

Therefore will we also serve the Lord, for he is our God.—(Josh. 24:18).

We can meet any change in our life and affairs by holding steady with God. We can look to Him for inspiration and guidance and He will lead us in ways that bring success and soul-satisfaction.

Large Crowds Attend Earth's Annual Rodeo

Texans this year visiting the Alamo will be able to do it without their feathers witting, as the great Historical Shrine has been air conditioned. But those fellows who fought so bravely there, never dreamed that people would have to be made comfortable in order to get them to come see where they so nobly gave their all.

Chalk This Up To Columbus

The longest week in the year is when the other guy is on vacation, so we here at the News-Sun office decided to do the impossible and get TWO PAPERS out this week and close down next week so everyone could have the week off.

So we're off to Glenwood, Colorado, for a week.

We felt real guilty making plans for a vacation we couldn't afford, until we remembered an event way back in History. "Didn't Columbus start the fad of taking a trip on borrowed money?"

—nosin—

As we leave EARTH THE BEST TOWN ON EARTH for a vacation, we must not leave without saying that we sincerely appreciate the cooperation of each merchant on getting their advertising in early for this second issue of the week, and to those who faithfully give us your news week after week and who cooperated so willingly this week to help us get this second paper out early we must add our many, many thanks to you.

Your help this week and the help and cooperation with our news personnel and extra help that came in willingly to aid us made us realize all anew, that THE BEST PEOPLE ON EARTH INHABIT EARTH, TEXAS.

Guess you, who have read thus far in my column, realized I didn't have much to say, so in conclusion I'll add a dab about medicine, which I equally know nothing about. I went on into socialize medicine or anything complicated, except to say I'm strongly opposed to Socialized Medicine, except for one exception to the rule, I think the government should supply free aspirins to taxpayers.

Daughter Of Local Resident Has Poem Published In Baptist Standard

Mrs. Sibyl Staggs, Berger, recently wrote a poem which was published in the June 28, issue of the Baptist Standard.

Mrs. STAGGS, a former resident of Earth, graduated from Springlake High School in 1942. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Hooten and a sister of Mrs. L. E. Sloan of Earth.

Mrs. Staggs is employed in the School Cafeterias in Berger. Mr. Staggs owns and operates a milk route for Goldsmith Dairies.

The Staggs have two daughters Junie and Janie.

Mrs. Staggs said that after taking a two weeks vacation, she began thinking about how so many people, when on vacation forgot and neglected to serve God as they should and wondered what the people would do if God took a vacation and forgot.

She said the more she thought about these things the clearer the following poem came into her mind, so she picked up her pencil and wrote.

Two Weeks Without God
By Sibyl Staggs

I dreamed that God took a vacation He did not say where he would go. He just packed His Spirits and left us. Not knowing I would need him so. He wearied and tired of much praying And listening to every weak plea.

Two weeks were just what He's been needing. Away from the world and from me.

Just then I was faced with a crisis. My heart was in deepest despair. My pastor, my friends, nor my neighbors, Could help with an answer to prayer.

Oh, now I just longed for his presence. The touch of His soothing, calm hand, To feel he was there close beside me. And know that he would understand.

I woke up to find out I was dreaming. And fell on my knees and I cried. Oh, how I thanked God up in Heaven That He was still here by my side.

Again it is time for vacations. I may go by land, sea, or air. Wherever I am on Lord's day, I know I shall worship Him there.

Back in 1776 in this month of July, the original 13 colonies wrote and signed a Declaration which established them as free and independent states.

In the 185 years since then, the United States of America has grown to 50 states and has become the most powerful Nation on earth.

But of more significance today, in a world filled with turmoil, it stands as a mighty bulwark against tyranny and the threat of oppression.

Income Increase Possible For Texas Farmers

Many Texas farmers can increase significantly their net income by utilizing more fully presently known technology, according to Director John E. Hutchison of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. He said that farm families could increase their annual net income at least $100 million by using the most advanced technological and management practices. Hutchison's statement followed an evaluation of first-year results in Extension's intensified soil fertility program which was launched early in 1960.

Initially, 12 counties representing different major land resource areas were selected to participate in the pilot project. They included 4 counties on the High Plains, 3 on the Coast Prairie & 5 in Northeast Texas where both Blackland and sandyland were involved. Emphasis was given to crop production practices important to those areas. These included the use of fertilizer based on soil tests, planting the best varieties of crops, effective insect and disease control, appropriate soil and water conservation measures and other practices based on the best research information available.

Results were obtained by comparing net profits from crops grown under advanced technological methods with income from carefully controlled check plots where usual farming practices were employed. Increased net income reported ranged from $1.86 per acre to $52.07 per acre. In one county, Red River, 47 demonstrations indicated that net income of the county could be increased $2.9 million if all farmers followed recommended practices.

"If results in the 12 pilot counties are indicative of what can be accomplished on a state-wide basis, it means a potential equivalent to an important new industry in each Texas county," Hutchison said.

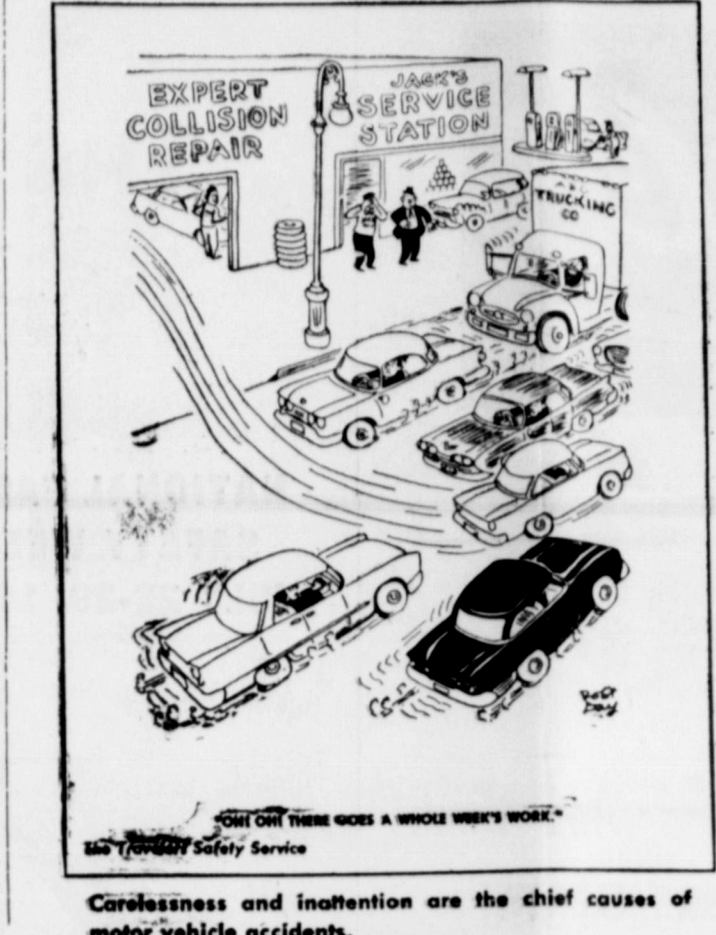

The immediate success of the pilot project already has prompted 17 additional counties to initiate an intensified soil fertility program and many others are making plans to follow suit. "The key to the success of this venture was the active participation of local people under the direction of County Program Building Committees," Hutchison emphasized. In each county, local agricultural and civic leaders assisted the county extension staff in carrying out the program. USDA personnel and soil conservation district supervisors also played an active role. Other cooperating organizations included the Texas Plant Food Educational Society, the National Plant Food Institute, American Potash Institute and the Texas Agricultural Limestone Association.

"This success presents a challenge to the total leadership and educational forces of the state, for here is proof that the problem primarily is one of the man and not of the land," Hutchison said.

RED TECHNIQUES IN THE BRAINWASHING PROCESS.

It is not uncommon to hear statements made by military and civilian personnel concerning the brainwashing of American prisoners during the Korean Conflict. There are some who understand the situation; there are those who resent any reference being made to the fact that many of the G. I.'s collaborated with the Reds, and there are those who say "Well, no wonder the soldiers gave in. They didn't know what they were fighting for."

Regardless of how one may feel, it would be well to look objectively at what actually happened. I, for one, do not blame the G. I., nor do I try to justify their deeds. I do know that it is difficult to fight an ideology, and you can't fight it until you know what it is. I don't blame the commies; they found our weakness and exploited it to the fulness. The Chief of Intelligence in North Korea wrote the following letter to the Chief of Intelligence of the Chinese People's Republic in Peiping:

"The American soldier has weak loyalty to his family, his community, his country, his religion, and to his fellow soldier. . . . He underestimates his own worth, his own strength, and his ability to survive. . . . There is little knowledge of understanding even among U. S. University graduates of American political history and philosophy."

No doubt one of the contributing factors in the brainwashing technique was and is the lack of understanding of our capitalistic system and what "makes it tick." But there is also another side of the story—a story that should arouse and shock our people out of their state of apathy and indifference relative to "brain warfare." You can rest assured that this type of warfare is just as deadly as any nuclear war will ever be if not more so.

There are two processes in the field of psychological warfare. This editorial will deal with one process, namely the "softening up" process. Perhaps that is the most dreaded of all, for it is designed to make one so confused and foggy in his thinking that he accepts as truth that which he abhors and at one time rejected. The instruments that the so-called "medicine" man uses are "hunger, fatigue, tenseness, threats, violence, drugs, and hypnosis."

Perhaps the element most used is hunger which includes starvation (lack of food) to a meal scientifically unbalanced. Edward Hunter in his book entitled "BRAIN WASHING FROM PAVLOV TO POWERS" give a vivid account of the "hunger" approach. For example, the Reds would figure out the minimum amount of rice needed to allow a man to barely survive, and then cut it by one-third. "The amounts of food ladled out" states Mr. Hunter, "were adjusted to the effect desired. Like a treatment . . . food was apportioned according to a man's resistance qualities. This was even done openly. Every p. o. w. in Korea knew that the boys who collaborated got extras. An additional spoonful of cabbage in a bowl of rice can become the most important thing in the world to a man, inciting any sacrifice. Unless he kept his balance, the invisible line between self-sacrifice and sacrificing one's buddies and country became lost in the pangs of hunger."

Another effective element used in the brain washing process was fatigue—a fatigue which would allow suicide to be a relief. The patient was interrogated for hours and sent to his cell. If a deep sleep overtook him, he was immediately awakened to be taken to the interrogation room for another plight for twenty-four hours.

One can easily see that the brain washing technique harmonizes with the "scientific" approach to improving the human race. It should move us into a constant state of alertness to the danger of psychological warfare and encourage us to arm ourselves with the necessary tools for effective resistance in the "hot" as well as the "cold war."

Friona Man To Attend Feed Grain Exhibits In Austria, August 26

Arthur M. Drake, a Friona, Texas grain dealer has been named by the Grain Sorghum Producers Association to be a feed grain consultant at agricultural fairs in Austria, during August. The Friona Grain Growers, Inc. manager is to attend showings of a mobile feed grain exhibit of the U. S. Feed Grains Council and Foreign Agricultural Service, at Klagenfurt, Austria, August 10-20, and Ried, Austria, August 26 to September 2.

The theme of the exhibit and activities of the consultant will stress the availability and quality of grain sorghum and other U. S. feed grains. Particular emphasis will be placed on developing a better understanding of the U. S. grain trading system and also of our grades and standards.

In addition to discussing these matters with grain trade officials, farmers and livestock feeders in attendance at the exhibits, Drake will travel throughout Austria visiting users and processors of imported U. S. grains. He will assist them with any problems in connection with the use of our products and will report his findings upon his return, to government and agricultural groups, which may give impetus and direction to expanding feed grain market development programs.

Drake is the 18th in a succession of "diplomats for grain sorghum" who have acted as consultants at International Trade Fairs during the past three years through arrangements by Grain Sorghum Producers Association.

Hereford Man Elected President of U. S. Feed Grains Council

R. G. Peeler of Hereford, long-time Panhandle area agricultural leader and Grain Sorghum Producers Association official, was elected president of the U. S. Feed Grains Council this week, at a meeting in Washington, D. C. The Council is a nation-wide market development organization made up of associations of corn, barley, and grain sorghum producers, associations serving seed distributors, and country and terminal elevators and exporters.

The grain group is headquartered in Washington, D. C. and has foreign offices in Rome, Italy, London, England, Rotterdam, Netherlands, and is currently establishing an office in Tokyo, Japan. In addition, grain sorghum and other feed grain market development programs are being conducted in 21 other countries in Europe, South America and Asia.

Peeler succeeds Walter W. Goeppinger, Boone, Iowa, president of the National Corn Growers Association, to the Council position.

Other Panhandle representatives at the national meeting were Elbert Harp, Abernathy, and Sam Gilbert, Dimmitt, both directors also of the Grain Sorghum Producers Association.

Nematodes Serious Pest To Cotton

Nematodes damage cotton more or less, in all areas of Texas. The small microscopic worms are more damaging in sandy or loam type soils where water is a limiting factor.

Nematode injury is often overlooked or mistakenly diagnosed as drought damage and poor soil. Damage may vary from slightly to as much as 30 percent of the crop.

The root knot nematodes are the most damaging and most easily recognized. Damage by these nematodes result in knots or galls being formed on the roots. Young cotton seedlings can be attacked by the parasites causing them to die or be weakened.

In some areas nematodes damage the roots and provide a gateway for the fusarium wilt fungus to enter the fusarium wilt disease once thought of as only an East Texas disease has been moving west in recent years. Specimens have been received at College Station from Wichita Falls, Ogden and Muleshoe areas.

Other nematodes, that cause damage are the dagger, stubby root and stilet nematodes. The root lesion, lance and true spiral nematodes are suspected as causing damage. Special soil and root samples can be checked in the Plant Disease Diagnostic Laboratory at College Station in order to determine kind and number of nematodes.

Nematodes are controlled by certain cultural practices or the use of certain chemicals prior to planting. Contact your extension agent for additional information and ask for a copy of MP-356, "Plant Nematodes—Their Identification and Control."

Gov. Price Daniel Designates July 23-29 Official Farm Safety Week

College Station — The period from July 23-29, already proclaimed by President Kennedy as National Farm Safety Week, has been designated as Farm Safety Week in Texas by Governor Price Daniel.

In his official memorandum, the Governor said: "The nation's economy is dependent upon the continued well-being and progress of our State's agricultural population. Accidents from farm work cause needless suffering, distress and loss of life each year among our rural families.

"A vigorous farm accident-prevention education program will be conducted this week by the Texas Farm Bureau, the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and the Texas Safety Association.

"I urge all Texas families to increase their vigilance against needless accidents and further encourage interested organizations and individuals to participate in this program."

President Calvin Pigg of the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council said the Council was cooperating with all interested organizations, agencies and individuals to make the week's program as effective as possible. He added that plans in most counties for the observance of Farm Safety Week have been made and noted an increase in youth participation. This, he said, is especially gratifying since youth are often the victims of farm accidents. County extension agents and local 4-H adult leaders are given much of the credit for this improvement.

The Council is hopeful, Pigg said, that all citizens will cooperate and participate in the local observances, for each is dependent upon agriculture for many of the necessities of life.

Greatest reduction in traffic deaths in 1960 took place on highways and roads outside of Texas cities, under direct supervision of the Texas Highway Patrol. The reduction was 13 per cent over 1959.
