and development was expected to be only temporary; leasing continued quiet.

Eltex, Ltr., No. 1 E. L. Martin, four miles northwest of Eden, which last week became Concho county's first commercial oil producer, was assigned a daily allowable of 80 barrels and exempted from shutdown days. Completed for an official flow of 81 barrels of 44 gravity, pipeline oil in three hours, the well remained shut in for storage. Laying of a pipeline to the Santa Fe at Eden still was likely.

No. 1 Martin produces from the Bon of the Pennsylvania through 7-1/2 casing perforations between 3,801-09 feet after acidizing with 500 gallons. It is 330 feet out of the southeast corner of Wm. Hughes survey 6. Eltex started a quarter-mile east offset, No. 2 Martin, 330 from the north, 990 feet from the west line of section 174, block 72, abstract 1705. Krumbac Drilling Co., of Fort Worth has the contract.

Humble No. 1 J. E. Parker, central Andrews county wildcat which early last week flowed oil from the McKee section of the Simpson on a drillstem test from 8,625 to 8,808 feet, was to drillstem test to 8,926 feet after coring some oil bearing sand in the Waddell section of the Simpson. It is in the C NW NE 23-A41-psl.

Tests Devonian

On its last gauge of the Devonian, through perforations between 11,228-284 feet, the well flowed 444 barrels of oil in 24 hours, having been acidized. It is West Texas' deepest producer and its most northerly from the Devonian. Location is the C NW NE 3-A6-psl. Argo Oil Corp. has stake. No. 1-E Dr. E. H. Jones, C NW NE 2-A6-psl, one mile east of the discovery. Amerada earlier staked three-quarter mile southwest and half-mile west outposts.

Hunt Oil Co. No. 1 A. E. Graham, northeastern Yoakum county wildcat C NW NW 328-D-John H. Gibson, swabbed new oil from the San Andres into the pits at a rate of five barrels hourly. The oil was cut only one per cent by acid from treatment with 1,000 gallons several weeks ago. The test was shot in August from 5,310-35 feet after plugging back from 5,354 to 5,341 feet to shutoff sulphur water. It is 3 1-2 miles north and slightly west of the Ownby pool.

R. R. Herrell and others of Midland plan to start Monday a Winkler county wildcat, No. 1 Burton-Lingo, Co., 660 feet from the south and west lines of the west 200 acres of the north 400 acres of section 27-27-psl.

Nine Reservations Made For Dinner To Honor TP President

Only nine reservations have been made with the chamber of commerce for the dinner to be given in honor of W. G. Vollmer, president of the Texas and Pacific Railway company, at the Settles hotel Oct. 23.

The men of Big Spring will honor the new president in the ballroom with the time set for 7 p. m. Chamber officials ask that reservations be made promptly.

Those already listed include Marvin Miller, R. L. Tollett, Big Spring Herald (four), E. O. Ellington, B. N. Ralph and Jimmie Greene.

Scout Leaders Will Take Training Course

Rev. Dick O'Brien, Boy Scout training chairman, called attention to the Scoutmaster's training session to begin at 2 p. m. Sunday in the basement of the First Baptist church.

Every organization which sponsors a troop is asked to have one or more representatives present at the session which will last for six Sundays.
